Arabs Sidetrack England's Demand

Admit Inability to Control Tenor

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency) — Three Arab leaders told Sir Arthur Wauchope, High Commissioner, that they were unable to influence the Arabs who are conducting a renewed campaign of terror, and that they cannot therefore have it stopped.

The three prominent Arabs were Haj Amin el Husseini, Mufti of Jerusalem; Ragheb Bey Nashashibi, former Mayor of Jerusalem, and Oouni Bey Abdul Hadi, leader of the Independence Party. The high commissioner met with the Arab dignitaries to demand an end to the terrorism now sweeping the country.

Jewish government officials at Safed, in Northern Palestine, have received threats from the "society for the Murder of Jews" which has signed letters demanding their resignation, it was learned.

Armed Arabs who attempted to break into the cashier's office at the Ras el Ain railroad station were repulsed by police after an exchange of shots. A bus of the Egged cooperative travelling from Haifa to Tel Aviv was shot at by an Arab band near Jenin in a daylight attack.

MOES CHITIM FUND CAMPAIGN BEGINS

The South Providence Moes Chitim Fund Committee is again starting a campaign to provide Passover requirements for the needy Jews of Providence.

The campaign, run yearly just before Passover holidays, was able last year with the generous support given it, to care for all the needy families in the South Providence area. Citing the need greater this year than ever before, Chairman Harry Tanenbaum urged Providence Jewry to respond in greater proportion this year.

Assisting Chairman Tanenbaum are Rabbi Joshua Werner, treasurer, and Israel Kaufman, secretary. If you are not solicited by a member of the committee, send your contributions to Rabbi J. Werner, 345 Blackstone street.

Prov. Fraternal Has Special Installation

A regular meeting of the Providence Fraternal Association was held last Tuesday evening at their headquarters, at which time past president Harry A. Bloomberg installed past president Alfred Finkelstein as a member of the Board, and Barney M. Kessler as recording secretary. Plans for the 10th Anniversary celebration, which is to be held in the near future at the Stork Club, were outlined by various members of the board.

A dramatic sketch "Madame X" was presented by Miss Florence Shapiro. A collation and social hour followed.

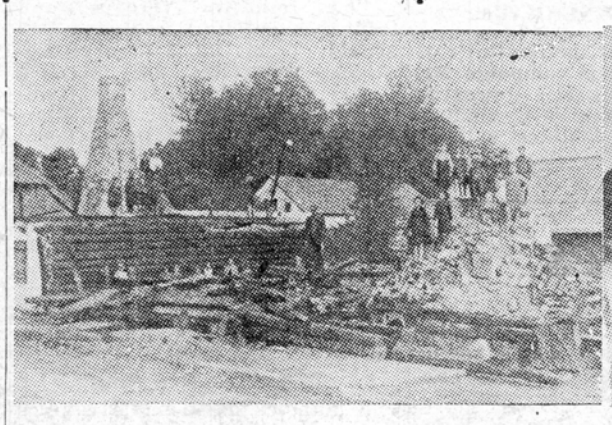

Former Pawt. Rabbi to Address Sisterhood

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Sisterhood of the Pawtucket Ahavath Sholom Synagogue held recently, plans were made for "Gentlemen's Night" to be held on February 15 in the vestry of the Synagogue. Rabbi Isaiah Rakovsky of Worcester, formerly head of the Pawtucket congregation, will be the evening's guest speaker. A musical program will follow, and refreshments will be served.

It has been announced that the Sisterhood donated $5 to the Red Cross for flood victims.

Jews in Distress

Burnt down homes are rebuilt and a hosiery shop set up for Polish Jews by the J.D.C. following anti-semitic excesses in Truskolasy.

Foreign Protests To Poland Futile

Will Not Be Intimidated, Says Premier

Warsaw (WNS)—Replying to the American Jewish Congress' emergency conference on the situation of Polish Jewry, Premier Felicjan Slawoj-Skaldkowski told the Polish Senate that Poland cannot be intimidated by foreign protests from Jewish organizations.

Speaking during another debate on the Jewish question, the Premier reiterated his previous promise to suppress anti-Jewish disorders but echoed the sentiments of other speakers that Poland must regulate the Jewish problem.

During the debate many senators again emphasized that the Jewish question in Poland can be solved only through emigration.

Speaking at the close of the debate, Premier Skladkowski reaffirmed his government's determination not to permit itself to be coerced by foreign protests.

Figures just made public here reveal that Jewish emigration from Poland in 1935 and 1936 totalled 64,000, 30,000 in 1935 and 34,000 in 1936. The majority of the emigrants went to Palestine.

JDC Sets Quota of $4,650,000 for 1937

Pittsburgh (WNS)—The 1937 campaign of the Joint Distribution committee will seek to raise in the United States and Canada the sum of $4,650,000 for aid to Jews overseas, an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the 1936 goal of $3,500,000, it was announced at a meeting of the Plan and Scope Committee.

Of the sum sought for 1937 the JDC allotted $2,150,000 for work in Poland, Roumania and other East European countries, $1,300,000 for work in Germany and $850,000 for aid in the refugee countries.

Felix M. Warburg was named chairman of the campaign.

Mr. Coons reported to the meeting that 1,100 cities and towns in the United States and Canada had contributed a gross total of $2,801,000 to the J. D. C. campaign in 1936. The resolution adopted by the meeting emphasized that the committee " has given anxious thought to the increasingly desperate situation of many sections of the Jewish population in Eastern and Central Europe."

TO HONOR MEMORY OF FIRST MEMBER

The Men's Club of Temple Beth Israel will honor the memory of one of its, charter members Boris N. Nelson, when they will conduct their annual Art Exhibit Monday evening, February 22. Mr. Nelson was the first chairman of this function under the auspices of the Men's Club and contributed much to its success.

The program will be in charge of Dr. Carl Jagolinzer and will consist of an address on art and Jewish Contributions to art by Irving Cannon of the faculty of the R. I. School of Design and a series of exhibits by local artists of note. A musical program in keeping with the occasion will also be presented.

