

Local Zionists Begin $5,000 Drive for Expansion Program

Concerned with the future of the American Jewish Community and especially its relationship to the Jewish Commonwealth of Palestine in the post-war world, the Providence Zionist District has launched a campaign for a $5,000 expansion fund, it was announced this week by Archibald Silverman, chairman of the fund, and M. Louis Abedon, president of the District. The local drive is part of a national one for $350,000.

In a letter mailed to ZOA members this week, Mr. Silverman and Mr. Abedon said: "The expansion program for wider scope was created for the express purpose to foster American business in Palestine, promote Zionist education, intensify youth activity, encourage the use of Hebrew, counteract anti-Zionist propaganda, multiply our radio programs (such as Palestine Speaks on WFCI every Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock), sponsor Zionist publications and bring Zionism to colleges.

"It is our conviction and that of the Zionist Organization of America that the Zionist program should include within its scope the intensification of American Jewish life and public opinion. It is our belief that the new contributions which Palestine can make to our religious and cultural life deserve a responsible, informed Jewry. Conversely, it is only a conscious, proud Jewry which can aid Palestine to reach its ultimate destiny."

Contributions are being solicited not only from members of the Providence Zionist District but from Zionist sympathizers as well.

McGehee Scores Frankfurter Calls for His Impeachment

WASHINGTON — The impeachment of Supreme Court Justice Frankfurter was demanded last week on the floor of the House by Rep. Dan R. McGehee, of Mississippi, in an anti-Semitic speech in which the Congressman charged that Justice Frankfurter "connived with others of his faith and belief behind closed doors," to secure the appointment of men to key government positions.

"I am suggesting to the Dies Committee that they go immediately into and delve into the actions of Frankfurter, with a view of bringing impeachment proceedings against him and relegating him back to private life and, if possible, send him back to the land from whence he came and let him teach his un-American doctrines there rather than try to contaminate a patriotic American citizenship," the Mississippi Representative said.

Discipline Is Needed

It seems that the more we Jews talk about unity, the more cracks appear in our so-called united activities. The breakdown of the joint efforts of the United Palestine Appeal and the Joint Distribution Committee is the latest manifestation.

It is too early yet to comment on the implications of the split—whether both will be strengthened, whether both will be weakened, or whether the one will get a larger amount than its share would have been under a joint arrangement. It is to be expected that in the cities where a single fund is raised for Jewish needs annually, the split will have no effect. Or to put it another way, in such cities the local budget committees will have to work out a scheme of distribution which the national committees have now admitted that they cannot accomplish.

The interest of the average Jew lies solely in bringing as much of each dollar which he gives for relief to the needy. He is not interested in personalities, factions, leadership, or administration so long as the maximum amount of his contribution goes to the needy and is not swallowed up in administration and huge administrative salaries.

He could be interested in much more than this. He ought to realize that the UPA and JDC are merely his agencies; that he and thousands of others created these agencies; that he and thousands of others can strangle them, modify them, discipline them, and control them. He ought to keep in mind that these agencies have no income except that which he and thousands of others see fit to give them through annual contributions.

He, the average Jew, could force them together again if

Court Upholds Right to Refuse Ad

TROY — The right of a newspaper to edit or refuse advertising which it considers discriminatory last week was upheld by Supreme Court Justice Murray.

Dismissing an injunction suit in which Camp-of-the-Pines, Inc., sought to restrain the New York Times from refusing to accept advertising as submitted, Murray held that use of the words "selected clientele" was an indirect means to hide discrimination.

"As a practical matter, such words as 'selected clientele' connote in the public mind that colored persons, Jews and others need not apply to plaintiff for accommodations," Murray's opinion said.

Annual Palestine Pioneer Conference This Sunday

Representatives of Jewish organizations of Providence and friends of the Histadrut in Palestine will attend the annual Palestine Pioneer conference which will be held this Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Biltmore Hotel.

Isaac Hamlin of New York, national secretary of the Palestine Pioneer campaign, will be the principal speaker. He will bring an important message to this conference on the recent political events in Zionism and of the present economic conditions in Palestine. Mr. Hamlin will also report on the major role which the Histadrut is playing in reaching out into the Nazi inferno and exploiting every avenue of rescue.

