GUIDO JUNG LOSES INFLUENCE IN ITALY

Rome (WNS)—Guido Jung, former Italian finance minister and close adviser of Premier Mussolini, has fallen into the bad graces of the Fascist inner circle. Jung, whose high place in the Italian government, was widely advertised as Mussolini's answer to the charge that Fascism is anti-Semitism, was removed from office more than a year ago during a cabinet shakeup.

He returned to the limelight during the Ethiopian war when he was given command of a brigade.

Roberto Farinacci, former secretary of the Fascist Council and now editor of Regime Fascista, has worked out a plan for anti-Semitism in Italy but Mussolini is preventing him from laying it before high Fascist officials, according to reports in well-informed quarters here.

Describing the Nazis as "modern cannibals", Premier Molotov said "in our country the national problem has been solved through mutual friendship and respect of races. "I Ain't Mad at Nobody" Is Slogan of Frontier Jew

Cincinnati (WNS)—Shades of the old West and the inevitable Jewish pioneers of early frontier communities have been conjured up by reports from the "last frontier," Klamath Falls, Oregon and its fifteen Jewish souls among its colorful inhabitants.

Klamath Falls has all the characteristics of the towns which figure in moving-picture "Westerns": ten-gallon hats, Indians, open gambling and picturesquely crowded streets. Last month a rabbi made a speech in Klamath Falls, the first speech by a rabbi in the history of the town. Rabbi Henry J. Berkowitz made the 350-mile trip from Portland upon the invitation of the leader of the little Jewish community, K. Sugarman.

Sugarman came to Klamath Falls when its population consisted of 100 cowhands and 400 Indians. Having built up a flourishing business, after three decades he is now one of the community's leaders.

"Klamath Falls used to hold a regular pogrom every other day with Sugarman as the victim," Rabbi Berkowitz remarks. "Now, after thirty years, he is one of the kings of Klamath Falls, and today he is showing off a rabbi, the first one in the town's history to make a speech here."

"I ain't Mad at Nobody" is Sugarman's slogan which he displays on his thriving store and uses in all his advertisements.

Indicative of his courage and Jewish consciousness was the prominently-displayed "ad" which appeared in

Second March of Jews to Palestine Planned

Rippel is boasting that he discussed the march with Premier Sladkowski who indicated he had no objections. The first march was stopped nine miles from Warsaw when the police arrested Rippel and his adjutants and ordered the marchers to return home.

AGENCY HEAD DESCRIBES MOVEMENT

Commission Hears Story of Training for Immigration

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The existence of a far-flung movement embracing 250,000 young Jewish men and women in 24 countries who hope for eventual settlement in Palestine was described to the British Royal Commission by Moshe Shertok, head of the political department of the Jewish Agency.

This movement, he said, has 24,000 members actually in agricultural and industrial training, for immigration to Palestine, on farms and in shops in 365 centers throughout the world, and more would go into training if facilities existed.

"What takes place is a far-reaching physical and spiritual transformation of the Jew seeking to immigrate to Palestine which has its beginnings in the country of his origin," Mr. Shertok declared at the hearing, which resumed the calm and cordial atmosphere which had been interrupted by the sharp exchanges between Royal Commission members and Mr. Shertok on the point of illegal immigration.

He explained that the chulutz movement is banned in Soviet Russia because it is viewed as counter-revolutionary. Showing how Jews are preparing for all kinds of occupations, Mr. Shertok described the special training provided for port workers at Gdynia, Riga and Alexandria, and for railway workers in France.

COURT DECISIONS FAVOR POGROMISTS

Motions of Jewish Counsel Consistently Rejected

Warsaw (WNS)—Murder of and violence against Jews are mild offenses punishable by nothing more severe than six months in jail while Jews who defend themselves and their kinsmen against murderers and pogromists may expect prison terms ranging from a minimum of six months to a maximum of eight years.

This, in effect, was the ruling of the Polish court of appeals at Lublin in its decision on the appeals taken by Jews and Poles from the verdict of the Radom district court on June 29th in the cases growing out of the Przytyk pogrom of March 9th.

Consistently rejecting the motions of counsel for the Jewish defendants, the court of appeals increased the sentences of seven of the 11 Jews convicted at Radom and confirmed the sentences of four others.

Four Poles who had been acquitted of the murder of Joseph and Chaya Minkovsky at Przytyk, were sentenced to six months in jail by the court of appeals not for murder but for having participated in the Przytyk pogrom. The acquittal of 39 other Poles accused of attacking the Jews of Przytyk was upheld.

Disguised Aryans

The regimentation of German intellectuals is complete. Even the Aryan Nobel Prize winners of former years have donned the brown shirt and are repeating in pseudo-scientific terminology the mad ravings of Der Fuehrer against the Jews. Germans have at all times shown a special inclination to dress up their prejudices in a scientific cloak.

The new Nazi institute for the scientific promulgation of anti-Semitism at its recent three-day session at Munich listened to a paper by Philip Lenard, 74-year-old Nobel Prize winner, which submitted to the students of anti-Semitic research the theory that the Jews have always tried to pass off the products of "Aryan brains" as their own.