Is His Face Red?

Mayor Learns Police Buy German

New York (WNS) Is Mayor La Guardia's face red? A militant champion of the anti-Nazi boycott and a member of the board of directors of the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, the Mayor learned to his embarrassment that the Police Department has purchased ten new motorcycles equipped with generators made in Germany.

This disclosure, which violates a municipal regulation forbidding the purchase of foreign-made goods, was made in affidavits filed in the Supreme Court by the Indian Motorcycle Company against the city and Commissioner of Purchase Russell Forbes charging them with buying a rival machine, the Harley-Davidson, which contains Bosch (German) magnetos.

BOYCOTT FORCES RETURN OF FURS

Three Dealers Agree to Union Terms

New York (WNS)—The anti-Nazi boycott movement won a major victory when three Jewish fur dealers who had purchased $250,000 worth of South African Persian Lambskins at the Leipzig fur auction last month agreed to return the furs, to contribute $15,000 for the relief of German Jewish refugees and to refrain from any further purchases in Germany.

This agreement was reached after a board of arbitration comprising representatives of the Joint Boycott Council, the Fur Workers' Union and the fur manufacturers had conferred with Natt Weinstock, Art E. Weiss and N. Sobel, the three dealers.

The dealers had been faced with blacklisting by the union. Only half of the skins are now in this country and they will be returned. Mass picketing in front of their offices and the threat of strikes in all shops handling the skins bought in Germany decided the dealers to capitulate.

OXFORD FASCISTS

London (WNS)—Fascism has made its first bow in the precincts of Oxford University. A branch of Sir Oswald Mosley's blackshirts has been organized there and already has 70 members.

SCHEME TO GET LOAN FOR REICH

Washington, D. C., (WNS)—A quiet but well-organized plan to get the United States Government to approve a plan for saving Germany from bankruptcy by permitting American bankers to participate in floating a German loan is being pushed here. The recent visit to Washington of Sir Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, was the first step in this scheme.

Sir Walter is understood to have discussed the matter with President Roosevelt. British diplomatic circles are bringing pressure to bear on the State Department and members of Congress are being sounded out with regard to a modification of the Johnson Act, which forbids loans to nations in default on their obligations to the United States, to permit a German loan. The British argument is that only a loan to Germany can prevent a war in the near future.

Meanwhile it is learned that the Federal Export-Import Bank is trying to find some way of underwriting the sale of American raw materials to Germany.

Famous Playwright At Center Sunday

ELMER RICE

"The old theater system is finished."

That, in brief, is the view of Elmer Rice, famous playwright, author and producer, who will speak at the Jewish Community Center Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock on the subject, "The Future of the Theatre."

Once a lawyer, Mr. Rice soon gave up the preparation of briefs and turned to dramatic writing. Since then, Mr. Rice has produced plays with an ever-increasing success. His first, "On Trial," was done at the age of 21, and was the turning point of his career.

Since that memorable occasion many of his plays have been produced the most famous of which is "Street Scene," for which Mr. Rice was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for the best American drama of the year (1929).

While Mr. Rice believes that the commercial theatre is dead and cannot become a cultural force throughout the country, he thinks the outlook is pretty bad, according to a statement made in a recent interview.

Masada Study Group Meets Friday Nights

The Massada Study Group which meets with Rabbi Schussheim for consideration of present day Jewish life and thought will henceforth meet at Temple Beth Israel Friday evenings when the discussions will be conducted by the Rabbi immediately after divine service.

The change of date from the Sunday afternoon hour was made for the greater convenience of those attending and to afford greater opportunity for additional participants to join this group. The subject to be discussed this Friday night is "How Modern Times Have Affected Jewish Life."

Men's Club to Hear Norman Thomas

Norman Thomas, presidential candidate of the Socialist Party will address members of the Temple Beth-El Men's Club and their guests on Tuesday evening, February 23.

Sarah Baker as "Craig's Wife" Stars in Prize Play

The Barker Playhouse was filled with a capacity audience last Monday evening, when the Repertory Players, now in their fourth season, presented George Kelley's three-act play, "Craig's Wife." Calling for great understanding of their parts, the dramatic group capably portrayed the Pulitzer Prize winner.

Sarah Baker's polished performance as Harriet Craig, the nagging and disagreeable wife, whose only love was her house, and whose only passion, her furniture, left little to be desired. James Krasnoff handled with clearness the part of the husband, who gradually awakes to the fact that his wife is slowly but definitely separating him from his business and social acquaintances, and that his personality has become lost in her selfishness. The climax of the play is reached when she is left completely forsaken in the house she held above all.

Selma Slavitt, as Mrs. Craig's niece, gave an admirable portrayal of the college girl, too worried about her ill mother, (Mrs. Craig's sister) to know if she really loved her college professor, played by Leo R. LaPorte. Evelyn Siegal was excellent as Craig's aunt, who although she had promised his mother to always live with him and guide him, found it impossible to remain under the same roof with the shrew, Craig's wife had become.

Molly Wiener and Jenny Halprin gave creditable characterizations of the house servants, who knew too well the faults of their mistress. Honorable mention also goes to Florence Blacher, Leo Sonkin, Meyer Tenenbaum and Archie Smith in the roles they portrayed. —E. J.

ROTHSCHILD KIN COMMITS SUICIDE

New York (WNS) — Brooding because she had been unable to get her daughter out of Germany. Mrs. Elizabeth Weinman, 71-year old German-Jewish refugee, committed suicide by taking gas in her Greenwich Village apartment.

A resident of the United States since 1933, Mrs. Weinman had made numerous but vain efforts to prevail upon the Nazi authorities to permit her daughter to leave Germany. The Nazis had no desire to keep the girl herself but they wouldn't let her emigate unless she paid 25 per cent of the value of a trust fund to which she is heiress and an additional 15 per cent as an inheritance tax.

