Ask All Zionists to Have One Drive

TEL AVIV—All Zionist fund-raising organizations in the United States will be asked to conduct a joint campaign with the United Jewish Appeal in 1950, the Jewish Agency Executive announced this week following a two-day conference which was attended by leaders of the Israeli Government, the Jewish Agency Executive and leaders of American fund-raising organizations who are now in this country.

The conference appointed a special committee to establish a licensing and control system for organizations raising funds for Israel in the United States outside of the United Jewish Appeal and to eliminate overlapping and duplicating agencies. It called upon all responsible groups in America to cooperate with the committee.

Many fund-raising drives which are now under way in the United States make no constructive contribution to Israel's welfare and are harmful because they prevent the achievement of the most effective maximum support for the Jewish state, the conference declared. Such multiple campaigns represent a serious threat to the success of the U. J. A. campaign in 1950, said the statement.

Participating in the conference was Henry Montor, UJA director, who was asked by the conference to continue his leadership of the campaign next year.

Celler Fears Armistice is Worthless

NEW YORK—Rep. Celler (D-Manhattan) spoke against permitting the resignation of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, UN Acting Mediator for Palestine, warning that armistice agreements between Israel and the Arab states "may not be worth the paper they are written on."

Dr. Bunche had asked that his functions be transferred to a UN commission, maintaining that the military phase of the conflict was over.

Celler said that "unfortunately, reports reach us that the military phase of the conflict is not over."

"It would be tragic indeed," the representative continued in his criticism, "if the United Nations, on the advice of Dr. Bunche, twiddles its thumbs and assumes a do-nothing attitude. Despite the paper armistices, the conciliation and mediation processes must continue.

"Under the guise and subterfuge of treaty agreements, Britain has now lifted the arms embargo to Arab nations. Vast quantities of small arms are pouring into Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Transjordan and Lebanon, soon to be followed by heavier equipment and artillery. Against whom will these arms be used? Only against Israel in a Holy War."

Rabbis Give Agency Ultimatum on Aid

JERUSALEM—The conference of American, Israeli and other rabbis held here at the initiative of a delegation of the United States and Canada this week decided to ask the Jewish Agency for $500,000 to be allocated in its budget for yeshivoth "which are now in a desperate situation."

The rabbinical conference decided that if the Jewish Agency executive does not comply with the request, the rabbis will start an independent fund raising campaign in the United States. Chief Rabbi Isaac Herzog, Minister of Religion, Judah L. Maimon and other Israeli religious leaders would in this case proceed to the United States to help in such a campaign.

To Rebury Body of Herzl in Jerusalem

JERUSALEM—The body of Dr. Theodor Herzl, the founder of political Zionism, who in the 1890's promoted the first practical steps which led ultimately to the establishment of Israel, will be reinterred in Jerusalem on Aug. 17. It will arrive here by plane on Aug. 16 from Vienna, where he died and was buried in 1904.

This event is regarded here as the biggest of its kind since the burial near Nablus of the mummified remains of Joseph, which the Prophet Moses took along on the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt.

The reinterment of Dr. Herzl will take place on a hilltop between Beth Hakerem and Beit Vagan, in the southwestern part of Jerusalem, about four miles from the Arab Legion lines. The ceremony will be witnessed by about 7,000 people, including pairs from all Jewish settlements in Israel who will place little bags of earth from their village in the grave over the coffin. There will be no speeches and no flowers, in accordance with Dr. Herzl's request in his last will.

The body will be brought to Tel Aviv on Aug. 16 and will lie in state in the Knesset (Assembly) chamber.

According to the plans, an Israeli aircraft will call for the body at Vienna. After a service in a Vienna synagogue, the coffin will be flown to Lydda. There will be a guard of honor on board, including representatives of the Government and the Jewish Agency. The plane will be met over the Mediterranean by a flight of war planes and escorted to Lydda, where Government officials and Jewish Agency leaders will be waiting.

In Jerusalem there will be a three-mile procession to the burial ground. About 5,000 Jerusalemites together with contingents from the rest of Israel will form the procession.

The general public will not be able to take part in the funeral. (Continued on Page 3)

Contemplate Establishment of Zionist House In Providence

Jewish Exhibit In Ft. Knox "Hall of Religion"

Chaplain Joseph B. Messing (right), Jewish chaplain at Ft. Knox, Ky., explaining to Catholic and Protestant colleagues items in Jewish exhibit, contents of which were furnished by National Jewish Welfare Board (JWB). The exhibit, along with Protestant and Catholic displays, is located in recently opened "Hall of Religion," established by Third Armored Division to promote interfaith understanding. All Ft. Knox enlistees as well as men and officers transferred to Division, are required to visit "Hall of Religion" as part of orientation. Included in overall exhibit are altars and sacred objects pertaining thereto; a number of Bibles in different languages; a picture of the four chaplains who went down on the Dorchester, and other items. Viewing exhibit are Catholic Chaplain MacMahon (center) and Protestant Chaplain Paul Maurer.

