CHESED SH'L EMES ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Chesed Shel Emes Association of Providence, was held last Sunday afternoon in the vestry of the Orms Street Synagogue. Reports were submitted by the treasurer, financial secretary and recording secretary.

Election of officers took place, and by unanimous vote Israel Halpern was elected president, Harry Tanenbaum, treasurer, Benjamin Mandell, recording secretary, and Barnet Rosen, financial secretary. A sidelight to the election was the spirited fight on the choice of the vice presidency. Israel Kaufman displacing Henry Kopit. Improved cemetery conditions, added charitable donations, as well as acquired land, were the high-lights of the reports offered.

Mistaken for Jew, Dies of Arab Bullet

Jerusalem — Stanislaw Sluga, Christian Pole, who was shot on March 5 in a Jewish grove at Ness Ziona by a 17-year-old Arab who mistook him for a Jew, died of his wounds at the Hadassah Hospital in Tel Aviv. The valiant struggle made by Sluga for six days was aided by various Jewish doctors and three blood transfusions provided by numerous Jewish volunteers. The funeral was held from the Hadassah hospital, the cortege being escoted to Jaffa by a Jewish procession. From there the body was taken by car to the Catholic cemetery. Sluga, who was 46 years old, was enrolled as a member of the Histadruth, General Jewish Federation of Labor.

AXES BREAK STRIKE

New York (WNS) — Waving guns and wielding axes and clubs, 30 policemen broke a sit-down strike of 200 employes of the Jewish Hospital in Brooklyn by crashing through a barricade of steel lockers and filing cabinets set up in the basement. Nineteen of the employes were arrested and warrants for 25 others were

MOB OF CHILDREN FOMENT POGROM

Warsaw (WNS)—A pogrom in which several hundred school children played a leading part is reported from the town of Sokolov. Taking advantage of the fact that minors cannot be arrested, the anti-Semites rounded up the youngsters and led them into the Jewish quarters where they smashed windows in Jewish homes, wrecked the Hebrew school, desecrated the synagogue and damaged the office of the Jewish community.

Renewed anti-Jewish disturbances have flared in the Universities of Vilna and Lemberg, the focal points of nationalist rioting for the last few months.

The strike of Jewish students at Vilna University against ghetto classes is still on despite an offer by the rector to permit Christian students friendly to Jews to sit with them provided the Jews accepted the ghetto seating arrangement. The Jewish students have rejected this offer.

NAZIS SEEK TO SET LAWS FOR WORLD

Attempt to Mete Out "Justice" Seen

BERLIN — A move to impose German sovereignty upon other countries was seen today in the new Nazi law empowering the Reich to take reprisals against foreign residents in Germany for measures taken against German citizens or property abroad.

Interior Minister Wilhelm Frick was accorded sweeping authority of highly elastic nature under the law. Observers regarded the measure as a more or less direct attempt to force German law upon countries which might have reason to fear the threatening retaliation.

These same circles were inclined to view the move also as permitting the Reich to mete out international "justice" without recourse of the Hague World Court or other accepted mediums.

The inclusion of the phrase "or against their property" in the reprisal law was interpreted in some quarters as proof that the edict may be aimed against the expropriatory measures taken in Poland against German nationals.

In any event, the law was expected to raise international difficulties when brought into play, inasmuch as its enforcement would impose German sovereignty upon the country affected, or result in a substantial loss for foreigners in the Reich.

Losers Sought Rabbi in Vain in Four Countries

New York (WNS)—The story of a vain search for a rabbi in Port Funchal, Azores, Gibraltar, Algiers and Naples by a Jewish couple who wanted to get married while on a world cruise was told by Mrs. Vernon Stone, the former Sylvia Rosenbloch of Philadelphia.

She and her fiance were aboard the S. S. Roma and tried to get the captain to marry them but he refused. They then looked for a rabbi at all ports of call but in vain. Finally they left the Roma at Port Said and went to Cairo where they found a rabbi. Mrs. Stone returned home alone, her husband having gone to the Orient with another ship as ship's doctor.

Beth-Israel to Celebrate Its Fifteenth Anniversary

Temple Beth Israel, which has just completed fifteen years of service to the community since their organization, will celebrate the event with a banquet on Sunday evening, April 4th, at the Temple at which time Dr. Elias Solomon of New York will be guest speaker. Dr. Solomon has been a frequent visitor in Providence, and in particular to Temple Beth Israel.

Temple Beth Israel is the first Conservative synagogue organized in Rhode Island to meet the needs of a modern synagogue, which, at the same time, is loyal to traditions of the past. Its first president was Benjamin N. Kane and the first chairman of the Board, Leo Grossman. Its present president is Jacob Licht.

The present Rabbi of the Temple is Morris Schussheim, who came here in November, 1922 and left for Palestine in 1929. He returned in 1933 and since then has been spiritual leader of the Temple. The Temple maintains a Religious School and a Hebrew School, club activities for young people and has in addition a Sisterhood and Men's Club. Chairmen for the Anniversary Committee are Robert L. Bernstein, general chairman; Dr. Ilie Berger, banquet chairman; Joshua Bell, religious service chairman; and Albert Weiner, finance chairman.

Thousands Brand Hitler Menace to Civilization

RABBI STEPHEN WISE

New York (WNS)—A ringing call to the American people and the rest of the civilized world to stem Nazism's threat to democracy and to world peace by uniting in "the isolation of Nazism" through the economic boycott and prevention of further financial credits to the Nazis went out from Madison Square Garden where 20,000 people who packed Madison Square Garden to the rooftop at a huge anti-Nazi demonstration under the auspices of the American Jewish Congress and the Jewish Labor Committee cheered wildly as John L. Lewis, General Hugh Johnson, Dr. Frank Bohn, Dr. Stephen S. Wise and others joined in branding Hitler and Nazism as twin menaces to civilization.

LABOR KEYNOTE

The keynote of the tremendous meeting was sounded by Mr. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, when he served notice that organized labor would fight Fascism and Nazism in this country to the bitter end.

Greeted by a tumultuous ovation, the famous labor leader, who was making his first appearance at an anti-Nazi gathering, said that the fate of labor in Germany is "an object-lesson and warning" to America and declared that the only means to prevent Fascism in this country is for the workers to "find self-expression in economic, in social and in political matters. They must become conscious of their responsibilities and of their privileges. They must become articulate and they must be free from industrial oppression, so that they may assume the power which is theirs by right."

If we can "establish industrial democracy in the United States," he declared, "we can insure the continuance of its political democracy." Only a strong, well-organized, disciplined and articulate labor movement can avert for America the fate of Germany, he asserted.

TO DROP FASCISM FROM PARTY NAME

London (WNS)—Taking stock of his status after the crushing defeat he suffered in the London County Council elections, Sir Oswald Mosley, commander of the British Union of Fascists has decided to eliminate the word Fascist from his party's name because of the belief that it is a handicap to political success.

At a conference of his lieutenants he also announced the dismissal of a large number of paid officials because the party is running short of funds, and economy is essential.

The sudden drying up of the sources of Fascist funds is attributed to disgust with Mosley's tactics on the part of even those who are sympathetic to Fascism.

It is also likely to mean a lessening of Fascist propaganda against the Jews.

Raise $70,000 for Consumptives' Home

New York (WNS)—The three-day sessions of the 33d annual convention of the Jewish Consumptives' Relief Society raised $70,000 towards the $300,000 annual budget of its $2,000,000 sanitarium in Denver.

Delegates from 23 ladies' auxiliaries in Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, Newark, St. Louis, Baltimore, New York, Washington, Atlantic City and Westchester County contributed $40,000; affiliated branches in the Greater New York area turned in $18,000 and $12,000 was raised from a banquet, according to an announcement by Dr. Philip Hilkowitz of Denver, president of the Society.

German Baron Claims Nazis Would Frame Him

Detroit (WNS)—A charge that the Nazi government has framed him so that it can sentence him to death was made here by Baron Egon Karl von Mauchenheim, German baron, who is being threatened with deportation on a charge of illegal entry. The German consul in Cleveland claims he issued false checks, but the Baron insists he is wanted on a political charge and will be executed if returned to Germany.

RAFFLE REPORT

A raffle report by Mrs. Sam Gorman featured the meeting of the Loyal Family Circle, Inc., held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Newman of Goddard street.

BIROBIDJAN CHIEF HELD FOR WASTE

London (WNS) — Confirming reports that Joseph Liberberg, former head of the Birobidjan administration, has been arrested on a charge of allegedly plotting with Trotskyites, the anti-Soviet Daily Telegraph reports that Michael Kattel, Liberberg's successor, is being accused of sabotage and may be arrested.

According to the Telegraph, many of the highest officials of Birobidjan are implicated in the alleged Trotzkyite plots. The Telegraph also remarks that the fact that Jewish leaders in Birobidjan have been arrested indicates that Stalin is an anti-Semite.

