Purim

In this city and throughout the world, Jews will be celebrating the Feast of Purim on Wednesday evening, March 8 and Thursday, March 9. The celebration this year will be of special interest because of the resemblance between Haman, the villain of the story, and his modern counterpart, Hitler of Germany. As in the former case, Jews everywhere will express the hope of celebrating in years to come the providential deliverance from their new oppressor.

Jews have observed this festival because it emphasizes the right to difference of opinion—the essence of democracy. There is a carnival character to the celebration and also an emphasis upon the injunction of "Shalach Monos," sending gifts to friends and above all to the less fortunate members of the community.

Aid for the Aged

With the announcement that the Home for Aged is continuing its drive for $150,000 to construct an infirmary, attention of the public is once more focused on the problem of caring for the convalescent and the chronically ill aged.

The Home for Aged Association, which is holding its annual donor's luncheon next Wednesday, has recognized the seriousness of the problem by allotting a portion of the proceeds to the infirmary fund.

But success of the campaign requires the co-operation of not only the men and women affiliated with the Home but the public at large. Five hundred women of the community have demonstrated their awareness of the Home's needs by becoming donors for the annual luncheon. A similar number of men making proportionate contributions would soon send the drive over the top. Don't forget to do your bit!

NEW YORK — Appointment of a Committee on Unity by Mayor LaGuardia to promote mutual understanding among racial groups in New York City was endorsed this week by the American Jewish Congress with the announcement that the newly formed National Commission to Combat Anti-Semitism would offer its full cooperation to the Mayor's group.

The Mayor made his first announcement about the Committee on Unity at the recent National Conference to Combat Anti-Semitism, which led to the creation of the National Commission to Combat Anti-Semitism.

Home for Aged Renews Campaign to Raise $150,000

To Utilize Funds For Infirmary

Demands Make Expansion Essential

The campaign to raise $150,000 for the Jewish Home for Aged, launched last November and halted in deference to another major campaign, has been renewed it was announced this week by Benjamin Kane and Dr. Ilie Berger, chairman and acting chairman, respectively.

The funds will be utilized to construct an infirmary, in connection with the Home, to care for those aged men and women who are chronically ill and in need of institutional and nursing aide. There have been numerous instances, officials revealed, where applicants have been turned away for the lack of room, some being compelled to go to the State Infirmary while others have passed away awaiting admission.

Long Waiting List

The need for such an addition to the Home has long been felt, Dr. Berger said this week. "We are caring for 52 aged men and women and there are about 20 persons on the waiting list. Most of these cases are urgent. Aged people from Newport, Pawtucket, Woonsocket and Westerly are admitted and the present population is representative of all the communities in the State."

When the new infirmary is constructed it will be fully equipped with the latest appliances which will enable the Home to care for chronic diseases of the aged. There will be a room for diathermy treatment, X-ray, dental treatment, chiropody and other special equipment through which, it is hoped, the lives of the patients may be prolonged.

The construction of an infirmary is in keeping with the trend of the times. Homes throughout the country have added or are adding hospital wings to their present structures in order to cope with this ever-increasing problem and "the Jewish people of Rhode Island," said Dr. Berger, "are among those farsighted to realize the urgency and the necessity of such an infirmary wing. Twenty years ago we considered our first Home for the Aged, which cared for 20 patients, sufficient for the State's needs. It was not long afterwards that we realized that the building at 191 Orms street was incapable of handling the ever-increasing numbers seeking our assistance. It was then the present Home was planned. It is now time, once more to advance again to keep in step with the urgencies of the times."

The present campaign is being continued by the initial gifts committee among the larger contributors. Contributions, however may be made by the people of the community at this time.

Benjamin N. Kane, chairman of the building campaign committee, is being assisted by Reuben Lipson, Dr. Ilie Berger and A. C. Fine, co-chairmen; Alvin A. Soppkin, treasurer; Isaac E. Feinstein, executive director and the following:

Editor Jailed for Refusal To Tell Source of Funds

WASHINGTON — Donald M. Stewart, isolationist and anti-British editor, has been cited in contempt of court and sentenced to 90 days in jail by Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of the District of Columbia Federal Court. Sentence was passed after O. John Rogge, special assistant to Atty. General Biddle, announced that Stewart had refused to reveal to the Federal Grand Jury, which has just indicted 30 persons on charges of sedition, where he had gotten the $36,000 which, it is charged, he used to purchase the now discontinued Lake Geneva (Wis.) Herald, that was, under him, an anti-British isolationist weekly. Stewart was also co-publisher of Scribner's Commentator, which preached the appeasement line.

