France and Anti-Semitism

First rumors from un-occupied France gave credence to the belief that the Vichy government might delay or circumvent the Nazi desires for stringent anti-Jewish laws. But whatever hope the world entertained has vanished with the announcement that puppets Laval and Petain have accepted the Hitler dictate regarding Jews.

With the annullment of the law which forbids newspaper attacks on any person on account of his religion beliefs, the floodgates of hate and violence have been opened by anti-Semitic organizations. First anti-Jewish riots in Paris, condoned by the protective police, resulted in the arrest of 70 persons who were quickly released when their affiliations were made known.

Quarters close to the French Government believe that Petain has the "intention" of issuing a special "Jewish Law." When this law becomes a reality — the fate of Jews in France will be sealed.

It is cold comfort to know that free-thinking and freedom-loving Frenchmen are not in accord with this dehumanizing legislature. We can only trust with them, that Nazi imperialism will swell and burst from its own putrescence and bring new hope to a wartorn world.

Dinna Forget the Bill

There is always something to laugh at, even these days.

In Scotland, the Children's Reporter says, there's a big hotel in which guests are invited to read the typed sheets of A. R. P. instructions placed in the lounges, and we imagine that they cannot help smiling when they read the last paragraph, which runs:

"Dining-room customers who wish to go to the shelter should tell their waiter, who will present their bill immediately."

One of the Prices Of Capitulation

It is costing French taxpayers $2,500,000 a day to maintain the German army occupying three-fifths of their country, it was revealed this week in an Associated Press report.

This expense will continue as long as the war lasts at the rate of $925,000,000 a year.

A Map Against Race Intolerance

Schoolroom walls all over America will soon be displaying a map showing where Americans live, what they do, where they come from and their religion. An American Indian prominently displayed, carries the caption, "With the exception of the Indian all Americans or their forefathers came from other countries."

While leading Americans in industry, the arts, science and literature are listed in one corner of the map, emphasis is placed on the contributions made by the railroad builder, the truck farmer, the garment worker, the coal miner and all the workers who have helped build America.

This well-planned project to combat race hatred and excessive chauvinism is one American answer to intolerance.

Maybe man is smarter now than centuries ago, but if so, why does he try to make everything fool proof. — Greensboro (Ga.) Herald-Journal.

Nazis Short-Wave Spreads Hatred

NEW YORK. — Nazi short-wave radio broadcasts to the United States and other countries have resumed their anti-Jewish attacks, berating Americans for permitting Jews to "control" many of their activities, broadcasts picked up by the Columbia Broadcasting System short-wave listening station disclose.

The broadcasts assail Jewish interests and personalities in this country, France and Britain and exhort Christians to "overcome" this Semitic influence in government and other activities.

U. S. Laws Prohibit World Jewish Army

LONDON. — Plans for recruiting of a world-wide Jewish army of at least 100,000 men to be equipped by Britain to fight against Germany and Italy were announced this week.

A. Abrahams, head of the political department of the new Zionist organization, said most of the recruiting would be carried on in America.

U. S. laws would prohibit recruiting and enlistment in this country of such an army. American Jews might enlist without penalty in such an army abroad providing they did not swear allegiance to a foreign power.

Anti-Jewish Circulars Sent to Congressmen

WASHINGTON. — Rep. Samuel Dickstein declared that an unprecedented flood of anti-Semitic literature has descended upon Congress within the past two or three weeks.

Dickstein was particularly angered by a forged circular signed "The Central Committee of the Anti-Defamation League," which contained purported instructions to Jews not to concern themselves with the "mutable interests of stupid, Goyim nations." It also called on Jews to do everything in their power to "help the great president who has helped us so greatly in establishing control."

Treasury Authorizes Sending Of Money to Europe Again

WASHINGTON. — The Treasury authorized this week a resumption of personal remittances of money by Americans to friends and relatives in the invaded European countries.

These remittances were blocked by decrees of President Roosevelt issued since April 8 restricting the movement of money to or from each of the invaded countries — France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania.

Poland, Germany Excluded

The order has no effect on Poland, Germany or other countries which were not included in the presidential "freezing" orders.

The new regulations permit remittances only by persons, however, who have lived in the United States continuously for more than one year and had been making similar remittances for at least six months prior to April 8.

The payments also were limited to a maximum of $50 for any one person or $100 for any one family, a month, in the foreign country. Evidence that the money is intended only for necessary living expenses also will be required.

