Nazi Probe Committee To Reopen Inquiry in Philadelphia Today

Dickstein Announces Sessions to be Behind
Closed Doors

Three U. S. Bureaus Aid

NEW YORK, May 24 (JTA) — The office of Samuel Dickstein, vice chairman of the Congressional Committee to Investigate Nazi activities, announced that the committee will hold its next hearings in Philadelphia today and Saturday. The session will be private, it was indicated, as were those held in New York last week.

The committee is expected to interview German business men in Philadelphia, which is recognized as one of this country's most active centers of Nazi propaganda. Many financial transactions between Nazi Germany and Nazi bodies in America have been consummated in Philadelphia, according to reports from some quarters.

Philadelphia also is the home of a chapter of the Silver Legion, which is reported to have strong affiliations with Nazis there. Remnants of the Khaki Shirts, a group once controlled by "Generalissimo" Art Smith, now serving a sentence in Queens for perjury, have their headquarters in the city of Brotherly Love.

Three U. S. Bureaus Act

WASHINGTON, May 24 — A united drive against Nazi and subversive propaganda activities in the United States has been launched by three additional branches of the Federal government in cooperation with the investigation being conducted by a Congressional committee, it was learned today.

For the last few weeks, Representative John W. McCormack, chairman of the committee investigating subversive propaganda activities, has been conferring with officials of the three leading departments of the Government in an effort to impress them with the seriousness of Nazi and similar activities in this country.

As a result he and his committee has been assured of the cooperation of the Department of Justice.

Take Place Tuesday

An unusual program of movies and entertainment will feature the annual Father and Son Night to be held by the Men's Club of Temple Beth-El Tuesday evening, May 29, at 6:30 o'clock, in the vestry of the Temple.

Members are urged to bring their sons and those who "haven't any" are requested to "borrow" one or bring one of the boys from the Orphanage. In past years, several boys from the institution have been invited to attend the festivities.

Reservation may be made now with Harry M. Myers, Men's club president, 276 Niagara street or by calling Hopkins 8574. Tickets may also be secured from the following arrangements committee:

MOORE UPHOLDS NAZIS RIGHT TO HOLD MEETINGS

New Jersey Governor
Sanctions Friends of

Seven Jailed After Riots

(Special to the J. T. A.)

TRENTON, N. J., May 24 — Governor A. Harry Moore, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, today upheld the right of the Friends of New Germany to hold public meetings anywhere.

In a letter responding to protests from Harry Weisin, president of the Union City unit of Nazis, that Mayor Bernard McFeely of Hoboken had denied his group permission to use a hall there, Governor Moore wrote: "I have no authority over municipal officials, but there is no reason why you should not be permitted to hold such meetings as you outline in your letter. It seems to me that the friends of Germany have such a right to talk as friends of any other country."

The Union City cell of the Friends of New Germany last week held a meeting at which Walter Kappe, editor of the Deutsche Zeitung, was the principal speaker. Kappe in his speech charged that Dickstein and the Congressional investigation committee were trying to "trap him" into admitting that his group was anti-Semitic.

Seven Nazis Jailed

NEWARK, Seven Nazis were in jail today, one Jew in the Irvington General Hospital and another held in $1,000 bail, following the riot in Irvington yesterday between sympathizers with the German government and their opponents.

Jack Arowowitz, of Newark, is in the hospital suffering from a skull fracture. He may die. Albert Gorlin, of Newark, is under charges of having used a blackjack and was released on $1,000 bail. Five other Jews were released under custody of counsel.

S. W. Morris, Newark agent of the Federal Secret Service, has started an investigation to determine the causes of the disturbance.

Mayor Percy Miller of Irvington issued a statement this morning in which he scored attempts to "incite riots in this city by means of mob violence and gangster methods."

Jewish Students at Brown Receive High Recognition

Two Jewish students at Brown University this week were named recipients of perhaps the most sought after honors available to undergraduates.

Alfred H. Joslin of this city, son of Judge and Mrs. Philip C. Joslin of Hazard Avenue, a Junior, is one of the 10 members of that class "tapped" in traditional Brown fashion for membership in the Owl and Ring, Senior honorary society, next year. Joslin has maintained a high scholastic standing throughout his three years and has been prominent in other student activities.

