GJC Furthers 'D-Day' Campaign Plans

As the 1949 General Jewish Committee fund-raising drive climbed to the $700,000 level this week, it became evident that success or failure of the "Year of Homecoming" campaign would depend primarily—from this point on—upon coverage of still unsolicited and unpledged potential donors.

Several GJC key workers and officials, at yesterday's Report Luncheon at 203 Strand Building, emphasized that the ultimate result of this city's campaign in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal and three score other beneficiary agencies would be determined by the "completeness and effectiveness of our solicitation of still unpledged cards."

"We have reached a crucial point in our drive," warned Joseph W. Ress, chairman of the Trade and Industry Division. "The campaign, thus far, has been most heartening—due to the fact that the overwhelming majority of gifts have 'held the line.'"

"But more than a third of all potential donors still remain to be contacted," he continued. "Not only must they all be covered during the remaining relatively few weeks of the campaign but we also must be certain that these contributors appreciate the importance of our cause and give accordingly."

Jewelry Workers to Meet
In line with this reasoning, Charles Rothman, chairman of the T and I's Jewelry Division, announced this week that a meeting of all workers in his division would be held next Tuesday evening at the new Ledgemont Country Club.

Bohnen, Mrs. Charles Blackman, representing the Sisterhood, and Dr. Myron Keller, representing the Men's Club. Nat C. Cohen was Master of Ceremonies.

Seated at the head table with the guest of honor and the principal speakers were Mrs. Rosen, Mrs. Bohnen, David Meyers and Daniel Jacobs.

Braude Radio Program Resumed

Dr. William G. Braude of Temple Beth El resumes his weekly radio series, "Ask The Rabbi", over Station WPRO tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock. Both the day and hour are the same as last year.

Dr. Braude will be pleased to answer questions for his listening audience.

Softball League's Banquet Draws 287

A new sporting and social event made an auspicious debut before local society on Tuesday evening when the two-year-old Jewish Softball League took the wraps off its long-awaited dinner-dance, first in an annual series, at the Coco-Cabana Club.

Indicative of the tremendous interest and enthusiasm manifested in the softball league this year was the official attendance at this new affair. Exactly 287 persons were on hand to take part in the varied activities that comprised the program for the evening.

Included in these activities were, in addition to the speaking program, presentation of awards, drawings for the league's raffle and numerous door prizes and a floor show.

Sen. Licht New Commissioner

Highlighting the program was the announcement that Sen. Frank Licht has been named as the new commissioner of the softball league, replacing Irving (Tex) Rabinowitz, who guided the league through its first two years but was forced to relinquish his post due to business pressure.

On behalf of the league champion Old Timers, Manager Al Abelson accepted the trophy donated by the Star Delicatessen for the Sackin-Shocket Post, Jewish War Veterans. Abelson, chairman of the dinner-dance committee and master of ceremonies, presented the trophy donated by Harry Platt and Joe Lozow of the Harry Platt Sporting Goods Co. to Sidney Green, manager of the Miller's Delicatessen team that finished first over the regular season. Abelson also presented a gift on behalf of the league to Mr. and Mrs. Rabinowitz.

The speaking program was headed by Mayor Dennis J. Roberts and Senator Licht, who read a letter of regret from Gov. John O. Pastore. Other speakers included Webb Youlden, director of sports promotion for the Providence Journal-Bulletin, and Green, as chairman of the league's executive committee. Ira Schreiber and Jack Appelbaum presided over the awarding of door and raffle prizes.

Other guests included Walter Rutman, editor and publisher of the Jewish Herald; Morris Kritzman, executive director, and Bernard Marks, activities director, of the Jewish Community Center; Rep. Al Brown and Rep. Samuel

Expect 300 Workers In City Solicitation

The YAD one-day solicitation will be made this coming Sunday starting at 9 o'clock. Breakfast will be served for the workers at the Narragansett. The General Division of the YAD is in charge of the campaign. More than 300 workers are expected and the YAD will this year cover more cards than before.

