RENAMED TO POST: Joseph M. Finkle, prominent on the national and local scenes in the field of human relations and civil rights, has been renamed vice chairman of the Providence Human Relations Commission. He also serves as chairman of the commission's police community relations committee. Frederick C. Williamson, director of the Rhode Island Department of Community Affairs was renamed chairman.

Mr. Finkle, who served on the Rhode Island Commission Against Discrimination under Governors Roberts, Pastore and Notte, is founder of Roger Williams Lodge, B'nai B'rith and its honorary president; a past president of District Grand Lodge, B'nai B'rith, a former chairman of the New England Regional ADL Board, a member of its executive committee, and a member of the National ADL Commission program committee.

Last year he was elected an honorary life trustee of Temple Beth El, and he is chairman of its public relations committee; a trustee of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island, Camp Jori and the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and a former trustee of The Miriam Hospital and the Bureau of Jewish Education.

BUY DIAMONDS

TEL AVIV — Israel has increased its share of the growing Japanese market for polished diamonds, it was reported.

Arsonists Set Fire To Rabbi's House

TEL AVIV — A police spokesman said that arsonists set fire Sunday to the home of one of Israel's two chief rabbis, Shlomo Goren, but that neighbors had extinguished the blaze before serious damage resulted. Rabbi Goren was recently elected Chief Rabbi of the country's Ashkenazic, or Western Jewish, community.

The police spokesman said that policemen had found kerosene-soaked rags on the doorstep of Rabbi Goren's apartment in Tel Aviv. The rabbi and his family were away at the time.

This was the second attempt on Rabbi Goren's home in eight months. Arsonists tried to burn his apartment last March but the attempt failed. He was elected to his new rabbinical post recently in the face of criticism from those Orthodox Jews who oppose what is widely considered his liberal approach to Judaism.

TO BE INSTALLED: Mrs. Archie Smith of Providence will be installed as a national vice-president of the Women's Branch, Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America, at the organization's Golden Jubilee Convention to be held in Montreal, Canada, from November 12 through 14.

Not A Change In Policy

Report Granting Of Exemptions Simply Gesture Towards US

MOSCOW — A high Soviet police official was quoted here this week as having said that the recent granting of education-tax exemptions to Jewish emigrants was a gesture toward the United States, not a basic change in Soviet policy.

The statement, reported by Jewish activists, would appear to confirm a widespread view that waivers recently extended to about 190 families were intended to mollify United States Congressional opposition to a trade agreement signed this month by the Soviet Union and the United States.

Seventy-six Senators have sponsored a resolution asserting that they will block the trade package unless the Soviet Union rescinded a heavy exit tax being levied on emigrants to compensate the state for free advanced education. The package includes tariff concessions to the Russians, requiring Congressional approval.

Jewish Activists' Letter

According to a letter signed by 47 Jewish activists and made available to Western newsmen, the recent tax exemptions were linked to the United States trade pact by Col. Andrei Verein, chief of the Visa Department of the Soviet police.

The letter, in the form of an appeal to the Soviet leaders, quoted the police official as having said that the education tax had been waived in some cases "not as a change of the authorities' approach to the emigration problem, but as a gesture toward a certain foreign with which the Soviet Union is seeking to develop commercial and economic relations." The allusion was evidently to the United States.

The signers of the appeal, including several prominent scientists barred from emigration, were all present at a meeting last week with Colonel Verein and with Boris T. Shumilin, a Deputy Police Minister.

Mr. Shumilin was quoted as having said that the Soviet Union's policy on emigration "has not changed and will not change."

Emigration for Soviet citizens is highly restricted and granted only in individual cases.

MEETING OUT-OF-DOORS to plan natural wildflower arrangements for the 25th Annual Donor Luncheon of the Providence Hebrew Day School Women on Tuesday, November 14, are members of the decoration committee, from left to right, Mrs. David Seidman, Mrs. Leonard Labush, chairman, and Mrs. Marvin Lerman, cochairman. Starting at 12 noon, the program of the affair will feature an original presentation by the sixth grade of the school which will be directed by Drew Kopf, adult activities director of the Jewish Community Center. Mrs. Harvey Kramer is chairman of the Donor Luncheon.

Home For Aged Ladies' Group To Hold Linen, Equipment Event

The annual Linen and Equipment Event of the Ladies' Association of the Jewish Home for the Aged will be held on Wednesday, November 8, at 1 p.m. at the Temple Emanu-El meeting house. A coffee hour will precede the program which will be a presentation of Fashions by Helen Olevsen, Inc. Mrs. David Horovitz will be the commentator and Mrs. Harry Seltzer will play the piano.

Proceeds will be used not only to replenish the supplies of the Home, but to purchase a station wagon for the transportation of the residents to eye doctors, dentists, podiatrists and in cases of emergency.

Mrs. Max Rose is chairman and Mrs. Elliot Revkin is a member of the committee on arrangements, ex-officio.

Assisting Mrs. Rose are Mrs. Ben Sinel, cochairman; Mrs. Jerome Berry, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Katz, secretary; Mrs. Horovitz, program; Mrs. Seltzer, publicity; Mrs. Morris P. Schwartz, gifts; Mrs. Albert Cohen, Mrs. Abraham Freedman, Mrs. Louis Katznelson, Mrs. Jack Sandler, Mrs. Perry Summer, Mrs. Joseph Waksler and Mrs. Leonard White, oiling secretaries. Mrs. George Ludman, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Irving Abrams, Mrs. Aaron Caslowitz, Mrs. Harry Halpern, Mrs. Edward Lavine, Mrs. David Litchman, Mrs. Martin Wexler and Mrs. Elr Winkler.

Other members of the com-

Outrage in the Skies

Two more outrageous hijackings in rapid succession provide rude reminders of the feebleness of all efforts to date by the international community to deal with this despicable crime. As the results of these affairs, the only participants who might have been brought to justice for the murder of eleven Israeli athletes in Munich are now enjoying sanctuary in Libya; and three Americans wanted in connection with murder and armed robbery have escaped to Cuba, leaving a fresh trail of blood in their wake.

Beyond this, about fifty more airline passengers and crew members have undergone harrowing experiences; the fears of air travel in the existing climate have been multiplied for millions and the fabric of international relations and commerce has suffered further grave damage. This is an intolerable situation to which responsible governments and international organizations must at long last face up.

For a start, governments should put every possible pressure on Cuba and Libya to extradite the hijackers, along with the accused murderers Bonn surrendered. If this requires economic boycotts of airlines and other enterprises, they should be invoked; for if governments fail to act in this situation, private individuals and organizations will take matters into their own hands. The threat of trade unions at London's international airport to boycott all flights by Arab airlines is only one example of what we can expect. This week's Israeli raids on guerrilla bases near Damascus are an even more ominous threat of fast-escalating disruption.

The airlines themselves must, of course, make every effort to improve their security systems; but the major action must come from governments, including the Government of the United States; such action is shamefully inexcusably overdue.

Disagrees With Advertisement In October 27 Issue Of Herald

In last week's Jewish Herald, you ran an ad paid for by the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President with the heading "Four Years ago, many of us never dreamed we'd be supporting President Nixon in 1972." I would disagree with all of the positions expressed in the ad. But most important, I should like to call to the attention of your readers some blatant distortions which were portrayed as facts in this ad.

1) The ad claimed that Richard Nixon's aid to Israel is more than all previous administrations combined.