Columnist Walter Winchell, on his weekly broadcast, pointed out that the $36,000 was "found" in 20 dollar bills, and that the Nazi technique of paying off has been to use bills of small denominations.

War Vets Receive Treasury Award

NEW YORK — For selling more than $25,000,000 of war bonds during the Third War Loan Drive, more than twice its quota of $12,000,000, the Jewish War Veterans of the United States were presented with the Treasury Department's Citation of Award.

Signed by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, the citation was awarded to the Jewish War Veterans for "distinguished services rendered in behalf of the War Savings Program."

The Magic Lantern: Tallulah Bankhead, whose cinema career was wrecked a decade ago with cheesy stories, didn't make that blunder again. She comes back in "Lifeboat," fashioned by John Steinbeck and directed by the mighty Hitchcock. It's a highly seaworthy vehicle. Its story deals with the adventures of nine in a boat through the courtesy of a Nazi sub. A Nazi gets aboard the boat, and from then on, in Steinbeck's devastating dialogue, you get a swell look at a rat. Tallulah gives her role plenty of vigor, and there are good jobs by Wm. Bendix, Gwen Anderson and Henry Hull. "Sherlock Holmes and the Spider Woman" puts Basil Rathbone to work at his silky gumshoeing. He prowls around to discover that all those suicides aren't what they're cracked up to be. "Of Thee I Sing" is to be filmed, probably hopeful of getting a free ride on the Presidential campaign.

I Remember It! Bob Dunn wonders if we ever heard about the late Jim Thornton, the vaudeville star, when he was teamed with Gentleman Jim Corbett. Mr. Thornton was an elbow-bender, and whenever he went on a spree, the act was cancelled. It happened at the Palace Theatre.

Corbett went looking for his partner and located him in a saloon with a terrible looking bum. Corbett bawled him out and refused to give him money for one more drink. To which Thornton, in regal tones, said to the bum: "Mr. Russell, this is Mr. Corbett. throw a louse on him!"

Mail This to Somone: We saw it in Coronet. It should be handed to people who cash in their War Bonds. A man scheduled for induction the next day decided, before going to sleep, to cash in his Bond the next a. m.

That night he dreamt he was in a fox-hole fighting Japs. One Jap charged at him with a bayonet. Sighting his own rifle, our hero was about to save himself by pulling the trigger, when his sergeant tapped him on the shoulder and said, "Sorry, but the man who paid for your rifle wants it back."

The Morning Mail: "Dear Walter," writes Maurice Rocco, "It must be an oldie, but it still gets the biggest laugh wherever gamblers gather. About the wife who (going through her groom's pockets) found a slip of paper on which was mem'd. 'Ruth.' She asked him: 'What's this mean?'"

"Oh, he oh'd, 'that's a horse I played today.' Then the phone rang. She picked up the receiver. 'Darling,' said the Mrs., 'your horse wants to talk to you.'"

Behind the Scenes: Grena Bennett, a New York opera critic, spends spare hours at the movies. In one film revival she saw an actor listed as "Alexander Broun." Grena wracked her memory to place a familiar mannerism of the unknown player. Then a closeup showed the trouper had oddly scarred thumbs.

It was Richard Bennett, in a meager role, who disguised himself in two critics' names, Woolcott and Broun. Miss Bennett, you see, was Richard Bennett's first wife. She remembered a boyhood accident that nearly cost him his hands.

The morning after movie director Edmund Goulding first visited Hollywood (many years ago), he was awakened by his host's valet, who stood by the bed offering him a small golden bowl filled with a clear liquid. Only half awake, Goulding stared at the bowl. Was it a finger bowl? Surely not at this hour. Was it something to drink? He finally decided to ask the valet. "What the devil is this, anyhow?"

"The temperature of your bath," intoned the lackey. "Will you kindly let me know if it is satisfactory, sir?"

Big City Vignette: Two 12-year-old boys were enthused about the newsreel—chewing their taffy and otherwise being kids—at a movie theater last week. Then on came Greer Garson's short—appealing for Infantile Paralysis contributions. The house lights went up, and the ladies with the coin boxes passed them. Probably thinking children had no money, a box-passer skipped the two boys. One got up and chased her several rows back before he could catch her. "Here lady," he kept calling, "lady, here!" Limping on his braced leg to give his little bit—so that some other youngster—not so fortunate as he—could go to a movie and giggle and munch candy and also give.

