It is not necessary for ticket holders to be present at the affair in order to win prizes, although everyone is urged to attend and enjoy the program.

The program, arranged by the committee headed by Mrs. Charles Reitman, includes: Mrs. Martin Silverstein in scenes from "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", Mrs. Sylvia Katz Factor, soprano soloist, and the Champagnes, popular dance instructors and recent feature entertainers at the Sheraton-Biltmore Garden Restaurant, in a dancing exhibition.

Dr. Neumann will address the evening session of the convention, which will be held in the auditorium of the Rhode Island School of Design at 8 p. m. Preceding the evening meeting, a dinner in Dr. Neumann's honor will be given in the ballroom of the Sheraton-Biltmore. Mayor Dennis J. ### Abe C. Fine Completes Payment on GJC Pledge

Abe C. Fine (right) is shown here presenting a check for $55,000 to Joseph Galkin, GJC executive director, and Alvin A. Sopkin, campaign chairman. This is the final payment on the 1948 pledge to the General Jewish Committee of $105,000, covering the contribution of Abe and Harry Fine and Mrs. Abe C. Fine. In making the presentation, Mr. Fine stated, "Because of the urgent needs in Israel and Europe, I sincerely hope that all those who are in a position to do so, will complete payment on their GJC pledges at the earliest possible moment. It is only by converting pledges into cash that our important work can be completed."

Beigen Terms Critics "Liars"

NEW YORK—Irgun commander Menachem Beigen struck back promptly this week at charges of three noted clergymen that his good-will tour of the U. S. was a fraud as members of his reception committee began to resign.

"Distortions of fact" and "part of a smear campaign" were some of the comments Beigen used in a press conference in commenting on the statement issued earlier in Washington.

The Rev. Dr. Henry Sloan Coffin, the Rev. John La Farge and Rabbi Morris Lazaron denounced the head of the new Irgun political party, the Freedom Movement, and called on members of his reception committee to withdraw.

Einstein Leads Group In Denouncing Beigen's Freedom Party As Fascist

NEW YORK—The charge that top leaders of American Zionist organizations had refused to expose the activities of Manachem Beigen, head of the Palestine "Freedom Party", was made today by signators of a public letter including Professor Albert Einstein, Professor Sidney Hook, Professor Zellig S. Harris, Dr. Hannah Arendt and Louis P. Rucker.

The Beigen party was termed "a fascist party for whom terrorism (against Jews, Arabs, and British), lying and misrepresentation are means, and a "Leader State" is the goal."

Stating that "the public avowals of Beigen's party are no guide whatever to its actual character", the statement declared that "the discrepancies between the bold claims now being made by Beigen and his party, and their record of past performance in Palestine bear ... the unmistakable stamp of a fascist party". While avowing freedom and democracy as their aims, "gangster methods" were used to intimidate the Palestine population and extort tribute from them, the statement declared. Beigen and his followers of the Irgun Zvai Leumi have had no part in constructive achievements in Palestine.

"Within the Jewish community they have preached an admixture of ultra-nationalism, religious mysticism, and racial superiority," the statement said. "Like other fascist parties, they have been used to break strikes, and have themselves pressed for the destruction of free trade unions."

JFCS To Have 20th Anniversary Celebration

A significant milestone in the history of the Jewish Family and Children's Service will be marked with appropriate ceremonies at the 20th anniversary celebration of the agency at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel on Tuesday evening, December 28, it was announced this week by Louis Fain, chairman of the annual meeting committee, and Jacob S. Temkin, president of the agency.

The Jewish Family and Children's Service is a combined family welfare and child care agency which has been rendering service to the families and children of the State of Rhode Island for the past 20 years. Originally known as the Jewish Family Welfare Society, the organization's name was changed in July, 1942 at the time when the Jewish Orphanage closed, and the agency assumed responsibility for the child care

To be Held Here During Chanukah

"Food for Israel"—a special one-week whirlwind collection of staple food items expressly earmarked for the Jewish state—was launched last night at a meeting of community leaders at GJC headquarters in downtown Providence.

The drive will be held in conjunction with the week of Chanukah—Dec. 26 to Jan. 2—and is part of a nation-wide collection for the same purpose.

