A Ray of Hope

War is a mask, says Charles E. Gratke, Foreign editor of the Christian Science Monitor, which the Axis wears to disguise the fact that Fascism and National Socialism have failed.

With Italian armies storming the mountains of Greece, and with German troops poised for new adventures to the southeast, the failure may not be at once apparent.

With nine nations overrun by mechanized aggression, the gaps in the totalitarian structure may seem obscured.

But to a Europe in transition, continues Mr. Gratke, there is much hope, much of reassuring vision in the knowledge that the political systems of Germany and Italy stand disproved in every major fundamental. To democracies in transition there are lessons that may help to build a new world.

The dictators have talked of order. They have brought chaos. They have conceived of unity by force; they have brought disruption. Their dreams of conquest have been pursued by a method which can only culminate in despair.

For morally, intellectually, economically, politically and spiritually, the dictators have assumed a course which cannot succeed. For this reason their military efforts, too, must ultimately fail.

Reader, Beware!

A favorite dodge with anti-Semitic societies is to assume names that are similar to nationally known American groups. This tactic permits rabble-rousers to confuse the innocent and to lend credence and an aura of respectability to their subversive work.

One of the more recent "confusions" is that of the Molly Pitcher Christian Women's Brigade whose members are active in distributing fascist literature. This organization is riding on the reputation of the Molly Pitcher Brigade, an American society interested in promoting national defense.

Wherever possible, when the names of seemingly patriotic organizations are quoted, investigation should be made to determine if the society is reputable. If not, steps must be taken immediately to expose the leaders and the backers.

Pulling Together

Americans went to the polls this week with one major purpose—to strenghthen American freedom, peace and justice. We have had sharp differences of opinion on men and methods, but as to objectives there is basic agreement.

The forty million Americans who cast their ballots on behalf of their candidates were not engaged in civil war, which is only a substitute for an election using violence instead of reason to determine the national course. In either case the effort is to obtain some form of cohesion so that the Nation can act as a unit.

Unity is far easier after an election than after a civil war. The more clearly people recognize their underlying singleness of purpose — as Americans do recognize it today, we believe— the easier it will be to work together.

Actually, says a Nazi experimenter, wood may be a source of superior food. The Berlin gourmet calling for a steaked plank is a solemn thought.

Named to Council

Mrs. Archibald Silverman has been elected to the National Council of the American Friends of the Hebrew University as Providence's representative, it was announced this week. Albert Einstein is serving as chairman of the Council.

The membership of the recently organized Council consists of leaders throughout the country who will sponsor Hebrew University in their respective communities.

Roosevelt to Receive JNF Golden Book

Program To Be Heard on WEAN

James Sincoff, national chairman of the Jewish National Fund Roosevelt Golden Book Committee, will officially present that volume to Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the Jewish National Fund in America on Sunday. Senator Alvin W. Barkley will receive the book on behalf of the President, and a special message will be read from the President over a national hookup, from the Hotel Statler, St. Louis, Mo., at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning. In Providence, the program will be heard over Station WEAN.

Mrs. Archibald Silverman will read the address to President Roosevelt. The inscriptions in the Golden Book have been made by organizations and individuals, and it is the hope of the Jewish National Fund that the volume will be placed, together with other valuable papers, in the new library now being built in Hyde Park.

Magazine Urges Counter Attacks on Fifth Columns

Re-Elected

CINCINNATI. — Mrs. David de Sola Pool, New York, was re-elected president of Hadassah as the women's Zionist organization closed its 26th annual convention this week.

A resolution was passed asking the British government "to welcome the demands of the Jewish community in Palestine which hopes to achieve its natural right to fight side by side with Great Britain against a common enemy."

Vigilance Not Enough Says Fortune Editor

Democracy Must Take Initiative

NEW YORK. — A "counter attack" on Nazi fifth column activities in the United States is urged in the interests of national defense by Fortune magazine in an exhaustive study of "Nazi Agents in the U. S." featured in its October issue.

