STEPHEN B. YARLAS, 63, of East Hill Drive, a certified public accountant, a lawyer and a business co-owner, died yesterday at Rhode Island Hospital, Providence.

He was the husband of Sharon L. (Weinberg) Yarlas; they had been married for 39 years. Born in Providence, a son of the late Lewis and Rose (Strauss) Yarlas, he had lived most of his life in Cranston.

A graduate of Classical High School, he earned a bachelor of science in accounting from the University of Rhode Island, a juris doctor degree from Suffolk University, and a master's degree in law and taxation from Boston University. He also had studied at Bentley College, in preparation for his CPA exam.

Mr. Yarlas began his accounting carreer in 1963, at Jarcho Schwartz CPAs, where he went on to become a partner. He later became a managing partner in what then was Jarcho, Schwartz, Yarlas & Santilli Ltd., and which after its merger with another firm in the fall of 2000 became Yarlas, Kaplan, Santilli & Moran Ltd. He also was president and co-owner of the Torbol Group Inc., a medical-supply company in Rhode Island.

He was a member of the Rhode Island CPA Society, the American Institute of CPAs, and the Rhode Island and Massachusetts Bar Associations.

He was a member of the boards of directors of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island and the Jewish Seniors Agency; a past member of the boards of the Arthritis Association of Rhode Island and the former Cranston Osteopathic Hospital; a past chairman of the State of Rhode Island Israeli Bonds; and a member of the Hebrew Free Loan Association.

Mr. Yarlas was a member of Temple Emanuel, and a former member and past president of Temple Torat Yisrael.

He was a Mason with the Redwood Lodge 35, AF&AM, in East Providence

He was a member of the Ledgemont Country Club, where he was a treasurer and a past member of the board of directors and various social committees.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Lisa A. Lehan of Westood, Mass., and Robin T. Alperin of Arlington, Mass.; two brothers, Donald M. Yarlas of Rehoboth Beach, Del., and his twin, Stuart M. Yarlas of Warwick; and five grandchildren.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Temple Emanu-El, Morris Avenue at Sessions Street. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
