The Cause of The Next War

Hitler in his Nazi bible, "Mein Kampf" says, "Propaganda is most effective if only a few points are emphasized repeatedly. The bigger the lie the better chance it has of being accepted as the truth."

And Propaganda Minister Goebbels listens to his masters' voice when he says "Nothing has happened in Europe since Adolf Hitler has come to power that should occasion a new war." Then he proceeds in his customary deceptive manner, to prove that the Jews will be responsible for the next war.

But Roy W. Howard, president and editor of the World-Telegram, after a five week tour of personal investigation of European capitals says on the question of war: "Britain, branded as washed up after Munich, and apparently rent internally by Labor's distrust of the Tory government, has pulled herself together in the traditionally British fashion . . . Once war is accepted as inevitable the continuing unfavorable trade balances of England and France will naturally urge them toward war before their own economic structure is seriously threatened."

There can be no doubt whose explanation is nearest the truth.

Conference Appeal

The growing concern of thoughtful citizens with the necessity of preserving democratic principles and with combating symptoms of prejudice and intolerance is one of the most hopeful indications that the traditional American principles of liberty and tolerance will be safeguarded against the subversive forces that are attempting to foist totalitarian ideologies upon this country. On every side, also, is being expressed the conviction that the maintenance of democratic institutions is bound up with the invigoration of religious faith, with its emphasis upon the sovereignty of God and inherent worth of the individual.

There is an increasing need for Americans who love liberty and do not want to see this country disfigured by the religious and racial hatreds which have torn other lands, to mobilize with their fellows who are attempting to defend our historic freedoms.

Whether democracy as we understand it in the United States can be successfully safeguarded against the forces which are attempting to subvert it will depend upon whether the nucleus of citizens most urgently concerned with spiritual values can successfully compete against communist, fascist and Nazi forces for the allegiance of the mass of people. It is essentially a struggle for education for religion and democracy against propagandas of hatred and strife.

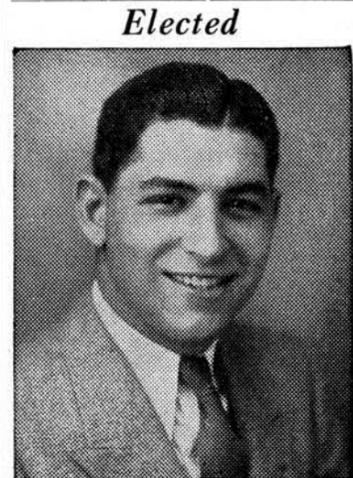

The National Conference of Christians and Jews, founded in 1928 by Newton D. Baker, Charles Evans Hughes and Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, is earnestly striving, through a national educational program, to see that this contagion does not spread here. Through local round tables of Protestants, Catholics and Jews, work in churches, schools, colleges, women's organizations, farm, labor, veterans' and business groups, it is endeavoring to immunize Americans against propagandas of hatred and attempting to mobilize them for cooperation on matters of com-

Jews Flee Danzig In Fear

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Julius Bisno, executive secretary of Alpeh Zadik Aleph, the Junior B'nai B'rith, was elected executive chairman of the National Conference of Jewish Youth Organizations, which was created last week at a meeting of representatives of 15 national youth organizations with a combined membership of more than 100,000.

204 Families Aided By Moes Chitim

Announcement was made today by Harry M. Tannenbaum, chairman of the Moes Chitim drive, that the campaign this year was successful. Mr. Tannenbaum extended thanks to his committee, and to the public for their contributions.

According to Mr. Tannenbaum's report, the total income was $1539.05, and the total distribution was $1556. The latter figure includes the cost of printing and postage, which amounted to $38.75. There were 204 families aided, which included 96 secret cases, 47 Ladies Aid cases, and 65 Jewish Family Welfare cases. Inmates at the State Prison and patients at the State Infirmary were also aided.

RAISE $9,000

NEW YORK. — About $9,000 as a sustaining fund for the Palestine Symphony Orchestra was raised Tuesday night through a benefit concert at Carnegie Hall. Participating in the concert were Alexander Kipnis, basso; Joseph Lhevinne, pianist; Chemja Vinaver, conducting a choir of refugees; Ruggiero Ricci, violinist, and others.