Group Would Buy Old Police Station

Establishment of a Zionist House in Providence is being planned by a group of prominent local Zionists, the Herald learned this week. The proposed site of the project is the old police station on Sessions Street, which soon will be offered for public sale.

When queried about the plan by this newspaper, Mrs. Archibald Silverman, one of the sponsors of the project, explained that there is as yet no certainty that the plan will go through. "It certainly must not interfere with the annual UJA campaign," she said, "and it must be conducted in such a way that it will not divert one penny from Israel."

There will be no competition between the Zionist House, if it is built, and other community institutions, such as the Jewish Community Center, Mrs. Silverman asserted. Rather, she emphasized, it is to be a center of Zionist activity for Zionist organizations, and will eliminate the need for various Zionist groups to hire halls and rooms and vestries for their meetings and other affairs. The revenue that is spent annually on such rentals could pay a good share of the cost of operating the Zionist House, she estimated.

Only Zionists will be asked to contribute toward the establishment of the project, Mrs. Silverman said. Zionist youth will not be solicited.

Jacob Goodman Gets State Appointment

Jacob Goodman, Pawtucket attorney and businessman, was one of six appointees named by Gov. John O. Pastore this week to serve on the committee which will recommend revision of the State's charitable trust laws. The committee, which was granted a $4000 appropriation, is to report its findings by December 1 of this year.

Goodman, who formerly was an instructor at Brown University, the University of Michigan and Rutgers University, is married to the former Miss Freda Feldman. The couple have two sons. They reside at 20 Waltham Street, Pawtucket.

NEGEV URBAN CENTER

TEL AVIV—Israel has begun making preparations for the construction of a brand new town in the Negev, which will eventually become the chief urban center for the entire southern region of the country. The town will be erected in the neighborhood of Beersheba.

War Vets, Unemployed Demonstrate in Israel

TEL AVIV—Four hundred unemployed persons shouting, "bread and work," broke into the courtyard of Israel's Parliament building here in Tel Aviv last week and grappled with police reserves. Eleven of the demonstrators received injuries which required medical treatment.

While the main body was presenting its demand that a delegation be received by the praesidium of the Knesset, a group of the demonstrators forced open the gates of the Parliament compelling police to use force to expel them.

Regrets that "irresponsible parties" found it necessary to demonstrate in front of the Parliament was expressed by Joseph Sprinzak, Speaker of the Knesset, in opening this week's session. He strongly condemned the forcing of the gates while the praesidium of the Knesset discussed the question of receiving a delegation of demonstrators. He praised the attitude of the policemen and their patience in the face of provocation.

Pictures Called Off Because of the Heat

Because of this week's excessive heat, the Herald's editorial staff made the momentous decision to keep the size of this week's issue to a minimum, so that the sweltering staff and pressmen might obtain a little relief. Besides, it was felt that publication of beach pictures on this particular week would simply remind everyone of the heat and add to the general discomfort.

All of which is a roundabout way of saying that our two page layout of Narragansett Pier pictures scheduled for this week have been held up. They will definitely appear, however, in next week's issue.

By virtue of a final game win over Krasnoff's Creamery, Miller's Delicatessen nosed across the finish wire one length ahead of the onrushing Comets of Mal's Baby Stores as the Jewish Softball League's regular season came to its close last Sunday.

The Comets, coming down the stretch like a whirlwind, kept alive their chances of finishing in a tie for first place by whipping Windsor Rhodes in both games while Krasnoff's was upsetting Miller's in the opening game; but the Hope Streeters salvaged their finale to clinch the top spot.

Elsewhere, Jack's Old Timers finished in third place by splitting with Richards Clothing, which swamped Pinkerson's twice, while the Olympics and Orioles became embroiled in an argument over a forfeited game that resulted in a decision for a replay. That means that one of these two clubs will be outside looking in when the playoffs begin next week.

Hersch No-Hitter

Major closing day honors went to Harold Hersch of Miller's, who twirled the first no-hit, no-run game in the league's two year history. Hersch walked three and one man reached on an error as he steered the Delicatesseneers to their important win. Miller's blew a 9-3 lead after two were out in the seventh inning of the opener and lost 10-9.

Warren (Red) Foster, recovered from a recent auto accident, pitched the Comets to a 6-3 win over Windsor Rhodes and DelVecchio did the honors for a 5-4 nightcap triumph. Red gave up six hits to Espo's seven in the opener, while DelVecchio pitched a 3-hitter as opposed to N. Schwartz' 5-hitter in the second game. Foster's double climaxed a 4-run fourth inning that salted away his contest.