Bert Summers is chairman of the transportation committee and the general plan is to follow the pattern set by the Women's Division in their successful campaigns. Each car will take four workers and a Captain to the area selected and will pick them up and return to the Narragansett for their report.

In charge of the arrangements are: Bruce Sundlun, chairman of the Young Adult Division; Ruth Tanenbaum, Stanley Snyder, and Joseph Teverow, co-chairmen of the General Division YAD.

Israel Will Take All Jewish DP's

GENEVA—Israel will offer a home to all remaining Jewish displaced persons in the "hard core" of the injured sick, blind and aged, Shalom Adler-Rudel, a spokesman for the Israeli Government, told the International Refugee Organization this week.

Expressing regret that the Israeli Government could not take all these persons immediately because of overtaxed reception facilities, the spokesman said that the Israeli Government was determined that eventually no Jewish displaced person should be left in Germany or Austria merely because of physical handicaps. "These are the remnants of Dachau, Belsen," Mr Adler-Rudel said.

Israel has already accepted 11,000 families, of whom one or more members here suffered from handicaps. She accepts tubercular cases, neurotics and the limbless—all types of cases that among non-Jewish displaced persons are relegated to the so-called hard core for whom no future is visible except being dumped on German economy when the International Refugee Organization terminates. Apart from Norway, no country has made a significant gesture toward helping non-Jewish hard core cases. It is believed that there are about 5,000 Jewish and 45,000 non-Jewish cases in this category.

SEPTEMBER IMMIGRATION

HAIFA—A total of 2000 Jewish immigrants entered Israel in September.

Honored at Luncheon

MRS. ALBERT PILAVIN

More than 30 chairmen and co-chairmen of the Women's Division honored Mrs. Albert Pilavin, chairman of the recently concluded 1949 Homecoming Campaign, with a Bon Voyage luncheon at the Ledgemont Country Club October 13 at 12:30 o'clock.

The women eschewed the usual after-dinner speeches and staged instead an original humorous skit written by Mrs. Arthur J. Levy especially for this occasion. It was called "Rib Roast" and the cast included Mrs. Levy, Mrs. Harry Fowler, Mrs. Nathan Samors, Mrs. Joseph E. Adelson and Mrs. Robert Hochberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Pilavin sailed yesterday on the Queen Elizabeth for a seven weeks' journey that will include visits to England, France, Switzerland, Italy and Israel.

Israel Will Never Abandon Jerusalem

JERUSALEM—Acting President of Israel Joseph Sprinzak said this week that Israel will never abandon Jerusalem. He made this pledge at a reception tendered by the municipality at which a plea for active Knesset aid in transferring the capital of Israel to Jerusalem was made by acting Mayor Reuven Shraibman.

Nathan Friedman-Yellin, Sternist leader and Knesset deputy, said this week: "There will not be any foreign rule in Jerusalem." In a statement to the press he warned that the Sternists would "mobilize their ablest people to fight against any internationalization of Jerusalem. He also voiced opposition to internationalization of the Holy Places, maintaining that the Israel Government could protect them adequately.

U. N. Economic Mission In Israel

TEL AVIV—The 12-man U. N. Economic Survey Mission for the Middle East arrived this week at Lydda Airport. It is headed by Gordon R. Clapp of the U. S., and includes the three vice chairmen, Maj. Sir Desmond J. F. Morton of Great Britain, Eric Labonne of France and Kamil Gokkan of Turkey. Others are the general secretary, John Reedman, and the press officer, Albert Grand.

Heavy guards for the Mission were arranged as a routine precaution. All parties in Israel—including the former underground groups—are aware that the Mission is coming to Israel to plan the resettling of Arab displaced persons and there is no opposition to this principle.