Harold Seidman of Brooklyn, honor student, will be one of the three undergraduates speakers at the commencement exercises to be held June 18. He is managing editor of the Brown Daily Herald, student newspaper, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa during his junior year, is a member of the Sphinx Club, on the Dean's list for scholastic excellence and is a candidate for final honors in English.

Intensive R. I. Campaign
Continues Unabated
Until June 4

Silverman Is Chairman

On a scale never attempted before in any campaign involving Rhode Island Jewry, the state's drive for its share of the $3,000,000 United Palestine Appeal fund was under way today, slated to last until June 4, at an informal banquet in the Biltmore Hotel. Reservations may be made at the United Appeal office, 219 Paramount Building, Gaspee 4673.

What was intended as a preliminary conference at the Biltmore last Monday night, at which there were to be delegates from every organization in the state, turned almost into a mass meeting as hundreds enthusiastically enlisted in the drive. Although no solicitation was made and no donations were expected, several voluntary contributions were forthcoming. Archibald Silverman is chairman of the campaign.

$20,000 Quota

Rhode Island's quota is $20,000, to be expended mostly for the settlement of German Jewish refugees in Palestine and also for assisting refugees wherever they may be. It was the largest meeting of its kind in this state and there were representative groups from Pawtucket, Woonsocket and Newport, all pledged to join the Providence population in the campaign.

Maurice Samuel, author and world known Zionist leader, was the principal speaker. He emphasized the importance of succeeding in the campaign and the need for reconstruction of Palestine as a haven for German Jewish refugees. In this alone, he said, there is safety from the recurring anti-Semitic cycles which he traced over the centuries.

Palestine, he insisted, can absorb 100,000 Jewish emigrants a year if only there is money to settle skilled workmen who are without capital and if industry is developed to make Palestine the producing and distributing point of the Near East.

"Palestine or Perish"

"Either we build Palestine or we perish," Samuel warned. Other speakers echoed the same convictions to the 450 persons present. Local

Jews Temporarily Secure In Face of Coup in Bulgaria

SOFIA, Bulgaria (JTA) — The Fascist coup d'etat engineered by the reactionary Tsankoff clique in this little Balkan nation has as yet produced little fear among the Jews here. Although the Jews are in an exposed position and face a growing anti-Semitic movement, financed in part by German Nazi agitators, Bulgarian Jewry on the whole has fared rather well.

At no time during the troubled history of the nation since the World War and the bloody suppression of the Stamboulsky agrarian regime have the Jews been exposed to overt attack.

Recently, however, Nazi agitators have begun to inflame the minds of the Bulgarian people by trying to convince them that all their ills have been the fault of the Jews in Bulgaria.

About two months ago one of the old synagogues in Sofia was bombed by Bulgarian Nazis. The entire structure was demolished and only the fact that a mistaken notion of Jewish religious custom led the perpetrators to place their bomb on Saturday afternoon prevented loss of life.

WOONSOCKET RESIDENTS TO HEAR PROGRAM CARRIED OUT BY JEWISH ORPHANAGE OF R. I.

Seeking to interest the Woonsocket Jewish community in the tremendously important work that is being done for the benefit of otherwise helpless Jewish children, officials of the Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island will sponsor a meeting there Sunday, June 3, at 8 p. m., in the Congregation B'nai Israel Synagogue.

The meeting will be open to the public, the program being designed to acquaint Jewish families in Woonsocket with the orphanage's program, more especially since a number of residents from that city visited the institution recently and examined the building and the work being done. Arthur I. Darman of Woonsocket will be chairman and there will be addresses by Walter I. Sundlin, president of the Orphanage, and Maurice Stollerman, its executive director.

One of the features of the meeting will be the showing of a motion picture interpreting the Orphanage's child care program and showing the children in various activities. One of the motion pictures was taken during the Woonsocket delegation's visit.

During the past year the Orphanage cared for 42 children, coming from all parts of the state. Eighteen of these were girls and 24 boys, ranging from 6 to 16 years of age. Even after children are discharged and find places for themselves in the community they receive after care supervision.