Mrs. Weinman had been living on the interest of the trust fund. The Weinmans are distant kinsmen of the Rothschilds and had lived in Frankfort-am-Main for centuries. Mrs. Weinman's son, Frederick, is associated with the New York Staats Zeitung.

Palestine Has Radio in Case of Sabotage

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—In order to insure communication throughout the country should an outbreak of violence hamper telephone service, the Palestine government is installing radio transmitters at strategic points, it was learned. A manifesto by a Haifa Arab labor Union affiliated with the Jewish Confederation of Labor denounced the renewed campaign of terror in the countryside, stating that such riots merely ruined the economic well-being of the Arab themselves. As a case in point, the manifesto mentioned the example of the town of Jaffa, which has lost much of its business as a seaport to the neighboring all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv since the outbreak of riots last year.

O R T to Run 1937 Drive Separately From J D C

New York (WNS)—The American Ort Federation will not cooperate in fund-raising activities with the Joint Distribution Committee during 1937 but will conduct its own campaign, it was announced here by B. C. Vladeck, president of the Federation. Last year Ort and JDC ran a joint campaign. Mr. Vladeck said that the World Ort Union will try to raise $750,000 in a world-wide campaign this year, with a quota of $375,000 assigned to the United States.

Hear Hebrew Planned For Arab Schools

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency) — Al Liwa, Arabic daily, reported that the Palestine Government is planning the introduction of Hebrew as a subject in Arab schools. It is also reported here that beginning on April 1st, the Palestine Government plans the institution of stringent control of traffic from Transjordan into Palestine. The institution of this system was one of the demands made by the Jewish Agency during the recent hearings of the Royal Commission.

Charity used to begin at home, but these days there's nobody at home to begin anything.

At the Theatres

"The Holy Terror"

A rollicking whirlwind of mischief and excitement, the irrepressible Jane Withers romps merrily through the laugh-provoking situations of "The Holy Terror," the Twentieth Century-Fox comedy hit which opens today at the Majestic Theatre.

In this latest and gayest funfest of her career, involving her in hilarious doings with the Navy, the young madcap is ably supported by Anthony Martin, Leah Ray, Joan Davis, El Brendel and Joe Lewis.

When "Ginger" Jane joins the fleet and proceeds to baffle the Admirals, while making herself solid with the midshipmen, the normal course of events gets thrown for a riotous loss as the impish hoyden sings her way into trouble, and then dances her way right out again.

A great vaudeville show and several shorts complete the bill.

"Black Legion"

Taking a news-subject that is hot in the minds of the paper-reading public, and transforming it into a motion picture that everyone wants to see, seems to be a Warner Bros, specialty.

They've done it again with "Black Legion," a melodrama based upon the pernicious activities of the secret order of that name which operated in Michigan, and some of whose leaders recently were sentenced to life imprisonment for murder.

"Black Legion" has been booked by the Majestic Theatre, and will have its first local showing today.

Humphrey Bogart, who has the leading role, plays the part of a young automobile mechanic, a decent enough fellow, who gets into the clutches of the grafting and hatred-breeding secret society, and who goes altogether to the bad through his mistaken loyalty to the order and its commanders.

"Wings of Morning" is the second feature on the program.

"You Only Live Once"

As a result of hundreds of fan letters received by the studio, Sylvia Sydney and Henry Fonda, the screen sweethearts of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," will be seen together again in "You Only Live Once," the new Walter Wanger production which begins Friday at the R.K.O. Albee Theatre.

"You Only Live Once," Wanger's first production for release through United Artists, is the starkly human drama of a woman whose boundless faith in the man she loved made her stick to him though the hand of every man was against him and he was hounded to the ends of the earth like a hunted animal.

Barton MacLane, Jean Dixon, William Gargan and the late Charles "Chic" Sale are featured in the stars' support, while other important roles are played by Warren Hymer, Margaret Hamilton, Guinn Williams, Jerome Cowan and John Wray.

Noah Beery, Jr., in "The Mighty Treve" is the second feature.

ARABS CONFESS JEWISH MURDER

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The police have announced that two Arabs had confessed to the murder on February 1st of Mendel Mintz, 31-year old Jewish colonist and brother of Meyer Mintz, director of the United Palestine Appeal of Newark, N. J. Mintz was a member of the colony of Kfar Avihail in the valley of Hefer on the coast of Palestine and was slain from ambush as he was driving the colony's truck on the Jaffa-Haifa highway.

In confessing to the police, the Arabs also revealed where they had hidden the rifles after shooting and killing Mintz. Mintz, who came to Palestine recently from South America, lost his wife soon after their arrival when she succumbed to an illness. He left behind a 5-year old child.

In making the announcement of the new orchestra, Mr. Toscanini and Samuel Chotzinoff, music critic of the New York Post and brother-in-law of Jascha Heifetz, who acted as intermediary for David Sarnoff, president of the R. DENATURALIZATION OF JEWS ILLEGAL

Gov't. Continues Examination of Papers

Bucharest (WNS) — The legislative council, Roumania's highest legal instance and the equivalent of the United States Supreme Court, has declared illegal the law enacted in December which orders the annullment of the citizenship of hundreds of thousands of Jews in the provinces of Bukowina, Bessarabia and Transylvania whose papers are not in proper order.

The council ruled that this law not only violates the Roumanian constitution but is contrary to the Versailles Treaty by which all residents of the three provinces were granted Roumanian citizenship, if they wished it, when the provinces were annexed to Roumania.

Persons who acquired citizenship irregularly may be denaturalized, the council stated, but as the law now stands it is entirely unconstitutional.

Despite this unequivocal ruling the government is continuing its sweeping examination of the papers of all residents in the three provinces.

Nazi Envoy Again Gives Hitler Salute Before King

London (WNS) — Ignoring the rumpus created by his unprecendented action in giving the Nazi salute at Buckingham Palace when he presentd his credentials to King George VI, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi ambassador, repeated his gesture at the King's first levee in St. James' Palace. Other officials of the German embassy merely bowed. The King took no notice of Ribbentrop's salute but diplomatic and political circles were in furor over it.

