ROSENHIRSCH, Max J.

RIHER 10-27-67 Obitu

MAX J. ROSENHIRSCH

Funeral services for Max J. Rosenhirsch, 68, a former Providence resident, who died Oct. 20 in Chicago, were held Monday in the Riverside Memorial Chapel in New York City. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Mr. Rosenhirsch, who lived in New York City, was chairman of the board of the International Commodities Corp. and of the H. Rosenhirsch Company there. He left Rhode Island in 1936 when he relocated the Rosenhirsch company, involved in the importing and manufacturing of brush bristles, in New York.

Mr. Rosenhirsch was born in Providence on Dec. 8, 1898, a son of the late Harry and Clara (Goldstein) Rosenhirsch. The elder Rosenhirsch founded the bristle company in Rhode Island in 1908.

Mr. Rosenhirsch was a charter member of B'nai B'rith in Providence. He was associated with several organizations in the New York area and was a member of Lions International in Palm Beach, Fla., where he lived during the winter in recent years.

He was the husband of Mrs. Tulla (Messerman) Rosenhirsch. Mr. Rosenhirsch was visiting a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Dry of Chicago, when he died. Other survivors include two other daughters, Mrs. Ira Gelb and Mrs. Thomas Ross, both of New Rochelle, N.Y., a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Zisson of New York City, and six grandchildren.