Nazi Technique

Pointing out by voluminous citations from official Nazi statements that Germany's technique is to split a nation on idealogical issues and honeycomb it with fifth columnists before an attack, Fortune declares that the activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and exposure in the press have accomplished some results in combating the fifth column, but holds that more drastic action is necessary.

Government Agency

"Possibly a government agency set up to analyze and warn against foreign propaganda might have some value," the article states: "Such an agency has been proposed, and it would have an authority and an ability to give its findings wide publicity . . . A more drastic solution, also with its adherents, would be to break off diplomatic relations with Germany, ship the Nazi diplomats back home, and broaden the powers of the F.B.I. to clean out all subverters, plain and fancy.

Best Defense, Offense

"Yet it can be doubted that

Refugee Boy Writes Book Of Sad, Bitter Memories

NEW YORK: — Memories of his brief years of sadness and bitterness are being put into book-form by 13-year-old Peter Kober, refugee from Nazi tyranny, it was revealed in a PM news story last week. It is not to be a child's book, but Peter hopes thousands of American children will read it, and he hopes they will understand it.

His simple account of life in Hitler's Germany, the few years in France where he learned the meaning of freedom, and his subsequent escape from Nazi-occupied Paris, makes a story that would put Frank Merriwell to shame.

Flees to Paris

Driven by racial intolerance from Germany, Peter had found a new and better life in Paris. But on that fateful day in June, 1940, Peter's countrymen came tramping through the city that had given him his first real happiness. Escape seemed impossible without a Nazi permit. French visas, issued before the capture of the French capital were now valueless, but Peter's mother still had a paper from the American Consulate, which stated that they had visis for the U. S. A.

Wait for Opportunity

"For six weeks," said Peter, "we waited for an opportunity to escape."

One afternoon Peter heard that a train was leaving for the south. He and his mother crowd-

Dies Predicts 3,000 Indictments in Month

ORANGE, Tex. — Rep. Dies (D-Tex.), chairman of the House Committee Investigating Un-American Activities, predicted this week that 3,000 indictments would be returned throughout the nation against subversive groups within the next month.

He said investigations of the committee would show "the Italian espionage and propaganda end of the story" was more important than "the German end," evidence of which is now in the hands of the State and Justice Departments.

CONFISCATE BUILDINGS

MADRID. — More than 90 buildings, several castles and hunting estates owned by the Rothschild banking family have been confiscated in occupied France, it was reported

George Sokolow Killed in Raid

LONDON. — George Sokolow, 25 years of age, son of Nahum Sokolow, Zionist leader, was killed this week in one of the Nazi air raids over this city. He was a journalist, radio broadcaster and a graduate of Cambridge University.

Arab and Jew Base Freedom on Britain

CAIRO. — As the Arabs of Syria and Palestine view the war moving into Greece and nearing their own territory, they realize that defense of their own freedom is ultimately bound up with support of the British cause. This fact emerged clearly as this correspondent made a tour of Syria and Palestine inquiring into the views of Arabs and Jews alike.

Both the Arabs and the Jews, who have been voluntarily supporting the British and Dominion forces, have expressed disappointment that Britain did not strike in Syria the moment that France capitulated and immediately removed all danger from this quarter.

Hebrew Free Loan Society To Celebrate Anniversary

Organized in 1905, the South Providence Hebrew Free Loan Association is now making plans to celebrate its 35th anniversary of existence. During these years, the organization has loaned more than two and one half million dollars to seventeen thousand applicants.

In a letter received at The Herald offices this week, Alfred Finklestein, president, said: "We are proud of the fact that we have been able to assist our Jewish brethren in their businesses, in sending their children to college, in opening professional offices, in aiding relatives abroad, in defraying medical bills, and in helping refugees to establish themselves here in their new homeland.

reached the point where we have not had sufficient funds to cover even half of the applications made. It has been resolved, therefore, that during this, our 35th anniversary, a campaign for badly needed funds will be conducted, starting on November 10. A small group has already contributed to the campaign. We appeal to every right-thinking Jew in our community to help us continue our good work, by donating to the fund. As president, of the institution, I am appealing to the Jewry of Providence to receive our committee with courtesy."