The wife of another Jew who was whipped has suffered a nervous breakdown and is seriously ill.

OUSTED JEWS TO BE RESETTLED

ARREST BERNSTEIN, SHIPPING MAGNATE

Although a Jew Was Friendly With Nazis

Berlin (WNS) — Elimination of one of the few remaining important Jewish industrialists in the Reich is believed to be the real reason for the sudden arrest of Arnold Bernstein, president of the Red Star and Arnold Bernstein Shipping Lines, whose ships fly the swastika.

Bernstein, who is being held incommunicado by the secret police, is charged with currency irregularities, an offense for which the maximum punishment is death. He is also the head of the Palestine Shipping Company whose vessels ply to Palestine. Although it is no secret that he is a Jew, Bernstein has enjoyed good relations with Nazi authorities.

Drawing the Line

Although the prime instigators of anti-Semitism in Great Britain are Sir Oswald Mosley's Fascist Blackshirts and other Fascist groups, Jewish leadership in England is reported to be at odds over the advisability of fighting both Fascism and anti-Semitism. The Board of Deputies of British Jews at its last meeting rebuked the Jewish People's Council of England because the latter organization is warring on both anti-Semitism and fascism.

Now it is true that Fascism does not invariably mean anti-Semitism; but in England it is obvious that the advocates of Fascism are also responsible for the sudden outburst of anti-Semitism.

How, under these circumstances, a line can be drawn between Fascism and anti-Semitism is inexplicable. It would seem that the traditional conservatism of the Board of Deputies has in this instance gotten the better of its judgement.

Speculation

We wonder how Herr Hitler is feeling these days. If we were he—God forbid—we'd feel insulted. First a British police court decides that it constitutes a grave offense against his dignity when an actor appears on the stage with a Hitler mustache under his nose and his hand raised high in the Nazi salute.

Then, only a day or two later, a Dutch court decides that there is no cause for punishing an editor who published a cartoon suggesting that Fuehrer Adolf may at one time or another have resorted to the expedient of a political blood-purge.

And, worse yet, in both London and Amsterdam the offenders found a wide public to greet act and cartoon with hilarity.

On second thought, though, we know how Herr Hitler is feeling: He's highly elated.

Why? Well, hasn't a British police court punished an actor who dared attempt to imitate his august personality?

And hasn't a Dutch court recognized that the caption of the cartoon in question—which represented Hitler as saying, at the Gustloff funeral, that "we fine and honorable Nazis never yet murdered a political opponent," while the foreground showed the graves of Ernst Roehm et al.—far from constituting an insult to the Reichs-fuehrer, merely served to emphasize the nobility of the Nazi movement.

Social and Personal

One of the brilliant events of the past week was the annual Valentine dinner dance of the Providence Section, National Council of Jewish Woman, which was held last Wednesday evening in the ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel.

Proceeds from this function are to be used for the free, non-sectarian milk stations sponsored by the council. Mrs. Edward Deutsch was general dance chairman.

At a double wedding, held recently at the Mayfair Inn, Miss Rose Shapiro was married to Abraham Shore, and Miss Helen Shore became the wife of Louis Flint. Mr. and Mrs. Shore are now residents of Brookline, Mass., while Mr. and Mrs. Flint have made their home in this city.

Concert Artist

MORIZ ROSENTHAL

Moriz Rosenthal, seventy-three year old pianist, often said to be "still unsurpassed amongst pianists," will appear at the Metropolitan Theatre on the evening of February 19, in a joint recital with Sigrid Onegin, contralto.

Since his first appearance in America, back in 1888, Mr. Rosenthal has been called "the little giant with the big titles," for the press have continued to shower such adjectives as Wizard, Titan, and Imperator upon him. Now, on his return to America, after an absence of five years, the eminent pianist has proved that he is still deserving of them.

Rosenthal's career has been a brilliant succession of artistic triumphs and public honors. In his youth he knew and won the admiration of the great nine-

Through the Eyes OF ARCHIE SMITH

PICK YOUR RELATIONS

There are three ways of arriving at an opinion. One is to believe what someone else tells you. Another is to disbelieve everything anyone else tells you. The third, and the one least often practiced, is to find out the facts . . . . Having insisted, contrary to a friend, that the No. End Dispensary is still operating, we made a quick visit to the place to prove the point. There we found a "full house" awaiting the services of the doctors. Mrs. Milton Fuld, president, Mrs. Saul Rothchild, registrar, and Jay Fishbein were in conclave discussing policy . . . .

This institution, founded by the Jewish women of Providence more than a quarter of a century ago when there was no Jewish Hospital to care for the needs of the Jewish population which at that time was centered around the Orms Street location, has always catered to a large clientele without regard to race or religion. Today, although this has become one of the lesser centers of Jewish population, the institution is still carrying on its work. We were surprised to learn that the number of patients treated at this free clinic had increased in the past year over the year before, and that the proportion of Jewish patients had risen sharply.

We engaged one of the non-Jewish patients in a casual conversation. Said he: "These women are sure doing fine things for us . . . . I hope that they won't close the place now that there aren't so many Jews around here . . . ." Sermons may be preached and speeches may be listened to, but where can one duplicate such tangible expression of the building of good will . . . .

ETERNAL ROAD

On the main stem goes George Gerber hobnobing arm in arm with the State's Attorney General . . . . 'Squire Joe Smith seemingly playing "ring-around-a-rosey" in the revolving doors of our office building . . . . "Baby" Austin visiting the courts on vacation from Law School . . . . Ed Cohen back from Florida and with him the best suntan of the season . . . . Kiddy-kidder Stanley Freedman confesses to his first trip back stage . . . . Mrs. Cowan and Mrs. Meyer Tennenbaum will soon be on their Mediterranean cruise and the eternal road from Egypt to Palestine . . . .

