Anti-Semitism Still Strong In Germany

WASHINGTON—A report disclosing the strength of anti-Semitism in Germany and impediments to the effectuation of the property restitution program was released here this week by the Department of Defense.

Prepared by Major Abraham S. Hyman, former advisor on Jewish affairs to the U.S. occupation authorities in Germany, the report says that only "a pitifully small minority" of Germans was opposed to the anti-Semitic policies of the Hitler regime. Indicative of the German attitude toward Jews is the way in which almost the entire German press ignored the statements against anti-Semitism made some months ago by President Theodor Heuss and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the Bonn Government. Major Hyman recommended that American authorities make it patent to the German people that forsaking anti-Semitism "is at least as much, if not more, in their own interest as it is in the interest of the Jewish people."

On the problem of property restitution, the report states U.S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy was doing all in his power to stem the opposition to the implementation of the restitution law in the U.S. zone of Germany but that in Austria, where amendments aimed at emasculating the present restitution law are under consideration, the whole program threatens to turn into "a farce" if the new legislation is approved.

Sternberg Named Top Teen-Age Scientist

NEW YORK — Saul Herbert Sternberg, a 16-year-old Jewish youth, was crowned last week as the nation's "top teen-age scientist" when he won the Westinghouse Grand Science Scholarship in the ninth annual science talent search among the country's high school students.

Picked from over 2,245 entrants from every state in the nation, young Sternberg received a Westinghouse scholarship of $2,800. He plans to attend Swarthmore College, where he will major in theoretical physics.

At present he is a senior at the High School of Music and Art where he majors in music. His father, William Sternberg, is a Public School principal.

Of the 25 other prize winners, 12 were Jews, among them Gerald Feinberg, son of the noted Yiddish poet and journalist Leon Feinberg.

WATER FOR NEGEV

JERUSALEM—New pipelines now under construction will bring 15 million cubic meters of water to the Negev this summer. Twenty-five of the 150 settlements to be established in 1950 will be built in the Negev.

Meets 62-Year-Old Sister For First Time

NEW YORK—A pier in New York was the scene of the first meeting of Rosaly Schneider (left), 40-year-old DP brought to the United States with the aid of HIAS, and her sister, Dora Weiner, 62, of Brooklyn, whom she had never seen. Mrs. Weiner immigrated to the United States in 1910. Shortly afterwards her sister Rosaly was born in Thori, Austria. Mrs. Schneider's father and three sisters perished in Nazi death camps.

De Castro Governor of Virgin Islands

WASHINGTON—The nomination of Morris de Castro to be Governor of the Virgin Islands was approved this week by the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. Mr. de Castro, who is Jewish, served as Acting Governor of the Virgin Islands for a short period in 1936 and for five months in 1939.

A native of Panama, Mr. de Castro has lived in the Virgin Islands since he was four years old. He has held various government positions, including that of Commissioner of Finance and confidential secretary to the Naval governors of the Islands. Mr. de Castro has also served as president of the Virgin Islands synagogue, Congregation Blessings and Peace.

To Make Survey of Camping Facilities

A survey on the total camping facilities of the community and need for expansion will be made by the Camp Committee of the Jewish Community Center at a meeting Monday evening at the home of Milton Kay, chairman. As a guide, the committee will use the report, "Future Developments in Community Camping Programs," prepared specially by Abe Bonder, camp consultant of the National Jewish Welfare Board.

Among the proposals made by Mr. Bonder are for development of a city day camping program for expansion and improvement of children of pre-school age, and

Chicagans Irked By Tribune's Charge

CHICAGO—A claim that Jews have organized a strong "church pressure group" which is greatly feared by President Truman has appeared in the Chicago Tribune in an article signed by Walter Trohan and followed by a supporting editorial. Chicago Jewish organizations are alarmed by the article which declared that Truman was "expressing his annoyance at the pressure certain groups were exerting on him to enforce their political beliefs." In particular the article pointed to the B'nai B'rith Anti-Defamation League, frequent target of anti-Semitic Congressman John Rankin, and stressed the pressure of Zionists "on the White House, Congress and UN."

