Charles Sallet

Lawyer practiced in Bay State from 1931 until retiring in 1986

PROVIDENCE — Charles Sallet, of 16 Moses Brown St., a lawyer practicing in Attleboro, Mass., from 1931 until retiring in 1986, died Monday at Jewish Home for the Aged. He was the husband of Bernice (Gordon) Sallet.

Born in Taunton, Mass., he was a son of the late John and Rose (Goldstein) Sallet. He lived in Providence 45 years and previously had lived in Attleboro.

Mr. Sallet was a 1925 magna cum laude graduate of the Unversity of Pennsylvania and received a doctorate of law degree, cum laude, in 1928 from Boston University. In 1981, the Boston University Law School gave him a juris doctorate degree in honor of his 50th anniversary year of graduation. He was editor of the Law Review while at law school. He was also a member of Woolsack.

Mr. Sallet was a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association since 1931 and a president of the Bristol County Bar Association from 1975 to 1976. He was admitted to practice before the U.S. District Court in 1934. He was honored by the Bristol County Bar Association in 1977, the Massachusetts Bar Association in 1981 for 50 years of service and by the Attleboro Bar Association in 1981 for "exemplifying the highest legal traditions."

In 1945, he received a certificate of merit from the Selective Service Board. He was a member of the Estate Planning Council of the Bristol County Bar Association. He was a former member of Temple Agudas Achim of Attleboro.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Joyce Bentley of Lincoln, Mass., and Judith Sallet of Ashland, Mass., and two grandchildren.

The funeral service will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Sugarman-Smith Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