Health of the children has been excellent, proper sanitation, ventilation, wholesome and well balanced diets, recreation, periodic medical and dental examinations being important factors in the health program. More than a score of dentists and doctors are on the staff, giving their services in behalf of the children. The Miriam Hospital also co-operates with the Orphanage.

The educational program has been planned on a basis of each child's particular abilities and limitations. Three children attend Hope High School, 16 go to the Nathan Bishop Junior High School and two to the Windmill Street School. One child, who has shown talent in art work, attends the R. I. School of Design. Two in high school are honor students.

Religious instruction also plays an important part in the child care program. Forty children attend Sabbath School at Temple Emanu-El and 38 receive Hebrew instruction at the Orphanage as well. The children themselves conduct the Sabbath services and last January six Orphanage boys were Bar Mitzvah at Temple Emanu-El.

Not are the recreational requirements neglected. All children participate in one or more forms of this activity, the recreational program being recognized as an essential factor in the physical development of the children. The boys have a fine basketball team, play baseball and other sports under capable instructors. The girls, too, are recreationally active. Both boys and girls frequently engage in competitions at the Home and in the Jew-

THE DAWA PARADOX

Proclaiming their American patriotism and draping American flags all about the place to prove it, the German-American Protective Alliance (the DAWA) staged a mass demonstration in Madison Square Garden the other day in protest against the boycott and in a futile attempt to answer the unanswerable Case of Civilization Against Hitler.

They denied they were Nazis, although it was apparent that the show was produced and directed by Hitlerite propagandists. They vociferously insisted the DAWA is an American organization while at the same time they wore Nazi uniforms, sang the national Nazi hymn of hate, sainted Hitler himself and otherwise manifested their allegiance to him.

It was such a patriotic American demonstration that not one American in public life and of proven loyalty to American tradition would accept an invitation to address the meeting. As an answer to the Case of Civilization it was a complete fiasco. A comparison of the speakers at the two meetings gives a fair conception of their importance and also provides an insight into the real attitude of American public opinion.

At the Case of Civilization trial Hitler and the Nazi movement were indicted by such Americans of unquestioned integrity as Alfred E. Smith, Prof. Raymond Moley, Mayor LaGuardia, Dr. John Hayes Holmes, Samuel Seabury, Senator Millard Tydings and Matthew Woll, to mention a few. Whom did they muster to defend Hitler? Joseph Shuster, the "singing waiter"; George Sylvester Viereck, journalist and chief defender of Kaiser Wilhelm, whose "sensational" expose of Communism in a nickel magazine not long ago proved to be a tremendous "flop"; and several others of that ilk. They attacked and railed against and threatened Americans who were American enough publicly to resent Hitler's bloody barbarism. Under the Nazi swastika they raved and harranged, these great American patriots, and their tirades caused scarcely a ripple in the consciences of a public opinion that cannot, in all fairness in this day and age of supposedly modern civilization, find justification for the inhuman outrages being perpetrated upon a helpless minority.

THE BOYCOTT CAN SUCCEED

Except for a certain insignificant minority and its sadly misguided spokesman, the Rhode Island branch of the American Jewish Congress will undoubtedly enjoy state-wide support among Jewish organizations in its espousal of the boycott movement. And the American Federation of Labor will be a powerful ally, since it is strong-knit and numbers thousands in its membership.

But the magnitude of the task, its responsibilities and sacrifices, cannot be underestimated and we doubt even now whether the good Dr. Berger and his aides appreciate fully just what they face. If it is to amount to anything, the Council must be an aggressive, outspoken organization and must — much along the lines outlined by Alter Boyman and Dr. Berger himself — not hesitate to answer bluntly every attack upon Jewry that comes to public notice in this state, whether it be in the press or on the platform.

While such a program envisions no hysterical outpouring against irresponsible and illogical criticism, any mincing of words or fear of stepping on certain people's toes will defeat the very purpose of the organization. The Council must undertake, as a central and duly constituted authority, fearlessly to present Jewry's case to the public on every important issue that arises. The need for such a program is unquestioned; it will take courageous men to see it through, men who will not shrink from public notice and who will not hesitate, for business or professional or other reasons, to attach their names to strong statements that must, in one way or another, offend some group.