Y., will be the guest speaker at the third Elizabeth Stoneman Fain Festival Forum on next Thursday evening, at 8:15 o'clock, at Temple Beth-El. His subject will be "How Shall Jews and Christians Face The Future Together?"

It Happened This Week

Gifts and Goals

Members of the Jewish War Veterans were disappointed this week when they learned that the ambulance they purchased for the Naval Hospital in Newport would not be delivered in time to make a formal presentation of the gift while their national commander, Archie Greenberg, was in town. The Home for Aged Ladies' Association this week achieved a goal that has been its ambition for years. The donor luncheon committee announced that more than 500 women have become donors. Rabbi Carol Klein, of the Sons of Jacob Synagogue, became a citizen of the United States this week. The Rabbi, on his arrival in this country, set the ball rolling toward citizenship and was granted it in the shortest legal time possible.

About People

Staff Sergeant Harry Schossberg, son of the Joseph Schlossbergs, who is stationed in England, doesn't like the English beer—so he says in his latest letter. Harry is an instructor in the Army Air Corps. N. Russel Schwartz is a busy man corresponding, as he does, with 30 men in the armed forces. Howard and Rebecca Cohen have a son now that will have a birthday every four years. He was born on February 29 at the Lying-in Hospital. Rev. Myer Smith has a big grin on his face. His daughter, Mrs. Sarah Smith Friedman, now residing in Pittsburgh, gave birth to a boy on February 13. The Reverend went to Pittsburgh to visit his daughter and grandson.

Heifetz Helps

Prof. Albert Einstein is not surprised that Lana Turner causes more stir than he does. "Lana Turner has a great deal more to show than I have," he said this week. One day Jascha Heifetz, the violinist, visited a wealthy friend. "Oh, dear," he heard her mutter, "I've forgotten my safe combination. How can I get my jewels?" "Don't be disturbed. I'll open it for you," volunteered Heifetz. Unbelievably his hostess followed him to her safe. He put his supersensitive violinist's ears to the dial and turned it very slowly until he heard the tumblers fall into place. The safe opened and Jascha Heifetz added amateur safe cracker to his many accomplishments. Mrs. Peggy Kessler has opened a grocery, delicatessen and creamery at 120 Orms street where she will be glad to welcome her many friends.

The Philip Goldbergs have observed their third and the Elmer Levensons their 16th wedding anniversaries. Mrs. Charles Markoff is in Miami Beach, Fla. Quiz Kid Joel Kupperman was asked how he liked the Fred Allen show on which he was a guest last week. "Oh, I never listen to Mr. Allen's program," he answered, "because they won't let me stay up that late!"

Dr. John H. Holmes, minister of the Community Church of New York City, will be guest speaker at the open forum this Monday night

Ben Gurion Declines London Invitation

JERUSALEM — David Ben-Gurion, whose resignation from the chairmanship of the executive of the Jewish Agency created a political crisis in Zionist circles, was reported here recently to have received and declined an invitation by Dr. Chaim Weizmann to come to London.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, it was reported, had sent a cable to Ben-Gurion inviting him to head the delegation which the Agency is sending to London to participate in important political negotiations there. Mr. Ben-Gurion is said to have declined the invitation on the ground that he could not leave Palestine at this time.

LaGuardia Scores Undue Emphasis on Hate Incidents

Wise Challenges Mayor's Statement

NEW YORK — In an attempt to defend his administration's record in the Drew case, Mayor LaGuardia this week attacked The Post and PM for exposing widespread religious and racial violence here.

Speaking at the Hotel Pennsylvania at a national conference to combat anti-Semitism, the Mayor denied that there was any considerable intolerance in the city.

"Certain newspapers, and so there will be no misunderstanding that the Mayor hinted—I mean the New York Post and PM—have been engaged in a campaign that has not rendered any good service to the Jews of this country, or of the world, in my opinion," he said.

Senate Passes Racial Libel Act

An act penalizing any person who publishes false written or printed material with malicious intent to promote hatred of any group of persons in Rhode Island because of race, color or religion was passed by the Senate this week. Introduced by Rep. John J. Wrenn (Dem.) the measure had passed in the House of Representatives a month ago.

Under the provisions of the bill, a person found guilty would be liable to a fine up to $1000, imprisonment up to one year, or to fine and imprisonment.

