Harry D. Schuman

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Harry D. Schuman, 88, of the Windemere Nursing Home, Augusta, co-founder with his late brother, Joseph Schuman, of the former Thames Bookstore, New London, Conn., from 1946 until retiring in 1971, died yesterday at the Medical College of Georgia. He was the husband of the late Eleanor (Saunders) Schuman.

Born in Russia, a son of the late Max and Rachael (Flutsky) Schuman, he lived in Providence from 1934 until moving to Augusta in 1984. He came to this country as a child, settling in Westerly, and had lived in New London from 1919 until 1934.

Mr. Schuman was distributor of fiction, non-fiction, and children's books for the sale to the public and school libraries. While living in Providence he was a member of Temple Emanu-El and its Brotherhood. He was a member of the Touro Faternal Association, and Faband.

He leaves a son, Dr. Bernard M. Schuman of Augusta; a sister, Bassa Levin of Beverly Hills, Calif., and two grandsons.

A graveside service will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
