EDWARD VARTANIAN
CRANSTON — Edward Vartanian, 65, of 114 Capuano Ave., a retired graphic artist, died July 15 at Kent County Memorial Hospital, Warwick. He was the husband of Eileen (Harabeqian) Vartanian.

Born in Queens, N.Y., a son of the late Oscar and Adele (Goldfeder) Vartanian, he had lived in Cranston for 15 years, previously living in Los Angeles. He was a self-employed graphic artist for 30 years, retiring due to illness five years ago. He was a graduate of Queens College and Cooper-Union College, both in New York.

Graveside funeral services were held July 17 in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick. Arrangements were made by Shalom Memorial Chapel, 1100 New London Ave., Cranston.
Tillie (Vine) Vascovitz, 96

PROVIDENCE – Tillie Vascovitz, a resident of Pawtucket before moving to Providence a decade ago, died Feb. 23. She was the wife of the late Meyer Vascovitz. Born in Central Falls, she was a daughter of the late Morris and Bessie (Hazen) Vine, both of Poland.

She was a summa cum laude graduate of Bryant College, and worked at the New York Lace Store as a bookkeeper for many years. After retiring, she volunteered at The Miriam Hospital for more than 30 years.

She is survived by her son Josef of Washington, her grandsons Michael and Kyle of Boston, and her brother Leo Vine of Connecticut. She was the sister of the late Victor Vine.

Donations may be made to The Miriam Hospital Breast Health Navigator Program, 164 Summit Ave., Providence, RI 02904.
January 27, 1992

Rose Vecker

Residence: Smithfield Rd., North Providence. Beloved daughter of the late Reuben and Malka Vecker. Dear sister of Ruth Vecker of North Providence. Graveside funeral services Tuesday, 1 p.m. at Lincoln Park Cemetery, Post Rd., Warwick.

In lieu of flowers, contributions in her memory may be made to the Jewish Home for the Aged. Shiva will be private. Arrangements by the SUGARMAN MEMORIAL CHAPEL, 458 Hope St. (corner of Doyle Ave.), Michael D. Smith, Associate.
RUTH VECKER, 98, a lifelong resident of Providence, died yesterday at the Golden Crest Nursing Home, in North Providence.

She had worked at the former Outlet department store in downtown Providence, retiring in 1961.

She leaves no immediate survivors.

A graveside service will be held today at noon at Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
PROVIDENCE, R.I. - Hazel J. Vengerow passed away June 9. She was the wife of the late Harry Vengerow. She was born in Brooklyn, New York, the daughter of the late Abraham and Anna (Goldberger) Bernstein.

Hazel was a bookkeeper at Reliable Gold Ltd., in Wayland Square, for more than 40 years. She was always stylish. She was a pianist, an expert knitter and a lover of classical music.

She is survived by her daughter Karen Vengerow of Grass Valley, California, and her grandson Nathaniel Brooks of Oakland, California. She was the sister of the late Paul Bernstein.

Contributions in her memory may be made to the charity of your choice.
ROUF VICEMAN, 67, of the Charlesgate Nursing Home, a college professor in Russia for 27 years, died Saturday at the home.

Born in Russia, a daughter of the late Abram and Leah (Gurfinkel) Viceman, she had lived in Providence for the last three years, previously living in Russia.

She leaves a brother, Alexander Viceman of Providence and a niece, Julia Viceman of Boston, Mass.

A graveside service will be held today at 10 a.m. at Lincoln Park Cemetery in Warwick.
SAMUEL VIGO, 92, of East Dennis, Mass., a former research chemist who helped develop standards for the analysis of iron, steel and titanium alloys, died Friday in Eagle Pond Rehabilitation Center, South Dennis, Mass.

He was the husband of the late Gertrude (Raiffe) Vigo. Born in New York, a son of the late Sol and Fannie (Rein) Vigo, he had lived in Providence and Boston for many years before moving to Cape Cod after he retired.

A 1926 graduate of Classical High School, he graduated from Brown University in 1930.

In the early 1930s, Mr. Vigo worked as chief analytical and research chemist at Watertown Arsenal, where he helped standardize the use of the spectrograph in the analysis of iron and steel alloys.

After World War II, he served as chairman of a national panel of governmental, educational and business researchers convened to establish standards for analysis of titanium alloys. This research eventually led to the use of titanium in many products today.

He also served as a representative to AGARD, a division of NATO that deals with aeronautical research. Mr. Vigo was elected a Fellow in the American Chemical Society and also in the American Society for Testing and Materials.