Representatives of local Zionist groups, fraternal organizations, temple sisterhoods and brotherhoods—in fact, virtually every Jewish charitable and philanthropic group in the community—met at the GJC's Strand Building headquarters last night to lay the groundwork for what is planned to be a most intensive collection.

Alper Heads Group

Norman Alper, named general chairman of the "Food for Israel" campaign, stated after the meeting that names of co-chairmen and committee members would be announced in time for next week's issue of the Herald.

The various temples and synagogues, it is expected, will serve as collection depots for all food-stuffs. In addition, a central warehouse will be set up, to which such collections will be transferred for crating and shipment directly to Palestine.

Five Classifications

Alper emphasized that only canned foods would be solicited, and that these foods, in turn, fall in five general categories. They are: canned milk (condensed or evaporated); canned fish (tuna, salmon, herring, etc.); canned vegetables (any kind); canned fruits (exception of citrus fruits); canned coffee (vacuum-packed).

A Questionable Israeli 'Hero'

The visit of Mr. Menachem Beigin, the former leader of the terrorist Irgun Zvai Leumi, had the flourish and sensationalism of Hollywood at its worst. For weeks in advance an unprecedented costly campaign of paid advertisements in the daily newspapers prepared the arrival of Israel's 'hero' who was modestly described as "The Man Who Defied an Empire." An unseemly demonstration at the airport with Rabbis presenting the 'hero' with a Torah, a reception at the City Hall and a banquet at the Waldorf at fifty dollars a plate completed the spectacle.

The question is: will the Hollywood technique succeed? Will a cleverly conducted advertising campaign, cheap showmanship and a high pressure salesmanship sell Mr. Beigin to the American public as Israel's 'hero' Number One? Will the Irgun Zvai Leumi, an all-out Fascist and super-patriotic reactionary outfit which introduced into Israel the most brutal of Nazi tactics,—the killing of innocent hostages,—be palmed off as any kind of a revolutionary party with social aspirations? We doubt it. The misguided American friends of the Irgun may know their Hollywood well, but Hollywood is not America and cheap high-pressure salesmanship is no longer its hull-mark. The elections of last month have proven that the American people are no longer the politically immature adolescents who can be taken in by any circus.

Above all, the American people are too kind-hearted and decent to accept as 'heroic' a party which has proclaimed hatred of England and cold-blooded murder as its fundamental principles and gloats over them. The American people will not in one and the same year reject the Dixiecrats and the Ku-Klux-Klan crowd at home and take to their bosom an Israeli version of it even if it comes disguised by clever showmen.

DP Law Must Be Displaced

When President Truman reluctantly signed the so-called Displaced Persons Act enacted by the 80th Congress, he blasted the bill as a discriminatory piece of legislation aimed primarily against Jews, and at the same time, he promised that he would do all in his power to have the law amended when the new Congress meets.

When Mr. Truman made the promise his political future was uncertain. Now that he has been mandated by the American people to lead the country for the next four years it seems to us that the dignity of his office demands that he take leadership in erasing from our books a law which, in our opinion, he never should have signed.

If the 81st Congress is to interpret the spirit of the American people correctly, it must make elimination of the shameful DP law the first act on its agenda.

"One Man's Opinion"

My Dear Phi Deltas:

By BERNARD SEGAL

Ever since you told the world of your package of love that you sent to the children of Berlin, I have not been able to get you off my mind. I close my eyes and I can see you, the forty girls of the Phi Delta Sorority, at the meeting of your Alpha Alpha chapter. I can hear your secretary read to you the appeal of Lieutenant Carl Hintze, and her voice trembles with emotion when she reaches the place where he tells you how hungry the children of Berlin are for your love. I can see forty dainty little handkerchiefs reaching forty pairs of tear-dimmed eyes, and forty shoulders shaking with uncontrolled crying.

And then the master mind of your sorority came forward, as usual, with a most wonderful plan. You all thought it was a divine plan and you resolved right then and there on what to do. You were going to show the children of Berlin, and Lt. Hintze, that your hearts are so big, and your love is so all embracing that no sacrifice is too great for you.

You will, all forty of you, deny yourselves a movie, and you might even give up ice-cream sodas for a week, and you will fill up those packages with your tokens of love and ship them without delay to the children of Berlin. And so you did.

