Mediator Asks Check On Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS—Seeking what amounts to world-wide control of Jewish immigration into Palestine during the four-weeks truce, Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator, this week requested UN Secretary-General, Trygve Lie, to notify all member nations of the immigration provisions of the Palestine truce and ask them to prepare governmental machinery necessary for implementation.

The Bernadotte request, if it gets the acquiescence of the member nations, would mean the cooperation of the immigration departments of all UN nations, acting in major ports of embarkation all over the world, to enable the mediator to:

Ban all "fighting personnel" from immigrant ships.

Keep track of all immigrants of "military age" who, under the terms of the Palestine truce, are to be segregated in camps in the Holy Land for the duration of the truce.

Ban immigrants of "military age" altogether at the discretion of the mediator, who is empowered under the truce terms, to clamp down on such immigrants at any time he sees fit.

Israelis Doubt Bernadotte Fairness

TEL AVIV—Israelis bitterly criticized the Palestine truce plan and expressed doubt of the impartiality of Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator.

Anger and anxiety were voiced by men in the street. Some called the truce plan a British document. Some said the Israeli Government had made a "dangerous blunder" in accepting it.

A member of the extremist Irgun Zvai Leumi said of the plan to detain Jewish immigrants of military age in camps during the truce: "Don't worry. Let them detain the immigrants. We will see they won't be in the camps very long."

Warren Opposes Lifting of Embargo

NEW YORK—Gov. Earl Warren of California gave New York reporters more straight answers in 30 minutes than they've had in some time.

At a Hotel Pennsylvania press conference Warren, a declared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he:

Opposed lifting the arms embargo on Palestine.

Favored revision of the veto provision in the UN charter.

Approved "reluctantly" the draft but would have preferred a universal military training program.

Red Cross Sends Plasma to Palestine

NEW YORK—A $135,000 Red Cross shipment of medical and surgical supplies, including 4000 units of war surplus plasma, will be shipped from New York to Palestine some time this week, the American Red Cross announced yesterday through its Brooklyn office.

The shipment, which brings to a $260,000 total the amount of Red Cross relief supplies sent to Palestine, will be made available to the Red Mogen David (the Israeli Red Cross) and the Arab Red Crescent. Distribution will be on an "as needed" basis.

TO SEIZE CARGOES

BEIRUT—The Lebanese Government authorized this week the requisition of all goods destined for Israel aboard ships touching Beirut. Israel, in accepting the truce, already has declared that any Arab attempt to confiscate or hold up cargoes would be regarded as a "war-like act."

Smashing all previous campaign quotas, leaders of the Jewish community of greater Providence last Wednesday evening established the highest goal ever set in this area when they pledged themselves to raise a total of $1,350,000 in the forthcoming General Jewish Committee drive.

The record-breaking goal represents a figure approximately 35 per cent in excess of that raised in last year's GJC campaign in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal.

It was evident that the dramatic impact of the new State of Israel played an important part in the historic decision reached by the 125 men and women who gathered at the goal-setting meeting in the Narragansett Hotel.

Following a frank discussion of the arguments pro and con, an overwhelming majority of those present voted in favor of a motion offered by Abe C. Fine setting the 1948 quota at the $1,350,000 level.

Several speakers discussed a suggested $1,500,000 but it was the sentiment of the majority present that the lower figure definitely could be achieved—"provided a most intensive campaign is conducted and the support of every member of the Jewish community enlisted," as Joseph Galkin, GJC executive director, emphasized.

An informal atmosphere governed the deliberations after Archibald Silverman, GJC president, and Alvin A. Sopkin, 1948 campaign chairman, asked for "a frank discussion of the realities involved" in their opening remarks.

David Hacohen, head of Solel Boneh, largest construction company in the Middle East, was guest speaker of the evening. A resident of Palestine for the past 40 years, and a member of the Haifa municipal council for the past 20 years, Mr. Hacohen outlined a gripping analysis of the tremendous responsibilities besetting the State of Israel.

His voice tightened with emotion, Mr. Hacohen ranged from a barely audible whisper to a fervent declaration of the importance of the new State to Jews throughout the world. The seriousness of his remarks was tempered by a contagious sense of humor which held the audience's rapt attention.

"The dearest thing in life we can sacrifice is life itself. Thousands of our people in Israel have made that sacrifice in order that the dignity of Jews everywhere might be maintained. You are asked only to give these heroic defenders the implements to continue their fight in your behalf," he concluded.

