TSEYTLIN
Semyon

PJ-B 11-30-1994

SEMYON TSEYTLIN, 80, of 4 Montague St., a scientist in the measurement and calibration field working in the the Department of Seismology in Russia until retiring in 1984, died Monday at the Fall River Jewish Home for the Aged. He was the husband of the late Brocha (Shteinman) Tseytlin.

Born in Byelorussia, a son of the late Israel and Haya (Liberman) Tseytlin, he lived in Providence since 1989.

Mr. Tseytlin was a 1939 graduate of the Bauman Technical University in Moscow. He earned a doctorate at the Aerodynamic Institute of Moscow in 1948. He was a member of the USSR Society of Science and Engineering.

He leaves a son, Alexander Tseytlin of Farmington Hills, Mich.; a daughter, Larisa Almeida of Providence; a brother, Moses Tseytlin of Kaluga, Russia, and two grandsons. He was the father of the late Helen Shkolnikova, and the brother of the late Cecelia and Ludmila Tseytlin.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at noon at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery in Warwick.

TSEYTLIN, Semyon

November 28, 1994. Residence 4 Montague St., Providence. Beloved husband of the late Brocha (Shteinman) Tseytlin. Devoted father of Larisa Almeida of Providence, Alexander Tseytlin of Farmington Hills, MI, and the late Helen Shkolnikova. Dear brother of Moses Tseytlin of Kaluga, Russia and the late Cecelia and Ludmila Tseytlin. Loving grandfather of Benjamin and Roman Tseytlin. Funeral Services Thursday 12 noon at the MAX SUGARMAN MEMORIAL CHAPEL, 458 Hope St. (corner of Doyle Ave.) In lieu of flowers contributions in his memory may be made to the Chabad House. Shiva will be private.