Leibowitz, Criminal Lawyer Enters Race For Judgeship

NEW YORK. — Regarded as one of the canniest criminal lawyers of the day, Samuel S. Leibowitz, 47, is in the race as Democratic nominee for next year's King's county court judgeship.

If he's elected, he'll draw a salary of $25,000 a year, which is less than a single case would bring him. But he's convinced the bench needs younger, virile men, instead of being a haven for "shopworn lawyers."

"A good lawyer," says Leibowitz, "is loyal to his clients. There's no reason why he can't be loyal to a client that happens to be the state of New York. Most of all, a judge should be a gentle man. Of course, if he happens to know a little law, so much the better."

From the record it seems Mr. Leibowitz knows quite a bit of law. In his 23 years of practice since graduating from Cornell he has defended 141 persons facing murder charges. He got 130 off scot free, lost only one to the electric chair.

Perhaps one of the reasons for his repeated success in his flat refusal to accept any case he knew he couldn't win. He turned down fees of $100,000 and $250,000 respectively from Lucky Luciano and seven of the Murder Incorporated boys because he didn't think they had a chance. He was right.

Mr. Leibowitz is married, father of twin sons, Lawrence and Robert, who are 19 and seniors at Princeton, and a daughter, Marjorie, 14.

Brown Gridsters To Open Training

The 55th Brown gridiron campaign will open tomorrow morning, Monday at Aldrich Field, when 42 candidates, including 14 lettermen, invited back to preliminary practice report to head coach "Tuss" McLaughry, now starting his 16th season at the Brown helm.

The loss of 13 lettermen, numbering several key players, coupled with the most difficult schedule in many years, does not paint a too cheerful pre-season picture, but the coaching staff is inclined to believe that, provided injury epidemics can be avoided, a creditable unit will be fielded. "Tuss" McLaughry declares: "The schedule is admittedly very tough and we have plenty of repair work to do in plugging numerous holes left by graduations, but if the injury jinx can be shooed off, always double trouble to us because of chronic manpower shortage, we hope to make a respectable showing."

REGISTRATION TO OPEN

Registration for the Hebrew School of Temple Beth Israel will open on Monday afternoon, September 9, 3 o'clock, at the Temple and continue for the entire week.

Funds Gone - Soup Kitchens May Close

VICHY. — Needy Jews who remained in Paris following the German occupation are threatened with starvation due to rapidly dwindling food supplies, it was reported here this week. Jewish organizations in the unoccupied zone are unable to give any help because postal and other communications with the Nazi-held areas have been interrupted for the past three weeks.

Billy Rose Takes a High Dive into the Art Business

NEW YORK. — Now it's Billy Rose, art patron.

The producer of the Aquacade, who made nearly $1,000,000 at the World's Fair last year, is building up a home gallery and has three paintings by Rubens, Titian and Ambrosium Holbein as a nucleus. He expects to buy more, he announced, because "any one with ready cash may have unusual opportunities during the next few years to acquire important paintings."

He'll turn the collection over to the public (which gave him the money enabling him to buy the pictures) on his death, according to present plans.

He explained his hobby thus: "I work in visual terms. Great pictures are the best way of making visual things immortal. The great painters had great personalities which they were able to put on canvas. I find them exciting to live with."

The bride's mother will wear a gown of deep purple, while the mother of the bridegroom has chosen black. Both will have orchid corsages.

About 150 guests are expected to attend the ceremony, and the dinner and dancing to follow in the Ballroom. After a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in this city.

Bachman - Lavine

The Narragansett Hotel Parlours will be the scene next Sunday noon of the marriage of Miss Gertrude Bertha Lavine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lavine of 249 School street, Webster, Mass., to Mervin Nathaniel Bachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Bachman of 33 Gallatin street. Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel will perform the single ring nuptials under a floral canopy.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride will wear a gown of white brocaded satin, very bouffant, fashioned with a long train, leg o'mutton sleeves, and a V-neckline. She will wear pearls, and her tulle veil will be fastened to a coronet of seed pearls. She will carry a white Bible, with white orchids and bavardia.

All summer I rejoice in shorts,
But when fall comes one word'll
Make me forsake the beach resorts
And reach for hose and girdle!
In sultry months clothes get from me
A very well-bred snicker—
But with September how I flee
To be a "city slicker"!

