A Skeptic Wins

Mr. James Causey has won our admiration. When Hamilton Fish, his representative in Congress, declared that his constituents were 8 to 1 against the lease lend-bill, Mr. Causey decided to find out for himself.

He hired Elmo Roper, who tests the nation's mind for Fortune magazine, to do a sampling job of Mr. Fish's Hudson Valley district. He learned that only 19.95% of the voters agreed with their Congressman's point of view and that only 18.2% were against the lease-lead bill. Naturally the poll does not prove that Hamilton Fish has betrayed his constituents. No intelligent voter picks his Representative on the basis of one issue.

Carrying Mr. Causey's skepticism one step farther we suggest that local community leaders, who, in their ivory towers, decide what the community wishes, sponsor impartial polls of their own. The results would shock them, we're sure, into unaccustomed silence.

No Comparison

A favorite pastime of many people is to compare Napoleon with Herr Hitler. Douglas Rigby of the Christian Science Monitor, in a recent article, proves that in contrast to Hitler, Napoleon could be as urbane as a gentleman-burglar at a Long Island houseparty. Following is a communication that was distributed widely during the period that Napoleon was preparing for his invasion of England.

A CARD

Asserts Stalin Will Never Fight Hitler

NEW YORK. — Alexander Kerensky, former Russian premier, told the Brooklyn Jewish Center weekly forum that one of Stalin's pet remarks is:

"Hitler is the ice-breaker who is opening a channel in the frozen capitalistic sea for us."

Thus, he said, Stalin will never fight Hitler, and if Hitler wins the European war, they will divide the spoils.

"Stalin, said Kerensky, 'hates democracy as much as Hitler and is helping to create chaos in Europe.'"

Held Job Because
He Knew Too Much

LONDON. — Dr. Franz Guertner, Nazi Minister of Justice who died in Berlin recently, held the post because he was familiar with Adolf Hitler's criminal past, according to the London Daily Herald.

Dr. Guertner approved measures paving the way for mass murders of Jews, ruling them "valid not only as law but as deeds of statesmanlike beauty."

Zionists Must Reconsider NRS

NEW YORK. — The olive branch of peace was offered to the United Palestine Appeal this week when the Joint Distribution Committee in an emergency meeting here adopted a resolution to "engage in any discussions leading to the reconstitution of the United Jewish Appeal in 1941," provided that the UPA agrees to abide by the decision of an impartial fact-finding group on the needs of the National Refugee Service.

(Providence men active in Zionist circles said this week that the JDC proposal is no different than had been offered previously. In other cities, it was admitted, the emergency requirements of Palestine had been recognized and the U. P. A. had been granted 50% of all funds raised for the three agencies which formerly constituted the UJA. Unless similar arrangements can be made here, the spokesman said, Zionists will conduct their own drive.)

If the JDC proposal is not accepted by the UPA the former is constrained to make independent applications for funds.

It was emphasized at the meet-

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Wendell L. Willkie was voted this week the annual award of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States in recognition of his "outstanding example in leadership in promotion of Americanism and democracy."

The veterans adopted resolutions condemning strikes and lockouts in national defense industries; recommending passage of the lend-lease bill; proposing that civilian groups be trained in civilian defense activities, and that the Selective Service Act be continued on a permanent basis but amended to apply only to youths between 18 and 19 years of age instead of the present 21-36-year age range.

New Draftees
Objective to Cell

NEW YORK. — The Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League has learned that several members of the Bund, drafted about the same time and sent to Camp Dix, have now formed an informal unit to propagandize secretly among their fellow-conscripts.

A sub-leader of the Eastern District Storm-Troop of the Bund, named Eiseman, is acting as liaison between the cell at Camp Dix and Gustave Elmer, Bund treasurer and Storm Troop leader. Approximately ten members of the Bund compose the Camp Dix cell.

The Anti-Nazi League has advised the proper authorities of these facts and action will soon be taken. The present Bund infiltration into our armed forces is reminiscent of its old tactics of joining the National Guard.

 the time that they were to be forcibly detained.
 But Napoleon's "arrangements" for returning the honor in person were never satisfactorily completed. But here the comparison of Napoleon and Hitler break down. Conditions of modern warfare and on the continent are far different. And historians, we believe, will have ample opportunity to describe the similarity between Napoleon and Hitler.

Advance Agents

With Nazi pressure increasing and apparently cornering Great Britain, proponents of the totalitarian form of government are becoming bolder. New organizations, under high-sounding names, are springing up over the country designed to sabotage this country's aid to Great Britain.

One of the newest is the Citizens Protective League sponsored by Kurt Mering, one of the most anti-Semitic Nazis in the country. Under the growing belief by these anti-Americans that fascism is on its way here, they are scrambling for position and publicity. Those who testified at the Senate hearings last week included Judge Herbert O'Brien, Judge John A. Matthews, Edward Louis Carran and Herwin E. Hart, the last America's No. 1 assassin.