A 1939 Chevrolet Coach will be awarded to the holder of the lucky ticket at the Carnival. In addition to this, on each night of the Carnival there will be awarded, absolutely free, a $42.50 Harvard bicycle, and a $39.50 studio coach. To be eligible to win these prizes, however, the holders of the tickets, must be present at the Carnival on the particular night. In addition to the prizes, raffles will be held at booths for liquor, candy, cigars, food, jewelry and similar items.

Oppose Open-Door Policy for Refugees

Fortune Survey Reveals Opinion

NEW YORK. — The Fortune magazine survey, published in April, reveals that Americans overwhelmingly oppose opening this country's doors to refugees; a third of them believe that anti-Semitism is growing in the United States and less than half of the Gentiles blame Jews for anti-Semitism.

The first question: If you were a member of Congress would you vote yes or no on a bill to open the doors of the U. S. to a larger number of European refugees than now admitted under our immigration quotas? The reply was 83 per cent against opening gates, 8.7 per cent in favor, and 3.3 per cent who didn't know.

The second question (Do you believe that in this country hostility toward the Jewish people is growing or not?)—similar to one asked in the Survey five months ago—the answer is still no. Of people with opinions on the subject a good majority do not believe that anti-Semitism is on the march in the U. S. The nation doesn't want immigrants but it doesn't think it has an active dislike for Jews.

Tailor Who Defied NRA And Went to Jail is Dead

JERSEY CITY. — Jacob Maged, the little tailor who lived to forget his bitterness against the NRA and even ask President Roosevelt for a new code to replace the invalidated Blue Eagle, died last week at fifty-four.

Maged pressed a suit for 40 cents—five cents below the NRA code minimum—and on April 20, 1934, was sentenced to thirty days in jail and fined $100. The case attracted nationwide attention and after serving three days Maged's sentence was commuted.

He returned to his small shop and to his wife and four children. When, on May 28, 1935, the United

Only 2,500 Remain; Liquidate Property

Arrange to Send Children to Britain

DANZIG. — Jews are fleeing from Danzig in fear this free city of 400,000 population and 600 square miles will fall into the hands of Adolf Hitler.

The Jewish community this week is negotiating to send a group of fifty children to England as the next step in evacuation of the entire Jewish population except aged men and women.

Almost 8,500 have left since 1933 and the 2,500 remaining have redoubled their efforts to leave. About 1,000 are expected to migrate in the next few months.

Block Bank Accounts.

Recent decrees have blocked Jewish bank accounts and prevented Jews from selling their property without government consent.

The Jewish community has been liquidating its property in collaboration with the government and negotiations are now under way to sell the big synagogue on the downtown Haymarket Square. The city probably will buy it.

Jews leaving Danzig are permitted to take part of their money and property with them, as compared to only $4 and a suitcase for Jews leaving Germany.

Italian Refugees Smugglers' Victims

PARIS. — The more than 400 Jews from Italy in Nice and Menton and others in the "no-man's-land" near Vintimille were the victims of a smuggling ring duping foreign Jews in the Italian cities of Milan and Turin.

This was established when responsible Italian Jewish leaders arrived in Paris and declared that the Italian Government definitely was not deporting anyone under the decree for immigration of post-war Jewish immigrants, but had ordered foreign Jews to apply to local police for prolongation of their stay.

Anti-Jewish Front Loses Zurich Poll

ZURICH, Switzerland. — The anti-Jewish firm hand Frontist Party lost its six seats for the city of Zurich in the Grand Council of Zurich canton, tabulations of this week election figures showed today.

The defeat of the Frontists was interpreted as a demonstration of the voters' determination to maintain Swiss democratic principles. The population of Zurich canton is almost entirely German-speaking.

JERUSALEM. — Four Jewish deaths were added to terrorism's toll in Palestine, and two further Jewish victims were wounded. The explosion of a land mine in Emek Jezreel accounted for three of the deaths.

Fatally wounded when a lorry carry Abramovitz, 20-year-old member of the Youth Aliyah group at Ain Harod; his mother; and Menashe Dachinger, 19-year-old immigrant from Austria. Another settler, Dan Lieber, was seriously injured in the explosion.

The fourth death occurred when Simon Shraga, 25-year-old ghaffir who had been guarding an electrical repairman when the latter was killed in Haifa, succumbed to his wounds.

A Jewish passenger was seriously wounded when shots were fired at a Jewish bus at Ramleh, enroute to Jerusalem; Michael Hassidoff, 34-year-old native of Jerusalem, was the victim.