Among those taking part in the evening's discussion were the following: Alter Boyman, Dr. Ilie Berger, Max L. Grant, Samuel Rapaport Jr., Charles Rothman, Mrs. Albert Pilavin, Ira Rakatansky, Samuel Rosen, William D. Strong, Saul Abrams, Joseph W. Riss, Louis Nass, Ray Franks, Walter I. Sundun, Sydney A. Kane, George Gerber, Mack Forman, Charles Temkin and Rabbis William G. Braude, Carol Klein and Morris Schussheim.

9 Scholarships Awarded by Jori Committee

Benjamin Brier, chairman of the Jori Scholarship Committee, announced this week that nine young men and women have been given scholarship aid for the school year of 1948-1949. Climaxing several meetings during which the various applications were carefully studied, the candidates met with the committee in an effort to find desirable students who were deserving of financial assistance.

With Mr. Brier on the Scholarship Committee are Messrs. Merrill Hassenfeld, treasurer; Louis I. Kramer, secretary; Dr. Archie A. Albert, Irving I. Fain, Jacob S. Temkin and Alexander Rumpel, president of the Jewish Children's Home of R. I. Joseph Galkin sat with the committee in an advisory capacity.

The Jori Scholarships are one of several phases in the program of the Foundation set up by the Jewish Children's Home to aid worthy young Jewish people of the State. Camp Jori represents another aspect of this program. Newly established this year, applications far exceeded the amount of money at the disposal of the committee, but the outstanding caliber of the applicants caused several philanthropic individuals to interest themselves to the extent that all applications deemed worthy by the Scholarship Committee have been favorably acted upon.

The students who are receiving the Jori Scholarships will attend six different colleges throughout the country. The Scholarships are given for one year only, but applicants may reapply in succeeding years.

Flood Herald Office With Call-A-Minute

Because of a postal error, last week's Herald were not delivered on Friday morning, as usual at the homes of our thousands of subscribers. The effect of this delay on the Jewish population of metropolitan Providence was immediate and spontaneous.

No sooner had the postmen made the rounds of the first houses on their respective routes than the Herald office phone began to ring with people asking why their papers had failed to arrive.

The calls continued at a steady pace throughout the day, many

Photostory Feature For Next Week

One of the most novel organizations in the community is the Knife and Fork Club, an association composed of local businessmen who meet during their lunch hour.

This week the Knife and Fork Club met for its annual dinner meeting at the Ledgemont Country Club. Next week in the Herald the hi-jinx of the club as seen at this annual affair will be related pictorially in a special pictorial page.

The D. P. Bill

The Senate has already passed, and the House will undoubtedly also pass, a bill to admit 200,000 displaced persons into the United States. From the point of view of alleviating the problem of the Jewish DP's, this bill is inadequate.

The passage of the bill is a defeat for a liberal policy on the admission of DP's to the country. There are a number of points which prove this to be the case.

In the first place, the date of eligibility of victims of Nazi or Fascist aggression is placed at December 22, 1945. It is now well known that many Jews were the victims of pogroms in Poland after that date.

The way the bill is set up now seems to favor collaborationists rather than the real victims of Nazi aggression. Priority will be given eligible adult refugees who "bore arms against the enemies of the United States and who were unable or unwilling to return to their homelands because of possible persecution." Now many of these are afraid to return because they are known to have been Nazis and it will go hard with them when they return home. These are the people who will be given preference over the victims of Nazism.

The clause relating to the fact that fifty per cent of the admissions must be farmers is another restriction against Jewish immigration because the Jews either

CAN STONES TALK?

Reflections on the late Lues Reiter

The unveiling of a monument in memory of the late Lues Reiter will take place this Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Lincoln Park Cemetery. The following article was written by a friend of Mr. Reiter in the belief that too few people are aware of the extent of his contributions to our culture.

By MORRIS W. SHOHAM

There was a time when Hebrew inscriptions on tombstones would begin with the words "This stone is witness". Witness to what? To the casual bystander the stone is witness that a person by one name or another found his eternal resting place on that particular spot.

Our ancient literature has it that in the Temple in Jerusalem there was a secret chamber where the modest people deposited their money earmarked for charity, so that no one would know who were the donors and who the objects of their charitable gifts.

Each man has his private Temple and its secret chamber in his own heart. Many people during their lifetime make that chamber not only secret, but sacred. Therefore, the same stone to the person who knew the departed one closely denotes a different meaning. It bears testimony to merits which the reader had a chance to observe and he asks himself:

"If the tombstone of Lues Reiter could speak, what would it tell me?" It would say, "Here rests a man who built a sacred chamber in his heart. From that chamber radiated a warm feeling toward individual Jews, Jewish institutions and, surprising as it may seem to many, also Jewish culture."

