Bert L. Bernhardt Makes Appeal For Community Center

PALESTINE APPEAL

The United Palestine Appeal, central fund-raising instrument in the United States for the upbuilding of the Jewish homeland in Palestine through the Palestine Foundation Fund and the Jewish National Fund, this week announced the creation of an advisory council to which leading welfare funds throughout the country have been asked to designate their own representatives.

This is believed to be the first time in the history of overseas fund-raising that local communities which are responsible for the funds made available are asked to share in the molding of decisions of the organization which distributes the funds.

The advisory council will help mold the decisions of the United Palestine Appeal in its relation to the upbuilding program in Palestine. The decision to inaugurate such a body is intended by the United Palestine Appeal to indicate the importance of bringing contributors, through their local representation, more closely in touch with the progress of the work in Palestine through the United Palestine Appeal.

With more than 18 teams and 200 workers organized into one determined solid unit, general chairman Bert L. Bernhardt issued a call today to the community to support the 1940 Jewish Center Enrollment to the fullest extent.

The quota this year is 300 new members which means only those who are not affiliated with the Center. The present membership of the Center is almost 1400 and the workers are determined to increase it to 1700.

The first Workers Rally will be held this coming Sunday evening, January 14, at 6.30 o'clock, at the Jewish Community Center, 65 Benefit street.

In addition to inspiring addresses by many prominent leaders in this community there will be an Information Quiz conducted by Murry Low of Station WEAN. Ethel Sydney, well known radio singer, will entertain.

On Monday an attractive mailing piece is being sent to prospective members, explaining in detail what the Jewish Community Center means to the Providence community and what the present rebuilding program will do for the future community.

Captains whose names have not been announced in previous issues of the newspapers are Frank F. Swartz, Sydney A. Levinson, Morris Summer, Mrs. Matthew Segool, Mrs. David Rubin, Ruth Berry, Eleanor Schechter, Sylvia Peddikin, Paul Robin, Sidney Silverman, Harry Myers, and Nat Dwares.

The first report meeting will be held next Thursday evening, January 18. The following are the dates of the other report meetings: January 22, 25, 31, and February 5.

Adding his word to that of Mr. Bernhardt, Samuel H. Workman, president of the Center, urged the full support of the Membership Enrollment. He pointed out that all the workers in the effort are serving as volunteers and should be given the greatest encouragement in expanding the Center program. Mr. Workman pointed out that the gymnasium program is continuing as planned and that the main building will shortly be modernized. This, he said, will place Providence in the forefront of the Center movement in New England.

Nat Holman, world famous basket ball coach of the City College of New York, will be the guest of the Men's Committee of the Jewish Center, Monday evening, January 19, at Touro Hall.

ADVISORY BOARD OF THE Y. P. B. A. HOLDS MEETING

The first meeting of the Advisory Board, governing body of the Yellisovetgrad Progressive Beneficial Association, was held Tuesday evening, January 9, at the Swedish Hall.

Mr. I. Lazarus was unanimously elected chairman of the Board, and he and the following recently administration during 1940, including the opening of the free charter for new membership in the age range of, from 21 to 35 years, for a period of six months, and from 35 to 40 the usual course.

Mr. Holman is making a special trip to Providence and will bring with him his new basketball movie, supervised and edited by himself.

Mr. Holman is undoubtedly one of the best known Jewish sportsman in the country. This is his first visit to Providence.

The Jewish Center Orchestra will provide the musical program. Members of the committee assisting chairman Sidney Rabinowitz are George Katz, Dr. A. Budner Lewis, Edward Levy, Dr. Alex Weinberg, Edward Charon, Harold Graubart, Max Tarnapol, Bert Pickar, Isador Korn and Morris Summer.

Gordan. The present officers are J. J. Honigblum, president; L. Trostonoff, vice-president; H. M. Bornstein, secretary. The preceding officers included L. Covinsky, president, and J. Gold, vice-president.

Penny Named

Announcement of the naming of George W. Penny, advertising manager for Rumford Chemical Company, as assistant sales manager of the concern was made Friday night by Albert E. Madshall, president. Mr. Penny will continue his duties as advertising manager.

The announcement was made at a dinner for the company's salesmen of the New England and New York districts, held at the Biltmore Hotel. The salesmen, more than a score in number, are here for a conference with company officials.

