WEISMAN, Walter

RIHER 2-24-67

WALTER WEISMAN

Funeral services for Walter Weisman, 45, of 177 Sumter Street, an accountant for the Internal Revenue Service for 19 years, who died unexpectedly on Feb. 3, were held the same day at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in Providence on Aug. 17, 1921, a son of Sarah (Katz) Weisman and the late Louis Weisman, he served in World War II where he received the Purple Heart during the Battle of the Bulge.

A graduate of Classical High School, he attended the University of Rhode Island and was graduated from Bryant College.

Mr. Weisman was an R. I. Amateur tennis player. He was a member of Triggs Golf Club and the R. I. Bowling Congress.

Besides his mother, with whom he lived, survivors include three brothers, Harry Weisman of Cranston, Israel Weisman of Worcester, Mass., and Joseph Weisman of Providence; four nephews and one niece.