Prosecution under the act could be instituted only by the Attorney General, and persons prosecuted would be allowed to prove in defense that the publication was privileged or was not malicious.

Galkin Describes Pittsburgh Plan

Attends Federation Meeting As Delegate

The unanimous adoption of a resolution providing for the coordination of national policies and local participation in dealing with civic protective problems and anti-Semitism in America, was one of the outstanding achievements of the 1944 General Assembly of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds, which recently took place in Pittsburgh, it was reported by Joseph Galkin, executive director of the Jewish Family and Children's Service, in an interview upon his return from the Assembly. Mr. Galkin was sent by his agency as a delegate to the conference. Other action taken by

Weizmann Believes White Paper Won't Survive War

LONDON — Dr. Chaim Weizmann, addressing the annual conference of the British Zionist Federation this week, expressed the "belief" that the "White Paper will not survive the war," and indicated that important developments concerning Palestine were imminent.

Pointing out that "the political situation in regard to Palestine today is reminiscent of the situation on the eve of the issuance of the Balfour Declaration," Dr. Weizmann declared that "I am unable to indulge in speculations, but I think something is growing, and may happen sooner or later. It is still in the melting pot." He asserted that the White Paper has not achieved its purpose of appeasing the Arabs and has hampered the war effort, and deprived refugees of sanctuary.

Declaring that more than 2,000,000 Jews will need a home in Palestine after the war, the world Zionist leader indicated that he rejected the partition scheme which has been broached recently. He stated that while Palestine has vast unsettled territories in the south, it has its water in the north, making it impossible to cut the country in two. "This is our answer," he continued "to some friends who are offering us the Negev. We do not want a state merely for the sake of a state, but want to settle a maximum number of people." Dr. Weizmann admitted that "there may be a transition period" before Jewish statehood is achieved.

John Pehle Heads Refugee Board

WASHINGTON — John W. Pehle, a member of the Treasury Dept. since 1934, has been made acting executive director of the War Refugee Board, set up recently by President Roosevelt to handle refugee problems.

Pehle since 1940 has been assistant to Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and director of foreign funds control in the Treasury Dept. Besides Morgenthau, members of the new board include Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Secretary of War Henry Stimson.

Einstein Manuscripts Sold for War Bonds

NEW YORK — The manuscript of Dr. Albert Einstein's epoch-making theory of relativity and a second manuscript, on his latest scientific explorations, brought war bond sales amounting to $11,500,000 in Kansas City, Mo., where the documents were auctioned this week at a Book and Authors War Bond Rally.

Both documents, written in Dr. Einstein's fine hand writing had been presented to the United States Treasury Department in a project to help sell war bonds. The "sales" to purchasers of war bonds were not made for possession of the manuscripts but for the privilege of presenting them officially to the nation for deposit in the Library of Congress.

Job Discrimination Cases Flood President's Committee

WASHINGTON — The President's Committee on Fair Employment Practices is now receiving a larger flow of cases of employment discrimination than it is able to adjust.

During the last six months of 1943 the agency closed a total of 989 complaints involving discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin.

During the same period, however, a progressively mounting number of new cases, averaging more than 300 a month, left the Committee with 1,958 cases at the beginning of 1944, Malcolm Ross, chairman, said. Of the cases closed, 359 were adjustments in compliance with Executive Order 9,346, banning employment discrimination. The remaining cases were dismissed by the Committee or withdrawn by the complainant.

The 716 cases involving discrimination because of race (mostly Negroes) formed the largest category among the 989 cases. Discrimination because of creed (mostly Jewish) arose in 127 cases. Alienage was involved in 102 cases and national origin in 44 cases.

Doctor Israel M. Goldman, Director of the National Academy for Adult Jewish Education and Rabbi of Temple Emanuel, has been appointed visiting lecturer in Adult Jewish Education at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

This is believed to be the first attempt to establish such a lectureship in the history of American Jewish Education.

Under Dr. Goldman's direction, the National Academy has extended its services to more than one hundred Jewish communities throughout the country, publishing some twenty texts for courses for adults in many fields of Jewish culture. The activities of the Academy now include the preparation and distribution of tracts to Jewish men in the Armed Forces.

Editorials

A Welcomed Step

The congratulatory messages received by Justice Frank Murphy from various Jewish organizations on the occasion of the formation of the National Committee Against the Nazi Persecution and Extermination of the Jews, have conveyed to him in abundant measure the feelings of the Jewish community.