Jewish Studies

The winter semester of the School of the Jewish Woman, sponsored jointly by the Sisterhood of Temple Beth-El, the Sisterhood of Temple Beth-Israel, Providence Chapter of Hadassah, and the Providence Section of the National Council of Jewish Women, and to be held at Temple Beth-Israel, Niagara and Atlantic avenue, began a series of six morning sessions Tuesday.

This school is in response to a long-felt need for Jewish education on a mature level, with the advantages of community sponsorship.

Three courses in Hebrew will be given simultaneously at 10 o'clock: elementary, by Rabbi Albert T. Bilgray; intermediate, by Rabbi William G. Braude, and advanced, by Rabbi Morris Schussheim. Three courses will also be given simultaneously at 11 o'clock dealing with Jewish life and letters and exploring the treasure house of the past and reviewing the swiftly changing present: "Books That Have Influenced Jewish Life," by Rabbi Morris Schussheim; two chapters a day from the Bible, by Rabbi William G. Braude, and "The Contemporary Jewish Scene," a review of current problems and developments in the political, social and religious life of the Jew, by Rabbi Albert T. Bilgray.

Miss Hunt Speaks Here

The annual membership luncheon of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth-Israel was held in the vestry of the Temple on Monday. Following the practice of previous years the hostesses for the luncheon were the members of the board of directors of the Sisterhood. Mrs. Max Botvin, membership chairman, and Mrs. Abe Berman, co-chairman, head of the arrangements committee.

The meeting was addressed by Alice W. Hunt, Providence club woman, identified with civic enterprises. She is also president of the Consumers League of Rhode Island, chairman of the Rhode Island Committee on the Cause and Cure of Wars, and has sponsored considerable legislation in the field of industrial relations. She spoke on the general subject of child psychology.

The Sisterhood of the Temple, numbering about 200 members, welcomed about 35 new members at this luncheon, and they were presented by Mrs. Batvin.

Young Judaea

New York (Special)—An extensive nation-wide fund raising campaign to further the land purchasing and other activities of the Jewish National Fund in Palestine, has been launched by the The drive, for which a goal of 20,000 membership of Young Judaea, the junior affiliate of the Zionist Organization of America, it was announced today by Louis P. Rucker, national president. $10,000 has been set, will be under the chairmanship of Mary H. Volkoff.

A sad eyed, very thin, tense woman, in threadbare clothes,—at one of the telegraph offices, sending a neat sum of brand new money.

With measured steps and a much relieved expression she walked away.

In a couple of minutes she returned and with a wan, pensive smile, thanked the attendant for giving her the old, old gloves she had forgotten.

The absorbing study of sketching people: Here, the tilt of a chin,—there, fine features,—expressive hands,—an unusual head,—the arresting quality in people's eyes.

MME. CHARBONNEL

A SUPERB PIANIST

Wins High Acclaim in Music World

An artist of the pianoforte, acclaimed throughout the country for masterful interpretations of music, it is interesting to learn that Providence is the birthplace of Madame Avis Bliven Charbonnel.

For many years she has charmed her audience with her musicianship.

amiliar with the distinctive recognition she has so well earned.

Because of her innate modesty the general public has not heard of her manifold philanthropies and cultural achievements.

She made her debut in Town Hall, New York, on January 16, 1932, "hailed as a pianist of tremendous magnitude."

MME. AVIS BLIVEN CHARBONNEL

"The Blivens were sea captains and grandfather Bliven played the tenor trombone in the original American brass band which he bought and brought from England now in the American Historical Society with other instruments. It is said he played the first tenor trombone solo in Providence."

Madame Charbonnel is the wife of Dr. Ernest A. Charbonnel, one of the leaders in the dental profession, director of the Samuels Dental Clinic and former president of the Rhode Island Dental Society.

Poised, personable, dynamic and gracious—host of friends and admirers of this artist are fa-

And the New York Times: "An artist free of showy self-display and seeking first the plastic and formal beauty in the music she played."

The Boston Symphony Orchestra Youth Concert Association, with Wheeler Beckett, conductor and commentator, is recognized as an important organization in the annals of the history of music.

