European Relief

A warning to Americans to "beware the men of Vichy, who now spread the virus of totalitarianism in America," and to disregard the plea for relief in occupied France, has been issued by 14 leading American writers who classified themselves as citizens of "what was once the world-wide free republic of letters."

The writers included Robert Sherwood, Vincent Sheean, Elmer Rice, Lewis Mumford, Struthers Burt, Edna St. Vincent Millay and Maxwell Anderson.

The statement of the writers referred to the Vichy leaders as "pathetic wooden mannikins mouthing the words of the Nazi ventriloquists," and urged that Americans "view the words and gestures of the men of Vichy with the suspicion they deserve."

"Whether of their own free will or because of the orders of the Nazi Gestapo, under the usual Nazi penalties for defiance," the statement said, "these servants of the Vichy government, are plainly performing a definite mission for the German tyrants. They are attempting to undermine our confidence in the British. They ask us to penalize the brave people who are still fighting superbly in behalf of civilization. Theirs is not the voice of the true France we shall always honor and respect."

We view with compassion the sufferings of the innocent people in Europe, but we know that only the defeat of Hitler will permanently bring hope to their lives.

Uses of Hatred

Nazi ingenuity has found a means by which the Jews of German-Poland can serve the cause of the Reich, in the midst of the campaign to enslave and annihilate them by crowding them into unsanitary Ghettos and cutting them off from economic support. The Jew can still be used to divert Polish hatred from their conquerors.

When Jewish homes are plundered, frequently a small part of the loot is thrown to the Poles standing around, with the comment: "Here is what they have wrung from you." German propaganda drums into Polish ears that the Jews started the war, and that the food shortage, actually caused by German theft of Polish resources, is due to "Jewish profiteers."

German press accounts that declare that Jews expoited the Poles and later plundered their homes during the war, are alleged to be as proved by objects found in possession. Sweet are the uses of hatred!

Reveal Fantastic Escape from Reich

NEW YORK. — The odyssey of Arthur Siegelbaum of Poland now a refugee in the United States, is perhaps one of the most amazing in recent history of the world.

Siegelbaum, a leader of the Jewish bund in Poland, escaped from a German concentration camp in Poland and made his escape to this country — through Germany! This fantastic escape gives proof of the existence, however small, of an underground movement in Germany, for it was an underground railway that made possible his movements, under the nose of the Gestapo and in the time of war, from town to town in Germany, across the Belgian frontier, into Holland and finally to France.

THE LONG WAY

SAN FRANCISCO. — Rabbi Saul Traub, his wife and four children, all refugees from Poland, arrived here abroad the Japanese liner Asama Maru, after a year's journey. They fled by way of Siberia and Japan.

Iron Guard Seizes Wealthy Jews For "Contributions"

SOFIA. — The wealthy Fildemann brothers, biggest leather and textile manufacturers of Rumania, have been arrested by Iron Guard police at Bacau on charges of "Communism," it was reliably learned here this week.

It was the second time the two had been arrested in two weeks. The first time they were merely questioned, relieved of large sums of money and released the same day after promising to "contribute" additional sums to the Legionary movement.

A few days later, it was learned, they were again arrested but this time they were so severly beaten and subjected to such physical and moral tortures that both required hospital treatment .

The Fildermanns according to well-informed quarters, were originally arrested as part of a campaign of routine shakedowns of wealthy Jews.

Einstein Plaque Work of Immigrant

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — A Greek immigrant this week received his reward for 700 nights' labor and 3,000 miles of travel when his bronze plaque of Dr. Albert Einstein was presented to Purdue University.

Nick Mars, who came to the United States when a boy and is now an electrical engineer in the Sharon, Pa., transformer division of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, carved his trbiute to Professor Einstein during two years of his spare time. The plaque was accepted by E. C. Elliott, President of Purdue, on behalf of the University.

Blood Transfusions Peeve Nazi Aryans

NEW YORK. — The German newspaper Boersenzeiting has denounced Britain for permitting transfusions of Jewish blood to captured German aviators, declaring that this "recalls" the tortures of the darkest medieval times," according to a broadcast by William Shirer, CBS correspondent in Berlin.

The Boersenzeiting asserted: "We know that the British never observe International rights. But what purpose does it serve the English to force Jewish blood into the arteries of our pilots, thus torturing them physically?"

Arrest Cameraman At Envoy's Request

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina. — Max Coplan, photographer for Look Magazine of the United States, was detained by police for a short time last week when the German Embassy protested his efforts to take pictures of an automobile belonging to Ambassador Edmund von Therman.