Announcement was made that the anniversary celebration will be held on Sunday evening, No-

American Jews Are Affected By Decrees

LONDON. — Nazi military authorities in occupied France will make no exceptions in the case of American Jews living in the Nazi-held zones, it was stated here.

Officials of the American Embassy in Paris have disclosed that they contemplate no representations to the German government on behalf of American Jews affected by the anti-Jewish laws. Embassy officials said they had no exact information about the number of American Jews in the occupied territory, saying only that there were 500 Americans registered with the embassy.

Iron Guardists Raid Food Stores

LONDON. — Members of the Iron Guard, all-powerful anti-Semitic organization in Rumania, have made Jewish-owned food stores the objects of almost continuous raids, it is reported. The raids have been conducted in Bucharest and in other cities. At the same time, the Government issued an order compelling all Jewish dealers in foodstuffs to register a list of supplies, presumably so the Government could confiscate foodstuffs without de-

Jews Endangered By Italian Invasion

BELGRADE. — Jewish leaders rallied Greece's 100,000 Jews to co-operate with the Government in its efforts to turn back the Italian invasion. The Jewish population for the most part small tradesmen, pledged full co-operation to the Government.

In addition to the normal Jewish population, Greece has in recent years seen an influx of Jewish refugees from Fascist-controlled Europe.

An Italian victory will undoubtedly mean the introduction in Greece of anti-Semitic legislation and a Fascist form of Government.

Nazis Jail Two Prelates in France

ROME. — According to Vatican circles, Msgr. Gallard, Archbishop of Bescancon, has been sentenced to two months in jail on charges of attempting to turn the people against the Nazis because of his efforts to collect food for 25,000 French prisoners at Bescancon. Vicar-General Msgr. Galan has been sentenced to nine days imprisonment for a message read in churches.

Denies Breach Exists In Americas - Heifetz

REDDING, Conn. — One of the great modern fallacies is, according to Jascha Heifetz, the violinist, the belief that there is some mysterious temperamental gulf between the United States and South America.

"It is plain silly to say that we can't understand our Latin-American neighbors, or that they can't understand us. The bases of friendship are much the same through the world, and we can be friends with South America any day we choose."

"I think it's a peculiarly insidious kind of propaganda, this emphasizing the alleged 'differences' between North and South America. Heaven knows there could be nothing farther apart than the German mind and the Latin-American mind, yet we hear nothing about difficulties of understanding there."

Petain Regime Says Restrictions 'Humane'

VICHY. — The anti-Jewish decrees announced by the Marshal Petain Government were decided upon in "absolute serenity" in "spirit of humanity," according to an official communique.

Declaring that it "respects the persons and property of Jews," the Government communique said: "It merely prevents them from assuming certain social functions of authority, management and formation of intelligence, experience having proved, as it has to all impartial spirits, that Jews exercise those with an individualist tendency up to a point of anarchy."

Denying that the decrees were promulgated as a reprisal, the announcement added: "Our disaster imposes upon us the obligation to regroup French forces of long hereditary and fixed characteristics. It is not a question of petty vengeance but of indispensable security."

London Issues 5,625 Certificates

LONDON.—Colonial Undersecretary George Hall announced in Commons that 5,625 certificates for Jewish immigrants to Palestine were issued between April and September. He said 1,725 Jews entered Palestine during that period.

Nina Theodore's dancing costume might have been inspired by a modern harem, with its exposed midriff, and molten gold lame skirt. It's definitely the Persian influence.

Give Defense Fund To French Refugees

NEW YORK. — The Journalists' Defense Fund, organized to raise funds for the defense of Herschel Grynszpan, now reportedly awaiting trial in Berlin for the slaying of a Nazi consular attache in Paris in 1938, which contains $7,107, will be given to a fund for French refugees when the young Polish Jew's fate is finally determined, according to Dorothy Thompson, head of the group.

