JEWRY STUNNED BY TRIAL VERDICT

Jewish Members Plea for General Strike Throughout Poland

Warsaw (WNS)—Stunned by the verdict of the Radom district court, which sentenced 11 of the 14 Jewish defendants in the sensational Przytyk pogrom trial to long prison terms while letting off most of the 43 Polish defendants with comparatively light sentences, Polish Jewry is in widespread mourning over what it regards as a major miscarriage of justice.

Jewish theatres everywhere are closed, the synagogues are holding special services for the convicted Jews and the more pious Jews are fasting. Recognizing the tremendous indignation of the Jewish population, which regards the verdict as evidence that the anti-Semitic National Democrats are the real rulers of Poland, the Jewish press is endeavoring to allay Jewish anger by pointing out that the case is not yet closed, since an appeal is possible.

The Jewish members of the Sejm have issued a plea for a Jewish general strike throughout the country as a protest against the verdict. The anti-Semites consider the outcome of the trial a great victory. In Przytyk a mob of anti-Semites demonstrated before the house of Jechiel Laskow, the Jewish defendant who received the longest prison term.

War Veterans Organize Junior Auxiliary

New York (WNS)—The first units of the newly organized Sons and Daughters of the J. W. V. junior auxiliary of the Jewish War Veterans of the U. S. will be introduced to the parent group at the 41st annual encampment of the J. W. V. to be held at Pittsburgh September 4-7, according to a report from William Unger, chairman of the Pittsburgh convention committee, and David Nair of New Britain, Conn., chairman of the national convention committee.

Authorized by the recent constitutional convention of the J. W. V., the first units of the junior body have been organized by the Department of Connecticut of J. W. V. under the direction of Samuel Neusser, publisher of the Hartford Jewish Ledger. Units will be functioning in other states before the encampment, it is expected.

COLUMBIA FIRES ANTI-NAZI STUDENT

Nation-wide Student Strike Will be Answer

New York (WNS)—A nation-wide student strike beginning at Columbia University will be the answer of the American Student Union to Columbia's action in dismissing Bob Burke, junior class president, because of his active role in the protest against Columbia's participation in the Heidelberg celebration, it is announced. Burke, who is from Youngstown, O., was told not to return to college in the fall because of his part in last May's demonstration.

Italy Denies Stirring Disorders in Palestine

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—In an interview published in Haaretz, Hebrew daily, Commendatore Marino de Angelis, Italian Consul General at Jerusalem, strongly denies reports that Italy is financing the Arab general strike in Palestine. Italy wants world peace, he says, particularly in the Mediterranean countries, and is interested in the restoration of normality in Palestine. DeAngelis declared that he has received instructions to refrain from any activity likely to embitter the relations of the country. He denies that Italy is hostile to Zionism, saying that only a few such articles have appeared. Italy is interested in and is following the development of the Jewish up-building effort in Palestine.

Zionist Convention Starts Tomorrow

Wise Is Boosted For Zionist Presidency

Under the clouds of the ominous situation in Palestine growing out of nearly three months of violence, vandalism and death, hundreds of delegates from all parts of the country are gathering here for the 39th annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America, which opens on July 4th and will last until July 7th.

Consideration of a plan for bringing Zionists outside of New York into more active touch with Zionist work, the proposal to change the present Zionist Organization into a territorial form and the question of youth organization and cultural activity are among the important questions on the agenda.

Attendance is expected to be stimulated by the situation in Palestine and by the fact that the second day of the convention will coincide with the celebration of Jewish Day at Rhode Island's tercentenary. Announcement that Morris Rothenberg, president of the Z. O. A., will be a candidate for another term, and the widespread move to draft Dr. Stephen S. Wise for the presidency, presage an election contest.

The key points in the proposed regional plan which will be presented to the delegates are as follows: Holding meetings of the governing bodies of the organization in various parts of the country at fixed times; dividing the country in geographical units, each to have its own officers and committees and full responsibility and authority; assigning a regional field worker to each district, the worker to be responsible to a joint committee of the Z. O. A., the United Palestine Appeal and the Jewish National Fund.

The convention of Masada, the Zionist youth organization, which will be held simultaneously, is expected to result in the establishment of an American counterpart of the Maccabee Union.