Reversing their usual procedure, the Old Timers dropped the opener to Richards 2-1, leaving 11 men on base, while Lefty Davidson allowed but four hits in a losing cause. The Old Timers slugged their way to a 10-7 win in the finale, featured by Al Abelson's long triple with the bases loaded and Bobby Goldis' 2-run home run.

Arden's pummelled Pinkerson's 20-1 in their first game, and 5-2 in the second. Carl Lefkowitz twirled both games for the winners, and did some lusty hitting to boot. Herb Mandell also stood out.

Forfeit Thrown Out

The Olympics of Cadillac Textile won a forfeit victory over Philip Dwares' Orioles, only to have a subsequent protest upheld by Commissioner Irving (Tex) Rabinowitz, who ruled that the game must be replayed. The aroused Orioles swarmed all over

Zionist House Contemplated Here

Mrs. Silverman described the Zionist House idea as one of the things she has wanted to see accomplished here for many years, and she pointed to other cities, such as Boston, which have successfully established such a building.

"Such an organization becomes the center of Zionist activity wherever it is established," she said. "It lends dignity to the Zionist movement. It affects its members like a spiritual blood transfusion—and it is especially valuable to the youth, who tend to drift away when they are homeless".

Lefty Abe Lobel for eight runs in the first two innings to win the second game, 8-3. The Olympics' only bright spot was the pitching of Lowell Leonard over the last three innings.

No arrangements for the replay had been made as this issue went to press.

but will be able to hear a running description of the proceedings over the Voice of Israel.

Dr. Herzl's will made no mention of any particular spot for burial. It said: "I want a modest funeral without speeches and without flowers. It is my wish to be buried in a metal casket, beside my father, and to lie there until the Jewish people will carry my remains to the Land of Israel."

The first practical steps to carry out this wish were taken in 1933 at the eighteenth Zionist Congress. But there was disagreement as to where the remains should be interred. In 1935, it was decided that the burial should take place in Jerusalem for political, national and historical reasons. But Arab riots broke out the following year and continued until 1939 when World War II broke out. Since the end of the war, Israel had its own war of independence, which further delayed the reinterment until this month.

Warns of Nazis Regaining Control

Many former Nazis are regaining their positions in the educational and cultural life of Germany. Dr. Harold Grabill, chief of the education program of Bremen, Germany, warned this week in a talk given at Salk's Manor, Narragansett Pier.

Dr. Grabill, who has been in Germany for four years as head of the American school program in Bremen, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Fine.

He was a delegate at the recent International Conference on Comparative Education held at Chiemsee, Germany, and has just returned to this country to report on conditions abroad.

In his address, Dr. Grabill, who taught at Indiana University before going to Germany, declared that it will be necessary to supervise German education for many years to come. He warned that if this country leaves Germany now, much of the good work that has been done will be ruined.

"It is essential," Dr. Grabill stressed, "that Americans understand what is taking place in Germany today. We must not let the former influential Nazis regain control of the cultural life of Germany. Unless we are careful that will happen. Too much is at stake for us to lose the peace by default."

As a specific suggestion, Dr. Grabill proposed that all American citizens keep themselves informed on what is taking place in Germany and to insist that the democratic elements receive our support. He noted that despite the efforts of the government, anti-Semitism is gradually creeping back into the German spirit.

He decried this development and called for greater vigilance on the part of American cultural advisers to prevent its spread.

Another series of cultural evenings, sponsored by the education committee in charge includes Mr. Salk, Mrs. Charles Coken and Mrs. Samuel Rosenberg, all of Providence.

Speaker. Representatives of the Mapai and of the Agudas Israel said that "certain specific parties" are inciting some of the newly-arrived immigrants to stage demonstrations.

Another demonstration for "work and bread"—this time held by about 300 war veterans took place the next day. The demonstrators reached Hakiryia, the area in which all government offices are located, where they were halted by a strong police guard. A delegation was, however, admitted to the Labor Ministry.

Mrs. L. Victor Weil of New York and Monmouth County, N. J., announces the engagement of her daughter, Mrs. Madeleine Schiffer Eisner, to Bruce G. Sundlun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Sundlun of Providence.

The bride-elect, the daughter of the late Samuel Schiffer, was graduated from the Dwight School, Englewood, N. J., and attended the College Feminin de Bouffemont near Paris, France. She is the sister of Mrs. Richard Stanley of Chappaqua, N. Y., and Herbert F. Schiffer of West Chester, Pa.