Police said the Embassy requested the arrest of Mr. Coplan, but they released him and two Buenos Aires newspapermen who were with him after North American businessmen interceded.

Committees For Campaign Named

250 Delegates Attend Conclave

A goal of $100,000 was set for the 1940-41 campaign at the United Jewish Appeal Conference, held last Sunday afternoon at the Crown Hotel. Archibald Silverman was named State chairman of the drive, and Saul Abrams, chairman of the Providence campaign. The campaign will officially open on Saturday evening, December 7, with a banquet at the Biltmore Hotel, at which time Dr. Israel Goldstein, chairman of the Jewish National Fund will be guest speaker.

250 Attend Meeting

About 250 representatives of various Jewish agencies were in attendance at the Sunday meeting and heard Dr. Maurice L. Perlzweig, chairman of the British Section, World Jewish Congress, condemn anti-Semitism as " . . . not a prejudice, but rather an instrument of political expansion."

Dr. Perlzweig declared that the world could tell where Germany planned to strike next by finding out where a new development of anti-Semitism had taken place. "We are in the midst of a titanic struggle," he said, "upon the issue of which depends the fate of the democracies of the world. Since 1933 Jews have been in the struggle. Democracy had been in the struggle, in a sense, but was not ware of it."

UJA Instrument for Help

The United Jewish Appeal, he stated is the instrument through which American Jewry can give aid and succor to distressed Jews.

He further stated that discriminatory decrees promulgated by the French Government of Vichy were "not only disgraceful but were promulgated under pressure." Every advance of anti-Semitism, he said, is due to the pressure of the Nazi machine. He praised the courage of the people of London who, he said, "would rather die for liberty and freedom than live under the heel of that unspeakable thing."

During the afternoon, resolutions expressing condolences on the recent passing of Henry Burt and Charles Brown, were adopted by the assemblage.

Mr. Silverman presided, in the absence of Benjamin N. Kane, 1939 Appeal chairman.

Name Committee

Assisting Mr. Silverman and Mr. Abrams, are the following chairman and committees: Reuben Lipson, Milton C. Sapinsley, vice-chairmen of initial gifts: associate chairmen, Philip Cohen, Max L. Grant, Benjamin N. Kane, Benjamin Sopkin, Mrs. Archibald Silverman, Charles Silverman, Albert Weiner; Samuel M. Magid, treasurer; James Goldman, assistant treasurer; Alter Boyman, recording treasurer; Albert Shore, financial secretary; Dr. Ilie Berger, campaign director; Joseph Ress, assistant campaign director; Mrs. Morris W. Shoham, executive secretary.

Maurice W. Hendel, publicity

Shoham, New Head Of Workers Alliance

Morris W. Shoham was elected president of the Jewish National Workers Alliance, to succeed Max Berman, at a meeting held on Monday night at 385 Westminster street.

Other officers named were: Solomon Lightman, vice-president; Joseph Biller, financial secretary; Harry Chaet, treasurer; Arthur Korman, recording secretary; and Israel Resnick, chairman of the executive committee. Arthur Kormon was chairman of the nominating committee.

The Executive comprises Alfred Aden, Max Berman, Morris Golin, Solomon Lightman, Dr. P. M. Phillips and Samuel Shprechер.

Britain Advises Red Cross To Withhold Palestine Aid

LONDON, (Palcor Agency).—The American Red Cross, appealed to for aid to Palestine, withheld relief at the advice of the British Government, it was revealed in the House of Commons this week, through a question raised by Geoffrey Mander, Liberal.

Clement Attlee, former Labor Opposition leader who is now Lord Privy Seal and a member of Prime Minister Churchill's inner War Cabinet, answering Mr. Mander's query as to why the Government had refused the assistance of the American Red Cross for the air raid victims of Italian bombings in Tel Aviv and Haifa, stated that Mr. George Wadsworth, American Consul peals that had been addressed to the American Red Cross for the relief of such victims and had inquired whether Red Cross funds should be diverted for use in Palestine.

In replying to Mr. Wadsworth, the Government had said that it appreciated the offer but it felt that as of that date the emergency did not warrant assistance from abroad, since the immediate needs of the victims and their dependents were provided by local organizations, supplemented by Government grants.

Answering Mr. Mander's further questions as to whether in the future sympathetic consideration would be given to outside assistance if the situation became

State Department to Ignore Dies Committee White Paper

WASHINGTON. — There is little likelihood of any drastic action against members of the German diplomatic and consular corps in this country as a result of the publication of the much-heralded Dies committee White Paper.