AZA Presidential Ceremony

Jerome Cerel, incoming president of the Narragansett AZA, receives the organization gavel from the retiring president, Kenneth Rappaport, at ceremonies held October 11 at the Jewish Community Center. Other officers are Joel Zarum, vice president; Maynard Albert, secretary; Morton Bilsky, treasurer; Harvey Lisker, sergeant-at-arms; Richard Resnick, assistant sergeant-at-arms; Abbott Cutner, chaplain, and Harvey Schonfield, reporter. Norman Rappaport and Leonard Kaplan are junior advisors. Leo Weiss, guest speaker, was introduced by Joel Zarum. Dr. Aaron Nemtzow was installing officer. Narragansett B'nai B'rith Girls, headed by Marcia Chase, served refreshments.

Lou Chase Takes Jewish Open Title

A 6 and 5 victory by Lou Chase over Hank Darman in the final round marked the successful conclusion last week of the first annual Jewish Open Golf Tournament, staged at Louisquisset Country Club.

Chase thus joins Abe Fine as one of the new tourney's inaugural winners. Fine took top honors in the first flight. Chase the second. Each will receive a trophy awarded by Harry Platt of the Harry Platt Sporting Goods Company, sponsor of the tournament.

The climactic Chase-Darman battle was played in a fog, with visibility about 20 feet. Lou led all the way, going out in 38 as compared with Darman's 42.

The first meeting of the permanent committee of the Jewish Open will be held in the near future. Chase said this week, and plans will be immediately started for next year's tournament, along with other ideas that the committee has in mind.

U. N. Trends

The fight around the question of whether Jerusalem should be internationalized is assuming a new aspect in the lobbies of the United Nations.

One can hear some U. N. diplomats suggesting quietly that the entire issue be left open for another year. They believe that if the present session of the General Assembly will not take concrete action on the recommendation to have Jerusalem internationalized, it may be easier to straighten the matter out at the next assembly session. Their opinion is that time will point the best way to the solution of the problem.

In Jewish circles the feeling prevails that this is one case where time would work in favor of Israel.

United Nations' experts who are studying the problem from every angle are of the opinion that internationalization of Jerusalem can definitely not be enforced against Israel's will.

Even members of the American delegation at the U. N. are beginning to realize that imposing internationalization of Jerusalem on Israel will be a most difficult job. However, no American delegate has so far revealed his views on the subject to any member of the Israel delegation.

It is being taken for granted that the State Department will modify its policy advocating the placing of all Jerusalem under international control, although the U. S. Government is under heavy pressure to stick to its policy as announced by Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The chief pressure is coming from the Catholic church. American diplomats claim that Cardinal Spellman, who conferred with President Truman on the Jerusalem issue prior to his making a trip to the Vatican, is more "liberal" on this subject than "the younger elements" in the Catholic church in America. Britain would rather see Jerusalem partitioned and not internationalized, since this would keep Catholic influence out of Jerusalem.

Israeli Woman, 27, Has Key U. N. Role

LAKE SUCCESS—When Esther Herlitz walked into the Israeli Consulate in New York, staff members took a surprised look at the woman diplomat from Tel Aviv. Miss Herlitz was young—much too young, they felt—to be in charge of the Israeli Foreign Ministry's entire United States division in Tel Aviv.

Since that day, Miss Herlitz has given everyone plenty of indications that, while only 27, she knows her business. Here at the United Nations headquarters, she has taken her place with the Israeli delegation, not as an expert on women's affairs but as an adviser on political issues, particularly those affecting the new state of Israel.

Her real work will start, she feels, when the General Assembly takes up the question of a final settlement of the long-standing Palestine dispute between Israel and neighboring Arab countries.

Meanwhile, however, Miss Herlitz said, she is busy absorbing as much information about this country as she can gather on her first trip to the United States. She plans to spend some time inspecting the Tennessee Valley Authority irrigation projects because she thinks the TVA program is of great importance to Israel where giant irrigation works are being planned to convert the desert into arable land.

So far, Miss Herlitz said, she has been struck by the many similarities between Israel and the United States. Visiting historic shrines in Virginia, she found that people in this country talked of the American Revolution in the same spirit that Israeli citizens pointed out the sites of recent battlegrounds.