Madame Charbonnel is to appear in two of their concerts this season, which will take place in Jordan Hall, Boston:

She will play the Shumann Quintete with the Roth Quartette January 24, and on March 6, the Dohnanyi number (piano quintete.)

Judaism

The Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America has started a series of meetings designed to revitalize Orthodox Judaism in America. The first of these meetings, attended by rabbis and congregation executives, was held on Wednesday evening, December 27, 1939, at the Jewish Center, 131 West 86th street, New York City.

The meeting was opened by Mr. William Weiss, National President of the Union, who gave a brief history of the accomplishments of the 41-year-old organization, and then stressed the need of an extended program for the coming year because of the collapse of Jewish life in Europe. He then introduced the Honorable Benjamin E. Greenspan, the chairman of the Special Committee for Jewish Education and Organization, who made an impassioned plea for more co-operation among Jewish organizations and the need of practicing a "living" Judaism.

She will also play the Caesar Franck with the Roth Quartette at Wheaton College, April 6.

Her executive acumen and her discovery of many unknown artists have been of immeasurable value.

In harmonious accord with everything symbolic of the heart's interest of one of our finest American pianoforte artists is Madame Charbonnel's enthusiastic activity in this youth movement from which the world awaits the development of new, fine American composers and musicians.

TO SING HERE

Adele Livingston, who will give a program in Plantations auditorium Tuesday night, has appeared in Tchaikowsky's "Mazeppa" in Carnegie Hall and in his "Eugene Onegin" in the Academy of Music in Philadelphia, with the Philadelphia Symphony and in many Italian operas.

Descended from a long line of musicians this singer has inherited an unusually beautiful, natu-al voice. She sang in public as a small child and later made a serious study of music and vocal art.

Her fine personality and capable performances have won for her many successes and aroused favorable comment from the New York public and press.

Miss Livingston, a mezzo-soprano, will give the following program, with Milford Snell as accompanist:

I	Dank Sei Dir Herr .....Handel	IV	Fantasia C minor.....Bach

JEWISH CENTER PLANS CAMPAIGN

The 1940 Jewish Center Membership Campaign for 300 new members will open officially Sunday evening, January 14, with a buffet supper and rally for workers at the Jewish Community Center, 65 Benefit street, according to the announcement of the general chairman, Bertram L. Bernhardt.

For the past few days Mr. Bernhardt has been assembling division leaders, captains and workers. At this time only a partial list is being released as follows: Division leaders: Young Women, Ruth Berger; Women's Division, Mrs. Benjamin Rossman; Youth Division, Faye Ruth Robin; Sustaining Group, Sigmund Rosenblatt. The following captains have been chosen by the various adult groups: Bertram Picker, Dr. Alex Weinberg, Mrs. Morris Sumner, Mrs. William Kessler, Mrs. Joseph J. Seifer, Irene Ottinger, Minnie Kebrek, Mrs. Martin Posner, Bernice Koret, Ethel Levene and Nettie Simon.

At each meeting the workers will make a report of their accomplishments. A program of speakers and entertainment is being planned for these meetings.

Arthur J. Levy, a member of the Center Board, and Mrs. Robert Hochberg are in charge of publicity and are preparing attractive literature for the campaign.

The Bureau of Investigation at The Providence Public Library

The Reference Department of the Providence Public Library in pursuing fugitive facts, figures and fancies has raised the fine art of detection to a science.

It has at its command 7,875 reference books supplemented by many thousand of volumes in the general collection.

22,844 questions were answered by the department last year.

The Groundwork of the Case

The formal reference books such as atlases, dictionaries, encyclopedias, directories and bibliographies offer a point of departure for almost any investigation. In addition, the following special indexes have been compiled and may be consulted in the department.

Sifting the Clues

Are you searching for local material? The Rhode Island Index is a key to historical, current, descriptive, and statistical information about the State of Rhode Island.

So you're going to be a success in your chosen profession? The Occupations Index will provide you with material for your needs.

Your favorite poem isn't in any of the anthologies? The Index to Scrapbook Poetry is a guide to just such poems.

G-Manuals

Government publications contain a wealth of up-to-the-minute information. Statistical abstracts, reports, bulletins, monographs and leaflets keep the public informed of the latest developments in many fields of knowledge and work. The Reference Department receives each year more than 7,000 federal, state and city documents.