Benjamin Zemach, whom you probably remember as one of the Center's recent attractions created the dances for "The Eternal Road" . . . . His wife, Eleibe Lynn, rose from understudy to one of the leads as the Alien Girl of the extravaganza.

RARE AVIS PUERISQUE

Tall and lithe Frieda Feldman celebrates her birthday surrounded by friends . . . . To Herman Marks who'll soon end his internship goes the high rating for general knowledge. Ethel Levene acting quite kittenish . . . . Frieda and Ben Selzer enjoying themselves . . . . Pierre Van Paasen's lecture was attended by a few others besides the Miller-Bogin tribe . . . . Molly Coken thinks we know all the dirt but won't tell . . . . Jessie Josolowitz's usual efficiency completely overshadowed by the expert: Marshall Marcus . . . . But then he tells us he's that efficient only one evening a week . . . . Since Leslie Krasner went to Miami beach with his father, I wonder how Eddie is making out?

The Henry Weiners and the Harry Charrens with the after theatre crowds. Vincent Taber, Murry Abrams smiling across tables . . . . Al Gurwitz discussing the drama with Sidney Long. The Paul Summerfields, passing no comment . . . . Frieda Baxt smiling widely . . . . "Zedakah" is the cable address of the Hilfsverein der Juden in Germany. . . . . Habonim publish "Haboneh," a new Anglo-Zionist monthly . . . . Critics of the Yiddish Press gave the prize for the outstanding Yiddish picture produced in 1936 to "Yiddle With His Fiddle" in which Molly Picon had the lead. There was no other full sized Yiddish picture produced during the year . . . .

THE MEDICINE BALL

Among those who groan regularly to Stanley Corb's Center Calisthenics we've noted Herman and Billy Abrams, Saul Faber, who's always on the winning side, Manuel Haber, Joe Herr, who delights in showing up Lou Siegal, Morris Horovitz, Syd Levenson, Bud Lewis, Leo Rosen, Harry Chorney who's specialty is the punching bag, Morris Summers, Ben Agronick, Bert Bernhardt, active Harry Moskol, and reliable Morris Pritsker. If its basketball, we want to be on Danny Jacobs' side,—he just lifts the ball into the basket . . . .

THE FEATHER BALL

We like the verse of the German Culture Society:

Das Hitler hat keine frau
Der Bauer hat keine Sau
Der Fleischer hat kein Fleisch;
Das ist das Dritte Reich.

Zionist Campaign Quota Set at $4,500,000

SEEK DOLLAR FROM EACH JEW IN U. S.

1,500 Delegates At Conference

Washington, D. C. (WNS)—With the slogan "a dollar for every Jew in America" the National Conference for Palestine broughts its two-day meeting to a close by unanimously approving a quota of $4,500,000 as American Jewry's 1937 share in the financing of Palestine reconstruction, and adopting a resolution calling on the British government to do nothing to endanger Jewish rights in Palestine.

More than 1,500 delegates, representing 2,000,000 Jews of every shade of opinion and including Orthodox, Reform and Conservative elements as well as Zionists and non-Zionists, attended the Conference, which was convened by the United Palestine Appeal in association with 40 national Jewish organizations.

Highlights of the conference were a message from President Roosevelt acclaiming the "vitality and vision of the Jewish pioneers in Palestine."

Beth-Israel Will Formally Observe Lincoln's Birthday

Temple Beth Israel will formally observe the holiday of Lincoln's Birthday with a special service this (Friday) evening at 8:15 o'clock, dedicated to the honor of his memory and to bring out the relationship between his ideals and Judaism. In the spirit of the occasion an address will be delivered by the Rev. Arthur E. Wilson, of the Round Top Church, who will speak on "Democracy and Religion."

Religion has been severely attacked by both kinds of dictatorial governments in recent years and it should be of great interest to trace the relationship that may exist between religion and our own form of society, namely, democracy.

Of particular interest should a talk of this sort be to the youth of today, who are groping toward a proper orientation of their life both as Jews and as Americans.

Rev. Wilson is eminently fitted to handle this subject with proper understanding of all its implications. He is one of the outstanding liberal ministers of our community who in addition is possessed of a most sympathetic understanding of their peculiar and individual problems of the Jews.

Temple Speaker

REV. ARTHUR WILSON

Rabbi Schussheim will conduct the service assisted by Cantor Joseph Schlossberg with the help of the Temple Choir.

B'NAI B'RITH WILL ENTERTAIN SONS

First Father, Son Gathering on Monday

Roger Williams Lodge, B'nai Brith will hold its first "Father and Sons Night" at Zinn's this Monday night.

The event will begin at 6.30 with a full course dinner and will be followed by an hour of games for the boys with valuable prizes to the winners. A one hour vaudeville revue, and boxing and wrestling matches will close the evening's entertainment.

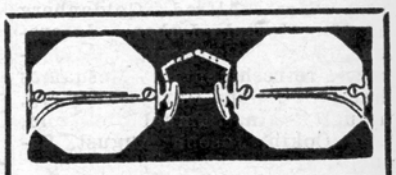

For those men who have no sons of their own, it has been suggested that they "treat" some less fortunate boy. Dr. Joseph Smith has a list of these boys who would be happy to be the guest of the evening of some adult. He can be reached at Gaspee 7740. The event is open to all B'nai Brith members as well as any others who would like to come and bring a boy.

The committee in charge is headed by Sydney Hanzel, assisted by Dave Meyers, Matthew Robinson, Archie Smith, Dr. Sol Rubenstein, Henry Shatkin, John Silverman, Meyer Tenenbaum, Samuel Soforenko, Jacob Robinson, Morris Cooper, Max Rosenhirsch, Isadore Kirshenbaum, Ben Feinstein, Joseph M. Galician Jews Form Body to Aid Landsman

New York (WNS) — Creation of the United Galician Jews of America for the Relief of Jews in Galicia as a permanent national organization was decided upon by several hundred delegates from 250 Galician landsmanschaften and other organizations who met in conference here. Saul Lav was elected president.

