Albert Taubman at 53; URI professor of pharmacology

NARRAGANSETT — Albert Taubman, 53, of 219 Ocean Rd., a professor of pharmacology at the University of Rhode Island for many years, died Tuesday at home.

Born in Providence, a son of the late Abraham and Lena (Rubin) Taubman, he had been a resident of Sharon, Mass. before moving to Narragansett seven years ago. He was the stepson of Sylvia (Miller) Taubman of Warwick.

Mr. Taubman received his bachelor's and master's degrees from URI, where he was a member of Sigma Pi and several other honor societies. He received his doctoral degree in pharmaceutical economics from the University of Pittsburgh.

He was chairman of Pharmacy Practices and of the Athletic Advisory Board at URI.

He was a consultant for Blue Cross, Harvard Health Plan and other health maintenance organizations. He also taught at Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Northeastern College of Applied Sciences, Brown University and Massachusetts Institute of Technolgy, and was a guest lecturer.

Mr. Taubman coached boys' and girls' sports activities in Sharon, where he was also active in Temple Sinai. He was a co-author of the Brown Bag Project for Senior Citizens.

He leaves a son, Andrew Taubman of Hoboken, N.J., and a daughter, Lisa Taubman of Pittsburgh. He was also the brother of the late Paul Taubman.

The funeral will be held today at 12:30 p.m. at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
