Whistling Zionists

The Zionists of America are gathering at Atlantic City at a time when spirits are not soaring. The whole world seems all enveloped in clouds and the Zionists have to do a lot of whistling to keep their courage up.

Let me therefore, offer them a bit of reminiscence which may make it a little easier to whistle. Let me point out the fact that Zionism isn't the only movement that's having its difficulties. That's a sort of negative form of encouragement to be sure, but we Jews know that the negative plays a tremendous part in life. The Ten Commandments are negative. We Jews have long known, that say what you will against negatives, two negatives makes one affirmative.

Hague and Basle

But the movement, which I have in mind, particularly just now, which, it seems to me, should offer in its history, some solace to the Zionists, is the international peace movement.

In 1898, the Czar of Russia called the first world congress to deal with the question of international peace. That was the first over step towards the bringing about of international peace. The Czar of Russia was led to that step by a book written by a Russian Jew, Ivan Bloch, a great economist and railroad builder of Russia.

At about the same time, the first world Zionist congress was convened at Basle.

The international peace movement and the Zionist movement were born about the same time.

Ivan and Theodore

Many world conferences on peace have been convoked since that first Hague conference, yet peace is not here. Yet who doubts but that it will ultimately win?

And if Ivan Bloch shall ultimately triumph, who shall say that Theodore Herzl may not?

Nick and Wilhelm

Ivan Bloch was able to obtain the support of the Russian Czar to back his dream. Fantastic enough, that a despised Jew should get support for such a measure from the most reactionary of monarchs!

But not more fantastic than that Theodore Herzl should be received by Emperors and Sultans.

The sponsor of Bloch lost his throne and faced a Bolshevik firing squad. But the peace idea goes marching on.

Wilhelm and Abdul, who conferred with Herzl, also lost their thrones. Zionism, too, will probably go marching on.

Show Me Your Tongue, Said Nordau

It was about 1895, I believe, that Herzl wrote his Judenstaate and showed it to his friend, Max Nordau.

And Nordau, who was a physician as well as writer, said to his friend: "Herzl, show me your tongue."

But if it was insanity, as Nordau first believed, then the insanity must have been of a contagious character, for soon Nordau had run up a similar temperature.

Turning the Pages

History offers yet another consolation to the Zionists gathering at Atlantic City. If they feel that sentiment today is not favorable, let them but turn the pages of the newspapers and see what the leaders of opinion

Max L. Grant Makes Appeal to Jewish People of Providence

Mr. Max L. Grant, President of the Jewish Federation of Social Service and a Director of the Providence Community Fund, which begins its annual drive on Monday, November 16, made the following appeal to the Jewish people of Providence in a statement to The Jewish Herald today:

"The hardest times in our memory are before us now. Those who have something must share with those who have nothing. Before, our giving was a matter of choice,—today, it is a matter of dire necessity.

"The hungry must be fed, the sick must be cared for, the homeless must be sheltered, the orphan must be protected and the boys and girls must still receive the blessings of those institutions that keep them from the tragedies and temptations of street corner associations.

"What a consolation it is to know that during these most troublesome times, our Philanthropic Welfare and Social Agencies are meeting the emergency most efficaciously. Through these Agencies, we are in a position to help every Jew in this community who is in want.

"The money, conservatively figured at $79,339, which is necessary to take care of this situation, all comes from the Providence Community Fund.

"If we are not burdened daily, as we have been in the past, with constant pitiable situations and continuous solicitations, it is because of the fact that the Community Chest is so magnificently and magnanimously caring for the needs of the Jewish people of this community, through the Jewish Agencies. The needs are greater than ever. Some who in the past contributed to charitable organizations are compelled themselves to seek aid from these same institutions.

"This year's giving is not a giving that comes from profits nor income. Hardly anybody in our entire community has had the income of previous years, and there is hardly anyone who has not sustained a loss.

"This is the kind of a year that tries men's souls, that tests our worth and challenges our custodianship of that which we have. No one who has anything, is too poor to share with his fellow brother who has nothing.

"The Children of Israel, because of their traditions, because of their sufferings, have never failed to respond to the pleadings of those less fortunate than they are.

"Let us, the Jews of Providence, give forth sacrifices on the Altar of Human Kindness, and give to the Community Chest as never before. Realizing the necessity of self-denial, let us increase our subscriptions to the utmost, and then only, can we as individuals, as Jews, as members of the community, honestly feel ourselves worthy of God's blessings."

The new union, organized to facilitate the handling of local problems under the auspices of the national body, includes Reform congregations in New York, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Connecticut, Vermont, Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire.

Members of the board of managers of the regional organization for Rhode Island are Adolph Meller, Vice President of Temple Beth-El; Mrs. George Nathanson, President of the Temple Beth-El Sisterhood, and Mrs. Caesar Misch, Max L. Grant and C. Joseph Fox, all members of the board of trustees of Temple Beth-El. Mr. Brown and Mrs. Milton Fuld, representing the Sisterhood, attended the meeting in New York.

Speakers at the initial regional meeting included Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times; Judge Irving Lehman of the New York Court of Appeals, and a number of leading Rabbis who discussed the problems of Liberal Judaism.

SOCIETY TO TRANSFER JEWS TO SETTLEMENT IN SPAIN

Vilna, Nov. 13—(JTA)—A society for transferring Polish Jews to Spain for settlement there has been established at Vilna, it is reported recently in the Vilna Courier, a Jewish daily.

The report states that the movement was initiated by a Vilna Jew, Dr. Gotfried, who declares he is a personal friend of former President Zamora of Spain. Dr. Gotfried hopes that he will be able to obtain the necessary concessions from the Spanish government to settle the Jews on the land.

JUSTICE BRANDEIS RECEIVES TRIBUTES ON 75TH BIRTHDAY

President Hoover Leads in Messages;
Distinguished Personalities Pay
Tribute to Brilliant Services

New York, Nov. 13—(JTA)—The President of the United States Herbert Hoover, heads a list of outstanding personalities in American and Jewish life who, in messages released through the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, extend their felicitations to Louis Dembitz Brandeis, Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, who attained his 75th birthday Friday.

The distinguished services of Justice Brandeis to his country and to the Jewish people are lauded in tributes paid to him by Felix M. Warburg, Adolph S. Ochs, Lieutenant Governor Herbert H. Lehman, Colonel Edward M. House, Arthur Brisbane, Alfred M. Cohen, President of the B'nai B'rith, and Emanuel Neumann.

Jewish communities throughout the country are marking the occasion by holding special meetings where the work and achievements of Justice Brandeis will be described by prominent Jewish speakers. Scores of Jewish organizations have adopted resolutions of praise for Justice Brandeis.

President Hoover's letter declares: "Mrs. Hoover and I wish to be early in conveying to you our warmest congratulations on your seventy-fifth birthday. It is not necessary for us to remind you of the many satisfactions which have crowned your public service and that you reflect a heart and mind which have made the nation your debtor.

"Even during your service as a member of the highest court in the land, you have found time to give service to the advancement of the Jewish Homeland, and I have no doubt this has brought happiness and comfort to thousands.