Now, why do I remember your letter to the editor in which you advise all the sororities and fraternities and clubs to follow your noble example? Why do I say that I am not able to get you off my mind though nearly two weeks have gone by since your letter appeared?

It is because I envy you, girls of the Alpha Alpha chapter. I wish my heart were so big and my love for humanity as all-embracing as yours. Somehow I cannot forgive and forget so quickly. And I see by the papers that neither can forty million Frenchmen forgive and forget. Nor can the people of Denmark, and of Belgium, and of Holland, and of Russia, and of Czechoslovakia.

You girls of the Phi Delta sorority, and General Clay, and Lt. Hintze are of a very noble breed. What matters if a world was laid waste by the Berlin super-race? What matters if the millions of maimed and murdered by the masters of Berlin are still uncounted because they were so countless in numbers? What matters Concentration Camps, and Gas Chambers, and slave labor?

You were touched by the appeal for love for the children of Berlin and you packaged your love to them.

Now, I wish I could do it, too. But every time I look at the appeal by Lt. Hintze, I remember the menu I once saw. A menu prepared by the Master-Race of Berlin for the children of the lower races, to which you girls of Phi Delta would belong if you were in Berlin at that time. Jewish children, according to this menu, were allowed three hundred calories a day, and milk was not one of the items of food. Nor were fresh fruits or vegetables.

I also remember a story told to me by a former inmate of a Concentration Camp. It seems that the guards, sons of Berlin, amused themselves with a most devilish scheme. They would hold up a piece of bread and invite the children inside the barbed wire enclosure to come closer and get it. As the children approached with outstretched hands they would be shot at or speared with the bayonets. The officer's report would then read that the children attempted to escape.

I further remember an account of a children's brigade being used by the men of Berlin as mine detectors. They would send them out over a field abandoned by the allied armies to pick up booby traps that might have been planted there. The sure sign that a mine was there, would be, of course, an explosion and the flying fragments of a child's body. A child that could have been a member of your Alpha Alpha chapter, my dear Phi Deltas.

That is why I say that I envy you. Oh, I wish that I, too, could forgive and forget, and make packages for the children of Berlin. I am, I confess, only human, while you, girls of Phi Delta, are surely angels.

I am not, I am afraid, as talented as Lt. Hintze was in touching your hearts, and bringing tears to your eyes, and causing you to start filling packages, girls of Phi Delta. But I could give you a few more addresses where these packages are needed, now that you have given your love to the children of Berlin.

In the first place, there is the Santa Claus appeal right here at home. Day-in, day-out, several times during the broadcasting time, I hear appeals for Santa Claus funds for children in your own community, Alpha Alpha chapter, perhaps even in your own neighborhood. Surely you must have heard them, too.

Then there are appeals for food and toys and clothes for children in DP camps in France, Italy and Germany. Appeals for a little bit of love and care for children made fatherless and motherless by these same Berliners. I can supply you with names and addresses of these children, one for each member of your chapter, my dear Phi Deltas.

Do you have some love for them, too? Or was it all given to the children of Berlin and to Lt. Hintze?

BB Girls Form Bowling League

At the last meeting of the Roger Williams Chapter, B'nai B'rith Young Women, it was decided to form a bowling league for members of the organization. The league will meet at the Stadium Alleys in Cranston on Wednesday evenings at 9 o'clock. Ruth Solinger is chairman.

Plans are being completed for the annual Membership Tea, to be held Tuesday evening, December 14 at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel. All enrolled members are invited.

Edith Koffler and Eileen Dubin reported that a party held at the Jewish Home for the Aged in November was a success. The organization plans to sponsor different affairs each month for the entertainment of the folks at the Home. A musicale is planned for January.

Full length movies were shown after the meeting.

MOTHERS ALLIANCE TO MEET

The December meeting of the Jewish Mothers Alliance will be held Monday afternoon at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel. A short story hour, featuring tales taken from "A Treasury of Jewish Folk Lore", will highlight the program. A door prize will be awarded.