Mr. Sundlun, a graduate of Williams College and Harvard Law School, served for four years as a bomber pilot with the Army Air Forces during the past war. At present he is commanding officer of the 30th Troop Carrier Squadron (M) in the Air Reserve. Mr. Sundlun is currently practicing law in Providence and is chairman of the Young Adult Division of the 1949 United Jewish Appeal Drive. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity, The Williams Club and The Harvard Club of Boston.

Center Camps In Salute to Israel

Children enrolled in day camps of the Jewish Community Center will present their "Salute to Israel" as part of camp programs conducted at Camp Centerland, Hope, R. I. and Camptown, Joseph Williams Park, South Providence.

Camptown will hold its "Salute to Israel" today at the Center, 65 Benefit Street. The program is under the supervision of Eleanor Galkin, Seena Kovitch, Fredlyn Kovitch, Howard Bernstein and Stanley Fine.

Centerland will hold its "Salute to Israel" next Wednesday, August 17, at the camp site.

The children have been working on pageants depicting the experiences of D. P.'s enroute to Israel and daily life in Israel today. Appropriate costumes are being prepared by the campers to match the Palestinian songs and dances of the festive occasions.

Community leaders have been invited to participate in the program at both camps.

Home Residents Attend Outing

Approximately 35 residents of the Jewish Home for the Aged attended an outing at the home of Mrs. S. J. Tenenbaum, 57 Royal Avenue, Conimicut. Refreshments were served and games played.

Israel, Ford Motors Complete Agreement

TEL AVIV—A $4,000,000 agreement was concluded this week between the Israeli government and the American Ford Motor Company, after negotiations lasting for about two months. The agreement provides for the Ford Company to supply motor vehicles to Israel, including trucks and passenger cars for private and public use. Part of the $4,000,000 will be paid from the loan which the Israeli Government secured from the U. S. Export-Import Bank. Other American automobile companies, including General Motors, were reported here as having agreed to similar arrangements. Negotiations are also going on here with Ford representatives for the erection of an automobile assembly plant in Israel.

End of Kosher Meat in Britain Seen

LONDON—No kosher meat will be produced in England after the end of this year unless approved slaughtering pens are adopted by kosher slaughtering houses, it was announced this week in the House of Lords. The announcement was made by the Earl of Huntingdon, parliamentary secretary of the ministry for agriculture.

Summer Recipes

If you want to serve something refreshingly delicious during the summer we recommend a cream puff that is lovely to look at and tastes better than it looks. If you have ever had a desire to make cream puffs but were afraid they wouldn't come out good, then you should try this new recipe just out of the Spry experimental kitchen. Even if you are an inexperienced cook you can be sure of success by just following the simple directions. You'll love these crispy-tender puffs that are so popular but not served too often.

CHOCOLATE MINT CREAM PUFFS

- 1/4 cup Spry
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, unbeaten

Bring Spry and water to the boiling point in a saucepan. Mix flour and salt. Add to water all at once and beat vigorously until mixture is thick and smooth and comes away easily from sides of pan. Remove from heat. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition until mixture is smooth and well blended. Drop mixture in 10 portions (about 2 tablespoons each) on a Sprycoated baking sheet about 2 inches apart. Mixture should hold its shape and not spread. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F. for 10 minutes, then reduce heat slightly to 400 degrees and bake 20-25 minutes longer. Cool. Split puffs, fill with Chocolate Mint Filling and serve chilled with topping of whipped cream. Makes 10 puffs.

CHOCOLATE MINT FILLING

- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1 1/2 ounces chocolate, melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract

Mix sugar, flour, and salt together thoroughly. Add milk and mix well. Add egg yolks and blend. Place over hot water and cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly (about 10 minutes). Cool, stirring occasionally to prevent a skin from forming on top. Add melted chocolate and flavoring extracts and blend. Makes enough filling for 10 cream puffs.

TOMATO TROPICAL SPECIAL

- 2 large tomatoes
- 1 firm banana
- 3 tablespoons finely grated cheese
- salt, paprika
- melted butter

Cut each tomato crosswise into three thick slices. Banana should be all yellow or slightly green-tipped. Peel banana and slice very thin. Arrange overlapping slices of banana on each piece of tomato. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt, cheese and paprika. Place in a buttered shallow baking pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 20 minutes or until bananas are tender ... easily pierced with a fork ... and cheese is lightly browned. Serve hot. Serves six.

Weizmann, Ford Arrange 1800 Vehicle Deal

DETROIT—Henry Ford II has announced that the Ford Motor Company will start immediate production of the approximately $4,000,000 worth of trucks and buses which have been ordered from the Ford Company for shipment to Israel.