Professor Lenard must have used a ghost writer who has fallen behind in his reading of Nazi literature. Nazi anti-Jewish propaganda has loudly and vociferously clamored that Semitic culture was distorting and poisoning Aryan Kultur.

If the Jewish scientists and intellectual leaders have merely used Aryan products as their own why do they constitute a danger? As a matter of fact, they should be welcomed as the disseminators of true Germanic Kultur, instead of being persecuted as the "betrayers" of German culture.

This new anti-Semitic scientific institution which was to become the Mecca of world anti-Semitism has started out on the wrong foot.

It was expected to provide new "scientific" material to the anti-Semites of the world. Instead it implies that the Jews are merely disguised Aryans.

Many Lives Lost as Heavy Rains Flood Palestine

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—A Jewish child of nine and three Arabs, including a woman, were killed as part of the toll of fatalities that has been exacted in various parts of Palestine by three days of steady downpour that flooded the country and undermined walls, bridges and homes.

The child was killed in Tel Aviv when a concrete wall, in front of which it was standing, collapsed, burying it and the three Arabs under the debris. The ports at Jaffa and Tel Aviv were completely paralyzed on account of the stormy seas, although construction work on the new Tel Aviv jetty continued.

A British army plane was badly damaged and a flying officer was injured when a plane came down near the Jewish colony of Rehoboth, North of Jerusalem, owing to the bad weather. With slight damage reported in various parts of the country, the Gaza airbase was put out of commission. The Director of Aviation for the Palestine government authorized the use by the K. L. M. Air Line of the new modern airport being built at Lydda by the government. This is the first time that this airbase, which will be completely ready by 1937, has been used.

Phone service in both Tel Aviv and Jerusalem was crippled as a result of the deluge, with the telephone exchange at Tel Aviv completely out of order and several hundred telephones in Jerusalem itself damaged.

Cheating Cheaters

For those who worried about what happened to the swindler mentioned last week we might add that when he faced the court, the judge reprimanded him, saying, "How could you swindle people who trusted you and had implicit faith in you?" To which Swindler interjected: "But, judge, how can you swindle people who don't trust you?"

"The world," wrote Dwight Morrow to his son, "is divided into people who do things and people who get the credit. Try, if you can, to belong to the first class. There's far less competition." If the energetic young people who met in executive session of the Providence Jewish Council last week carry out their threats twenty-one thousand Jews in Providence might discover a Jewish community in process of formation...

Jake, who runs a cleaning and pressing shop in the Willard Avenue section was calling at the office of one of our successful young business men. He was greeted by the demure little red-headed secretary. Jake quickly addressed his greeting to his chest, and announced: "Tell Mr. Manager, gentleman from the press is here to see him!"

Our good friend, Paul Robin, investigating an accident for the State Board. When the accident was over, Paul was holding the unfortunate victim's brains. A clean job... And if you don't think so, maybe we'll show you the picture...

About Medicos
Ed Medoff doing some special work at the Rhode Island Hospital prior to opening up in Woonsocket. Harry Goldman was treating an opinionated young lady who got fallen arches from taking stands on questions... Myron Keller as clean looking as a whistle... Sam Pritsker taking a couple of hours off to entertain... Joe Smith running a miniature "Smithsonian" institute at his City Hall office...

"Uncle Sol Levinton," progressive State Treasurer of Wisconsin, makes a dandy chazan when he sings the Rosh Hashona and Yom Kippur services in a Madison shul each year...

An unusual event was Howard Presel's colorful party the other night when guests came attired in unique national costumes. Those present: the Martin Selvertons, Marie Roitman with brother Aaron, Ada Cohen, Muriel Smirak, Dot Markoff, whom we recognized by her haircut, Lester Selonek, Perry Ilershtein, Freida Lisker, fresh looking as ever, with fraters Al and Hy, the Presel sisters. Charlotte Long had many an admurer in the audience at the Center Sunday night. Mrs. Samuel Starr, Mrs. Saul Abrams and Lou Huddish did a swell job on arrangements. Sam Pressman's program was much appreciated as was the work of his attractive accompanist... The Rubinstein boys, Lou back for a short vacation from Washington escorting a refreshingly charming young lady whom we admired covetously.

Dot Raphael smiling and busy over at Gerbers. Eva Kronbaum quiet but effective. Harold Stanzler discussing the relative merits of the new "Life." "Izra" Korn, we are happy to learn, is fast recovering and will soon be among us again.

"Vim Bigvuros"
There seemed to be much ado about the eightieth birthday of "our silent leader" but not a word about the leader of Zionism in England, "Chacham" Moses Gaster, who was also celebrating his eightieth year. An extraordinary man who was driven from Hungary to England and then was bowed to by the Emperor, the outstanding authority on the Hungarian language whose English writings in the field of history and folk lore are marked by fluency and style. Poet, outstanding scholar and distinguished rabbi of one of the oldest congregations in England, at all times an eloquent advocate of Jewish ideals. Praise is scarce for real leaders...

