A Deserving Cause

The Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League to Champion Human Rights, of New York City, has inaugurated a campaign for new members. The League is asking for the support of every American in its battle against Nazis and Nazi-inspired forces in the United States.

The need for fighting these subversive forces is urgent. The Nazis are using their stooges here to develop discord in our ranks just as they did in France and other European countries.

They are not satisfied with what they have done in Europe —the very nature of their economy requires that they continue expanding. We must halt their expansion here!

The U. S. Government can act only when there is definite evidence of illegality on the part of the Nazis. The Non-Sectarian League serves to focus the searchlight of publicity on these subversive activities and thereby destroy them.

The League has done heroic work in fighting the spread of the Nazi cancer in our country. It deserves and should have the support of every citizen who wants to preserve democracy and freedom in America. Do your share!

Smear Campaigns

Scurrilous and vicious campaign literature, designed to make special appeal to racial or religious prejudice, will be under investigation by a Senate committee appointed to police recent elections.

While every fair-minded citizen condemns this type of campaigning, no redemial legislation can be enforced for it would be an infringement on the traditional freedom of the press.

The only cure is an enlightened citizenry which, after all, is the chief protection for the free ballot.

Changing Names

Membership in the Nazi Bund isn't the safest possession these days, what with increasing anti-Nazi feeling, federal investigations and the federal law barring Bundsmen and Communists from employment on national projects.

But the Bund has changed their enrollment technique to meet these restrictions. Now instead of becoming a member, one merely signs up as a sympathizer. Correct names or addresses are not required.

This change in tactics is not likely to dupe anyone, especially the F.B.I. It is the one welcome sign, however, that recent exposures are causing the Bund loss of revenue and membership.

Among the "forgotten men" seem to be the third-party candidates in the 1940 Presidential election.

Hadassah Pledges Million Dollar Fund

CINCINNATI, Ohio. — Unanimous determination to aid Great Britain in its struggle against Nazi and fascist powers through the extension of a new war emergency health program in Palestine; and a growing realization of the need to protect democracy in this country characterized the five-day sessions of the twenty-sixth annual convention of Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America which closed last Sunday at the Hotel Gibson.

More than 100 delegates representing nearly 500 chapters and groups in 46 states attended the gathering and pledged themselves to raise a total of $1,150,000 for Hadassah's hospitalization, Youth Aliyah, public health, child welfare, land reclamation and supplies work during the next twelve months.

Delegates To Attend Labor Convention

War Problems To Be Discussed

Delegates from Providence will attend the 16th Annual Convention of the National Labor Committee for Palestine, which will open on November 23 in Mecca Temple, New York City. Those from the Jewish National Workers' Alliance will include Max Berman, Joseph Biller, Harry Chaet and Israel Resnick. Delegates from the Poale Zion will be Alter Boyman, Solomon Lightman and Samuel Schprecher.

The business sessions will deal with the problems of Palestine during the war period, and the task of mobilizing American Jewish support for the Histadruth, that it may carry on its manifold economic and social activities. Stress will be placed on the position Palestine labor holds as a stronghold of democracy in the Near East and its vital services rendered the British military forces, by supplying trained mechanics, pilots and ground crews, as well as fighting manpower.

Relief Groups Cable Appeals for Money

Facilities Taxed; Fear Epidemics

NEW YORK. — The forced evacuation in the last two weeks of more than 10,000 Jews from the southwest German Provinces of Baden and the Palatinate. and their internment in concentration camps in southern, unoccupied France, has been reported to agencies here, according to the New York Times. The situation has brought new and additional problems to the organizations engaged in helping refugees in Germany, France and other European countries, it was stated.

Situation Desperate

Cabled appeals for immediate assistance said the relief problem was most acute at Camp de Gurse, near the Spanish frontier in southern France. About 9,000 persons, in age from six months to 98 years, have been sent there by the Germans from the Palatinate, Baden and near-by regions. Most of the refugees in this camp were said to be women and children.

Make French Responsible

The French had been forced by the Germans to assume responsibility and care for these refugees, it was stated, and reports received here indicated that such aid was at a minimum. It was noted that the French authorities had a problem caring for their own nationals because of scarcities in necessities of life.

