

Suspends Drive So Members May Participate in GJC

The Congregation Ahavath Sholem will suspend its campaign for funds to construct a new Synagogue and Hebrew School on Rochambeau avenue so that its members may participate in the forthcoming drive of the General Jewish Committee of Providence, Inc., it was announced this week by Archie Smith, campaign director.

"With tens of thousands of European Jews in desperate need of American help," Mr. Smith said, "the building committee this week unanimously voted to postpone our drive so that the unified efforts of the community will be in support of the GJC campaign for $330,000. We realize, as others do, that 100 agencies will benefit from the monies raised. We at Ahavath Sholem intend to do our part in this important work. We urge all those who have been generous in their response to us, to visualize what their contributions will mean to the hungry of Europe. Let's give them renewed hope by our dollars."

At the last report meeting, held recently, Mr. Smith announced that $4315 had been pledged, bringing the current total of the drive to more than $76,000. The following donations, of $100 or more, were received:

This banquet will take place on Sunday evening, November 25, at 6:30 o'clock, in the Narragansett Hotel ball room. Alvin A. Attlee Against Admitting 100,000

WASHINGTON — President Truman announced this week the United States has agreed to the establishment of a joint Anglo-American committee to examine the whole Palestine problem.

The British suggested the creation of the committee after Mr. Truman had proposed admission of an additional 100,000 Jews to Palestine. Mr. Truman previously has disclosed that Prime Minister Attlee felt that figure was too high.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, will address the Monday night session of the 48th annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America which will convene in four-day session beginning today in Atlantic City, it was announced here. The same session will hear an address by Mrs. Lorna Wingate, widow of General Orde Wingate, famous British General who died in the Burma campaign.

More than 1000 delegates representing a constituency of 500,000 organized Zionists will participate in the deliberations, at which decisive action is expected to be taken on all major aspects involving the Zionist movement and the status of Palestine.

Rhode Island delegates to the convention include Archibald Silverman, Dr. Ilie Berger, Samuel Michaelson, M. Louis Abedon, George Pullman, Rabbi Israel M. Goldman, Rabbi Carol Klein and Frank Licht. Alternates are Harry D. Jagoliner, Mrs. Samuel Michaelson, Nathan Temkin, Mrs. Ilie Berger, Jacob D. Rabinowitz, Irving Chucnin and Mrs. Nathan Temkin.

Coughlin Letter Reveals Bishop's Order Silenced Him

NEW YORK — Father Charles E. Coughlin, anti-Semitic radio priest, who was expected to revive his anti-Jewish activities as soon as the war ended, has been silenced by orders from Archbishop Mooney, liberal head of the Detroit Archdiocese, Victor Riesel, New York Post columnist reports.

This evidence is contained in a note written by Father Coughlin to a Queens pastor who inquired whether he endorsed pamphlets distributed at a recent Christian Front rally in Queens. The note reads:

"Thank you for kind communication: Do believe me: I have no affiliation with any organization other than my church. Nor do I espouse any propaganda published by the authors of the enclosed pamphlet. I have been ordered to refrain from all activity except the performance of my duties as Pastor of the Shrine (of the Little Flower). I have sincerely tried to abide by my superiors' orders."

Mr. Weller, who will be the reporter for the program, prepared and conducted a similar news program this summer for the radio committee of the R. I. Council of Churches of which he is a member.

Our Help Is Needed

We mustn't forget that you don't turn off a war the way you turn off a faucet. Unfortunately, the problems caused by war are not solved the moment the surrender papers are signed.

It is estimated that there are at least 100,000 Jewish refugees in Europe, "sweating it out", while the world considers their future. These people are in concentration camps, hundreds of miles from their original countries, which today don't want them. Food, shelter, clothing and other types of aid must be given them. New homes and new jobs must be arranged.

It is through campaigns, similar to the current General Jewish Committee drive, that funds are obtained for this work. We must give our support again. Let's put this campaign over the top with plenty to spare. Then we can go into 1946 with a clear conscience on one score at least.

"Drama of Palestine" To Be Broadcast Over WFCI

"The Drama of Palestine," a new series of dramatic recorded programs, will be broadcast over Station WFCI every Saturday night, beginning tomorrow, at 7:15 P. M. it was announced this week by Joseph M. Finkle, radio chairman of the R. I. Districts of the Zionist Organization of America.