Entertainment committee for reception to delegates at Zionist convention include: Mrs. Samuel Michaelson, chairman; Mesdames Morris Becher, Ilie Berger, J. Ernst, Morris Feinberg, Anna Goldenberg, Henry Hasenfeld, Hillel Hasenfeld, J. Irving, Benjamin N. Kane, Rose Markenson, Joseph Smith, Herman Swartz, Morris Schussheim, Morris Sheer, J. D. Grossman, Alex Kleinberger, M. L. Felder, J. B. Olevson S. Newburger, A. A. Faio, Esther Pritzker, B. Taber, C. Temkin, N. Temkin, Benjamin Bromberg, Louis Linder, Morris Espo, Alex Rumpier, H. Frank, J. Robinson, Leo Rojar, S. Markoff, H. Rosenbirsch, S. B. Flanzbaum, Carl Jaganizer, Charles M. Hoffman, M. Narva, S. H. Ernestof, L. M. Abedon, Arthur Kaplan, J. Semonoff, Nat. C. Cohen, L. Wattman, I. Singer, Albert Weiner, Dr. Clara L. Smith, Mr. Robert S. Grant and Mr. Max J. Rosenbirsch.

Poale Zion Speaker

ISAAC HAMLIN

Zelman Rubashow, representative of the Histadruth of Palestine, will be honored guest among those to speak before members of the Poale Zion tomorrow night at Zinn's Banquet Hall. Others included in the unusual speakers list are David Wertheim, national secretary of the Poale Zion; Isaac Hamlin, secretary of the National Labor Committee and H. Haraneich.

Messrs Rubashow, Wertheim, Hamlin and Haraneich are fraternal delegates to the 39th Annual Zionist Convention which is being held in Providence.

Death Toll Nears 200 As Riots Continue

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—With the completion of 10 weeks of disorder in Palestine, with violence and destruction taking on new and more drastic forms, the toll of deaths caused by the disorders, directly and indirectly, rose toward the 200 mark as another Arab was killed during a clash with troops in the Nablus district. He was the 145th Arab known to have been slain by troops and police. There are believed to be a number of dead in the hillside caves which were raked by military machine guns in battles with Arab terrorists. The number of Jewish deaths caused by Arabs is 36.

Military forces in Palestine were increased with the arrival of the Eighth Hussars, a mechanized detachment from Egypt. The number of Jewish supernumerary policemen armed with rifles who are in the Palestine Government defense force was raised to the record high of 1,800 as the result of an agreement between the Government and the Jewish Agency for Palestine, which had requested 2,500 armed Jewish guards to protect various Jewish colonies.

The most drastic fine imposed upon any Arab community since the disorder started was levied on Lydda, which was ordered to pay $25,000 because some of its residents had participated in shooting at railway trains and damaging communications.

Hitler as Proper Name is Banned by French

Paris (WNS)—Hitler is no proper given name for a French man, the authorities informed a peasant of Meillon-nec, near Cortes du Nord, who had his infant son baptized with the first name Hitler. After the peasant had been threatened with prosecution, he changed his son's name to Hilaire.

The threat of prosecution, however, was not a criticism of Hitlerism but a means of enforcing a French law which provides that first names must be taken from the list of saints in the case of Christians or from Bible names in the case of Jews.

Bulgarian King Honors Jewish Philanthropists

Sofia (WNS)—In celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Jewish Orphan Home of Sofia, King Boris honored the institution's three principal officers by decorating them with the Order of Citizen's Service, first grade. Those who received the order were Abraham Levi, Solomon Romano and Mrs. Blanche Levi. They received the decorations at a special ceremony in the King's palace.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Samuel R. Finegold

THE TAKEOUT DOUBLE (Continued) Review

You will recall the double is meant for a takeout when the doubler's partner has made no previous bid and is made at the doubler's first opportunity. The doubled contract must not be more than one No Trump or two of a suit. It must also be a prepared bid since the doubler's partner is forced to bid so that the doubler must be prepared to pass partner's bid, raise it, or takeout in a new suit without increasing the level of the bidding if partner has bid on a worthless hand. The requirements for a takeout double are that the doubler must have at least three honor tricks in three suits. The possession of the required honor tricks is not in itself enough justification for a takeout double. The doubler must remember that, 1. A game must be possible if a fit can be found and partner has some strength, though too little for an overcall.