Ford said that representatives of the Israeli government and of Ford International had conferred on the purchase, which covers approximately 1800 vehicles.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, President of Israel, told Ford about the new state's acute transport problems at a New York luncheon conference in April when the President visited the United States.

At this luncheon Dr. Weizmann outlined the difficulties faced by Israel in this period of the new nation's existence. For this reason, Ford Motor Company is making a departure from its usual commercial policy on sales to foreign governments, Mr. Ford continued.

"In this case," he said, "our purchase agreements with Israel specify that an immediate payment of 40 per cent of the total will be made in dollars from funds Israel receives from the Export-Import Bank. The company will extend credit on the 60 per cent balance, which will be paid in

Two Greek Jews Given Life

ATHENS—Two Greek Jews, the brothers Samuel and Leon Cohen, were sentenced to life imprisonment by a Greek military court at Volos on charges of having been in contact with the rebels. It was learned here. The court condemned two other Jews on the same charge.

equal annual installments over a three-year period."

Engines and other component parts will be manufactured in the company's River Rouge plants, assembled in the plant at Edgewater, N. J., and loaded at Atlantic coast ports as quickly as shipping can be obtained on vessels going to Israel.

Attempt to Breathe Life Into Grays

A move to get the city of Providence back into organized baseball was reported under way this week by Lester Siegel, public relations director of the defunct Providence Grays.

Siegel revealed that he has been in contact with local civic leaders and officials of the Cleveland Indians, who currently enjoy the title of World Champions. He quoted a recent letter received by him from Henry "Hank" Greenberg, former Detroit Tiger star and now vice-president and farm director of the Cleveland club, as follows:

"In cooperation with the City of Providence, Cleveland would be interested in retaining a professional baseball franchise in Providence, but it would first be necessary for the City officials of Providence to indicate a strong desire to have Providence represented in organized baseball." Greenberg added: "I am sure that our farm system could supply Providence with a winning team."

It is understood that Providence will have to build a ball park before any major league outfit is willing to invest a team here. Siegel's efforts are being directed largely along that line.

The Arab Refugee Problem

Reversal of Israeli policy on the Arab refugee issue, brought about by U. S. pressure, threatens to "recreate the Palestine problem" and retard the development of the new Jewish state.

Though Foreign Minister Sharett and the government propaganda machine explain their sudden willingness to discuss the repatriation of 100,000 Arab refugees as part of a sincere desire to contribute to a solution of the problem, it is definitely known that it was unrelenting U. S. pressure which forced this reversal.

Since June the U. S. State Dept. has been bringing pressure to bear in the knowledge that Israel's increasing difficulty in meeting its immigration obligations would increase its financial dependence on the U. S.

The results of this pressure are clearly indicated in the reactions of the Israeli government. At the time of the first U. S. move last June, Israel promptly and vigorously rejected the "strong suggestions" that it should make "concessions" to the Arabs on the refugee and territorial questions.

Reports brought back to Tel Aviv a few weeks ago by Audrey S. Eban, permanent Israeli delegate to the U. N., and by Dr. Eliahu Elath, Israeli Ambassador to the U. S., indicated that the State Dept. did not intend to deviate from its new policy toward Israel.

Apprehension over the new Arab policy is not limited to opposition circles, which greeted it with bitterness. Within the government, and even in the Foreign Ministry, too, various officials are deeply worried by the ultimate implications of what is described as an "ill-conceived and premature concession."

The general feeling exists that, in the final analysis, Israel will be burdened with a far greater Arab problem than the present concession has indicated.

The current uncontrollable and large-scale infiltration of Arab refugees is rapidly bringing the total in the country to 200,000. Observers foresee the possibility that Israel may end up with an aggrieved, bitter and resentful Arab minority, possibly totaling 350,000.

This number, according to British Mandatory Government statistics, would be roughly 100,000 less than the total number of Arabs who have been living in Israel under the original U. N. Partition Plan.

However, the failure of the Arabs to accept the Partition Plan, the Arab aggression, which was followed by the mass exodus of the Arab population; the victories of Israel's arms, and the settlement of new Jewish immigrants in abandoned Arab villages and on abandoned Arab properties, has radically altered the complexity and composition of the whole situation.

Critics believe that the establishment now of large Arab minorities within the state will result in endless tension and friction with wide repercussions and will drastically block immigration and development efforts.

Plain Talk

By ALFRED SEGAL

JEWES AND JEWS

I like the idea of the Judah L. Magnes Foundation, Inc., much better than that of the American Council for Judaism (anti-Zionist). Some of my best friends are in the American Council and to spank them hurts me as much as it may hurt them.

I'm going to send some money to the Magnes Foundation but not a nickel to the American Council for Judaism. (I used to belong to it.)