The new series is a sequel to the program "Palestine Speaks", which was broadcast last season throughout the country over 135 radio stations in United States and 20 stations in Canada. "The Drama of Palestine" will dramatize from real life stories the part which Palestine has played in the rehabilitation of European Jews who survived Nazi mass extermination.

The programs are planned and coordinated by Harry Torczyner, who was with the Radio Division of the Office of War Information up to V-J Day. The script writers are Alfred Falca, who has written such prominent shows as "This Is

Sleepy? Then You're in the Ideal State

CHICAGO — Nathaniel Kleitman, associate professor of psychology at the University of Chicago, has been staying awake night to qualify as an expert on sleep. His two outstanding conclusions:

The ideal state is one of constant sleep. Adult human beings stay awake when they don't have to, while other animals stay awake only when they need to.

A drop in body temperature encourages drowsiness and irritability, while a rise creates energy and good fellowship.

"In many homes," Kleitman explained, "the wife gets up late and catnaps during the day. She has reached her peak temperature and is in good spirits at about the time her husband, who arose early and worked hard for eight hours, experiences his minimum temperature and becomes quarrelsome. They should ignore these difficulties or rearrange their lives."

With building material available, the Congregation Sons of Jacob this week announced that they are going ahead with their previous plans of constructing a Hebrew Academy on Radcliffe avenue. The building will have four classrooms, a large auditorium, offices and other facilities that may be required.

Rabbi Carol Klein, spiritual leader of the Congregation, said that the members of the Hebrew Academy are eager to have the building erected as soon as possible for the single room at Ruggles street School, which was made available by the Providence School Department, is inadequate for the large number of pupils.

On the conclusion of the General Jewish Committee Campaign, the Sons of Jacob Academy, will call upon the Jewish community of the North End, as well as their members, who have already pledged a substantial amount, to support the construction of the new building.

"It is our aim," Rabbi Klein said, "to bring the school near the homes of our children."

Officers of the Congregation include Eugene Cornfield, president; Harold Sweet, vice-president; Harold Stairman, treasurer; J. J. Sindle, financial secretary; George Labush, recording secretary. A campaign committee is now in the process of formation.

Kaplan Says Chosen People Idea Untenable

NEW YORK — "The idea of the chosen people was justifiable religious doctrine in ancient Judaism," but "today it is not merely untenable, but also detrimental to a normal adjustment of the Jew to his environment," Dr. Mordecai M. Kaplan declared at the annual conference of the Jewish Reconstructionist Foundation, Inc., held here.

"That idea is warranted, to be sure, in the realm of opinion as an assertion of Judaism's contribution to the religion of mankind in the past," Dr. Kaplan continued. "But it is not as such an opinion that it is included in the traditional Prayer Book. There it is in the realm of dogma and is meant to affirm that the Jewish people has been chosen to occupy forever the central place in the divine scheme of salvation. As such it neither is nor can be any longer accepted by modern-minded Jews."

JFCS Names Dr. Miller As Consulting Psychiatrist

Dr. Himon Miller, neuro-psychiatrist, who has recently returned to Providence after 4½ years in the armed forces with the rank of Major, has just agreed to serve on a voluntary basis as consulting psychiatrist for the Jewish Family and Children's Service, it was announced this week by Jacob S. Mr. Temkin stated that the "Jewish Family and Children's Service is most fortunate in obtaining the help of Dr. Miller whose excellent training and broad experience will make it possible for the agency to be of even greater service to the Jewish families of our state." The Problem THAT FACES US

By RICHARD PRIEST

(Richard Priest, 14 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Priest, of 11 Moore street, is a junior at Hope High School. The following theme by Richard has caused much comment.)

It is the year nineteen hundred and ten; the month is June; the scene is the auditorium at the "X" college; the occasion, the baccalaureate sermon; the speaker, the president of the "X" college.

"Gentlemen, you are about to take your place as the leaders of tomorrow in the educational and industrial spheres of our great country—yes, of the entire world perhaps. Trained as you and other graduates of our great universities have been in the past four years, you are now prepared to assume the obligations and responsibilities of leadership in your various fields of endeavor. You will find the world waiting with open arms to accept you because today, as never before, the opportunities for men with the college background that you have had, are greater than ever before."

36 Years Later

It is the year nineteen hundred and forty-six; the scene is the auditorium of the "X" college; the occasion, a baccalaureate sermon; the speaker, the president of the "X" college.

"Gentlemen, would that I could paint the same glittering picture of the opportunities that awaited the young college graduate of thirty-five years ago, or the period prior to World War I.

