DR. ELLIS A. ROSENTHAL

CRANSTON — Dr. Ellis A. Rosenthal, 74, of 453 Meshanicut Valley Parkway, past president of osteopathic society, died Monday, Nov. 17 at his summer home at 62 Oak Hill Rd., Harbour Island, Narragansett, after a nine-month illness. He was the husband of Sarah (Kelman) Rosenthal.

Born in Troy, N.Y., he was the son of the late Jacob C. and Jennie (Dorenbaum) Rosenthal. He had lived in Cranston since 1933 and spent his summers at Harbour Island for 18 years.

Dr. Rosentahal retired a year ago, and was formerly an osteopathic physician in Cranston for 47 years.

He was a member of Temple Beth Torah and its men's club, Hope Lodge of B'nai B'rith and a charter member of the Cranston Rotary Club. In 1972 he was the recipient of the City of Cranston Brotherhood Award. He was also former team physician for the Cranston High School football team and a member of the Providence Water Color Club.

Dr. Rosenthal was a graduate of Syracuse University, class of 1929 and Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, class of 1933.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, Jacob C. Rosenthal of Wilmington, Del. and Mark S. Rosenthal of Long Beach, Calif; three brothers, Leonard Rosenthal of Albany, N.Y., Robert Rosenthal of Washington, D.C. and Monroe Rosenthal of LaJunta, Colo.; a sister, Mrs. Celia Green of St. Louis, Mo.; and a grandchild.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence. The funeral service was held at Temple Beth Torah. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.