Too, there will have to be set up certain committees to survey various situations, to investigate stores and businesses professing to enforce the boycott and to conduct a state-wide canvass to educate the public against Nazi-made goods. The women can make an invaluable contribution to the movement in this connection.

Altogether, the boycott is an ambitious program, one of the most fortuitous undertakings imaginable. It means more than protest meetings and gab-fests wherever smaller groups meet. There is plenty of hard work and there will be disappointments. Although publicity by which to crystallize public opinion is one of the best means to combat the Nazis, it is a safe bet that the daily press will not be overgenerous. This is natural, both for business and ethical reasons.

However, it can be accomplished; the day can soon come when Nazi-made products will be practically extinct in Rhode Island. The Council has started on the right foot and it is vital that its leadership maintains a strong attitude. The Jewish Herald is glad to co-operate with the Council of the A. F. L. by continuing its year-old efforts in behalf of the boycott.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor of the Jewish Herald:

In answer to Alter Boyman's attack on Rabbi Braude in Friday's issue of the Jewish Herald, because he does not coincide with him on the farcial Hitler trials, the writer, also a Jew, and like every Jew strongly opposed to the Hitler regime, still coincides with Rabbi Braude, that the Hitler trials are foolish propaganda.

While at the beginning of the Zionist movement started by Mr. Herzl, a German Jew, was not approved by some of the Reformed Rabbis, supposed to be all German, still they later joined the movement and followed the teaching of Rabbi Hillel. "Al tifos nim cozibor, what taas asusho kehovchay adonim," the second part of that teaching Mr. Boyman omits, constituting himself the judge.

Permit me to remind you that Rabbi Braude is not a German but a Russian Jew like yourself and a strong supporter of Zionism.

"Al todai as chavenoch ad shetgria limkomo." Saul Rothschild

Editor of the Jewish Herald:

Disinclined as I am to engage in futile controversy, it is with deep misgivings that I address this letter to the Editor of The Jewish Herald but I cannot allow to remain unchallenged Alter Boyman's Open Letter to Rabbi William G. Braud, which appeared in your issue of May 18, 1934.

Let me say at the outset that I do not intend to question Mr. Boyman's sincerity nor his good deeds, nor do I write in defense of the Rabbi, for so deeply spiritual and sincere a Jew needs no apologist. But I do write in condemnation of the logic and state of mind evidenced by the letter referred to. It is not material here to determine whether Rabbi Braud's position on certain current Jewish problems is correct or not, but it is material and important that we should have in our midst men with sufficient honesty, conviction and courage to speak their minds even when their opinions may be unpopular. In an intelligent fearless minority may lie our only hope of deliverance from the wild rantings of some of our correctly called "professional Jews" many of whom exploit their fellow men by day and assume the toga of Jewish champions at night.

I look vainly in Mr. Boyman's "Open Letter" for an honest statement of Rabbi Braud's recent utterances and I searched even more vainly for a single coherent answer to them. Instead I found a venomous attack on the Reform synagogue and its rabbinate. It is needless for me to enter into any discussion as to the Reform synagogue or to point out that it has mothered all liberal tendencies in American Judaism. Even so strong-willed a man as Mr. Boyman cannot check the inevitable processes of evolution. But I do unqualifiedly condemn the state of mind possessed by many of our so-called leaders—a state of mind which brooks no opposition, which answers arguments not with arguments and logic and honest debate, but with evasion; with contumely, with mass pressure and empty rhetorical gestures. If many of my Plans for the last open meeting of the year to be held by the Jewish Home for the Aged Ladies' Association on Wednesday, June 6, were made at a board meeting held Thursday afternoon at the Home.

More time to the political and economic evils that beset the world today, they would inevitably assist in building a world in which all of us, Jew and non-Jew alike, would live more happily and in which unquestionably the lot of the Jew would be infinitely better. However, that is another matter.