The committee report failed to include any of the explosive evidence, known to be in its possession, which shows German diplomatic officials to be the directing heads of espionage, sabotage and propaganda organizations, and that this direction involved violations of the U. S. criminal statutes.

Consequently the State Dept., which has previously indicated unwillingness to act against the Nazi officials for fear of reprisals or an international crisis, will take no official and public cognizance of the paper.

Among the evidence omitted from the White Paper was documentary proof and sworn testimony that Baron Edgar von Spiegel, Nazi counsel at New Orleans, not only distributed Transocean News Service reports to German-language publications in the South, but that he threatened editors holding American citizenship with reprisals if they failed to use the service and sought to force them to change their treatment of news.

WPA Research Editor Called Bund Agent

Spends Evenings Spreading Hatred

NEW YORK. — "Count Victor Cherep-Spiridovich," who has been working as research editor at the WPA Aeronautics Index project, is in reality Victor H. Broenstrupp, a patent lawyer from Ohio, and works as an "Aryan" propagandist during the night time, Johnston D. Kerkhoff declared in a recent article in the New York Post.

The "Count" is busy every night in his tenement apartment turning out mimeographed pamphlets lambasting President Roosevelt, the "Mongol-Jewish money lenders" and the taxation which nets him $87.80 from the W. P. A. every month, the writer says.

The "Count" at one time served the real Count Gen. von Spiridovich, when he lived at State Island and assumed his name when he died, the article says. The "Count" got himslef into the Congressional Record this month when Rep. Samuel Dickstein called him the "notorious Count Spiridovich who is linked to the Bund and other Nazi groups."

Rubin - Bronstein

The Ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel last Sunday evening, 7 o'clock, was the scene of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Bronstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bronstein of 41 Gallatin street, to Irwin Rubin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Rubin of Cranston street. Rabbi Morris Schussheim performed the double ring ceremony under a floral bower.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of white slipper satin, en train, made with a yoke of Alencon lace. The sleeves were long and puffed. Her three-quarter length veil fell in three tiers from a crown of seed pearls, and she carried white orchids and delphinium.

Her cousin, Miss Laura Eisenberg of New York, attended as maid of honor, wearing a gown of pink silk jersey with a jacket of maribou feathers to match. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses and blue delphinium. Samuel Rubin, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Bridesmaids included the Misses Natalie Ginsberg, Beatrice Goldstein, Florence Goldstein and Shirley Singer. Ushers were Milton Bronstein, Barney Cokin, Jerry Dressler and Benjamin Gerrofsky.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of coral chiffon, contrasted by a bodice of black crepe with coral beads. She wore a white orchid in her hair. The bridegroom's mother was attired in royal blue and wore an orchid corsage.

Charlotte Bronstein, sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl wearing a frock of accordion pleated pink, with a ruffed yoke. Joel Preblord of Hartford, was ring bearer.

A reception, and dinner and dancing followed the wedding ceremony. The bridal couple is now on a wedding trip to Washing, after which they will make their home at 40 Vine street in Hartford, Conn.

Mushlin - Krasner

Wearing a gown of white brocaded satin, Miss Beatryce Krasner, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Krasner of 131 Sumter street, will become the bride of Myer Mushlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Mushlin of 67 Gallatin street, on Sunday afternoon, 5:30 o'clock, at a marriage ceremony to be performed in the Empire Room of the Crown Hotel. Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel, will solemnize the occasion, assisted by Cantor Joseph Schlossberg. Traditional wedding music will be sung by Mrs. Mary O. Coken. Baskets of flowers and palms will be used for decorations.

The bride's gown, a fitted model with a long train, is made with a sweetheart neckline, and short puffed sleeves, with which she will wear gauntlets. Her finger-tip veil will be fastened to a headdress of seed pearls, and she will carry a white prayer book and white orchids.

Miss Dorothy Mushlin, sister of the bridegroom, will attend as maid of honor. Her gown will be of champagne taffeta, and she will have Talisman roses. Ernest Krasner, brother of the bride, will be best man.

Bridesmaids wil be Mrs. Daniel Feinstein, Miss Elaine Goldstein, Miss Harriet Krasner, Mrs. Milton Ladd, Miss Ann Tannenbaum and Miss Ruth Tannenbaum. They will be dressed in gowns of pastel colours and will carry prayer books, with corsages to complement their gowns.

Ushers will comprise Daniel Feinstein, Peter Feinstein, Albert Krasner, Bernard Krasner, Milton Ladd and Fred Pulner.