Jewish DP's Have Highest Birth Rate

NEW YORK—Jacob Leshtshinsky, the well-known Jewish economist and statistician, brings out an interesting fact about the Jewish Displaced persons in the German camps which is not widely known. This is that the birth rate of the DP's is the highest of any Jewish community in the world. According to Mr. Leshtshinsky, the birth rate among Jewish DP's in 1948 was 31.9 and the death rate was only 3.2 per thousand. In the United States, the birth rate after war was 25 per thousand (before the war it was 17 per thousand), and the death rate is about 10 per thousand, thus leaving a net gain of 29 per thousand in favor of the DP's as compared with the U.S.A.

Conversion Attempts Condemned by Rabbi

NEW YORK — Attempts by Christian religious leaders to convert Jews to Christianity were condemned by Rabbi William F. Rosenblum of Temple Israel, in an address here before a group of ministers of the Reformed Church of America.

He suggested, instead, that missionaries direct their efforts to the salvation of "many hundreds of millions of Christians who do not practice what they profess."

facilities at Camp Centerland. On the committee are Walter Adler, Benjamin Bloom, Melvin T. Berry, Irvin Bornside, Max Brodsky, J. I. Cohen, Herman Galkin, Alfred Joslin, Simon Lessler, Dr. Herman Marks, Alex Miller, Ira Rakatansky, Harry Schwartz, Charles Silverman, Nathan Temkin, Irving Kovitch, Samuel Rosen, Abraham Beaken, Joseph Galkin, Alex Rumpel, Jules Goldsmith, Herman Rosen, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Franks, Dr. Clara Lottman Smith, and Mesdames Leo Borenstein, Arthur Newman, Charles Perelman, Joseph Sefer, Fred Tenenbaum and Frank Mack.

Governor To Speak At Silverman Event

GOV. JOHN O. PASTORE, who will deliver one of the principal addresses at the testimonial dinner being tendered Archibald Silverman at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel on Sunday evening, March 26.

Javits Calls Rankin "American Nazi"

WASHINGTON—A reply to Congressman John Rankin's vicious slur that "Communism is Yiddish" has appeared in the Congressional Record after a speech by Jacob Javits (Rep. Lib. N. Y.). Rankin's charge that "every member of the Politburo ... is either Yiddish or married to one" will remain in the Congressional Record "as a permanent memorial to the bigotry of a fellow member of Congress," Javits told the house. He described Rankin's statements as an example of the Nazi technique of the "sweeping lie constantly reiterated."

Jewish Immigrants Win Heirless Property

ZURICH, Switzerland—The Swiss Government announced this week it will reconsider its decision to turn over 32,000,000 francs of Jewish heirless property to the Polish government. The assets were the property of Polish Jews, deposited in Swiss banks.

The Swiss Government decided that Poland was the legal owner, while the Swiss Kehilla and other Jewish organizations argued successfully that such a decision should be revised, and the sum turned over to Polish Jewish immigrants in Israel.

FIRST AUTO FACTORY
JERUSALEM—The first automobile factory in Israel will be established by the Kaizer-Frazer company. The factory will be erected in Haifa, and will produce 6,000 cars the first year.

Large Crowd Expected To Attend

A capacity gathering, which will number in excess of 400 based on present reservations, will attend the testimonial dinner being tendered Archibald Silverman, prominent Providence civic leader and philanthropist, in honor of his 70th birthday and a half century of leadership in the local Jewish community.

Alvin A. Sopkin, chairman of the arrangements committee, announced this week that, in addition to the overwhelming number of reservations made to date, several hundred congratulatory messages have been received from prominent personages in public life and philanthropic activities throughout the nation.

A well-rounded but comparatively brief speaking program has been arranged for the occasion. Speakers, in addition to Mr. Sopkin, will include Gov. John O. Pastore, Mayor Dennis J. Roberts, Rev. E. Hollier Tomlin, Mrs. Archibald Silverman and Rabbi William G. Braude. Benjamin Brier will serve as toastmaster. A presentation to the guest of honor will be made by Arthur I. Darman, close friend of Mr. Silverman. The invocation will be given by Rabbi Morris Shussheim and the benediction by Rabbi Eli S. Bohnen.

A change in time was also announced by the committee this week. The reception has been moved up to 5:30 p.m. and the dinner will begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. Because the dinner falls on a Sunday, it was felt that this would allow for adjournment at an earlier hour than is customary for such affairs.

