United Jewish Appeal

Astute campaign managers of United Jewish Appeal drives have long recognized one fact: "The way Providence goes in the United Jewish Appeal, so goes the nation."

In order to maintain this reputation steps should be taken for pre-campaign organization so that the all-important groundwork will be completed prior to the campaign proper which this year will be launched in December.

The necessity of such a campaign is obvious. Hardships in Europe and Palestine, especially severe for Jews, doubles our obligation to go over the top in this year's drive for funds.

Geography

A correpsondent broadcasting from London recently told of seeking shelter from bombs and an hour's rest in the basement of the American Embassy. When he awoke, a radio opeartor told him he had been listening to a short-wave broadcast from the United States on the preliminaries to the world series. It came as a shock to the correpsondent to think of the contrast between bombs and baseball.

Geography has been kind to the American people: geography plus the intelligence and hard work which have created a powerful nation. A soft people could not depend on the protection of geography. Sometimes we wonder whether this fact is escaping us, and whether we are not putting too much confidence in geography.

Ersatz Humor

The German inventor who advertised an unrationed substitute for silk stockings — only to provide his mail-order customers with greasepaint with which to decorate their legs — is described in a United Press story as "over-ingenious." Yet the report adds he was sentenced to four years in prison.

This seems a rather stiff punishment for being "over-ingenious."

Is it possible he was really punished for a much more serious crime, in Nazi eyes: that of having a sense of humor?

Superstition Rules

Hitler's prejudice against the use of vaccine or serums has resulted in an epidemic that may parallel the Black Plague. A reader of the New York Post received a letter, passed by the censor, from a German hospital official who reports that typhoid fever is raging in Western Germany. This is an area where RAF bombs have been dropped in large numbers and may have disrupted sewer systems and water supply.

If sufficient anti-toxin were available thousands of lives could be saved. But, under Nazi rule, human life is cheap, and Hitler's Dark Ages superstitions take precedence over modern medicine.

Palestine-American Trade Increases

Imports Double Total of 1939

JERUSALEM, (Palcor Agency) —Trade between Palestine and America rose considerably in 1939 over that of the previous year. The first quarter of 1940 indicated that despite wartime conditions the rise was continuing.

Palestine imported $7,645,000 worth of goods from America in 1939, as against $3,169,000 in 1938. The imports of the first three months of 1940 have also been considerable.

Palestinian exports to America reached $639,000 in 1939, compared with $555,000 in 1938. In the first quarter of 1940 they aggregated $307,00.

The most important item exported from Palestine to America has been potash, while the chief goods imported from America have been motor cars, well-boring machines, machines for oil refinery, wheat, flour and apples.

Herschel Grynszpan Faces New Penalty

VICHY, France. — Herschel Grynszpan, young Polish Jew serving a 20-year sentence for the 1938 shooting of the counsellor of the German Embassy in Paris, has been transferred to Berlin for new judgment, according to dispatches arriving here this week.

Grynszpan was convicted of fatally wounding Embassy Counsellor Ernst vom Rath on Nov. 18, 1938. Violent anti-Jewish demonstrations broke out at once throughout Germany, and German Jews were assessed a fine of $400,000,000.

Contemplate Strengthening Of Palestine Air Defenses

LONDON. — High Commissioner Sir Harold MacMichael is consulting with the military authorities regarding the strengthening of Palestine's defenses against air attack, Colonial Undersecretary George Henry Hall told the House of Commons in answer to a question by Conservative Member Robert H. Morgan. This is particularly being undertaken in view of the bombing attacks on Tel Aviv, even though that city contains no military objectives, he said.

Mr. Morgan asked what was being done about compensation for the victims of air attacks throughout Palestine. Mr. Hall declared that Colonial Secretary Lord Lloyd had been in communication with the High Commissioner concerning a scheme for compensation of such victims, and that the details of such aid were being worked out locally.

Anti-Nazi Takes Teaching Position

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Dr. Ernst W. Meyer, former First Secretary of the German Embassy in Washington, has accepted a chair in political science at Bucknell College. He resigned from his diplomatic post about three years ago because of his opposition to the Nazi idealogy, and he has since been extremely active in behalf of democratic causes.

Bund Members Plead Not Guilty to Charge

NEWTON, N. J. — Nine members of the German-American Bund pleaded innocent last week before County Judge John C. Losey to indictments charging them with "promoting hatred against people of the Jewish religion." They were held in $1,000 bail each.