The bride's mother will be attired in a gown of blue lame and will have an orchid corsage, while Mrs. Mushline will wear blue crepe and gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a reception and dinner and dancing will be held. About 200 guests are anticipated.

After a two-week wedding trip to New York and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Mushline will take up residence on Broadway in Newport.

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

Such Is Life

The snow was falling thickly
And the wind was blowing, too . . .
We talked about the weather
Just as people often do . . .

In friendliness we chatted
While we waited for the car . . .
But I don't suppose I'll ever
Find out who the deuce you are! . . .

—Nonny Mouse

A goodly crowd greeted Dr. Perlzweig who spoke before organization delegates attending the preparation meeting of the United Jewish Appeal last Sunday . . The campaign opens officially with a banquet on December 7 at the Biltmore Hotel . . At a private meeting last Tuesday nite at the Narragansett Hotel, sixty members of the community contributed nearly $30,000 for the fund . . . Among those who attended were Benjamin Kane, Reuben Lipson, Walter Adler, Sam Workman, Henry Sopkin, Milton Sapinsley, Meyer Tenenbaum, Harold Dick and Dr. Myron Keller . . . Gerald Feinstein, representing the Youth Groups affiliated with the appeal, pledged $1,000 on their behalf . . . Ittamar Ben Avi, guest speaker, was very optimistic as to the outcome of the present war . . . He and one of the waiters at the hotel conducted a conversation in Greek . . . We wondered what they talked about . . .

Localooks

The Theodore Rich's are moving to Chicago . . . They were given a farewell party last week-end by the Mortyn Zietz's . . . Among those present were Victor Bernstein, former Brown football star, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rosenfeld . . . The Lou Horvitz's of Pawtucket held open house last week-end . . . Loads of relatives and friends were there . . . At the B'nai B'rith meeting of the Men's and Women's groups a number of turkeys were given away . . . Among the winners were Dr. Joseph Smith and Joe Ress . . .

Varied, Sunday Things

The Leonard Goldmans travelled to Philadelphia over the week-end only to see Leonard's alma mater, Cornell, defeated by an inspired Penn State team . . . From the University of Michigan comes word that Ben Pearlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isador Perlman, has been awarded numerals and a sweater for gridiron deeds on the freshman football team . . . We've just heard that the Archibald Silvermans are celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary with a public reception on December 7, at the Biltmore Hotel . . . The event will precede the U. J. A. banquet. That trick of heaping pressure on our refugees by threatening to put the screws on their relatives in the Reich isn't the invention of malicious Hitler . . . He borrowed that one from Il Duce, who used the scheme long ago to obtain "reasonable behavior" towards Fascism . . .

New Notes

Janice Klein, we hear, will announce her engagement to a Worcester chap . . . Eva Gordon, who will be married in December to Henry Shultz of Putnam, Conn., was partied recently by Mrs. Maurice Berger at the latter's home . . . The Walter Cohens are joyous over the arrival of a baby boy this week . . . Other parents include the Nathan Monzacks who were also the recipients of a son . . . The Lou Abedons are visiting in New Britain for the week-end . . . Volunteer Irving Bilgor was practically all packed to go with the first contingent of boys who left for army training last week, but was informed a couple of days before departure that he didn't have to go because they had enough men . . . So Irving is marking time until the next group is scheduled to leave . . .

How to Detect Counterfeit Money

Compare the suspected bill with a genuine bill of the same type. The portrait on the genuine bill is clean cut and life-like. On a counterfeit it will be dull, smudgy or unnaturally white.

And here's how to be sure of YOUR COAL

Famous Reading Anthracite is trademarked with RED spots that can't be counterfeited. These red spots identify the low ash hard coal that's laundered free of impurities. This red trademarked coal in your bin means money in the bank—in the shape of lower coal bills.

Mothers' Alliance Aiding War Victims

Alter Boyman Commends Work

Addressing a meeting of the Jewish Mothers' Alliance on Monday afternoon at 86 Jefferson street, Alter Boyman commended the work of the organization and also the manner in which members are meeting the present emergency.

The principal work of the Alliance is the support of orphans and the provision of proper training and schooling. The number of beneficiaries has been greatly increased by refugee orphans. It was reported that funds are being sent to victims of the present war through the Jewish Daily Forward, the Red Cross, the United Palestine Appeal and the HIAS.

In order to raise additional funds, the Alliance will hold a party on January 6 at the Ahavath Sholom Synagogue, with Mrs. Philip Blazar as chairman; Mrs. Samuel Shprecher, secretary, and Mrs. J. Gorfine, treasurer.

Newport Hadassah Plan Chanukah Event