A Changed World

"Beginning with 1914 before any of you had seen the light of day, the world was plunged into war; country after country entered the lists for the so-called purpose of 'making the world safe for democracy.' The young men of that era that did return from the conflict found a changed world. Gone were old values; inflation had completely upset our economic structure. As to democratic ideals, well, those who bought that slogan, discovered their error. But then 'caveat emptor' (let the buyer beware). And so, gentlemen, on through the eras of inflation and depression, we never recovered and the 'good old days' of jobs and opportunities never came back. And then came the little paper hanger who endeavored by his ideals, and those of the 'National Socialist Party,' to nazify the world.

"This is your era. You have seen the world torn asunder by prejudices and racial intolerance. You have seen the entire populations of countries uprooted and destroyed. And then you and your brothers were drawn into the maelstrom when this country entered the war on the side of those countries that were fighting to preserve the democratic way of life.

Concerning the Future

"Now, what can I say to you, gentlemen, about the future? The war is over; millions of our boys have returned home to find that conversion from war to peace is not as yet an accomplished fact; millions of our men have returned to find strikes for higher wages, strikes by men who never knew what it was to sleep in a foxhole; disunity in the ranks of labor. I do not mention here the thousands who have filled our hospitals because of the scars of battle. I cannot, in all confidence, paint pictures of glorious opportunities nor can I be optimistic as to the future. True enough this is a great country. We have tremendous resources. We may even develop atomic power for humanitarian purpose. But, gentlemen, I cannot help but note that the very first meeting of the delegates of the five great powers was adjourned without accomplishing anything.

"When will we have the peace and security for which you fought! When will the world be able to again move along in the even tenure of its way! When will you, as men who have trained in the arts and sciences, be able to take your places in your various fields of endeavors unfettered by the bellowing of Mars! I don't know, gentlemen. May God bless you all."

Only 1 in 3 Knows Great Britain Rules Palestine

DENVER — Only one American in three knows that Great Britain rules Palestine, it was revealed in survey results just released by the National Opinion Research Center, University of Denver. Almost half of those interviewed in a nation-wide public opinion poll do not know whether or not Palestine is an independent country; twelve per cent believe that Palestine rules herself; while nine percent know that Palestine is ruled by another country, though they cannot name the country. The remaining two per cent mentioned Germany or Italy, a Near Eastern country, or the United States as Palestine's ruler.

An Announcement to Providence Jewry

In realization of the importance of the forthcoming campaign of the General Jewish Committee of Providence, Inc., the proceeds of which will benefit more than 100 agencies many of which are directly concerned with alleviating the distress of thousands of our fellow Jews in Europe, the officers of the Ahavath Sholom Building Fund Committee have unanimously voted to suspend their drive for a new Hebrew School and Synagogue so that their members may participate in this year's drive to raise $330,000, a sum that is estimated to be a minimum requirement from Providence.

We are appreciative of the generosity and open-heartedness of the Providence community, not directly affiliated with our Congregation, for their many contributions, and we are confident that this same spirit of co-operation will result in the GJC exceeding its 1945 goal. With best wishes for success,

Cpl. Kaplan Depressed by Condition of Jews in Europe

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Kaplan, of 51 Taft avenue, Cpl. Stanley Kaplan, who is stationed in Salzburg, Austria, tells of the beautiful building where Jewish services are held. In the absence of a synagogue, the Jewish people use "The Mozart-eum," a place where they hold music festivals and other affairs. He states that the condition of the Jewish people of Austria is much the same as when the Germans were in power. The only change is that they do not face the possibility of death. "It's very hard to look at all this suffering. I wish I weren't here to see it for it actually makes me sick. The songs these people sing are very sad ones which they made up during their dark years in concentration camps and torture chambers."

Looking Forward

By JACOB FELDER

Vice-President Jewish Home for Aged
(Keynote Address at Recent Annual Meeting)

There is a superstition that 13 is an unlucky number. However, in Jewish life the 13th year is the time when a boy becomes Bar-Mitzvah, when he is maturing into manhood. He assumes religious responsibilities and is counted as fully responsible in the religious life of the community. So I like to consider our 13th anniversary as having reached the stage of growing up and maturing. It is the time when we should do some self-examining to find out for ourselves how far we have grown up and what our future path should be.