Added Evidence

Clippings and pamphlets on local, national and international affairs and elusive material which cannot be readily located elsewhere are preserved in the vertical file for the use of the public.

Brotherhood Week Is Set as Feb. 18-25

The seventh annual observance of Brotherhood Week under the auspices of the National Conference of Christians and Jews will be held from Feb. 18 to 25, according to an announcement by the Rev. Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, director.

Meetings will be held from coast to coast by chambers of commerce, service clubs, labor unions, agricultural organizations, youth agencies, churches, schools, women's clubs and veterans' organizations. Committees composed of Roman Catholics, Protestants and Jews will have charge of the programs. These will include interfaith mass meetings, services of worship, community dinners and radio programs. Groups composed of a priest, a rabbi and a minister will speak at many meetings.

"Brotherhood Week stresses the basic worth of human personality emphasized by Catholic, Protestant and Jews," Dr. Clinchy said. "Churches and synagogues can translate this idea into terms of neighborliness in community life, justice in social and economic relations and goodwill in personal attitudes."

Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago is chairman of the national committee in charge. The co-chairmen are Professor Carlton J. H. Hayes of Columbia University and Roger W. Straus.

To Give Courses

Two first aid courses planned by the American Red Cross to educate the public in giving injured persons proper care before the arrival of a physician was conducted in Providence at WPA headquarters, 17 Custom House street, the first course starting Saturday, Feb. 5.

William B. Schultz, director of first aid for the Providence Chapter of the Red Cross, has been named instructor of the preparatory class, the enrollees of which will be persons who have not had previous first aid training or those who wish to review. The class will meet on Wednesdays and Fridays during January at 10 a. m.

The second course is an instructors' course and will be taught by Dr. Bryce A. Newbaker of the national field staff of the Red Cross. Students completing this course will be certified as first aid instructors qualified to teach Red Cross junior, standard and advanced first aid course. The first class meeting of instructors will be held from 9 a. m. until noon, Feb. 5. Other meetings will be Feb. 6, 7, 15, 16, 19, 20, 21, 25 and March 1.

The local chapter has also arranged for Dr. Newbaker to conduct evening classes for instructors in Warwick. These will be held Feb. 8, 9, 12, 13, 14, 22, 23, 26, 27 and 28.

Aids Turkey

New York—Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, announced here last week that it had cabled funds and an authorization to its medical director in Jerusalem, to send a surgical unit from Palestine to Turkey to aid victims of the recent earthquakes and floods. The unit will be placed at the disposal of the Turkish government.

Hadassah maintains one of the largest medical centers in the Near East on Mt. Scopus, in Jerusalem, and has conducted hospitalization, public health, child welfare and medical research work in the Holy Land for the last twenty-eight years.

Living Costs

New York—On information from Palestine that war conditions have "greatly increased" the cost of living, Junior Hadassah, the Young Women's Zionist Organization of America, will make a concerted drive to collect at least fifty per cent more than its 1940 budget for Palestinian projects calls for, it was announced at the organization's headquarters, 1860 Broadway, by Miss Dorothy Pines, treasurer.

The organization has received a price list from its representatives in Palestine which shows an average increase of fifty-three per cent for forty-three representative items in food, household articles, clothing, fuel, cattle fodder and building materials. The price of potatoes, according to the information, has risen 93 per cent; sugar, 74 per cent; paper and building materials 100 per cent; while the price of glass has mounted 143 per cent.

First Prints

An exhibition of "Hebrew Printing in the Fifteenth Century" is being opened on January 15 at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, Broadway and 122nd street, New York City, to join with the other libraries of the world in commemorating the five hundred years since the printing press was introduced into the West.

The very first book in Hebrew to issue from a press, shortly after Gutenberg's invention of movable type, was the Code of Laws of Jacob Ben Asher (The Arba Turim), printed in Italy between 1474 and 1475. It is interesting to note that this work was also chosen as the initial Hebrew publication in Poland and in the Balkans. Whereas early Christian printers gave precedence to the Bible, the Jewish craftsmen took for granted the universal knowledge of the Bible among medieval Jews and chose to begin instead a wider circulation of the Code of Laws by which Jewish life was directed.