Like Americans, the people of Israel are interested keenly in mechanical devices and in new technical progress. They take particular pride in modern building, a new road or even the expansion of their still-limited utilities systems.

The people of Israel are deeply engrossed in such matters as starting new industries, expanding health facilities and improving their educational system, she said.

Miss Herlitz went to Palestine as a child of 6 from Germany with her family. She was schooled in Jerusalem and was graduated from the "School for Diplomats" set up in that city by the Jewish Agency for Palestine in preparation for statehood.

Pawt. B'nai B'rith Hears Capt. Sperber

Capt. Harry Sperber addressed 100 persons at a dinner-meeting of the Henry Friedman Lodge, B'nai B'rith, Monday night at Lindsay Tavern.

Captain Sperber, who was the chief interpreter at the Nuremberg War Trials, spoke on "The Frauleins Win the Peace".

Israel Zenofsky, president, was chairman of the affair.

"One Man's Opinion"

I Saw A Man Crying

By BERNARD SEGAL

He was a big stocky man, strong and vigorous, and he stood before us at the speakers table. It wasn't really a speech that this reddish-blond South Dakotan was delivering on behalf of the United Jewish Appeal. Not a speech in the usual sense. He followed no planned course, used no rhetorical gimmicks, no gesticulations, no performances. He just stood there talking of his days and months and years with people of all nationalities who lost their moorings in the wake of the Nazi conquests. And as he talked, and as he remembered, his voice broke, his lips quivered, his throat choked, and tears flowed down his cheeks.

It was strange to see this strong man of thirty odd years, this non-Jew crying over the plight of Jews who dwell in make-shift huts and tents on the sands of Judea.

He was there, Paul Edwards of South Dakota, and he knows the grimness of life in camps. He was with DPs in Israel, and he was with DPs in German camps, and he directed the evacuation of DPs from Berlin by airlift. He knows intimately the humiliation for men and women to be moved, evacuated, directed, by agencies and by officials and not to be able to plan their own destiny and to follow their own wills.

He met a man, Paul Edwards did, somewhere in Ohio, who told him frankly that he was tired of giving. To which Paul replied, deeply moved, tears dimming his eyes:

"By God, you are tired of giving! Don't you think they are tired of receiving? Do you think these people in the camps of Israel are not tired of waiting? Waiting for what?"

And he then turned from Jews who are tired of giving, to Christians who feel no guilt, and to governments who are ready to give millions for the rebuilding of Germany, and not a penny for the victims of that country.

"What will happen when the rains come?" the speaker suddenly asked of the people in front of him, the people who handle food, and sell drugs, who gathered at the call of the General Jewish Committee for a meeting of their trades.

"What will happen to the people

now dwelling in tents when the winter season comes to Israel?"

Paul Edwards was there, and he knows the days and the nights of November and December when the rains pour down incessantly and turn every little creek into a mighty river, and flood every dried river bed among the hills of Judea. The rains that are a blessing to the toilers of the soil, what will they mean to those who are crowded in tents and sleep on the bare ground? There are sixty thousand of them in one camp alone. What will become of them in a few short weeks?

And we saw a shiver pulse through every fiber of the speakers' face, and his voice came out broken with pain. We sat with bowed heads and ashen faces, saddened, and ashamed.

Ashamed if we ever thought that we gave enough. Didn't we help clean out the DP camps of Germany? Didn't we help transport to Israel all who wanted to go there? Isn't the worst over? Can't we cut down on our pledges this year?

Take it from Paul Edwards that the worst is not over as yet, and that we can undo everything we did until now, if we decide to be tired of giving and to cut down on our gifts even though we have no reason, financially, to do so.

Talking of cuts, someone related the case of a lady who gave only a third of last year's gift, and who has no reason for cutting since it is well known that she came into an inheritance of a small fortune. She, nevertheless, pleaded bad times as an excuse. To this Archibald Silverman replied, as is his habit, with an appropriate story.