The Jews reported sent out of the Southwest German Provinces were permitted to take only a minimum of money and clothing, amounting for an individual at the most to $2.50 and very little beyond the clothes they wore.

Jewish Population in U. S. Declines; 4,771,000 in Nation

PHILADELPHIA. — The rate of growth of the Jewish population of the United States declined between 1928 and 1937, according to a comprehensive survey featured in the newly issued forty-second annual volume of the American Jewish Yearbook, published by the Jewish Publication Society under the editorship of Harry Schneidermann, assistant secretary of the American Jewish Committee.

The survey, covering 4,694 cities, villages and rural areas, was made by Dr. H. S. Linfield, special agent of the United States Census Bureau, and financed by the American Jewish Committee.

The total number of Jews in the United States in 1937 was 4,771,000 or 3.69 per cent of the population. This represents an increase of 543,000 in ten years, including a net increase of 100,000 owing to immigration. During the previous decade, 1918-1927, there was an increase of 839,000, including net immigration of 320,000.

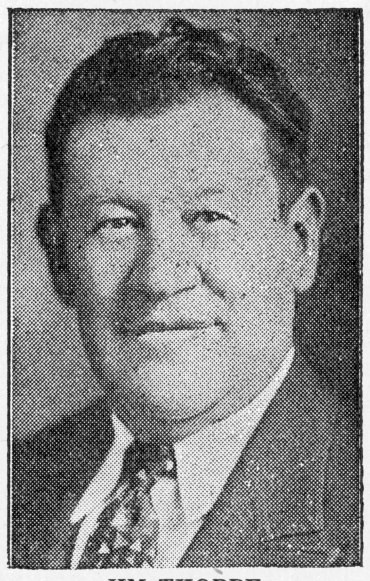

Of the 15,757,000 Jews in the world, 7,428,000 reside in Central Europe, where they constitute 5½ per cent of the total population.

Emanuel Men To Hear Jim Thorpe, Olympic Star

Jim Thorpe, world famous Olympic star, and often regarded as the greatest all-round athlete America has produced, will address a meeting of the Men's Club of Temple Emanuel next Thursday evening, on the subject, "Thirty Years An Athlete."

Thorpe was the first man in history to win both the Decathlon and Pentathlon, the hardest events in the Olympic games. In addition to those triumphs, he had brought fame to the Carlisle Indian Institute, where, under tutelage of Glen Warner, he became the greatest football player in America and starred and won championships in every other competitive sport at school, including basketball, hockey, boxing, tennis and track.

In addition to Mr. Thorpe, Daniel Jacobs, president of the club, will introduce Tuss McLaughry, Brown football coach, Denny Myers, Brown line coach, and "Jake" High, former Brown football star, who will relate his experiences in winning over the Carlisle Indians, the team that in 1912 Thorpe led to such a personal triumph over Brown, that local newspaper headlines read: "The Real Score—Thorpe 32, Brown 0," and the account of the game read, " . . . overshadowing everything, the magnificent work of Capt. Jim Thorpe, the world's champion athlete, and the greatest halfback that ever ranged the gridiron."

Vichy May Lift Ban Against Some Jews

VICHY, France. — Minister of Justice Raphael Alibert, who, in the absence of Vice Premier Pierre Laval, presided at the Cabinet Council last week, gave a legal interpretation of the statute on the Jews which went into effect in the free zone of France early in October.

His declaration bore particularly on the application of Article VIII, which provides the possibility of certain Jews being made exceptions to the general rules of the statute.

The details of his explanation were not communicated to the public, but it is understood that certain specific cases of Jewish writers, theatrical artists and scientists were considered, with the possibility of decrees on their

Anti-Jewish Laws Spread into Belgium

BERLIN. — A far-reaching law against Jews has been decreed in Belgium by Lieut. Gen. Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen, German military commander in Belgium and Nothern France, it was reported this week.

The chief points of the decree are:

Providence to be Host to Federation Regional Conference

Schedule Conclave For April 5 and 6

Name Sapinsley Local Chairman

The New England Region of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds will hold its seventh annual conference in Providence, on Saturday evening and Sunday, April 5 and 6, Donald Kaffenburgh, regional president, announced this week.