The conference will be opened by Alter Boyman, and Dr. Ilie Berger, chairman of the Providence campaign for the Pioneers, will preside.

The report of last year's activities will be given by Morris W. Shoham, secretary of the committee.

Zolli, Jews of Rome, Split Long Before His Conversion

ROME — Israel Zolli, former chief rabbi of Rome who caused a sensation by his conversion last month to Catholicism, in a communication received in this country, complained that he was facing starvation. He indicated that there was a rift between him and the leaders of the Jewish community in Rome, and that he was at odds also with the Zionists, despite the fact that he had, in his speeches and articles, supported Zionism.

Zolli also revealed that the Jewish community in Rome was willing to give him 200,000 liras, but that he had asked for 900,000 liras "just to buy a hut and a piece of land in order to keep from starving." According to all indications, Zolli was unable to secure that sum.

Although Zolli mentioned to newspapermen in Rome that his wife had joined the Catholic church, without being persuaded

Un-American Activities Are Defined by Legion

Views Transmitted To Rep. Mundt

WASHINGTON — The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars last week gave Congress an outline of what they think constitutes un-American activities. The organizations expressed their views at the request of Rep. Karl E. Mundt (R., S. D.), of the new House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The Legion listed as un-American persons who have advocated use of violence to overthrow the American form of government any time in the last 10 years; foreign-controlled organizations dominated by Fascist or Nazi philosophies and alleged native Fascist organizations; advocates of "social revolutions," and organizations which "prey upon racial and religious angles as a medium to build intolerance and hatred against blocs of American people."

The VFW listed persons or organizations who take part in any activity "designed to destroy or challenge the American form of representative government;" circulate information "designed to incite individuals and groups against constitutional authority and statutory law" and attempt to "deprive individuals or groups of their constitutional rights because of racial or religious prejudice."

"Token" Refugees Want to Stay Here

NEW YORK — Most of the 982 "Token" refugees living at the temporary refugee haven at Fort Ontario, Oswego, New York, would rather die than return to their native towns after the war, Eleanor Morehead, staff writer for PM, stated in the first of a series of articles on the internees at Fort Ontario.

The refugees, who were admitted to this country outside of the regular immigration quota, with the understanding that they would be returned to Europe after the war, are confined to the precincts of the Fort. Many of them have families in this country whom they wish to join after the war.

Jabotinsky's Son Denied Entry Here

WASHINGTON — Eri Jabotinsky, son of the late world leader of the New Zionist Organization, has been deported by the Turkish authorities from Istanbul to Palestine, according to advices received here. His deportation followed the refusal of the U. S. State Department to grant him a re-entry permit to the United States, where his mother, wife and child have been residing for several years.

Winchell Says Zionist Leaders Were at Yalta

NEW YORK — With Walter Winchell claiming in his column that American Zionist leaders were at Yalta and sat in on the conference there, and with the Morning Journal declaring that Chaim Weizmann was at Cairo, speculations on recent decisions on Palestine are rife here.

Winchell does not say who the American Zionist leaders are, nor will anyone here venture a guess. Winchell contends that a joint Christian-Jewish state composed of Lebanon and Palestine is planned. The Arabs will get a Federation out of the deliberations, it is said.

Yiddish Writers Raise $10,000

Makes Nazis Wear Yellow Armbands

NEW YORK — A cable to the Jewish Morning Journal from Lodz declares that the new mayor of the city has made Germans wear yellow armbands similar to those the Nazis forced the Jews to wear. The Germans have been put to work rebuilding Ghetto streets and houses, and will be forced to wear the armbands until the Ghettos are rebuilt.

Draft Board Head at 47, To Enter Service

BUFFALO — At the age of 47, Stanley W. Cohen decided a couple of weeks ago to trade in the comforts of civilian life, such as they are, for action in the Merchant Marine. Cohen, as chairman of Buffalo Selective Service Board 619, had watched so many young men metamorphose from civilians to servicemen, he decided to take a shot at it himself. "I've had to send so many fine boys into uniform in the last four years," he said, "that I've finally decided to chuck it all and get over there with some of them, even though I am sneaking up on the half-century mark."