"A period of good fellowship" will follow the streamlined speaking program, the committee announced. It also indicated that the evening's activities would include a surprise feature or two, not listed on the printed program. The musical background will be provided by Sam Kart and his string ensemble.

A limited number of last minute reservations will be accepted by the committee up to noon, Saturday, March 25. Persons planning to attend the affair are requested to immediately phone in their reservations to dinner headquarters at GA. 1-4111.

Orthodox Rabbi In Congress Invocation

WASHINGTON—Rabbi Nachum David Herman, of Congregation Tifereth Israel of Brooklyn, last week pronounced the invocation at the opening of the House of Representatives session, marking the first time in the history of Congress that the invocation was recited by an Orthodox rabbi.

See National Liquidation of Jews In E. Europe

Asbury Park, N. J.—A detailed survey on the plight of Jews in countries behind the "Iron Curtain"—including Russia, Poland, Rumania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia—was presented at the conference of the national executive committee of the Jewish Labor Committee which took place here.

The study declares that "while for most of the people living under the Soviet regime that reign means impoverishment, slavery and moral degradation, for the Jews and Jewish groups it spells thorough spiritual annihilation as well. The national liquidation of the Jewish populations in Communist-dominated countries is now proceeding with an iron hand."

The conference unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the civilized world to examine "the plight of the Jews in the Soviet-dominated countries" and protested against the "inquisition which has been visited on the surviving population of 2,500,000 Jews behind the Iron Curtain."

In discussing the situation in Poland, Hungary, Rumania and Czechoslovakia, the report stated that all Jewish groups in these countries have been liquidated and immigration has been outlawed.

"Here and there," it stated, "individuals and small groups manage to leave the satellite countries but this is becoming more difficult every day."

Voice in the Community

I wish to draw particular attention of the G.J.C.'s Educational Committee to two important statements recently made by two top officers of no less an organization than the American Jewish Committee.

Jacob Blaustein, its President, said: "Statenmanship demands that we concern ourselves with the spiritual status of the Jews in the United States, so that we and our children may be better informed Americans and Jews. It is our duty to develop in these United States a Jewish life that will demonstrate to everybody that Americanism and Jewishness are qualities mutually enriching each other. Charity is very important, and philanthropy is one of the most beautiful Jewish traditions, but philanthropy is not enough, particularly now, when it is our historic duty to foster a flowering Jewish life in a democratic America."

Dr. John Slawson, Executive Vice-President, said: "the challenge America extended to all its ethnic, racial and religious groups, are two-fold: first, that they participate in, maintain, promote a common American civilization; second, that they deepen and enrich their special separate spiritually cultural traditions, by being truly and honestly themselves, without fear and without evasions, they will contribute most to the America of us all."

Now, it should be clear to sincere community workers, as the members of the G.J.C.'s Educational Committee surely are, that it will be necessary for every individual Community to implement and translate into deeds these beautiful and fine ideas. They must also know by now, from personal investigation and study that the Providence Hebrew Day School is our Community's most effective instrument with which to "deepen and enrich their separate spiritually cultural traditions; by being truly and honestly themselves without fear and without evasions."

It remains to be seen, then, whether the responsible members of the Educational Committee will allow their reports to gather dust in some office pigeon-hole, or will they rise to the upper stratum of "Statenmanship", as described in Mr. Blaustein's statement, and speedily and favorably report its findings to the allocations committee for action long over due.

How to keep Your Home Forever Young

By all means use as much color as possible in your home. Don't be afraid to let modern and traditional furniture live under the same roof. Often, when a dining room is furnished with Early American, a bedroom in traditional, a living room in modern, the combination makes a very pleasing accent note. Or if you are one of the fortunates who have both winter and summer homes, use modern for one and traditional for the other.

Even though you may not need furniture at this time, you will enjoy seeing the unusual displays at the Modern Furniture Company in Fall River. Be sure to ask or write for your complimentary copy of Modern's new booklet, "The Stylist", illustrating home furnishings for those who instinctively choose the best.

With The Bowling Leagues

BETH-EL BOWLING
by Joe Gutterball

Phil Shaulson's team monopolized the honors at last week's Temple Beth El Brotherhood Bowling League session, winning a neck and neck fight with Al Billincoff's boys.