A farmer came to loan the ax from his neighbor, since he broke his own. The man, who was apparently not the best neighbor in the world, replied that he would love to do it, but he can't just now, because he was getting ready to shave his whiskers.

"What has shaving your whiskers got to do with loaning the ax?" asked the wife.

"Nothing," said the husband, "but it is a good excuse, isn't it?"

The moral of the story? Let us not look for excuses. Most of them are as lame as the one of the ax.

GJC Leaders Urge Complete Coverage

Implementation of a thorough canvass of all unpledged cards in this group will be the main order of business, he stated.

The following evening—Wednesday, Oct. 26—will witness a joint dinner meeting of the Doctors and Dentists' divisions at the Wayland Manor. Drs. Nathan A. Bolot and Herman Grossman are co-chairmen of the former group; Dr. Ilie Berger heads the latter.

Paul B. Edwards, former Chief of Operations for the IRO in the U. S. Zone in Germany for three years, will be the principal speaker at Wednesday's combined gathering of these two professional groups.

Edwards to Speak

Regarded as one of the most effective and sincere speakers to address recent T and I dinners, Edwards is widely known as an ardent champion of the new state of Israel. Fifteen months in Israel as an UNRRA official, while Palestine was still under the Mandate, gave him a first-hand knowledge of the ultimate needs of the new Jewish homeland.

The Cranston Area Division, under the chairmanship of Al Cohen, will hold its fund-raising dinner at Lindy's Diner the same evening, Oct. 26. Yehuda Hellman, noted Israeli newspaperman, will address the gathering.

The fourth in a series of Report Luncheons is scheduled for Thursday noon, Oct. 27, at GJC headquarters.

Archibald Silverman, GJC president, and Alvin A. Sopkin, campaign chairman, in a joint statement this week, called attention to the fact that "the rainy season in Israel has begun. More than 70,000 recently arrived immigrants will have to live ankle-deep in mud, and almost always be cold and wet, as the result of inadequate housing facilities."

"A desperate need for funds is all that stands in the way of proper housing for these people. The sooner we complete our drive, the sooner we can forward cash to Israel and alleviate the miserable conditions of these newcomers. That is why coverage has become the keynote of our campaign at this point," they pointed out.

Israel Diary

By RUVAIN KLEIN

(Following are excerpts from letters written by Ruvain Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Klein, who is in Israel on a scholarship granted by the Rhode Island Zionist Region, to his parents in Providence. The letters are in Hebrew and have been translated by Mr. Klein.)

Sunday, 6th of Ab

I didn't write last week for a number of reasons. I was sick with a malady peculiar to the country—dysentery. I lost 10 lbs. in 2 days. But now I am well and will write regularly as before. I, the lazybones of the family, have been elected by the group to be the head of the waiters and also to be a member of the house-committee which deals with all phases of the welfare of the establishment (food, cases of illness and the like); and I am also an ex-officio member of the over-all committee. I have a new address now. When you write put the address down entirely in Hebrew and the letter will get to me faster than before.

August 9th

I have not seen Joseph (a cousin) yet, but in a short while (at the end of August) we shall be free and, God willing, I shall go down to Mishmar Hanegev to visit him. We get a full week-end once a month. That is, we leave here on Friday at 12 noon and return Sunday at 3:30 P.M. Next week I am going with a group to the Shelifah for a week's tour. Sunday we leave and Friday we return. This is a part of a course in the study of the land and its inhabitants. This course will consist of a series of week-long tours once a month to every part of the country. We shall visit the Negev, then Elath on the Gulf of Akabah; then the Galil. Just now we are going to the Shelifah and Emek Hefer. We shall also have 1½ days in Tel Aviv when I hope to see Professor Twersky (of the Boston Hebrew Teachers College). As for my letters, I feel they don't always leave the post-office because of censorship. In our history course, we must look up source-materials by ourselves and then give a talk on the subject of our investigation before the class. I am occupied with the era of the Hasmonean Kings. My group, the Hebrew speaking one, is also at work on a Hebrew paper. Every week ½ of the class gathers the news to print and edit. Last week I was one of the editors. This work is very interesting. We must assemble the news from Hebrew newspapers, and they are a good source for learning modern Hebrew. Another chap and I print the paper. No more time now. The bell just rang and I must go to my class.