William Kunze, the Bund's national leader, was not in court to answer the indictment, but John Winans, counsel for all the defendants, said Mr. Kunze would plead Nov. 15. The attorney presented an affidavit saying that Mr. Kunze was in California.

Seize Bundist As Bombing Suspect

NEW YORK. — Edward A. Kangesier, former member of the German American Bund, was arrested for questioning in connection with the July 4 bomb explosion at the World's Fair in which two detectives were killed and two others seriously injured.

Kangesier, 38, was seized at his furnished room. Police found a blackjack made in Germany, ten tear-gas pistols and 200 tear-gas cartridges in the room which was littered with Nazi pamphlets, a swastika flag and anti-

'Unemployment Must Be Solved' - Metcalfe

Speaks Before Emanuel Men

The use of force to get rid of un-American groups was disavowed last Monday night by John C. Metcalfe, former agent in charge of the Dies Committee's investigations of subversive activities, when he addressed the opening meeting of the Temple Emanuel Men's Club.

Traces History

On the basis of his personal experience, Mr. Metcalfe traced the history of the German-American Bund, which he succeeded in joining in order to expose it from the inside, for the Chicago Times. He described how the Bund works with German consular officials, the North German-Lloyd Steamship lines, and other German sponsored agencies in this country. Similarly, he disclosed the working of the Italian

Order French To Post Business Signs

PARIS. — Nazi authorities ordered all Jews in German-occupied France to display at their places of business by Oct. 31 signs 7⅞ by 15¾ inches, printed in black letters on a yellow background:

"Juedisches Geschaft" and "Enterprises Juives" (Jewish Business" in German and French.)

German-occupied countries are free to direct their own political life and decide such questions as marriages between whites and blacks and capitalistic vs. Marxist ideals, a German official told foreign correspondent this week.

Million a Month Required by J.D.C.

CHICAGO. — Minimal needs of over $3,000,000 during the last three months of 1940 for the overseas relief and reconstruction activities of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee were reported at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the committee held here last Sunday.

A detailed statement of requirements and applications presented to the Board indicated the urgent need of $1,000,000 a month during the immediate future. Income in sight from the United Jewish Appeal falls far short of meeting these pressing requirements, it was pointed out, and only redoubled support by American Jewish Communities can provide a partial solution to the problem.

We're right in the middle of the danger season, what with football and a presidential campaign going in full blast, when men in particular are likely to suffer from glottic shock, a fancy name for temporary paralysis of the voice, brought on by excessive cheering and yelling . . . The Morris Davidsons observed their silver wedding anniversary with a trip to New York . . . Following the Bar-Mitzvah of Leonard Chusmir son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Chusmir, an open house was held last weekend in a Succah specially constructed for the occasion . . . There were loads of people there, far too many to mention . . .

Miscellany

Among those who have popped the question recently, was Harry Platt, former basketball star at Brown University, who will soon wed Bessie Cohen . . . And, then there's Bertha Rakatansky and James Finn, and Zelda Refkin and Myer Weinberg, who will be middle-aisling it in the near future . . . The Zionists will install their new officers a week from Sunday, at the Crown Hotel, with Dr. Kurt Blumenfeld as guest speaker . . . Frank Lazarus is directing Sigmund Fischer's campaign for a re-election . . . Historian Discovers Text of Proclamation Made in 1799

LONDON, (Palcor Agency) — As long ago as 1799 Napoleon Bonaparte, then in the midst of his Near Eastern campaign, issued a proclamation to the Jewish people in which he offered Palestine "to the Jews as its rightful heirs, thus fulfilling the prophesies of Isaiah and other ancient seers and removing the ignominy of two thousand years," according to a hitherto undiscovered text published for the first time by Dr. Franz Kobler, eminent historian.

Dr. Kobler's find is disclosed in the September issue of the New Judaea, a monthly publication of this city, which contains the first of a series of articles by the historian.

Napoleon's proclamation, the article declares, was accompanied by a covering letter addressed to the Chief Rabbi of Jerusalem.

The offer of Palestine to the Jews apparently came just as Napoleon's brilliant Egyptian campaign approached its ignominious conclusion in Syria, where the city of Acre, now in Palestine, held out and forced his retreat. Perhaps he hoped that with the co-operation of the Jewish people the outcome might be different. At any rate, he was the first potentate of modern times to recognize publicly the right of the Jewish people to re-establish their national home in the land of their forefathers.