The first man up in the first string—Gus Newman—tossed a double-strike and rolled 124 for the string. Even with that, the best Shaulson's Sure-Shots could do was to tie with Al's team. But Phil's fellers came back to take the second string, which also was the roll-off for the first. But the third string also was a tie, so all the bowlers had to roll an extra two boxes. Phil's team came through and took four points for the night.

Saul Sadow rolled a 143 string for Max Margolis' team. His effort for the night was 334.

The executive board of the league held another meeting to plan the bowling banquet for April 27 at Ledgemont Country Club. Committees were appointed for the two nights of sweepstakes on April 13 and 20.

EMANUEL BOWLING
by Joe Primack

Sam Gordon and Lou Chase just missed hitting the season's high records, Sam getting 410, just five pins short of high three and Lou getting 163, just one pin off high single.

The Browns broke the tie for first position by winning three while the Giants blew three. But the Yankees won three and are only one game off the leaders.

Other good threes: Lou Chase 384, Jack Broadman 386, Abe Press and Mal Paynor 353, Sam Chase 340, Joe Waldman 337, Kenny Markoff 337, Sherman Price 335 and Jules Zucker 331.

High singles: Jack Broadman 158, Sam Gordon 155 and Sherm Price 147.

N T BOWLING
by Mark Weinberg

A 299 by George Weinberg helped his Tigers to tie for first place by shutting out the Giants 4-0. Eking an all-important point Vic Gold and his Red Sox dropped into a tie for first place.

Red Sox	28	12
Tigers	28	12
Giants	18	22

OLYMPIC AUXILIARY
by Tedi Green

As usual, Leonard and Co. swamped their opponents, the June Winns. Estelle Cohen led the attack with 282, followed by Dot Leonard's 110 single and Rita Levine's 95. New member Dot Meierowitz' 113 was high single for the night and enabled the losers to take one point.

Esther Miller's gals, inspired by their captain's record 317 last week, ran up a new high single of 482 while taking three points from the slumping Borens. Esther Blonder set the pace with the night's high three, 290. Other good scores: Faye Malatt 102, Tedi Green 109, Mimi Rodyn 101, Estelle Cohen 97, Shirley Levine 106, Fran Rodinsky 103.

A. E. PI BOWLING

The dauntless Himelfarbs jumped back into first place by one point as they turned back the Freibergs, 3-1. The Feinsteins fell back to second after dropping a 4-0 decision to the Cohens.

The Cohens set a new team high single and high three with marks of 574 and 1596.

Don Cohen set a new high three of 356, while Lloyd Turoff rolled a strong 344 to swell the Cohen total. Sid Dressler bowled a solid 319, one more than Ray Gertz. Erwin Summer posted 309 and Len Waldman 308.

Dressler registered 118 and 111, Perry Deitch 117, Waldman 116, Gertz, Art Plink and Al Jacobs 114, Summer and Len Lazarus 111, and Smiley Geller 110.

BETH ISRAEL BOWLING
by Saul Hodosh

With but five weeks to go in the second half we really have a heated struggle for the top spot as Pennsylvania, spear-headed by Esmond Lovitt (or better still worried along by Coken) and Sam Segal's Syracuse team are neck and neck.

Iz Zenofsky really was hot as he turned in high 3 of 369 out-scoring such "pros" as J. Epstein 349, S. Segal 343, Coken 331 and even Irv. Kovitch 323.

Zenofsky also copped high single with 137 just nosing out Jack Epstein 136 and "the handicap of Levy's team," Sid Cantoff 132.

OLYMPIC BOWLING
by Howard Cohen

The Rodyns maintained their two-point hold on first place by taking a 3-1 win from the B. Cohens, Abe Lobel 336 and Merle Rodyn 332 setting the pace. Jacobson and Bob Rose were high for their side.

The second place Joe Schwartz team took the Leonards 3-1. This was the first loss for the latter group in four weeks. Joe, Ben

PASSOVER

Passover, which begins at sundown, Saturday, April 1st, celebrates the first successful revolution for freedom. Approximately 3500 years ago, the Jewish slaves, under the leadership of the religious genius Moses, fled the oppression and tyranny of Egypt. Within forty years, these Jewish slaves became a disciplined people. At Mt. Sinai, they made a covenant to live by the Ten Commandments and to accept the statutes and ordinances of the Almighty. After their journey through the wilderness, they crossed the Jordan and entered the Promised Land.