Sunday, August 21st

Last week we went on a tour. We walked 2 days through the hills of Jerusalem and went down on foot from Eyn Kakerem to K'far Uriah, a distance of 40 kilometers. We slept in a police-station. According to a legend, it was from there the priests saw the Temple on fire in the year 70 C.E., after they fled the Romans during the Great Rebellion. And when they saw the fire they wept for the destruction of the Holy Edifice. From there we went by bus to Gederah. There we swam in the lake. From there to Tel Aviv, where we were taken to all sorts of factories. There we also saw a play of Habimah: "B'arvot Hanegev". It was truly a wonderful play. We also went to a variety of Moshavim and Moshavot, Kibbutim and K'vutzot in the Shelifah and Emek Hefer.

Olympic Bowling

By HOWARD COHEN

The Olympics opened their bowling season Monday night, rolling on new alleys, the Sunnyside, with many first-time bowlers. First night bowling, as a rule, is rather poor. This opening night was an exceptionally good one.

Archie Greenberg paced the J. Hochman team to a 4-point win over the J. Schwartz's with a sparkling 131 single and 348 three. Captain Jim wasn't lagging with a nice 177 and 323 and Cousin Sam Hochman was best for the losers.

Harold Teitelman proved to be the surprise of the H. Cohen team, outdoing himself with 120 single and 330 triple. His best last year was 30 pins less. Capt. Hap Aven and Teddy Leonard tried hard to stop the 4-0 loss but their 317 and 311 were not quite good enough.

First time Capt. Bernie Cohen led his team to a 3-1 win over last year's champ, Capt. Merle Rodyn, with a 116 single and a 316 triple. Newcomer Bob Rose helped the cause with two good strings, 107 and 103. Rodyn was best for his side with 315 three.

Steady bowling gave the I. Levines 4 points over brother-in-law Moe Malatt's men. Julian Holland was steadiest with a 302. Malatt's bowlers just rolled three balls a box.

Big curve bowlers are having a hard time at these new alleys. Those big hooks drift instead of break. There will be plenty of style changes before this season is over. A tip to the boys—only a slow hook, small size, will work.

All of the bowlers join to wish Seymour Sax a speedy recovery from his virus illness.

Sacrifice!

To the people of Israel, sacrifice has meant cutting their standard of living—their food, their clothes, their homes. They have done this so that they might receive and settle the flood of homeless refugees which is pouring through the gates of Israel. What does sacrifice mean to you? What are you prepared to do to make good our promise of aid to those who wait in barracks, in tents on the shores of Israel?

Beth El Bowling

By JOE GUTTERBALL

There are many reasons why a "96" bowler reaches the heights, but Irwin Silverstein, in last week's session of the Temple Beth-El Brotherhood League, had one as good as any. He turned in a three-string total of 389 to set a new high for the season, just a few days after his wife presented him with a new son. Silverstein's mark was the big reason why Don Zion's team bettered the existing high three-string team total. Zion's Keglars rolled a neat 1626 for the evening at the Casino Alleys on Pine St. Mush Cofman, who had the best three-string total before Silverstein "found the groove," also lost his top spot in the high averages. Frankie Mellion now leads the pack with an average of 113 4-6. The team race is turning into a hot battle, with Leo Kopit's quintet on top now. But, the handicap system went into effect this week, so anything can happen. There was another bright spot in last week's Beth-El bowling when Lou Mirman, whose 84 average places him fourth from the bottom among 99 bowlers, turned in a 122-string for Max Margolis' team. Since the Brotherhood will hold a dinner-dance at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel on November 10, Eddie Deutch, league president, says there won't be any bowling that night.

