ROSENBERG, Irving

PJ-B 9-1-1992

Irving Rosenberg

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. — Irving Rosenberg, 91, who founded and was the owner of the former New York Department Store on Fountain Square in Burrillville for 50 years before retiring 15 years ago, died Thursday in Florida. He was the husband of Rose (Swartz) Rosenberg.

Born in Russia, he was a son of the late Nathan and Eva Rosenberg. He came to the United States when he was 18, and settled in Chepachet before moving to Burrillville.

Mr. Rosenberg was a member of the Burrillville and Pascoag Chambers of Commerce, the Granite Lodge of Masons in Harrisville, and the Granite Lodge of Odd Fellows in Pascoag. He was a member of Temple Emeth and the B'nai Brith Century Club, both in Florida.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, Alvin Rosenberg of Lantana, Fla., and Dr. Stephen Rosenberg of Bow, N.H.; two daughters, Yvette Golum in New Jersey and Estelle Gold of Warwick; a brother, Moses Rosenberg of Delray Beach; two sisters, Anna Weinbaum of Providence and Bessie Lindenbaum of Cranston; 10 grandchildren; and a great-grandson.

The funeral was held in Florida.