In conclusion, may I express the hope that my friend, Mr. Boyman, if he has an answer (and I cannot imagine that he has not) will deliver it to me personally.

Respectfully,

The Fruit of Vast Labors

By BERNARD M. GOLDOWSKY

It is quite apparent at this time that the absurd antipathy that existed for years against the upbuilding of Palestine as a Jewish national homeland is gradually, but surely, disappearing.

Perhaps the unforeseen calamitous condition with which German Jewry is confronted brought home the realization that Jews are not firmly entrenched anywhere in the world. The Jew shed his blood on every battlefield to help make the world "safe for democracy," but by a curious irony of fate the hearts of those with whom he stood shoulder to shoulder, as echo of the wrathful roar of the cannon boomed around the world, turned into stone.

There is only one land where the frightful memory of that bloody emblem, the swastika, will fade completely from the minds of our German brethren and their offspring, and that is Eretz Israel.

But that hatchet that has heretofore cut Jewish unity asunder must be buried at the launching of this coming United Jewish Appeal for Palestine and the German Jewish refugees, even if there still lurks a doubt in the minds of some Jews with regard to the imperativeness of a Jewish national homeland. For every Jew in this State is duty-bound to accept the responsibility that is clearly and unmistakably his, if he is financially able.

Incidentally, to the query put to me in regard to what the future holds in store for the Jewish faith in this country, I answer unhesitatingly that I am not in the least apprehensive. For I am firmly convinced that our children and children's children are being gradually but surely imbued with the true doctrine of Toras Elohim and Toras Moshe, free from inconsequential rituals and ancient superstitions. They receive discerning spiritual inspiration through the modern Sabbath school, Hebrew school or community center; as well as through affiliation with such splendid groups as Young Judea, Junior Hadassah, et al, wherefrom true and faithful Jewish precepts emanate.

So, my good brethren, let us justify our claim that Jews are "Molay Rachamin," and unite in adopting as our campaign slogan:

"Compassion, Service and Succor."

PROVIDENCE LEADERS TO TAKE ACTIVE PART IN ATLANTIC SOCIAL WORKERS PARLEY

JACOB I. COHEN

JESSIE JOSLOWITZ

MANUEL P. OSTROW

Four executives of Providence Jewish Agencies are to attend the annual conclave of Jewish Social Workers in Atlantic City scheduled to open May 26 and to continue to May 30.

Manuel P. Ostrow, superintendent of the Jewish Home for the Aged; Jacob I. Cohen, executive director of the Jewish Community Center; Miss Jessie Joselowitz, executive director of the Jewish Family Welfare Society, and Maurice Stollerman, superintendent of the Jewish Orphanage, will take active part in the sessions and will present important papers before the delegates.

In a statement explaining the purpose of the conference and indicating that the National Association of Jewish Center Executives and the National Council for Jewish Education have joined this year with Jewish social workers, Dr. Jacob Billinkopf, president of the National Conference of Jewish Social Service, pointed out that although the three organizations have met simultaneously before, this is the first time that a joint conference has been arranged. Its purpose is to bring to the consideration of Jewish problems in America the united efforts of all three organizations of Jewish communal workers.

Cites Changing Conditions

The vital changes taking place in Jewish life in this country and throughout the world, the new attitude towards social service, Jewish education and community leadership brought about by these changes, and methods of dealing with these new problems in the day-to-day affairs of the average community — in a word, the challenge of 1934 — will be the central theme of this year's conference.

In joint session with the National Conference of Jewish Social Service and Education, the Center Executives will take up the problems of the economic status of American Jewry, social and economic planning for group needs, the international Jewish scene and Jewish child welfare and leisure time problems. The special sessions of the center work conference will apply the findings of these sessions to the specific problems of YMHA and Center work and will attempt to place the Center in its relationship to the Jewish and general community.

Noted Leaders to Speak

Outstanding among the speakers at the conference will be Dr. Isador Lubin of the U. S. Department of Labor; B. Charney Vladeck of the Jewish Daily Forward, Prof. Morris R. Cohen of New York City College, Prof. Selig Pearlman of the University of Wisconsin, and David J. Sappos of Brookwood Labor College.