During his youth, he had delivered bread for his father's bakery, Korb's, on North Main Street.

Mr. Vigo was active with the United Jewish Appeal and the Jewish Federation. He supported many Cape Cod-area museums, libraries and classical-music organizations. He also did volunteer tax-return preparation for the elderly.

He leaves two daughters, Susan Strimling of East Dennis and Evelyn Vigo of Brookline, Mass., two grandsons and four great-grandchildren.

The service will be held today at 3 p.m. in Cape Cod Synagogue, 145 Winter St., Hyannis, Mass. Burial will be in Woodside Cemetery, Yarmouth, Mass.
IRWIN VILARDOFSKY
EXETER — Irwin Vilardofsky, 57, of 19 Evergreen Drive, a sales and operation manager for several transportation companies in Southern New England, retiring five years ago because of illness, died Sept. 22 at home. He was the husband of Ruth (Farrow) Vilardofsky.

Born in Providence, a son of the late Norman and Bessie (Waldman) Vilardofsky, he lived in Exeter for 31 years, previously living in Cranston and Providence.

He was an ICC practitioner and a member of the American Society of Transportation and Logistics and the Eastern Conn. Traffic Club.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Barry Vilardofsky; two daughters, Naomi McKenna in Connecticut and Beverly Vilardofsky in Oklahoma; a brother, Allan Vayle in Massachusetts; and two grandchildren.

A graveside funeral service was held Sept. 28 in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick. Arrangements were by Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence.
PAWTUCKET — Louis Vilker, 81, of 809 York Ave. died yesterday at Rhode Island Hospital. He was the husband of the late Lillian (Schwartz) Vilker.

Born in Central Falls, a son of the late Samuel and Vicky Vilker, he lived in Pawtucket for 50 years.

Mr. Vilker was a production worker for Hasbro for 20 years before retiring 16 years ago. He was a former member of Congregation Ahavath Sholom.

He leaves three daughters, Sylvia Resnick of Cranston, Adele Bazariski of Seekonk, Mass., and Ann Goldstein of Worcester, Mass.; two sons, Samuel and Nathan Vilker, both of Cranston; nine grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. He was brother of the late Dr. Arthur Vilker, and Philip Vilker.

A graveside service will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
PHILIP VILKER

PAWTUCKET — Philip Vilker, 77, of 809 York Ave., a factory worker until retiring 15 years ago, died Monday, November 13, 1989, at Memorial Hospital.

Born in Pawtucket, he was a son of the late Samuel and Victoria (Schwartz) Vilker.

Mr. Vilker was an Army veteran of World War II.

He leaves a brother, Louis Vilker of Pawtucket.

The funeral service was held Tuesday, November 14, at Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St., Providence. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
Bertold Vilner

JOHNSTON — Bertold Jacob Vilner, 72, a biologist, died Feb. 27. He was the husband of Lucy (Stepanova) Vilner. They were married for 34 years.

Born in Leningrad, Russia, a son of the late Jacob and Feiga-Leya (Ginsburg) Vilner, he had lived in Johnston for three years, previously living in Providence and Vienna, Va.

He was a research biologist at Brown University and was involved in cell research at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md. He was also a psychiatrist and neurosurgeon in Belarus. He received his doctorate degree in psychiatry and his Ph.D. in biology from the Minsk Medical Institute in Belarus.

A Holocaust survivor, he escaped the ghetto in Belarus at age 11, and joined the underground.

He was a highly decorated World War II Soviet veteran.

He enjoyed the outdoors and was an avid reader.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Alex Vilner of Lincoln; a daughter, Galina Zybko of Minsk, Belarus; a brother, Vladimir Vilner of Smithfield and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Swan Point Cemetery, Providence.
SMITHFIELD, R.I. — Vladimir Y. Vilner died Nov. 3. He was the husband of the late Eleonora Krasnova. Born in Minsk, Belarus, a son of the late Yaakov Moses and Faina (Ginzburg) Vilner, he had lived in Riga, Latvia, before immigrating to the U.S. in 1992. He was a stationary engineer for R.I. Hospital, retiring 10 years ago. The father of Sergey Krasnov of Cranston and Oleg Vilner and his wife Elina of Old Bridge, N.J. Brother of the late Bertold Vilner. Grandfather of Matthew, Nicholas and Valeriya. Contributions in his memory may be made to your favorite charity.
EVELYN VINACCO
CRANSTON — Evelyn Vinacco, 82, of 71 Hope Road, Cranston, a former saleswoman and longtime Warwick resident, died April 23 at the Cedar Crest Nursing Centre. She was the wife of the late Joseph Vinacco.