G-Man Lists 3-Point Program To Fight Un-Americanism

Fascist movement in the United States and how it cooperates secretly with Nazi directed movements here.

Have Million Members

"The Nazis, Fascists and Communities," Mr. Metcalfe said, "had a combined following of 1,000,000 members, of whom at least half were active supporters. This membership is concentrated in two to three hundred organizations, the number varying with the pressure of exposure from the F. B. I., the Dies Committee, and private investigatory agencies."

Proposes Program

Rather than the use of force, Mr. Metcalfe proposed the following threefold program to stop un-American activities: The improvement of the economic status of the desperate unemployed, who become receptive to un-American propaganda. An "Americanism" educational program directed at youth, with safeguards against the "smearing" of innocent and conscientious educator. And, the prompt and thorough enforcement of appropriate laws, already on the statute books, among others, those requiring the registration of foreign propagandists and organizations.

Need Money

"To this end," Mr. Metcalfe continued, "the F. B. I. must be given sufficient money to do an effective job, as it is overburdened and swamped with work at this time."

"If any American believes another country has a superior way of life," declared Mr. Metcalfe, "tell him to take the next boat there. That's merely being king to dumb animals."

The meeting was presided over by Daniel Jacobs, president of the Men's Club.

War Jeopardizes South African Jews

LONDON. — The position of the Jewish communities in the Union of South Africa has become definitely more complicated and, all things considered, more precarious since the outbreak of the war, reports a correspondent of "The London Jewish Chronicle."

This report runs counter to the general optimism shared by South African Jews following the parliamentarian victory of General Smuts against the anti-Semitic Purified Nationalist Party of Dr. Malan.

"After that election," writes the correspondent, "it was current Jewish opinion that we were safe for some eight years . . . for it was inconceivable that the government majority could be so considerably reduced at the subsequent election as to enable the Malanites to get into power."

Firms Aiding Nazis To Be Boycotted

NEW YORK. — The Joint Boycott Council of the American Jewish Congress and Jewish Labor Committee announced the opening of a special information bureau on industrial connections with Germany to cope with numerous inquiries on the entanglements of American business with Nazi firms.

"We shall boycott all firms which continue to extend aid to the Nazi juggernaut through subsidiaries and patent agreements, all well as those concerns in the United States owned by German parent companies," said Dr. Joseph Tenenbaum, chairman of the Council. "The fear of losing their investments in Hitler-controlled territories must not be allowed to sabotage our national defense," he declared.

War Forces Cost Of Living Upward

JERUSALEM, (Palcor Agency) —A steady rise in the cost of living of both rural and urban workers since the beginning of the war is shown in surveys carried out by the Statistical Department of the Jewish Agency.

Taking the months of August, 1939 as a basis (100), the general index advanced to 110.8 in October, 1939 and when gradually to 114,8 in June, 1940.

Ghetto Wall Erected in Warsaw

Report Epidemics In Enclosed Area

Claim Wall Is Health Measure

NEW YORK. — Confirmation of reports that the Germans had constructed a concrete wall, eight feet high, around the central ghetto district in Warsaw and that typhus had broken out in this enclosed area was contained in a Warsaw dispatch from Alvin J. Steinkopf, Associated Press correspondent, first and only non-German correspondent permitted to make an exhaustive inspection of the Government-General area of Poland.

Effective Blockade

The ghetto wall surrounds 100 or more city blocks and is "so tight a cat couldn't get through it," Stinkopf said. Eighteen streets leading into the ghetto are unobstructed but at a moment's notice the Germans can put policemen at these entry points and effectively bottle up the 500,000 Jews and Poles residing in the area.

"Barrier" Against Disease

The Germans claimed the wall was not built as an anti-Semitic move but simply as a "desperate" health measure to prevent the spread of typhus. According to the German authorities, several months ago 30,000 persons became infested with typhus-spreading lice and were kept isolated in the ghetto area.

The Germans do not hesitate to cooperate with or ask the help of Jewish scientists and physicians in their health campaign, according to Steinkopf. "Jewish doctors and nurses have been called from Berlin in considerable numbers to staff Jewish hospitals and quarantine homes," he said.

The first Junior Congregation service of the season at the Sons of Abraham Synagogue will be held on Friday night, and Saturday morning. Marshall Rakusin will preach. The service will be continued throughout the winter. Refreshments will be served after each service, through the compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bomes.

Brown Offense Ready for Crusaders

With all injured regulars back in uniform, the Brown grid squad is drilling for the 17th annual Holy Cross game Saturday at Providence and expects to take the field against the Crusaders in the best condition of the season.