As we stand at the threshold of our own Conference to Combat Anti-Semitism a useful purpose can be served in defining the place of this newly created body in the general struggle.

Towards the Future

When Hitler says "the eyes of the world will be opened about the importance of the Jewish question, quite independently of the result of this struggle; millions of war prisoners will become propagandists about this," his remarks should be taken quite seriously; for they indicate what is also known from other sources, that the Nazi regime is doing everything it can to infect war prisoners, soldiers, and particularly foreign workers with the anti-Semitic virus, with the obvious intention not only of getting their support during the war, but of laying a basis for a new career for Nazism even in the event of an Allied victory.

Advisory Council Called Essential to Civic Life

The Assembly included a resolution appealing to the United States Government to make representations to Great Britain for the abrogation of the Palestine White Paper.

The Assembly, attended by over 600 delegates, representing more than 100 cities in the United States and Canada, was by far the largest in the history of the Council. For four days the delegates analyzed carefully the problems brought about by the war and those likely to occur in the post war period, and planned jointly to deal with them effectively in their local and national aspects.

World and Domestic Security

Dr. William Haber, assistant executive director of the War Manpower Commission, pointed out that there are three main conditions for security in the world when the war is over. He said, "The first is that justice should be established in the place of force as an arbiter between nations. The second is that there must be an opportunity for protective work for every individual in place of unemployment. The third is that there must be assurance of an income sufficient to keep one above want when for any reason he can not work."

Danger of Unemployment

Pointing out the grave dangers of mass unemployment in the post-war period, Dr. Haber stated that despite all the post-war planning now being done, some unemployment is inevitable. For example: the engineering problem of shutting down the automobile industry and converting to make automobiles instead of tanks or jeeps will take any where from six to twelve months.

"Unemployment in the post-war period represents the outstanding threat to internal peace and tolerance in the United States," he declared. "Pent up tensions of the war period, against labor, against the Negro, against Jews; pent up

The distinction of having a bomber bare his nickname belongs to Max (Big Boy) Birkenfeld, 61, who usually greets each potential customer: "Do you want to buy a war bond from me today or next week?"

conflict between rural and urban populations, against foreign workers, will break out like a contagious rash once it is recognized that there are no jobs for soldiers and war workers.

Progress in the Civic Protective Field

Mr. Galkin stated the dangers to which Dr. Haber pointed were very much in the minds of those delegates who spent two full days in a section meeting, considering the problems of anti-Semitism in its local and national aspects. These sessions resulted in the plan for the formation of the National Community Relations Advisory Council, the purpose of which will be to effect the formulation of policy in the civic protective field by joint deliberation of the national and local groups. Under it, the National Community Relations Advisory Council will consist of representatives of leading national civic protective agencies and of the 14 communities which have organized locally civic protective bodies. The plan provides for extending representation to include other communities and agencies concerned with this problem.

A committee immediately set up, Mr. Galkin stated, has written to local communities and national agencies to appoint representatives to the proposed advisory council, and is arranging for the first meeting of the new body to be held in March. Mr. Galkin believed, however, that the establishment of this coordinating body is an important step, but that much will depend upon the ability of the representatives of the various agencies to work together and to submerge their own pet interests and ideologies to meet the tremendous task ahead in combatting anti-Semitism.

Agency Extension

It was broadly recognized at this conference that there needs to be an extension of the services of the family and child care agencies to all groups in the community.

Health problems and services of Jewish hospitals and clinics were analyzed by Dr. J. J. Golub, Director of the New York Hospital for Joint Diseases. He pointed out that throughout the country there are increased needs for medical service for those who are chronically ill and that there is also need for the establishment for more Jewish convalescent homes.

Somerset Maugham's first book was "Liza of Lambeth".....England's great book critic, Edmund Gosse, whose opinions made or broke a writer, wrote an ecstatic notice about it.....The next day Maugham was on the road to fame.....Once he had six plays running in London at the same time—all walloping hits.....He followed through with "Of Human Bondage" and many other best-sellers.....And critic Gosse constantly met Maugham at dinners and parties for twenty years and always said: "Mr. Maugham, that wonderful book of yours. Synagogue Sponsors Honor Roll Dedication, Bond Rally Congregation Sons of Abraham will hold an honor roll dedication and war bond drive this Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Synagogue, Prairie and Potters avenue.