The conference authorized the organization's executive to cooperate with all existing Jewish relief agencies but made it clear that it would engage in no political activity of its own but work through existing national Jewish bodies.

Nazis Deny Dealings With "Trotsky Jews"

Berlin (WNS) — Testimony by the Trotskyists on trial in Moscow that they allegedly conspired with Nazi Germany against the Soviet Union can't be true if for no other reason than the fact that Trotsky and nine of the defendants are Jews, spokesmen for the German government declared in unofficial comment. The official Nazi party organ, Voelkische Beobachter, emphasized that "even Moscow does not believe Germany would have anything to do with Trotsky Jews."

Radio Speaker

DR. CYRUS ADLER

New York — Dr. Cyrus Adler, president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, will be heard on a nation-wide broadcast on Wednesday evening at 10:30 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time) over Station WABC and the allied stations of Columbia Broadcasting System. Fat Lady Wants to Annul Marriage to Midget, a Jew

New York (WNS) — Mildred Monti, 480-pound circus fat lady, is asking Referee James O'Gorman to annul her marriage to Jackie Glicken, 48-pound midget, on the ground that what she thought was a publicity stunt turned out to be a bona fide marriage by a rabbi.

Mrs. Glicken is a Catholic and claims that she went through the ceremony on the stage of a theatre on the assumption that the wedding was only a joke and because she believed the man who performed the ceremony was a rabbi's son. She has now learned that she is legally married although she hasn't lived with Glicken since the ceremony in December, 1934.

Masada Group to Hold Dance Tomorrow Night

Arthur O. Hoffman is chairman of the annual J. N. F. dance, which will be held by The Masada Students' League of Providence at the Jewish Community Centre on Benefit street Saturday night. The proceeds will go to the Jewish National Fund.

SCHOCHTIM WIN GENERAL STRIKE

New York (WNS)—A city-wide two-day general strike by Schochtim Union 370 won for its 360 members a renewal for another year of the agreement that has been in force since 1935 when it was worked out by the late Judge Otto Rosalsky.

A threatened famine of kosher meat and poultry brought the kosher wholesale market men to book.

The agreement, which is now renewed for another year, provides a minimum weekly wage of $45 for schochtim in the smaller markets and half a cent per pound slaughtered in the larger markets together with recognition of the union.

9 Million Pigs Killed By Jews, Claim Nazis

Berlin (WNS)—The 9,000,000 pigs killed in Germany in 1915 was the fault of the Jews, according to a new book called "The Pig Murder" by the Nazi minister of agriculture, Walther Darre. Describing the killing as a "St. Bartholomew's massacre of the pigs," Darre said it was all part of the Jew's plot to impair Germany's resistance to the Allied blockade.

Berliners Face Eviction From Homes on April 1

Berlin (WNS)—Hundreds of Jewish families living in rented houses or apartments face the probability of having no roof over their heads after April 1 when leases expire here. Nazi landlords and house-owners are refusing to renew leases held by Jews and also decline to rent them new quarters.

Efforts of Jewish organizations to get Jewish landlords to rent to Jews are meeting with little success because the properties owned by Jews are at minimum.

WRECK OFFICES . . . GET JAIL TERMS

Revisionists Enraged When Denied Visas

Warsaw (WNS)—Forty members of Vladimir Jabotinsky's Revisionist followers are under arrest here following a Revisionist raid on the office of the Palestine immigration Bureau in the course of which much property damage was done and several employes of the Bureau injured.

Enraged because Revisionists do not receive immigration visas to Palestine, 100 Revisionists armed with axes, blackjacks and knuckle-dusters forced their way into the Bureau's office and went on a rampage. They smashed furniture and typewriters, ripped open files, destroyed important documents and made off with a number of passports.

Moscow (WNS) — Scores of Russians who adopted the name of Trotzky after the Russian Revolution in honor of Leon Trotzky, now in exile, are now swamping the civil registry office with demands to free them of the name which is now a handicap. The Moscow papers carry many announcements by persons formerly known as Trotzky who now want it understood that they are to be called by other patronymics.

Mohelim Union Demands Open Door to Hospital

New York (WNS)—The Union of Mohelim of Greater New York and vicinity launched a campaign for an "open door" to all hospitals for all circumcisers certified by Jewish religious authorities at a meeting of the Union. Various practitioners of the ancient Jewish rite discussed the plight of mohelim because of the refusal of many hospitals to admit them.

The mohelim are fighting for the right of parents to select their own mohel even in hospitals where one or two mohels have been given a virtual monopoly by hospital officials. The mohelim also object to the growing practice of physicians performing the circumcision rite.

UNIQUE PRECEDENT IS SET BY COURT

Refers Custom Case to Conciliation Court

New York (WNS)—The United States District Court for the Southern District of New York set a unique precedent when it referred the Jewish Conciliation Court of America a case involving Jewish customs.

The case which came up before Judge John W. Clancy, involves the claim of the Rev. Julian Shapo against the Fordam Talmud Torah in the Bronx.

Rev. Shapo, who is not an ordained rabbi, claims that he was engaged by the Talmud Torah in October 1935 to be its rabbi teacher and that he invested $3,000 in the institution.

Less than a year later he was discharged when the Talmud Torah went into bankruptcy with a loss of all but $250 of his investment.

The Jewish Conciliation Court, with three Jews and one Christian sitting as judges, withheld judgment for a fortnight.

Galician Jewry Leader Held For Deportation

New York (WNS)—Dr. Meyer Geier, Zionist leader, and Joel Spiegel, journalist, two of the leading spokesmen of Galician Jewry, who came here to win aid for their people, are being held on Ellis Island by the immigration authorities pending a final decision on their appeal from an order for their deportation.

The two Galician Jews were ordered deported because they are said not to have sufficient funds to guarantee that they will not become public charges during their stay in the United States. The HIAS is seeking to obtain their admission.