Very few of us knew that it was habitual with Lues Reiter to help needy young people with ability to attain a higher education. His generous support of religious and charitable institutions are better known. He believed in Zionism and gave liberally to all its branches, regardless of party affiliations.

But, while stones do not talk, books do tell a story. In this connection it is fitting now to divulge an experience which this writer will long remember. As a member of the Palestine Hebrew Writers Guild, I was given an assignment to raise a fund for the publication of a book on Kabbalah by an outstanding author, who lacked the means to publish it himself (and is there a Hebrew writer who has such means?) This became a burdensome task to me for, during the war years, people's attention was centered mainly on relief and outright charity connected with it.

I recall that on the first day of Rosh Hashonah in Temple Beth Israel, I had a little discussion with Lues Reiter about Jewish problems in general and the difficulties confronting Hebrew culture in "these trying years." I also mentioned the Kabbalah book of the aged writer, Prof. Sh. A. Horodetsky of Palestine, which was still in manuscript form because of lack of funds for print-

Lues Reiter as I Knew Him

By DR. ILIE BERGER

I met the late Lues Reiter about 36 years ago and a life-long friendship followed.

He was a man with a big heart. His generosity to charity knew no bounds. Starting over 30 years ago he was among the liberal givers in helping the realization of a Jewish National Home.

I remember when the late Dr. Schmarya Lavine came to Providence in behalf of the D. V. I. R., Hebrew Publication. Mr. Reiter had given a substantial amount to help the publishers of Hebrew Literature. At the time it was rather difficult to have the people see the benefit derived from investments of Hebrew publications, particularly when Dr. Lavine explained the shares would not receive any dividends, and even the investments might possibly be lost.

When the late Ben Avi came to Providence to interest the people in investing in a bank to be opened in Benyamena Colony, again Lues Reiter responded to the call and helped that town in a substantial way.

He accepted responsibilities in our local drives. The HIAS, the Labor Drives of the Histadruth, The United Roumanian Jews of America to which he gave his time and money. He was always to be depended upon when approached for help.

When the Jewish Home for the Aged was built on Hillside Avenue he gave liberally and when the new addition was planned he was among the six men who gave $5,000 each. Those were the times when a $5,000 donation meant something in our city.

He helped those in need locally as well. I remember a young lady who could not pay her tuition before graduation from Pembroke. Upon taking my advice to see Mr. Reiter she too was helped, graduating from college, and has since repaid her indebtedness to him.

When a prominent Palestinian Hebrew writer appealed through Morris Shoham to have his book published at a cost of $1,000 it was Reiter who gave the money making possible this publication.

He was in ill health for a number of years but nothing kept him away from helping those in need.

The Reiter family are unveiling his monument at the cemetery Sunday, June 20; Father's Day—a tribute to his memory as he was more than a father to all who knew him intimately. Our city has lost a fine citizen and a great friend of our people. We shall miss him. I know I lost a man whose friendship I treasured through the years and one who can never be replaced.

ing. Mr. Reiter immediately asked me to see him the following evening in the Biltmore Hotel, where he lived at that time, and after listening to me for a few minutes, told me to notify the Hebrew Writers Guild to proceed with the arrangements for the printing of the book, the cost of which he was ready to stand.

It had been my sincere hope that when the book would be off the presses a proper celebration would be held, at which time I would be privileged to present Mr. Reiter with the first copy of the book, the appearance of which he had made possible. Alas, this has not been realized. While the book was still on the press, Lues Reiter passed away and mine becomes the sad duty of dedicating this book to his memory, at the unveiling of a monument this coming Sunday afternoon.

Stones cannot speak and therefore the stone monument will remain silent on the spot where it is put. The book, however, will reach multitudes of Hebrew readers wherever they may be and tell the story of a man who supported Hebrew culture.

The formation of a newly-organized Miscellaneous Trade Division within the Trades and Industry Division of the General Jewish Committee's 1948 campaign, was disclosed this week by Joseph W. Ress, chairman of the over-all group.

Ress and Alvin A. Sopkin, co-chairman, announced jointly that Merrill Hassenfeld had been appointed to head the new unit, aided by Nathan Samors, Bertram L. Bernhardt and Archie Fain as associate chairmen.

Minor or highly specialized trades, businesses and professions that do not fall within the usual categories of the Trades and Industry Division will now be grouped together in the new Miscellaneous Trades classification, it was explained by Ress.

He added that it will take the place of the General Solicitations division of previous GJC campaigns.