Since 1933, when the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare held its first regional conference in the city of Hartford, representative leaders of New England communities have met annually for discussion of Jewish world affairs, fund-raising, their local social service problems, and interchange of ideas. The regional executive committee meets between conferences to administer regional affairs. Growing out of this clearing-house of experience, with the aid of the national and regional services of the Council, all the larger New England communities today have organized welfare funds, and several have successfully functioning community councils.

Providence leaders active in the Council include Walter Adler, Milton C. Sapinsley, Samuel Workman, Regional Executive Committee members; Isadore Gandal, Regional secretary; and Arthur Levy, Saul Abrams, Rabbi Israel M. Goldman, Jacob S. Temkin, representatives to the Regional Council.

Milton C. Sapinsley, president of the Jewish Social Service Federation, will act as chairman of arrangements, for the April Conference, and other prominent local leaders will take an active part in the planning and conduct of the sessions.

Brandeis Birthday Marked; Proudest Achievement Noted

WASHINGTON. — The 84th birthday of Louis Dembitz Brandeis, retired Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, observed last Wednesday, was marked by special functions, arranged under the auspices of Zionist Districts and other groups throughout the country. Hundreds of congratulatory messages and good wishes were sent by Zionist officials and outstanding individuals from all parts of the nation.

During his 39 years of private law practice before the Boston Bar, Brandeis scuffled with some of the country's best legal talent, over Oregon, Illinois, Ohio and California working hours, over minimum wages in Oregon, and over the municipal subway system in Boston. But his "proudest achievement" was the establishment of Massachusetts savings bank insurance in 1907.

Sees Wish Fulfilled

Brandeis wanted one thing: a method whereby the average man could afford to take out a policy to protect himself and his dependents. He knew that Americans wanted life insurance — more than $1,000,000,000 was invested in policies by 63,000,000 persons. But he also knew that the little fellow couldn't afford the pay the premiums. In many cases the payments would lapse and the policy would be automatically canceled.

The answer was low-cost, state-supervised life insurance, operating without salesmen, sold over the counter in savings banks.

Today more than 150 Massachusetts banks sell such insurance; more than $165,000,00 worth of policies are in force.

Fear Axis May Invade Palestine

Haifa Oil Line Interests Fascists

LONDON. — Military observers in this capital have expressed the fear that Palestine may be next on the Axis schedule following the fascist invasion of Greece.

It is well known of course that Italy and Germany are in desperate need of both crude and refined oil, and the drive against Greece is described as the spearhead of a campaign envisioning the conquest of Persian and Iraquian oil fields. The latter particularly are rich and extensive, and are piped through to Haifa.

Should the Axis powers fail in their Near East drive or meet with stiff resistance, it is asserted by informed observers, the Nazi-Fascist war effort will have received a serious setback.

Meanwhile, in a leading editorial this week, the Evening Standard asserts that among Great Britain's allies in the Near East "must be numbered the Jews of Palestine." The Standard has been known for its pro-Arab stand in the past. In the editorial cited here, however, the Arabs are not mentioned.

The formal season's under way
Evening gowns are lovably gay
Beth-El's dance was a worthy preview
Here's what was seen — and who was who . . .

Many of the season's most beguiling creations made their debut at Temple Beth El's supper dance last Saturday nite in the Biltmore Ballroom . . .

The Beth El affair was one to be remembered . . . Competent arrangements provided an excellent dinner and rhythmic music, and coming as it did, a prelude to a holiday, the crowd was definitely on the gay side . . . Another thing, the dance officially opened the season for "formalities" in our town, and this department is that glad! . . .

Looking about the dance floor is practically a double-jointed process these days, what with the Conga and the Rhumba, but here's who we saw — and—how . . .

Black lace, so wonderful right now, was most enchanting as worn by Marion Mark, with red roses, as the colorful touch . . . Beloved white chiffon was no end chic on Mrs. Mowry Lowe . . . She topped it with a sage green jacket . . . One of our best dressed women, Mrs. Joe Levin, chose a silver-trimmed dinner gown of black crepe . . .