Cohen is a former amateur wrestler, tennis, basketball and football player. The extent of his eagerness to get into this war may be surmised from the fact that he requested immediate overseas duty.

Hillman Links Labor and Peace

Says People Must Fight Isolationism

PARIS — World labor intends to fight the assumption that there can really be no world peace, Sidney Hillman, chairman of the Congress of Industrial Organizations' Political Action Committee stated in an interview at the American Embassy here.

He said this was essential in order to make peace stick and that labor believes unless ideals are stuck to and lived, there can be no real progress.

Thus, that segment of labor which Mr. Hillman can speak: accepts the concept that labor is a powerful force which must work beyond the mere interest of itself only and strive for general good.

Labor's extensive educational facilities would then be devoted to making people aware of the need of international co-operation and keeping them aware of it so there will be no let down, as after World War I.

Pleads for Unity

SIDNEY HILLMAN

Mr. Hillman feels that, unlike in the last war, most persons now have some idea of the critical world situation and the evil forces which must be overcome. This gives sound soil in which to carry on any educational campaign of a continuous nature.

Startling War Film At Playhouse Theatre

A feature-length motion picture called "Behind the Enemy Lines" had its opening last Wednesday at the Playhouse Theatre and the somewhat complacent audience received one of the real shocks of this war.

"Behind the Enemy Lines" shows the kind of propaganda Hitler and Hirohito fed their unlightened peoples. German and Japanese cameramen have filmed sickening incidents of barbaric cruelty toward conquered nations. The fiendish rape of Shanghai by the Japs, the devastation of Warsaw by the Nazis, inhuman treatment of masses of the brave Chinese and other infamous crimes appear on this film record designed only to bolster the morale of the German and Japanese people.

A second first run film, starring Marjorie Weaver, is also on the program. The Playhouse was recently renovated and completely reseeded.

he wanted to do this. Instead of this being understood, these agencies and others like them, have assumed the position of control. They "tell" the Jews of this country what to give. They spend funds for propaganda and self-praise. They evaluate themselves. They make critics appear to be traitorous. Relief, of course, must go on unabated.

But a measure of discipline over these agencies to be exerted by the Jewish public which supports them is likewise very much in order.

It Happened This Week

Officers and committee members of the Ladies' Association of the Jewish home for Aged were well pleased this week with the results of their donor luncheon, held last Wednesday. As you probably noticed from the last two issues of the Herald, the Association reached a new high in the number of donors. The Zionist radio program "Palestine Speaks" was omitted last week to make way for a rebroadcast of President Roosevelt's summary of the Crimea Conference. The broadcast is back on schedule, every Thursday night at 7:45 o'clock, over station WFCL.

About People

Eve Berger has just returned from a trip to California and we also learned that she plans to be married some time in June to Benjamin Weiner, of Pawtucket. Lt. Hyman Feldman, of Newport, brother of Mrs. Sarah Kessler of Providence, has just returned from two years of oversea duty, most of which was in the Italian area. He was guest of honor at a party given last week. The Samuel Blooms were notified last week that their son, Pvt. Harold Bloom, 19, was wounded in action in France. This week they were surprised to receive a telephone call from him saying that he was in a hospital at Charleston, S. C., recovering from a broken right foot, and other injuries, when he stepped on a German mine. Harold entered the service in September 1943 and a year later went overseas. He is the recipient of the Purple Heart medal. Pvt. Isadore Nachbar, son of the Nathan Nachbars, was wounded in action, somewhere in Belgium. He entered the army while in Providence College and left for active duty with a group of students in May 1943.

The former Dr. Morris Botvin has been promoted to Major in the Army Medical Corps and at present is chief of the eye, ear, nose and throat department in a general hospital in New Guinea.

The Army News Service reports this incident between Eisenhower and Churchill: The American General was assuring the Prime Minister that British soldiers had exerted good influence upon the GIs. "They've toned down the exuberance of the American troops," said the General. Just then a GI came into the room and asked: "General, may I borrow your jeep?" Eisenhower turned to Churchill and said: "See what I mean? A year ago he wouldn't have asked."

time he advised that the list of members and contributors of the Jewish community be destroyed and that whatever money was in the treasury of the community be taken out and that the Jews be advised by their leaders to hide. This advice was not heeded. As a result, about 2,000 Jews were arrested by the Germans in Rome and deported from the city.