Nations Best Dressed Men Are Nominated

To Nullify Fictitious Palestine Marriages

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The Supreme Court of Palestine has handed down a ruling which is designed to discourage fictitious marriages for the purpose of facilitating the immigration of women into the country.

The decision of the Court, creating a precedent, rules invalid previous rabbinate procedure. It enables the authorities to refuse recognition to such marriages and exposes the married parties to deportation.

HADASSAH WILL OBSERVE FOUNDING

Exercises to Be Staged on February 25

Providence Chapter of Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, will observe on February 25, in the Biltmore Hotel, the 25th anniversary of the founding of the national organization. This month, the Chapter has departed from its scheduled meeting day, thereby enabling the local members to assemble on the anniversary date, and participate in a nation-wide program of festivities celebrating the event.

The anniversary date coincides with the holiday Purim, which commemorates the deliverance of the Jews of Persia in 482 B. C., when Queen Esther intervened with King Ahasuerus in behalf of the condemned Jewish people. The Hebrew Queen Esther was called "Hadassah" ,which the American organization adopted as its name, with the motto "the healing of my people"

For 25 years Hadassah has been engaged in developing and promoting medical and public health work in Palestine, the systematizing and scientific methods of which, are based on best American standards, of their respective fields.

On the anniversary evening, February 25th, a coast-to-coast broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company networks will be dedicated to marking the Silver Jubilee.

Further details of local plans, in this connection, will be forth coming shortly.

Frau Lessing has been

Tippler Finds Rocking Bath Tub To Be Ship

Wouldn't Wish Experiences on His Worst Enemy

The moral of this story is: Don't take a nip when saying "bon voyage" to friends who are sailing to Europe, or it might end in a nap from which you'll wake up a "stowaway" and a "globe trotter".

Providing the latest twist to the Man-Without-a-Country theme when he imbibed too freely at a bon voyage party November 25, Louis Zaminsky, 44, a clothing worker, was ferried to France, thence to his native Poland, back to France, and then back again to New York. For close to ten weeks it looked as though no country wanted Mr. Zaminsky. And last Wednesday Mr. Zaminsky began to think so, too, when a board of inquiry at Ellis Island ordered him excluded from the country.

ONLY HAD 8 OR 9 DRINKS

"I wouldn't wish my worst enemy such an experience", said Mr. Zaminsky, a cheerful stocky man, with black hair that rises in curly terraces. Some moralists would blame all of his difficulties with immigration officials on both sides of the Atlantic on those "eight or nine" drinks he had at the bon voyage party aboard the Normandie. The victim himself thinks the drinks provided the most immediate reason, but points to a day in 1913 when the trouble really started. That was the year he left Warsaw to come to this country.

RECORD FINALLY FOUND

"When I landed on Ellis Island," said he, "they called me Chominsky, Johnisky, Jimmyiski—everything. I, myself, called me Louis Zaminsky". "But," he continued, "Jerensky, Janninsky, Skatiski—they couldn't find me when they looked in the books at Ellis Island." Finally, he explained, the record of his entry in 1913 was found last Friday, and he was permitted to enter the country subject to further inquiry by the Department of Labor.

Now, he is able to smile in recalling that day on the Normandie. He had gone, he said, to see a committee of six depart for a conference in Palestine. His presence there was official, he said, because he represented the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union. "I had eight or nine, maybe ten, drinks," he said. "Some were sweet and some strong, and I had an empty stomach. Pretty quick I felt sick and I went in a bathroom. I don't remember nothing until I wake up. I was sitting in a bathtub. The room was rocking, rocking." (He flipped a plump hand in all directions to indicate how the room was rocking.) "I said to myself:—'How do I come here?' "

SHIVERS LIKE A FISH

"Then I go outside and I began to remember I was on a boat. I was shivering like a fish. I found the committee and they said:—'By God, there's Looie. By God, so-and-so and so-and-so. Well, it's happened, so what?' The committee sat down and started thinking what should be done. I said nothing. I felt bad. By and by they called the commissar. He took it all right. He said it would cost $104. The committee paid, and I've got to pay them."

When this was being written, Louis, rather hardened to it all, was busy telling the whole story over again to immigration authorities at Ellis Island. He thinks, too, that he'll swear off "bon voyage" parties from now on and send the voyagers his good wishes by mail instead.

Jewish Hospital Workers Begin Sit-Down Strike

New York (WNS)—Taking a cue from the embattled automobile workers, 97 service and maintenance employes of the Israel Zion Hospital, Brooklyn, have embarked on a sit-down strike to enforce their demand for a minimum of $15 a month for workers who live outside the hospital.

The strike is not directed against patients who are still being served and fed by the strikers, but doctors and executive employes are being forced to eat outside. Pickets are parading in front of the hospital.

Boris Fingerhood, hospital superintendent, refuses to deal with the strikers, who are members of Local 171 of the Hospital Employes Union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

"Stand up and Be Counted," Says Paassen

UNANIMOUS ACTION IS ONLY SALVATION

Zionist Group Must Be Strengthened

By Pierre Van Paassen

There is a current of grave disquietude running through Jewish life in America at the present moment. And this not without reason. Vaguely, intuitively we all feel that the next few years will witness events of world-historical importance. I believe that humanity has arrived at a highly critical juncture and that we stand before decisions which will in a large measure determine "the shape of things to come"

Will Affect Palestine

From the vast changes that stand before the door—Mussolini calls them "the next division of the world's markets"—Palestine will not be excepted. Something is brewing in the Near East that bodes no good to Eretz Israel. Whether the British will seek to limit Jewish endeavor in the Holy Land by a stoppage or a curtailment of immigration, the report of the Royal Commission of Inquiry will show us—if we wait till then.