She was born in New York City, a daughter of the late Louis and Margaret (Lieberman) Fried. She lived in Cranston for the last year and lived in Warwick since 1960, previously residing in Providence.

She had been a saleswoman at Apex for 10 years, retiring 20 years ago.

She leaves three sons, David and Michael Vinacco, both of Warwick, and Bruce Vinacco of Cranston; a sister, Sylvia Cooperman of Sunrise, Fla.; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. She was the sister of the late Ruth Berkon.

The funeral was held April 25 at Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St., Providence. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Post Road, Warwick.
SAMUIL VINARSKIY, 88, of 140 Pitman St., died Tuesday in the Rosewood Manor Nursing Home, Providence. He was the husband of the late Rokhil (Altman) Vinarskiy.

Born in Russia, a son of the late Moshe and Leba Vinarskiy, he lived in Providence since 1991.

Mr. Vinarskiy was an accountant in Russia. He was a member of Congregation Ohave Sholom, in Pawtucket.

He leaves two sons, Ilya Vinarskiy of Pawtucket and Naum Vinarskiy in Ukraine; a granddaughter and two great-grandchildren. He was the father of the late Mikail Vinarskiy.

The funeral procession will leave the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., today at 9:30 a.m. for a 10 a.m. graveside service at Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
Lillian Vine

LAKE WORTH, Fla. — Lillian Vine, 90, of Sutton Place Nursing Home, died yesterday at the John F. Kennedy Medical Center, Atlantis. She was the widow of Charles O. Vine.

Born in Providence, she was a daughter of the late Maurice and Ethel Winkler. She lived in the West Palm Beach area for 20 years and previously had lived in Brookline, Mass., and Providence.

Mrs. Vine was a graduate of the former Bryant & Stratton Business School. She attended the Rhode Island School of Design.

While living in the Boston area, she taught crafts at the Jewish Community Center in Brookline, where she was a member of Temple Sinai. She was a member of the board of the YWCA of Boston.

She leaves two daughters, June Slote of Palm Beach Gardens and Barbara Linda Martin of Palm Beach; a brother, Eli G. Winkler of Cranston; four grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

A graveside service will be held Sunday 2 p.m. in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Post Road, Warwick.
Lillian Vitale

PROVIDENCE — Lillian E. (Halperin-Sweet) Vitale, 87, of Hillside Ave., died Feb 14 at Miriam Hospital. She was the wife of the late Anthony Vitale and the late Irving Sweet.

Born in New York City, a daughter of the late Ruth E. (Nova) Halperin, she moved to Rhode Island 70 years ago and lived in Cranston and Warwick before moving to Providence in 2000.

She leaves a son, Burton A. Sweet of Pawtucket; a brother, Lawrence M. Halperin of Warwick; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Contributions may be made to the American Heart Association; 275 Westminster St.; Providence, RI 02903.
Tobi Ann Vitale, 70

Ann Vitale, 70, of Hoffman Ave., died Aug. 19. She was the wife of Daniel Vitale.

Born in Brookline, Mass., she was a daughter of the late Moses and Lillian (Greenberg) Menedelso. She had lived in Cranston for 35 years.

She was a speech therapist in the Cranston School Department for over 30 years before retiring 14 years ago.

She was a graduate of Emerson College.

Contributions may be made to the Visiting Nurses Association of Rhode Island.
VOGEL, ANITA, 96,
Loving mother of Erni Hirsch (Sanford) of Boynton Beach, FL and the Hon. Netti Vogel of Providence. Dear grandmother of Scott, Tracy, Danielle and Georgi. Great-grandmother of seven.
Funeral Monday, 9:30 am from 11115 S Jog Rd., Boynton Beach, FL. Interment, Eternal Light Memorial Gardens, 11520 State Rd., 7 Boynton Beach, FL. Shiva will be observed at the home of Tracy and Robert Slatoff, 2695 NW 45th Street, Boca Raton, FL.
MAHOPAC, N.Y. — Charles Vogel, 82, of 203 Blackstone Blvd., Providence, father-in-law of Providence Councilman Thomas W. Pearlman, died yesterday at the Putnam County Hospital. He was the husband of Pauline (Hacker) Vogel.

A native of New York City, he was counsel of the law firm of Pearlman & Vogel of Providence.