Harry L. Glucksman, executive director of the Jewish Welfare Board, will preside at the session on "Leisure Time Program of the Jewish Community."

The Conference of Jewish Center executives opened yesterday with a series of round table discussions on adult education, esthetic recreational activities, interpreting the Jewish Center to its board of directors, health activities, summer program and individual guidance. At today's session, such specific projects in Center work as Jewish Youth Night and Keren Ami will be analyzed and discussed and the relation of the Jewish Center to other agencies in the community and to Jewish life in Palestine and Europe will be considered.

Saturday, Sunday and Monday will be devoted to the joint sessions of all the conferences and to analysis of the Center in the light of the points of view developed at the conference. The conference will close with business sessions on Tuesday and Wednesday.

And So The Days Pass

By JACK SILVERMAN

A BELATED REVIEW
"Kinderlech," it's too bad that I couldn't come out with this review a week ago today — but the peachy, swellegant, and bestest amateur production ever given in this city — the J. C. C. offering of Oscar Straus' immortal "Chocolate Soldier" presented at the Plantations Auditorium a week ago was just a few hours too late to make last week's issue.

I don't know where to start! . . . Well, in the first place, let me rave about Benny Premack's almost unbelievable accomplishment. . . . He took a group of youngsters and welded them into a WONDERFUL ORCHESTRA. . . . I'm telling you, folks, they were marvelous! . . . Many a group of professional musicians couldn't have done as well as they did. . . . Benny, consider yourself kissed in the Continental manner!

Ah, but the play is the thing! . . . Here I was, a hardened ex-professional theater director. . . . snickering and sneering at the efforts of those "amateurs" as I called them at rehearsals, only to come away from the show with a feeling of respect and admiration for the cast, director, stage mechanics, and every one and everything connected with the presentation. . . . Evelyn Siegal made a perfect Nadina, her voice and singing were excellent. Dorothy Waldman looked so sweet in her part of Mascha, that I could have gone right over and kissed her, only that we have never formally introduced, and after all no self-respecting columnist will kiss a lady without an introduction!

As for Mary Orliansky, "fool er is shein oppredt!" she was great. . . . The boys enacted their part with a zest and pep that I have never seen among amateurs. . . . Leo Cohen as Bumerli, was just what the doctor ordered. . . . Wally Serge enacted Massakroff better than several professionals that I have seen in the part. . . . Sydney Long as Popoff was a real artistic portrayal. . . . The chorus was great, and oh, man, ah thought ah'd die laughing when they made their first entrance dressed up in beards. . . . If you weren't there you missed one of the real worth while treats of the season. Mr. Cohen, Mr. Sapinsley, and the rest of youse guys from the J. C. C., I salute you! . . . But why only one night stand, and why not put it on in one of the local theaters? . . . This production was certainly deserving of it.

MINE ROASHYAN FR-R-RANTS!

Mrs. Celia Parvey, that very charming and talented lady, who has been a friend of mine for many years, sent me a letter and a ticket requesting my presence at a "Russian Musicale and Tea" given at Froebel Hall last Monday afternoon. . . . So, being that "Cele" was the inventor, I couldn't refuse. . . . BUT if I wasn't a "Yold," and figured this thing out, — namely that I'd be the only man present — I'd have refused even Mrs. Parvey's invite. . . . but "anehole," I went! . . . and what an experience! Let me tell you about it.

I was greeted at the door by Mrs. Matthew Seegool, who was sweeter and more charming than any Roashyan lady I ever saw. . . . Then I listened to Mrs. Harold Libby's wonderful piano playing, and I must tell her husband, who is a dear friend of mine. . . . "Razboynik! why do you keep such fine talent secluded? . . . The next treat was Mrs. Sarah Olch Webber, soprano. Did you ever hear her? No? Well, did you ever hear a good opera singer? . . . That was Mrs. Webber. She was accompanied by Arthur Einstein whose playing seems to be the least effortless I've ever heard; a real artist. . . . Frederick Berrick played several violin selections that would have been enthusiastically received at Town Hall in N. Y. where all the biggies show their wares. He was accompanied by Rose Millman Freedman who is an artist in her own right, and too bad she didn't give us a sample of her wonderful piano playing.