Rabbis Protest Sabbath Work to Aid Poland

New York (WNS) — Orthodox rabbis and laymen are up in arms here over a call by the Joint Board of the Cloakmakers' Union to its members to work on Saturday and turn over the day's pay to relief funds for the aid of Polish Jews.

The rabbis have issued a public protest in which they declare that the Polish Jews, in great need as they are, would not want to accept money earned through a violation of the Sabbath.

ROSENBERG RECALLED

Moscow (WNS) — Marcel Rosenberg, first Soviet Ambassador to the Spanish Republic, has been called back to Moscow "in connection with his appointment to another job." What the new job will be was not disclosed.

It's a Funny World

You Have to Learn to Laugh At It, is the Opinion of Broadway Humorist

By HARRY HERSHFIELD

My Jewish education wasn't neglected either. I went to Cheder like all good little boys—though I'm afraid that I didn't learn as much there as I should. In later years, anyway, I came to regret that I had not pursued my Jewish studies longer; I should have liked to read the Talmud in the original. But I have done the next-best thing: I acquired a copy of the splendid Harvard translation of the Talmud, and I am glad to confess that to this day I often dip into its inspiring pages.

EDUCATION INTERRUPTED

By the time I was fourteen and a half, and through the second grade of high school, my formal education was interrupted and I became a wage-earner. In other words, I got a job—a real job, and with the Chicago Daily News, no less. I worked there for seven years, doing practically everything under the sun; sweeping the floors, running errands, reporting and drawing were my specialties, though. Although I could no longer attend high school—but the Daily News provided me with a liberal education! I continued my art studies, and before long I was sent out to make drawings to illustrate news stories. And was I proud to be a full-fledged newspaper man!

TRAGIC EXPERIENCES

In my capacity as a reporter I was assigned to the hospital and morgue beat during those years—quite an assignment for a young chap in his teens! I think it is because of the horrible scenes I was forced to witness then that I became a humorist. It was a form of self-defense; I had to learn to see the funny side of life, for I was too young to endure the tragedies that unfolded before me in hospital emergency rooms and on morgue slabs.

TRIES BOXING

A short-lived phase of my career started when, in my latter teens, I was sent out to cover various sport events. I had always been athletically inclined, and the close contact with sport circles inspired me to take up boxing in a big way. I've never been a heavyweight, of course, but for a year or two I was able to hold my own with some pretty good fighters of my weight division. It seems funny to me now—Kid "Hash" Hershfield packing punches instead of punch-lines and drawing claret from the nose of his opponent instead of simply drawing that opponent, nose and all, for the paper. But my prowess in the ring never got a chance to develop to any really startling extent. For one night a well-aimed blow broke the Hershfield nose, and upon advice of my doctor I gracefully retired from the ring. I've been behind the sport page ever since—on the comics page, in the back of the paper.

NOW WRITING BOOK

That working with the pen is a healthier occupation than wielding one's fists isn't the only thing I learned in my years on the Daily News. But to relate everything I learned there would take too long. It would make a book—a book which I'm now engaged in writing, and which will bring pictures and descriptions of all the important personalities and events I've had the opportunity of seeing not only in those early years but in all my thirty-five years as a newspaperman. (For it is as a newspaperman, one who has concentrated on interpreting news and character from the humorous point of view, that I want to be regarded). The book will be called "Anybody's Biography," because it will depict a period rather than the life of an individual.

ABOUT ABE KABIBBLE

But I do want to make a remark on the name of the individual through whom I have been expressing my views: Abe the Agent, nee Abe Kabibble. Of course his name is derived from that famous phrase of about 20 years ago, "Ish Kabibble." I always smile when I remember the trouble people took to discover the origin of the phrase; one scholar even traced it to a Talmudic expression, I believe. And yet the actual fact is so simple: The Jews used to say "Nisht gefiedelt" to convey the idea "I should worry;" and their non-Jewish neighbors trying to repeat the phrase, distorted it to "Ish Kabibble." That the phrase caught on and spread all over the country is just one of those things which happens every so often to convince me all over again that the only way to look at life is from the humorist's point of view.

ANNUAL MINSTREL MONDAY, MAR. 29

With but three more rehearsals, the annual Minstrel, sponsored by the Men's Club of the Temple Beth Israel to be held Monday, March 29 at the Plantations Auditorium, promises to be the best ever undertaken by that group.

As a deviation from the stereotyped black-face end-men-interlocutor type, this year's production will have some novel features hitherto foreign to minstrelsy. Tom Mulgrew, the director, with the assistance of Billy Lipson and Jack Applebaum have incorporated several items which augur success for this affair. Many new soloists and specialties have been added as well as an augmented chorus of capable singers.

The entire cast has been religiously rehearsing every Monday and Thursday evenings for over a month and have been whipped into tip-top shape. Dancing, which will follow, will be until one with music by Carl Tatz's well known orchestra.

General chairman for this affair is Coleman Zimmerman, assisted by special chairman Joseph Schlossberg, talent; James Pine, program; and William Lipson, tickets.

ARABS FINANCE BANDIT CHIEFTAN

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—Stories of a new mobilization of Arab nationalists under the leadership of Fauzi Bey El Kawkagi, the man termed "commander in chief" of the Arab rebellion in Palestine in 1936, were seen confirmed with report that a local Arab collection committee has already sent $2,500 to Kawkagi. The former Iraqi military officer, who has threatened a return to Palestine with a larger army if Arab demands are not granted, is now stationed at Kirkuk, Iraq. The funds allegedly shipped from here are part of the effort to replenish Kawkagi's treasury.

Ceremonial Importance to Be Discussed by Rabbi

"The Importance of Ceremonial in Jewish Life" by Rabbi Morris Schussheim, will be the topic which will be discussed as a prelude to the Passover holiday, which is outstanding in its emphasis on ceremonial, this Friday evening at Temple Beth Israel, at 8:15 o'clock.

The Junior Congregation will hold its service Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Sunday morning the Bar-Mitzvah Boys Group meets for prayer at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Samel P. Lazarus served the boys breakfast last Sunday morning, after the service.

Cardozo Marks 5th Year on Supreme Court Bench

Washington, D. C. (WNS) — While the whole country was debating the President's Supreme Court reform plan, Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, youngest member of the court in point of service, celebrated the fifth anniversary of his appointment quietly. Justice Cardozo, who will be 67 on May 24, was named to the high bench March 14, 1932 by former President Hoover.

Center Makes Playwriting Contest An Annual Feature

So gratifying was the response to the Playwriting Contest conducted by the Center Players last season, and won by Miss Florence Parker, author of "The Sabbath Guest," that, at a recent executive board meeting it was decided that the contest shall be an annual function of the organization.

The Players hope thru these contests to stimulate talented Rhode Island writers into action by publicly recognizing and suitably rewarding their playwriting efforts and at the same time to develop original material for laboratory and experimental work.

L. Justin Huddish, reappointed chairman of the Contest Committee, today announced the following rules for the second annual contest which begins immediately:

CONTEST RULES

1. Contestants must be residents of Rhode Island and must have attained the age of eighteen. (For purposes of this contest duly registered students of any Rhode Island college or university will be deemed residents.)

2. Plays submitted must be entirely original and the work of the person submitting, and must not have been previously published. They must be complete in one-act or at least twenty minutes actual playing time.

3. Manuscripts should be typewritten wherever possible, but ink written manuscripts providing they are legible will likewise be acceptable.

4. All maanuscripts should contain a SEALED envelope with the NAME, ADDRESS, and AGE of the playwright INSIDE the envelope, and the name of the manuscript only on the OUTSIDE of the envelope. The name of the playwright MUST NOT APPEAR on the manuscript.

5. Settings and scenes should be as simple as possible. In case two or more plays of equal merit make a final choice difficult, the simple play will be preferred to the one which is elaborate in its settings.

6. Only manuscripts not previously submitted in Center Players Contests may be entered in the contest.

7. All entries must be postmarked not later than July 1, 1937; must contain sufficient postage for their return, and must be addressed "Playwriting Contest Committee, Jewish Community Center, 65 Benefit Street, Providence, R. I."

MONEY AWARD

The winning entry will receive an award of $25 and if considered of sufficient merit will be produced by the Center Players sometime after the termination of the contest. Other plays submitted, if of special worth, may likewise be presented by the organization, but all plays submitted will remain the property of the writers.

Further information and copies of the complete rules may be obtained upon application to the Playwriting Contest Committee, Jewish Community Center, Providence. The names of the judges will be announced at a later date.

AMERICAN NAZIS CHANGE UNIFORMS

Claim Membership of 200,000

New York (WNS)—A resolution authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a committee of seven which would study evidence of increasing Nazi propaganda and un-American activities in the United States will be introduced in Congress by Representative Samuel Dickstein of New York. He announced that he would submit to such a committee his "mountain of evidence" of sabotage against the government of the United States by Nazi-Americans.

Meanwhile, Fritz Kuhn, national leader of the German-American Bund, announced that the 200,000 members of his organization have been ordered to discard their old uniform of white shirt, black tie and black trousers for new garb consisting of grayish blue tunic with black cuffs and neckband, black forage cap and silver braid and black trousers.