Prof. Lerner Warns Of Father Coughlin

PLAINFIELD, N. J. — Professor Max Lerner, of Williams College, told a conference sponsored by the New Jersey Federation of Y. M. and Y. W. H. A.'s last week that Father Charles E. Coughlin, of Michigan, was the "foremost anti-Semite in the country."

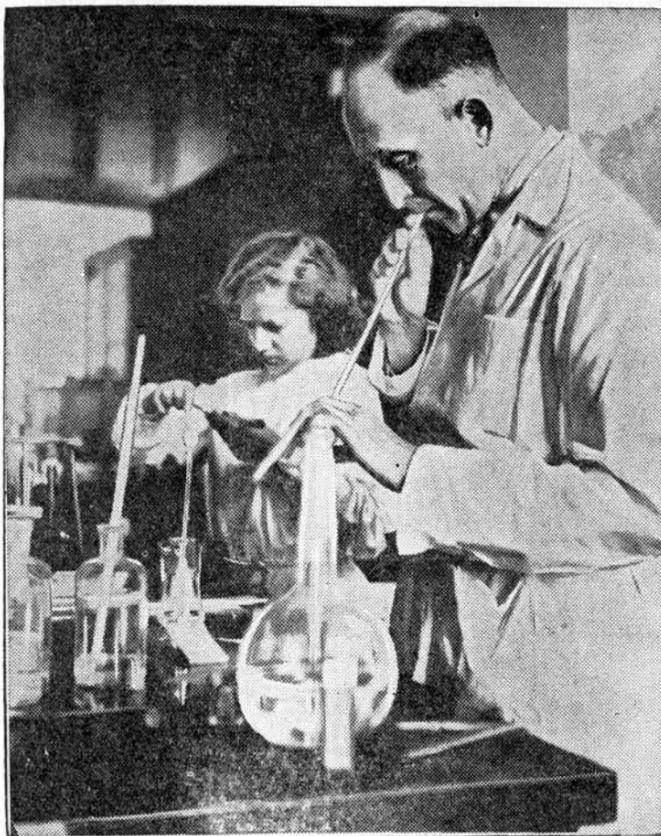

Lerner said Jews "should shout from the housetops that what faces them today is not alone a Jewish problem," and must "make clear to the Catholic community that the problem of Coughlin is theirs. They must clean house. The Catholics like the Jews in this country, are in a minority."

Immigration Chief Cites Unemployment Speaks Before HIAS Convention

NEW YORK. — There is little likelihood that American immigration laws will be liberalized, despite the increasing seriousness of the refugee problem in Europe, James L. Houghteling, United States Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, said in addressing the fifty-fourth annual convention of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society.

"There are many telling arguments in favor of temporary increased immigration quotas, but from many contacts with members of Congress, I would be remiss if I told you that there was any likelihood of a change," he said.

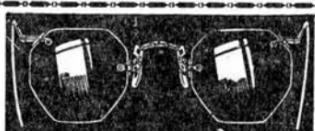

He denounced the attacks on Jews and other minority groups in the Fascist countries and declared that the dictators "are trying to force us into sacrifices which will help their position at our expense."

He said he did not believe the refugee plan worked out by the Rublee committee had any chance of success and declared that the committee's efforts "will have to go unrewarded for the present."

Complicating the refugee problem, he said, was the unemployment situation in this country.

"These aliens will be competing with American citizens who are seeking employment, and in view of the amount of unemployment here we cannot close our eyes to that problem," he said.

Tuesday mornings, 9 o'clock. On Tuesday morning, the memorial service (Yiskor) will be held at 10:15 o'clock. Rabbi Israel M. Goldman will preach on the subject, "We Must Give Battle."

BITTERSWEET

Had you not thus unkindly
Severed our lives in twain
How could I madly, blindly
Distill a song from pain?
Had you not caused this sorrow
That aches and will not heal,
How could each cold tomorrow
Bring forth my lyric squeal?
And, oh, how could my singing
Have had so sad a theme
Had you not come a-ringing
The knell of our bright dream?
Ah, well, I'll not be keeping
You, love in ignorant bliss;
I'd have done my metric weeping
Pretty much like this . . .