Through the centuries, the Jew has observed this Festival of Freedom. The Passover meal, or Seder, ushers in the Holy Days. Family groups are reunited and the whole history of the Passover is recited to the children. During this Festival, unleavened bread or matzo is eaten, commemorating the time the Jews fled Egypt without time to leaven their bread.

During the course of the Seder, four cups of wine are drunk as a reminder of God's promise of redemption that is found in the Book of Exodus.

American Democracy is based upon the ideals of freedom first proclaimed by the successful revolution of the Jews against ancient tyranny. Our Founding Fathers, in their flight from the old world relived the same atmosphere of tension and fear and it is a testament to their understanding and vision that we today enjoy the four Freedoms.

The Festival of Passover brings a message of hope to all people who have not yet attained religious and political freedom. It holds forth the promise of a better world of tomorrow when all men shall acknowledge that they are brothers, and one in spirit and one in fellowship, they may be united in peace and concord.

"One Man's Opinion"

The Silverman Story

By BERNARD SEGAL

Somewhere in America, perhaps even in our own city, someone may sometime write the Jewish-American novel. The story is still in search of an author.

We have many a Jewish character in American fiction. There is the immigrant who walks the streets of New York, while his heart is still yearning for his good old days in the over-idealized little town across the seas. There is the ridiculous Jew who bends over backwards to show his Americanism lest he be suspected of lacking a fraction of a decimal of the full hundred percent, in the eyes of his neighbors, who are the "real Americans." Then we have the neurotic Jews who are at odds with themselves and with their surroundings.

The Jew who feels at home in the synagogue as well as in the Elks lodge; at the meeting of the Hebrew Free Loan, as in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce; at a Zionist affair, as well as in the council rooms of the Governor; the Jew in whom there exist no separate compartments for his Jewishness and for his Americanism, this character is still awaiting his creator.

In the Silverman story, it seems to me, the writer of the Jewish-American novel will find an abundance of raw material. It is the story of a Jew taking roots in his community.

The Beginning

The story will begin with a dinner given in honor of a man who was born in a little Hasidic town on the Ukraine, seventy years ago. The story of the first ten years in the little town of Zinecov must not be neglected, because they are the key to what is to take place in the next sixty years in the city of Providence. Two worlds apart, and yet brought into harmony by ways that only the creative mind can reveal.

The story, on the other hand, may begin with a day in April, just around Pesach time, in the year 1890, when a young lad of ten, with an English vocabulary of ten words, made his appearance on a certain corner of downtown Providence, with a bundle of newspapers under his arm. The chapters will then unfold the story of the sixty years, to the day when the former newsboy is seated at the president's desk as head of a banking firm, only a stone's throw from the same corner in the heart of the city.

But that would be only one facet of the Silverman story, and the least important one.

The author of the Jewish-American novel must go back to a Sunday morning, when a young boy is initiated into the game of philanthropy, a game which he is to play during the coming years and at which he is to become an expert. On that Sunday morning the boy in his teens is collecting pennies among the merchants of Willard Avenue, and then distributes them among the poor of the neighborhood, leaving the little bags of cash under doors, or throwing them through open windows into the homes of the needy. The story might end in the year 1950 when this former collector of pennies presides over an agency which collects and allocates over a million dollars for the relief and rehabilitation of a people.

But this, too, will not tell the complete story.

The author of our novel may, perhaps, choose to begin his story with the young man under twenty, unmarried, who is elected to his first office in the South Providence synagogue. Then the story will wind along a wide highway, with many paths and roadways branching out in all directions, leading into the most unexpected destinations. There is the presidency of a Reform Temple, the directorship of the Hias, the presidency of the Jewish Orphanage, the directorship in the Community Chest, the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce, the chairmanship of the draft board, the Zionist party, the Keren Hayesod, war relief campaigns, speeches, drives, trips to distant cities, conventions, knocking at the doors of the mighty, victories, defeats, celebrations, heartaches, honors, and abuse. Then the story might stop for a while on the day when the name of this former officer of the Russische Shul on Willard Avenue appears in Who's Who in America.

But that, too, would not tell the complete story.

The writer of the story might begin with a young boy who started as a bench hand in a jewelry shop, and bring us up to the time when he is appointed by two governors to shape the industrial development of the state.

But even that would not complete the story.