There are two types of aid given to Israel by the U.S. — economic aid and military aid. Total aid, economic and military given to Israel is $1,175.8 million under Nixon and $1,285.9 million under other administrations from (1949-68). (These totals represent unclassified figures only.) It is these figures which the Republicans refer to when they make the claim that the Nixon administration has given more aid to Israel than all other administrations combined. But by basing this claim on these figures, the Republicans do little more than distort the real picture.

The most important facts are left out:

a) Previous administrations equalled or bettered the amount of economic aid allocated to Israel during their administrations as compared to the four years of Richard Nixon. Furthermore, whereas $350.8 million in economic aid has gone to Israel under the Nixon administration, $1,150.0 million in aid has gone to Israel during other administrations (1949-68). So the claim that the Nixon administration's aid to Israel is more than all previous administrations combined is not for the amounts of economic aid given to Israel.

b) Nixon has failed to give Israel all the economic aid allocated for her and has often done nothing or even criticized efforts to support or initiate programs of economic aid to Israel. A $50 million supporting assistance grant voted in 1971 was initiated not by the Nixon administration but by Congress. An $85 million bill to provide Israel help in resettling Soviet Jews was passed without White House support. In its testimony on the bill, the administration spokesman maintained that the funds were not necessary. And in September 1969, Congress approved a $20 million grant for a joint U.S.-Israeli desalination project. Despite a Republican platform pledge to support such a project, first proposed by President Johnson, the Administration has refused to implement the proposal to this day.

c) The bulk of U.S. aid to Israel during the last four years is contained in $823 million of military credits. Most of this money re-in Israel was in spite of the Nixon administration not because of it.

For example, despite many attempts by the administration to stop $500 million in credits for military purchases authorized by the Senate on September 1, 1971 (Jackson Amendment), the Senate again voted on November 23 contrary to Administration wishes (81-14) to provide the $500 million in credits for Israel, with $250 million specifically earmarked for Phantom jets. On the day the bill

FROM FRIDAY TO FRIDAY

Three on the "Firing Line"

By BERYL SEGAL

The "Firing Line," the TV program on Sundays over Channel Two, is a must in our house. As you probably know, this program is conducted by William F. Buckley, the most intelligent conservative in the land, with invited guests whom the host usually devastates by his probing questions, or, at best, takes them down a peg or two from their stand. The arguments that fly back and forth between Mr. Buckley and his guests are in the best tradition of give and take in a cultured conversation. Experts are sparring in the ring, and you, the listener, are to decide who the winner is, if any.

A few Sundays ago William F. Buckley had on his program three "professional Jews," discussing the shift away from the traditional Liberal-Democratic vote to the Conservative-Republican vote among American Jews. The program began with the assertion that according to some poll 30% of the Jewish vote will go to Nixon in the next presidential election. Mr. Buckley wanted to know the reasons for the shift. Note that the three invited guests are called "Professional Jews." Jews in general would have said immediately to Mr. Buckley that no one knows for certain how the Jews are going to vote, that the Jews are shifting in politics for the same reasons that the Southern States are said to be leaning toward Nixon, or that the state of Illinois is throwing over the rule of Mayor Daley and is going Republican.

No mystery, and no special program is needed to probe the Jewish vote.

But the three who were on the "Firing Line" on that Sunday evening were willing, even eager, to offer their views and to claim to know the minds of the Jewish voters.

Professor Nathan Glazer of Harvard talked too much. Dr. William A. Wexler of B'nai B'rith was too glib. Only Dr. Nathan Perlmutter of Brandeis added something to the program, and it is with what he had to say that seems of interest and worth repeating in this column.

To the question of Mr. Buckley as to why American Jews are so concerned about Israel, making it a primary issue in the presidential elections, more so than the Italians for Italy, or the Irish for Ireland, Mr. Perlmutter, in essence, said this:

The Italians and the Irish know that there will always be an Italy or an Ireland. Governments are overthrown. Revolutions come and go. But the land and the people continue to live.

But in Israel it is a matter of life and death. It is not a question of this regime or that government. The question is whether Israel lives or is swept into the sea as the Arabs boast they will do when victorious. No one expects that there will be a single Jew left alive in Israel should the Arabs win in battle. This is why Jews in America are so concerned that Israel receive all the aid it can get from America, so that it can negotiate a political peace settlement with its Arab neighbors. This is why there is a Jewish plank in the platform of both major parties but no Italian or Irish plank.

Mr. Buckley, to be sure, knew the answer to this question very well. He has recently visited Israel, is quite familiar with the situation. The articles which Mr. Buckley wrote about the people and the land of Israel upon his return are very sympathetic. But I suspect that the reason for his questioning was to elucidate a proper answer, and Mr. Perlmutter formulated the case of Israel clearly and concisely.

The other point of discussion concerned the so-called Quota System. There is a movement afoot in the land, especially in the colleges and universities, to admit students not on their merits but by the percentage of the ethnic group in the population. The system was at work in Miami Beach when a certain party admitted a definite percentage of young, of blacks and of women on the committees and on the executive board.

Mr. Perlmutter pointed out the danger of such a policy if applied to industry, to business, to education and to government. No one is against employing or admitting the young, women and blacks to any of these sources of employment. But admit them according to their abilities and not by a quota system. If you do that you will water down the efficiency of the apparatus of the country. If a student is admitted to a university not because he is capable but because the law requires a certain proportion of white and blacks, of men and women, then the standards of that educational institution will be lowered. If a bank employs its tellers and secretaries by counting noses and not by the talent of the employees, and if the Supreme Court of the United States "must" have a woman or a black, not because there is one available but because some faction demands it, then woe to the judicial system of the land, to the efficacy of the industry and the imaginative innovation of the business.

Give them jobs by all means. Keep the doors of opportunity open to all. But do not offer these jobs to inferiors just because they are inferior.

The Jews know the evils of the quota system in all its ramifications. And if they suspect a candidate for whatever office favors the quota system, his fears will be aroused and he will withhold his vote from that candidate.

The Jew will sit in judgment on the day of election and examine the issues on their merits. This is a far cry from a shift of allegiance from one political party to another.

(Mr. Segal's opinions are his own and not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

Social Security in Perspective

Do the new all-time high Social Security taxes discriminate against the poor? Is the "earnings test" a blatant discrimination in favor of the rich? What's the position of the working wife? And is it true that the Federal government uses our Social Security contributions for non-Social Security purposes?

Not since the Social Security system was created in the mid-1930s, more than a generation ago, has there been such intense debate about its provisions, directions and goals. And understandably — for Social Security is expanding rapidly now to a vitally important pension base in the U.S. and Social Security taxes on both employer and employee will hit a landmark 11.7 per cent on a record wage base next year.

What, then, are some of the answers?

Q: Does the system discriminate against the poor?

A: There is simply no denying that the Social Security tax is a regressive tax — and the higher the rate goes, the more obvious this fact becomes.

In 1973, the tax will rise to 5.85 per cent on up to $10,800 of wages, or to a maximum of $631.80 a year — paid both by employer and by employee (as against 5.2 per cent on up to $9,000 of wages, or a maximum of $468, in 1972). Quite a jump . . .

If you earn $10,800, you'll pay $631.80 and if you earn $1,800,000, you'll also pay $631.80.

If you are struggling on a pay of $4,000, you'll pay a 5.85 per cent tax in '73 and if you earn a fat $400,000, you'll also pay a 5.85 per cent tax (but only up to $10,800.)