Undercover Malice

Down toward the Southern part of our State, in Arctic, to be exact, a laundry man vents his spleen on his Jewish acquaintances by putting Anti-Semitic literature in all laundry bundles turned out by this firm . . . If you should find a story of how miserable a race you are in your week's finished or unfinished wash, you'll probably know whence it came . . . Among the many reasons advanced for Hitler's quick, daring march into Czechoslovakia, even tho' he knew that Uncle Sam wouldn't like it, the following one ought to take the cake: Figures Herr Adolph—the newspaper space given to congressional opposition to the New Deal policies show that the people in this country are not opposed to Dictators . . . How about sending him a one-way ticket to come over and try to prove his theory . . .

Here and There

We don't know whether Nat Cohen is allergic to ferry boats or water—but we do know that he got awfully nish-gut while crossing from Newport to Jamestown, a few days back . . . The four most excited fans among the 18,000 at the Bruin-Ranger Hockey game last Sunday in the Boston Gardens were Sylvia Hyman, Mac Feldman, Eleanor Sweet and Bill Dwares . . . With all this talk and publicity given to gold-fish swallowing, a little research reveals that it's old stuff . . . The Russell Brothers, a vaudeville act years ago, used it as a daily routine . . . This week's favorite gag: Two women were continually chattering during the picture in a movie theatre to the distraction of Cohen, sitting just in front of them . . . Finally he turned around and said, "Pardon me, madam, but I can't hear." . . . Snapped one of the women, "You're not supposed to . . . This is a private

Easter Thoughts

Merchants report a healthy pre-Easter business—but dollars and cents sales are lower . . . That reminds us they're doing it cheaper in songs too . . . A few years ago there was "I've Got Five Dollars," . . . Then came "Brother, Can You Spare A Dime?" . . . Now one of the current hits is "A Penny Serenade," . . . Not to mention "I've Got Plenty of Nuthin'," or "Never Felt Better—Never Had Less." . . . A group of people are forming an opposition block to keep orchestras from swinging the classics at the World's Fair concerts . . . Should they swing 'em, what they'll be called we don't know, but they'll probably do "Bach, Bach, Bach to Baltimore," and "Haydn Go Seek." . . .

Leon Glantz tells the story of a gal who worked Saturday on the sales floor, and instead of returning her payroll voucher, she took it with her—and tried to cash it in a bank . . . Was it a coincidence or otherwise that the Third Seder Celebration sponsored by the local National Labor Committee falls on the Seventh Day of Passover? . . . A Jew and an Englishman were having an argument about their respective races. "Your people," said the Jew, "have been taking things from us all your lives. The Ten Commandments, for instance." "Well, yes," said the Englishman, "we took them from you all right, but you can't say we kept them."

Where Now, Refugee?

By Hendrik Willem Van Loon

Recently British Guiana has been mentioned as a possible haven of refuge. If that plan should be tried, I am sure the Dutch government would be delighted to open up the whole of Surinam to foreign immigration. And the Dutch government could offer not only thousands of square miles of uninhabited wilderness but could throw in a great deal of practical knowledge upon this difficult subject. For it can look back upon almost three centuries of failure to make anything whatsoever out of this tropical jungle. For whatsoever man buildeth, a million varieties of insects, armed with sharp drills and saws and poisonous acids, will destroy again as soon as it has been erected; and all efforts at settlement have been costly disasters.

Further towards the south lies Brazil, considerably larger than the United States and in parts still unknown to the White Man. Alas, Brazil too, in the interior, suffers from climatic conditions which make the country unfit not only for the White Man but also—it appears—for those native Indians who live there and who belong to the lowest forms of human life to be found anywhere on our fair planet.

There is still a lot of room for white settlers all over South America, for the number of white inhabitants is comparatively small. But we no longer live in the year 1839. The mixed populations of these countries, intelligent by nature and now beginning to enjoy all the advantages of a widespread education, no longer are willing to let the white stock lord over them after the manner of the good old days. And they may have something to say about it. But on the other hand, they realize as well as the rest of us that an immigration of scholars, and distinguished physicians and scientists of every sort will be a tremendous asset to them, just as it is to us over here in the United States.

That, however, is not the problem that faces us right now. Where can those others go who are neither famous scientist nor physicians, but just plain, everyday little people who managed to get by because they live in countries that needed their services as middlemen? The American continent offers no open spaces which in their present conditions are fit for this type of settler. How about the rest of the world?