The following will participate in the program: Rabbi Abraham Chill, invocation; Mitchell Shulkin, chairman, greetings; dedication of plaque which will contain names of all men and women of the Congregation in the armed forces, Brigadier General Herbert R. Dean; roll call of men in service, Gordon Schleffer, commander of R. I. Post 23, Jewish War Veterans; sounding of taps, Esmond Borod; guest speaker, Paul Robin, national vice-commander of the Jewish War Veterans; and, pre-commanders are usually photo'd leading their men to the attack. We saw a closeup like that last night. The General facing the camera. A woman in front audibly remarked: "He's certainly brave—but how about the unknown photographer who has his back to the enemy?"

The Magic Lantern: "The Lodger," a classic among blood-curdlers (based on the sinful Jack, the Ripper), loses none of its shudders in its transfer to the screen....."Higher and Higher" is a pleasant song-and-dance film. It brings Prof. Sinatra into focus. He'll never get as many girlish squeals for acting as he gets for paperdoling, but he gets by okay. J. Haley, Michele Morgan and the Hartmans help considerably....."The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" is wild waggery, a direct slap at Pop Dionne. Eduardo Bracken is a pranky parent, and Betty Hutton jumps out of her skin from time to time....."Where Are Your Children?" deals with juvenile delinquency. It skips the preacher angles and assumes its audience is more than eleven.

Willie Collier is dead. There was a comic. He had wit and showmanship and a style of offhand clowning that you hardly ever find in the day of stun-the-peasants technique. You remember him best from one of the first Music Box Reviews, teamed up with the late Sam Bernard. That was where Willie popularized the word "nifty." A couple of seasons later he produced a show for himself and Bernard, called "Nifties." It died, but nothing of Collier's deserved to.

Another time Collier was a last minute replacement—for Lew Fields it seems. On his first entrance he turned to the audience and exhibited his shaking hands—and won the house. Later, making an exit, he was asked by the heavy where he was going.

"Back to the dressing room," retorted Willie, "and study my lines."

liminary to a war bond drive, Francis X. A. Flannery, executive assistant of the R. I. War Finance Committee, will address the audience. The What Cheer Military Corps, under the direction of Mrs. Max Rapoport, will assist in the selling of bonds.

The nearest of kin of men in the forces will receive a gift which is to be forwarded to the son or relative wherever he is stationed, Mr. Shulkin announced this week. The dedication and rally is open to the public.

Assisting Mr. Shulkin on the committee of arrangements are I. Lazarus, Louis Trostonoff, Leo Spaniel and A. Weintraub.

Aiding Italy's Jews A Vital Problem

Badoglio's Decree Eases Persecution

LONDON — The Badoglio Government's decree restoring civil and political rights to Italian Jews is a sequel to the action of the Allied Control Commission for Italy in setting up a special body to deal with problems arising from the anti-Jewish measures of Fascist and German authorities.

Aiding Italy's oppressed Jews has become a vital problem since the stringent anti-Semitic decrees recently imposed by the Mussolini Government in northern Italy has caused thousands of Jews to flee into the areas now under Allied control.

News that 60,000 Jews have recently been arrested by the Wehrmacht and Fascist police in the northern Italian peninsula has gone almost unnoticed in this country. This, however, has been only a small part of the persecutions heaped upon the Italian Jews.

Churchill Announces He Favors Jewish Homeland

WASHINGTON — Prime Minister Winston Churchill, after a recent interview with Zionist leaders, gave them permission to quote him as still favoring the Balfour Declaration which provides for the establishment of a Jewish National Home in Palestine, Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, chairman of the American Zionist Emergency Council, revealed here this week.

Dr. Silver made this disclosure at a press luncheon at which it was learned that the House Foreign Affairs Committee is opening bearings on the resolution pending in Congress favoring free immigration into Palestine and the establishment of a Jewish Commonwealth there. Dr. Silver said he anticipated no organized opposition to the resolution in either House or Congress.

Dr. Silver also disclosed that he had visited the Turkish embassy in Washington in an effort to increase the number of Jews permitted to pass through Turkey on their way to Palestine. This number is now limited to 400 a month, he said. He attributed British opposition to the establishment of a Jewish commonwealth to a group of officials within the British civil service.

