THE PROVIDENCE JOURNAL-BULLETIN 9-15-88

OBITUARIES

Joseph H. Sholovitz

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Joseph H. Sholovitz, 74, formerly of Providence, who owned the former Nohel Manufactuting Co. for 25 years before retiring in 1974, died yesterday at Mount Sinai Hospital, Miami Beach. He was the husband of Molly (Blender) Sholovitz. His first wife was the late Phyllis (Norman) Sholovitz.

Born in Woonsocket, he was a son of the late Hyman and Molly Sholovitz. He had lived in Providence for 40 years, moving to West Plam Beach 10 years ago.

Mr. Sholovitz was an Army veteran of World War II. He was a former member of Temple Emanu-El and the Congregation B'Nai Israel of Woonsocket. He was a member of the Jewish Home for the Aged.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Molly Cort of Manchester, Conn., and Betty Steinberg of Setauket, N.Y.;, three sisters, Beatrice Greenbaum of Bristol, Isabelle Margolis of Larchmont, N.Y., and Ruth Cohen of West Palm Beach; and six grandchildren.

The funeral service will be Sunday at 11 a.m. at Congregation B'Nai Israel, 224 Prospect St., Woonsocket. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

SHOLOVITZ, JOSEPH H.