SLAFSKY, Harry

HARRY SLAFSKY, 96, of the Hallworth House, owner and operator along with his wife of a gift and jewelry store in downtown Gloucester, Mass., for many years, died Tuesday in Hallworth House. He was the husband of the late Ida (Pett) Slafsky.

Born in Gloucester, the son of the late Isaac and Sarah Slafsky, he had lived in Gloucester most of his life, moving to Providence four years ago.

He was a founding member of Temple Ahavath Achim in Gloucester and was the congregation's oldest living member. During World War II, he was a member of the Civil Defense Corps and patrolled the beaches for enemy craft.

He leaves a son, S. Frederick Slafsky, M.D., of Providence; and two grandsons. He was the brother of the late Leah Gordon, Jenny Anderson and Louis Slafsky.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Temple Ahavath Achim, 86 Middle St., Gloucester. Burial will be in Mount Jacob Cemetery, West Gloucester.

PJ-B 12-19-1996

SLAFSKY, Harry

December 17, 1996. Beloved husband of the late Ida (Pett) Slafsky of Gloucester MA, and dear father of Frederick and Joan Slafsky of Providence. Devoted grandfather of John Slafsky and Amy Rosenberg of New York and Ted Slafsky and Diane Prescott of Washington D.C. Dear brother of the late Louis Slafsky, Leah Gordon and Jenny Anderson. Funeral services 1:00 PM Friday at Temple Ahavath Achim, 86 Middle Street, Gloucester with a burial at Mount Jacob Cemetery, West Gloucester. Contributions may be made to Temple Ahavath Achim, Gloucester MA 01930 or Hallworth House, 66 Benefit St, Providence RI 02904. Memorial observance will be held at 276 Blackstone Blvd., Providence on Saturday 7-9 p.m. Arrangements by Stanetsky-Hymanson Memorial Chapels, Salem.