That Autumn is creeping up on us is hereby acknowledged, with mingled feelings of regret (for the summer) and delight (for the clothes.) . . . Now, if ever, is the time to stage a complete upheaval in your wardrobe . . .

It was a different type of fashion parade down the avenues this week, and as far as most girls are concerned, Summer 1940 has been fondly, but firmly tucked away in Memory's Book . . .

Marlene Dietrich, out on the sunny West Coast, chose an outfit this week that was unmistakably Fallish . . . You'll notice it to the left . . . It's of dull black satin, two piece, with very low waistline, and appliqued all over the top are squares, oblongs, etc. of shiny satin, banded with white . . . Her hat is of silver fox, with a veil of white illusion . . . A breath-taking outfit, we thought, don't you

Local notes of interest this week were provided by Pearl Seder, in a trim frock of navy crepe, straight and narrow skirt . . . Her hat was navy and becoming . . . Dena Cornfield, radiant looking in a silk jersey dress of moss green, cut on very smart lines . . . A small yellow bouquet at the neckline was accent . . . Her hat in hand revealed her well-groomed light brown hair . .

Janice Riback in a salmon pink crepe dress, on shirtmaker lines, with which she wore a dubonnet felt hat on the perky side, and dubonnet alligator shoes and bag . . . Mrs. Milton Rosen in a darling printed frock of soft blue and black, and a black jersey turban wound around her blonde locks . . . We giggled when we noticed the string she'd tied around her finger, to help her remember all her errands . . .

Lillian Politzer, in a sky blue knitted outfit, with a school-girlish fresh white collar . . . A navy sailor-boy hat . . . Mrs. David Dwares wore a chic outfit of beige, with large brown squares . . . It was a lightweight fitted coat, and we presumed her frock matched . . . She wore brown accessories . . .

Two devotees of polka dots were Muriel Halprin and Sylvia Uloff . . . Muriel's was pink, with a tucked bodice, while Sylvia's was of eraser green . . . She wore a bolero of white angora over it . . . Sadie Woolf in a black and white checkered silk jersey dress . . . Her dark hair, worn becomingly shoulder length . . . Beatrice Norman in a multi-coloured plaid frock, and a soldier blue hat, accented with matching plaid . . .

Saturday — at the races— Mrs. Burt Finberg, in a blue silk shirtmaker dress, and a smart tweed hat with high feathers . . . Mrs. Morris Sydell waved, and her frock looked like printed navy . .

There were too many people at Narragansett for comfortable getting of name notes . . . But some rather new style hints were gleaned from strange passers-by . . .

The vogue for capes is on the upswing . . . We saw two . . . One was black cashmere with a hood — worn over a gay multi-coloured plaid jacket . . . The other, topping a black tweed skirt and red tweed jacket, was in black cavalry twill, dashing as anything with its square shoulders and white lapels . . .

Amethyst was a subtle new shade used for a stunning frock of velveteen . . . It had slash pockets on each side of the skirt's front fullnes, and gold metal-

Prepare Ground for Pogrom in France

Riots Planned For September

LONDON. — The news weekly Cavalcade reports that large-scale anti-Semitic outbursts have been timed to break out in France during the first week of September.

According to the Cavalcade, the man behind the terror being prepared for France is Dr. Wilhelm Karl Kugler, who staged many anti-Jewish outrages in Germany and was responsible for directing the November, 1938, pogroms which followed assassination of a German Embassy official in Paris.

Assisting Kugler, the magazine said, is a big staff of newspaper editors, radio announcers and platforms propagandists. The campaign is reportedly reaching a climax now with slogans accusing the Jews of responsibility for the war, hunger, unemployment and absence of money.

Taylor street, last Sunday at a ceremony performed at the Lincoln Cafe. Rabbi Morris Silk of the Ahavath Sholom Synagogue officiated at the single ring ceremony.

A white silk brocaded gown with a short train was worn by the bride. It was fashioned with a very full skirt, a sweetheart neckline, and short puffed sleeves. From her heart-shaped halo fell a finger tip veil. She wore a single-strand of pearls, and carried a white prayer book, and white orchids.

Miss Thelma Walker attended the bride as maid of honor. She was dressed in a gown of light blue mousseline-de-soie, with pink trim. She carried pink roses and blue delphinium. Wallace Baker, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Bridesmaids included the Misses Gladys Benoit, Eleanor Broomfield, Nora Broomfield, Lillian Kaplan, Selma Kaufman and Theresa Richards. Three were gowned in blue, while three wore gowns of blue. They all carried Colonial bouquets. Ushers comprised Stanley Baker, Harold Berman, Samuel Berman, Sanford Block, Joel Kaplan and Irving Katz.