JACOB FELDER

Actually 33rd Anniversary
As you all know the Home's history goes beyond the year 1932 when this building was opened. It is the successor of the Orms street Home which was founded by the Ladies Union Aid Society in 1912, so that actually we are celebrating our 33rd anniversary. But even 33 years is young in the life of an organization and whatever age you wish to give this Home I feel we have come to the threshold of a new era in its history and I would like to highlight a few aspects and problems which we must face in the near future.

Numbers Have Increased

We all know that the aged in our population are increasing in number. The 1940 census showed that there were in the U. S. 9,019,314 persons of 65 years and over, or 6.8 per cent of the total population. Predictions have been made that by 1980—barring unforeseen changes in present trends—the aged population will consist of 22,000,000 persons, representing 14.4 per cent of the total population. More and more will apply to private homes for the aged when a change in living arrangements is planned. But in order to be of service to them in the best interest of all, homes for the aged must not only modernize their buildings but also their intake procedures and charters as well.

Problem of Chronically Sick

We are now in the process of enlarging our building by adding thirty-five beds including an infirmary for the chronically sick. While we were aware of this need for many years, it has taken us a long time to get our building program under way, and there is no doubt that the war has delayed us by several years. We all know what a burden a chronically ill and aged person is on a family, both economically and physically. By accepting the chronically sick who are in need of Home placement, we are not only helping the aged patient, but we are relieving the children and relatives of a tremendous burden. More than that, we are improving relationship between parents and children.

Strain on Family

You know from experience what a strain on family relationships an old person can be, particularly when he is infirm or sick. We have had cases where families were near the breaking point, where the husband or wife were placed before the alternative of separation if the aged parent would not or could not leave the home. Often daughters deny themselves the privilege and joy of married life because they feel obligated toward their invalid mother or father. Such sacrifices are not uncommon, and when by accepting such aged people we can bring happiness and peace into the lives of children, or if we can relieve strained family ties, we are serving not only that family, but also the community which benefits by the improved morale of the individual families. After the Home has accepted the aged person, the children who perhaps were impatient with them in their own home, became extremely solicitous of their welfare.

Admission Policy

Fortunately our first problem, that of enlarging our building and facilities, is nearing its solution. Our next problem will be to change our thinking as to admission policy, so that we can admit those unfortunate aged without violating the present rule and tradition that no person thus afflicted shall be admitted except by special consent of the board. We all know that despite this rule we have, and always have had, more than half that are infirm and chronically ill, and have had to make the best of our limited facilities. We know that by admitting individuals who are infirm and are in need of nursing care, we shall increase our expenses, but we will be doing a job that is needed from the standpoint of the applicant and community requirements.

Old Age Center

Another tradition in our admission policy is to favor those without means and this is as it should be. But we know that many aged who have children or who have means of their own are just as lonely and socially isolated as the poor. They may need the Home for social, medical, or religious reasons. We should not refuse them admission if they need our Home just because they have money. Money often cannot buy the companionship or the religious environment which an old person needs. Would it not be of service to the community if we could accommodate these aged who would bring to the Home prestige and a higher standard of living? I have thought that these people and other able-bodied aged who still can take care of their own rooms should be housed in an annex or separate building where they would have rooms with all modern conveniences and enjoy the privacy of their own home and yet have easy access to the facilities of the Home,

Give $1 a Point To Rebuild Shul

MANILA — Jewish soldiers here held a meeting last week where it was decided to raise funds to rebuild the synagogue, Temple Emil, which had been destroyed by the Japs.

The GI's decided that each soldier contribute a dollar for every point. The men are now busy collecting the pledges.

The synagogue had been used by the Japs as an ammunition dump, and they set it on fire before the Americans entered.

able to give better service to those who need it most. By changing our program to the community needs we are showing that we are conscious of our responsibility towards the community and that is a sign of growing up. Let us show that we have reached maturity by assuming our obligation towards the aged who come to us for care and toward the Jewish Community by providing for our aged a modern, flexible and comprehensive program that will do justice to them and will be a credit to our loyalty, hard work and vision.

TRIAL BEGINS

NEW YORK — The Board of Education has finally brought charges against Mary A. Quinn, Brooklyn school teacher, who almost three years ago was accused of "intolerance and un-Americanism by 14 other teachers.

Wise Demands Investigation Of O'Donnell and N. Y. News

NEW YORK — Formal demand was made upon Congressman John S. Wood, Chairman of the Committee on un-American Activities in a letter written by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, President of the American Jewish Congress, for investigation of John O'Donnell, and his publishers, the New York Daily News and the Washington Times-Herald for the writing and publication of anti-Semitic allegations in a column written by O'Donnell and published by the aforementioned newspapers. The column described a conspiracy by prominent Jews to remove General Patton for slapping an allegedly Jewish soldier. O'Donnell later admitted that his facts were untrue.