High officils of the Bund will wear the swastika on the left breast of the tunic while ordinary members will wear it on a brassard. Kuhn said that the uniforms are patterned after those worn by the American Legion.

Commenting on the Nazi activities here, the New York Herald-Tribune suggested that "if they enjoy their uniforms and their swastikas and their 'heils' so much, why not return to Germany and be really happy". Branding the German-American Nazis as "fools" who "do little credit to their adopted country," the Herald-Tribune asserts that the Nazis, who represent racial hatred and intolerances, banded together in the interest of another country," are "strangely out of place" in America.

Old Passover Haggadah

This illuminated manuscript Haggadah for Passover, is one of the most beautiful and oldest in the large collection of the Hebrew Union College Library at the rabbinical seminary in Cincinnatti. It was written by Meir Jaffa of Heidelberg about the year 1400. The H. U. C. Library is distinguished by its possessions, among other things, of the largest Spinoza collections in the world and by one of the finest collections of Jewish music.

At the Theatres

"STOLEN HOLIDAY"

Kay Francis, perpetual favorite in this city, comes to the screen of the Majestic Theatre tomorrow in "Stolen Holiday," a First National film which depicts the rise of an obscure little French mannequin in a tiny modiste shop, to the position of queen of fashions for the whole world.

The name of Kay Francis instantly conjures up visions of magnificent gowns and no list of ten best-dressed women in the country fails to include her name, but, "Stolen Holiday" is said to be not merely a fashion show. It is a tense drama, with rioting mobs on the streets of Paris, international, political and financial complications, and no end of suspense.

"Midnight Court," a melodrama whose characters are introduced to the audience at one of those new type of police tribunals, will be the second featured offering, with the popular Ann Dvorak in the starring role.

It is typical of those timely out-of-the-headlines pictures which Warner Bros. turn out so well. John Litel, an excellent actor who recently left Broadway for Hollywood, has the featured male role.

"READY, WILLING AN ABLE"

Something altogether new in the way of a motion picture with music has been booked for Fay's Theatre, beginning Friday, when "Ready, Willing and Able," a Warner Bros. production co-starring Ruby Keeler and Lee Dixon, will be offered to local audiences.

GLORIA STUART

In the first place, there is a much more substantial story to this film than is usually the case with musical comedies. "Ready, Willing and Able," under the same title was published last year in a national weekly magadine. It is by Richard Macaulay, the well known novelist.

The flow of the story was kept unchanged by those who adapted it for screen purposes — Jerry Wald, Sig Herzig and Warren Duff, and unusual efforts were made by the casting department to select players who fitted the characters as conceived by Macaulay.

"Girl in the Moon" Revue is the stage presentation.

"EVERYTHING IS THUNDER"

If you are looking for a thriller that paralyzes you with suspense, see "Everything is Thunder." And, reversely, if you are looking for a love story that reduces your heart to sodden pulp, see "Everything is Thunder," for it is both a tender love story and a terrific drama.

"Everything is Thunder" is now at the R. K. O. Albee Theatre. It stars Constance Bennett, Douglass Montgomery, and Oscar Homolka, whom you will remember as Oom Paul Kruger in "Rhodes." And, incidentally, it shows up a new facet in the sparkle of la Bennett. Never has she shown a more vivid flash of talent.

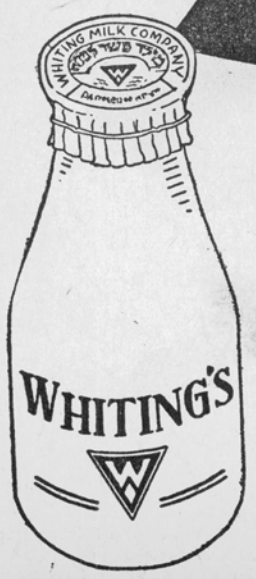

As second feature, the Albee presents Gloria Stuart and Walter Pidgeon in "Girl Overboard."

Have you read "Speaking of Women" on page six, a digest of fashions and news for women only?

NAZIS DESECRATE N. Y. SYNAGOGUES

Smear Swastikas on Temple Facade

New York (WNS)—Special police patrols have been assigned to guard every important synagogue in New York as well as all public Jewish buildings following the disclosure that Nazi vandals had desecrated Temple Rodeph Sholom by Splotching its outside stone facade with 11 large orange-colored swastikas.

Chief Inspector of Police John J. Seery sent out a general order to commanding officers in all boroughs, to radio details and to the regular force to give special protection to all synagogues.

The defacement was discovered when worshippers began arriving for Sunday morning services. The swastikas were painted on sometime between 4:30 and 6:00 a. m. Sunday.

Rabbi Louis I. Newman, spiritual leader of the Temple, recalled that this was the tenth piece of vandalism against the Temple in the last three years.

The last desecration occurred during Rosh Hashanah when swastikas were scratched on the Temple's glass doors. Workmen have obliterated most of the swastikas by sandpaper and benzine applications.

Jew Revealed as Czar of Cat-o-Nine-Tails Industry

New York (WNS)—The secret of where the hard-bitten teachers in the old fashioned cheders obtained the cat-o'-nine-tails with which they chastised their pupils was discovered through an accident to be venerable Benjamin Schwartz, 75-ear old Czar of the "conchickell" industry.

Overcome by gas fumes in his dingy East Side apartment, which is also his workshop, the aged Roumanian-born Jew, recovered quickly and found himself a celebrity when it became known that he is the principal maker of the whips with which two generations of Jewish youngsters have been disciplined.

Once a cobbler, Schwartz gave up shoemaking when machinery drove out handworkers. For the last 25 years he has been making whips at 25 cents a dozen and selling them to peddlers and dealers who spread his wares throughout the country.

Describing the art of making cat-o'-nine-tails, Schwartz said he makes three kinds—a light model with eight thin leather strips for use on small children; a medium size with five heavy bands; and a giant size with four thick thongs 15 inches long.

The latter model, he explained, is in great demand by husbands, for chastising their wives. His life's ambition is to make the world's greatest whip with which to thrash Hitler.

Must Jews Die

The latest flare-up of violence in Palestine, which took the lives of five Jews, raises the question of how many more Jews must be sacrificed before the Bristish Government and its representatives in Palestine take decisive action to put an end to the organized campaign of Arab terrorism and murder.

Since the official termination of the Arab general strike in 1936, 17 Jews have been killed by Arabs. But still the Palestine authorities stand idly by and refuse to permit the Jews to defend themselves.

When one British soldier or civilian is killed in India, the English waste no time in sending whole regiments to wreak vengence on the tribesmen. No cost is too great to maintain order in India or in any other British colony. But when it comes to Palestine the British have a strange way of doing nothing.

Palestine Jewry is beginning to ask whether the British attitude towards violence and murder by Arab terrorists means that the Jews have been outlawed. If the murders continue the same question will be asked elsewhere.

South of Panama

Ever since the beginning of the evodus of Jews from Germany in 1933 great hopes have been placed on South America as a place of settlement for the refugees.

One of the chief obstacles to such colonization has been the conflicting and exaggerated reports of immigration possibilities in Latin America. Irresponsible and misguided persons have from time to time come forward with fantastic schemes for Jewish colonies in this or that Latin American republic.

Because of this uncertainty it is important to take note of the findings of Dr. Bruno Weil, acting president of the Central Verein of Jews in Germany, who has just returned from a four and a half months' tour of Latin America.

As a result of his survey of conditions Dr. Weil concludes that prospects are still favorable for Jewish immigration to South America. But from his report it is clear that any plan for mass colonization is impossible of realization.

Made In Germany

BY EDWIN C. LOEWENTHAL

"Jews are no good," Herr Franklin said,
"Don't let them try your patience.
Out with them, or they'll steal the bread
Of coming generations."

Der Angriff brought this secret out—
The thought seemed rather bright.
Now All the well-trained Nazis shout:
"Heil! Franklin sure was right."

But erudite Professor Beard
Has proved it's an invention:
The Teutons Ben had not revered,
The Jews he didn't mention.

The Nazi press, though, I'm afraid.
Won't let their readers see
That the Herr Franklin they displayed
Was—Made in Germany.

Visitors Will Learn of New Social Method in Child Guidance

When the Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island opens its twenty-seventh Annual Meeting on Sunday, March 21, at 2:30 o'clock, there will be unfolded to the hundreds of visitors a story of a home filled with American fireside atmosphere, and whose many children resemble a big happy family. This is the story of The Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island, 164 Summit avenue.

A HOME FOR CHILDREN

Although a twist of fate robbed its youngsters of personal family life, the closest possible atmosphere to that of the average American home is maintained. Here has been sounded the death knell for institutional routine and regimentation. The Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island has been transformed into one of the most homelike in the country.

The Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island practices principles of child guidance which reveals the finest social thought in the fields of sociology and psychology. It is not alone in the views of child guidance that the effectiveness of the Orphanage lies, but rather in their proper use and skilled application. It is the will of the Orphanage to understand the child that gives the children the sense of security and belonging essential for their happy adjustment.

NO ONE FORMULA

Each child calls for its own individual approach and technique. Each problem is considered in relation to its origin and background. The specific educational needs of each child is discovered and met. Child development is practiced at the Orphanage by means of educational values. The guidance of children in their sound social behavior is recognized as much of an educational process involving the philosophy of pedagogy as is the teaching of reading, writing and arithmetic.

EDUCATIONAL METHOD

This is one home where a sound attitude on the part of a child is not disciplined but rather painstakingly taught. It is by this educational method that successful guidance and training has been achieved. The Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island has embraced a creed and an abiding faith in the glory and fascinations of children. It is by means of energetic application with an unwavering and persistent faith in the principles of love and understanding that has rendered the Orphanage equal to its sacred trust.

It must bring an inner glow to those associated with The Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island, whether that affiliation be recent or of long standing, to survey its wonderful work for more than a quarter of a century until it is now recognized as one of the finest institutions in the State.

NOT A MACHINE

Every man and woman whose heart pulsates for the love of children will take valuable time in going through The Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island. Here is one Orphanage that is remarkably free of stereotype, machine-like procedure which serves only to stifle initiative on the part of youngsters. There is no "you must do this at this time, you must march here from there in just so many steps." Rather, there is discipline without disciplinary measures; there is patience, understanding, liberality and freedom which is not abused because it appeals to reason and self-reliance. Rhode Island Jewry has reason to be proud of its Orphanage, and those who have been associated with its progress must feel the deepest satisfaction over the fruits of their efforts.

ANNUAL MEETING SUNDAY

The annual meeting of The Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island attracts people from all over the State. This year approximately 500 people are expected who will listen with a good deal of interest to the many reports that will be submitted. As an added feature of the meeting Professor Harold S. Bucklin, Brown University, will be the guest speaker. Professor Bucklin who has done much research work in the matter of child welfare, will discuss this fascinating subject. The children's band, composed of 21 children, clad in white and blue band uniforms, will give a concert and will be led by their orchestra leader, James T. Boylan. Carl Tatz, well known musician, will render several accordion selections.

Names of officers to be elected were published in last week's edition of the Herald.

TEAM CAPTAIN

Mrs. Anna Field was appointed captain of the R. I. League of Jewish Women's team in the fight against Cancer, it was announced today. The League team is one of many women teams that begin education programs on Monday.

Scene Around Town

By Jacob Leichter

Came last Thursday nite, the paper printed and mailed, with Rutman to N'Yawk, and there met Earl Marks, gloating over the first edition of his N. Y. Jewish News . . . So out to the sidewalks, and then making many calls we finally wound up at the Manhattan Opera to see Joe Brainin, publicity man of "The Eternal Road" . . . After much shop talk he salaamed us into the wonderful spectacle, and we sat enthralled at the drama, inherent in the old testament, and brought to life by the pen of Franz Werfel—augmented by the fine music of Kurt Weills, most of it being original, except for a few passages, where it lapsed back to traditional Synagogue melody . . . From the time the curtain rises on the ancient synagogue with its terrified whispering occupants, until the last scene of the exodus, the fundamental theme of destiny is strongest . . . Lack of space does not permit us to say more, but if you see nothing else when you're in N. Y., "The Eternal Road" is worth the trip . . . We can procure tickets for anybody planning to go . . .

PERSONALIA

On Sunday afternoon I attended the annual meeting of Chese Shel Emes, where three hundred excited Hebrews elected officers for the ensuing year . . . On Sunday nite, saw the Leichter-Katzman clan aided and abbetted by over one hundred relatives, make merry in honor of Laura's engagement . . . with food and drink aplenty . . . The piano worked all evening, with the Tennenbaum sisters, Mary Cokin and Etta Cohen contributing a good share of song . . . While over at the Community Center, Sigmund Spaeth entertained a large and appreciative audience . . . Via heresay were spotted Eddie Blackman, sans wife (who we hear entertained her folks from N. Y.), Bennie Weiner with Harriet Goodman, the Banice Feinbergs, she looking well in black . . . Norma Gouse with Lennie Goldman, Billie Matzner and Zara Brody, and scores of others whose names were not reported . . . Mrs. Sapinsley was hostess for the evening.

BY CARRIER PIGEON

Sydney Flanzbaum week-ended in Atlantic City . . . Mrs. Rosenhirsch was feted prior to her change of residence to the big town . . . Al Schleifer and wife came in for the week-end . . . Ruby Wine wonders why we don't run a sporting page . . . In the hey-day of young Montreal, Ruby was sure in demand as a second . . . Al Goldberg of the Red Fox Beverages is going for Kosher L'Pesach soda pop . . . Add to your list of well-run organizations: South Providence Hebrew Free Loan, they transacted $44,000 worth of small loans with a total administration expense of less than $1,300 . . .

George Gerber is in N. Y. buying goods for his new idea . . . Duplicate bridge is on the upgrade, with a club newly formed, meeting Tuesday nites at the Club Tea Room . . . In attendance last Tuesday were the Feingolds, Trinkels, the Gormans . . . Semour Coplan and Jim Young . . . Prizes were taken by Phylis Feinberg and Oscar Goldman, Jack Anhault and Chester Oatman . . .

AROUND THE TOWN

The Finkle brothers, Archie and Joe are writing smart copy for the new Grand Central market . . . Ruth and Barney Bernard admit that business is good . . . Jules Sorgman and Ted Galkins let nothing disturb their Sunday afternoon game of rummy . . . Tops in the paradoxical statements goes to Supreme Court Justice McReynolds, who, according to authors of the "Nine Old Men," when Cordoza was appointed to the court, said "Huh, it seems that the only way you can get on the Supreme Court Bench is to be either the son of a criminal or a Jew" . . . And this week's papers nation-wide carried headlines of Justice McReynolds' plea for good sportsmanship . . . Is Syd Hanzel going to be next president of the B'nai B'rith lodge? . . . Stephen Wise estimates that half of the 300 million dollars spent in Florida during the season, comes from Jews . . . The La-Guardia-Hitler tiff may force Tammy Hall to run a Jew for mayor in November . . . A Topeka Jewish merchant is the largest contributor to a Negro kindergarten, maintained by a Christian minister . . . Add endorsement: The Catholic ban on theatre going during the Lenten season was lifted for the first time when permission was granted to view "The Eternal Road" . . .

HERE AND THERE

Charles Lappin is now sole owner of the Blue Mountain Sales Company . . . A testimonial dinner is to be thrown for a man in town, who, if he knew, would hit the ceiling with a bang . . . Tho' the Ides of March are upon us, nothing will deter the mammoth oil burner campaign Sam Lazarus has scheduled to start very soon . . . The newly-wed Eisenbergs are, up to present writing, still apartment hunting . . . A banner season is planned by the Ledgemont gang . . . Hy Weinberg is back from the Southland, while Jake Ernstof still remains . . . Samuel Samson gave a moving picture show at the Miriam Hospital on Tuesday night . . .

STRANGE SIGHTS

Attention boycott backers to scene in N. Y.:—Chauffer driven car—a lady in mink plus all the extras, alights and dons a sandwich sign to picket stores selling Nazi goods . . . Walter Winchell's contract for his film appearance in "Wake Up and Live" has a clause in it forbidding the picture to be shown in Germany . . . A cello which any violinist can tuck under his chin and play has been invented by David Raisky, a French-Jewish musician . . .

To you local bookworms we have a pleasant ??? prize in store: Our little pal Hitler is doing a second volume of his autobiography in which he will record his activities since he's become boss gangster of Germany . . .

Brutal Murders Stir Palestine

DEMAND FOR MORE POLICE IS DENIED

Press Wonders When Terrorism Will Stop

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The brutal murder of five Jews, on March 13 and 14 has shocked the entire country into a realization of the extent to which lawlessness and terrorism had spread.

Commenting on those killings, the Davar, Hebrew daily, declares: "The Jews have been outlawed. The police have revealed no initiative in uprooting terrorism and forbid Jews to defend themselves. Kfar Hahoresh demanded four supernumeraries, but the Government refused. The Yishuv asks: what is the number of victims required for the Government to take decisive action in crushing murder throughout the country?"

The Hebrew press points out that seventeen Jews have been killed, in addition to the Christian Stanislaw Sluga and numerous Arabs, since the official termination of the Arab general strike of 1936.

The three deaths on March 14 occurred at Yavniel, in Galilee, while the Jewish settlers were returning to their homes from a celebration party at a nearby suburb.

The murdered Jews were Gedalyahu Geller, 34 years old, Zalman Bensasson, 32, and Yehuda Eliavitch, 29. The two killed in March 13 were found stabbed and strangled by a searching party sent out from their colony at Kfar Hahoresh after they had failed to return with the flock which they were tending. The dead were Hanoch Metz, 21, and Shlomo Gafni, 28, recent immigrants from Poland. Their bodies were discovered in the King George memorial forest established by the Jewish National Fund.