REPORT OF H. J. HEINZ COMPANY TO HOUSEWIVES AND GROCERS ABOUT HEINZ Kosher OVEN-BAKED BEANS

With The  Seal Of Approval Of THE UNION OF ORTHODOX JEWISH CONGREGATIONS OF AMERICA

CANNED BEANS WERE A WAR-TIME CASUALTY

Shortages of vital war metals used in making the cans forced the discontinuance of canned baked beans when we entered the war. But because baked beans are among the most nourishing of all canned foods, the government later permitted a limited pack of beans in glass jars. Heinz Oven-Baked Beans were among the first to make their reappearance on your grocer's shelves. In addition to glass jars, the government recently has released stocks of tin cans "frozen" in warehouses by W.P.B. order.

MORE BEANS -- BUT NOT ALL YOU MAY WANT

So now, with the recently released supplies in tin, together with quantities of dried beans, and the largest bean crop in history, there will be more beans -- beans in glass -- beans in tin -- for the public. Still you won't be able to obtain all the Heinz Kosher Vegetarian Baked Beans your ration points would permit.

Though increased, the supply will still be less than the demand. The convenience of ready-to-serve beans, plus increased demand for all kinds of high-quality prepared foods have created a market that even Heinz peacetime production would be hard put to supply.

HEINZ PROMISES YOU'LL GET YOUR SHARE

Volunteer harvesting crews saved the bean crop in many areas. Every safeguard was taken in shipping and storage. Packing plants have been equipped to utilize both glass jars and cans. Perhaps most important of all, the Heinz coast-to-coast system of 75 sales branches provides equal and simultaneous distribution all over America. Throughout the year, a fair proportion of Heinz Vegetarian Baked Beans will reach your grocer and be available to you.

NOW -- AS ALWAYS -- OVEN-BAKED

Look for more Heinz Baked Beans on your grocer's shelves as additional containers become available. They'll be just as delicious as those Heinz has been making for generations. Heinz Beans are thoroughly baked in hot, dry ovens. That's because it takes real oven baking to make beans mellow, meaty -- more digestible.

Other officers chosen include James Goldman, Dr. Ilie Berger, Jacob Feider, Joseph Finklestein, Alfred Spear, J. B. Rothenberg, vice-chairmen; Louis Strauss, treasurer; Mrs. Lewis Yarlas, secretary.

It was announced at the meeting that the goal of this year's drive is $10,000. Workers' meetings will be held at the Narragansett Hotel twice weekly.

United Campaign Against Bias Runs Into Snag

BOSTON — Plans for a united campaign to remove racial prejudice and discrimination in the Dorchester-Mattapan area ran into a snag last Sunday night when Msgr. Francis S. Dolan, pastor of St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester, openly refused to permit young people of his parish to join a youth participation committee of the Good Neighbor Assn.

Msgr. Dolan's announcement came as a surprise, scarcely ten minutes after he had spoken championing mass power as the only effective weapon against anti-Semitism, during a meeting at Tileston School Hall, Mattapan.

"I believe in every family taking care of its own individual needs before attempting to aid others," Msgr. Dolan said, explaining his position, which was stated during a question period when a spokesman for the youth participation committee, composed of teen-age Jews, Protestants and Catholics, asked if the Dorchester parish would supply members.

The Rev. George W. Owen, chairman of the program, said it was still his hope that "the pastor of St. Gregory's and the youth committee could get together."

Rabbi Schussheim Guest Preacher

Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel will be the guest preacher at Plymouth-Union Congregational Church, Broad street at Pennsylvania avenue on Brotherhood Sunday, February 20, at 11 o'clock. Rabbi Schussheim's sermon topic will be "Each Has His Share."

The two institutions have had quite a history of co-operation, the two clergymen often exchanging and co-operating during the pastorate of Dr. Samuel T. Clifton.

Plymouth-Union invites any interested to attend this service.

Rev. Richard K. Morton, pastor, will conduct the service.

Discrimination In Industry Continues

NEW YORK — Discrimination against Jews in employment continues despite the manpower shortage, it is reported by Rabbi J. X. Cohen, chairman of the Commission on Economic Problems of the American Jewish Congress.

The New York City bureau of the Commission has been receiving complaints of racial and religious discrimination at the rate of fifty a month.