Show Stealing:

Show stealing is the grandest kind of larceny. No punishment and no penalty, as a rule, and sometimes a great press, and a mark in history, is the gamble. Boston audiences witnessing the opening night of "Lady in the Dark" caught a scene-stealing play that nearly closed out Danny Kaye. A double play miraculously saved the day. Known only to the Borschtelligentsia, Kaye went on in his solo spot, "Tchaikowsky," and brought down the house with his feat of enunciating the names of 56 Russian composers in 40 seconds. Legend is that Ira Gershwin, show's lyricist, went out for a smoke and came back to find the patrons still howling. Meanwhile, in her dressing room, star Gertie Lawrence waited and burned.

Danny Kaye himself recently had a chance to learn what it feels like to have your thunder stolen, if only for a clappaudience or two. As Mr. Goldwyn's star money-maker, Danny has been consistently partnered with frabjous Virginia Mayo. Ginny was a docile enough playmate while they romped through "Wonder Man," "Kid From Brooklyn," and "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty." But after a change of pace as the petulant floozie in "The Best Years of Our Lives," Virginia's been feeling her oats. In their last picture for Goldwyn, "A Song Is Born," she challenges Danny at his own game. Makes good, too. And how does Mr. K. like it?

And here's a comic opera vignette lifted from, of all things, the funeral procession of King George V. A certain royal rouse was obliged to march but was unsteady from wassail. His masseur was detailed to march in his wake and rescue the royal presence if it seemed in danger of collapsing. High spot of the parade was the handsome brawny Swede, strutting among the crowned heads in a dazzling borrowed Hussar's uniform.

Even the best of them are not above this tricky-business. ... W. C. Fields was highlighting his celebrated pool table act in an early Ziegfeld Follies. The bibulous Fields almost resolved to swear off the stuff when the act that had served him for 10 years started backfiring. The yaks came in the wrong places or not at all. In a cold fury, he looked under the pool table for the cause of it all. ... Ed Wynn lay there, mugging like a Perfect Fool. For several weeks thereafter, Fields went on without Wynn. Next time Wynn crept into the act, Fields let him have it across the noggin with the billiard cue. The audience loved it, and Wynn was a two-time winner.

One of the funniest bits of business ever worked out was hit upon to counter another player's scene-stealing. Gravedigger No. 1 in a certain production of "Hamlet" used to divert the audience's attention from the sore-headed Dane by peeling off a coat with every speech of Hamlet's. He wore six coats. ... One night his customary business brought double laughs, a louder one following each chortle for doffing a coat. ... He wasn't having echo trouble. The second gravedigger was putting on the coats as fast as he took them off!

ROGER WILLIAMS LODGE 1184,

VOL. 2 NO. 2

DECEMBER 10, 1948

GEORGE M. GOLDSMITH, Editor

President's Corner

Early next year, B'nai B'rith's Hillel Foundations on the campuses of universities all over the nation, will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the first Hillel at the University of Illinois. This will be a cause for celebration because during the 25 years, thousands of young Jewish people have been rededicated to their heritage. It is the purpose of Hillel to give the Jewish college student a home away from home; to keep alive the training received in the Jewish home and to send these students into the business and professional world, better aware of their responsibilities as Americans and Jews.

Here in Providence, Hillel is a vital force on the campus of Brown University, with extensions at Bryant College and Rhode Island State. We can get a first hand glimpse of how Hillel operates; what it does for the student and the force it exerts for student leadership.

Hillel is but one facet of the whole B'nai B'rith scene—but it is a vitally important one because of its influence on our youth. When you join B'nai B'rith you're working for Hillel. Roger Williams Lodge is happy to have such a close association with a Hillel Foundation and will continue to give it the support it deserves and needs.

AZA In Appeal For New Members

Irving E. Rosen, chairman of the AZA Committee and Arnold Miller, advisor to the Roger Williams AZA Chapter, have recently issued a statement to all Lodge members in behalf of the three Providence AZA Chapters.

"The biggest problem now facing the local AZA organization", said Mr. Rosen, "is one of membership."

"The three local chapters have a fairly large membership at this time, but numerical strength in any youth organization can only be maintained if new young men can be induced to follow the work now being done by the older members."

"The age spread in AZA is between 15 and 19, so it follows that when the boys reach college age, they usually find it impossible to continue in the work. They leave the city or become so involved in their studies that other activity is difficult to master."