How regressive can you get? But, say Social Security Administration spokesmen, as a counterbalance, Social Security cash benefits are a far higher proportion of the earnings of low income Americans than of higher income taxpayers. A very low income worker, for instance, is now eligible for a retirement benefit amounting to more than 90 per cent of his earnings. And, they add, they consider

Black Paper Denies Anti-Semitic Bias

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia Tribune, a Black daily published here, has denied in an editorial allegations that it is anti-Semitic. Charges of anti-Semitism were brought against the newspaper following an article by Bill Mathis, described as a chairman and director of Philadelphia CORE since 1965 and co-chairman of the Congress of African People.

Mathis' article, which was part of a series on Black Nationalism, alleged a Zionist "conspiracy" which deprived the Arab peoples of their land in Palestine. It also charged that Israel was aligned with nations that oppress Blacks and claimed that Black ghetto dwellers were oppressed for decades by Jewish business.

The editorial following Mathis' article stated, "The Tribune is definitely not anti-Semitic and does not relish being so categorized when an item not complementary to the Jewish people ascribed to the author is carried in its news columns."

BRIDGE

By Robert E. Starr

Today's hand differs from most of the hands shown here because every Declarer except one did make it. Actually, they could and should have been set. I watched most of the time the hand was played but unfortunately did not see the time it was made and never found out whether the same lead was employed or what happened. Nine times the player on lead did make the only lead to set the hand but did not receive any cooperation from his partner as you will see. With any other lead Declarer has time to extract Trumps and go about his business to make the hand.

No one was vulnerable, East Dealer with this bidding:

Many of the players were using my Variation of the Stayman Convention over No Trump openings. The only fault ever to be found with this is that it paints such an accurate picture of the opening bidder's hand that every once in a while it also shows the Defense just what to do. Such was the case here except that the Defenders were not alert enough to listen to what was told to them and utilize that knowledge.

I watched as most Wests' opening lead was the Heart 8. First, they had no better lead to go right into an opening No Trump hand and second, with their Trump control, the King, to get in with, there was a possibility of a Heart ruff. Had East done his part they could have gotten that ruff and thereby set the hand. What happened was that East couldn't wait to jump on that first Heart lead with his Ace.

By doing that he lost the chance to set the hand for when he returned a Heart hoping his partner would ruff, Declarer won in Dummy and took the Trump finesse. This lost but now West had no way to get his partner in to give him that ruff that he should have gotten.

What should East have done and how did the bidding help him know this? Even without such accurate bidding his play should really have been the same. The answer is that he should not have been in such a hurry to take that first trick. He is certain by the lead that his partner cannot have more than two Hearts but is it a Doubleton or a Singleton? How can he tell and is he absolutely certain? The bidding by those who did use my Variation showed this: When the opener answered the two Club question his bid of three Spades showed a maximum No Trump with four Spades but not four Hearts. So the most Hearts he could have was three meaning by simple arithmetic that West must have at least two. With three he would have led low so the 8 must be the top of a Doubleton. If East plays his Ace he will now have no entry so he must maintain communication with his partner by ducking that first lead. Of course, he can encourage a continuation by playing the 10 but not the Ace.

Watch what happens when East ducks the first trick. Declarer either wins in Dummy or goes over there with a Diamond to take the Trump finesse which loses to West. Now back comes that other Heart and now East takes his Ace and plays a third one for his partner to ruff. The Club Ace is the setting trick and there is absolutely nothing the poor Declarer can do about it. Of course, everyone who led the Heart 8 is in the position to do the same thing but only one pair out of thirteen did it.

If along with his Heart Ace it was East who had the other Ace, an entry, then it wouldn't have made any difference but he had no other entry so should have known that he had to not win that first trick. Sounds easy now, doesn't it.

Actually, to a thinking East, it is. Even if he were put to a guess, as to whether the lead was a singleton or doubleton, the probability was that the No Trump bidder was not likely to have two four card suits and his Spade bid already had shown one. Yes, he might have had but far less than half the time. A guess would not be as accurate as that.

Moral: Communication is of the utmost importance, not only in the bidding but also in the entries while playing the hand whether as a Defender or playing the Dummy as Declarer. Learn to utilize it wisely.

Your Money's Worth

the tax "in the nature of a premium rather than a tax."

To me this does not make this regressive tax any less regressive — and the tax will come under increasing attack.

Q. Does the "earnings test" favor the rich?

A. It favors all those elderly Americans who have nesteggs on which they collect interest and dividends — for under the law, there is no limit on what they can collect while still getting every penny of their Social Security benefits.

In contrast, even under the liberalized provision which became law recently, you cannot earn more than $2,100 in your retirement (up to age 72) without starting to lose benefits at a rate of $1 in benefits lost for every $2 earned over $2,100.

So, of course, in this sense the test favors the rich. And this is so even though Social Security spokesmen insist that the original concept of the law was to protect the worker against loss of earned income due to old age, disability, etc. The system didn't even consider unearned income. Also, spokesmen say, any other attitude would penalize the "prudent saver."

Q. What's the position of the working wife?

A. I've been fighting this one for so long that I'm almost ready to concede defeat (but not quite).

As a working wife, you are eligible for full retirement benefits based on your former earnings and tax contributions; you are entitled to full disability insurance protection during your younger years (unlike the non-working wife); at your death, your survivors become eligible for monthly benefits based on your earnings. You get whichever is the higher benefit — your own based on your earnings or what's payable on your husband's earnings.

And if you get the benefit based on your husband's pay, what happens to all those taxes you paid on your earnings during your own working years? What happens, indeed!

Q. Does the government use the taxes for other things?

A. No. Every penny of your contributions goes into four separate trust funds, apart from each other and apart from the U.S. Treasury, and the only purposes for which money can be paid out of these funds are: Social Security-Medicare benefits and costs of administering the programs. Funds not needed for current operations are invested in U.S. government securities, earn enormous amounts in interest and thereby enhance the program.

Herb DeSimone asks for your vote next Tuesday.

It's been a long campaign. And, with the number of promises you've heard in the last few weeks, you may not be quite sure who stands for what.

If you only remember one thing about my campaign, I want it to be this: that I want to give the State House back to the people.

It is the theme of my campaign. It's the one issue to which everything else I've said is related. It's your assurance that you'll never be misled again about the workings of government or the financial position of our State.

I call this issue open government. Whether it happens or not depends on you.

I need your help! Together we can make Rhode Island responsive to all of its citizens and not to just a favored few.

If you want open government and the fiscal, ethical and social reform it can bring, please give me your vote on Tuesday, November 7.

NY Jewish Biologist Receives Nobel Prize

NEW YORK — The 1972 Nobel Prize in Physiology and Medicine was awarded to a Jewish biologist of New York and a reportedly non-Jewish professor of London, both of whom have ties with the Weizmann Institute of Science in Rehovot, Israel. They will share $101,000 for their research on antibodies.

The Jewish co-winner was Dr. Gerald Maurice Edelman, 43, of Rockefeller University, a member of the Board of Governors of the Weizmann laboratories. Last Oct., Dr. Edelman conducted research in the Institute laboratories. He was born in New York and educated at Urainus College, Philadelphia, and the University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

The prize's co-winner, Dr. Rodney Robert Porter, 55, of Oxford University, has cooperated in research in England with Dr. David Givol of the Weizmann Institute staff.