There was sparkle galore to Mrs. Bert Bernhardt's gown . . . It was of black, highlighted by a bodice of gold sequins . . . Mrs. Ted Kolb made an oh-and-ah entrance in a gown of garnet velvet, and her uppish hairdress was most becoming . . . A lovely lady in coral chiffon was Mrs. Walter Gartner . . . The frock had long sleeves and an accordian pleated skirt . . .

Petal pink, sky blue and black striped the jacket worn by Mrs. Arkie Weiner over her rustling gown of black taffeta . . . Mrs. Walter Sundlun was individualistic in a bottle green crepe gown, with folds of lame on the bodice . . . A black bow in her coiffure

Mrs. Horace Dryfoos selected a stained-glass brown dinner gown, fashioned with a wide skirt . . . Mrs. Ezra Sharp had on a gown of white tulle with a bodice of silver paillettes . . . Carolyn Sydell furnished drama for the evening in her white taffeta gown, cut on stunning lines, and an orchid poised in her dark locks . . .

Mrs. Martin Silverstein was there, wearing a gown of dynamic red and blue . . . Carol Parnas appeared in a slim gown of

Demands Unified Leadership

Rutenberg Would End Party Rule

Says Emergency Calls for Action

JERUSALEM, (Palcor Agency) — Unity is the need of the Yishuv in the present grave hour and that can be achieved through the elimination of party rule in the choice of leadership, according to Pinchas Rutenberg, head of the Palestine Electric Corporation, who recently resigned as president of the Vaad Leumi.

With Palestine facing danger, all party controversies must be abandoned, while co-ordination of effort becomes the supreme need of the hour, the famous engineer declared.

He opposed the proposed new elections for the Assephath Hanivcharim (Representative Assembly) and urged the creation of a small executive committee, composed of the most capable people taken from all parties or from no parties.

This executive would be charged with the conduct of the Yishuv's affairs, excluding general policy which would be retained in the hands of the Jewish Agency — which, Mr. Rutenberg said, must assist the Vaad Leumi to become a decisive factor in the country.

Reigning Fashion

It used to be, in days of yore
When torrents set the streets awash
That folks who braved the shower wore
The neat and sober mackintosh . . .
But now when there's a threatening cloud
Upon the thoroughfare one sees
A glossy and transparent crowd
A host of florist's packages!
How blithely rustle through the rain
Those ladies wrapped in cellophane!

Hadassah members' success in saving wrappers was so gratifying to Philip Morris, they renewed their promise to redeem each wrapper, the money to be used for the Youth Aliyah . . . So remember to turn over your Philip Morris wrapper to your Hadassah friends, so that their good work may continue . . . As one wag put it, "Brown gridsters must be taking Greek, for they certainly showed a favored Army team deceptions that would have had Houdini mystified!" . . . There were many optimists from Providence in the stands including Max Grant, Henry Goldberg, Sam Workman, Walter Adler, Dr. Banice Feinberg, Philip Shaulson and Bernard Bell . . .

Out of Mouths of Babes

The number of countries observing Armistice Day was decreased sharply this year . . . A little girl that we know aptly gave the reason in her innocent definition of Armistice Day . . . She said, "It began on November 11, 1918, and every year after that we have had two minutes of peace." . . . We hear that Etta Gorman and Freda Lisker will make important announcements soon . . . Mildred Meyers will middle-aisle it with Henry Levy on Sunday . . . B'nai B'rith is planning a New Year dance to be held at the Narragansett Hotel . . . Earl Shean's orchestra will furnish the music . . . From the amount of interest shown in this affair, it appears that the members will have no difficulty in obtaining a capacity attendance.

Holi Dancing

Entertainment spots throughout the city were heavily attended over the holiday week-end . . . At the Studio Club we spied Charlotte and Harold Dick, and Rosalyn and Lennie Young . . . While in the atmosphere of the tropical Zombie, Rose Lazarus, Dr. Sam Gorfine, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Berman, Harvey Separ, Marion Borod, Leonard Blazar, Norma Harris, David Kaplan and Hinda Pritsker were seen having a good time . . . Mrs. Roland Block was the winner of the Hobby Horse race last Friday night held in the Indian Room of the Narragansett Hotel . . .