"We are making this known to all B'nai B'rith members who have sons eligible for AZA. With a good portion of the present membership about to graduate to college, it is imperative that the sons of B'nai B'rith members be induced to join their closest AZA Chapter."

"In Providence there are three AZA Chapters; Hope, Narragansett and Roger Williams, each under the guidance of a qualified youth leader."

"Talk to your sons and when they decide to become a part of the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization you can contact either Mr. Miller, at the Jewish Community Center or Irving Rosen at GAspee 9384."

B'nai B'rith needs more members to insure that our program is carried on. Are you doing your share?

Few Engineering Jobs for Jews

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A dim outlook for Jewish graduates of engineering schools is foreseen by the majority of 108 deans, professors, and placement officials in engineering schools throughout the country who were interviewed last year, according to a report issued by the B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau. The interviews were conducted by the Elmo Roper organization.

The majority of professors interviewed in the survey agreed that a pattern of discrimination against Jewish engineers is widespread in American industry. While at the time of the survey nearly any Jewish engineering student could get a job, he did not have as wide a range of opportunities to choose from as his non-Jewish classmate. Within the next year or two the situation will get much tighter and the Jewish graduate will be among the first to go without job offers.

There are at least five different discrimination policies that were described by the engineering professors. The first is an absolute policy of hiring no Jews at all. Though it is found seldom, there are apparently a few 100 percent non-Jewish companies.

A second policy is that of hiring a very small number of Jews as window dressing.

A third policy, that of hiring Jews on a quota basis, apparently occurs more frequently. But the quota is likely to be informal and handled on a "let's not get too many of them" basis.

A fourth, and still more common, form of discrimination policy is to limit the hiring of Jews to certain kinds of jobs.

The fifth form of discrimination is the familiar one of requiring a Jew to be better than other applicants for any job.

Roger Williams Lodge Meeting Dec. 14 To be Comprised Entirely of Entertainment

Famous Song Team Highlights Program

Roger Williams Lodge will have an entirely new type of program for its members on Tuesday evening, December 14, at the Wayland Manor on Wayland Square.

The evening will be devoted entirely to entertainment. It will start at 8:30 o'clock with a cocktail party in the Manor Room after which the activities will continue in the Main Dining Room.

Prizes for Winners

Members will be given an opportunity to indulge in their favorite card games and there will be special prizes for the winners. There will be special entertainment throughout the evening and as a main attraction the Lodge will present the famous team of Bill Johnson and Sonya.

These talented artists will entertain with a program of songs from all nations, consisting of many new and old time favorites.

Artists Well Received

Johnson and Sonya have appeared in every major city in the United States and they have been received everywhere with great enthusiasm. Bill Johnson has a pleasing voice while Sonya does musical tricks with her accordion. Reports from other B'nai B'rith Lodges for whom they have worked have been in superlatives.

Coleman Zimmerman, chairman of the Program Committee, has completed plans for a memorable evening and he suggests that everyone be on hand to participate in the fun, which he assures is in store for us.

Seminar Honors Robert Patterson

At a dinner meeting held at the Henry Barnard School on Wednesday, December 8th, the Rhode Island Seminar on Human Relations honored former Secretary of War, Robert P. Patterson.

Judge Patterson spoke on the problems effecting human relations with emphasis on the racial question. B'nai B'rith is vitally interested in this problem and was glad to co-operate in honoring Judge Patterson.

Bisgyer Announces Intensified Aid

The B'nai B'rith Aid to Israel program will be intensified this winter with emphasis upon more direct aid to wounded Israeli troops, according to the recommendation of Maurice Bisgyer, secretary of the Order, who has returned to B'nai B'rith national headquarters after a 5-week trip to Europe and Israel. He also announced that the groundwork has been laid for the opening of a European B'nai B'rith office.

In Israel, Mr. Bisgyer was received at the home of President Chaim Weizmann in Rehovoth the day after the President's arrival.

During his inspection of military hospitals, he made arrangements for a continuation of B'nai B'rith's famous war service program, but this time on behalf of Israeli wounded. He was so impressed with the need for collapsible wheelchairs for amputees that he cabled President Frank Goldman who promptly arranged to have the chairs shipped. There are 21 B'nai B'rith lodges and women's chapters in Israel and they will service the hospitals in supervising and establishing new convalescent and recreation rooms. For similar activity during the war on behalf of American servicemen, B'nai B'rith received the first citation awarded by both the Army and the Navy to any civilian agency.