Other classifications in the Trades Industry division will include: advertising and automotive, electrical, hardware, building and metals, bakers, foods, meats, candy and tobacco, drugs and drug stores, furniture and glass, jewelry, liquors, men's clothing, laundries and cleaners, insurance, real estate and investments, shoes, textiles, women's wear.

Appointment of chairmen for these sub-divisions will be announced in future issues of the Herald, Ress said.

today's business men need good service and lots of it . . .

If you figure father's time as 1910, there were only a quarter as many telephones in New England as there are now - and far less use was made of them.

To meet today's increased demands for service, we've installed new equipment in 537 central offices in the past two and a half years; we've put up new buildings or additions in 86 places; and added thousands of miles of wire and cable throughout the territory we serve.

The job isn't finished yet. But we're serving more people than ever, and we're well on our way to giving everybody better service.

SYD COHEN:

Hank Greenberg's Bandwagon

If anyone is looking around for a good major league bandwagon to jump on now that the season is at the one third mark, he might be wise to listen to what Hank Greenberg, vice-president and reserve infielder of the Cleveland Indians has to say on the subject.

Hank, who never has been accused of talking through his hat, said a few weeks ago that his new club was playing and acting like champions and that he considered them a good bet to win. It might be said, of course, that Greenberg was merely being dutiful and loyal. Yet, the big guy is not given to idle statements and his closing remark as to why he thought the Indians might win was what impressed us.

"I've played on pennant winners before and I know the signs." A veteran of four world series, Hank should know whereof he speaks when he says he recognizes the "signs" of a pennant winner on this Cleveland squad.

At any rate, one thing is certain. Any team that goes on the road and knocks off its leading opposition—the A's and Yanks—so convincingly must be rated the team to beat.

If Cleveland wins the 1948 pennant, by the way, that city will be the fifth to win the American League flag in five years. The junior circuit has not had a repeater since the Yanks of 42 and 43. That is quite in contrast to the previous ten years when New York won seven times and Detroit three to monopolize the World Series. Starting in 1944 the winners have been St. Louis, Detroit, Boston, and New York. Cleveland has not had a winner in 28 years, the same period of time that elapsed in Boston before the 1946 Red Sox broke through.

The signs are there, the evidence is mounting in favor of the Indians and so is their lead. Those who predicted a close two team race in the American League may be out in left field without a glove if the Greenbergs continue their present pace for another month.

Another postponement because of rain kept the Centre Softball League teams idle last Sunday for the third time in four weeks. Originally, it was planned to conclude the regular season on June 6. Now the earliest possible date for the windup is June 27— if atmospheric conditions improve. Some of the clubs undoubtedly will find it hard to keep their respective edges and stay as "sharp" as they would like to be. The teams that can bounce back after all this layoff will be the teams to beat—if their regular players don't leave for camps or start to spend their weekends at summer resorts.

A pair of Pawtucket boys are in the headlines this week as a result of their recent winning of the Rhode Island Junior doubles tennis championship at the East Side Courts. Steve Espo and Kenneth Steingold turned the trick and are making determined overtures toward the singles title as well.

Espo already has reached the final round and is awaiting the appearance of his rival of the title match. Steve drew a bye in the first round, won by default in the second and took a 7-5, 6-4 decision from his quarter final rival. He warmed up in the semi-final, coasting to a 6-1, 6-1 win.

Steingold is still in contention for the right to meet Espo in the finals. The weather has put a crimp in several of the matches, which explains why Steve must wait to find out who his opponent will be.

IT HAPPENED THIS WEEK

The broadcast of "The Eternal Light" program, heard every Sunday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock over WJAR, will hold more than the usual interest to Rhode Island listeners this week. . . . The script of "The Dream of Jacob Meyer", this Sunday's offering, was written by Alan Marcus of Providence, who has been making quite a name for himself as an author.

It isn't often that we can laugh at a story that has as its topic racial prejudice. That is why this one, concerning the son of one of our local families, bears repeating.

It seems the child attended a progressive school where nothing was discouraged, and one day, having found a cute little brown mouse in his home, wanted to take it to school with him. Naturally, his mother tried to talk him out of the idea.

"It's all right, mother," said the youngster, "We got lots of mice in school."

"Yes, but those are white mice," the mother argued.

The kid looked at her, in disgust, then said:

"Race prejudice, huh?"

An observation by the erudite Groucho Marx is rather topical at this time. Groucho says: "Congress is so strange. A man gets up to speak and says nothing. Nobody listens. And then everybody disagrees."

Scene Around Town

By ARLENE SUMMER

Double Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Goldstein of 15 Eames Street were at home Sunday evening to their relatives and friends in honor of the graduation of their son Jerry from Rhode Island State College and the confirmation of another son, Richard, from Temple Emanuel.

