Abraham Weinstein

Owned Amoco service station on Smith St. more than 50 years

PROVIDENCE — Abraham Weinstein, 81, of 116 Rankin Ave., owner of Weinstein's Amoco Service Station at 221 Smith St. for more than 50 years, died yesterday at Miriam Hospital. He was the husband of the late Lillian Y. (Kaplan) Weinstein, who died Saturday and was buried Sunday.

Born in Fall River, Mass., he was a son of the late Morris and Anna Weinstein. He had lived in Providence since 1947 and previously resided in Pawtucket for 15 years.

Mr. Weinstein was a member of Congregation Sons of Jacob, the Roosevelt Lodge F&AM, the Palestine Shrine, the Providence Hebrew Free Loan Association and an associate member of the Providence Fraternal Order of Police.

He leaves a daughter, Sybil R. Weinstein of Providence; a brother, Joseph Weinstein of New Bedford, Mass., and one grandson.

The funeral service was to be held today at noon at Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St. Burial was to be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

WEINSTEIN, ABRAHAM

FB 7/15/80 E