Junior Group Aids Needy Jews

Since its inception in 1933, the Junior Division of the Joint Distribution Committee has been singularly successful in securing the help of younger Jews in America in the gigantic task of aid and reconstruction for their brethren in Germany, Poland, and other European lands.

During this period the Junior Division, of which Pauline Bacrwald Frank is national chairman, and Lois Hollander, vice chairman. (see Photos 1 and 2) has raised nearly $95,000 for overseas needs. These funds have been raised chiefly through Junior division groups which Mrs. Falk and Miss Hollander organized in numerous communities, and by annual roll calls of Jewish religious schools each Chanakub.

By their contributions, youths of America have brought hope to thousands of people such as this German-Jewish mother and her ailing child (Photo 3) who would have been deprived of food, clothing, and medical care without this aid from America, and they have made possible the training of tens of thousands of young Jewish men and women abroad in trades which will insure them their livelihood. (Photos 4 and 5.)

Coming Events Listed by Jewish Community Center

At a board meeting of the Jewish Center Parents Association held at the home of Mrs. Maurice Alch, plans were discussed for the next regular meeting of the Association to be held April 6. In addition to a speaking program, there will also be a musical program by the Jewish Center Orchestra under the direction of Benjamin Premack.

The Fifth Annual Bridge sponsored by the Parents Association will be held in the Center gymnasium, Wednesday afternoon, April 14 with Mrs. Maurice Alch, chairman of the bridge, assisted by a large and enthusiastic committee. Mrs. Ira Robinson, president, announced that an outstanding program was being arranged for May.

The annual Junior speaking contest was held last night with nine junnor clubs participating. Next Monday evening Mrs. Starr's class will hold a senior speaking contest. The winner of this contest will be awarded the Walter Adler Trophy.

Among other activities scheduled at the Center will be the presentation of the "Counsellor-at-Law", a three-act drama by Elmer Rice. Mrs. Samuel Starr is directing the play which will require a cast of more than 20 persons.

The Center Board meeting will be held Wednesday evening with Milton C. Sapinsley, presiding.

The annual Intermediate Speaking Contest will take place Thursday evening.

At the Young Women's Hebrew Association March meeting held Wednesday evening, Mrs. Albina Van Aiken discussed personality problems.

The sixth annual New England Education Conference sponsored by the Jewish Center Executives, will be held this year in Boston, Saturday evening, April 10 and Sunday, April 11.

TEMPLE PASSOVER PROGRAM PLANNED

Festival to Feature School Children

At Temple Emanu-El everything is in readiness for a number of celebrations in connection with the forthcoming Passover festival. On Sunday, a special Passover assembly will be presented in the Religious School by grade 6.

The program will feature a debate on "Resolved: That Moses Had a More Dfficult Time To Get the Jews to Palestine Than Dr. Chaim Weitzman Now." Burton Fain and Ralph Einstein will speak for the affirmative. Bernard Bloom will speak for the negative. Passover poems will be recited by Billy Gertz and Jordan Wine.

On Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock the pupils of the Religious School will have a Model Passover Seder at which the complete Passover Seder will be dramatically re-enacted by about 20 pupils. This program is in charge of Fred Weiser. Following the annual custom the Religious School will be in complete charge of the Friday Night Service on April 2 at the Annual Home and School Sabbath at which about 40 pupils of the School will present the work of the School to the Congregation.

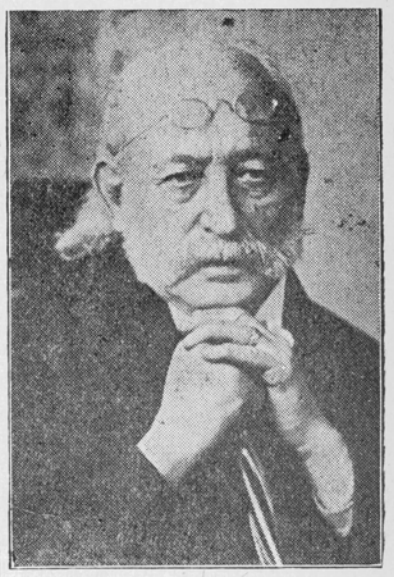

Passover Services will be held evenings on Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, at 6:15 o'clock, and on the first day of Passover, March 27, at 9 o'clock, at which time the Rabbi will preach on the subject "The Four Cups," and in the second day of Passover, Sunday, March 28, at 9 o'clock, the Rabbi will preach on the subject "The Exodus Must Go On."

Congregation Men's Club Arrange Surprise Party

As the first event of the newly renovated and redecorated social halls of the Ahavath Shalom synagogue, the Ladies' Auxiliary and Men's Club of the congregation will hold a Surprise Package Party on Sunday evening, April 11.

An interesting and entertaining program is being worked out by a joint committee of the two organizations. A musical program and many surprises have been worked out. The following are on the committee, Mrs. Barnet Coren, Mrs. H. Hyman, Mrs. R. Marcus, Mrs Charles Erlich, Mrs. Philip Abrams, Max Charren, B. Coren, Morris Wilkes, Philip Abrams, and Abraham Linder.

Spring's Color Wheel; Half Finger Gloves; And a Herald of Health

BY EDYTHE JAY

The Spring color wheel is spinning. It borrows its neutral cashmeres from the desert, its soft new blue from the duck's egg, and a whole range of vivid hues from Dalmatia and the Tyrol. Gray has a rosy hue, as though seen through the proverbial rose-colored glasses. All the shops are showing beige that runs a gamut from dusky old gold to the pale tones of sand.

And because Fashion's in a rosy mood, coppery tans, warm browns and many amber and apricot tones will enliven the Spring fashion picture. However, cool water greens, baby blues and pale yellows, will tone down this gay mood. Popular basic colors for Spring are black, a neutral brown or deep red. Navy is expected to gain in favor as the season advances, taking its place as a Summer leader. Liqueur colors will be seen too, in accents to dark costumes or for more dressy frocks. Chartreuse, benedictine, and brandy tones will make excellent colors for crepe blouses. These gorgeous hues will make you feel as gay as they'll make you look.

SAVED BY A STAMP

This wasn't told to me, I only heard—but on my honor, it is true: A young girl was speeding along a country road, miles from the nearest service station, when she got a flat tire. No spare graced the back of her car, so what in heaven's name was she to do, with not a sign of help anywhere around. Suddenly an idea flashed into her mind. She remembered she had a postage stamp in her purse. Sooo—getting out the stamp (a mere half-cent one, it was) she patched up the punctured tube—and believe it or don't, that flimsy repair lasted her another thousand miles. Which all goes to prove that you don't have to be a philatelist to discover something new about a stamp.

FASHION FOOTNOTES

Skirts are still on the upward grade. If you're wearing yours fifteen and a half inches from the ground—you're ultra smart. Handbags are coming in with lots of length to their handles—twenty or twenty-five inches, I should say. What to do with so much handle?—Why, you smartly slip it over your shoulder, and carry the bag as you would binoculars. Necklaces continue important. Most every type is tops. Dig out your heavy gold chains with their old-fashioned lockets, (or perhaps you've already gone digging.) They're the smart thing to wear on high-necked frocks—or on soft cashmere sweaters. Pearls are still very high in favor, and the three-strand ones are so queenly-looking, n'cest pas? And here's something you'll be glad to know—crystals are coming into their own again. Worn with black, they're lovely.

Wonder if you like the new housecoats as much as I do. They're being shown in bright peasant prints. My favorite is of orange print, collarless, fitted tight to the bodice, gathered and shirred around the waistline, and falling in soft folds to the toes. If you already have one, you know how comfy they are for lazy evenings "to home." All the young things at restaurants and night clubs have taken to off-the-face hats. Scotch hats are passe; they won't do much for you—unless, of course, you're going to Scotland.

PLEASANT THOUGHTS, THESE

Nice things to think of: A fresh gardenia . . . rain on the roof . . . St. James pink . . . Loretta Young . . . early-morning bicycle rides . . Gotham at dawn . . the chime of a distant clock . . . a rock garden . . . haunting strains of "Segoyna" . . . lap of waves against a shore . . . silver slippers . . . Paris next month . . . children's laughter . . . misty gray chiffon . . . and—for added pleasure—another fresh gardenia.

HALF FINGER-GLOVES

Gloves this Spring are being shown with half fingers by several of the large glove houses. They extend as far as the first joint of the finger, and expose brightly painted finger nails. They're really not as fantastic as they seem, for with bare finger tips, milady can easily reach into a coin purse, search a handbag, or fit a key into a lock, without the confusion ordinary gloves cause. They're being shown in natural chamois or pigskin for sports wear, and in suede for dressier occasions.