Four first-string linemen who did not play against Tufts because of minor injuries are back in action, bringing the forward wall to full strength for the first time since the Wesleyan game. This quartet includes guards John Occhiello and Arnold Eggert, center Bill Crooker and end Bob Priestly. All four are veeteran operatives and should enable Brown to set up a formidable defense against the tricky and powerful Crusader attack.

The first-string backs were used sparingly last Saturday, and Dick High was given a day of complete rest so that the offense should be in tip-top shape for the Purple Riders' invasion of Brown Field.

A Program to Save America!

WENDELL L. WILLKIE

Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for President, offers a three-point program to save America from enemies without and from within the country:

1. Unite our people.
2. Rebuild industry and end the depression.
3. Build an adequate national defence.

Says Candidate Willkie:

RELIEF

"If I were elected President of the United States, no person would be taken off relief until that person was provided with a job."

WAR

"I believe we should keep out of war at all hazards. If our sons were to fight today, the condition of the equipment of the United States Army is such that they would be mowed down."

SOCIAL SECURITY

"I would spread social security benefits to those not receiving such benefits."

• • •

Willkie knows war. He fought for America as a volunteer in 1917. He knows business; he is a great industrial leader. He knows people; he is the second generation of immigrants.

Coughlin Takes Road to Fascism

No Longer Disguises Anti-Semitism Belief

Paper Launches Vitriolic Drive

NEW YORK CITY. — Father Charles E. Coughlin's weekly newspaper, Social Justice, is launching an anti-Semitic campaign more violent than any previously undertaken by the magazine, according to the Hour, usually well informed anti-Nazi weekly.

No Opportunity Overlooked

"No opportunity for anti-Semitic insults is overlooked by the priest who has declared he is taking 'the road to fascism.' Typical of the campaign of slander is the headline splashed across the cover of the magazine on Sept. 9th: 'Jews Put Pressure on Willkie to Hit at Father Coughlin.' "

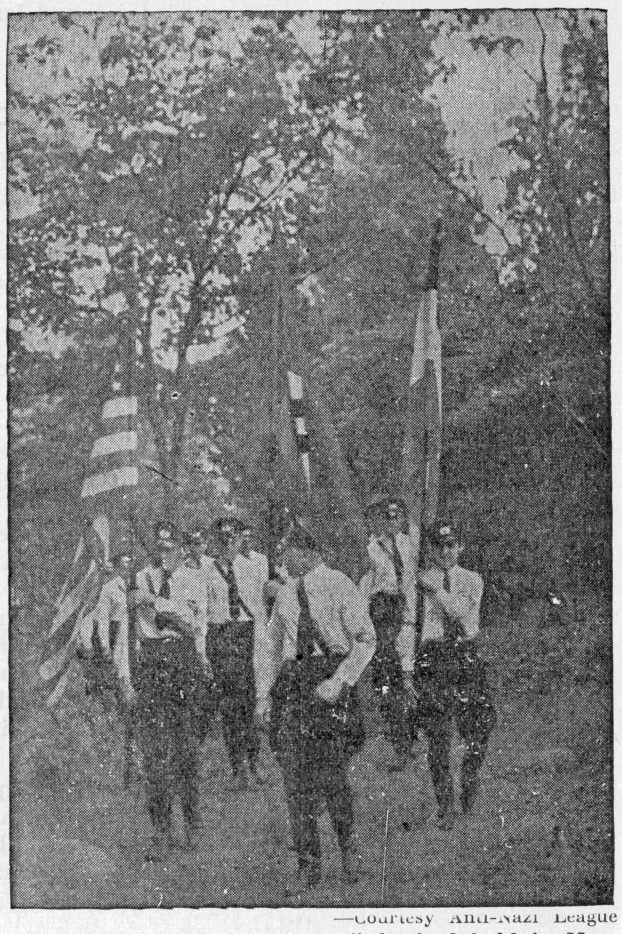

"There was a time," said The Hour, "when Coughlin attempted to disguise, if somewhat cynically, the extent of his anti-Semitism; he said he was opposed only to 'the bad Jews.' Now the mask is off. There are no longer any reservations. For out-and-out savage Jew-baiting, Social Justice is coming to match Der Stuermer."