Refusing to accept O'Donnell's retraction as a satisfactory answer to the protests voiced against the column, Dr. Wise has demanded cross-examination of O'Donnell by the Committee, citing the column as evidence of his un-American activities. In addition Dr. Wise requested a full review of past actions by O'Donnell, referring to the late President Roosevelt's decoration of O'Donnell with the German Iron Cross as evidence of disservice to America.

Why I Am A Zionist?

Dear Editor:

I have been repeatedly asked why I am a Zionist. A self-inventory is always in order.

I am a Zionist because I am an American.

I am a Zionist because I want to remain an American.

I am a Zionist because I want my children to remain Americans.

I am a Zionist because I am one of an ancient and proud people who should cease asking for favors from our enemies and refuses to grovel in the dust and beg with hat in hand on bended knee.

I am a Zionist because I feel our people should cease being wanderers and gypsies.

I am a Zionist because the Jews should be given an opportunity to make their contribution to the world not as Germans or Frenchmen or Englishmen or Bulgarians or Russians, but as Jews making their contribution as one of the families in the family of nations.

I am a Zionist because we must provide a home for the homeless.

I am a Zionist because I am an American, an American who subscribes to the bill of rights and Constitution of this Great Land.

I am a Zionist because all Zionists are good Americans.

With Zion's Greetings,
M. LOUIS ABEDON

Women's League and GJC To Co-operate on Calendar

The following information was issued jointly from the General Jewish Committee office and the League of Jewish Women's Organizations this week pertaining to the Community Calendar.

1. As in the past, all women's organizations will clear on meetings and other functions with the League Calendar, which is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph Strauss, at GAspee 5218. These will be primarily afternoon meetings but also some evening meetings arranged by women's organizations.

2. All other organizations will clear with the General Jewish Committee Community Calendar by calling the GJC at GAspee 7986, or writing to 203 Strand Building.

3. Each week there will be one calendar published in the Jewish Herald, giving the combined dates listed with both these central organizations.

It is felt that this procedure will best serve the community and will make for a complete listing of all important events arranged by both women's and men's organizations.

BIGWIGS IN A SWIVET

Be sure and read the short piece in a newsmag under "California," sub-christened "Sin and Souffle".....Army bigwigs are in a swivet because a burlesk stripper (recently discharged honorably from the WACs) uses that fact in her advertising in Newark.....Jim Farley told intimates the other night he would not run for Governor of N. Y.....The biggest sign on Broadway (half a block long) is for "It All Came True," starring Bogart and Sheridan. The flicker was made in 1939.....When Paulette Goddard remarked over the air: "Who ever heard of a romantic comedian?" the studio audience roared. Her first big romance, of course, being C. C.....The Riviera won't reopen until New Jersey gets a new Governor.

Arthur Brown, the Stork Club manager, knows a henpecked man who is quite a lush.....His hefty wife had beaten him up (because of his stew-stuff) and warned him never to drink again.....She sent him to their doctor when his nerves began jitterbugging.....When he came home she belligerently asked: "What did the doctor tell you?"....."He said," was the meek answer, "that I was to have a pint of whiskey every day—and if I don't take it—you're to make me!"

Rolly Rolls had a big ad in Variety. It said in part: "$500,000 in 5 weeks at the Roxy!" What! No FBI movie by the title "The House on 992nd Street"???

An Open Letter to Providence Jewry

In formulating our plans for the post-war world, the thought uppermost in our minds is that our children shall be able to participate fully in a just and equal society.

Educators are agreed that our public school program must be supplemented with moral and spiritual training and guidance.

In order to prepare the growing generation to fully participate in such society it is essential that we transmit to them moral and spiritual values.

For Jewish children this can best be achieved in a genuine, wholesome environment where they study, play and participate fully in all forms of Jewish living without acquiring an inferiority complex.

Such an environment can be built most effectively in an all-day school, where inspiration and education are planned on a regular consistent basis.

