SHERMAN, Ruth

Providence Journal-Bulletin SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1992

Ruth Sherman

WARWICK — Ruth Sherman, 63, of 128 Massasoit Drive, owner and editor of the American Genealogist Journal, died Tuesday at home. She was the widow of Robert M. Sherman.

Born in St. Petersburg, Fla., she was a daughter of the late Clifford W. and Minnie (Taintor) Wilder. She lived in Warwick for 35 years.

Mrs. Sherman attended Pembroke College and Roger Williams Junior College.

She was a fellow of the American Society of Genealogists. She was a member of the New England Historical Genealogical Society, the American Society of Genealogists, and the Rhode Island Historical Society. She was past secretary general of the General Society of Mayflower Descendents. She was the author and editor of numerous genealogical books and articles.

She leaves a son, William W. Sherman of Westerly, and a brother, Ferdinand Wilder of Hyde Park, Mass. She was the mother of the late Candace L. Sherman.

A graveside service will be held Wednesday at 11 a.m. in Forest Hill Cemetery, Fitchburg, Mass.

Theresa Dumican