Employs Threats

The Hour reported that, in a recent issue, "Coughlin not only insulted the Jewish people; he openly threatened them. In an article lamenting his inability to arrange contracts with radio stations, the robed fascist accused the Jews of being to blame for his difficulties—neatly side-stepping the fact he is off the air as a result of clauses in the National Association of Broadcasters' Code."

The earliest existing portrait of a Jew was done by Rembrandt in 1632.

Warn Jewish Job Seekers Lying About Religion Futile

WASHINGTON, D. C. — That Jewish job-seekers who "think they can get a job by lying about their race and religion" are only fooling themselves for "most people don't get away with it" is one of the warnings sounded in "Your Job—How To Find It, How To Hold It", a new 32-page study of "do's" and don'ts" for Jewish job hunters, published this week by the B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau and the Chicago Jewish Vocational Service.

Warns on Discrimination

The section on discrimination cautions Jewish job-seekers against blaming "inadequacies in themselves, mistakes in applying for work, or wrong attitudes on their own part, on discrimination;" points out that rumors of discrimination against Jews in certain fields and among certain firms are often not true and should be checked; warns against "becoming emotional" about discrimination lost that "give an employer an excuse for keeping a prejudice which he may have groundlessly built up"; and stresses the fact that a job secured by lying about race or religion often results in the employee "let out with a black mark against him for dishonesty" for an employer "will always think more of you for being honest, and you yourself will be able to function much more successfully on a job where you know you are not hiding something from the employer."

Special Responsibilities

Emphasis is also laid on the fact that Jewish workers have special responsibilities to other Jewish workers. In this connection the brochure declares that "every mistake you (a Jewish worker) make, every attitude that you express, and any inadequacies that you display, will reflect not only on you, but on other Jewish persons who are applying for work. Because of this fact, what you do on the job is not only important in terms of keeping your job, but also in terms of making it possible for other Jewish job-seekers to get work. Although it may be unintelligent for employers to think that what one Jewish worker does is true of all Jewish workers, many are thus inclined. You, therefore, have this special responsibility of making it possible for other Jews to get employment. You, in your job, are acting as a living advertisement for other job-seekers."

Berlin Given Plaque For Patriotic Song

NEW YORK. — Irving Berlin, the song writer, was presented with a plaque for his song, "God Bless America," at a banquet of the National Committee for Music Appeciation at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, which marked the launching of an educational campaign in behalf of operatic music. Memorial to Alice Seligsberg Begun

Junior Hadassah Sponsors Project

NEW YORK. — A cable from Jerusalem to Junior Hadassah, the Young Women's Zionist Organization of America, this week announced the laying of the cornerstone of the Alice L. Seligsberg Hospital in the Children's Village of Meier Shfeyah as a memorial to Miss Seligsberg, who died in New York last August. Meier Shfeyah, which is a home-school for 175 underprivileged and refugee children, is maintained by Junior Hadassah.

Miss Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah and friend of Miss Seligsberg, representatives of the Hadassah Medical Organization, of the national Jewish bodies and of the Palestine Government and the boys and girls of Meier Shfeyah gathered at the cornerstone ceremony to honor Miss Seligsberg, who had devoted a life-time of service to Zionism.

She was one of the early presidents of Senior Hadassah and was Senior advisor to Junior Hadassah from 1924 to 1938.

Democracy Slurred In N. Y. Textbooks

Foreign Language Books Exposed

NEW YORK. — Despite the order of the Board of Education removing the textbook "Andiamo in Italia" from the New York public school curriculum on the grounds that it contained Italian Fascist propaganda, this same glorification of the Fascist State is reaching American school children through other Italian language textbooks, the Italian News Service, anti-Fascist, organization, declared here this week.

As evidence, a spokesman for the organization quoted from four textbooks, each of which, it was said, painted a heroic picture of the Fascist State or pictured liberalism as decadent. While the books were for general student use, the Italian News Service could not say that any of them were required textbooks in the New York schools.

Attention was originally called to the existence of Fascist propaganda in Italian language textbooks when the volume "Andiamo in Italia" (Let's Go to Italy") was singled out by Girolamo Valenti, editor of the anti-Fascist newspaper La Parola, who pointed to certain paragraphs, an excerpt of one of which declared:

Remarking of Italy

"Fascism has remade the Italy which the parties and politicians, all of whom were solicitous for their own clientele, had greatly reduced. The old democratic and liberal governments, unable to cope with the ever increasing disorder, were daily renouncing their authority, allowing the mob to take the upper hand."