And then came the tea, and MY TROUBLES! . . . Arthur and Fred, (the two cowards!) ran out as soon as they finished, and left me alone with all those "veiber" . . . Mrs. Louis Grant, looking like a "Rooskaya Bareena" poured tea from a samovar. Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. William Harris, and Mrs. John Meyers, Mrs. Jos. Smith, a few more Russian girls did the serving, with "Celushka" Parvey doing the general supervising. Mrs. Walter Sundman looked at me with those beautiful orbs of hers and made me drink A CUP of tea! (Think of it! ME drinking tea from a cup!) . . . And then, Mrs. Parvey, to whom I have been talking in my supposedly comical Russian dialect insisted that I address the ladies gathered. So introducing me as "A Russian Frant" I gave them my apael. . . . when it was all over. . . . there wasn't a ripple of laughter! . . . "I'm a flop!" said I to myself going down the aisle. Then my (big) ears caught the following conversation.

"Say, isn't that Jack Silverman, the Herald Columnist? . . . He's been in this country 25 years, and hasn't yet learned how to talk English without a dialect. . . . THE DOPE!"

Samuel Goldman Retires Soon As Elks Lodge Head

After serving through the secret ritual of four chairs, Samuel Goldman, prominent Pawtucket merchant, retires June 3 as exalted ruler of Pawtucket Lodge of Elks, leaving to his successor an excellent record of achievement during his administration as a model.

The relevant portions of Rhode Island Elk history reveal for the second time in the last decade that a Jew had been elevated to the supreme position of exalted ruler of a lodge of Elks. Five years ago, Abe Colitz was elected to that position in Woonsocket.

Long interested in organization work, Goldman during his regime established a record of initiating 150 new members and, despite the period of depression which took its toll on many fraternal organizations, leaves the Pawtucket Lodge of Elks in a strengthened financial position. In the meantime, all the welfare activities of the organization were carried on. Only this week Exalted Ruler Goldman initiated a class of 35 candidates.

Miss Helen Sapsowitz is chairman for the evening assisted by Miss Evelyn Simon, co-chairman and the following committee:

ish Community Center. Four children have won places on the public school junior varsity teams.

So . . . now I'm looking for a nice high tree to hang myself!

HERE AND THERE

They advertised a conference, and it turned out to be a mass meeting. I am talking about the joint effort in behalf of the coming $20,000 campaign. . . . The funniest thing happened. After Rabbi Rackovsky (an orthodox) spoke in an excellent English, I suggested to Dr. Berger that we have Rabbi Braude address us in Yiddish! . . . He did — and HOW! . . . Dija ever meet Morris Mogelev's charming bride? . . . He calls her "snoony," and rightly so. She has the kayotest little "nesaleh" you ever saw!

Death has visited the midst of several of my friends' families during the past week. My deepest sympathy to Harry Guny, Sam Silverman, Rebecca Schwartz and their families. . . . The first batch of "Filipinyakes" will invade Narragansett Pier this Sunday. Rest easy, youse guys, I won't be there. Too busy trying to make a living. . . . Herman Priest writes songs in his spare time. . . . and how prolifically! In 2 minutes he has 3 verses and a chorus! . . . Of all the flowers that Aaron Cohen, the greenhouse proprietor ever raised, none are so grand as the two he inducted into the fold of Judaism last Monday at Temple Beth Israel.

Note to Benny Bromberg: I heard that your kid sister is a fan of mine. Tell her I'm a meanie with sprouting horns! . . . Politics is an awful mess. I could tell so much that I know if they'd let me. . . . Joe Sollinger and charming little Sally Haft will be united by Rabbi Werner June 24, and to spoil what otherwise would be a swell affair they've asked this column to be M. C. . . . DON'T FAIL TO GIVE GENEROUSLY IN THE COMING CAMPAIGN. . . . Put yourself in the place of our unfortunate German brethren and the gallant "chalutzim" who are making an age long dream into a reality, in Palestine, and thank God that you CAN give for the survival of Israel. . . . And so the days pass.