Haym Salomon Lodge Honors Bartley Crum

In special ceremonies held at the Temple Mishkow Tefla, in Roxbury, Massachusetts, Bartley Crum, of the New York Star, was honored by Haym Salomon Lodge, B'nai B'rith, as this year's citizen who has done outstanding work for both America and the Jewish people.

Before taking over active duty with the newspaper in New York, Mr. Crum was a member of President Truman's Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry on Palestine.

The ward was made on Monday, December 6th by Frank Goldman, President of the Supreme Lodge of B'nai B'rith.

B'nai B'rith Opens European Office

Saul Joftes, educational director of the New England regional office of B'nai B'rith's Anti-Defamation League, has been appointed the first Director of the Order's European office, it has been announced by Frank Goldman, President of B'nai B'rith. ## SYD COHEN:

Contrasts in Sports

ACHIEVEMENT and disappointment combine to give this week's local sports news a varied flavor. The achievement comes in the successful conclusion of the first Jewish football league to be sponsored in this area. The disappointment has to do with the aftermath of the softball league.

THE FOOTBALL LEAGUE, sponsored by this column with a great deal of fear and worry a few months ago, turned out to be a gratifying success. So much so that most of the players I have talked to are discussing how the league should be organized and conducted next year.

ALL PARTICIPANTS agreed in advance that they would go along as best they could this season, so that we would know exactly how to go about planning the 1949 campaign. That ambition was realized, while at the same time, the inaugural season was very encouraging.

TWO CLUBS tied for the top—and these, the Comets and Eatons, will meet on the field of combat this Sunday to settle the matter of a champion. Two others finished one game behind the leaders and one of these, the Olympics, posted a three wins, one defeat record after coming into the league a week late. The Smokies were a disappointment. They had good players and fought hard, but with no luck. Too much smoke, perhaps?

FOR 1949, I envision an eight team league playing a seven game schedule plus playoffs . . . and the organization of the league will begin during the summer, even while softball is in full sway. In that way, the teams will shift from one sport right into the other.

THE DISAPPOINTMENT has to do with the falling through of plans for a gala banquet for the entire softball league. The banquet was first suggested in this column and the idea was enthusiastically endorsed on all sides. A few individual teams cancelled plans for their own affairs in order to be in on the big banquet.

PLANS ADVANCED to the stage where the date and place were tentatively set—and then, suddenly, it all collapsed.

The reason, I believe, was not in any lack of interest, but rather in an assumption that was too optimistic. It was that the sponsors of the teams would pay for the entire affair. Enough sponsors couldn't see the idea to make it fall through.

PERSONALLY, I thought the banquet should be paid for by the individual players, and that it should also be thrown open to wives and girl friends of the players, as well as the public. I have said before that the sponsors did enough for the teams this past summer without treating them to a banquet. Where a sponsor volunteered such an affair, all well and good; otherwise, he was justified in refusing.

A LITTLE good fortune spoils some men. Being lucky enough to have a generous sponsor, they may begin to think they are justified in assuming that they have a bottomless well.

Anyway, the banquet has fallen through and I think it is a shame. It isn't too late yet if the boys are still interested enough to revise their plans and start from scratch. I believe all participants would like such an affair, where awards would be given out. And I know that the wives and girl friends would like to attend. They have said so. There is no reason why they should not be allowed to attend. When I first mentioned the idea of a banquet, I said it could develop into one of the big social events of the year. I still think so.

AND WHY NOT combine the softball and football leagues in planning the event? That would eliminate the possibility of the banquet's being held too late.

Anyone interested in working on the affair? Let's get at it, I say!

More than 100 persons attended the Open House program at the Jewish Community Center last Saturday and watched the Center Alumni defeat the Varsity 38-24 in the official season's opening basketball game. Dancing until midnight followed the game.