"We wish you many happy returns of the day."

for Social Service; $14,333, Jewish Community Center; $10,035, Jewish Family Welfare Society; $21,351, Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island; $30,410, Miriam Hospital; $2910, North End Dispensary.

It is quite evident to all those who have been observing the growth of the Providence Community Fund in the past few years that the Jewish agencies have benefited immensely by their affiliation. The former method of individual solicitation which involved constant worrying about finances was supplanted by the business-like method of fund raising. The Jewish institutions have been enabled to direct their energies toward the betterment of the service in the institutions instead of worrying about financial support.

There are in all 38 agencies in the Community Fund who help the aged and handicapped, protect thousands from disease, shelter and protect children, give food, shelter and clothing to thousands in need and prevent delinquency by building better citizens.

One of the most active leaders in the Providence Community Fund Campaign is Mr. Max L. Grant, President of the Jewish Federation for Social Service, a member of the Board of Directors of the local Community Fund, as well as a member of the publicity committee of the campaign. Mr. Grant for the past few weeks has been actively engaged in giving not only his personal support to the campaign, but also has enlisted the cooperation of hundreds of men and women. One of the most important committees in the campaign is the Initial Gifts Committee, which includes a large number of prominent Jewish men as follows:

Arthur Basok, Harry S. Beck, Sol S. Bromson, Henry Burt, Sol Cohen, Herman M. Feinstein, James Goldman, Bernard M. Goldowsky, Jules P. Goldstein, Arthur J. Levy, Samuel M. Magid, Harry R. Rosen, Sol Rothstein, Charles Silverman, Samuel Soforenko, Walter I. Sundlun, Isaac Woolf, Arno Wrazlawsky, Charles Brown and Adolph Mellor.

In addition to this group there are many Jewish workers who have been placed in the various divisions under the supervision of the General District Chairman.

There is need for greater giving this year than ever before because of the serious situation facing the entire community. The budgets of all of the agencies have been cut to the bone with the assurance that every possible economy in the conduct of the agencies is being made. The amount of $789,938 that is being asked this year is the minimum required to cover all the needs. It is unthinkable that the community will allow the Providence Community Fund to decrease the fine social work that is being carried out in this city. This year, more than ever, large contributions are needed. Those in the community that have been blessed with means face a greater responsibility than they ever had before.

The Initial Gifts Committee is now receiving advance contributions and thus far reports are encouraging. Next week the large army of 2000 workers, including many Jewish men and women, will cover the entire city. As always, the Jewry of Providence will give their most enthusiastic support to one of the finest civic causes in Providence.

DR. FILDERMAN HEADS ROUMANIAN KHEILLOTH

Bucharest, Nov. 13—(JTA)—Dr. William Filderman, head of the Union of Roumania Jews, was recently elected President of the Bucharest Kehillah by a vote of fifty to seven, with six not voting.

Dr. Filderman, by virtue of his new office, automatically becomes President of all the Kehilloth of old Roumania.

It must be clear by this time that there is no use arguing with Hitler and his clan. Appeals to human decency, to the principles of love, to justice have failed. There is no use nailing their lives and exploding their foolish theories. Heaven knows it is easy enough. Only it makes not the slightest impression of them. Hatred has simply blinded them to reason and common sense.

The Hitlerites were told by Jacob Wassermann and other liberal German Jews that the Jews were not a nation, not a people, but a race. The answer was a whirlwind of Jew-baiting in Thuringia under Frick. Hitler was reminded over and over again that the Jews wanted to be no more than German citizens of the Hebraic profession. He screamed that it was a lie, a piece of Oriental cunning, deceit, camouflage. Writers set about parading before his eyes the contributions made by Jews to culture in the Reich, to their brilliant participation in science, in philosophy, in art, in literature and the theatre. He replied by throwing obscene taunts at the head of Freud and Adler and Wassermann. His young bullies began to insult a man like Einstein and Hitler's papers gloated over it.

Many Jews Died for Germany

A German-Jewish journal came out recently, yet, calling upon Hitler's sense of patriotism by giving figures and names of Jews who died for the Fatherland in the mud of Flanders and France. Hitler answered with a brutal attack on helpless Jewish men and women leaving a place of worship. He instituted a boycott against Jewish merchants in small communities and terrorizes those who feel disinclined to heed his barbaric decrees. He warns farmers to be on the look-out for Jews wandering around the countryside as they might throw mysterious, cabalistic spells over their crops.

"We are a Christian people," so ran the Hitlerite proclamation in Thuringia, "we should only buy from Christian folk. The Jews plan the wreck of our country. We must love God and hate the Jews and prevent the execution of their nefarious designs." Herr Hitler was told that the founder of the religion he invoked said: "So anyone says I love God and hates his brother, the same is a liar." He paid no attention to it. He appeals to superstition, to prejudice, to greed, to hooliganism, to sadism, to religion alike so long as the effect might harm the Jews in some way. He circulates the old blood-libel, spreads the Protocol-forgery, befouls the memory of dead men, such as Lord Melchett and does not hesitate to concoct the most ludicrous yarns to gain his ends. He tells the readers of his papers that the Comintern and Wall Street are in conspiracy to wreck the present economic system, that Sir Herbert Samuel and Lord Reading caused the flight from sterling in England as an act of Jewish vengeance over England's non-fulfillment of pledges in Palestine; he would have his clientele believe that Jews are behind the unrest in China; Jews behind the movement for independence in South Africa; Jews manipulating the strings in the American crime wave; Jews backing Ghandi; Jews running the Rio de Janeiro white-slave traffic; Jewish employers debauching Christian shop-girls in Berlin; Jews, Jews, Jews! The Jews robbed Germany of her colonies. They stole the Fatherland's merchant fleet. They stabbed the Imperial Army in the back. They inspired the murder of Serajevo. They mesmerized President Wilson. They murdered five thousand German soldiers with the Turkish army, in the gardens of Damascus. They started the Palestine riots of 1929. They planned the world crisis. They suck the blood of new-born Christian children. They murdered Jesus Christ, that "good German." The Jews, the Jews, the Jews!

In revenge and punishments for these heinous crimes. Jews, upon Hitler's orders, are systematically eliminated from the economic life in Germany. The percentage of Jewish owners in the metal business has fallen off from 70.5 per cent. in 1913 to 57.3 per cent. in 1930; in the iron business from 43.9 per cent. to 41 per cent. in the same period. The total number of German banks shrank 9.3 per cent. from 1928 to 1930; but while the number of corporate banks of non-Jewish character fell 6 per cent. and that of private banks of non-Jewish character 8.5 per cent., the number of private Jewish banks fell 19 per cent. The figures for 1931 will be much higher.

Jews Ousted Everywhere

To pay for their crimes and "purify Germany from the Jewish poison," the Jews are to be ousted from the theatres, from the conservatories of music, from art schools and actors' associations. Applications for positions are returned with the questionnaire: "If you do not happen to be Jewish, please sign this statement." It is enough to have a Jewish wife to bar one from holding an official position in Thuringia. Scores of the ablest actors and musicians have but recently lost their living for this reason. Methodically, inexorably the Hitlerites are removing Jews from Germany's cultural institutions. The outside world hears of a savage attack occasionally as recently occurred in Berlin on Rosh Hashonah, but they are not aware of the more insidious silent terror that haunts the Jews of Germany, the horror that flies by dark and in the night. Even partial lists of "Nazi" excesses, tortures, moral cruelty, discrimination practised against the Jews of Germany are gruesome documents. Jewish teachers are the object of an organized hunt. In several districts where the Nazis are supreme they are required to teach that Christ was a German.