HERALD OF HEALTH

On January 16, 1913, a tall, blonde, vivacious young girl stood on the deck of a ship bound for a strange land 6,000 miles away—fully aware of the enormity of the responsibility which lay beyond the gates of her destination. Rae D. Landy, first nurse sent to Palestine by Hadassah, knew that the country was disease ridden, and that the inhabitants, to whom sanitation was unknown, were helpless.

With the aid of her one colleague, Rose Kaplan, who just as herself, had been a registered nurse in a large New York hospital, she set up the tiny Hadassah nurses' settlement in Jerusalem, which today is a country-wide system of medical public health institutions and services.

Endowed for the task before her with abundant sympathy and understanding, to her they came from far and wide, bringing with them their troubles, their illnesses, their problems. And they left unburdened, consoled, helped. Rae Landy, throughout these years, has continued relentlessly her gallant warfare against disease and needless suffering. Today she is first Lieutenant in the United States Army Nurses' Corp at Fort Stotsenberg in the Phillipines.

ANOTHER COOKIE RECIPE

This week's recipe for cookies has been tested by the Good Housekeeping Institute, and they're excellent to keep your jar filled with:

Peanut Butter Cookies

¾ cup shortening
¼ cup peanut butter
2 cups granulated sugar
3 eggs well beaten
1 cup chopped shelled peanuts
¼ tsp. baking soda
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Cream the shortening and peanut butter thoroughly. Add the sugar gradually while creaming, and blend thoroughly. Add the eggs and beat well. Combine the peanuts with the soda and flour sifted together, and add. Mix well and shape into balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Arrange on a cookie sheet and press flat with the bottom of a small water glass covered with a piece of damp cheesecloth. Bake in a moderately hot over of 400 degrees F. for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 100 cookies.

In using an electric beater, allow the shortening to soften at room temperature. Cream the shortening with the peanut butter for one minute with the beater at high speed. Add the sugar gradually with the beater still at high speed. After all is added, scrape the bowl and beat one minute longer. Add the eggs, unbeaten, one at a time, and beat one minute after each addition. Turn the beater to medium speed and add the peanuts and the soda and flour sifted together. Mix well.

A Pick Me Up

As a pick-me-up for that short season between winter and actual spring, Kathryn Marlowe, player, recommends this perky black felt hat trimmed in white grosgrain, which pipes the edge and bands the flat crown, Black and white grosgrain form an interesting decorative note at the front.

Personals

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the B'nai Brith, Roger Williams Lodge No. 1184, will hold installation of officers and an initiation tea at the Narragansett Hotel on April 11. Mrs. Saul Feinberg is chairman of the ceremonies. She will be assisted by Miss I. Esther Falk.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Nevins of Croyland road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on February 13. Mrs. Nevins was formerly Miss Ann Wiener of Pawtucket.

Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Druckerman of Croyland road announce the birth of a son, Kenneth, on February 27. Mrs. Druckerman is the former Beatrice M. Silverman.

A son, Abbott Walter, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dressler of 170 Slater avenue, on March 6.

Playlet Presented at Meeting Held Tues.

The Providence section, National Council of Jewish Women, held its March meeting last Tuesday afternoon at Temple Beth-El, in the form of a membership tea. A playlet, "The Prospective Member," depicting various council projects, was presented, with Mrs. Samuel Starr as coach. The program was closed with a tea, presided over by Mrs. David Pollock, hospitality chairman, and her cochairmen, Mrs. Everett Cowan and Mrs. Philip Marcus.

The civics group of the section will meet this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the home of its leader, Mrs. Isaac Gerber, 22 Wingate road.

Reunion With Foster Son, One of 13, Brings Joy to Grandmother

"For this reunion," said the wrinkled little great-grandmother, "we'll have apple strudl. flaky fruit-filled apple strudl, and he will say to me:

" 'Grandma, it is wonderfulu. It is the same good strudl of many years ago.' And then will I laugh, until the tears come. Not for a dozen years have I maked the strudl. But I will not tell him my daughter makes it. What would be the good of that?"

Great - grandmother Eleanor Wiener, 80, folded her withered hands in her newly starched apron as she told a World Telegram reporter how one of her "other boys"—one of the thirteen foster sons she has reared over a stretch of four decades—had come back home. And how he is coming back once again for the reunion Sunday night, to eat strudl and drink a little wine.

The Neighbors Forget

"Irving left me twenty-three years ago," she said, "but he used always to drop in for a little visit. Then five years ago I moved and he lost track. Neighbors, pshaw, they forget and he does not know where to find me. Then one days there is this magazine story about foster mothers, and about me. He reads it; comes to see me. That is last Saturday."

She moved from one chair to another as she told about Irving H. Rice, one of the her boys, who following her precepts, became an executive with the National Screen Service. He didn't want to talk about it, but over in the little flat at 183 E. 70th St. his foster mother thumbed through photographs of her thirteen foster sons, her three own sons and her two daughters, and proudly pointed to the one who, many, many years after the picture was taken, is going to eat apple strudl again with the Weiners.

Doesn't Like to Ride

"He came with the car and wanted me to go for a ride, or to his home or to a restaurant," she said. "Come out," he says to me, "but I laugh and shake my head. I'm getting too old to ride around."

As she reminisced a son came in, dressed in a postman's uniform. Then a son-in-law dropped in with a grandson on his heels. Great-grandmother Wiener beamed on them all. She said she liked boys and had always taken boys from the Jewish orphanages because, although there is "a little bad mixed with the good," the boys handle better than girls.

"Boys is boys, I say, and if you take the good side with the bad you don't have no trouble," she declared. "Never did one of my boys hear a swearing word from me. And never did I get out a temper toward them."

The postman son drank a cup of coffee, but for her guest Mrs. Wiener rooted around in the sideboard and brought out some wine.

Drink it," she insted. "Wine does not hurt, even before lunch. Always I drank wine in my home in Vienna. It did not hurt me. eh?"

Great-grandmother Wiener said one of her foster sons gave her the wine. One or the other of them is always bringing something to her.

"Maybe, when comes Sunday, Irving and his wife will have a good time," she said, smoothing her apron with her work-gnarled hands. "Maybe there'll be borst, and some good meat and a little wine and the apple strudl."

Junior Organization Recently Formed

Through the efforts of Mrs. Michael Lubin of 165 Byfield street, a junior organization called the Modern Young Ladies was recently formed. The purpose of the organization is to raise money for reforestation in Palestine.

At the meeting held recently the following officers were elected: Natalie Sax, president; Miriam Wolfe, vice president; Aileen Paull, secretary; Claire Schleifer, treasurer, and Esther Lubin, program chairman.

Hadassah Regional Convention in Boston

Junior Hadassah will observe its 16th birthday at a regional convention to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Hotel Kenmore in Boston.

A series of speakers will address the convention on current topics of interest. A luncheon and dance for delegates will feature the social program.

For details concerning the convention members of the local Junior Hadassah are requested to call either Miss Esta Wexler at Williams 1079, or Miss Claire Ernstof at Hopkins 6292.

STIRS MOSLEMS

Tripoli (WNS)—Fear that Mussolini's visit to the Italian colonies on North Africa would intensify anti-Jewish feeling among the Moslems is growing here because of the publication of a manifesto signed by Governor Italo Balbo in which he hails the uprising of the Palestine Arabs and declares that "notwithstanding cruel persecution, the Arabs are continuing the revolt against England and against Zionism."

Watchmaker Distributes Dimes Weekly to Derelicts

New York (WNS)—John Lazar, 64-year old Jewish watch-maker, who came here a penniless immigrant from Roumania at the age of 15, was identified as the great-hearted lord bountiful who has been helping hundreds of down and outers for six years when reporters learned that for six years he has been handing out dimes to all who asked for them.

Every Saturday a long line of derelicts gathers in front of his Dutch Street shop to collect the dime.

But apart from this unusual philanthropy, Lazar has given away nearly $100,000 to unfortunates for operations, clothes, education, carfare and other necessities. Lazar, who lives alone with his wife, gives away everything he makes over $50 a week.

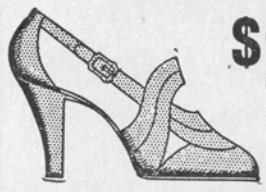

I slept, and dreamed that Life was Beauty;
I woke, and found that Life was Duty.

Even a prima donna finds it advisable to employ a press agent to sing her praises.

Our high-respect for a well-read man is praise enough for literature.

Oddities in the News

On Teeth Extraction; Neutrality; Sit-down Strikes; and Love Indicators

A recent visitor to Germany brought this oddity back from Berlin. He suffered a severe toothache, and went to a dentist in that city. "I'll have to yank that tooth," the dentist told him. "The charge, in American money, will be $150."

"$150?" the American protested. "Why, in my country I can have all my teeth yanked for that much money."

"I know," the dentist explained," but in America it's a simple thing to extract a tooth. Here it's a delicate operation. Nobody's allowed to open his mouth in Germany—so I'd have to extract it through your ear."

