EARLE SLOM, 80, of 28 Hollins Drive, a retired printer, died yesterday at Roger Williams Medical Center, Providence.

He was the husband of Elaine (Barrie) Slom. Born in Newport, a son of the late Maurice and Sophie (Richards) Slom, he had lived in Newport most of his life before moving to Cranston 15 years ago.

He had been a printer for the Franklin Printing House, in Newport, for over 50 years, retiring 10 years ago.

He was a longtime member and a past board member of Touro Synagogue, a past president of Newport B'nai B'rith Lodge 104, and a former adviser of the Newport B'nai B'rith Youth Organization.

He was a member of the Newport Elks Lodge, the advisory board for the vocational education program at Rogers High School, the Touro Fraternal Association and the Cranston Senior Advisory Board.

Besides his wife, he leaves a stepson, Dean Barrie of San Francisco; three stepdaughters, Alison Barrie of Cranston, Lisa Jachowicz of Southboro, Mass., and Lori O'Connor of Shrewsbury, Mass.; two brothers, Aaron Slom of Newport and Stanley Slom of New York City; seven grandchildren; and three nephews and a niece.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. in Shalom Memorial Chapel, 1100 New London Ave. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
