THE EVENING BULLETIN 5/1/86

OBITUARIES

Joseph Zwetchkenbaum

Held key positions for 35 years with Pawtucket, Taunton stores

HALLANDALE, Fla. — Joseph H. Zwetchkenbaum of 440 Paradise Isle Blvd., a merchandise manager for the former Warwick Shoppers World and New York Lace Stores in Pawtucket and Taunton, Mass., for 35 years before retiring 12 years ago, died Monday at home. He was the husband of Edith (Chaiken) Zwetchkenbaum.

Born in Austria, he was a son of the late Jacob and Rachel Zwetchkenbaum. He lived in Hallandale the last four months and previously lived in Fort Lauderdale five years and Hyannis, Mass., five years. Before that, Mr. Zwetchkenbaum lived in Pawtucket 30 years and in Taunton, Mass.

ZWETCHKENBAUM, JOSEPH

He was a graduate of Northeastern University and its law school, and also was a graduate of Bentley College, Boston. He was a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association and Temple Emanu-El in Providence.

Besides his wife, who also maintains a home in Warwick, he leaves three sons, Jeffrey M. and Steven M. Zwetchkenbaum, both of New York City, and Peter M. Zwetchenbaum of Fort Lauderdale; two sisters Molly Waldman of Brockton, Mass., and Sally Kace of Brookline, Mass., and two brothers, Robert Zwetchkenbaum of Hallandale and Edward Cooperstein of Taunton.

The funeral service will be held tomorrowat 11 a.m. at Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.