These men, and countless others, are now openly sponsoring propaganda for a fascist form of government. They are the real "Sob columnists" in this country. They are Hitler's advance agents who by preparing the ground, permit the infiltration of defeatist and terroristic attitudes.

Putting it Safely

The better-advised crusaders for highway safety in the United States have emphasized the desirability of affirmative rather than negative suggestions in signs and slogans. That is, the mental picture conveyed should be one of alertness and right driving practices rather than of fear and the horribleness of accidents.

In the helpful direction, is a motto used on posters by the Motor Vehicles Department of the District of Columbia:
 "When you walk, and when you drive, STAY ALIVE!"

The tires on one of the latest United States bombers weigh more than some airplanes.

Benefit Performance To Aid British Relief Proceeds to Buy Mobile Kitchens

The Jewish Section Inter-Faith Committee to Aid Great Britain is cooperating with the British Relief Society in sponsoring a midnight movie performance, on behalf of the recent mobile kitchen pledge, which was made by the American Jewish Congress.

The benefit performance will take place at midnight, tonight at the Capital Theatre, Main street, in Pawtucket. E. M. Leow, who operates the theatre, has donated the performance, and his employees are giving their services free. The features are "Down Patrol" and "Tightout Arrive Sails Again." One of the short subjects, will be "London Can Take It."

Joseph Smith, president of the R. I. Council, American Jewish Congress, in a statement today urged everyone to attend the performance. Mr. Smith will shortly call a state-wide conference of all Jewish organizations to mobilize Rhode Island Jewry, for the purpose of raising sufficient funds for two mobile kitchens.

Publicity Stunt Backfires—Thousands Tell Hitler Off

Here's the chance you've been waiting for, if you've had it in for Hitler. Last week the Berlin street-wave radio station, broadcasting to the United States invited American listeners to cable at Hitler's expense and tell the Nazis what sort of short-wave programs they would like to hear.

Now a radio letter called collect to Berlin costs the revamped paper-hanger exactly $2.75. And for the first time in years irate anti-Nazis are telling Hitler where to get off in 23 words.

One person asked for the Nazi viewpoint on the war in Africa because the "Italian explanation was not so good." Another wanted a broadcast of Hitler's funeral. The RCA company, who was authorized to accept the collect-cablegrams, admits that the flood of cables included many obscene remarks which had to be censored.

One analytical individual figured that if 100,000 persons took advantage of this offer, it would cost the German maestro about $200,000 equal to the cost of five Messerschmitts.

At the present writing the offer was still open. The Columbia Broadcasting System listening station reported this week that the proposition had been renewed. But after reading a few thousand temperature-raising remarks, the humorless Nazis are going to get pretty mad.

A column of chat on Home and Security— from Old Colony Co-operative Bank

"MONEY makes money . . . and the money that money makes, makes more money!" That's how it is at OLD COLONY. As you set aside part of your earnings—on a weekly, monthly or irregular interval basis—regularly compounded dividends increase the total.

"A woman doesn't mind doing her kitchen chores half so much when they can be done amid beautiful surroundings," says a famous psychologist. And if she has modern equipment to save half the work, she minds her chores hardly at all. New houses are planned to make house-keeping simple and pleasant. But if your home has not kept up with the times for ten years or more, you'll realize that it is getting old-fashioned in spots.

"Life is a gamble," they say. But wise men and women prefer to plan on sure things. They foresee probable expenses like the down payment on a home, fares for a well-earned vacation tour, tuition for a child's advanced education. Old Colony helps them accumulate cash to meet future needs.

Consideration and Co-operation is Woman's Secret of Holding Maid

Not long ago a woman said enviously, "Evelyn always has a good maid. And her maids stay for perfect ages. There was Marion whom she had several years ago and who stayed for five years. Well I've just heard she's coming back to town again to work for them. Some people have all the luck!"

There was a doubt whether it was merely luck which accounted for Evelyn's success in holding a good maid. A call at their home provided a little more information.

"What's the secret of your keeping Marion so long, and that string of other efficient girls you've always had?" the lady of the house was queried. "Is it threats, bribes, flattery, or what?"

She laughed, amused. "No threats! Not even very good wages! Bribes? Well, perhaps you might call them that. We call it being considerate. For instance, when Marion came back to us last fall, I realized that the friends she had before, girls who worked in homes along this street, were no longer here. Yet I knew she needed outside contacts just as much as the rest of us.

"I learned she had several married friends in town, so I made her this offer. Three times a month she may take a full day off to visit them, or do whatever she wishes. This is in addition to her regular time off. She can stay out until midnight if she likes, and she comes back to a clean kitchen and an orderly house. It doesn't hurt the children and me to pitch in once in a while. Of course she lets me know in advance what day she would like off. Sometimes she doesn't take any, and it accumulates to her credit for a longer holiday. In return, I can always count on her cooperation in anything I propose.