The writer must not leave out of his story the man who is skillful as a teller of tales to fit all occasions. They are humorous tales in the main, but they always serve a serious purpose. The writer might include some of these parables, and the occasions at which they were told. They too, are part of the Silverman story.

Then the author will do well to include some curiosities which are being told about the man whose seventieth birthday is celebrated. The time, for instance, when he found himself in mid-ocean on the first night of Passover, and he managed to conduct a Seder the likes of which the steamship personnel has never beheld before.

Or the envelopes containing free tickets to a movie and a small gift which he always carries in his pockets, and which he gives to boys on their Bar-Mitzvah, and then asks someone who the boy was and who are his parents. Or the fact that everybody, friends and strangers, call him Archie.

Thus will run the Silverman story. A story of many facets, brick and mortar for someone who some day will write the Jewish-American novel.

Ralph R. Crosby, president of this institution, announced today. This means that—in addition to over $5,800,000 in Old Colony's reserves—this insurance provides further protection for the funds of over 50,000 saving members of this Institution, by insuring them up to a maximum of $5,000 each.

Founded in 1895, Old Colony Co-operative Bank now has total assets of more than $65,000,000. It is the largest institution of its kind in New England and the sixth largest in the country.

"We know that absolute safety of their funds is of major importance to savers and investors today," said Mr. Crosby in making the announcement. "By taking on the additional protection of government sponsored insurance, the Board of Directors of Old Colony is surrounding the assets back of this co-operative institution with every available safeguard."

Above is a portion of the group which attended the launching of the Hadassah Medical Organization Project to be held at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet, April 30.

Mrs. Arthur Kaplan, chairman of the Project, announced at the meeting that a recent dispatch from Hadassah headquarters in Israel emphasized the critical situation in that state through lack of adequate space and personnel to treat the many patients coming in every day. At present, despite difficult conditions, Hadassah hospitals are treating almost 50 per cent more patients than before the Arab war.

Plan Donor Affair
For New Nursery

The new Miriam Hospital—specifically, the new nursery—will benefit from the entire proceeds of the annual Donor Affair to be held April 12 by the Women's Association of the Miriam Hospital, Mrs. Archie Albert, president, and Mrs. William P. Weinstein, chairman, announced last week.

Work on the new Miriam is expected to get under way by May, and the nursery is planned as an important addition to the hospital's service.

The Donor Affair this year is not the usual linen shower, Mrs. Weinstein said, "but the larger and more important undertaking of furnishing and equipping a nursery."

An unusual program has been arranged by the committee to provide entertainment as well as the opportunity to take part in the building of the new hospital. Miss Sullie Harand, singing dramatist, will present in costume a one-woman version of the musical comedy—"South Pacific."

Heard for the first time in the East, and coming direct from Chicago, Miss Harand's performance is based on the Broadway musical hit. She sings all the famous songs from "South Pacific," even to washing her hair in the popular "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair."

Non-Jewish Spaniard To Remain in Israel

HAIFA—A young non-Jewish Spaniard who entered Israel illegally was this week sentenced to three days imprisonment, and a fine of about $20 in Israeli currency, but was not ordered expelled from the country.

The youth, who jumped overboard from a Norwegian tanker and was arrested while swimming to shore, told the magistrate that "Israel is a country and I want to settle here."

He also told the court that he was a descendant of a family of Marranos—Jews who accepted Christianity under pain of death during the Spanish Inquisition, but who continued to practice Judaism secretly. He said that he had fought against Franco during the Spanish rebellion.

List New Activities At Jewish Center

New activities announced this week, by the Jewish Community Center include ballet and tap-dancing lessons for pre-school and school age children, and a women's swimming club.

The program of dancing lessons is being arranged on the basis of a current registration.

Abe Lobel, athletic director, is in charge of the swimming club, which will meet for ten weeks from 8 to 9 o'clock Thursday evenings at the Providence Boys' Club Pool. The club, which will feature instruction by a qualified instructor, is limited to 20 members.

Bloom Post Auxiliary Nominates Officers

Nomination of officers was held at a meeting of the Lieutenant Leonard Bloom JWV Auxiliary, 284, Monday at the Narragansett Hotel. Present were Saul Friedman, post commander, and Everett Levinson, past state department commander.

At the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Sarah Winoker, Mrs. Norman Cohen, chairman of the recent bridge, gave a report. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held April 17.