Young American Settlers To Launch Fund Drive

TEL AVIV — The "Family of Israel," a group of young American settlers who founded a religious commune at Kedma, south of here, may soon be launching a funds drive in the U.S., as the Jewish Agency has cut off all aid to the settlement in an apparent effort to get the 30-odd members off the land they now occupy.

The official reason given by the Jewish Agency is that the settlement "failed" since it never became self-sufficient.

Mrs. Sara Mandel, leader of the group, charges that this reason is ridiculous since the settlement only got its water pipeline eight weeks ago. "We couldn't possibly have a crop yet," she said, "as the members could not work the land before." Mrs. Mandel claims that the group has been persecuted since its beginnings a few years ago for political reasons.

WASHINGTON — The State Department said that it was reversing a previous decision and would allow a visa to be granted to an officer of the Syrian UN Mission, Dia Allah el Fattal, whose visa was revoked by the US Immigration and Naturalization Service October 2 during the height of the screening of Arab personnel for possible terrorist connections. Fattal was reported in Rome at the time. No visa has been issued to his wife, who is reported to be an activist with Palestinian extremist groups. Asked about Mrs. Fattal, State Department spokesman Charles Bray said that since she had not applied for a visa the question was "academic."

SUPPORT GROWS
WASHINGTON — Campus support for Israel, following the killings by Palestinian terrorists of 11 Israeli athletes in Munich September 5, was "unmatched even at the time of the Six-Day War," according to a study by the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation on the response at universities to the Munich massacre. Reporting the "deep concern" at a score of major universities across the country, the Hillel study noted that "the massive turnouts were particularly significant in light of the general campus mood of indifference to mass rallies and public demonstrations in support of any cause." It also noted that most universities were not in session when the atrocity occurred.

KFAR RUPPIN DUG DEEPER . . .
SO CAN WE

They were in a border kibbutz. After the first terrorist attacks, they knew that their shelters did not offer the children enough protection, so they dug deeper. All the people of Israel are digging deeper into their physical strength and their emotional resources. They are the most heavily taxed people in the world. 80% of their tax revenue goes to pay the cost of security. We, too, must dig deeper if we are to fulfill our responsibilities to the 50,000 new immigrants who will arrive in Israel this year. They will need housing, food, jobs, language-training. And here at home the Federation has added the needs of our elderly, THE JEWISH HOME FOR THE AGED, to the 26 local causes you support. This year DIG DEEPER—GIVE MORE THAN BEFORE!

MEMBERSHIP KICKOFF

Fred Kasner, education director of the New England office of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, will be the guest speaker at the combined board meeting and membership kickoff of Roger Williams Chapter, B'nai B'rith Women. The meeting will be held on Monday, November 6, at 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Aaron Gershkoff of 1 Sayles Avenue, Pawtucket.

Membership chairman is Mrs. Howard I. Lipsey.

ORT SABBATH

Mrs. Richard Strauss, chairman of the Rhode Island-Southern Massachusetts Board of Women's American ORT has named Friday evening, November 3, as ORT Sabbath. Rabbi Jerome Gurland will welcome the ORT members at services at Temple Sinai at 8:30 p.m.

ANNOUNCE MEETING

The R.I. Diabetes Association of Rhode Island will sponsor an open meeting on Tuesday, November 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Bishop McVinney Memorial Auditorium, it has been announced by Miss Ann McCarthy, RN.

The public is invited to attend. Further information may be obtained by calling Miss McCarthy at 353-4700, extension 64.

SUPPORT CANCER SOCIETY

Three officers of the Narragansett Bay Wheelmen, a Rhode Island bicycle club, are supporting the American Cancer Society's efforts in sponsoring a Bike-A-Thon throughout Rhode Island on Sunday, November 5.

Miles Sydney, vice president; Dorothea Snyder, secretary, and Robert Corwin, ride coordinator, have planned various bicycle routes through the state. President of the NBW is Warren Hinterland and treasurer is Edward Ames.

Participants will recruit sponsors to pledge a stipulated amount of money for each mile the cyclist rides. All proceeds will go to the Cancer Society.

Further information may be obtained by calling the American Cancer Society at 831-6970.

REGIONAL CONFERENCE

A regional conference on the Jewish family will be held on Sunday, November 5, from 9:30 a.m. to noon at the Devotion School in Brookline, Massachusetts, it has been announced by B'nai B'rith.

Irving Matross of Newton Centre, Massachusetts, and Jack Levy of Framingham, Massachusetts, said that this first conference is sponsored by the men's and women's councils of B'nai B'rith in Greater Boston, Central New England and Maine-New Hampshire. Also involved in the planning are the Tri-State Region, AZA, Bay State Region, BBG, and the Blackstone Regions of AZA and BBG.

The conference, which will begin with a breakfast, has two main objectives: to place the problems of the Jewish family and other issues related to the present erosion of American Jewish life in B'nai B'rith's national program agenda, and to plan and launch a minimum of three B'nai B'rith programs and projects.

BIRTHDAY SALE

The Greenville Public Library will celebrate its 90th birthday with a sale on Saturday, November 11, from 1 to 5 p.m. at the library on Putnam Pike in Greenville.

On sale will be a wide selection of plants, books, home cooked food and a white elephant table.

NEW MEMBERS

Rabbi Saul Leeman of Temple Beth Torah will welcome new members at services on Friday, November 3, at 8:15 p.m. The sermon will be on "Should the Rabbi Discuss Politics and Why Not?"

McGovern for President — Some Reasons Why

We'd like to tell you why we are supporting George McGovern for the Presidency of the United States. As Americans and as Jews, we are concerned with all the issues in the election.

For Peace, Jobs, Freedom

There is the issue of peace in Vietnam. Under Richard Nixon, 20,000 more Americans have died in Indochina. The billions that should have gone into housing, hospitals, and schools, into cleaning the air and water, have gone instead to make a rubble out of Indochina.

There is the issue of crime in our streets. Under Richard Nixon, violent crime is up 33%. Drug addiction, the root cause of many crimes, has doubled in the past three years.

There is the issue of inflation and unemployment. Under Richard Nixon, food prices are up 17%, medical care 21%, housing 21%, clothing 12%. Unemployment is up 60% — from 3 million to over 5 million.

There is the issue of education: Richard Nixon vetoed aid-to-education bill three times in two years, calling such programs "the kind of big spending that is wrong for all the American people."

There is the issue of the Supreme Court. Under Richard Nixon, nominations to the high court — the great protector of our liberties — are conspicuous by their lack of a Brandeis, Cardozo, Holmes, Frankfurter or Warren.

There is the issue of Soviet Jewry. Richard Nixon has never spoken out publicly on the plight of the USSR's 3 million Jews. At a time of crisis for Soviet Jewry, he is proposing to grant the Kremlin most-favored-nation status in its trade dealings with our country.

George McGovern has helped lead the Senate fight for funds and political support in behalf of Soviet Jews since 1963. He has condemned the huge ransom charges imposed by the Soviet Union on Jews seeking to emigrate and called on the President to withhold trade concessions to the USSR until the Soviets abandon their slave tax — and cease their arming of Arab terrorists.

McGovern and Nixon on Israel—A Comparison

Israel has become an issue in this campaign — and we deplore this fact. As Senator McGovern has stated:

"Americans of all political beliefs support the people of Israel in their struggle to build a life of dignity and security for themselves and their children. I would therefore urge my Republican opponent to place these concerns above partisanship in the 1972 campaign. The security of the State of Israel is not a partisan issue."