When an effort is made from Jewish side to explain Jewish character and institutions, National Socialists describe it as "an attempt at spiritual domination." The Jewish religious societies of Plauen in Saxony, invited the higher schools of the city to take turns in visiting the Synagogue. On their visits the Rabbi addressed the teachers and students on Jewish worship and Jewish moral law. This resulted in the National Socialist interpellation in the Saxon Diet: "whether the government approved that the Synagogue was visited by the high school teachers and students in Plauen, whether it was prepared to investigate the case and bring those responsible to justice and what it intended to do in order to protect the youth from like attempts at spiritual violence."

Student associations clamor for the introduction of the numerus clausus. Jewish students are beaten up daily. Jewish attendance at Munich University has dropped as a result from 555 in 1925 to 240 in 1930. In February of this year the Berliner Tageblatt felt constrained "in the interests of justice" to draw attention to the peculiar manner of justice frequently administered where Jews were involved. Jewish business men,

TEMPLE EMANU-EL

SERVICES

"Louis D. Brandeis—Jurist and Jew" will be the subject of Rabbi Goldman's sermon on Friday evening, Nov. 20th. This will be a tribute to the great American Jewish jurist on the occasion of his 75th birthday. On Friday evening, Nov. 13th, Dr. Thomas spoke on the subject, "How May Another World War be Averted."

THREE SPEAKERS AT MEN'S CLUB MEETING

A most interesting subject, presented by interesting and authoritative speakers, will be the feature of the regular Men's Club meeting to be held next Thursday evening, Nov. 19th. The subject is "The Inside Story of Providence Jewish Institutions, Told by the Men Who Run Them." The speakers are: Mr. Charles Hoffman, Superintendent of the Miriam Hospital; Dr. L. B. Wolfenson, Superintendent of the Jewish Orphanage, and Mr. Jacob I. Cohen, Executive Director of the Jewish Community Center.

Through this program the members of the club will get a first-hand picture of the inside workings of these institutions. Besides this, a fine entertainment program will be presented and the new officers will be installed. All men of the community are cordially invited.

SWAMI AKHILANANDA THIRD LECTURER

Swami Akhilananda of India and leader of the Vedanta Society, Providence, will be the third lecturer at the Institute of Jewish Studies Course, on "Judaism and Other Religions."

The Swami is a fascinating and charming speaker and will lecture on "Hinduism," Saturday, Nov. 21st, at 2 o'clock. On Saturday, Nov. 14th, Rabbi Cohon of Boston will lecture on "Judaism." About 130 people attended last week's lecture.

JR. BROTHERHOOD ORGANIZED

The young men of the congregation from the ages of 16-18 are organizing a Junior Brotherhood under guidance of the Men's Club. Most of these young people are former B. M. B. members. The opening meeting is to be held Monday evening, Nov. 16th, at the Temple. Mr. David Geffner will act as leader for the club.

especially in small towns, are virtually ostracized by the Christian Community. When for some reason or other they have recourse to litigation their case is handled in a manner that is mockery. They cannot look to the evangelical pastors for aid or sympathy. For the General Conference of the Evangelical Church, the State Church in North Germany, has come out in favor of National Socialism. Justice fails them in many places, religion turns a cold shoulder on their plight. The scandalous libels dishonor them. The persecution dehumanizes them. Their fear of being accused of dual nationalism or aliens has de-Judaized thousands of Jews in the Reich.

Jewish Cemeteries Desecrated
Jewish cemeteries are desecrated. Synagogues befouled. Jewish girls are molested. Scarcely a day passes without a new sample of Jew-hatred coming to the fore somewhere in Germany. Pages upon pages of individual cases of assault and battery could be drawn up.

And still for the most part German Jewry is suffering in silence. It does not rent the air with lamentations. It does the only thing that can be done under the circumstances, viz.: "remembering that Germany produced a Goethe as well as an Atilla, a Schiller as well as a Hitler. The tragedy of the Jewish people, of every suffering minority is that its only appeal lies in asking for more justice, more love, more light. Heroics avail nothing. Resistance sharpens the cynicism of brute nationalism and makes it redouble its oppression."

The thing for Jews elsewhere to bear in mind is that these things are taking place in the Reich after four generations of emancipation. The thing to ponder over is that the Jews of Germany form less than 1 per cent. of the total population, that they consider themselves loyal German citizens, that they gave an altogether disproportionate share to the development of German commerce, industry, banking and culture, that assimilation had made gigantic progress in their midst, that they were very often plus royalists que le roi.

The thing to ponder is that if these things can happen in Germany! . . . So far Hitler has only been rehearsing. Of this many responsible observers are convinced. Which would mean that the real thing is to come yet. Blackly winter is drawing near. If the signs fall not it will be a winter of misery. Hitler thrives on misery. And misery knows no law!

YOUTH CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Rabbi Goldman is calling a meeting of some of the young people of the congregation to perfect plans for the sixth annual Jewish Youth Conference to be held on two Friday evenings, Dec. 11 and Dec. 18th. The subject of this year's conference will be "Jewish Youth In a Non-Jewish World." Among the speakers will be Prof. Bruce Curry of the Union Theological Seminary. He is an international authority on religious work among youth. The Youth Conference Committee will meet at the Temple, Monday evening, Nov. 16th.

MORRIS R. SYDELL HEADS PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Morris R. Sydell, active member of the Men's Club, has been appointed chairman of this year's Thanksgiving ball program, which is one of the largest ever published and Mr. Sydell hopes that he will be able to repeat this year the successes of former years.

Serving with Mr. Sydell are: Mrs. Philip C. Joslin, Mrs. Benjamin Alper, Mrs. Max Viner, Mrs. Louis Rubin, Mrs. Morris Sackett, Mrs. Joseph Blazar, Mrs. Charles Stramich, Mrs. J. Pritsker, Mrs. A. Rotman, Mrs. Samuel Soforenko, Mrs. Benjamin I. Sass, Mrs. Samuel Young, Mr. Ernest Sackin, Mrs. Henry Hasenfeld, Mr. Goldberger, Mrs. Nat C. Cohen, Mrs. Herman Bernstein and Mrs. Morris R. Sydell.

SCHOOL INTRODUCES KEREN AMI PROJECT

At last Sunday morning's assembly the most ambitious project ever undertaken in the Religious School was discussed by teachers and pupils. The pupils of the School Council, who outlined the project to the school, were Hilda Greenberg, Harriet Ross and Irving Esposito. This Keren Ami project, a project which was formulated in the Hebrew schools of Chicago and introduced to many religious school systems throughout the country, puts the collection and distribution of charitable funds entirely in the hands of the pupils of the school. By means of pledges, banners, posters, budgets and talks, they intend to stimulate collection of money for the fund. The main mottoes of Keren Ami, which means the Fund of My People, are: "All Jews are responsible for one another" and "All Jews Are Brothers." At the Keren Ami Council, consisting of delegates from each class, charitable funds, local, American, European and Palestinian, are discussed by means of talks and debates. They then vote on the percentage of their funds to go to each charity. The aim of this project is to make the children more conscious of their obligations to their fellow-Jews throughout the world.