NEUTRALITY

Headline: "21,000 Italians advancing on Madrid from Northeast; Nazis man the Artillery. Forty-one prisoners report no Spaniards seen on Rebel front." And editorially, another paper comments: "The affair at Madrid has run on so long they say some of the combatants now speak the language of the country with scarcely any accent.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

Regarding the Nazi statement that Benjamin Franklin was anti-Semitic, Harry Hershfield points to Franklin's signature in the Declaration of Independence, and to the phase therein "all men are created equal." "I didn't know till now," Hershfield said, "that Benjamin Franklin signed a paper without reading it.

THE STORK SITS DOWN

Even from the lands of the dictators, where everyone is supposed to snap into action at the bark of the Big Boss' command, comes news of another sitdown strike. That faithful old bird, the stork, is taking its own sweet time about fetching in the bambini.

In Germany, the harsh decrees of Herr Hitler and the shining example of Herr Goebbels have availed not to people the Fatherland with enough new legions of little goose-stepping Nordics. There, the birth rate has declined steadily from 23 in 1922 to 18.9 in 1935.

HIM—AND GOD

Quotation from a ceremonial chant broadcast throughout Germany in praise of Hitler:

"You, our Fuehrer, walk among the people as their redeemer. You teach the youth of the country to die for the Reich. National Socialism will open the gates of eternity."

DID YOU KNOW?

That out of 80 million adult Americans, only about four million will file returns this year. And that less than two million of the four million will pay any income tax. From these statistics it can be seen that seventy-eight out of eighty million Americans earn so little their incomes are not taxable—even though the tax on single persons begin at the low income level of $1,000 a year, with married couples on all earnings over $2,500 a year.

COLLECTIVISING THE NOVEL

Collectivist novels are on their way, according to Theodore Dreiser. And he says it's all the fault of the movies.

In Hollywood, Dreiser says, the story is only the beginning. An idea may be good but its never great until it has been embellished by experts. If humor is needed, humor specialists are summoned. If love is needed—well, they've plenty of masters on hand.

So, in the near future, we may see novels with authorship credited as follows:

"Story by Sinclair Lewis; gags by Harpo Marx; description of gowns by Adrian; descriptions of outdoor scenery by Ernest Hemmingway; descriptions of indoor scenery by Joseph Hergesheimer; musical conversations by Deems Taylor; battle scenes from a report of the U. S. Navy; love scenes by Mae West; title page by Elmer Adler; typography by Goudy; composition by members of Local 66, International Typographical Union."

This may not be art. But who'll care?

HOW TO TELL LOVE

Dr. John Rockwell, former medical adviser at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, gives the following simple rule by which anyone can tell if she or he is in love. "If someone else takes your girl out," he said, "and you don't feel the urge to punch him in the nose—well, you're not in love."

Roumania Drops Anti-Jewish Labor Bill

Bucharest (WNS)—A bill to forbid the employment of any but native-born Roumanians has been tabled by the cabinet. The proposed measure, which has been debated for nearly two years, would have been a serious blow to thousands of Jews who became Roumanian citizens after the war when Roumania acquired former Russian, Austrian and Hungarian provinces.

Director of Moscow Yiddish Theatre Dies

London (WNS)—The death in Moscow of Alexander Granowsky, founder and director of the Moscow Yiddish State Theatre, at the age of 47, is reported in dispatches received here. A native of Mos-

the Munich Art Academy when the revolution broke out.

In 1918 he established a Yiddish theatre group under the auspices of the People's Commissariat for Education. After a year in Leningrad, the troupe moved to Moscow where it took the name under which it became world-famous. It made two tours of Europe in 1928 and 1929.

YISHUV PLANNING GENERAL STRIKE

Will Protest Laxity of Government

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency) — The Palcor Agency has learned that plans are being made for a nation-wide general strike by all elements of the Yishuv as a protest against the laxity of the Palestine Government in suppressing lawlessness.

The Vaad Leumi submitted a statement to J. Hathorn Hall, Acting High Commissioner, for transmission to the British Colonial Office, in which indignation and protest were expressed against the failure of the Government to provide security. Demands were voiced for an extension of the defense available for the protection of the Yishuv.

A lengthy statement outlining its views on the current state of lawlessness in Palestine was also issued by the executive of the Jewish Agency which declared that a change in administration was imperative for a restoration of order. The statement read in part: "In view of the state of terrorism the Executive of the Jewish Agency feels it necessary to publish the following. The disturbances which began last year have not ended."

Lt. Gen. Dill informed the forces on October 12 that the strike and rebellion had been called off and expressed the hope that the campaign of murder was ended. The Jewish Agency regrets that the hope was not realized, apart from a short period of relative peace before the arrival of the Royal Commission and during its stay. Terrorism and murder have not ceased. Recently they have increased, especially in the North.

A. Z. A. INSTALLS CHARTER OFFICERS

Last Sunday afternoon, fifteen members of the Roger Williams Chapter, No. 283, of the Aleph Zadick Aleph, were given the secret ritual of the organization. In the evening, before a large gathering of parents and friends, the following charter officers were installed: Aleph Godol, Erwin G. Robinson; Aleph S'gan, Norman Pansy; Aleph Mazkir, Norman Kahnovsky; Aleph Gizbor, Elliot Summer; Aleph Shotare Godol, Bernard Berman; Aleph Shotare Kotone, Wallace Genser; Aleph Shofer, Matthew Marks; and Aleph Kohen Godol, Rudolph Volpe.

The following were installed as chairmen of committees: Membership, Sanford Parnas; cultural, Irwin Zura; athletic, Neville Winkler; social, Bernard Berman; social service, Lester Bernstein; religious, Irwin Silverstein; initiation, Millard Levye; property, Robert Klein; and finance, Matthew Marks.

Matthew Robinson was installed as chairman of the chapter's advisory board, and the following were appointed as members of the board: Dr. Joseph Smith, Isaac Feinstein, and Samuel Freedman.

Tonight the chapter is cooperating with the Men's Club of Temple Emanu-el in presenting the Friday evening services. Rudolph Volpe, Aleph Kohen Godol, will give the responsive reading, and two members of the chapter will act as ushers.

Sunday afternoon the chapter will be guests of Worcester at the Blackstone-Narragansett Regional Conclave meeting. In the evening there will be a banquet, commemorating the tenth anniversary of the Worcester chapter, and a dance.

ADA DANFORTH

Somerville, Mass. — Dirt farmers who have been identified with progressive movements to solve farm problems through continuous improvements in grading, packaging and marketing are meeting representative consumers face to face in an unusual conference Friday (March 19th) at the headquarters plant of First National Stores here. The farmers are describing to consumers, members of a group which represents over 60,000 club women, the constructive measures being taken by local producers in New England to merit the patronage of their neighbor-producers.

B'nai Brith Will Hold Meeting, Elect Officers

Henry J. Greenblatt, of Boston, will be guest speaker at a meeting of Roger Williams Lodge of B'nai B'rith on Monday evening at the Jewish Home for Aged auditorium. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held.

Among the invited guests will be the Ladies' Auxiliary, which numbers 75, and the local chapter of Q. Z. A.

BEARD EXPOSED NAZI 'PROPHECY'

Historian Called Alleged Attack False

The anti-semitic "prophecy" attributed to Benjamin Franklin in releases by the Nazi government to German newspapers was identified today as a document which Charles A. Beard, one of America's foremost historians, denounced as a "bare-faced forgery" when the text appeared in 1934 as propaganda for the antisemitic, secret organization called the Silver Shirts.

Professor Beard published his findings in the Jewish Frontier for March, 1935, after telling of his search through Franklin's writings and researchces by "scholarly assistants" in the records.

Barefaced Forgery

"I cannot find a single original source," he reported, "that gives the slightest justification for believing that the 'Prophecy' is anything more than a barefaced forgery. Not a word have I discovered in Franklin's letters and papers expressing such sentiments against the Jews as are described to him by the Nazis—American and German.

"His well known liberality in matters of religious opinion would, in face, have precluded the kind of utterances put in his mouth by this palpable forgery."

"The 'Prophecy', described by the Nazis as speech during the Constitutional convention, quotes Franklin as saying:—

"I warn you, gentlemen, that if you do not exclude the Jews for all time, your children's children will curse you in your graves."

Feared Germans

Professor Beard cited "positive evidence" that Franklin "held Jews in high regard" and added:—

"Strange as it may seem to the creators and circulators of this alleged 'prophecy', the only racial immigration which Franklin feared was the influx of Germans—He wrote in 1753, 'Not being used to liberty, they know not how to make modest use of it.'—yet he did not propose to set up a bar against them."

Revisionists Who Attacked Agency Are Fined $15 Each

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—A minimum fine of $15 or the alternative of a month in prison was imposed on 37 Revisionists who were tried before a panel of British and Arab judges for their attack upon the Jewish Agency office in Jerusalem on February 14.

Although a plea of guilty was entered by the Revisionists' lawyer to the charge of damaging property and assault, he persented an argument defending their conduct. The counsellor, Isaac Benjamini, contended that a Socialist dictatorship existed in the Jewish Agency Executive where-by immigration certificates were granted only to Socialists.

