TEVEROW, Joseph

The Providence Sunday Journal, July 24, 1983

Obituaries

Joseph Teverow; business official, youth adviser, 62

PROVIDENCE — Joseph Teverow, 62, of 95 Burlington St., director of purchasing for the B.B. Greenberg Co. for the past 13 years, died yesterday at Miriam Hospital. He was the husband of Jacqueline N. (Blotcher) Teverow.

Mr. Teverow had been an executive of the Artistic Leather Novelty Co., Pawtucket, for 22 years before becoming affiliated with the Greenberg firm.

He was a member of the board of directors of Temple Emanu-El where he was a former financial secretary, a member of the Men's Club and the youth adviser for the Bar Mitzvah Brotherhood.

In October, 1982, he received the Hatan Torah Award from the temple for distinguish service to the community. He was a member of the board of directors of the Rhode Island Jewish Federation, chairman of the Jewish Education Survey Committee and chairman of the Israel Scholarship Committee, both of the Jewish Federation.

He was a past president of the board of Jewish education from 1967 to 1972 and was the founder of its adult education program. He was a member of the Jewish Education Executive Board and in 1979 received its Melavah Malkah Award.

Mr. Teverow was chairman of the Jewish National Fund of Rhode Island, a member of Temple Beth David of Narragansett and was a lifelong Labor Zionist.

Born in Providence, he was a son of the late Philip and Lena (Cherkassky) Teverow.

He was a 1941 graduate of Providence College and attended Brown University graduate school. He was a Navy lieutenant commander in World War II.

Besides his wife he leaves three sons, Paul Teverow of Joplin, Mo., Joshua Teverow of Providence and Philip A. Teverow of New York City; a daughter, Lee Teverow; a sister, Mrs. Beatrice Kornstein, both of Providence, and a granddaughter.

A funeral service will be held today at 11 a.m. at Temple Emanu-El, Morris Avenue. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.