FLORAL OFFERING

The flowers for the pulpit for this week are the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Steiner in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Best wishes and congratulations are extended to them and their family on so happy an occasion.

SCHOOL NOTES

About 30 students attended the first "Emanuelite" staff meeting to try out for positions on the staff, which will be picked by means of a competition for the various posts. Next week, on the basis of material handed in, appointments will be made.

A regular bi-weekly teachers' meeting held last Monday, Nov. 9th, centered about the subject, "Making History Real," presented by Mr. Jacob Prutman. The hostesses for the meeting were Miss Esther Goldsmith and Miss Julia Y. Berlin.

LECTURE AND CONCERT COURSE COMMITTEE FORMED

A committee to sponsor the lecture and concert course announced by the Jewish Community Center has been formed with Mrs. Joseph J. Seefer as chairman. Mrs. Seefer has long been known as one of the most enthusiastic workers for the Jewish Center. She has been President of the Y. W. H. A. for a number of years and has also served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Jewish Community Center. She is now the Secretary of the Board.

Mrs. Seefer will appoint a capable committee with the object of bringing this important educational activity to the attention of Providence Jewry. It is expected that in addition to the large Center membership many others will take advantage of this course.

The first meeting of the committee was held last Thursday evening with many prominent women in the city present. A complete report of the meeting will be given in the next issue of The Jewish Herald.

Felix Fox, noted pianist, is being seriously considered for a concert to be given at the Plantations Club Auditorium on March 6, but the committee also is negotiating with a Russian Balalaiki Orchestra of 13 persons from New York on the program.

OUR LEADERS

The Jewish Community Center is proud of its club leaders who devote their time to the leadership of clubs in the Center. In the future issues, we will present brief pictures of the persons who are at the head of these clubs. As the first one in the series, we will present Miss Ethel Levine, leader of the Kodimoh Club. Miss Levine attended the public schools of Providence and graduated from Pembroke with an A. B. degree. While there she specialized in mathematics and psychology, assisting in psychology in her Senior year.

As leader of the Kodimoh Girls, Miss Levine has demonstrated her ability as such. Unassuming, with charming personality, sympathy and an ever willing to desire to guide and advise, she has made an everlasting impression upon the Kodimoh Girls who look forward to her companionship from week to week. The Kodimoh Club and the Jewish Community Center are proud of her.

YOUNG MEN ORGANIZED

Last Sunday afternoon, the Jewish Young Men's Association was organized. This excellent enterprise, it is hoped, will bring within the fold of the Center a large number of young men in the city. Officers were elected as follows:

Nathan E. Pass, Temporary Chairman; Harry Seegal, Secretary; Samuel Glassman, Jack Gordon and Edward Kleiner, together with the officers will compose the temporary Executive and Constitution Committee. Robert Dress was appointed publicity chairman. The next meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22nd.

GIFT ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We take pleasure in acknowledging a gift from Mr. Archie Joslin of Rock Hill, South Carolina. Mr. Joslin sent to us a ping-pong table that is now used in the Senior Recreation Room. The table has been given in memory of his late father, Joseph Joslin.

We also gratefully acknowledge the contribution of two books, "Mid Channel" and "Israel" by Ludwig Lewisohn from Chi Beta Rho, formerly the Racketeer Club. These two excellent books were placed in the Jewish Center Library.

GIFTS WELCOME

May we take this occasion to remind our friends that gifts of books are always welcome at the Center. For the past year we have been trying to build up a Jewish library with books in English of Jewish interest. No matter what the occasion may be, a birthday, a bar-mitzvah, a wedding anniversary or any other joyous occasion, it will be most appropriate to remember the Jewish Center Library. Contributions of this type will be gratefully acknowledged in the columns of The Jewish Herald.

SOCIAL POPULAR

Large groups of young people continue to attend the Saturday evening socials, which are becoming more popular every year. Members are entitled to admission on presentation of membership cards, while non-members are asked to pay a nominal admission charge.

155 PUPILS REGISTER IN RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

One hundred and fifty-five is the registration figure at the Jewish Center Religious School, the largest since its organization. The increasing confidence that the parents show and the large number of fathers who take the trouble of bringing the children to the school is very gratifying. With the excellent curriculum offered every Sunday morning, there is no reason for any child in any section of the city to remain without the advantage of this school. Bring your boy or girl to the Center school next Sunday morning. At the assembly to be held this Sunday, Grade 6, with Mr. Edward Kleiner as teacher, will present the program.

JEWISH CENTER BOARD TO MEET

President Jules P. Goldstein called a meeting of the Jewish Center Board for Wednesday evening, Nov. 18th. At this meeting Executive Director Jacob I. Cohen will render a report of activities which will be made more interesting by a full description of the growth of the Center during the past five years. Other important matters will be discussed and members of the Board are requested to attend.

VON HOCHBERG AND HIS ORCHESTRA SCORING A BIG HIT AT CHIN LEE'S

One of the most successful introductions to make correct dancing more pleasant has been revealed by Murray Von Hochberg, one of the finest violinist and orchestra conductors in New England.

His origination of a new dance rhythm has appealed greatly to the public before which he and his orchestra have appeared. The hypnotic type of music which he plays greets one in such a manner that he just can't resist dancing.

Mr. Von Hochberg entered the halls of popularity when he led the successful Black and White Melody Boys, an aggregation of musical stars of which he was director, during their tour of the RKO vaudeville circuit. He was next heard while at the Tokio, a large after-the-show palace in New York. Then followed engagements at the Hotel Kenmore, Boston; Hotel Plaza, Havana, Cuba; Hotel Westminster, Boston, Weber Duck Inn and many other places too numerous to mention.

The people of Providence now have the opportunity to hear this orchestra and to dance to the lilting strains of an excellent dance orchestra, for they are now playing at the Chin Lee Restaurant, 197 Westminster street. The Chin Lee is the only modernistically designed Chinese restaurant in New England. Cozy booths, exquisite lighting effects, odd color scheming and enchanting music make it an ideal place to dine and dance.

The Chin Lee presents a snappy floor show, featuring three shows daily with a complete change of program every week. Luncheon is served daily from 11 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. and a special full course dinner from 5 to 8:30 p. m.

THE COMMUNITY FUND

On Monday, November 16, begins one of the most important drives which Providence shall see this year, a drive which shall determine how well and how far many of our best community activities may progress in the coming months. There are many reasons why this campaign for funds should be successful, but there are circumstances that must be understood by us when we give, in order that the success of the drive may be real.

Although local business conditions have begun to improve, world affairs have not yet taken on the gay and optimistic patterns of a brighter past, and these present problems in England and Manchuria, and in other places, have made people cautious and skeptical beyond necessity. Naturally, this attitude of mind must affect the collection of funds somewhat. We must therefore attempt to regain our confidence in the progress and welfare of the world, and our faith in the privilege which is ours to contribute to those worthwhile causes in the improvement of our community.