Alleging corruption, the Revisionist lawyer charged that certificates were sold in order to secure a majority for the Socialists in the Zionist Congress.

Therefore, he said, the Bertarim (youth branch of the Revisionist organization) were not represented at the Congress and in the Hachshara, or training, which was governed by Socialists and Communists. Therefore, he declared, the Revisionists had no other course than to act as they did.

R. I. Founders Sponsor Luncheon, Entertainment

A luncheon and entertainment was held at Zinn's last Tuesday afternoon by the R. I. Founders for Tubercular Patients, under the supervision of Mrs. Jack Resnick, Mrs. Charles Adelberg, president of the organization, and Mrs. Ephraim Rosen, president of the Ladies' Hebrew Union Aid, addressed the assembled members.

"Little Rhody Revue," under the direction of Jack Hughes featured the afternoon's entertainment.

Rules "Shylock" is Term of Contempt

Elizabeth, N. J. (WNS)—The term of "Shylock" when applied to a court officer constitutes contempt of court, Vice-Chancellor Malcolm G. Buchanan ruled in acting on a petition by Nathan B. Reibel, receiver for the Schoonover Taxi Service, against Lester D. Sensbach, who had addressed him by mail as "Shylock Reibel" in making payments on a bankruptcy judgment. Vice-Chancellor Buchanan deferred sentence on Sensbach.

Nazis Duck Apology; Deny Insult

INSIST ATTACK WAS JUSTIFIED

Official Nazi Reply Not Made Public

Berlin (WNS)—Justifying the barrage of vituperation in the Nazi press against Mayor La Guardia, American women, institutions and high officials on the ground of "Germany's heroic anger" against La Guardia's utterance and the "malicious and unture attitude on the part of the American press respecting German problems', the German government declined either to apologize or express regret for the Nazi press attacks and contented itself with informing the United States Ambassador, Dodd, that no insult to America was intended.

Although neither Berlin nor Washington made public the official German reply to Ambassador Dodd's representations, both preferring to regard the incident as closed, the Nazi authorities issued what they called a semi-official communique summarizing the assurances given by Foreign Minister von Neurath to Ambassador Dodd.

It was learned that the conservative and radical factions in the Nazi government were sharply divided on the issue and the reply was a compromise. Even the semi-official summary, however, was not mentioned in the Nazi press.

Beth-El League to Sponsor Dance

A dance, sponsored by the Beth-El League, will be held in the vestry of the Temple tomorrow evening, with Joe Priest and his swing band furnishing the music.

The committee in charge consists of Mathew Marks, chairman, Eliot Summer, Barbara Finkler, Everett Kauffman, Shirley Norman, Irving Chucnin and William Payton. Patrons and patronesses are Rabbi William Braude, Miss Mattie Pincus, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kaplan, and Mr. and Mrs. George Silverman. Refreshments will be served.

Gives Hospital World's Most Powerful Machine

London (WNS)—A new type of X-ray machine which is said to be able to develop power equivalent to $40,000,000 worth of radium has been presented to St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London by Mrs. Meyer Sassoon, member of the famous Jewish banking family of that name. A special laboratory to house the machine is now being built.

College Celebrates Growth

The Hebrew Union College, then and now:—The growth being celebrated in the annual Founder's Day ceremonies at the Cincinnati rabbinical institution this week (Saturday, March 20) is reflected in the above picture. The aerial view depicts the College campus, as it is today, on a hill-top in the beautiful Clifton section of Cincinnati. The inset picture shows the building in downtown Cincinnati which the College occupied from 1881 to 1913. During its sixty-two years of existence the College has graduated more than 400 rabbis.

Columnist Asks Why Hitler Hasn't been Assassinated

Savannah, Ga. (WNS)—"The sooner the people of Germany awaken to the fact that they are shirking their duty as long as they allow Hitler to live, and take the necessary steps to correct this matter, the quicker the world will be at rest," wrote King Dixon, publisher of the Savannah Times, in his front page column, "One Man's Opinion."

Commenting on the storm of attacks in the Nazi press against Mayor LaGuardia of New York, Mr. Dixon calls Hitler " a swine" and declares that "if instead of putting Hitler's statue in a chamber of horrors, it would far more benefit the world if Hitler were dead and in h------ burning with all the fury that fire can burn. Even that would not be punishment enough for one like Hitler who has stooped to the low levels with which he has been ruling Germany.

"Where is the true Germany? Where are the true Germans? Why is it that they are not doing something in reference to Hitler? If Hitler were assassinated immediately the person committing the good deed should be tried and convicted for neglect of duty for not having carried out his duty long ago. Nothing seems too bad for Hitler to attempt . . . LaGuardia has been charged as being New York's chief gangster. If the statement LaGuardia made about Hitler makes him a gangster, this country and Germany need many more gangsters like LaGuardia who will arouse the world to thinking and knowing what this man Hitler is like and take proper steps to erase him from the face of the earth."

ANNOUNCE DATE OF TEMPLE CARNIVAL

In view of the early Shevuoth festival this year the annual Carnival and Bazaar of Temple Beth Israel will take place the last week of April, that is April 25th, through May first. As usual valuable prizes will be distributed.

Chairman for the Bazaar is Samuel R. Finegold; ticket chairman, Jack Levitt; and treasurer Samuel Baker. A committee of men and women is being organized to cooperate with the officers selected to make this an outstanding event. The proceeds of the Bazaar go towards the maintenance of the Religious School and the Temple activities.

Fraternity Entertains at Open House

The Delta Chapter of the Zeta Epsilon Pi Fraternity held open house last week at the Biltmore Hotel for prospective pledgees. Guests included members of the Chi Chapter of the Providence, the Gamma Chapter of Boston, and several prospective pledgees.

Leo Waldman, chairman of the Membership Committee welcomed the guests and explained the activities and goal of the Fraternity. Other speakers were Miss B. Goldman of the Chi Chapter, and Morris Margolis of the Gamma Chapter.

An invitation was extended to the local chapters to attend an installation dance of the Gamma chapter. After a business meeting, moving pictures were shown. Refreshments were served and dancing followed.

Donation Sent to Rabinical College

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rabbinical College was held on March 11 at the Community Center, at which time $100 was sent to the Rabbinical College in Lithuania, and donations were also made to two colleges in Poland.

Plans are being made by the Auxiliary for a banquet to be held some time after Passover. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. M. Dluty, president. Refreshments were served.

MODEL SEDER

The Religious School of Temple Beth Israel will hold a Model Seder conducted by the children themselves and the Rabbi on Sunday morning. There will be a complete Seder Table prepared for each child by the Religious School Committee of the Sisterhood, with Mrs. Barney Taber in charge. Parents and friends are invited to

PLIGHT OF JEWRY IN EUROPE TOLD

Beth-El Speaker Lays Troubles to War

Explaining the warfare on Jews in certain countries, Marvin Lowenthal, lecturer and historian, told assembled guests at Temple Beth-El last Wednesday night that the roots of the situation lay in the World War, and its consequent mass unemployment.

"Ever since 1914, when the World War broke out, indeed for some years before, our whole Western system of doing business—our whole Western system of Economy—what we call the free, liberal, competitive, capitalistic system has been on a decline, or in some countries, broken down altogether. The result of this decline has been mass employment.

"When whole populations have been driven to despair," Mr. Lowenthal said, "governments find that the only way to hold their country together and make them satisfied with the lower standard of living is to instill the spirit of rigid discipline and a warlike attitude."

"The Jews," he continued, "are the cheapest, easiest and safest enemies for those nations, and enemies are needed to stage any type of war. For details as to just how this war is being carried on, I recommend that you read "The Brown Network," published under Lord Morley, which explains how, under the influence of Germany and German money, this underground war is going on, not merely against the Jews of Germany, but against the Jews of South Africa, England, South America and against the Jews of the United States."

"One hundred thousand Jews," Mr. Lowenthal stated, "have been forced to emigrate from Germany and 40,000 have died natural or unnatural deaths. The problem now is to help the 100,000 Jews under 25 years of age that are still in Germany, and to see that those young people find a place in the world. We must help them with our whole-hearted support, both moral and financial."

"In Poland," he continued, "the campaign against the Jews is not being waged as openly as in Germany, but there is still an invisible boycott that is pushing many out of their professional and business lives. And the poverty of the Jews in that country is increasing to a terrible proportion. . . . Something must be done."

Germany May Withdraw From N. Y. World Fair

New York (WNS)—Failure of the German consul general in New York to show up at a dinner given to consular officials by the World's Fair Commission is believed to foreshadow Germany's withdrawal from participation in the Fair.

World's Fair officials are understood to be pleased at this possibility since they expect that if Germany is represented anti-Nazi groups will make the German building the focal point of attack and protests.

HERZL'S LIBRARY

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—New material was added to Zionist literary treasures in Palestine with the arrival of the entire lite rary output of Theodor Herzl, founder of the World Zionist Organization.