In our community such a school exists in the Lubavitcher Parochial School which, though in existence barely two months has an enrollment of 100 pupils, twice as many as any of our local Talmud Torahs or Hebrew Schools, some of which profess to be in existence 25 or more years. Such an outstanding and remarkable performance, attesting to the progress of this school and other Lubavitcher Schools throughout the American continent the past five years, can lead to only one conclusion—that American Jewry is awakening to the realization that Sunday Schools, part-time Hebrew Schools and Talmud Torahs, have been a complete failure, and that a generation of Jewry has been brought up without proper religious training and without adequate knowledge of their heritage, literature and history. It is this neglected generation which is determined that its offspring shall not likewise be neglected and they are sending their children to the multitude of parochial schools which have been opened in this country, Canada, the South American Republics and other countries.

The Lubavitcher Parochial School of Providence, opened last September, has now a faculty of eight, each teacher an expert in his or her field, employs two buses daily transporting children between their homes and the school, and furnishes warm noon-day meals. The present school quarters on Orms street have become inadequate. A larger, modern building which will contain all necessary school facilities, will soon be acquired. Alterations will be necessary. All this requires a further outlay of money.

It is fully appreciated that a drive to raise funds is to be conducted on behalf of the General Jewish Committee, a most worthy cause and to which all should contribute to the fullest extent. But our local Institution, caring for the spiritual and moral needs of so many of our young, should not be neglected. The School continuously has current expenses.

Two very important facts to be considered are first, that whereas others are making plans or conducting campaigns to raise funds for schools of learning to be erected sometime in the distant future, and they are entitled to our support, the Lubavitcher School is an existing entity with a large enrollment and expert pedagogues. Secondly, if we do not give our youth a Jewish, spiritual training, our Synagogues and Temples will become empty shells and the erection of new edifices will be a useless expenditure of money.

It is the intention of the School not to neglect the physical well-being of its pupils, and will therefore conduct a full sports program in order to build sound bodies as well as sound minds.

Children with special aptitudes, such as in art or music, will be given an opportunity to develop their talents.

A very interesting and noteworthy fact is that, contrary to the opinion of a certain few who have claimed that attendance at a Parochial School deprives a child from coming in contact with his non-Jewish friends, the true fact is otherwise. Under past conditions, a parent striving to give his child a Hebrew and Religious education had to employ a private teacher or send his child to a Hebrew School after public school hours, whereas the child attending a Parochial School is completely free after 4 o'clock to play and associate with his non-Jewish friends.

Graduates of Jewish Parochial Schools, in other parts of the U. S., have attained high marks—in fact, the highest marks—in taking the Board of Regents or College entrance examinations. They are also to be found in the high brackets in the professional and business world.

The Lubavitcher Parochial School is not affiliated with any Synagogue or Temple, although it seeks and is entitled to the full moral and material support of all of them. It has no affiliation with any local Hebrew School. It was conceived and organized as a genuine community project. It belongs to all the Jews of Providence. This school not only bears the indorsement of the spiritual leaders of our city, but also that of prominent national figures.

Although the School intends to become partially self-supporting, nevertheless, to a large extent, contributions by understanding Jewry and other philanthropic persons are necessary.

Every person interested in the perpetuation of Jewish ideals and religion should send in his contribution immediately to:

Lubavitcher Parochial School
47 Orms St., Providence, R. I.

It is the intention of the School not to publicize the names of donors until after the conclusion of the General Jewish Committee drive.

Very truly yours,

HARRIS MILLER, Secretary

"The Joy of Giving"

By SAMUEL RAPAPORTE, JR.

"I can't quite describe the joy that is mine and my wife's for having been able to greatly increase our gift to the General Jewish Committee Campaign this year. Nothing has ever given us more satisfaction, that this joy that comes from the knowledge that we are able to do our part for our fellow-Jews who are in such great need.

SAMUEL RAPAPORTE, JR.

"The other day at a campaign meeting, one of my friends referred to this year as a 'critical year' for the Jewish people of Europe. I corrected him and said that 1945 is a 'now or never' year. Yes, that is just what it is—a 'now or never year'. It is a race against death, with the cold of winter, hunger and homelessness pitted against the generosity of American Jews in Providence and other communities. If we don't send help promptly, or if that help is found to be inadequate, many of the 1,250,000 Jews who survived Hitler's concentration camps and extermination squads may die this winter. If we don't provide a new home and a better life in Palestine for vast numbers of homeless who are determined to settle in the Jewish National Home, large numbers will fall prey to frustration and despair.

"We must unite in an all-out effort for the relief and revival of our fellow-Jews. We may never again have such an opportunity for rescue and redemption. This is the 'Now or Never Year'. We in Providence must work and give to the limit of our ability and achieve our goal for 1945."