I talked to a distinguished official of the Dutch colonial government in Batavia. I had asked him about the attempts the authorities of the Netherlands East Indian Government had made to settle experienced Dutch farmers in the more moderate zones of Borneo and New Guinea.

The official was telling me of the endless difficulties connected with such plans and of the invariable disappointments that had followed in their wake—deserted farms and broken families and large sums of money wasted beyond the hope of recovery.

After years of eager anticipation I finally reached Australia.

The trouble is that Australia has gradually sunk in the center like the leaden cover of one of those royal caskets you sometimes see in a crypt in a European cathedral. As a result of the curious geological formation, the rivers have no chance whatsoever, for most of them drain into lakes that are situated in the heart of the desert—just as the river Jordan loses itself in the Dead Sea.

The Australians know this and, being exposed to the swarming millions of Japan and of the Dutch East Indian archipelago, they have adopted such stringent anti-immigration laws that nobody who is not an Anglo-Saxon is allowed to settle permanently there.

In New Guinea the density of population is quite small and the high plateaus of the interior could feed millions of people. But how are newcomers going to maintain themselves against those cunning natives, whose entire religious life is bound up with the practice of head-hunting?

The future white settler would rather starve at home or die in some ghetto than run the risks connected with a "free existence" in this gruesome jungle.

And then we proceed a little further towards the west and we come in contact with highly civilized Malaysians. Unfortunately, being highly civilized, their death rate is proportionately low, and Java and Madura with more than forty million people living on their fifty thousand square miles, offer "standing room only" to all

Demand Pawtucket Election on May 16

A demand for favorable legislation permitting new municipal and General Assembly election in Pawtucket on May 16 was made by former Representative William B. Jack. Criticizing delay in action, Mr. Jack said the Pawtucket situation was "permitted to exist" by the former Democratic administration and now "apparently condoned", by the present Republican administration.

Governor Vanderbilt, when informed of Mr. Jack's statements, said: "We have a committee investigating election frauds. The General Assembly is not in a position to act until the committee makes its report."

Heresy

NEW YORK. — Hersey charges against five members of Mercer University staff are being weighed by officials after 13 fundamentalist students protested against higher criticism of the Bible.

Dual Personality

NEW YORK. — The dual personality of Arthur Garfield Hays, who makes money defending the "interests" in Wall street and spends it (along with his time) fighting for civil liberties can be explained, Mrs. Hayes says, by genetics.

Election Boomerang

MADISON, Wis. — The regime of reaction in Wisconsin on which the G. O. P. pinned its hopes—as a means of showing up all progressives—is proving a boomerang. Governor Heil is going to such extremes that even his friends are worried.

Rejects Compromise

Insisting upon passage of his own administrative control bill Mayor John F. Collins rejected a charter compromise plan this week and accused Governor Vanderbilt of standing "in the way" of saving Providence taxpayers approximately a million dollars a year.

Ship Sabotage

LONDON. — Sabotage on ships plying between England and Belfast is investigated after fire on cargo vessel and reports of fire on a passenger boat. The Irish Republican army is blamed.

Library Appeals For Assistance

An appeal for further financial assistance from the City of Providence was made this week by the library trustees of the Providence Public Library who said that the library faced a curtailment of its services because of dwindling return from its investments.

Brain Wrinkles

NEW YORK. — Dieting for brains is a new wrinkle that has been worked out by two New York doctors. It seems that a certain type of imbecility results from failure of body to utilize a growth acid. They say that proteins will fix it.

Refuse Town Sewage Outlet

North Providence this week had a million dollar sewage system but no place to dispose of the sewage. The City of Providence in conference with town officials refused to permit the city system to be used as an outlet because the present sludge disposal plant is now being operated at capacity and in order to handle the North Providence sewage, the plant would have to be enlarged which would cost $349,000, an expense unwarranted at the present time according to city officials.

On Civil Liberties

WASHINGTON. — The Civil Liberties committee of the Senate may get funds to continue probe of vigilante groups on the West Coast. Washington Senators say informal poll indicates enough demand to vote further funds.

Definition of Life

NEW YORK. — Arthur Rubenstein, noted virtuoso, explains with all the emphasis of a grand piano (fortissimo) that by life one means living, not escaping. Vitamins? Phooey. Give him four lobsters and a pound of caviar.