Zolli himself went into hiding during the time the Germans were in Rome. Upon the liberation of the city by the Allies, the president of the Rome Jewish community took the position that Zolli should not be reinstated as chief rabbi because he had not been available during the occupation period. The rift between Zolli and the president of the Jewish community resulted in the Allied Military Government in Rome disbanding the community council and appointing a special commissar to administer the affairs of the community until elections of new officers could be held.

House-to-house solicitation in the Providence Red Cross residential division will begin next Monday, according to Mrs. Ashbel T. Wall, chairman of the division.

"If you have not yet been called upon by a volunteer Red Cross solicitor, don't let it worry you," Mrs. Wall said. "Many calls asking for a solicitor have already come in to headquarters. It is a most encouraging sign. We're telling people that we'll be around next week, and hoping that they'll lose none of their desire to give generously in the meantime."

Moes Chitim Fund

Dear Editor:

Again we approach the Pessach holiday season, and again we have to think of those who are not fortunate enough to supply themselves with matzoh, wine and other Pessach necessities.

It is true that few of those who have accepted our help in the previous years, are not in need of it at the present time, because they have found occupation in defense and other war jobs. But there are still many who have to be supported by the Moes Chitim Fund. There are widows, aged men and women and physically disabled people who in spite of the better employment conditions, are in need of our assistance. And the fact remains that these have to be supported more generously than in previous years, because the prices of food supplies have risen tremendously.

The Providence Moes Chitim Fund which the public has supported so kindly in the past years lends assistance to these needy and makes it possible for them to observe the Pessach in a real Jewish fashion. We are sure that everyone will want to have a share in this holy cause this year again, in bringing a holiday spirit into the homes where it is needed most.

Vets Sponsor
Social Hour at Camp Endicott

Instead of the usual hostesses at the Camp Endicott Oneg Shebbat last Friday night, members of the Rhode Island Post No. 23 Jewish War Veterans of the United States sponsored the social hour after the Jewish services.

Chaplain Kreitman conducted the regular weekly service, assisted by Cantor S. R. Suchman, S 1/c and the Jewish choir. After the service, the group of more than 75 servicemen, servicewomen and guests adjourned to the Enlisted Men's Lounge where a refreshment table was set by the veterans. Informal entertainment was supplied by volunteers in the lounge throughout the evening.

Hosts included Commander Abe Swerling, Paul J. Robin, Gordon Schleffer, Esmond Borod, Joseph Billingscoff and David Vecker. Guests included Mrs. Swerling, Mrs. Robin, Mrs. Schleffer, Mrs. Borod, Mrs. Harry A. Hoffman and Mrs. Samuel Mistowsky.

This was the first time that the Oneg Shebbat at Camp Endicott has been sponsored by a men's group and it is believed that other men's groups will follow the precedent. The servicemen welcomed this opportunity of mixing with the veterans and enjoying a sociable hour together.

Tonight's social hour at Camp Endicott will be sponsored by the Council Red Cross group.

SUPPOSE THAT YOU
COULD FLICK A SWITCH

AND GET A SIZZLING STEAK!

Be wonderful, wouldn't it? Sizzle . . . sniff . . . m-m-m-m . . . a-a-a-h!

"But," you say, "steaks are scarce and expensive. Steaks are rationed. Steaks have gone to war."

That's right — and there are good reasons why.

But is it any less wonderful that you CAN still get electric service at the flick of a switch — without shortage or rationing — at low pre-war prices — when vast amounts of electricity have gone to war plants?

Our folks have done their war jobs so quietly and well that it's easy to take 'em for granted. We hope you won't — that you'll remember their hard work as you use radio, range, refrigerator, washer, cleaner and the other electric servants that make wartime living so much easier.

What you can take for granted is the fact that your friends in this company will provide plenty of low-priced electricity to run the mechanical marvels in your post-war home.