Jews Should Be Heard

It seems to me, however, that American Israel should not wait till the fait accompli stares us in the face. We, the friends of Eretz Israel, whether we look upon the Holy Land as the embryo of a future Jewish commonwealth, or as a spiritual center, or merely as a home of refuge for the hard-pressed and down-trodden Jews of Central and Eastern Europe, should mobilize today in a united front.

Action Will Impress

United and unanimous action will not only impress England and stay the cold Tory hand that would throttle the life out of Palestine, but concerted action is now within the range of possibility.

It is not betraying any secret when I say that Dr. Stephen S. Wise has the ear of our government and that he is on the friendliest terms with President Roosevelt. Mr. Borah is a staunch friend of Palestine. We have a number of champions in Washington.

Opportune Moment

At this moment when Great Britain is again angling for American friendship, a friendship in which all the advantages would be on Britain's side, we should be able to make American amity conditioned upon a just treatment of the Palestine problem by England. For that reason it is necessary in the first place that the hands of the leaders of the Zionist Organization be strengthened. "Let every Jew in America stand up and be counted," is the insistent counsel of Mr. Justice Brandeis.

We of the Pro-Palestine Federation, the Christian Zionists, will from our side make it possible that our leader, Charles Edward Russell, shall speak with authority in the name of tens of thousands when he joins with Dr. Wise in demanding justice for Palestine.

Orphanage Superintend't Speaks At Association

Maurice Stollerman, superintendent of the Jewish Orphanage, spoke before members of the R. I. Workingmen's Beneficial Association last night at Eagle's Auditorium. His topic was "Child Guidance." Abraham Swerling, head of the organization, presided.

Ladies' Auxiliary Holds 12th Annual Banquet

Ladies' Auxiliary of the Yelisovetgrad Progressive Society held their 12th annual banquet last Sunday night at Zinn's Banquet Hall. The president, Mrs. Louis Gurnick, was presented with a candelabra. Flowers were received from the Brotherhood.

Mrs. Isadore Lazarus, chairman of arrangements, was assisted by the Mesdames Charles Adelberg, Samuel Palow, Benjamin Mandell, Louis Gurnick, Louis Trostonoff, Harry Goodman, B. Cohen, and G. Honigblum, toastmaster.

Getting a New Chance at Life

In sections of Europe where trade schools and agricultural training centers are sustained by the Joint Distribution Committee, Jewish youths and adults are learning every type of occupation.

Pictured here are scenes (1) from the training center at Neuendorf, Germany, where a group of young men and women are shown gaining practical experience in dairy farming; (2) an entire family in Poland, father, son and grandfather, learning how to operate a knitting machine; and (3) Roumanian Jewish youths learning the machinists' trade in a trade school sustained by the J. D. C. in Bucharest.

Must Teach Reasons for Kashruth, Says Rabbi

"We must gather in our fold the younger generation and teach them the reasons for not eating trefa food", said Rabbi David Bachrach, chief rabbi of all Orthodox congregations, in commenting on the Waad Hakashruth Kosher food campaign.

"Through the countless generations," he went on to say, "there has been one outstanding law in the Jewish religion, that of differentiating between Kosher and trefa food. The law said, 'We, the children of our Lord, shall not be unclean in our spirit; we shall not sink low, and eat dirt'. This is the law of every living creature, and is an essential difference between the clean and the unclean. between the living thing that may be eaten, and the living thing that should not be eaten.

"In the past, mothers and fathers who were brought up in real Jewish atmosphere, were steeped in the words of the Torah, and did not seek the reason for eating Kosher food. It was natural to them

"Jewish travelers would eat dry bread and water, rather than eat trefa food. Jewish soldiers would rather submit to solitary confinement than eat from the 'Kessel'.

"Our problem today," said Rabbi Bachrach, "has changed. With our rights being denied in Europe during the past one hundred years, the Jewish people were forced to migrate to other countries. In this way, circumstances changed their mode of living. Unwillingly they had to submit to these forces, and eat trefe food. In a similar manner, our younger generation has traveleld unknowingly in a similar path.

"In order to emphasize the importance of eating Kosher food, we must gather in our fold the younger generations, and teach them the reason of its importance."

SYNAGOGUE HONOR TO OLDEST MEMBER

At the annual meetng of the Sons of Zion Synagogue held last Sunday in the vestry of the Synagogue, which was attended by orthodox leaders, J. Jersky, one of the oldest members of the congregation and organizer of the Talmud Torah was honored.

MANY SEEK CROWN OF QUEEN ESTHER

Center Purim Ball on February 24

Preparation for the sixth annual Queen Esther Purim dance to be held at the Arcadia Ballroom, Wednesday evening, February 24 are being completed by the Jewish Center Council.

Among the earlier entrants for the honor of being Queen Esther are the following Ruth Scheck, Jean Bazarsky, Libby Mushnick, and Ruth Bernstein. Additional entrants will be accepted by phoning the Center, Dexter 6730 or by submitting the names to any member of the committee.

Several well known orchestras are being interviewed with the thought of getting the best music available. The Arcadia Ballroom has been thoroughly renovated and it is really worthwhile seeing "the new Arcadia Ballroom."

From the neighboring city of Fall River comes word that there will be a large group on hand from that city. Various other communities in Massachusetts are also being circularized with the thought of making this annual Purim dance not only a Providence affair but for the entire southern New England.

Is It Worthwhile To Keep a Kosher Home?

This is a serious question which many Jewish women, especially those just going into housekeeping for themselves, must consider. It is easy to make a hasty decision, but the matter deserves real thought and consideration — even by women who have been keeping house for many years.

What Is Worthwhile?

Does the flicker of the Sabbath candles bring to you a sense of peace and security? Does the home-cooked food, prepared as "Mother used to make it," give you a feeling of satisfaction? Does your observance of Jewish laws make you feel that you "belong"?

Don't Become a Stranger to Your Own People!

Kashruth is a bond between you and the past; it is a security for your present; it is a promise for your future. A Kosher home means a Jewish home. You are Jewish — BE Jewish, buy Kosher.

Isn't This Worthwhile?
