ROTENBERG, HENRY

refusal to adhere to the ca virtues of life. I'm no S school saint, but people in offices have to be clean for
Mr. LeCount at age 14 wa

Henry Rotenberg, 71; lawyer for 48 years Mason, Rotarian

ATTLEBORO, Mass. — Henry Rotenberg, 71, of 24 Westchester Drive, a lawyer, died yesterday at home. He was the husband of Lillian (Brothman) Rotenberg.

A lifelong Attleboro resident, he was a son of the late Joseph and Jennie (Almer) Rotenberg.

Mr. Rotenberg was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1933 and maintained a law office on Park Street for 48 years. He was admitted to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court Oct. 12, 1961. He was a 1933 graduate of the Suffolk University Law School.

He was a past president of the Attleboro Rotary Club and was its sergeant at arms for more than 40 years. He received the highest honorary Rotary award when he was named a Paul Harris Fellow in February 1975.

He was past president of the Synagogue Agudas Achim Congregation, Attleboro, and the Attleboro Lodge of B'nai B' rith. He was a member of the Ezekiel Bates Lodge, AF &A AM; the Nava Grotto, the Aleppo Temple Shrine, and the Trowel Club of Rhode Island. He was a member of the Council for the Taunton Cooperative Bank and was an experienced and learned title conveyancer.

He was an annual United Fund worker, and a member of the Massachusetts and Bristol County Bar Associations, the Massachusetts Conveyancers Association and the Attleboro District Court Bar Association.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Dr. Robert Louis Rotenberg, professor of anthropology at De Paul University, Chicago, Ill.; twin daughters, Miss Susan Rotenberg, a doctoral candidate in biochemistry at Brown University, and Miss Gail Rotenberg at home; two brothers, Sheldon Rotenberg, first violinist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, of Brookline, and Ernest Rotenberg, the first judge of Bristol County Probate & Family Court of Attleboro; two sisters, Mrs. Abraham S. White of Brookline and Mrs. Milton V. Kessler of Providence.

A funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Agudas Achim Synagogue, North Main Street, at Toner Boulevard. Burial will be in the Attleboro Hebrew Cemetery.

FB 10/19/81