Emanuel Bowling

By JACK PLATRIN

There was in attendance at our first two weeks of bowling an inspired aggregation of competitors, but what impressed me most were the "Farm Hands" better known as the Subs, and it is bowlers of this type, most of them good, that spell victory in the tournaments. So we welcome into the fold these lads, N. H. Platt, M. Rigelhaupt, M. Price, S. Wunch, S. Glantz, M. Bender, B. Abrams, Jack Kaplan, Richard Platkin, H. Bromberg, P. Lavine, L. Horovitz, N. Perlow, W. Genser, and L. Bernstein.

There are quite a few birthdays in this popular month of October and we greet them in a sincere spirit, and continued health for many more bowling years. Irv Chase, W. Botvin, Leo Miller, Dave Dressler, H. Weinberg, Henry Markoff, Ed Lavine, Sam Chase, and Harry Chase. Last Monday night the boys sort of put the heat on with such scores as 359 for Mel Paynor and I. Chase; Buddy Gerber 347; S. Chase 350; Sonny Baker 335; Harold Robinson 337; A. Press 330; Orchoff 330; Len Waldman 320.

Mrs. Percelay to be Chairman of Session

Miss Marie Syrkin will be the featured speaker at the Sixth annual conference and luncheon sponsored by the National Women's League of the United Synagogue of American on behalf of the Jewish Theological Seminary. The Conference will be held on Tuesday, October 25th at the Community Center of the B'nai Jeshurun Congregation, West 89th Street, in New York City. Mrs. Abraham Percelay, a National Board member of the Women's League and a member of the National Executive Committee of Torah Fund will be chairman at the morning session. Mrs. Lester Emers is Chairman of the Torah Fund Garden party sponsored annually by the Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel. As formerly the affair will be held in the late Spring.

Beth-David Donor Affair Wednesday

Mrs. James Kaplan is chairman of the Beth David Mothers' Association donors dinner to be held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Narragansett Hotel. Assisting her are Mesdames Bernard Russ, co-chairman, David Kosofsky, Manny Kaplan, Joseph Lazarus, Ben Falcofsky, Philip Paige, Sam Pearlman, George Levy, John Fishman and Joseph Bram, ex-officio. Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen will be guest speaker and Miss Irene Polikoff will entertain.

Ahavath Sholom Sisterhood to Meet

A board meeting of the Ahavath Sholom Sisterhood was held October 13 to plan a schedule for the coming season. Refreshments were served after meeting by Mrs. Edward Port and Mrs. Arthur Mushnick. Cantor Nathaniel Zelondek will sing at the next meeting, Tuesday evening at 8:30 in the vestry of the new synagogue. Miss Dorothy Glick will accompany him. Miles Goldberg 324, Mike Miller 328, and Al Chase 323. Mel Paynor's Browns, who top the league have set up a high three of 1649 for the boys to shoot at.

seed-pearl sweetheart neckline and a bustle back, ending in a long train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a Bible marked with orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Hyman Grossberg, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, Norman Pomerantz, another cousin of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Harold Kerzner, David Horovitz, Milton Phillips, and Alton Molasky of Providence, Louis Bergelman of Cambridge and Morton Kasch of Newport. Gerald Grossberg was ring bearer and Myrna Rodyn was the flower girl.

Mrs. Berman wore a royal blue sequined gown and Mrs. Keller selected a navy blue gown. Each had an orchid corsage.

Following a wedding trip to Washington and New York, the couple will reside at 434 Prairie Avenue.

Goldman-Dashoff

Miss Sybil Arlene Dashoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dashoff of Fall River, and Seymour Milton Goldman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Goldman of Cranston, were married at a candle-light ceremony Sunday evening in the Crystal Ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel. Rabbi Samuel S. Ruderman of Fall River and Rabbi Morris Schussheim of this city, assisted by Cantor Marcus Gerlich of Fall River, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a mandarin-styled white slipper-satin gown and carried a Bible with an orchid marker. Attending her was Miss Selma Kanef of Worcester as maid of honor. Sidney Goldman, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Dashoff chose a royal blue crepe gown, while Mrs. Goldman selected a gown of peacock blue lace and crepe. Both had orchid corsages.