Before Grynszpan was turned over to the Gestapo by officials of the Petain regime, the fund received $40,203.24, the writer said. Of this sum $27,750 was distributed to organizations for the relief of refugees in accordance with the decision to spend no more than $12,500 on Grynszpan's defense.

HONOR NEW STUDENTS

The splendour of Arabian Nights
Has undergone streamlining
Clothes that emerge are just right
For de luxe dancing and dining . . .

"Escapist" is the word of the hour . . . Overworked in the field of entertainment, it is just beginning to be felt in fashions . . . By what means can clothes detach wearers from grim reality? . . . How inject their minds with happy thoughts and romantic illusions, even if they are only fantasies? . . .

Well, one fashion house has hatched an Oriental plot which has taken on colour and sound to the strains of Scheherazade music and dramatic Persian fashions . . . To those for whom Persian recalls Omar Khayyam's much-quoted lines "A book of verse, a jug of wine and thou beside me in the wilderness—" we say don't let old Omar's poetry give you a wrong steer . . . The newest Persian creations were meant for urban wildernesses peopled with svelte, well-behaved folk, lapping up their cocktails from slim-stemmed glasses not from jugs . . . These fashions speak Persian with a subtle accent, stressing in colour the famous Persian green, cerise-red, citron yellow, plum purple, gold, white and black . . . In silhouette, there is much made of this season's Oriental drapery . . .

Authentic Persian material is used to make hats and bags . . . Great, massive, gold embroidery forms yokes on evening coats and capes, and outlines the lower fullness of sleeves . . Tunics and jerkins are as modern as they are antique . . Striped midriff trimming on a green dress gives an Oriental flavor . . Gold lame in full length for evening and short for daytime speaks Persian when worn with amusing embroidered Shah-caps . . .

Election Reflection

If I had murdered wife and child
These minor crimes would class as mild
Compared to those my friends relate
About my favorite candidate —LB, Jr.

Now that the election is over, and all is harmony within the political parties, we can return to our pet hate — Mr. Hitler . . . Sam Lazarus has this latest story to tell: "Hitler took the statue of Moses from the Louvre to his garden in Berlin . . . For one hour, each day, he was observed kneeling in front of that statue . . . Somebody finally dared to listen to what Hitler was saying to the statue . . . On bended knee, the Fuehrer said: "Tell me, oh Moses—how did you ever get those people across that body of water?" . . .

Hospitalizations

Old man Stork was busy this week when he dropped three bundles of bliss at the Miriam Hospital . . . The Joseph Kaufmans and the Stanley Checks are boy-carting now, while the Milton Schoenbergs are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter . . . Mrs. Charles Berg is recuperating at the Rhode Island Hospital, expecting to leave for home soon . . . Things we never knew until now: The first fifteen minutes after a baby's birth constitute the most dangerous quarter hour of its lifetime . . . And the three chief causes of death in the first 24 hours of an infant's life are prematurity, cerebral hemorrhage and asphyxia . . .

Goblinight

Hallowe'en night was celebrated throughout town . . . Police in the center of the city despairingly admitted it was the noisiest demonstration in years . . . Hardly a window went unmarred and discarded razor blades came in mighty handy the next A. M. . . . At the Beachcomber Club, we spied the Nat Berks and the Sam Cohens . . . Later in the week, we saw Libby Young, Mildred Robinson, Bernice Mincoff and Sam Zimmerman at the tropical oasis

Because of the wide interest in that famous Alexander Woolcott speech, we reprint Leonard Lyon's (N. Y. Post Columnist) comments on the rehearsal: Before Oscar Levant broadcast with Alexander Woollcott last week, Alec rehearsed the pauses between the completion of his speech and Levant's follow up . . "I want you to count to three, after I finish," Woollcott instructed, "and then you do your turn . . . A 3-second pause is dramatic . . . Just count, to yourself, 'one-two-three,' and then start . . . Understand?" . . "When I studied with Ouspenskaya," Levant protested, "she told me to count only to two." . . . Woollcott waited three seconds before answering, and then said: "That's because Ouspenskaya knew you couldn't count 'till 3." . . .