Taking the lead early in the second quarter, the Alumni pulled away steadily throughout the period and held their advantage to the end. The team was paced offensively by H. Rifkin and Jack Pearl with eight and seven points, respectively, and Noah Miller and Lowell Leonard on defense. For the Varsity, Gerstenblatt tallied seven points and Lefkowitz five, while Jagolinzer and Jerry Lobel stood out on defense.

Auxiliary Meets; Officers Installed

New officers for the 1948-49 season were installed at the December meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Providence Hebrew Sheltering Society. Mrs. Morris G. Silk was installing officer. Mrs. Esther Pritsker, director of the R. I. Refugee Service, and Mrs. Lionel Albert, president of the Council of Jewish Women, were guest speakers.

The Hebrew Sheltering Society, since March, 1947, has been housing refugees until new homes can be found for them by the Refugee Service. One couple, in fact, arrived at the Society, to remain until a home is found for them, while the meeting was being held.

The Gordons remain four points behind the Levines, who took three from the Cohens in what was probably the most thrilling contest of the year. After splitting the first two strings, the Cohens were trailing slightly as anchor man Howie stepped up—two strikes and a nine box put them in the lead. Then the Levines anchor man, Jimmy Hochman, won the match with a ten box.

H. Frank was tops with a single string of 155, H. Cohen rolled a three string high of 374, and Aven's team was best with 563 for one string. Rodyn's five slipped back into third place by taking only one point from the Gordons, and the onrushing Lobels jumped into fourth place by sweeping four points from Kurley's Keglers.

Rita Levine has established a new high single mark of 113 and has replaced Ann Steingold as high average holder with 98. Her team also swept four points from the Steingolds and now leads the league with 12.

The Hochmans' new keger, Dottie Strasmich, seemed to be just what was needed to enable them to take three points from the Zawatskys, who definitely felt the absence of Captain Lil.

High team single was taken by the Levines with a mark of 426; they also were tops for total pinfall with 1248.

The Steingolds are in second place with eight points and are followed by the Zawatskys with seven and the slowly gaining Hochmans with five.

Emanuel Bowling

By JACK PLATKIN

The pins were hot last Monday night, and so was Abe Press, as this meat packer from Pawtucket ground up those pins for anew high three of 387, which means that Mike Miller's 369 is not even a close second. Scores of this sort just about knocked Billy Dwares' Cards down a few paces.

Sam Chase did a neat job of bowling 344 for the Athletics, who took four from Babe Chase's Tigers. Incidentally, these aged Athletics are still creeping up, now resting in the third spot. Leo Nussenfeld with his 342 sparked his Red Sox to four points, moving them into 5th place.

Davey Temkin, just about getting used to the tricks and curves of the alleys, turned in 358, but did his team, the Braves, little good, as they lost four. We know just why—"Leo Miller was tired". Len Schoenberg's 358 and Mel Paynor's 379 will make their averages much better. Other good strings of single games were Mark-off—138, Irv Chase—123, M. Cohen—126, Lang—123 and Zachs—128.

There are 27 bowlers with averages over 100.

Beth Israel Bowling

By SAUL HODOSH

If the present standings are any indication of things to come, it would seem that a real battle royal is in store for the top spot in the league. At the present writing, Harvard, Penn and R. I. State are tied for the top, but six teams are tied for second place, only 2 games off the pace.

Before going on to individual scores, I must mention the tottering Syracusans, who turned in three strings without one man breaking 100.

Howie Nelson finally ran himself into high three at 334 and the high single of 135. Oscar Dressler continued his excellent bowling with a three string 328 and Sam Garmon hit 315. Beanie Feldman took second high single with 128 (don't ask about the other 2 strings) and Sam Garmon turned in a nice 125.

Beth El Bowling

By JACK APPELBAUM

The Beth El Bowling League swung into its seventh week, and after much confusion things have now been settled, with several six-man teams. Currently holding top spot are Perry Shatkin's "Blue Shirts", hotly pursued by Milt Weissman's and several other ambitious teams.

Allie Shatkin posted a new high single with a neat 154. He was edged out of a high three when "Happy" Bernstein rolled a 364 to his 363. In spite of Allie's score, his team lost three points. (I wonder if the bowling of George Dann and Yours Truly had anything to do with it?)