2. However weak the partner's hand a safe final contract must be in view according to the rule of 2 and 3. (Maximum penalty doubled 500 points) The takeout double asks for a response, if possible in a major suit. Therefore the doubler must have a strong four card suit in one major and support for the other.

If the doubled bid is a major the doubler must be strong in the other major. A double of one No Trump shows a hand almost as powerful as an opening one No Trump bid, and must contain a powerful escape suit, if the original bidder or his partner redoubles.

YOU MUST TAKE OUT THE DOUBLER

And don't forget it! When the next player has passed, the doubler's partner MUST respond. THE WEAKER THE HAND, THE GREATER THE OBLIGATION TO BID. When there has been an intervening bid, the doubler's partner need not bid with a worthless hand. If he puts in a free bid now, it shows some strength. If he has any strength (1 HT and a bid-dable suit) he should bid. This will help detect a psychic bid on the part of the third hand, a very frequent ruse.

Books on Bridge
The inquiries concerning the proper books on bridge for one to buy, render it advisable for us to become book-reviewer for a day. No one can ever expect to become a better bridge player without two requisites: first he must study the game from the first fundamentals thru to the most points, and secondly, he must frequently play, and play with better players and ask for and learn by corrections.

BOOK NOTES

THE JEWS OF GERMANY. Marvin Lowenthal's historical narrative of sixteen centuries of Jewish life in Germany is the latest book to be issued by the Jewish Publication Society of America. It is the full story of THE JEWS OF GERMANY from 321 C. E. down to the present day, accurately and interestingly told.

The National Socialist attempt to exterminate the Jews of Germany is only the last act of an age-old drama. German and Jew have lived side by side for over sixteen hundred years, and the tale of their strangely alternating friendship and enmity, cooperation and disension—love-feasts followed by massacres—is one of the most fascinating in human annals. It is a story essential to an understanding of both Nazism and its Jewish policy. Both the tale and its "moral" ought to be read by every thoughtful Jew and Gentile.

To make things easy, the author has taken little for granted. In vivid and simple language he portrays the origin of the antagonism between the Church and the Synagogue, the singular role played by the Jew in the Middle Ages, the social and economic forces which created an era of tolerance and political equality, the rise of the Aryan myth, and the transformation of society and its economy which has banished justice and goodwill in Central Europe.

Moreover, until recent years, the occupation of the German Jew was typical and to this extent the present book is the story of all Jewry.

CANCER OF THROAT AID IS DISCOVERED

New Weapons Found by Dr. Pressman

Los Angeles (WNS)—New weapons for fighting cancer of the windpipe in its earliest stages were demonstrated here by Dr. Joel J. Pressman, eminent throat specialist and husband of Claudette Colbert, screen star, who developed them with Dr. Clyde Emery, cancer specialist and director of the cancer and radium department of the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Holding a tube about as big as a pencil in his hand, he said: "This contains a large dose of radium and is the new development which offers hope to sufferers from this particular form of cancer." The tube is inserted in the windpipe for many hours after the lung has been collapsed, Dr. Pressman explained.

"Previously," he said "there was no adequate method of applying large doses to the cancer growth. The most popular method was to plant small radium seeds within the tumor itself. This did not adequately irradiate the surrounding tissues. This container, completely filling the bronchus gives ample irradiation."

PROF. SELIG BRODETSKY

Johannesburg (WNS-Palcor Agency)—Reaching the largest figure in the history of Palestine fund-raising, surpassing that of any other Jewish community in the world on a per capita basis, South African Jewry has already raised $500,000 in its current Keren Hayesod campaign; it was announced here.

The campaign is being conducted by Prof. Selig Brodetsky, member of the Jewish Agency Executive, of London, Mrs. Isaac Sieff of London, and Baruch Zuckerman, formerly of New York. The fund-raising effort is continuing.

35 Families Selected for Colony at Hightstown

Hightstown, N. J. (WNS)—The first 35 families selected to occupy homes in the model-industrial homestead project being built here by the Federal Resettlement Administration for Jewish garment workers from New York and Philadelphia will move in on July 13th.

The families to occupy the homes have already been selected and they have been advised of their selection by Major J. O. Walker, acting director of the management division of the Resettlement Administration.

Called Comrade a Jew Nazi is Imprisoned

Berlin (WNS)—Found guilty of libeling a Nazi by calling him a Jew, a Nazi official in Koenigsberg was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment by a German court which declared that even if the man libeled had been a Jew the convicted Nazi was not justified in libeling him.

