WEISS, LEO

Leo Weiss

Florida resident, former camp head, retired counselor and teacher dies

DEERFIELD BEACH, Fla. — Leo Weiss, 75, of SW Natura Avenue, a Providence resident most of his life and a retired teacher, died yesterday in South County Hospital, Wakefield, shortly after being stricken at his summer home, 93 Conch Rd., Narragansett. He was the husband of Sophie (Miller) Weiss.

Mr. Weiss was director of Camp Jori in Narragansett for more than 20 years. He was a guidance counselor and teacher at Hope High School, Providence, and Western Hills Junior High, Cranston. He retired in 1974.

He was a member of Temple Beth-El, Redwood Lodge No. 35, AF&AM, the Jewish Home for the Aged and the Association of Retired Teachers.

Born in Providence on Aug. 9, 1903, he was a son of the late Ignatz and Sarah (Fader) Weiss. He had lived on Overhill Road, Providence, for many years before moving to Deerfield shortly after retiring.

Besides his widow, he leaves a son, Hilton Miller Weiss of Annandale-on-the-Hudson, N.Y.; two brothers, Marshall Weiss of Chicago and Henry Weiss of Shrewsbury, Mass., and two granddaughters.

The funeral service was to be held today at 1 p.m. at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence. The burial was to be private.