Never Stays Home!

Corinne Greenberg, known to her friends as Corky, returned from college last week but she wasn't here long. Corky left a few days ago to spend the week in New York and will wind up in Jersey where she will be a bridesmaid at her cousin's wedding. When she returns, we hope she'll stay in town for the few weeks until she leaves for Camp Reva for the summer.

Not a Garden Party

Remember the garden party Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Curland planned for their daughter Mickey to celebrate her graduation from Ohio State College? Well, rain spoiled the garden, but not the party. ... Guests were seen in the living room, dining room and basement enjoying the delicacies on the heavily laden tables. ... The centerpiece was a unique display of miniature dolls headed by Father Time who pointed the way. ... It started with a baby in a crib and worked up to a young lady in graduation cap and gown. ... The twins, Mickey and Timi, were charming in identical gowns.

Visitors

Ann Colton, of Springfield, Mass. president of Hillel, was the guest last week of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Israel of 843 Hope Street.

Also visiting ... Larry Phillips of Haverhill, Mass. is staying with Bill Kloner ... "Until I get kicked out!" says Larry, jokingly.

Cocktails for Two

The Dr. Stanley Summers entertained at a cocktail party last Sunday ... The party was held in honor of Marshal Wolfe and Cindy Gerstengang who will be married shortly. Mrs. Summer is the former Miss Barbara Cotton.

Bridal Luncheon

Phyllis Robinson will entertain today with a luncheon in honor of Janice Sopkin ... Janis will become the bride of Bob Rothman.

"Darling I Am Growing Old"

Happy birthday to Mrs. Sonny Baker. The former Elaine Gold graduated from her teens last week when she celebrated her 20th birthday.

Booming! (We Hope)

Fales Avenue in Barrington will soon be booming again. Now that the nice weather is here (hope I'm not talking too soon), folks are opening their summer homes.

Quite a Birthday

Friends of Helen Sergy said they had a wonderful time Sunday evening when Helen celebrated her 18th birthday ... Her most thrilling gift was a long distance call from Chuck Lederer in Korea ... Chuck will be home next month.

Councilettes Seat Slate of Officers

JWV Sets July 3-4 For Annual Conclave

Herald Office

Flooded With Calls

callers saying they had been unable to reach the office earlier because the line was busy.

As a result of this overwhelming response, the explanation of why you did not get your Herald on time became the major business of our day. A weary staff, computing the number of calls at day's end, found that the average rate was a call-a-minute.

While we were naturally perturbed along with our readers over the late delivery, we were delighted to note the high degree of interest that is so evidently manifested in the Herald.

We sincerely hope it does not happen again—the late delivery, that is.

Galkins To Study At Oxford and UCLA

ROBERT T. GALKIN

By TERRY WIESEL

A Providence boy left for Oxford University, England this week, his brother leaving the same day for a Summer course at the University of California in Los Angeles.

The brothers, Robert T. and Warren B. Galkin, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Galkin of Melrose Street, are both students at Brown University.

The Galkin brothers will combine study and travel.

Robert, almost 22, is a navy veteran who served in the Caribbean, but never saw Europe which he will tour this Summer. Arriving in France Tuesday on the Queen Elizabeth, he will spend approximately 10 days sightseeing. At the close of his Oxford studies on August 13, he will visit Italy, Switzerland and the Low Countries.

A student of International Relations, he hopes this Summer will provide first-hand knowledge of living conditions in the countries he has studied about for three years in Brown classrooms.

Besides a steamer trunk and suitcase, he is carrying as many pounds of food supplies as customs will allow for hungry friends in Europe.

Robert was one of a small group of students from all over the U. S. selected to take the course at Oxford in Contemporary European Civilization instructed by well-known scholars including Prof. Harold Laski, Labor government advisor. As preparation for the course he was given a list of 200 books with which to familiarize himself. He is expecting a stiff schedule, but hopes to get off to London week-ends. He will spend a day at the Olympics, he said.

Warren, 19, will be a sophomore in the Fall, and to broaden his knowledge of his major field of physics, he has departed for two months study at UCLA to take a chemistry course. He'll take time to see the West, visiting Yellowstone Park and other points of interest.

were not or were not allowed to be farmers for many years in the countries in which they resided.

One of the biggest jokers in the bill is the clause relating to the item mentioned above about those who bore arms for the allies in the last war. Since most of the displaced Jews were either in concentration camps or in areas from which they could not escape to fight with the allies, very few of them will be eligible under this amendment.