Guests from New York, New Jersey, Boston, Worcester and Fall River attended.

After a wedding trip to Miami Beach, the couple will reside at 93 Lexington Avenue, Providence.

SYD COHEN:

Local Boys
Making Good

The baseball season is gone, and the hypnotic-like spell in which it held so many of us has been broken. We are back to normal, most of us. Our hearts have stopped pounding after all those crucial, excruciating games and innings and our thoughts are focused again on what's going on around us, at home.

It takes a while to become accustomed to the comparative calm and quiet of once-a-week action on the football front and twice-a-week competition with the battling Providence Reds. Gradually, however, the home scene begins to assume its proper place in the sun—and then we settle back for an interesting, yet relaxing fall and winter season of sports activity without the strain and pressure of a six month, day-by-day baseball season.

The first look around reveals that our local fortunes are at a rather high peak. Football fame is coming this way through the efforts of Brown University, which has been getting headlines—banner headlines—in all the New York papers. That "Nine for nine in '49" really got a play—till last Saturday.

As far as the Jewish community is concerned, we have a personal stake in the fortunes of this Brown team. Milt Hodosh, one of the line regulars, is a Providence product, born and raised. Milt, highly regarded in Eastern collegiate football circles, winds up his three year varsity career this season.

I have intended, since the inception of this column, to do a story on Milt. The trouble always has been that I've never had the time to plan and call an interview, since the Herald requires a full week of attention and there is always some extra work to be done when I do have a couple of hours free. This fall, however, as Hodosh concludes a highly honorable college career with an outstanding eleven, this omission will be rectified.

That Brown team also has a dynamic line plunger operating from the fullback position, name of Arnie Green. Arnie, a native of Worcester, is practically an adopted son here in Rhode Island. He has been a star on the Hill for three years, and he is married to a local girl. He is another who is deserving of more publicity than this paper has afforded him so far.

Leaving football now and checking in at the ringside at the Auditorium we find the name of Bobby Goldstein occupying an increasingly important spot in the fistic firmament. Bobby, a local boy, has just been moved up to the six round class following a decisive technical knockout over a good New Yorker in a four rounder last week. Bobby is young, fast and ambitious. He does not regard his fighting career lightly and is determined to see how far he can go. Apparently, that is a long way.

Hodosh, Green, Goldstein—three good subjects for a series of profiles to be conducted shortly in this space. There will be others, of course. I am planning one on an old time semi-pro baseball star who lives just outside the metropolitan area, another on a nationally famous Jewish sports personality, and still others as they come into the column's view. In that regard, here is an invitation to readers to chip in with ideas for columns or stories on Jewish sports heroes, local or otherwise, past or present. I'll be glad to investigate the merits of all.

Hail, Old Timers

The story of the Jewish Softball League's first annual dinner-dance is contained elsewhere in this issue, and the event formally concluded the spring and summer season. Yet, how can we let the '49 season fade into memory without a final word of congratulations to the Old Timers, League champions? Recognition must be granted for a job well done, and this the column considers a yearly must.

First, let's look at the record. The Champs finished the regular season in third place, their 13-7 record being three games off the 16-4 pace set by Miller's Delicatessen. In the playoffs, including the final five game set with Miller's, the Old Timers registered seven wins as against three losses for an overall season record of 20-10, while Miller's took four out of seven to stretch their record for the year to 20-7.

The Old Timers, an aging outfit, actually improved with age, piling up their most convincing—and most frequent—wins in the latter stages. In the clutch they had it, refusing to be rattled or worried. And it is a fact that some of them found it extremely rough (physically) playing two games. They did it, and did it with colors flying, and that is the test of champions.

Congratulations to Manager Al Abelson and all his boys for their triumph.

ing Road, Cranston on Monday.