This unusual decision has created a great stir in Jewish circles because it is one of the few occasions on which a Nazi court has rendered a verdict that could be interpreted as friendly to the Jews.

ENGLAND WILL NOT GIVE UP MANDATE

Arabs Must Learn to Live Peaceably With Jews

London (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The London Times, discussing the present situation in Palestine in a leading article, says that when order has been restored the British Government must make it clear that her Mandate over Palestine will continue in effect until the Arabs have learned to live together peaceably with the Jews as do the French and German elements in Switzerland.

In the lack of friction between the Jews and the Arabs on the Palestine police force, which has behaved with excellent discipline throughout the disorders, the Times finds proof that Arab-Jewish cooperation is entirely possible.

Many of the fears fostered among the Arabs by propaganda, including Italian, are baseless, the Times says, adding that the clamor of the Revisionists for a Jewish State must not be allowed to persuade the British Government to repudiate its obligations toward the Arabs any more than Arab violence should persuade it to default in its obligations toward the Jews.

96 Polish Nazis are Imprisoned for Treason

Warsaw (WNS)—Prison sentences varying from 18 months to ten years were meted out by the Kattowitz court to 99 of the 113 persons who had been tried and convicted of treason as a result of their membership in political groups aiming to turn Upper Silesia over to Germany. All of the accused were members of Nazi bodies. Fourteen of those on trial were acquitted.

Minneapolis (WNS)—Abe L. Harris has been named editor of the Mesquite Leader, official organ of the Farmer-Labor Party.

Claim Jabotinsky Offered Zionist Leadership

New York (WNS)—That Dr. Claim Weizmann, president of the Jewish Agency David Ben Gurion, head of the Agency's Political department, and Pinchas Rutenberg, head of the Palestine Electric Corporation, agreed to invite Vladimir Jabotinsky, Zionist-Revisionist chief, to assume full charge of the political department of the World Zionist Organization is asserted in an article appearing in the July-August issue of "World Jewry," organ of the American New Zionist Organization, it is stated in a publicity release sent out by this Revisionist group.

This publicity release is not taken seriously in authoritative Zionist circles in New York, the WorldWide News Service was informed.

JEWISH DAY

On Sunday, Rhode Island Jewry will gather at Roger Williams Park to present their portion of the Tercentenary program of the state. It is fitting that we participate, for here in 1684, we were officially welcomed by the General Assembly, the first manifestation of religious tolerance in the New World. Various organizations, therefore, in this and surrounding communities have united to present an elaborate and unusual presentation. It is not our purpose to comment upon the various events, for, at this writing they are upon all lips.

The significance of this affair is self evident; but it falls upon the shoulders of every member of our faith to gather at Roger Williams Park and demonstrate to our fellow Rhode Islanders that we are an integral part of the citizenry. It is a day which will be long remembered and cherished in our memories, and shall be memorialized by historians.

Yet, success or failure of this occasion rests entirely upon the Jewish element in the state. There must be at least 10,000 persons to witness the exercises at the beautiful Benedict Memorial to Music, for in numbers is the success of such a venture measured.

It is true that what is done will be long remembered; but how gratifying it will be to be able to proudly state that all of us took part in this expression of unity of purpose.

What a beautiful thought!—the inscription of Roger Williams in the Golden Book by the Jewish of Rhode Island. It is the heartfelt expression of a grateful people and we cannot afford to allow the occasion to pass unnoticed.

Remain in Providence over the week-end. You shall never again have the opportunity to participate in such an event.

—MAURICE W. HENDEL

Pleas for Citizenship Denied by Superior Court

By Judge Max Levy

The cordial relations which existed between the Puritan, Pilgrim and Jew is, perhaps, not to be wondered at. The Puritan and Pilgrim lived in the light of the Bible as a guide in their spiritual, political and secular life. Many of them were Hebraic students, among the more notable being Governor William Bradford and Elder William Brewster of Massachusetts, President Ezra Stiles of Yale University and Roger Williams. Their love for the Old Testament, with its recitals of Israel's trials, suffering and outlook in life, its precepts and prophecies, undoubtedly influenced their daily thoughts and efforts. Their bestowal upon their children the names of Biblical heroes, of the Psalmists, and Prophets of Israel.