A veteran of World War I, he practiced law in New York for 40 years before he joined his son-in-law's firm seven years ago. He was past commander of his Jewish War Veterans and American Legion posts; active in B'nai B'rith's Anti-Defamation League; Providence Hebrew Day School; the N.E. Academy of Torah, and other civic and religious organizations.

Besides his wife of 49 years, he is survived by a son, Mark Vogel of New York City; a daughter, Miriam Pearlman of Providence and six grandchildren.

The funeral was to have been held today at Riverside Chapel, New York City.

Burial will be in Beth David Cemetery, Elmont, L.I.
PLEASANTVILLE, N.Y. — Pauline Vogel, 92, died July 17. She was the widow of Charles Vogel, a founder of the law firm of Pearlman & Vogel.

Born in New York City in 1901, she was the daughter of the late David and Rebecca Hacker.

She was a school teacher in the New York school system for over 35 years and supporter of the Providence Hebrew Day School where her five great-grandchildren attend.

She leaves a daughter, Miriam Pearlman and a son, Mark Vogel of Pleasantville, N.Y., of the law firm of Weil, Gotchal and Manges of New York. Her grandchildren are Joshua P. Pearlman, Esq., of Pawtucket; Roger M. Pearlman of Providence, realtor; Rebecca Pearlman, a high school math teacher in New York; Jeffrey L. Vogel of Providence and Lisa and Sharon Vogel of Pleasantville, N.Y.

Funeral services were held at the Beth David Cemetery, Queens, N.Y. Donations may be made to the Charles and Pauline Vogel Scholarship Fund at the Providence Hebrew Day School.
LYNWOOD E. VOLPE

HARTSDALE, N.Y. — Lynwood E. Volpe, 58, of 30 East Hartsdale, N.Y., manager of the Starr children's clothing store in the World Trade Center in New York City, died Nov. 29 at White Plains Hospital. He was the husband of Jean (Irving) Volpe.

Born in Providence, he was a son of Mary (Brotman) Volpe of Coventry, and the late Irwin Volpe.

He was employed in retail sales for 40 years, and had worked at the former City Hall Hardware in Providence and Robert Hall stores in Rhode Island.

An Army veteran, he served in Korea in the late 1950s.

He was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Besides his wife and mother, he leaves two daughters, Gabrielle and Adriana Volpe, both at home. He was the brother of the late Arnold N. Volpe.

The funeral and burial were held Nov. 30 at Sharon Gardens Cemetery, Valhalla, N.Y.
MARY ROSE VOLPE, 88, of Weaver Hill Road, a retired assembler, died yesterday at Alpine Nursing Center.

She was the wife of the late Irwin G. Volpe. Born in Providence, a daughter of the late Charles and Rebecca (LeVine) Brotman, she had lived in Providence before moving to Coventry in 1971.

Mrs. Volpe was an assembler for many years, working in area jewelry factories before retiring.

She attended the former Commercial High School, Providence, and was a former member of Sons of Abraham Congregation, Providence.

She enjoyed writing poetry.

She leaves two sisters, Ida Goldstein of Warwick and Pearl Jacobson of Laguna Beach, Calif., and four grandchildren and a great-grandchild. She was the mother of the late Lynwood E. Volpe and Arnold N. Volpe, and sister of the late Paul Brotman.

A graveside service will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Post Road, Warwick.
VOLYNSKY, ABRAM, 73, of Lewis Street, Providence, died Saturday at Miriam Hospital. He was the husband of Valentina (Kurnetsova) Volynsky.

Born in Russia, a son of the late Boris and Goda (Kaganova) Volynsky he moved to Providence 15 years ago. He was a supervisor for Hope Global Company.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sons; Edward and Leonid Volynsky both of Providence, a sister; Tsilya Baskin of Providence and a brother; Lazar Volynsky of Florida and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 11:30 a.m. at Sugarman-Sinai Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope Street, Providence. Burial will be in Swan Point Cemetery.
Pavel Vrublevsky

PROVIDENCE — Pavel Vrublevsky, 43, of 17 Winthrop Ave., died Wednesday in Rhode Island Hospital. He was the husband of Dina (Korneyeva) Vrublevsky.

Born in Odessa, the Ukraine, a son of Valentina (Bluemerman) Vrublevsky of Odessa, and the late Volodimir Vrublevsky, he lived in Providence 2½ years.

Besides his wife and mother he leaves three daughters, Svetlana, Galina and Ludmila Vrublevsky, all of Providence.

The funeral will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. from Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.