Last year's success ought to be an incentive to us this year. Then were collected $2,910 for the North End Dispensary, $14,718 for the Jewish Community, $24,440 for the Miriam Hospital, $22,299 for the Jewish Orphanage and $9,540 for the Jewish Welfare Society. All these organizations are vital and necessary in our everyday lives, and they should be encouraged and helped to the limit of our powers.

Some executives in charge of charitable drives this year have been urging men and women to give beyond their incomes. This is sometimes a very noble and splendid gesture to make. But it is hardly necessary in a city like ours. A saner suggestion would be for every man to give as much within his income as he can. If everyone should do that, there is little doubt but that our community program for the coming year would be progressive and unimpeded by the lack of funds.

At the same time none of us can afford to assume that we have no obligation beyond our mere power to contribute money. Each member of the Jewish Community must think and speak intelligently of this drive being made for Jewish enterprises. By knowing better the importance and significance of each of these organizations to which we give money, by that much more will we give as we ought, willingly, promptly and to the full extent of our resources. There is no Jewish man or woman in the city, then, who should not feel it a privilege as well as a duty to help swell this year's Community Fund.

MRS. IDA ZELDA FEINBERG

The sudden passing of Mrs. Ida Zelda Feinberg has caused widespread grief in our entire community. Here was a woman who was interested in every endeavor worthwhile. She was a friend of the needy as may be evidenced in her widespread activities of charity. Those who sought the enlightenment of education always felt the friendly hand of this real woman; numbers who experienced the despondency of long illness knew the solace and consolation of her kind words; those of the real needy remember the comforts of her aid and friendly visits.

The unlimited energy and profound unselfishness that was hers may be seen in the great number of organizations which claimed her as a leader. She was especially interested in higher Jewish education and to this end organized and was the President of the Providence Yeshiva Association, whose purpose is to further the study of the Talmud and to prepare those who are interested in the teachings of our religion. The Miriam Hospital claimed her as one of its best social workers and a worthy consultant.

Hardly a day passed without her hearing and answering the call of the unfortunate and needy. There are many untold instances of her fine deeds, which to her were acts of love. These she did anonymously and without thought of publicity. Despite these great responsibilities she was a loving mother to her family of boys and a faithful wife.

Her untimely death was the result of her unselfishness. Although her health during the past few months was not of the best, she disregarded the advice of her family to lessen her efforts. Active to the very last, she died as she lived—helping others.

Our real loss is great and each day will bring a greater realization of the worth and deeds of this woman.

Tidbits and News of Jewish Personalities

By DAVID SCHWARTZ

felt about them when Herzl first broached his project.

The Jewish Messenger and the Hebrew Standard were at that time the two leading Anglo-Jewish periodicals in New York.

The Jewish Messenger said: "Zionism is a dream of delusion. Judaism in America will have none of it."

The Hebrew Standard wrote: "There is a continual circus-wagon going the rounds. Some people never know when it is time to jump on. The latest is the proposed formation of a Jewish colony in Palestine, where our people can rule and govern themselves without being subjected to the tyranny and despotism of a powerful government. Ex-Register Levy, Rabbi Klein and others were the speakers for this movement and they insist imperatively that New York City must take the first step and that means, 'put up the cash.' Gentlemen, this is 'fol de rol: Look around you. Help your starving brethren at your own door.'"

Remember, both of these papers quoted were Jewish, not Arab papers. Against such opposition did the first Zionists battle. And Nordau came out in a statement against what he called "the gentle Rabbin of Germany and the United States who have been pooh-pooing our efforts."

Letters to Nordau

Wrote Nordau: "The anti-Semitic propaganda has turned people mad in Germany and Austria, and there seems to be no prospect of a change for the better. Although no one can accuse me certainly of being a parasite or a money-grabber, my mail is often weighed down with insulting anonymous letters from the other side of the Rhine. . . . how many Jews there are nowadays who think it necessary for their material welfare to deny their race and religion when in the presence of Gentiles. It is like a bull that covers himself with a horse's hide and thinks the fraud will not be discovered, forgetting all the while that the horns are protruding."

The Jewish Nose

"Figuratively speaking," continued Nordau, "the Jew is constantly holding his hand in front of his nose to hide its peculiar acuity, which peculiarity, by the way, he shares with the all-conquering Romans of old. Why be ashamed of our natural, and above all, national characteristics? No, let us develop them, on the contrary, form them in the right molds. . . . Israel will be herself again. This is the true essence of Zionism."

Hostility of General Press

But despite the Nordaus, there was little enough sympathy that the Zionists got—except from the small coterie of enthusiasts. If the Jewish press was largely hostile, the non-Jewish was more so. They didn't want the Jews among them, yet seemingly were not anxious to get them to emigrate to Palestine.

A non-Jewish paper in Nashville thus ridiculed Zionism: "The Jews are traders. They live largely by their wits, by the sharp bargains which they drive with others. Now, if instead of living off others they have to live off themselves, they are apt to have a pretty hard time of it. When Greek meets Greek, then comes the tug of war, and when Jew meets Jew in a trade, well, it is apt to be a regular Kilkenney cat-fight. In the art gallery at the Centennial there is a picture, called 'A Hot Bargain at Cairo.' It represents two old traders in Cairo, Egypt, bargaining for a horse. Evidently each had met its match. It is Skinfint against Close-fist, the irresistible body coming against the immovable. Something like this would be the case if the Jews all had to live off one another."

agogue. Rabbis David Bachrach, David Light and O. W. Werner and Mrs. Ephraim Rosen, President of the Ladies' Union Aid Association, delivered the eulogies at the Synagogue services. In telling of her fine deeds, the Rabbis broke down and with tear-stained faces, recounted her work and stained faces, recounted her work and sacrifices.

Mrs. Feinberg was President of the Providence Yeshiva Association, a charter member of the Hebrew Teachers' College of New England, Vice President of the Ladies' Hebrew Free Loan Association, a member of the Miriam Hospital Association, Providence Chapter, Hadassah Pioneer Women, a Director of the Jewish Community Center, a Director of the Family Welfare Association and of the Board of the Ladies' Union Aid Association, and a member of the Board of the Jewish Home for the Aged. She was a member of other local and national charitable organizations.

She was laid to rest at the Lincoln Park Cemetery.

The Ladies' Hebrew Free Loan Association will hold a memorial meeting on Tuesday afternoon at Zinn's Banquet Hall. Other organizations are making plans to hold similar meetings.

Four Memorial Tablets Are Erected at the R. I. Jewish Orphanage

Mr. C. Joseph Fox, for many years Vice President of the Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island, who has given special attention to the bronze tablets in the Memorial Room of the Home, has again served as a committee of one to erect four tablets provided for the present calendar year. They commemorate:

Gedale Bob, tablet erected by Mr. and Mrs. David Bob, of Brooklyn.

Shaindel Bomes, tablet erected by the Board of Directors of the Orphanage, because of the gift of repainting during the past summer of the exterior of the Orphanage by her son, Samuel Bomes.

Morris A. Teath, tablet erected by the Board in honor of a bequest left the Orphanage by Mr. Teath in his will.

Barnet Fain, tablet erected by the Board in his honor because of bequest left the Orphanage.