It seems to me that my friends in the American Council for Judaism care more for their own standing in the American community than they do about Judaism. "Where does the Jewish state in Palestine put us? How will we look as American Jews whose kinsmen are citizens of a Jewish state?" (They had a convention in Chicago recently.)

They remind me of a lady primping before her mirror at the wrong time. Outside her house a noble pageant is marching by—a symbolism, let's say, of mankind striving forward. Prophets and saints are marching under all the gallant historic banners. The whole town is on the streets in ecstasy. But the lady is making up her face. "How do I look?" She daren't be seen at the pageant without her make-up on.

Magnes a Man of Peace

The late Judah L. Magnes (he was president of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem and one of the early Zionists) wasn't any too far from the American Council for Judaism on the matter of a state in Palestine. The Council was against a Jewish state; Dr. Magnes was opposed to an exclusive Jewish state. He desired a bi-national state of Jews and Arabs.

He was a man of peace in the pattern of the prophets. His concept of Judaism involved the brotherhood of man. Precisely because he was Jewish in the sense of the prophets, he thought of a Palestine in which Jew and Arab could live together and work as one for the good of the land.

After his death recently, his friends, looking at the state of Israel, saw it was good. True, it wasn't the bi-national state Judah Magnes had contemplated but it was good. Their hearts beat high. Israel had been established by the blood, sweat and tears of its children and their parents. Their idealism had conquered six aggressive nations. Some 60 nations had accepted Israel by recognition. Israel was an effective government in being. It was giving refuge to thousands of the oppressed each month. It was building a good country.

But the American Council for Judaism seemed sulking. Its eyes were dim in the presence of the swelling historic drama. Its pulse did not quicken. It said it wished Israel well but... It was feeling troubled on account of its own sickly self. "What will other Americans think of us Jews who are somehow related to those people in Israel? What will they say of us now that there is this State of Israel?"

Couldn't Stand Aloof

The friends of peace-loving Judah Magnes saw his cause of a bi-national Jewish state defeated but couldn't stand aloof from the good of Israel on that account. They looked about for ways to help make the new state good; to exalt peace there, to establish justice, to lead toward the brotherhood, to bring together Jews and Arabs in fraternity; to make a noble showing to a world horribly sundered by the foul prejudices of religion and race.

This was the dream of Judah Magnes. He could be made greatly to live in the fulfillment of this dream. His friends have put it all in a letter signed by James Marshall, president of the Judah L. Magnes Foundation, 11 West 42nd Street, Suite 785, New York 18. Mr. Marshall was saying:

"In the months that have passed since the death of Dr. Judah L. Magnes, there has developed a growing realization of the vital need to continue his untiring work for better understanding between Jews and Arabs. The members of the Israeli Government have expressed their desires for amity and co-operation. President Chaim Weizmann has said that the world will judge Israel by what it will do with the Arabs."

"A group of Dr. Magnes' friends and admirers in this country have organized the Judah L. Magnes Foundation. Our purpose is to promote peaceful relations between Arabs and Jews, and thus to keep alive the memory of his life work. We feel we owe this to Dr. Magnes and to those who believe in the cause for which he worked. We think you would want to be a part of this group."

Exchange Scholarships

"Our plans for the immediate future contemplate the publication of material promoting better relations between Jews and Arabs; the establishment of exchange scholarships where Israeli and Arab students may study in each other's universities; and the publication of a memorial volume to Dr. Magnes. Other projects that have been considered will depend upon the support which you and others give."

May I commend to my friends in the American Council for Judaism that this is really a way to be working FOR Judaism, as they profess to be doing. It is a way of working for Judaism without any abasement of fear.

It speaks bravely for itself. "Yes, we are Jews by religion and Americans by nationality. We assert our Judaism by the practice of its ideals. Its noblest ideal long ago was given in Leviticus: 'Thou shalt love thy neighbors as thyself.'"

"By loving the Arab neighbor in Palestine, Jews in Israel will fulfill their teaching and give to the world an exemplar. This will be a victory even beyond Israel's victory of arms."

"This is Judaism in its loftiest expression and it is the Judaism we are for. It was the Judaism of Leon Magnes. If we feel ourselves to be Jews by religion we must more than merely mouth this identity. We shall need no defense if we are Jews who behave in accordance with Judaism's ethical teaching."

And as for our being Americans, no one thinks James Marshall any less an American for speaking up for brotherhood in Palestine.

The Jewish Quiz Box

By Rabbi Samuel J. Fox

Question: Why is it customary to eat gefilte fish on Friday night? (B. B., Los Angeles, Calif.)