Streamlined Gas

NEW YORK. — Streamlined gas is chemists' latest touch of ultramodernity and they mean it. The molecular particles in fuel are too be reshaped so they burn slower, with more power. A new industrial revolution is predicted.

It's a Kids' World

NEW YORK. — The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has placed nurse-stewardesses on long distance trains and they'll read to Junior while pa and ma are at dinner. Unattached adult males, however, won't get a tumble.

It's a Paradox

NEW YORK. — James Barton has been using naughty words on the stage in the play "Tobacco Road" with impunity. But just because he was a little careless of his language in private, he was hauled into court and reprimanded by the judge. Mr. Barton says his accusers should take the beam out of their own eyes.

Maps Program

"King" Jeff Davis, emperor of 1,500,000 "subjects" organized in the League of Hoboes of the World, has plenty of smokes for a change as he prepares to open the thirty-first annual convention of the Hoboes of America, Inc., at Cleveland, Saturday. Besides a general "new deal" program, Jeff's program for 1939 includes shower baths in railroad boxcars and a one-cent fare for hoboes. Jeff defines a hobo as one who will work. But a tramp, he says, won't work, while a bum can't.

AT THE THEATRES

FAYS

Fays Theatre presents this week "Blackwell's Island," starring John Garfield and Rosemary Lane, with Stanley Fields, Victor Jory and Dick Purcell. It's a sensation portrayal of a man who risked his life to expose the shameful truth—that America harbored a jail where convicts had to pay for beds, for food—even for life itself. Stanley Fields is the man you love to hate in the picture. On the stage of the theatre are five acts that will appeal to children and every member of the family. There are the Hollywood Monkey Stars, Floyd Christy Company, with Hal Gould, and Virginia Burke, singing star direct from the stage production, "Fabulous Invalid. Two additional acts round out the bill.

MAJESTIC

Shirley Temple reigns as "The Little Princess," this week at the Majestic theatre. In a signed advertisement by Darryl F. Zanuck, vice-president in charge of production of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation, Mr. Zanuck said, "I believe that this is the finest motion picture with which I have ever been associated. After you have seen 'The Little Princess' I am confident that you not only will agree with me that the reason lies in the truly great artistry of its star, but that in this picture, you will have seen one of the most important films turned out by the motion picture industry." Supporting Miss Temple are Richard Greene and Anita Louise. The second film feature at the Majestic, is "Winner Take All," with Gloria Stuart and Tony Martin.

A new synthetic fiber made from castor oil and coal tar is expected to have wide use in women's hosiery, and is already used for toothbrush bristles and wire insulation.

Major Bowes Gives Historic Rare Document to University

NEW YORK. — Major Edward Bowes has just presented to the Hebrew University in Palestine a rare document containing the autograph of Haym Salomon, the Hebrew patriot of the American Revolution, and the friend of Washington, Madison and Jefferson, according to an announcement by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, president of the American Friends of the Hebrew University.

There are only a few documents of Haym Salomon known to exist, and the Hebrew University has long desired one. It will be added to the collection of autographs of famous Jews, formed by Dr. Abraham Schwadron, who donated the collection to the Hebrew University Library in 1927. It is the largest collection of its kind in the world.

The document which Major Bowes has presented to the Hebrew University is a promissory note for 1767 pounds ten shillings, which bears Salomon's endorsement. This is the first document of Salomon's to be placed in any library in the Near East.

Haym Salomon was one of the men who financed the American Revolution, together with the friend Robert Morris, whose autographed, dated May 14, 1785, has also been presented to the Hebrew University by Major Bowes.

Mother of 2 Relinquishes Law School Scholarship

NEW YORK. — Mrs. Clara Labenow, thirty-one, who graduated from Hunter College last February, sent word from her home in Queens that she has relinquished her recently won Brooklyn Law School scholarship.

She said: "Max (the husband, a dentist) wants me to be at home with him and the kids (Harvey, eleven, and Rita, eight.) I'm not going to study law after all."

And the Dr. said: "I don't mind if Clara's away one night a week (she attended Hunter's evening branch for seven years to get her B. A.) but being away all day is another matter."

The happy Labenows romance goes way back to high school, when the then Mr. Labenow was Clara's art teacher.

Where Now, Refugee?

newcomers. Apparently few things are quite as difficult in our planet as to take one group of people who for thousands of years have lived in a certain spot and persuade them to take root elsewhere. In Europe it has been tried time and again but what happens is clearly shown in the case of the Sudeten Germans. After four hundred years on a foreign soil, they have still as "foreign" as on the day they arrived.