The mother of the bride was attired in a mousseline-de-soie gown of acqua, while the bridegroom's mother wore a black gown. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

A buffet supper for about 200 guests followed the ceremony. The couple is now on a wedding trip to New York.

Ben Gurion Urges Army for Palestine

Imperative for Far East Security

LONDON, (Palcor Agency).—"The immediate establishment of a Jewish army in Palestine is a matter of life and death for the Jewish community of Palestine," David ben Gurion, Chairman of the Executive of the Jewish Agency, declares in a striking article in the current issue of the "New Judaea," monthly publication of the Zionist Organization here.

"The establishment of such an army is imperative for the maintenance of the Allied position in the Near East," Mr. Ben Gurion asserts. "It is moreover, an indispensable factor in the moral strategy of this war."

The Jewish Agency leader points out that no one in the British Government can be blamed if the Jews of Palestine go down fighting. The refusal of the Government to mobilize the Jews of Palestine, he says, places "the heaviest responsibility upon the Mandatory power" should a temporary reverse to the British cause occur in the Near East.

A widow's-peak bonnet, showed up a stunning blonde pompadour . . . Pumps are back on feet again, and are we glad! . . . Hosiery has a goldish-brown look — almost benedictine . . .

What is a woman's mood in all this fresh fall finery? . . . Well, she feels exotic, sophisticated, a daredevil and a siren . . . And may we add, she's dramatic as an exclamation point . . .

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

Conclusion

In very tragic days like these
Mid deeds that make men faint
I don't care where the Windsors are
Or even where they aint . . .

Out of the hurricane scare and the general exodus from summer resorts came the following tale . . . One family, minus the mother, who was visiting in New York, hurriedly decided to leave . . . After packing, they suddenly realized that a message would have to be left for the mother . . . To the amazement and laughter of the neighbors, here's what they pinned on the door: "We've left . . . If you want to come home, you can." . . . The Al Rosens, she the former Sarah Cohen, have named their daughter, Judith Elaine . . At press time, Rabbi and Mrs. Braude still hadn't decided on what to name their son . . .

Community Funders

From Community Fund headquarters comes word that the following have been selected as speakers for the coming drive: Mrs. Saul Abrams, Walter Adler, Alter Boyman, Rabbi William G. Braude, Rabbi Israel M. Goldman, Arthur Levy and Archibald Silverman . . . A youngster whose father must have been a politician, was asked why is George Washington called "First in War, First in Peace." . . . The bright boy answered, "I don't know, unless it's to make him solid with both the preparedness crowd and the pacifists." . . .

Locallooks

The Jacob Katz's are on a vacation trip through the mid-west and nearby Canada . . . While in Detroit they plan to attend the American Chemical Society convention which opens on Monday . . . Spied at Block Island, Helen Goldis . . . Mrs. John Silverman recently spent several days at Grossinger's . . . Eunice Jacobs and Harold Tregar will be married Sunday at Temple Emanuel . . . Wedding bells will also ring this Sunday for Lillian Horvitz and Milton Levitt, at Beth Israel . . . It's a standard British saying that Hitler, Goering and Goebbels are, respectively, the Mouth, the Muscle and the Mind of the Nazi regime . . .

Wedding Birthdays

Celebrations of wedding anniversaries took place all over Rhode Island during the past few weeks . . . the Meyers recognized their seventh, the Carl Jagolinzers, the Abe Hellers, the Samuel Michaelsons, their twentieth milestones, while the Nathan Warrens and the Samuel Kaplans were receiving silver wedding felicitations . . .

In Town and Out

Sam Solinger and Max Leach are back after a holiday weekend spent in New Hampshire. . . The Maurice Chorneys were seen recently in New York . . . Dorothy Selinder has returned to town after ten days in Monticello, New York . . . At the Biltmore one night last week were noticed Esther Bazar and Dave Berger . . . Louis Kirshenbaum will be stagged next Wednesday night by his friends . . . Lou will be married on September 15 to Frances Gorfine . . . The first meeting of the year for B'nai B'rith is scheduled for September 23 . . . The Refugee Service Committee, has made arrangements to aid aliens in their registration . . .