The number of memorial tablets perpetuating the name of the departed is increasing. There are about 175 of these now.

Mrs. Goldie Myerson, Noted Labor Leader, to Speak Here Sunday

Mrs. Goldie Myerson, prominent labor leader in Palestine and well known in this country for her work in the Zionist Socialist movement, will speak in this city on Sunday evening, Nov. 15, at Zinn's Banquet Hall. During her stay here she will be the guest of the Women Pioneer's Club.

Mrs. Myerson is one of the first chaltzoth to have settled in Palestine, having left the United States 10 years ago. She was an earnest worker from the first, having worked in the colony Merchavia, afterward becoming leader in the Histadruth (Organized Workers of Palestine). She then became a member of the Executive of the Council of Working Women and last year was General Secretary of the Jewish Labor Party in Palestine.

It will be recalled that Mrs. Myerson visited here three years ago to strengthen the Pioneer Women's Organization, and her wisdom and pleasing character left a lasting impression.

On Sunday she will have a message of importance to all who are interested in the upbuilding of Palestine because much has happened in the past three years and more is planned for the future.

The Pioneer Women's Club will appreciate the attendance of the Jewish people of Providence, and especially urges the attendance of all organizations having the welfare of Palestine at heart.

For one year he served as assistant to his brother, Rabbi Samuel Cohon, then minister of Temple Mizpah, Chicago, and now a member of the faculty of the Hebrew Union College.

For three years he served as Rabbi of Temple B'er Chayam, Cumberland, Md., and for two years he served as Rabbi of Temple Beth-El in Pensacola, Florida.

Members and their parties of friends will be greeted by Miss Greenstein in true hostess fashion.

According to advance reservations, an unusual large attendance is anticipated, and it is, therefore, urgently requested that all those planning to be present be at the club rooms at promptly 6:30 p. m.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Samdperil, was gowned in antique egg-shell satin with a rosepoint veil of the same delicate shade cap shape and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses with a shower of lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor was Miss Gertrude Samdperil, niece of the bride, and she wore a gown of pink crepe trimmed with ermine and carried a bouquet of tea roses.

The groom was attended by David Weisman of New York as best man and ten ushers, who were Edward Bomes, cousin of the groom; Milton Weisman, Samuel Bomes, Joseph Cushing, Al Cushing, Matthew Samdperil, Moe Fink, David Dressler, Samuel Weisman and Jack Glantz.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of black lace, and the groom's mother was gowned in black chiffon. Mrs. George Samdperil wore a model of blue sequins. All wore corsages of roses.

About two hundred and fifty guests attended from New York, Brooklyn, Haverhill, Chelsea, Philadelphia, Boston and this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Bomes left on a wedding trip to Atlantic City and upon their return will make their home in this city.

To show its appreciation of the continued patronage of the Jewish people of Providence, the RKO Albee Theatre will present immediately at the end of its last performance on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 18 and 19, the German talking production, "The Girl From the Reeperbahn." This is in addition to the regular program of these two days which features Jean Harlow in "The Platinum Blonde."

"The Girl From the Reeperbahn" was the first German talking and singing picture to get a Broadway run, appearing for four weeks in the Central Theatre, New York, on a two-a-day policy. Subsequently it ran at the Apollo Theatre in Chicago under Shubert management and is now being presented in the best legitimate theatres throughout the United States.

This German production contains three outstanding musical numbers which have already found their way over the radio and on the records. The musical numbers work themselves naturally into the story as they are introduced in the famed St. Pauli Cafe of Hamburg, where a portion of the action takes place. The Reeperbahn district of Hamburg, a rendezvous for romance-loving sailors and maidens, provides the locale for the dashing musical sequence of the play.

"The Girl From the Reeperbahn" introduces to American audiences two of the biggest German stars of motion pictures, including Trude Berliner, who has all of the beauty and sex appeal of the typical American stars and besides sings and dances with distinction. Olga Tschekowa, one of the outstanding dramatic actresses of Germany, and Hans Von Schletow, in the role of the lighthouse keeper who longs for the gay life of the big city, enact the leading dramatic roles.

The story is by Benno Vigny, author of "Morocco."

Mr. and Mrs. Max Siegal Entertain on 25th Wedding Anniversary

A most attractive dinner-dance was held at the Narragansett Hotel on Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Max Siegal of Upton avenue entertained over one hundred friends, relatives and members of the family in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Siegal, who will celebrate his 25th business anniversary next year, made the address of welcome. The guests drank a toast to the future health and happiness of the couple.

Speakers included Nat C. Cohen, toastmaster; James Siegal, a son, and Benjamin Ruttenberg, son-in-law. Other members of the family present included two daughters, Mrs. Benjamin Ruttenberg and Miss Edith Siegal. Two sisters of Mrs. Siegal's, Mrs. Bertha Berman and Mrs. Harry Pepper, motored from Daytona Beach, Fla., to attend. Isador Horenstein read a beautiful letter on his life-long friendship with the honored guests. Mrs. Siegal was gowned in white crepe trimmed with silver cloth. Mrs. Ruttenberg wore a gown of black chiffon velvet and Miss Siegal wore a model of flesh-colored lace. Mrs. Berman was gowned in brown brocade velvet and Mrs. Pepper wore blue beaded chiffon. Beach lace was worn by Mrs. Siegal's mother, Mrs. Louis Berman.

Directly behind and over the heads of the couple at the head table erected in the form of a horseshoe had been arranged the numerals 1906-25-1931 in electric lights. The dinner table was attractively decorated with silver and cut flowers. Prayer was offered by Rabbi Samuel M. Gup.

MEN'S CLUB SERVICE

The Men's Club Sabbath Service will be observed on Friday, Nov. 13. The President, Mr. A. Henry Klein, and Vice President, Mr. Arthur Basok, will occupy seats on the pulpit together with Mr. Charles C. Brown and Mr. Adolf Meller, President and Vice President, respectively, of the congregation. Several officials of the club will participate in the reading of the Sabbath ritual and others will act as ushers.

The sermon topic by Rabbi Samuel M. Gup will be "Chasing the Rainbow."

JUNIOR TEMPLE SOCIETY

The Junior Temple Society was organized on Sunday evening for the coming season. The program consisted of a complimentary supper given through the courtesy of the Sisterhood followed by brief addresses by Rabbi Gup, Mrs. Maurice L. Fox, Mrs. Theresa Wachenheimer and Mr. Frank Golemba. Those present included the young men and women who have been confirmed within the last three years at the Temple and a number of out-of-town students attending Brown University.

Following the program, a general discussion was held as to the character the organization should take and the principles by which it should govern itself. It was decided that this would be exclusively a Temple organization, limiting its membership to the post-Confirmants and to out-of-town students attending the higher institutions of learning. In purpose, it should be both serious and social; a part of each program will be devoted to an intellectually Jewish consideration as well as to the promotion of social fellowship. The club is exceedingly fortunate in having as its patrons, Mr. Frank Golemba and Miss Dorothy Wolfe, who will attend all meetings and take a leading part in its guidance.

The next meeting will take place on Sunday evening, Nov. 22, at 6:30. The young women will bring a basket lunch.