Fashions in Anti-Semitism
The president general of the D. A. R. tells an audience that "All political movements in the world today have the support and the enthusiasm of youth in the country concerned... Youth finds a moral exultation and an object of dedication in the Fascist State. Youth is dedicated sincerely to Hitler's program as a symbol of national awakening." Plus ça change plus c'est la même chose...

Among the "Saturday Nighters" we recognized the Fat Fains, she the former Sara Fains and looking just as pretty. Madeline Bogin who had just stepped off the New York train. Jeanne Rubin, Jim Sanek, who'd just come from a meeting with Hyram Art Rosenfeld with an out-of-town knockout blond.

The Wonders of Medicine Science
This one actually happened: A doctor presented his bill to one of our recently admitted attorneys, who had been named executor of the patient's estate, and inquired whether the executor would require the bill to be attested. To which the young attorney, absent-mindedly reasoning aloud, said, "No, that will not be necessary because the death of the patient is in itself sufficient evidence of the doctor's services."

TEN CARS ROBBED IN DARING HOLD-UP

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—One of Palestine's most daring highway robberies occurred near Tulkarim when an armed Arab band blocked the highway and robbed the passengers of ten cars that passed. Both Jews and Arabs were victims of the bandits, and a number of police officers also were reported to have been held up. After taking the valuables of the passengers of the cars the bandits fired into the air and fled.

The gradual dissolution of the British emergency force in Palestine is continuing, 1,500 more troops having departed for England.

Under the direction of Larry Simon, more than 85 persons have been receiving careful coaching and drilled twice a week for the past two months. The '36 Center Follies will be striking in its novelty and also because of those skillful dance numbers.

One of the features will be the Men's Ballet with Hy Lisker as the main ballerina. Others in the ballet will be Dr. A. Budner Lewis, Edmund Waldman, Sydney Levinson, Sydney Rabinowitz, Daniel Jacobs, Harold Cohen, Nat Roy, Maurice Alch, and Harold Stanzler.

Some of the specialty participants are Freda Gerstcov, Helen Epstein, Faye Weisenger, Julie Hyman who comes all the way from Texas, Dorothy Waldman, Nat Malenbaum and Joseph Schlossberg.

Another feature of the show will be a fashion revue with Mrs. Ruth Bernard as the commentator.

Mrs. Seefor surrounded herself with a capable committee and all indications point to an outstanding event.

News About Current Films

Story of Lover Artist, Comedy Drama and Rollicking Race Horse Film at Local Theatres

At the Albee

Only out of the colorful life and loves of the world's greatest lover and painter of beauty could Alexander Korda have drawn the extraordinary canvas of motion picture beauty and entertainment that is "Rembrandt," his new film which brings Charles Laughton to the R. K. O. Albee—now in the greatest of his many great starring roles.

"Rembrandt" is the story of a genius in a world that would not fully understand him for a hundred years after his time. "Rembrandt," too, is the story of the three women whose beauty lighted his way.

Gertrude Lawrence—disease, comedian and stage star of two continents—makes a triumphant motion picture debut in this screen masterpiece. Lee Tracy and Gloria Stuart in "Wanted! Jane Turner," and Leon Errol in a comedy skit complete the bill. Helen Broderick will soon be seen in R. K. O.'s newest musical, "Three on a Latch Key."

Three Men on a Horse

"Three Men on a Horse," which as a stage play is now well into its second year on Broadway and still going strong—and which has toured the country in seven road shows—comes in film form to the Majestic Theatre today.

There is a grand cast headed by Frank McHugh and Joan Blondell.

There are few changes in the picture version. Races merely mentioned in the play, are actually seen—and Ojwin is seen on the crowded bus where he creates his sentimental greeting verses. There's a laugh in every minute of this rollicking comedy, so you won't want to miss a minute of it, and you'll probably want to see it at least twice.

The capture of a desperate criminal on an airplane flying by night in a terrific dust storm, is one of many exciting happenings in Warner Bros. "Fugitive in the Sky," which comes to the Majestic Theatre today as second feature, starring Jean Muier and Warren Hall.

Now at Fays

"The Luckiest Girl in the World," Universal's laugh hit featuring Jane Wyatt and Louis Hayward, opens today at Fays theatre. The story, by Anne Jordan, first came to public attention in the Ladies' Home Journal under the title, "Kitchen Privileges." Now everybody in this city can share theatre privileges in enjoying the laughs engendered by this hilarious fun provoker. Hollywood scouts declare the film is a comedy laymaker.

Herbert Fields, noted as a movie humorist, wrote the screen play with Henry Myers. The supporting cast includes Nat Pendleton, Eugene Pallete, Catherine Doucet, Philip Reed and Viola Callahan.

The only vaudeville show in town plus several shorts complete the program.

On Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Sisterhood will entertain its members at a Chanukah party. Mrs. Saul Rothchild, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. A. L. Abel and Mrs. Samuel Dubitsky.