But the issue has been raised, and it is necessary to put it to rest. Here are the facts:

1) As President, Richard Nixon placed a moratorium on the delivery of desperately needed Phantom jets to Israel. Only after an enormous Soviet military build-up in Egypt did he lift this ban early in 1972 — an election year.

As Senator, George McGovern played a key role in Congressional efforts to reverse Nixon's arms ban against Israel. He condemned "the Administration's decision to withhold the sale of the jets Israel has requested" and urged the President to sell Israel Phantom jets "without further delay."

2) Richard Nixon's Secretary of State, William Rogers, has called for Israeli withdrawal from virtually all the occupied areas. The "Rogers Plan" also proposes joint Israel-Jordanian rule of Jerusalem and gives Arab refugees the right to choose between repatriation in Israel or resettlement elsewhere. As Secretary Rogers announced at a Washington news conference on August 11, 1972, this plan remains U.S. policy in the Middle East.

Senator McGovern has publicly opposed every feature of the Rogers Plan. He has fought "all pressure upon Israel to withdraw prematurely and unconditionally." He has insisted that "there can be no peace until the Arab states agree to new and recognized boundary lines capable of deterring any further aggression." He has urged that Jerusalem "remain unified under Israeli administration." And he has declared: "Israel was created as a Jewish state. As a result, it cannot accept a large hostile population in its midst."

3) Richard Nixon's Ambassadors to the United Nations joined the Arab-Soviet bloc five times in voting to censure Israel for rebuffing Arab territories and for rebuilding a unified Jerusalem. On five other U.N. votes condemning Israel, the best the U.S. could do was abstain. Only after the tragedy at the Olympic Games in Munich did our Ambassador — for the first time — invoke the veto in support of Israel.

Senator McGovern has called on the U.S. to "support Israel's basic peace proposals in the arenas of diplomacy, including the U.N." He has urged that the U.S. sale of weapons to Israel "should not be made contingent on American diplomatic demands." And he has charged Egypt and Lebanon with sharing responsibility for the tragedy at the Olympic games in Munich, declaring that the world community must "ostracize and punish" any nation that gives haven to Arab terrorists.

4) The Nixon Administration has repeatedly sought to tie American aid to Israel with appropriations for Vietnam.

Senator McGovern has consistently distinguished between the evil war in Indochina and the just cause of Israel. Warning against the growth of isolationism, he has declared: "We cannot permit our revulsion against the war in Indochina to distort our judgment about America's responsibilities elsewhere in the world."

Our Country Needs George McGovern

To confront all these issues, our country needs the leadership of George McGovern. We trust him for his openness and candor. We admire him for his courage and determination. And we will vote for him because he has been right — right about the things that matter most to all of us.

We do not believe there is a monolithic "Jewish vote." Traditionally, however, most Jews have voted for candidates and parties that represented not special privilege but all the people. They have been on the side of those who chose life, who pursued justice, who followed the path of peace.

Senator George McGovern is that kind of man. We urge you to join us in helping to elect him the next President of the United States.

Trinity Extends Ticket Offering

Trinity Square Repertory Company in Providence has announced an extension of its 1972-73 season series ticket drive which is offering five plays at up to 18% off. The season ticket includes the present production of Old Times, Lady Audley's Secret, Royal Hunt of the Sun, A Mystery Farce, and a play which is to be announced.

Old Times, the latest of Harold Pinter's major works (all of which have been performed at Trinity Square) is a three-character study of memories and human relationships.

The production, which runs through November 11, has been directed by Jacques Cartier and stars Angela Thornton, Gerardine Arthur and Paul Benedict.

Information on season tickets may be obtained by calling the Trinity Square box office at 351-4242.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

SHOW TRIP PROGRAM

The Jewish Community Center will conduct a special show trip program for senior high school students on Saturday, November 4. Participants in the program will leave the Center at 7 p.m. and will attend the performance of "Cabaret" at Rhode Island College.

Following the program the students will return to the Center for a Make-Your-Own-Sundae-Ice-Cream party. PLAN MEETING

A regular meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Shalom will be held on Wednesday, November 8 in the temple social hall.

ART EXHIBIT

The South County Art Association's November exhibit will feature the work of Jerald Chико of East Greenwich at Helme House in Kingston from November 2 through November 16.

The exhibit will be open to the public from November 3 to November 16 from 2 to 5 p.m. daily. It will be closed on Mondays.

TO RECEIVE AWARD

Lewis Korn, a Providence manufacturer and Jewish communal leader, has been named a recipient of the 1972 Amudim Award of Torah Umesorah, the national society for Hebrew day schools, according to Samuel C. Feuerstein of Brookline, Massachusetts, national president of the organization.

The Amudim Award is given each year to 18 leaders in the American Jewish community who have shown dedicated and initiative in the field of Jewish education. It will be presented at the annual dinner of Torah Umesorah to be held on Sunday, November 5, at the New York Hilton Hotel in New York City.

A native of Providence and a manufacturer of electrical apparatus, Mr. Korn has been treasurer of the Providence Hebrew Day School ever since its establishment.

Active in many communal affairs, Mr. Korn is a board member of the Chesed Shel Emes Association, honorary vice president of the Vaad Hakashruth of Rhode Island, and a board member of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island.

TO BENEFIT

BRUSSELS — Israel will benefit from a European Common Market decision to adopt a "global approach" toward the market's future relations with Mediterranean countries. After a transitional period, Israel will be able to send industrial exports to Common Market countries duty-free. She will have to reciprocate by lifting all customs barriers for industrial products imported from EEC members, however. Israel will also be on a par with other countries in the area of agricultural products.

Special Membership Drive Starts At Jewish Center

A special Come-and-Try-Us membership drive is being conducted by the Jewish Community Center of Rhode Island.

During this effort, the Center will make information available to the community on its educational, recreational, health and social program for family members of all ages.

Norman Robinson, chairman of the Center membership campaign, and Edward D. Feldstein, membership committee chairman, are directing the drive which includes more than 100 volunteer workers.

A part of the current campaign is an offer to any interested family to come and try the Center's facilities as the guest of the membership committee. The Center offers a heated swimming pool, full gymnasium and exercise facilities and hundreds of special clubs, classes and other activities for family members in every age group from nursery school to senior citizens.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. John Yashar, membership intake worker, or Arthur Eisenstein, assistant executive director, at the Center office, 861-8800.

Mrs. Jules Goldsmith is serving as chairman of a special parlor meeting group that meets with groups of prospective members in their homes.

Others who are serving as captains of volunteer workers are Mrs. Manfred Weil, Mrs. Joseph Dressler, Jeremiah Gorin, Sheldon Green, Mrs. James Winoker, Mrs. James Yashar, Alan D. Brier, Harold L. Cohen, Mrs. Robert Corwin, Mrs. Norman Robinson and Mrs. Howard Lampal.

Zionist Leaders Told To Launch Program Of Jewish Education

ZURICH — Zionist leaders from 13 countries, attending a conference of the European branch of the World Confederation of General Zionists, were urged by two top leaders of the Confederation to promptly launch a broad program of Jewish education in the diaspora to combat the increasing tempo of assimilation.

Ezra Shapiro, president of the World Confederation of General Zionists and head of the World Keren Haysod, said "In every community there must be a strengthening of the forces and processes of Jewish education in order to insure the transmission of Jewish values, knowledge and solidarity with the State of Israel to our youth," and to encourage aliyah "to the fullest extent possible."