Mr. Amos Landman of Brooklyn, N. Y., will deliver a report on "Current Jewish Issues" and Mr. H. Goldman, a member of the Shakespearian cast at Brown, will give a reading. Among the business to be transacted will be the election of officers.

SISTERHOOD SEWING GROUP

The Sisterhood Sewing Circle will meet in the Vestry on Monday morning at 10 o'clock for its first "sewing bee." Children's garments will be made for the Jewish Family Welfare Society. Any one who is interested will be welcome at any hour as the sewing will continue throughout the day. Those who intend to remain over the noon hour are asked to bring their lunches. Hot drinks will be served at midday.

MUSICAL REVUE

The musical revue, which is planned for Jan. 9 at the Plantations Club, is well under way. The cast will comprise more than forty young Jewish men and women, many of whom are college students. This promises to be one of the most elaborate entertainments ever staged by the Temple.

Miss Elsie Barlow, a professional teacher of dancing, is allowing the use of her studio for the purpose. The orchestra is being coached by Mrs. Herman Rubin and Mrs. Jack Davis is the producer.

LECTURES

More than 100 members of the Sisterhood attended the opening lecture given by Rabbi Gup on last Monday in the Vestry on the subject, "Some Interesting Jewish Scoundrels." The interest and enthusiasm evoked were widespread, and this second annual series of lectures bids fair to excel the very popular series given last year. The next lecture will be held on Monday, Dec. 7, on the subject, "The Talmud."

BOOK OF THE MONTH CLUB

The next meeting of the Book of the Month Club will be held at the home of Rabbi and Mrs. Samuel M. Gup, 265 President avenue, on Sunday evening, Nov. 15.

This is the third successive year of this club's activities. Meetings are held bi-monthly. The program consists of a review and discussion of some outstanding work of literature.

SABBATH SCHOOL NOTES

Under the coaching of Mr. Lester M. Selonek, the children of the Sabbath School are preparing for their Chanukah program, the excellent play, "The Unlighted Menorah," by Elma E. Levinger. Other features of the program will include the lighting of the Chanukah lights and the singing of the Chanukah song, "Rock of Ages." As is customary, the Sisterhood will furnish the gifts to the children.

At the beginning of each month an attendance banner is awarded to the class which has had the least number of absences in the previous month. The fourth class, with Jack L. Anhalt as teacher was accorded this award last Sunday morning because of its exceptionally high average of 96.4-10 per cent.

LIBRARY

In lieu of flowers for the occasions of joy or sorrow, authorize the Temple to purchase a book for the library. The proper persons will be notified of the thoughtfulness and well-directed generosity. Telephone Temple office, Pl. 8140.

REGIONAL CONFERENCE

A permanent Regional Conference, representing the Reform Congregations in the eight northeastern states, was instituted in New York City on Monday as part of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. Its purpose is to enable the various congregations to intensify their program and work.

Among the many fine passages delivered by prominent Jews to five hundred representatives assembled, none were more pointed and significant than the words of Mr. Adolf S. Ochs, owner of the New York Times: "I Believe That a Man Is a Jew When He is a Member of a Congregation. If You Want to be a Jew, You Have to Associate and Affiliate With Fellow Members."

Present at this meeting were Mr. Charles C. Brown and Mrs. Milton M. Fuld, delegates of the Congregation and Sisterhood, respectively. The former was elected to the office of Vice Chairman. The following officials of the Congregations were elected to the Board of Managers: Adolf Meller, Mrs. Caesar Misch, Max L. Grant, C. Joseph Fox, and Mrs. J. George Nathanson.

SABBATH SCHOOL

Following are special excerpts from the annual report of Mr. Albert A. Cohn, Chairman of the Sabbath School Committee:

"The Sabbath School Committee has been particularly painstaking this year in its effort to secure the best teachers possible. We were enabled to add to our staff, two regular trained high school teachers, Miss Ethel M. Fish and Mr. Leo Weiss, Miss Sylvia Mann of Columbia University and formerly assistant director of the Jewish Community Center of Hartford and Miss Sarah Baker, graduate of Emerson School of Oratory.

"Of 265 children enrolled in the school about 100 are children of parents who are not members of our Temple. We believe that the children, whose parents are unable to become members of the congregation, should not be penalized for this unfortunate condition wherever it exists. We hold, however, that those families which are able to join should do so. In this respect, the Temple is fulfilling one of its noblest missions and actualizing the spirit of religion in relation to the community.

"The sum of $347 was donated last year by the children of the school for charitable purposes. Of this amount $235 was disbursed to approved charities within and without the state. It is our intention to pledge again this year the sum of $150 to the Providence Community Chest and to assist all other worthy causes within the ability of the Sabbath School Charity Fund."

Only TRUTHFUL TIRE ADVERTISING WINS!

WHEN we advertised the fact that Firestone was furnishing us complete lines of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires that not only met the price but beat the quality and construction of every grade of special brand tires sold by mail order houses and others, the mail order houses made vigorous protests to Better Business Bureaus and made demands upon newspapers not to accept Firestone or our advertising.

We cannot blame them for they did not want car owners to know that they could get, at no more cost, a better tire made by a leading manufacturer, bearing his name and guarantee plus our guarantee and our service.

When car owners awakened to this fact, they came to us, compared the sections we had cut from Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires, and were astounded! at the Extra Values we were giving.

As a result, our business and that of other Firestone Dealers throughout the country, increased so fast that it has been necessary for Firestone to run their factories twenty-four hours a day and Firestone sold more tires in April, May and June than in any like period in the history of the company.

In our advertising we do not make comparisons involving laboratory tests which you cannot verify except in a laboratory—neither do we make comparisons of construction or price based on misleading classifications such as first line tire, second line tire or third line tire—we do not make comparisons to confuse and mislead you as to actual values and service—we only make statements and comparisons that you can verify for yourself in our store before you purchase the tire.

Come in today and get the greater safety, extra quality and extra values found only in Firestone Tires.

*When the National Better Business Bureau realized that their Bulletin No. 634 was being taken advantage of by some advertisers they issued a Bulletin dated July 10th as follows:

"In our Bulletin No. 634 entitled 'Definitions of Terms Used in the Tire Industry' we published definitions of First Line—Second Line—Third Line—Heavy Duty and Super Heavy Duty Tires.

"Our definitions pointed out, 'Although each manufacturer's or distributor's first line tire may represent his best standard size 4 or 6 ply tire, there is not necessarily any equality of competitive first line tires as to materials, workmanship or price.' This interpretation also applies to all lines of tires.

"We therefore recommend that advertising to the consumer shall avoid the use of these terms for the purpose of comparing competitive products."

*A "Special Brand" Tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as Mail Order houses, oil companies and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he builds his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on every tire he makes.

Double Guarantee—Every tire manufactured by Firestone bears the name Firestone and carries Firestone's unlimited guarantee and ours. You are doubly protected.

