Urge Co-ordination of Fund, Bond Drive

Welfare fund philanthropic campaigns and the Israel Government bond drive must be coordinated on national and local levels to safeguard the interests of local Jewish communities and Israel, Irving W. Rabb, Boston, chairman of the New England Bonds for Israel Committee, declared here at the 18th annual conference of the New England Region, Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds.

Mr. Rabb told 100 leaders representing 27 Jewish communities in the region that his experience in Boston and other New England cities had demonstrated the desirability of having each local community work out a coordinated plan for all its major drives, thus affording each the opportunity to gain the best results.

He emphasized: "Any conflict between philanthropy and bonds, whether active or passive, will be costly, and will undermine the strength of the community in achieving its total goals. And if ever there was a need for unity and combined strength, the communities need it now."

Major speakers at the Conference included Edmund Wexler, Alvin A. Sopkin and Archibald Silverman of this city.

Joseph W. Ress of Providence was elected a vice-president for 1952. Members elected to the executive committee from Providence are Alvin A. Sopkin and Henry Hassenfeld.

Expose "Yahrzeit" Racket in Boston

BOSTON (AJP)—A new racket, this one operating from outside the U. S. but preying on recently bereaved American Jews, was exposed here this week by the Boston Better Business Bureau.

The BBB charged that "two individuals operating from abroad currently are mailing unordered Yahrzeit tables (or tablets) to recently bereaved Americans of the Jewish faith, requesting two dollars in payment."

(The Yahrzeit table serves as a reminder of the day each year over a period of time when a member of the family died so it can be kept in special memory. The tablet gives the corresponding date of the Gregorian calendar of the anniversary dates of death on the Jewish calendar.)

According to the bureau, letters containing a tablet printed on a 8½ x 12 sheet accompanied by a request for payment have been received by Jewish residents here shortly after the loss of a member of their family. The recipients were asked to send money orders to addresses in France and Austria. Later letters, however, listed New York City post office boxes as return addresses.

The BBB pointed out that "recipients are under no obligation to remit for the table, or to return it, provided they do not use it."

First Georgia Woman Passes CPA Exam

ATLANTA (AJP)—One of only two women in a group of eligibles taking the examinations, Miss Esther Bredosky recently became probably the first Jewish woman to pass the Georgia tests for certified public accountants. She began studying elementary bookkeeping in an evening school in 1948, the Southern Israelite reported.

Touro to Present Belle Baker Show Sunday

Touro Committee for Belle Baker Show

Heads B'nai B'rith

COLEMAN B. ZIMMERMAN

Coleman B. Zimmerman was elected president of Roger Williams Lodge, B'nai B'rith at a meeting of the Lodge last Thursday evening at Churchill House. Zimmerman succeeds Sidney L. Rabinowitz, who held the office for two years.

Also elected for the 1952-53 term were Abraham Belllove, Herman M. Feinstein and Abraham E. Goldstein, vice-presidents; Maurice Bazar, treasurer; George Katz, financial secretary; Bernard Roseman, recording secretary; E. Max Weiss, corresponding secretary; Sidney L. Rabinowitz, chaplain; Stanley Grossman, assistant chaplain, and Milton Stanzler, warden.

Chosen as trustees were Bert-ram L. Bernhardt, Benjamin Brier, Joseph M. Finkle, Max L. Grant, Henry Hassenfeld, Dr. Carl Jagolinzer, Arthur Kaplan, Max Kotler, Benjamin F. Ruttenberg, Nathan Samors, Milton C. Sapinsley, Alvin A. Sopkin, E. Max Weiss and Arthur E. Winkleman.

Delegates to the District Grand Lodge include Bernhardt, Finkle, Rabinowitz and Zimmerman, with Bazar, Belllove and Weiss as alternates. These seven men and Katz are delegates for Supreme Lodge nominations, with Ruttenberg as alternate.