Kalman Sultank, executive vice-president of the Confederation and member of the World Zionist Executive, urged the Zionist movement to launch a "broad and ambitious program of education in the Western world to stem the ever rising tide of assimilation." He said that "in the face of the deepening generation gap and the continued process of alienation of Jewish youth from our heritage," the Zionist movement should "proceed forthwith to deal with the epidemic of assimilation which is decimating our current generation."

To that end Sultank proposed the immediate establishment by the World Zionist organization of an all-embracing commission with the "power, authority, as well as the budget, to implement without any further delay the broad programs of Jewish education, the promotion of Hebrew and teaching of Jewish history which have been adopted at the last two World Zionist Congresses."

JCC Children's Theatre To Start In December

Ticket sales open this week for the Jewish Community Center's 1972-73 Children's Theatre Series with three presentations. All performances will take place in the Jewish Community Center social hall at 2:30 p.m. on the scheduled Sunday. Seating will be limited.

Opening the season on Sunday, December 10, will be "Pepito's Story," performed by the Merry-Go-Rounders, one of America's most outstanding children's theater companies.

This will be followed on Sunday, January 28, by "Young Abe Lincoln," performed by the Performing Arts Repertory Theatre. This show, which opened off-Broadway in New York City, was moved to the Eugene O'Neil Theatre, becoming the first children's musical to play on Broadway. It has since played at the Ford Theatre in Washington, D.C., and has toured the country.

The final performance will be "Cinderella," the children's book favorite, performed by the Pickwick Puppet Theatre, using huge rod puppets and hand puppets to bring this tale to life.

Admission to the Children's Theatre programs is by season ticket only. Tickets will be available to all children of school age. Pre-school children, below kindergarten age, will be admitted to performances only if accompanied by an adult. Tickets are also available to adults.

Allon Asks Investigation Of Sale Of Dayan Artifacts

JERUSALEM — Deputy Premier Yigal Allon has asked the government's legal adviser to investigate charges that Defense Minister Moshe Dayan illegally exported items from his personal antiquities collection to the United States for sale to wealthy Jews.

Mr. Allon, acting on a complaint that Dayan illegally sent ancient artifacts abroad accompanied by an autograph of the defense minister for each one, asked that police be included in the investigation, the deputy premier's spokesman said.

Gen. Dayan's chief rival for the premiership when Mrs. Golda Meir retires, Mr. Allon is also Minister of Education and Culture and is in charge of the government antiquities department.

Israeli law stipulates that no antiquities may be shipped without the department's written approval. A spokesman said this was to prevent valuable finds from leaving the country.

Gen. Dayan's collection of thousands of artifacts, including a basement full of clay pots, oil lamps and bowls dating from Biblical times, is displayed in his suburban home and garden.

NO MERCENARIES UNITED NATIONS — Rwanda denied in the General Assembly reports that "Israeli mercenaries" were operating in that African nation. Augustin Munyaneza, the Rwandan Minister for International Cooperation, said there were no Israelis in his country except for diplomatic personnel at the Israeli Embassy in Kigali. Rwanda would never permit its soil to be used as a shelter for mercenaries, he said.

STATEMENT BY RABBI MAURICE DAVIS

SPIRITUAL LEADER JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER OF WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (FORMERLY OF PROVIDENCE) DELIVERED WASHINGTON, D.C., TUESDAY, SEPT. 19, 1972

Let me begin by explaining who I am, and what I am, and why I am here. I am a Jew. And I am an American. And I am a Rabbi. I cannot divorce one from the other, and I refuse to be pigeon-holed, or set aside from the rest of America. There is a conscious attempt on the part of President Nixon and his supporters to polarize the Jews, and to pretend, at least, to pander to their self-interests.

I am not here to speak for my people or my Congregation. A Rabbi speaks to his Congregation, not for it. Nor am I here as any part of a "Jews for McGovern" movement. That would be distasteful to me as the "Jews for Nixon" movement which started the whole charade.

I am here to express my personal sense of outrage at what Mr. Nixon has done, and is doing to the people of America. There is a manipulation of groups which is divisive, and which shatters the American dream.

What he is doing to the Jewish community is one case in point. He has insinuated into the political campaign his favorite tricks of politics, namely fear and favoritism. Let me give you but two examples.

First, there is the explosive issue of quotas. We Jews have suffered for too long because of quotas for us to view them with anything but suspicion. But we Jews have also always been in the forefront of the struggle for civil and human rights.

Affirmative Action is one approach to a painfully complex problem. And what has been Mr. Nixon's contribution? First his H.E.W., by bludgeon and by blunderbuss, bullied universities into a rigid quota system. Then, having exacerbated the problem he now announces that he opposed quotas, and implies that Senator McGovern favors them. He thus attempts to frighten the Jewish community into voting for him, when it was his Administration that mishandled the issue from the beginning.

Then there is Israel. He portrays himself as the greatest friend that Israel ever had. The truth is that he has never been a friend to Israel, and his recent support of Israel is simply not consistent with his history.

Not when you remember 1968, and the report of his personal envy, Governor Scranton. That report would have weakened America's traditional support of Israel.

And not when you remember the Rogers Plan to give back Sinai, and have joint Jordanian control over Jerusalem, a plan that Prime Minister Golda Meir equated with national suicide, a plan that Mr. Nixon has never repudiated, and which --according to Mr. Rogers at least --remains U.S. policy. George McGovern's support of Israel goes back consistently to 1957. Richard Nixon's support goes back to 1972.

But this is an election year, and Mr. Nixon woos the Jews. He woos us with his fear and favoritism format, and this is the thing I most resent.

When he promises us an end to quotas, an end to busing, more Phantom jets for Israel, he is painting a picture of the Jewish community as he sees it. It is a picture of a selfish, grasping, parochial group consumed with self-interest. And I resent it!

He misjudges the Jewish community. We are not that mean a people. We were the ones who dreamed the dream of a just society 3,000 years ago, and we dream it still. We were the ones who dreamed the dream of a world at peace, and we dream it still.

In a society where crime is rampant, groups are polarized, unemployment rises, and war continues, someone has to hunger after righteousness.

In a land that applauds the Godfather, and worships at the feet of Archie Bunker, someone has to hunger after righteousness. Someone has to weep real tears.

The question that I ask myself, as a Jew, as an American, as a Rabbi, is not which candidate makes more promises to Israel, but which candidate holds more promise for America and the world.

That man, as far as I am concerned is George McGovern. With him I vote for hope not fear, for peace not war, for a nation united not for a society polarized.

I'm tired of being pandered to. I'm tired of being manipulated. I'm tired of being lied to, and I'm awfully tired of being demeaned.

The problems this country faces are problems for all the people to face. Not group against group, fear against fear. America deserves better than that. America does not deserve another four years of favoritism, or warfare. What America deserves is a just society, and a compassionate one.

George McGovern speaks to those dreams. President Nixon does not. And that is why I flew to Washington today, to say what I have to say, and to stand up and be counted.

9 OUT OF 10 CONVICTIONS IN SERIOUS CRIMINAL CASES

MORE THAN 3600 CASES DISPOSED OF

Attorney General Richard Israel has obtained more convictions for the people of the state of Rhode Island than have been obtained during any other 2 year period in the history of our courts.

More than 3600 cases involving serious crimes have been disposed of in the last 2 years.

ACCELERATED PROSECUTION CUTS RED TAPE

Under Richard Israel's direction an accelerated prosecution program in the Office of the Attorney General is breaking a logjam in our courts and making it possible for trial waiting time to be substantially reduced.