A liberty loving people, the Jews cast their lot with the Colonist cause; they were not wanting in their loyalty and patriotic devotion in the struggle for national independence. They had come from the bondage of slavery in Biblical days and from the seething cauldrons of later day inquisitions. They understood the import of liberty in its fullest sense, spiritually, physically and financially. They joined in the cause of liberty, and threw their might into the conflict for national freedom.

Scores of Jewish names may be read among the signatures upon the numerous declarations and agreements of the Colonists which led to the severing of the national tie from the mother country. Many attained posts of military trust and diplomatic responsibility. While this is not the time for an extended review of the military services rendered, brief reference may be made, however, to the brilliant careers of David Salisbury, Franks who attained the rank of Major and served with honor until 1783 when he was entrusted with an important national mission at the country of France; Benjamin Nones who served upon the staffs of Washington and Lafayette; Captain Jacobs de Lona and Colonel Isaac Franks.

Jew Aids Cause

During the darkest days of the struggle when it seemed as though the cause of the Colonist must fail, Hyam Solomon of Philadelphia, a Polish immigrant Jew, came to the front and advanced many thousand dollars with security for repayment for purchase of much needed equipment and supplies and for the maintenance of the army while the conflict was being carried on. Mindful of the loyalty, devotion and helpful service rendered the Continental struggle, the Commander-in-Chief, our illustrious George Washington, on several public occasions gave expression of personal appreciation and esteem for his Jewish co-patriots.

At the outbreak of the Revolution many of the vessels belonging to the Jews were seized by the enemy forces. Newport was occupied by the British troops and all property of those Jews who had openly opposed the cause of the Revolutionists was seized. What remained of the extensive fleet of vessels then at sea were captured by British privateers and destroyed.

The greater number of the Jewish families removed to Boston, Philadelphia, Savannah, Charleston, New York and other places where they became prominent and respected citizens. Ultimately some of the emigrants returned, but remained only for brief intervals to look after what remained of their property holdings and the settlement of the estates of those who had deceased in the meantime. One by one the remaining number dwindled away and the "Glory of the past was but a dream." There was an awakening, and of this more is said later on.

Soon after their settlement in Newport the Colonists applied themselves to securing a suitable place for the burial of their dead. With this objective Mordecai Campanan and Moses Pacheco purchased of Nathaniel Dickens the piece of land in Newport, now generally referred to as the "Four Corners Cemetery," where lie the remains of the immortal dead. The deed of conveyance bears date the 28th day of February, 1677, and appears to have been originally recorded in Book 3, at page 11 of the land evidence of Newport on October 19th, 1767 and again recorded on October 5th, 1872.

JEWISH BID DENIED BY ITALIAN PRESS

Failure to Obtain Loan Said to be Cause

Rome (WNS)—Rumors that have crept up in various parts of Europe that Italy is ready to admit large numbers of foreign Jews to Ethiopia were denied in obviously inspired statements appearing in the entire Italian press.

Back of this denial is believed to be the Italian government's recognition of the fact that it cannot obtain a Jewish loan. The rumors were said to be trial balloons sent up in order to test out Jewish sentiment.

$146,000 Still Needed for Olympic Team

Chicago (WNS)—With the sailing of the American Olympic team for Germany less than two weeks off, at least $146,000 must still be raised, it was announced here by Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic Committee. The largest and most important teams—track and field for men and women, swimming for men and women, rowing and gymnastics—are the ones needing aid, he said.

Letter of Appreciation

The Jewish Herald, Providence, R. I., Gentlemen:

May I take this opportunity to extend to you an appreciation of the attitude of Kalmah Choral Society. Your whole-hearted co-operation and liberal support contributed in no small measure towards the success of our recent concert.

Your active participation in Jewish affairs clearly emphasizes the necessity of such a representative in the Jewish Community of Providence.

With every good wish for your continued success, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
SARAH O. WEBBER,
Pres. Kalmah Choral Society.

Deed Has Strings

The deed contains a most interesting provision to the effect that the premises are conveyed for burial purposes only, and that Jews should all depart the island again so as that there shall be none left to keep up and maintain the fences as aforesaid the said land shall return again unto the said Nathaniel Dickens, his heirs, . . . for him and them to possess and enjoy again as freely as if no such sale had been made."