Answer: There are a number of interesting answers to this question. Apparently the fact that "gefilte fish" is prepared in round pieces may be a symbol of the manna which the Jews ate in their journey through the desert and which came in round pieces. On the Sabbath the roundness of the "kugel" has the same significance. It seems that the notion of eating fish, in general, had a very important significance on the Sabbath.

Some sources speak of the three creations that were blessed in sequence as they were created—fish on the fifth day, man on the sixth and the Sabbath on the seventh. A three-fold blessing is always revered in Jewish life, so on the Sabbath, the Jew joins the fish to his Sabbath and adds himself for the three-fold blessing.

Another interesting reason advanced is that the custom dates back from the days when the Jews were receiving manna. This manna is said to have had every possible taste available for the individual except that of fish—and that is what made the Jews complain by saying: "We remember the fish we ate in Egypt." Fish therefore assumed a special taste of its own and on the Sabbath a Jew is supposed to have every possible sort of delicacy—so he pays special tribute to the fish which was the only taste not available in the manna. Other authorities point to the fact that the fish always has its eyes open and is representative of the Almighty who "never slumbers or sleeps" in watching over his people. Some sources indicate the fact that the life of the fish is in water yet he jumps up to catch the raindrops in his open mouth. The Jewish people live by the Torah which is likened to the waters of the eternal fountain. Others point to the fact that fish was once a rare delicacy and in Jewish life one always saves the rarest of delicacies for the Sabbath.

SYD COHEN:

Golf Tourney Set
For August 26-28

The first annual Jewish Open Golf Tournament in Rhode Island will be held at the Louisquisset Golf Course on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 26, 27 and 28. Applications are now being taken, and upwards of 25 entries already have been received.

This may sound strange in view of certain comments regarding golf made in this column. Yet, it is a fact that the groundwork for the tournament has been laid, preliminary plans have been accomplished, and the entry lists have been started—all in advance of any public notice to that effect.

To Harry Platt goes the credit for teeing off on the tourney idea and getting the event underway. Harry has made all the arrangements himself and will head the committee that will stage the tournament. Furthermore, his sporting goods company will donate the trophy that will adorn the favorite mantelpiece of the winner. A sizeable contribution toward our growing sports program, by any standards.

Due to Harry's efforts, Joe Pezzullo of Louisquisset has reserved the three dates for the tournament and has promised to give preference on the course on those dates to our contestants. That is a major consideration that should have a great deal to do with making the match a success.

Qualifying Round

Present plans will permit all golfers to compete, regardless of their competitive ranking. A qualifying round will be conducted in order to separate all contestants into their proper rank, and the tournament then will be held with as many different classes as are needed. Every class will have a separate trophy for its winner. No golfer will be eliminated in the qualifying round.

A tournament fee of one dollar will be assessed all contestants, the money to be accounted for and used by the committee that will handle the meet. It is hoped and intended that this will grow to be a major annual affair, and that some worthwhile fund may be set up with the money. Greens fees and caddy fees will, of course, be borne by the individual golfer. Joe Pezzullo assures us that the caddy master will be on hand to assist us.

Those are the major plans and preparations of the moment. They sound rather extensive for an opening announcement, don't they? Harry Platt accomplished all of it within a half hour or so last Saturday. What is more, a representative committee has been selected and will be named shortly, and every Jewish golfing group in the state will be contacted—or, if unknown to the committee, is invited to get in touch with Harry or this column in order to obtain representation.

Several of these groups and individual golfers already have been notified of the tournament by word of mouth and that accounts for the relatively high starting number of entries already received.

Slightly In the Dark

It is realized that the first annual event of any nature is largely experimental, and that it will take at least a few years of operation before we know exactly how to plan for it and what to expect. Platt and his committee realize that they are operating in the dark. The major unknowns are the number of contestants that may be expected to apply, the length of time that will be required for the qualifying round, how many classes the tourney will be divided into and whether the event can be completed in the three days allotted at present. Next year, and in future years, these problems may be safely estimated in advance; but for the inaugural tourney they must be conducted on a trial basis. That is understandable. Yet, all possible care will be taken to assure that the tournament is run off as smoothly and efficiently as possible.

Toward that end, all men planning to participate will be of great assistance to the committee if they sign up immediately. For the convenience of all, the Herald is printing on the bottom of this page an official entry blank. The blank form will be printed again next week, but written notification of any other kind will be acceptable. Applications may be sent to Harry Platt, 1526 Broad Street, or Syd Cohen, Jewish Herald, 76 Dorrance Street.

This information should be enough to get us started. The rest is up to you golfers. Let's get those applications in and assure our new golfing feature of being a success.