VITAL SUPPORT FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

Law enforcement officers always receive the 24 hour support they need from the Attorney General. Richard Israel and his men teach in every law enforcement training program in the state.

was passed the New York Times said: "The Nixon administration has so far refused the request (for Phantom jets) on the ground that the military situation does not require it, and that granting the planes would eliminate any chance of reaching a negotiated agreement between Israel and Egypt . . . Mr. Jarvis said Mr. Rogers had argued that providing the Israelis with Phantoms 'would only make them more stubborn about negotiations, not less so'."

2) The ad claims that President Nixon has shown "strong opposition to a quota system in any shape, manner or form." This is absolutely false. It was the Nixon administration that called on the City University of New York to furnish the race, sex, age and title of every faculty member by name — or risk losing Federal research funds. It was the Nixon administration that withheld millions of dollars from Columbia and other universities because they were not proceeding rapidly enough under the "affirmative action" program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Senator McGovern recognizes that with their long history of discrimination and persecution, Jews dread the danger to themselves and to every minority group posed by the concept of labelling individual citizens according to personal status. Senator McGovern rejects the quota system as detrimental to American society. He believes that it is both necessary and possible to open doors that have long been shut to minority group members without violating basic principles of non-discrimination and without abandoning the merit principle.

It is important to understand the distinction between political conventions, on the one hand, and employment and education, on the other. The delegates to a political convention are there to represent all the members of the party. The spirit of the one-man, one-vote requirement of our Constitution requires fair representation at the Democratic Convention for women, for racial minorities, for young people — all of whom have been excluded in the past. (There were 300 Jewish delegates to the 1972 Democratic Convention, more than at any previous convention, compared to 30 at the Republican Convention; so much for any fears that the new rules would reduce the role of Jews at the Democratic Convention.)

Delegates to a convention must be chosen on the basis of whom they represent. But admission to a university or being chosen for a job depends on the abilities, qualifications and potential of the applicant. Senator McGovern believes no one should be given — or denied — a job or admission to a university on the basis of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, or sex.

3) President Nixon's support for Israel in the UN was cited by Louis Boyar as worthy of praise.

President Nixon's support for Israel in the UN is noteworthy. Richard Nixon's Ambassadors to the UN joined the Arab-Soviet bloc five times in condemning Israel for rebuffing Arab terrorists and for rebuilding a unified Jerusalem. On five other UN votes condemning Israel, the best the U.S. could do was abstain. Only after the tragedy at the Olympic Games did our Ambassador for the first time, invoke the veto in support of Israel. It is this one and only show of support for Israel that Mr. Boyar so naively refers to as Nixon's most "recent show of courage."

The ad on page 10 of last week's Herald is only one example of a series of distortions of Nixon's record and positions which has been inflicted on the U.S. public during the last four years. I urge you not to be fooled. I urge you to recognize and support a man who, instead, has a real record of human concern and who has chosen to run only the most open and creative campaigns in American political history — George McGovern.

"There was a time in history when the world stood back and watched with bated breath to see if the small nation Israel would live or die. This was during the tension filled days preceding the Six-Day War.

"Israel fought for her life, and today she exists as the only vibrant democracy in the Middle East. At that time President Lyndon B. Johnson moved the sixth fleet near to the war zone to make sure that Russia wouldn't interfere.

"President Nixon followed a similar course two years ago when a hundred Russian tanks, under the banner of Syria, attempted to invade Jordan at the height of its guerrilla war. Nixon ordered the Atlantic fleet to steam towards the Mediterranean to aid the Sixth fleet while American soldiers based in West Germany, Turkey and Greece prepared to embark for the Mid-East.

"Russia saw all this and recalled the tanks. Israel, too, saw this and knew that the United States under the leadership of President Nixon was prepared to back up its allies against the Communist menace.

"This, more than anything else convinced Israel that President Nixon would be a better friend to have in the White House than an isolationist.

"We all know that in time of an election, candidates will promise aid to Israel. But all the arms in the world could never help Israel should Russia decide to attack Israel. Only the United States serves as a deterrent. Under McGovern the United States would cease to be a power in the Mid-East. He might very well pull out and leave the door wide open for the Russians to take over regardless of his promises to Israel.

"Much has been said of Secretary of State Rogers' plan which Israel vehemently opposed. We realize that President Nixon, not having received the Jewish vote in the last election, was inclined to be a little more conservative concerning the Jews in this country and in Israel. But then he realized that the existence of Israel as an ally would benefit the entire country, not only the Jews. So under the prodding of his Foreign Advisor Henry Kissinger, the White House staff brought pressure on the State Department and the plan was killed. A grateful president receiving a Jewish plurality vote, can do more.

"What should disturb us is that throughout the present campaign of Senator McGovern we have yet to hear him say a bad word against Hanoi and its murderous communist regime.

"Communism has always been an enemy of Jewry. The destruction of the Jewish religion is an integral part of Communist ideology and practice. We all know what is happening to the Jewish people in Russia and its satellite states. As bad as South Vietnam may be, the communist despots are worse and their callous slaughtering of innocent victims has reached gigantic proportions. The communists invaded South Vietnam and always could have stopped the war.

"No longer can the President be criticized about his efforts to end the Vietnam effort. Peace is in sight. It was undoubtedly his combination of military power and

Israeli Court Asks Why Play Was Banned

JERUSALEM — The Israeli Supreme Court called last week on the Film and Theater Censorship Board to show cause why it banned production of the play, "Friends Tell About Jesus," by Amos Kenan. The court acted on an order nisi obtained by Kenan, a playwright and journalist close to Israel's New Left.

Kenan said the only reason cited by the board for its ban was that the play denigrates values sacred to a portion of the Israeli public. The writer asserted that this reason constitutes an infringement on freedom of artistic expression and freedom of social criticism.

The writer added that in recent years the censorship board has allowed many plays which were no less critical of so-called sacred values than his. The high court will continue its hearing in a month after it receives the explanation requested from the censorship board.

If there is a crisis in the Middle East, who would you want sitting in the White House?

The choice, of course, is between Senator McGovern and President Nixon.

Senator McGovern has suggested that Israel return to the insecure boundaries existing before the Six Day War. And he wants to reduce the American Sixth Fleet—aircraft carriers and all—which is in the Mediterranean as part of our N.A.T.O. commitment and which is important to the stability of the Middle East.

President Nixon, on the other hand, has provided Israel with more military and economic aid than all previous administrations combined. He has maintained America's strength in the Mediterranean. And he is committed to the idea that peace will come only when all countries in the Middle East "feel secure from the threat of military dominance and recognize that the only permanent way to resolve deep-seated difference is by negotiation and never by war."

The President is a level-headed internationalist who believes in the need for a strong national defense. Always ready to support America's allies, he is equally ready to seek out new avenues to peace.

No wonder, then, that so many Americans—Democrats, Republicans and Independents—have already made their choice for President. The man they would want sitting in the White House in a crisis is the man already there.

President Nixon. Now more than ever.

Co-chairmen for the Cranston Women's Division are Mrs. Herbert Goldberger, Mrs. Arnold Goldman, Mrs. Harold Jacober and Mrs. Benjamin Mellion. Shown below is part of the gathering which attended the annual campaign meeting of the Young Women's Division of the JFRI on October 24 at the home of Mrs. Alan Samdperil. The guest speaker, addressing the women, was Baruch Gutman, a recent Russian immigrant to Israel. Joel Sherman of Boston, regional chairman of the Young Leadership Cabinet of the United Jewish Appeal, also addressed the meeting.