Not All Rosy

While the hospitable reception accorded the Jews and the liberal privileges extended them constitute one of the most laudable chapters in our national life, it cannot, however, be said that their lot was at all times free from prejudiced individual attack or mistaken sense of duty on the part of some officials. In 1848, J. H. Dyer, a public officer, seized the estates of some of the Jews on the ground that they were "aliens" and held them against the protesting owners.

This conduct, however, was not sanctioned by the body of administrators, nor did it meet the approval of the part of the governing body. For on June 24th, 1848, in answer to a petition of Simon Melus, David Brown and others, the assembly of the colony declared that the petitioners, and their associates and all other Jews then in the Colony might expect as good protection within the colony "as any stranger, being not of our nation, residing among us, might be expected to have, being obedient to His Majesty's laws."

Seek Citizenship

In 1762, Aaron Lopez and Isaac Elizer addressed a petition to the Superior Court of Judicature to be held for the county of Newport on the first Monday of March of that year in which they represent themselves, among other things, as having resided in the Colony upwards of seven years, and pray that they be permitted to take an oath of allegiance under the provisions of "An Act of Parliament of the 14th year of George Second."

The petition was denied upon the ground, first, that the Colony was already full of people that number of His Majesty's good subjects born within the Colony have removed and settled in Nova Scotia, and second, that by the terms of the charter promulgation of the Christian religion was declared to be the foundation of the Colony, and that by law made and passed in 1665, "No person who does not profess the Christian religion can be admitted free of this Colony." Around the Town

With Leonard Harris

You, You T-Tell'em

The question of whether a stuttermaker can become a cantor was answered in the affirmative by the Department of Labor in an immigration case which involved the fate of a refugee from Germany. Sachar Tisser arrived at the port of New York and was excluded because of his defective speech. In reply to the question put by the immigration officials as to what he intended to do in the U. S., Sachar replied he intended to become a cantor in a synagogue. The Ellis Island inspectors, listening to his reply, were certain that stammering would affect his ability to earn a living. After much delay, the Board of Review rendered the decision granting Sachar permission to stay in the U. S. . . . Reason—An individual who may have a defect with his speech in ordinary conversation may be perfectly at ease while singing.

Schmelzing Salts

Joe Jacobs, Max Schmelzing's non-Aryan manager, attributes Max's surprise victory over Joe Jacobs in the fight that he, Jacobs, wore a Muzsash watch charm on the evening of the bout. . . . When Joe Jacobs talks to Max he uses a combination of English and Yiddish. The failure of the fight to net the million dollars the promoter expected was the result of the boycott. . . . Nonetheless, Schmelzing was cheered by Aryan and non-Aryan alike at his victory. . . . One huge German at the ring-side got up and gave the Nazi salute and loudly proclaimed, "Ven ve Chermans and you Chews get together ve can't be beaten."

Mountain Climbing

In the crowds on the way to the Maplehurst at Bethlehem: Nat Hifer, the Reuben Sugarman, Saul Feinberg, Syd Hanzel, Phil Glanzman, Reuben Glanzman, Abbe Goldblatt, Ida Kimmmerman and Edith Hodos, and scores of others who had reservations for over the fourth. To those of you who wish to spend the week-end at that vacation paradise, accommodations can also be gotten at the Howard House, the Perry House and the Sinclair. . . . And by the way, Saul, is that rumor true about you and so-and-so?

Jewish Day

For those poor mortals who are forced to stick around town over the fourth, a rare spectacle in pageant is in store for them at Roger Williams Park. On Sunday at 3:15, weather permitting, the Kalmah Choral Society will take part in a gala all-Jewish Day celebration, with Governor Green proclaiming his welcome, and one or two other guest speakers. The choir, under the direction of Arthur Einstein, will present a varied program of English and Hebrew melodies. Benjamin Premack will lead the band. Ten thousand people are expected to attend, and the pageant will be broadcast through Station WJAR. On the same day, the Zionist Convention will open its meeting, to be followed in the evening by concert at the Metropolitan Theatre, with several world-famous Jewish artists participating. . . . So, if your car is broken down, or if you're just broke, there's no need for you to sit home on the Sunday following the Fourth. . .

Odd and Ends
Came Saturday, our day of rest, and to the Stork Club where we noticed Mr. and Mrs. Jack Christ of New York City, she the former Chickie Brown, and Evelyn Hornstein with an unknown swain, but came my two Jumbo lamb chops, garnished with au gratin potatoes and French peas, which made me forget to notice any of your younger set. . . . Alter Boyman walks around with a broad smile on his face these days. . . . So would you, if you were he.

