Providence

MANFRED WEIL, 80, of 6898 Palmar Court, Boca Raton, Fla., formerly of Providence, a retired manufacturing executive, and an active member of the Jewish community, died Wednesday at Hospice by the Sea, Boca Raton.

He was the husband of Jeanne (Fish) Weil. Born in Germany, a son of the late Simon and Else (Rosenbaum) Weil, he and his family escaped from Germany and fled to England in 1938. They moved to Providence in 1940.

He was a manufacturing executive for the Miller electronic division of the former Carol Cable Co. for 31 years, retiring 25 years ago.

He was an Army veteran of World War II, serving in the Pacific. He was a past commander of the Fineman-Trinkle Post 439 of the Jewish War Veterans.

He was a member of B'nai Torah Congregation, Boca Raton, and a past president of Temple Emanu-El. He was a past chairman of the Israel bond program, and an honorary member of the board of directors of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island.

Mr Weil was instrumental in the settlement of Russian immigrants in Rhode Island. He received the Amudim Award from Providence Hebrew Day School as an outstanding member of the community.

He established endowments at the Providence Hebrew Day School, the Solomon Schechter Day School, Bar Ilan University in Israel, the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York, and the Brown University Medical School.

He was an avid world traveler.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Simon Weil of Downingtown, Pa.; two daughters, Cory Fink of Cranston and Judith Weir of Smithfield; and five grandchildren. He was the brother of the late John Weil.

The funeral service will be held today at 11 a.m. in Temple Emanu-El, Sessions Street at Morris Avenue. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