Again a question of the house-

Glimpsed on some other very well dressed women: A silver and blue brocaded lame dress with gracefully flared skirt and a little bolero lined with South American pink, to match the flowers tucked at each side of her dark pompadour . . . A décollete gown with bouffant skirt of pale pink mousseline de soie, topped with a long torso bodice in pink and white diagonal striped bugle-beading . . . A black crepe sheath gown, swirling with black silk fringe . . .

Jewelry? Bracelets in as thick clusters as the flock on a Ranees' arm . . . Clips and pins absolute necessities . . . Earrings? . . . Bigger and better . . . Pearls—quantities of them . . . Noted were those rich old baroque pearls again, too, and jewelry that has that individual handmade touch so essential to women of distinction . . . Sapphires from Ceylon in their range of early morning pastel shades—pink, yellow and green, as well as the familiar blue . . .

Coiffures? Hair in pompadour—a style which continues to queen it over a majority of fashionable brows though sometimes it is disguised as a bang . . . Authentic Southern news, this . . . Before no time at all, though, when winter's gone, you—a Northerner will be dressing as a Southerner . . .

UNHEROIC COUPLETS

To A. S. D.—Aged 4 Weeks

I think that I shall never hear
A sound less lovely to the ear
Than you—oh, mighty little wight
Who shrieks so shrill through the night!
We pick you up, we put you down,
We dry you off, we change your gown.
And still you yell. Can you be sp'iled,
Oh, little Unsolved Problem Child?
They tell me one should never wallop
A thing no bigger than a scallop
I often think a fool like me
Might have done better to make a tree...

While we're on the subject of babies, the Howard Lapens are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter at the Miriam Hospital... Other facts on babies include the note that a Buffalo couple have decided to name their thirteenth child, "Too Much!"... Their 12th was called "Enough."... An Ithica, N. Y. doctor revealed the birth of a 1 lb. 2 ounce girl... And to those who are worried about America's baby crop, let me remind them that last year, 2,350,000 waited their way into existence... This was the highest yield in ten years...

Here and Gone

Having just returned from Texas, where she barnstormed on behalf of the Jewish National Fund, the Hebrew University and the United Palestine Appeal, Mrs. Archibald Silverman packed her bags again and left Thursday nite for South America on the Uruguay... She'll tour seven countries, but will spend most of her time in ... the Sam Whites... The winner of the hobby horse race that nite was Dorothy Orleck...

Everything Is Something

A friend of Sam Lazarus's told him the following: One of the mail-censors in Bermuda examined a large envelope, addressed to a lady in Berlin, from one of her relatives in New York... He opened it, and found a pair of silk panties... He took it to his superior, who ordered it confiscated immediately... An American observer suggested: "Why not let it go on to Lisbon?... After all, it's only a pair of panties."... "This is total War," the officer explained, "and this comes under the classification of 'Aid and Comfort to the Enemy.'"... A wise-cracking skeptic gave the following definition of a communal leader: "He is a person," he said, "who is appointed to discuss situations that would never occur if there were no leaders." That's all for now...

Labor Committee Achieves Success in Saving Refugees

"So long as the harassed Jews of Europe continue their struggle for survival in the face of unparalleled difficulties and increasing occupational restrictions just so long should American Jewry—their main hope—provide the comparatively small sums required to make that struggle possible," Maurice Berren, chairman of the ORT campaign in Rhode Island asserted this week in an appeal for contributions to the drive.

"ORT not only provides means for self support to those Jews who must remain in Europe," said Mr. Berren, "but also equips refugees with skills that facilitate their emigration to foreign countries willing to accept productive artisans in preference to professionals or 'white collar workers.'"

The Jewish Labor Committee, who this year has joined the ORT in its Rhode Island drive, has for a number of years contributed to the support of political refugees in Europe. But with the critical conditions arising from the collapse of France, it has become necessary to rescue the most important fighters against Fascism and Nazism who, under an agreement with the Vichy government, were to have been turned over to the dictators. This, according to David Eisenberg, field representative here, meant concentration camp and death. Havens of refuge have to be found for these men and women. And the Labor Committee, through its co-operation with the American Federation of Labor, has undertaken this tremendous task.

Jury Finds Doctor Guilty of Boy's Idiocy; Awards $50,000 Damages

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stemmer and their idiot son, Jacob Stemmer, Jr., were awarded $50,000 damages last week by a jury of nine men and three women, which found that the boy's condition resulted from an inaccurate diagnosis by Dr. William Klein.

The Stemmers, who sued for $400,000, charged that in December, 1934, Dr. Klein diagnosed Mrs. Stemmer's condition as a tumor and recommended X-ray treatments. As a result, their petition set forth, the baby born May 2, 1935, was abnormal mentally and physically and has continued so, today being unable to control his movements and having the mental processes of an imbecile.

The jury returned a verdict of $35,000 damages to the parents for loss of their son's services and $15,000 to the boy himself.