He is being visited by his daughter, Sylvia, and her husband, Rabbi Meir Lasker. Rabbi and Mrs. Lasker came from Havana, Cuba. . . . Congrats to Diana Schloss whose engagement to Adolph G. Abramson of Piedmont, West Virginia, is noted. . . . Ida Fain is all in a flurry, getting ready to leave on her two-weeks' vacation at Camp Fritz. Ethel Finklestein leaves this week also—some destination.

Here and There

Latest story on a Fannie Brick-rack is told by Billy Rose, her husband. "Fannie got a new song about gossip columnists. . . . It's best line is: 'You can't tell him apart from a hole in the wall'—because he's never apart from a hole in the wall." . . . A New York apartment store business fell off to less than one-half in the military department. Upon investigation by the store superintendent, they found that one of the sales girls had named one of their best selling numbers a "Nazi chapeau".

On Judah Touro

Our own David C. Adelman has written and compiled an extremely interesting opus called "Life and Times of Judah Touro" which, by the way, is now in the hands of our literary editor who will soon review it. . . . Sylvia Sidney, movie queen, divorced her husband, Ben Cerf, while she was playing the role of a happy bride in "Mob Rule". Jack Benny's reply to being voted the most popular person on the air was the discololate "There's no place like to go".

Mis-information

How many of you are interested in the trial of Robert Edward Edmundson, the sixty-four old unsubsidized investment-economist-publicist? In the last eighteen months, prior to his arrest, he has sent out more than a million pamphlets in which he maintains that Jewish leaders are plotting domination of the world. He admitted that he sent his leaflets to almost every country in the world and that he is constantly the recipient of evidence of Jewish plots. Asked whether he checked the veracity of the reports, his reply was, "I have them translated." Pressed for a more definite answer, he hesitantly replied "Some of those things go right back to the Talmud." His business is called the Edmundson Economic Service, and it is the most flourishing Anti-Semitic publishing house in the United States. . . . Incidentally, Mr. Edmundson was once manager of a scandal magazine whose publisher was referred to in court as "the king of a band of character assassins". . . .

Extra! Extra! Nazi Press Praises Jewish Statesman

Berlin (WNS)—German Jews and foreign observers here are at a loss to understand the unprecedented action of the official Nazi press in heaping praises on Premier Leon Blum of France.

Nazi commendation of a French premier would be strange in itself but when that premier also happens to be both a Jew and a Socialist, such praise is unusual, to say the least. The Voelkische Beobachter, Hitler's personal organ, Der Angriff, Goebbels' paper, and other official Nazi papers, are unanimous in lauding Blum's recent statement on foreign policy in which he called for an understanding with Germany.

The Nazi papers assert that Blum may succeed in bringing about a rapprochement between France and Germany. Jewish leaders who have read this praise with un concealed surprise are privately wondering whether Blum may not also be able to influence the Hitler government to modify its anti-Jewish policy.

Mexican Nazis Brand Children With Swastika

Mexico City (WNS)—An epidemic of violence by Nazis against the children of Mexican workers has been reported to the police. One worker told police that his young son was attacked by Nazis who carved a swastika into the flesh of his wrist and rubbed the wound with a chemical to make it permanent.

Hadassah Doubles Quota for Youth Aliyah Program

New York (WNS)—Pledged to raise $50,000 for the first year of its major project, Hadassah has already raised $105,000 for the Youth Aliyah fund. It was announced here by Mrs. David Greenberg, national chairman of the Youth Aliyah committee. Of this sum Eddie Cantor raised $22,000; in addition to $15,000 in pledges received through his efforts. There are now 1,500 German Jewish children settled in Palestine under the direction of Miss Henrietta Szold, head of the Youth Aliyah program.

Hitler Was Lazy, Says One-Time Partner

Vienna (WNS)—Hitler was once a lazy fellow who lived in the almshouse for indigent workers in Brigetawan, Vienna, it was asserted by Rudolf Hamich, one-time partner of the present Nazi leader. Testifying in a case against a pickpocket, Hamich said that in 1909 and 1910 he was in partnership with Hitler. The latter painted pictures and Hamich sold them, he said, but after a time Hitler got too lazy and did not give me enough pictures, so I broke away from him and set up on my own.