I want to take this opportunity to say good-bye and the best of luck to Jack Fleisig who left to take over the management of Senaks in Greensboro, N. C. He ran true to form. The week before he was made captain of one of the teams. The next week—North Carolina. The lengths a guy will go to not to be a captain—but seriously he will be doubly missed by your correspondent for he has been a close personal friend for 20 years. Besides, he used to write this column. Oh, well, I'll do the best I can. Stay in touch with me.

Comets, Eatons Meet In Football Playoff

The championship of the Herald Touch Football League will be decided Sunday morning when the Comets and Eatons, all tied up at the end of the regular season, clash in the playoff game at Mt. Pleasant Field.

Each team posted a record of four wins and one defeat in the regular season. The Comets lost to the Eatons, who in turn were defeated by the Blazers, front runners until the final week of play. Both clubs claimed to be under normal strength in the games they lost. Two Comet regulars were unable to play in the game against the Eatons; the latter, with several of their outstanding players suffering from injuries, still held the Blazers to two touchdowns in their only setback.

Alibis should mean little this Sunday. Both teams were reported at top strength as the Herald went to press.

Over the course of the season, the Comets compiled the better record, scoring 180 points against 23 for the opposition. The Eatons scored 70 points and had 25 tallies made against them. The main difference, however, came in the games with the Smokies, who lost 19-0 to the Eatons and 64-0 to the Comets. Off that game, the Comets scored 44 points, the Eatons 51. Take your choice.

GJC Cleanup Extended One Week

Slowness on the part of many workers in completing their coverage of pledge cards in the 1948 General Jewish Committee "Year of Destiny" campaign has resulted in the extension of the drive's deadline to Monday, Dec. 13, it was announced this week.

Following what had been scheduled as the final Report Luncheon of the campaign last Monday at GJC headquarters, a hasty tabulation of figures revealed that only a total of $1,091,000 had been received. This was definitely below the total that had been anticipated for the drive's end. Campaign officials pointed out that complete coverage of outstanding cards would have substantially increased the final figure.

Meeting Dec. 13

As a result, another Report Luncheon has been slated for next Monday noon at campaign headquarters, 203 Strand Building. Meanwhile, members of the "Cleanup Squad" are attempting to complete coverage on cards turned in by the workers to whom they had been assigned originally.

Alvin A. Sopkin, campaign chairman, issued an urgent plea to all workers with cards still in their possession to cover prospective donors "at once." He further requested that workers completing coverage of even a portion of their cards make immediate returns to GJC headquarters, rather than wait until next Monday's luncheon meeting.

Together with Archibald Silverman, GJC president, Sopkin asked all members of the community, who have not been contacted thus far, to make their pledges directly to the Strand Building offices.

"During the last week," Sopkin and Silverman pointed out, "several telephone calls have come into headquarters from people who have not been contacted by any of our workers. These people have wanted to know if they should make their pledge directly to our downtown offices."

"We have informed them—and we are passing this message on to all other uncontacted individuals—that we would deeply appreciate such a direct contribution, inasmuch as we are anxious to wind up our campaign as rapidly as possible. If it is inconvenient for any person to visit us directly, we will be pleased to take the pledged amount over the telephone. Call GA 4111."

Founders Plan Rummage Sale

Mrs. Harry Yuloff, vice-president of the R. I. Founders for Tubercular Patients, and acting chairman of the forthcoming rummage sale, requested this week that those persons having rummage material contact her at HO 5357. Proceeds of the sale will be used for the purchase of clothing and underwear for needy tubercular patients.

The organization also wishes to thank the anonymous donor of a dozen pairs of pajamas. These will be distributed at the next visitation to Rutland and Wallum Lake Sanatoriums.

Daughterhood Bowling

By RUTH TANENBAUM

Another perfect attendance for our league last week. The new competitive system is causing quite a commotion, with every gal straining to hit the "jackpot".

Winners of the first string honors were Harriet Keller—92, and Doris Levin—95; second string, Ruth Tanenbaum—105, and Flo Bilak—96; third, Diane Chorney—107, and Eleanor Jacobson—95. Eleanor still holds the high single record with 114 and Flo Bilak is our champ in the average department with 89.

The girls of the Daughterhood have sought for the past few years to compete with other women's bowling leagues. Maybe we can get a ladies' tournament started this season. It's worth thinking about.