McGrath Promises Liberal Legislation

Green Reviews Nominees Record

With the experience of a generation of fighting for Democratic principles, J. Howard McGrath, Democratic nominee for Governor will continue to foster reforms that will benefit the entire community, Senator Francis T. Green asserted in endorsing the candidacy of Mr. McGrath.

"After serving his apprenticeship with the young Democrats," Senator Green said, "Mr. McGrath contributed much to the Presidential victory of the Democrats in Rhode Island in 1928 and led the party in 1930 to what would have been a victory had not the corrupt forces of the Republican machine so delayed and manipulated the counting of votes that that true will of the people was postponed for two years.

"In 1932, after the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president, the executive ability and fine record of Mr. McGrath was recognized and he was appointed United States District Attorney for the District of Rhode Island. As Federal prosecutor he not only conducted the routine duties of his office well but succeeded in drawing aside the curtain hiding the machine which had too long been in financial control of the Republican party.

"It was Howard McGrath," continued Senator Green, "who had the courage to direct an investigation into the wire-tapping scandal which was of tremendous importance to every citizen who looks upon his home as his castle and guaranteed to be such by both the Federal and State constitutions."

"The election of Howard McGrath as Governor," Senator Green concluded, "would ensure to this state liberalism in legislation and an honest and efficient administration."

Obituary

MRS. SARAH COHEN

Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday for Mrs. Sarah Cohen, 104-year-old widow of Dr. Bernard Cohen, whod died on Monday at her home, 232 Elmwood avenue, where she had resided for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Cohen was born in Posen, Germany, and came to this country at an early age. She was often quoted by friends as saying that she came to America before street cars did. She resided in Albany, N. Y., where she was married to Dr. Cohen, who died in 1891 at the age of 58.

Mrs. Cohen's two children, Joseph B. Cohen and Molly Cohen, a well-known milliner in Providence before the World War, both died years ago. The only surviving relatives are sons and daughters of four sisters.

Rabbi William G. Braude, officiated at funeral services, and burial was in the family plot in the Temple Beth El Cemetery, Reservoir avenue.

List Achievements of Vanderbilt Leadership

Main Objectives Of Party Outlined

Pointing to achievements during the past two years under the leadership of Governor William Vanderbilt, leading Republicans throughout the State this week said his re-election would permit a continuance of the reforms that have reversed the wasteful tendencies of preceding administrations and made Rhode Island a more secure and better place in which to live and work.

The most significant accomplishments of the Republican Party were reorganization of the State government; passage of a Civil Service law; the appointment of an industrial commission and reform of the caucus and election laws. It will be noted, a spokesman said that the present administration accomplished a great deal more than was promised in the 1938 campaign platform.

For nearly the two years, the State, under Republican leadership, has demonstrated what could be done through hard work, common sense, ability and the determination to be fair with all the people.

The main objective of the Republican Party is to so reconstruct the State Government as to make Rhode Island once again attractive to private industry; in other words, to effect the industrial rehabilitation of the State. In this way only can our people find profitable employment. The Republican Party, further believes, that the biggest and most worthwhile service the State can perform is to make possible a condition whereby the average Rhode Islander can have a private job.

Britain's Control of Red Sea Shown by Immigrants

JERUSALEM, (Palcor Agency) —Further heartening evidence of the British Navy's complete control of the waters of the Red Sea despite Italy's frantic attempts to throttle naval passage at the Suez Canal was demonstrated here when 76 Jewish immigrants from Yemen arrived in Palestine this week.

Coming all the way from the southwestern tip of the heel of the Arabian peninsula boot, from Iman Yehya's domain almost directly opposite Italy's Ethiopian territory, the 76 Yemenites who safely traversed the historic Red Sea in the face of Italian boasts of power over navigation there constituted the first group of their countrymen to immigrate into the war.

Their safe arrival was hailed as new proof for the world, and particularly for the Moslem tribes of Arabia's million square miles, that British sea power was still invincible wherever it might be challenged.

Practical Householders to Convert Air-Raid Shelters into Wine Cellars

JERUSALEM, (Palcor Agency) — The light touch of levity that can make even total war conditions bearable is admirably illustrated in a typical comment on air-raid shelters by "Caisson," columnist of the Palestine Post, who writes:

"It is understood that practical houseowners are constructing their air-raid shelters so as to make use of them after the war as wine cellars."

And touching on the possible water shortage that may confront the community should the supply be forcibly interrupted, the columnist avers:

"It is understood that a number of people in this country are prepared to help the conservation of water by abstaining from drinking it."