It Happened This Week

Conclaves and Wills

We've just learned that a statewide conference of officers of B'nai B'rith lodges and auxiliaries and anti-Defamation League committee members has been called for February 27 at the Biltmore Hotel. The all-day sessions will consider and discuss the recent B'nai B'rith report on anti-Semitic incidents in Rhode Island. The Zionist Emergency Council has asked us to remind our readers that their letters to Rhode Island Congressmen on the resolution relative to the abrogation of the White Paper should be mailed immediately. Certain details of the will of the late Joseph Merochnick, who died recently while on a trip to Florida, have been revealed. In addition to numerous contributions to Providence Jewish charities—the list will be made public later—he left $1,000 to the Jewish National Fund. There was also a provision in the will that the proceeds of the sale of his business and assets thereof should be utilized to form a Zionist Club in Providence. An ardent Zionist, Merochnick was always deflating those who would use Zionism for personal purposes.

Here and There

PFC Robert Bernstein, son of the Louis Bernstein, is now at home on a furlough before reporting to his next camp in Florida. As many of our readers will recall, the Bernsteins have three other sons in service. Pvt. Jack Bernstein is at Kearns, Utah; Cpl. Sam Bernstein is at Miami, Fla.; and Cpl. George Bernstein is stationed in England. Joseph Finkle has returned to town following his attendance in New York of a committee meeting of the Grand lodge B'nai B'rith General committee. As soon as PFC Abraham Adler of New York obtains a furlough he's coming to Providence to marry Miriam R. Goldstein, daughter of the Samuel Goldsteins. Ann Krakowsky is really making a tour of the country. Her most recent stop was in Arizona where she is visiting sister Linda. Ida Botvin, at this writing, should have arrived in Florida. The Leo Bojars are on their way to the Southland. We received two news items from Hadassah too late for inclusion in the regular news columns. One was about a distinguished lady who has been residing quietly in Providence. Her name is Avis Clamitz Shulman, wife of the Naval Chaplain at Newport. A nationally known individual and the only woman to hold a degree from the Hebrew Union College, Mrs. Shulman has agreed to give a series of lectures, for Hadassah members, on consecutive Saturdays on the subject "Palestine and the New Tomorrow". The talks will be given at the home of Mrs. Hillel Hassenfeld. The other item concerns a radio broadcast next Thursday afternoon over station WEAN at 2:45 o'clock. At that time Mesdames Leonard Sholes, Morris Cowen, Bernard Zeman, Irving J. Fain, Archie Fain and Joseph Pulver will discuss "Will the Doors be Shut?". Did you hear the anecdote about the Nazi visiting Switzerland, boasting about the power of Germany and the great future of the New Order? "Yes," conceded the Swiss citizen, "we are only a small nation with not much future, but when we hear a knocking early in the morning, we KNOW it is only the milkman!" Pierre Vag Paassen, who talked here recently, insists that the act of the State Department in notifying Selective Service that Washington henceforth recognizes Palestine as a co-belligerent, is of tremendous political importance.

Turkey to Aid in Transfer of Jews

Will Act As Balkan Bridge

ANKARA, Turkey — A high government official said this week that Turkey is willing to co-operate with the Palestine Commission and Allied diplomats in assisting Jewish refugees to leave the Balkans.

The problem was brought to the forefront by the arrival of a Refugee Committee headed by Dr. Isaac Herzog, Grand Rabbi of Palestine.

"In cases where both the country releasing the refugees and the country receiving them agree to the transfer, Turkey is willing to act as the bridge," this official said.

The Turkish Government now is considering a request that a ship of Turkish registry be allotted for the transfer of several thousand Jewish children, mostly from Rumania, which the Refugee Committee was assured would be allowed to leave Constanta, Rumania.

Protest BBC Radio Ban Of Zionist Rabbis' Talk

NEW YORK — Leaders of the National Conference of Orthodox Jews in America charged this week that British censors had arbitrarily banned a shortwave broadcast from London featuring addresses by two noted Zionist rabbis.

The broadcast was canceled at the last minute by the BBC without explanation other than that the British government had refused to permit it. The speakers were to have been Dr. Joseph Hertz, chief Rabbi of England, and Dr. Isaac Herzog, Chief Rabbi of Palestine. A few days earlier, David L. Meckler, conference committee chairman, said that BBC refused to allot time for the broadcast on the grounds that no transatlantic wires were available. The organization then sought assistance from the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and was told wires could be made available.

Notified of the arrangements, BBC accepted the broadcast fee and the rabbis' speeches were submitted for censorship. It was not until the day of the broadcast that A. T. & T. received the cancellation order.

In a protest resolution, delegates charged that the action was a move to "discourage the opening of Palestine."