Early Birds

Although June is a long way off, the trade is already laying plans for the next Father's Day . . . And, as usual, the necktie industry has kicked in with the largest financial support . . . The Paul Goldsteins, she the former Miriam Schoenberg, have a daughter to worry about now . . While the David Mermelsteins of West Warwick evened matters by having a boy on Armistice Day . . . Among the many Rhode Islanders who pushed their way through Times Square over the week-end were the Milton Rosens . . . Stella Matzner . . Mrs. Joseph Finklestein . . . and many, many others . . .

That's all for now . . .

General Johnson Repudiates His Anti-Semitic Remarks

Rabbi Wise Accepts Published Explanation

Points to Previous Stand on Prejudice

NEW YORK. — Dr. Stephen S. Wise, president of the American Jewish Congress, which has been flooded with demands that some action be taken in protest against the statements of General Hugh Johnson in his column and over the radio, during the presidential campaign, terming the Jews as war-mongers in effect, issued a statement this week welcoming the repudiation by General Johnson of anti-Semitic prejudice.

In behalf of a large section of Jewry, represented by the American Jewish Congress, Dr. Wise stated that the statements made by General Johnson would be forgotten in the light of his own retraction and in view of his previous long-time record of opposition to anti-Semitism and other forms of anti-Democracy.

In his comment, Dr. Wise declared: "Many Americans, non-Jewish as well as Jewish, regretted some things which General Johnson, in the heat of the election campaign, took occasion to say. Jews were naturally most disturbed over the charge, almost explicit, of General Johnson that Jews were war-mongers and were in fact seeking to move our country to go to war against Hitler. Whatever the unwisdom and the inaccuracy of such a statement, I am glad to bear testimony that General Johnson has done a manly and even valiant thing by offering 'An Explanation' in today's issue of the World Telegram. General Johnson virtually says, searching his own soul, as he puts it, and reviewing his own record, that he knows better than that Jews are war-mongers, that Jews have most to lose and least to gain by war and that American Jews are, above all, Americans and always for peace."

Miss Hilda Pritsker sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Florence Soloveitzik of Westerly.

Brown Seeks 7th Win Against Harvard

Recognized as one of the surprise teams of the nation for successive triumphs over Holy Cross, Yale and Army, the Brown eleven will be gunning for its' 7th win in 8 starts against Harvard at Cambridge on Saturday.

A great portion of the team's success has been due to the rapid development of the line. Wingmen John Marsolini and Bob Priestley rate with the best ends Brown has had in recent years; Arnold Eggert, John Occhiello, Tony Rotelli and Lloyd Sheehan have all been consistently brilliant at the guard spots; and Center Bill Crooker has combined with the guards to make the middle of the line exceedingly strong, particularly on defense.

Newport Synagogue Announces Services

Two Yiddish Films at Playhouse, Nov. 24

The Jewish all-talking film, "The Cantor's Son," with Moishe Oysher, well-known Jewish cantor playing the title role, will be shown at the Playhouse Theatre on Sunday, November 24, together with "Fishke Der Krumer," starring Helen Beverly and Izidore Casher.

"The Cantor's Son," sets forth the struggle, loves and disappointments of a small-town Hebrew youth, who makes good in America and goes back to his home town to the bosom of doting parents and his waiting sweetheart. English subtitles make the film easily understood entertainment for those who do not know the Jewish language.

Somber in mood, "Fishke Der Krumer," is particularly significant because of the reassuring message it contains for world Jewry. It tells of two despairing young lovers, the blind Hodel and the lame Fishke, who according to tradition, are wed by decree of the Town Council in the cemetery during a cholera epidemic to appease the evil spirits.

The program will be continuous from 2 o'clock. Admission to adults will be fifty cents, to children, twenty-five cents.

FLAG DAY SUNDAY

The South Providence Ladies Aid Association will hold its annual flag day on Sunday, it was announced this week. Persons wishing to volunteer their services may do so at the South Providence Hebrew Congregation, on Willard avenue.