NEWS WRITTEN FOR THE JEWISH HERALD BY GEORGE JOEL

TAPS FOR RUBY GOLDSTEIN

The newspaper account read: "Jay Macedon, a 145-pound protege from South Orange, stopped Ruby Goldstein in the seventh round of a bruising battle at Laurel Garden's, Newark, last night. Macedon weathered a typical Ruby Goldstein first round to go on and win. In the sixth round Ruby was down for a seven-count from a poke in the belly, and a gloved message to the chin in the next round ended the fight. Macedon lost a fight in Elizabeth recently." It was more than just an account of a prize fight. It was the terse story of the passing of Ruby Goldstein from the ring. The erstwhile Jewel of the Ghetto was just another fighter who had everything yet was never fated to be a great fighter. No fighter in the history of the ring has been possessed with his ring talents and made so little headway.

Ruby Goldstein emerged from the obscurity of New York's East Side seven years ago. A thin, dark-skinned boy, with his clear brown eyes, nobody seeing him would have suspected that he knew anything about boxing except that gloves were used. In the ring he was a different spectacle. He had the form of a finished fighter the first day he pulled a pair of leather gloves on. He had speed, brains, a punch. Experienced ring men said that he was the greatest beginner of the century. His career began. Knockout followed knockout with almost monotonous regularity. In a short time he became a tremendous drawing power and was as popular as Benny Leonard. Then he was matched to fight Ace Hudkins. That was the beginning of the end.

There was no question but that Ruby was too young to have been sent against the hardened Nebraska Wildcat. His heart might have been broken when he was draped over the second strand of rope in the fourth round of their memorable battle at Coney Island, but subsequent engagements proved he lacked the spark of the true warrior.

The case of Al Singer is even more strange, for he is the only boxer with memory who refused to fight in defense of a world championship. The Bronx boy, in a pique over the way he was being handled, passed the lightweight leadership to Tony Canzoneri virtually without striking a blow. Singer had stood up in important spots, something Goldstein never succeeded in doing. Some fighters are seized by stage fright when given a big assignment. The most recent example of this was Solly Krieger hanging on until the referee hoisted Vince Dundee's hand at the Garden. Yi Yi Erne, Philadelphia lightweight of the Young Corbett era, choked up in a like fashion.

Many remarkable fencers simply are not constructed to withstand punishment. Bob McAllister, and more recently Armand Emanuel, both from the Olympic Club of San Francisco, which turned out James J. Corbett, were so handicapped.

Tom Cowler screened his faults from his mentor, Jim Corbett, for some time, but could not conceal a glass jaw when placed on the firing line. Hugo Kelly was an exceptionally good boxer with a China chin.

The career of Young Otto perhaps comes closer to paralleling Goldstein's than that of any other old-timer. He rated with the hardest hitting lightweights of all time, and boxed so well that Joe Gans engaged him as a sparring partner on tours. Yet Otto would fold in competition if he could not belt out the other fellow in a hurry.

Al Reich, the Adonis, was a wonder in a gymnasium, but scarcely could hold up his hands in actual combat. Tom Kirby of Boston is a current counterpart.

Ring history is replete with fistic failures, who appeared to have plenty on the ball, but few showed as much promise as Ruby Goldstein.

time in January, 1932. Of course the winners in New York will constitute the American team for the Jewish Olympic games at Tel Aviv in March, 1932. Everybody living in the vicinity of Boston should try and get into the Boston Arena on the 18th for two reasons. They will see some fine boxing and in addition, the money they pay as admission, will go towards defraying the transportation expenses of the Jewish athletes to the Olympics.

The Boston boys will also send a strong track team down to the New York meet. Among those who will perform are Dave Kopans, Harvard's star tackle, who will throw the shot; Louis Feldman, Crimson track performer, and Morris Kritzman, William and Mary Javeline hurler.

FOOTBALL SURPRISES

What that Jewish boy Rotenberg of Oregon State did to the New York University line recently was a crime! N. Y. U., the overwhelming favorite, was knocked out of the running by the Far West team, 14-6.

Jack Grossman, Rutgers' backfield ace, suffered a slight concussion of the brain playing for his Alma Mater. Fortunately he recovered. What irony—Jack is the last fellow in the world anxious to "Die for Dear Old Rutgers," but like all true sportsmen, when he does play, he plays as hard as he can.

Fishel, Syracuse fullback, about whom I wrote some weeks ago and told you to watch, has been burning up the gridiron this season. The Syracuse team has yet to lose a game and if they can get by Colgate, they will certainly finish with a clean slate. Nobody gave them a chance this year.

BROWN MEETS COLUMBIA HERE SATURDAY, NOV. 14

Bob Chase, from Tarrytown, N. Y., will continue at the fullback post for the third successive game on Saturday when Columbia meets the Bruins at the Brown Stadium.

Chase is the only Bruin back who has started every one of Brown's seven games this autumn. He has been a consistent ground-gainer, has done the bulk of the punting, has frequently thrown passes and has blocked and tackled effectively. Although weighing only 161 pounds, the Tarrytown Junior has shown no signs of wear and tear. After playing five games at halfback, he gave a good account of himself at fullback against Holy Cross and remained at that position in the Ohio Wesleyan game.

There is a possibility that Bill Gilbane also a halfback, will be at fullback against the Lions if he recovers from a two-weeks-old ailment. Gilbane started at full back in the Lehigh game and hit the line for substantial gains time and again. But he lasted only about a minute at Holy Cross, and was laid up at home all last week. Chase is the back that Coach "Tuss" McLaughry can fall back on in any emergency.

Of the 19 Bruins who faced Columbia last fall, eight are members of the 1931 squad. They are Jack Ferrebee, Pottsville, Pa., an end last year and now a tackle; Captain Paul Mackesey, Lynn, Mass., outstanding Brown lineman, being tackle on defense and guard on offense; Joseph G. "Tom" Sawyer, New Rochelle, N. Y., three-sports star, who has attained his right end position; Bucky Harris, Mansfield, Mass., starting quarterback against the Lions a year ago; Bill Gilbane, Andy Rotelli and Ed Gilmartin Providence trio, and Chase, also a back.

RHODE ISLAND AUDITORIUM

Matchmaker Sam Price of the Rhode Island Auditorium is anxiously awaiting definite word from Dan Carroll, manager of Sammy Fuller, that the hard-hitting Boston Italian will be able to meet Eddie Holmes, Fox Point junior welterweight, in the main bout of next Monday night's boxing show at the North Main Street Arena.

Eddie Mack, matchmaker for the Argonne A. C. in Boston, signed Fuller some time ago to meet Andy Callahan, New England lightweight champion at the Boston Arena on next Monday, Nov. 16th. The agreement was that both boys were to weigh in at the lightweight limit of 135 pounds. Since signing to meet Fuller, Callahan has agreed to meet Lou Brouillard, newly crowned welterweight champion, in a non-title bout at the Boston Garden on Nov. 17th. Now, Johnny Buckley, Callahan's manager, wants to either cancel the engagement with Fuller entirely or have Callahan weigh in at 140 pounds, five pounds over the lightweight limit so as not to risk his title. This, Fuller strenuously objects to for he is very confident of his ability to beat Callahan and take the championship.

The Massachusetts State Boxing Commission is to consider the question and will announce its decision shortly. If the bout is cancelled, Fuller will meet Holmes at the local Auditorium next Monday night as tentatively planned.

This match will be more than welcome to Holmes who has been spoiling for a chance to trade punches with some of the topnotchers in his division but has been consistently avoided by their managers.