Nothing New

A trick of making parachutists, fifth columners or spies speak in an invaded country's own language (and possibly betray themselves) is not a new one . . . The same test of making a spy speak a word peculiar to the language of the country was used so many centuries ago that it's described in the Bible's Old Testament . . . When the Israelites met a person who looked and dressed like an Israelite, but whom they suspected of being a disguised spy, they made him say the Hebrew word "Shibboleth." . . . And for some reason or other a non-Israelite could never get the correct pronunciation or inflexion and would usually say Sibboleth." . . . Quite a nifty scheme

That's all for now . . .

Army-Bundist Jailed On Motorcycle Theft

Trial Reveals Pro-Nazi Scheme

JERSEY CITY. — How the German-American Bund influenced one of its 19-year-old members to enlist in the U. S. Army Signal Corps was revealed by Probation Officer Adolph P. Kern when the youth, David Van Buskirk, was sentenced to a reformatory for motorcycle theft.

Buskirk met a German girl who persuaded him to join the Bund and Bund leaders then successfully urged him to join the army in January, Kern told the court. Kern, who was Buskirk's probation officer for a previous offense, learned of his Nazi leanings and told FBI officers. They had him transferred to the infantry and he later deserted. Then he was dishonorably discharged.

Sentencing him on the motorcycle theft charge, Common Pleas Judge Thomas H. Brown said: "It is a sad thing that an American boy like you should have so much admiration for the Nazis."

Slovakians Refuse To Give Up Doctors

BUCHAREST. — The Slovak government has declined a Russian offer to receive Jewish doctors on the ground that they are needed in case of epidemics, it was reported here this week.

During the last few weeks the new Slovak government has ousted 45 Jewish specialists, bringing the number of Jewish doctors excluded from practice to 367. The Slovak refusal was believed due to German opposition, since during the Polish campaign all Slovak doctors, Jews included, were mobilized to treat German wounded in an elaborate sanatorium in the Tatra Mountains, erected while Czecho Slovakia was independent.

France Rounds-Up Loyalist Fighters

LONDON. — Scores of Jews who fought with the International Brigade in Spain during the Civil War there have been arrested upon orders of the Petain regime in unoccupied France, it was learned.

During the round-up of persons suspected of fighting in Spain on the side of the Loyalists, many Jewish refugees from Belgium and Holland were arrested. These Jews were ordered released, it was understood, after certain influential Frenchmen pleaded their case.

Kosher Cookery at World's Fair

Special Innovation At Heinz Dome

Kosher cookery, American style, is a hobby with Florence Kaplan, graduate dietician of Pratt Institute, who is one of the thirty-two home economists meeting the public at sampling counters in the Heinz Dome at the New York World's Fair.

For a little variation from your regular Friday night dinner, Miss Kaplan suggests trying your favorite recipe of chopped liver "stuffed" in crisp celery stalks and garnished with pimento. A can of tomatoes added to your chicken soup is another departure from humdrum cooking and instead of the traditional roast chicken, Miss Kaplan recommends frying the chicken to a crisp golden brown in olive oil.

For a simple hot weather "milchig" luncheon, especially if one adheres to a low calorie diet, Miss Kaplan is in favor of starting off with cream of tomato soup, the kind that comes in cans all ready to heat and serve. A few kernels of crisp popcorn make a tasty garnish. A salad bowl heaped with julienne and sliced raw vegetables served with a French dressing comes next. For dessert, she serves rice flake cookies and fresh fruit with iced tea or coffee. The nice part about this raw vegetable salad is that it's arranged in sections so that guests or the family may help themselves to their favorite vegetables.

Miss Kaplan is of the opinion that she can add nothing to the science of making "gefuelte" fish, borscht and other traditional Jewish dishes.

"The housewife herself is expert in this line," says the Heinz dietician. "But Kosher cookery with the modern touch — that's something else."

Miss Kaplan is available to World's Fair visitors at the Heinz Dome which is close to the Lagoon of Nations and quite near the Palestine Pavilion.

Unrest in Balkans Increases Oppression

NEW YORK. — Conditions in the Balkans under increased German economic pressure were described this week by Ernst O. Heyl, American representative in the Balkans for the American Commission for Polish Relief, as he arrived at LaGuardia Airport, aboard the Dixie Clipper from Lisbon.

Returning after three months, spent largely in Rumania, to report on the food situation in the Balkans, Heyl also brought with him tales of increased oppression of the Jews, which followed strengthened German influence growing out of "false promises" to protect the Balkan states against Russian invasion.