Jewish Jottings

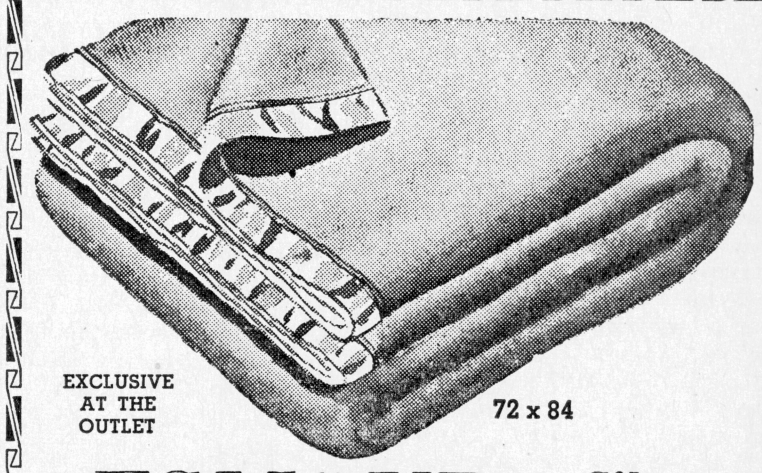

Morris Shoham is chairman of a Jewish National Workers' Alliance Committee for the advancement of better Jewish cultural entertainment in the city . . . While plans are not complete, it is believed the committee will bring to Providence two of the most outstanding Yiddish films and a number of entertainers . . Rabbi David Werner will leave on Monday to attend the convention of the Union of Orthodox Rabbis of the U. S. and Canada, which will be held at Rockaway, New York . . . Joe Finkel is devoting time to speaking engagements on behalf of B'nai B'rith . . . Within the last week, he appeared before audiences in Pawtucket and Taunton . . . Sydney Feldman held a meeting for Pawtucket B'nai B'rith members and their guests at his home last Monday night . . . The entertainment and speeches must have been good, for when the last lights were put out, the chapter had several new members . . . The Pawtucket Lodge plans to bring down Rabbi Chodos of Worcester to speak at their meeting on Tuesday evening . . .

"Pastor Hall" Now Playing at Albee

Filmed against the highly dramatic background of Nazi-Germany today, "Pastor Hall," the stirring film drama, released through United Artists, is now being shown at the RKO Albee Theatre. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt presents an introduction to the picture.

Based on the life of Pastor Niemoller, the story tells of the Pastor's determination to keep free speech in sermons from his pulpit, his refusal to accept dictates of the Nazi regime in preaching to his congregation, the romance of his daughter, as affected by his attitude, and his inevitable shipment to a Nazi concentration camp.

The co-feature on the Albee's bill is "Mexican Spitfire Out West," starring Lupe Velez and Leon Errol, in a comedy which is faster and funnier than its predecessors.

"Our American papers didn't work at the Spanish frontier. We were taken off the train and locked in a hut. We thought it was the end of for us and I felt very miserable. But a kind French officer came up and shrugged his shoulders and let us go. He said he wished he could go, too."

Peter treats it all as something of an adventure. But sometimes he wears a tired worn look. He still has nightmares. He can't easily forget, for Hitler's handiwork has struck deep.

even this would be an effective answer to the basic danger threatening the U. S. For that danger originates in the world-wide repudiation of the principles of democracy . . . . But the price of freedom today is no longer merely vigilance; it does not reside in defense, but in counter attack. Like Nazism now, democracy was once a revolutionary faith. The spirit and methods must be employed again. They must be employed at home —and abroad, in the nations under fire and on the grounds of the attacker."