But then someone suddenly had another bright idea. There was the island of Madagascar. Alas, nine-million Madagascarians find it already too hard to make a living to be very eager to welcome an influx of outsiders.

And so we sail across the Mozambique Channel and we reach Africa, and names begin to loom up that sound mighty promising, such as the high plateaus of Tanganyika, with less than two people per square mile, and Angola and Southwest Africa. A city-bred populace has no more chance to survive in those unsettled regions that a pet Pekingese that should suddenly be turned loose upon the streets of New York to dig for itself.

Then what is the solution? On paper there still exist hundreds of thousands of square miles which some day can very possibly be brought under cultivation.

Suppose that we ask the Japanese and the Chinese and the Lalayans, and the rapidly awakening masses of India and Africa. They may give us an answer that will come both as a shock and a revelation, but most of all as a shock, for it will probably read as follows:

"All these spaces on the map are undoubtedly still available for colonization. But from now we have reserved them for ourselves. The defeat of the Western democracies by the autocracies showed us the inherent weakness of modern Europe. From now on it is Asia for the Asiatics and Africa for the Africans. You taught us shoot. Now we shall use our knowledge to send you back where you came from and we shall erect signs: "No white man need apply!"

Perhaps you think that I exaggerate!! I recommend a study of the Japanese and the native Indian press. You will then begin to understand that all this talk of giving unoccupied territories to white refugees has become an academic problem. For the white men, by their endless quarreling, have so completely destroyed their former prestige that they may consider themselves very lucky if they keep what they now have.

Center Redoubles Campaign Efforts

One-Third of $75,000 Raised

Redoubled efforts on the part of all workers marked the progress of the Jewish Community Center's $75,000 Building Fund Campaign which now stands at $24,000 with approximately one-quarter of the number of prospects covered.

Three special meetings, all well attended, were the order of the day on Sunday last. The Initial Gifts Committee, Samuel Soforenko, chairman, met for breakfast at 10:30 o'clock in the Narragansett Hotel. There was a meeting of all captains at the Center at 6:30; and at 8:15 approximately 200 workers gathered for discussion and entertainment.

In the morning plans were formulated for an intensive wind-up drive on the part of the Special Prospects group.

Team captains were exhorted to impress on their workers that to date less than 1000 persons are responsible for the total amount contributed to the campaign although the drive has only a few weeks more to run. The necessity of continuing their solicitations during Passover week when there will be only one regular report meeting was emphasized.

At the meeting later in the evening it was announced that a boudoir set contributed by a woman worker will be awarded to the woman or girl who succeeds in bringing in the largest number of donations of a value later to be announced. A prize will likewise be awarded to the gentleman or youth who is similarly high in regard to total number of contributions.

The meeting was preceded by a program of English and Yiddish language motion picture presented by Samson's.

Mr. Workman today issued the following statement: "As the Center's Building Fund Campaign enters the third week of its duration, I am frankly appalled by the large number of prospects who yet remain to be seen. Considering the small percentage of givers whose donations make up the $24,000 already contributed, there is no one who can say that our workers have not done well. The problem now consists in so speeding up our efforts that there will be no question of our covering every conceivable prospect. This I realize is no small task, and yet it must be done if this campaign is to achieve its goal—and for the sake of those to whom the Center is or should be a second home, we can not afford to fail.

"May I suggest that those persons who have not yet been approached by a solicitor, send their donations directly to campaign headquarters at 65 Benefit street? By so doing they will lighten considerably the work of the campaign committee."

Sorority, Fraternity Have Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Phi Delta Sorority and Sigma Phi Delta Fraternity was held last week at the Biltmore Hotel, at which time a lecture was presented on "Problems of Jewish Youth Today," by Leo Weiss, of the Hope High School faculty.

A debate was held between the Sorority and Fraternity, "Resolved: That Boys and Girls Should Go Dutch Treat." The debate was won by the negative team, which comprised Henry Pavlow, Aaron Jaffa and Joseph Dressler. The affirmative was upheld by Judith Weiss, Miriam Blackman and Marcelle Horowitz.

The meeting was opened by Abbot Lieberman, chancellor, chairman of the evening, and by Pauline Agronick, moderatrix.

Home Women Meet Next Wednesday