*Let's Talk
Things Over*

When Bob died, the neighbours fell to wondering what would happen to the family. He'd been a real family man, a steady earner, but he wasn't very old when the unexpected overtook him. It looked like disaster for the family. You see he'd recently built himself the nicest of homes and, of course, had made only a few payments on the mortgage. His eldest girl was going to high school, and the boy was looking forward to entering next year. The sudden death of Bob surely would end everything.

But it didn't. Of course, there was great grief, but much to everyone's surprise, the widow kept the home, the kids went to school, and the uprooting which everyone expected didn't come off.

You see Bob believed in life assurance. He knew how important it was to create an immediate estate out of his small savings. He knew too that only life assurance could do this. Now Bob's widow receives a constant income; her home is paid for; and all because Bob realized that it was part of his responsibility to look after his lovely wife and family in the best way he knew how.

Let's talk things over—today!

Announce Softball Playoff Plans

Team groupings for the opening round of the Jewish Softball League playoffs, which begin Sunday, August 21, were announced this week by Sidney Green, chairman of the league's executive committee.

Since the groupings depend on the position of the teams in the standings, it was necessary to flip a coin to decide the playoff standings of the three clubs that finished in a tie for fourth, fifth and sixth places. As a result of the "flip", fourth place was awarded to the Olympics or the Orioles, depending on which team wins the special replay of last Sunday's protested forfeit game awarded to the Olympics. Fifth place went to Richards and sixth to Arden's.

Pairings for the opening round will be: Miller's vs Arden's; Comets vs Richards, and Old Timers vs Olympics or Orioles.

Delegates of the playoff teams are asked to attend a special

U. S. Quota for Israel Set for 100

WASHINGTON — President Truman this week set an annual immigration quota from Israel to the United States. The quota is limited to 100 persons born in Palestine. Israelis born in other countries come under the immigration quotas set by the United States for their native lands.

(A report in the New York Herald Tribune this week stated that more than 10,000 applications for immigration to the United States have been filed with American consulates in Haifa and Tel Aviv. Consular officials are reported as saying that by including families, the total would reach a minimum of 15,000 Israelis seeking permanent residence in the United States. Many of the applicants seem to have been born in countries which enjoy large American immigration quotas. The Haifa Consulate has 4,447 applicants qualified to leave under various quotas.)

Chairman Pat McCarran of the Senate Judiciary Committee this week placed a virtual lid on Committee approval of new displaced persons legislation this session. The Senator stated that he could see no reason for rushing on such legislation until "maybe next May." He claimed that the 205,000 DP's authorized under existing legislation would not come in until that time.

No Record at "State"
Washington — Press reports which appeared this week stating that American consulates in Israel are being flooded with applications from people who wish to come to the United States for permanent residence were denied by a representative of the State Department.

It was said that the State Department has no record of 10,000 applications for emigration to this country, as was told in the newspaper reports, and that only about 3,000 such applications have been made. Most of these applicants, the representative declared, are Jewish refugees from Shanghai, China, who recently arrived in Israel for a temporary stay and whose original aim was to settle in the United States.

Dude Ranch Becomes Colony in Palestine

LOS ANGELES—While scouting locations for Universal International's new film about Palestine, "Sword in the Desert", producer Robert Buckner concentrated on the area around Monterey, California, where he had noticed, the coastline is almost an exact replica of Palestine coastal photographs which he used as a guide.

FCC to Investigate Anti-Semitic Charge

WASHINGTON—The Federal Communications Commission this week ordered a full-scale investi-which he used as a guide.

The picture, which is the first Hollywood film to deal with the smuggling of immigrants through the British blockade, called for a kibbutz, or Palestinian community settlement. Buckner insisted that the locales be as close to the actual sites as possible and rejected a studio-built set.

After days of traveling by plane and train in exhaustive efforts to find a suitable location, Buckner's assistants finally hit upon the perfect kibbutz. On a palm-lined road in the San Fernando Valley they found a group of low-lying buildings situated around a central square. A large sign outside read: McCARTHY'S DUDE RANCH.

Arrangements were made to use the ranch for the film and the following day the sign at the gate was replaced with another, printed in Hebrew letters and reading: "Ein Yaskov", or the Vale of Jacob.

gation of charges that G. A. Richards, owner of radio stations KMPC, Los Angeles, WJR, Detroit and WGAR, Cleveland, ordered his newscasters to "slant" news against Jews and others.

Mr. Richards was ordered to appear before the Commission, which will hear the evidence. Earlier, he petitioned the F. C. C. to approve a transfer of voting control of his stock in an effort to avoid a public hearing on his qualifications to continue as a radio station licensee.

Will Maslow, general counsel of the American Jewish Congress, hailed the decision as being of "tremendous significance" in preserving the United States from "the poison of hatred deliberately spread by those who abuse the privilege of being licensed to utilize media of communication like radio."