THE FAIRY TALE OF Rumpelstiltskin, the dwarf who wanted gold made out of straw, will be the first presentation of the Warwick Arts Foundations "Fun with the Arts" Children's Series. It will be shown on Sunday, November 5, at the Warwick Veterans High School by the Pickwick Puppet Theater at 3 p.m. Other productions will follow on December 3, February 4 and March 4.

Works Of Soviet Artists
Exhibited At Jewish Museum

NEW YORK — The works of two Soviet Jewish artists, Boris Penson and Anatole Kaplan, will be exhibited at the Jewish Museum through November 26. Penson, who was arrested in June, 1970, and sentenced to 10 years of forced labor for allegedly trying to steal a plane to escape to Israel, will be represented by 93 paintings, watercolors and prints which were smuggled out of the Soviet Union after his incarceration. Kaplan, whose basic theme is Jewish folklore, will be represented in lithographs selected from several American collections and from the collection of the Jewish museum.

To the Soviet Jews, Kaplan has served as poet-historian, recording and interpreting the experience of the Russian Jew. A notable example of his work is his series of illustrations and interpretations of the stories of Sholom Aleichem.

Jewish Community In Argentina Worried About Anti-Semitism

NEW YORK — The Jewish community in Argentina is worried and uneasy as a result of recent synagogue bombings and an upsurge of anti-Semitic manifestations. Bertram H. Gold, executive vice-president of the American Jewish Committee, declared here.

During the past few weeks, the Jewish community there has been especially concerned about demands by local anti-Semitic groups that the government institute political and economic measures against Jews to coincide with Columbus Day, October 12, also known as the Day of the Spanish Race. These inflammatory statements, it is believed, may have been designed to stimulate overt anti-Semitic actions by certain groups doing "their own justice."

is the appearance of anti-Semitic material in "Las Bases," a fortnightly journal published by followers of former President Juan Peron, Gold reported. The publication, which has been appearing since the beginning of the year, is the first Peronist periodical permitted by the government since Peron's ouster in 1955. Argentine Jews were shaken by a recent article in it by Peron's private secretary, Jose Lopez Rega, which included a variety of anti-Semitic statements and accusations.

Other incidents include distribution of anti-Semitic pamphlets by mail, with the false return address of a Catholic order of teaching nuns, and a physical attack on an Israeli exhibition of industrial farm products at a fair recently sponsored by the Argentine Rural Society.

A new threat to Jewish security

Israeli Police Seize Hashish Consignment

TEL AVIV — Israeli police seized a large consignment of hashish about to be sent out of the country. The shipment, consisting of more than 30 kg (66 lbs.), valued at several hundred thousand IL, was found in two false-bottomed trunks that were about to be loaded aboard a Lufthansa airliner at Lod Airport. Police said several suspects have been detained. The destination of the hashish was not disclosed.

The discovery was made after police raided a flat here which was suspected of serving as a drop for stolen goods. They found a bill of lading which led them to the airport. Police said the hashish originated in Lebanon and that the containers carried the Arabic inscription, 'God Bless You.'

ASK PROTECTION
COPENHAGEN — Hundreds of Danish Jews have asked for police protection recently for fear of terrorist activities in Denmark, according to the Danish daily, Jylland Posten. Police are continuing to guard Jewish and Israeli institutions. In a related development, Danish Foreign Minister K. B. Andersen said international steps must be taken.

PERMIT SEX CHANGES
JERUSALEM — The Interior Ministry disclosed this week that it has officially recognized changes of sex by seven Israeli men who have undergone operations during the last two years. The two most recent changes were recorded in the Ministry's Tel Aviv office last week; they involved two young men who underwent a series of operations in England. The men arrived at the office in female dress. On producing documents attesting to their change of sex they were permitted to register new first names and received identity cards listing them as female.

LEAVES FOR ISRAEL: Deborah S. Leeman, daughter of Rabbi and Mrs. Saul Leeman of Cranston, left last week for a year of service in Israel under the Sherut La'am program. The program arranges for college graduates who have vocational or technical training to volunteer for a year of service in Israel.

Miss Leeman is a graduate of the Providence Hebrew Day School, Classical High School and Radcliffe College where she received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Relations last June.

The first three months of the project will be spent at an Ulpan in Kiryat Shmona in North Galilee. She will then be given an assignment in social work, most probably with North African Jewish immigrants.

The processing of young people in the Rhode Island area for this program is done through the Joint Israel Programs Committee of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island.

TO BE SOLOIST: Erick Friedman, young American violinist, will be the guest soloist with the Rhode Island Philharmonic on Saturday, November 11, at 8:30 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Auditorium. This will be Mr. Friedman's second engagement with the Philharmonic, which is conducted by Francis Madeira.

Born 32 years ago, he started playing the violin at an early age, and at 17 he started studying with world renowned violinist Jascha Heifetz. He collaborated with Heifetz on a recording of Bach's Double Violin Concerto in 1961.

Suspicious Mail X-Rayed In D.C.
WASHINGTON — Suspicious mail received at the nation's capital, particularly items addressed to Jewish members of Congress, is being X-rayed by special equipment installed in the Congressional postal facilities.
 An aide to Robert Roa, Postmaster for the House of Representatives, confirmed that "anything that looks suspicious" is X-rayed before it is delivered. "We are especially concerned with Jewish members," the aide said, but added that all mail for all members is being given more attention than previously.
 Similar precautions were reported in effect in the Senate's post office but officials there declined to discuss them. The house has 12 Jewish members and the Senate two.

NEW STRIKE?

WASHINGTON — An airline pilots' walkout like the 24-hour suspension of service last June 19 is looming on the horizon. Some 46,000 members of the Air Line Pilots Association received forms in the mail asking if they would support suspension or other steps to protest the threat of hijacking. The new action would be directed against nations that harbor hijackers and extortionists and against government inaction on the hijacking threat.

DENIES SHOOTING

AMSTERDAM — Israeli Ambassador to Holland Hanan Bar-On denied that a shooting incident had occurred outside his house in The Hague. Dutch police had reported such an incident.

Of Outstanding Offers and Opportunities

By Alan Shawn Feinstein

Hello, my friends, here's what we have for you this week.

First, for puzzle lovers: Ever hear of a monthly publication called "Contest Report?" It tells about the different contests presently open throughout the country plus stories about recent winners. For your free copy write P.O. Box 307, Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Archery anyone? If this sport appeals to you, send for a free copy of Archery Magazine Route 2, Box 514, Redlands, California 92373. This monthly publication for archery devotees has many interesting articles about bow hunters and archers and their nationwide activities plus helpful pointers for would-be archers.

Care to see the world's most unique toys? They're in the catalogue of FAO Schwarz, internationally known as the world's most unique toy store. Their latest full color catalogue is yours free by writing to the general manager, FAO Schwarz, 40 Newbury Street, Boston, Massachusetts. When you get this catalogue, give it to the children to look through. You'll be amazed at how much money they'll want to relieve you of.

And if you're wondering where to get the money, there's an investment advisory service which purports to be able to help you make money by showing you the best times to buy and sell stocks. I can't say if following this service will be as profitable for you as the publishers say but it is clear, concise and simple to follow. See it for yourself. You can get the latest issue of it free by writing to the president, Mr. Walter Sturm, The Market Timer, P.O. Box 758, Orange, California 92666.