Klan Blamed In Cross-Burning On Grounds of Jewish Hospital

BOSTON (AJP)—The Ku Klux Klan was blamed this week for the burning of a cross on the lawn of a building recently acquired by the Jewish Tuberculosis Sanitarium of New England.

Police immediately entered the case amid a statement by the institution's honorary president, attorney Maurice Caro, that the cross burning was not the work of juveniles.

"We can attribute this act," he said, "to depraved minds importing racial bigotry from the South."

Earlier, a local fire chief expressed the belief that "pranksters" had erected the cross. Marks on the lawn, however, indicated that the solid, eight-foot cross had been transported by truck and driven into the ground by grown men.

The Jewish-sponsored institution serves TB victims regardless of race, religion or creed.

The week-end incident broke a several-month-long calm in the Boston area. Juvenile acts of anti-Semitism were frequent in the Hub City vicinity last year.

Jewish Wives Get Orchids For 'Der Yiddisher Mikado'

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—A group of Jewish housewives' presentation here last week of a Yiddish version of Gilbert and Sullivan's famed "Mikado" won acclaim from the bible of show business, the weekly Variety.

Titled "Der Yiddisher Mikado," the light operetta was performed in a Brooklyn high school by a Hadassah unit. The smooth accuracy with which difficult Gilbert and Sullivan titles were translated into Yiddish won recognition from the magazine.

Take the one, "Behold the Lord High Executioner." The Yiddish version had it as "Ut Kunt der Grayser Haycher Kuphocker."

Redelheim Seeks ZOA Presidency

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—An all out battle for the national presidency of the 200,000-member Zionist Organization of America appeared assured this week with the acceptance by Abraham Redelheim of a request from a delegation of regional leaders that he formally enter the race.

Redelheim, in a statement released immediately following a visit to his office by eight metropolitan area Zionists, said he would seek the No. 1 post in the ZOA.

Fraternal Group Invites Community

Sunday (at 8:30 P. M.) is the time.

The R. I. School of Design is the place.

And Belle Baker, on whom the critics have lavished their choicest rave notices, is the attraction.

Touro Fraternal Association, whose Israel Bond Committee is sponsoring the event, expects a near-record turnout of its many members.

"We expect," said Leo Miller, chairman, this week, "that Belle Baker's appearance, together with that of the wise-cracking singer, Jan Bart, will prove one of the most popular shows that Touro has ever put on."

Miller pointed to the superlatives used by the usually-biased New York nightlife columnists, and the commentators in "Billboard" and "Variety"—the house organs of showbusiness—as proof of the unfailing calibre of Belle Baker's popularity.

Her record, an astonishing one, of playing 287 successive weeks in vaudeville, speaks for itself. The former girl street singer who skyrocketed to the top rungs of Broadway shows—that's Belle Baker.

And she'll be in Providence Sunday evening.

The public, of course, is cordially invited.

Admission is free.

Zionist Speaker

Wise as president of the American Jewish Congress in 1949. He has been a leading figure in the World Jewish Congress since he helped found it in 1936, and he took an active role on behalf of European Jewry during and after World War II.

Third Seder Guests

YEHUDA HARRY LEVIN and URY ZIFRONI

Yehuda Harry Levin, consultant and press attache with the Israel Embassy, and Ury Zifroni, Israel Opera tenor, who will appear at the 26th annual third seder celebration of the Labor Zionist Council on Sunday evening, April 13 at 6:30 P. M. at the Narragansett Hotel.

Beth El to Conduct
Passover Seder

The Passover Seder conducted annually by Temple Beth El will be held in the Temple vestry on the second night of Passover, Thursday, April 10, starting at 6:45 P. M., according to an announcement made this week by Herman M. Feinstein, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Feinstein said that all Temple Beth El members and their families are invited to attend, but reservations will be limited to the seating capacity of the vestry, and should be made by April 3 with Mrs. Albert Geffner of 189 Irving Avenue.

The Seder will be conducted by Rabbi William G. Braude. Members of the confirmation class will have a prominent part in the services. Temple members also will participate in family style, and the youngest child present will ask the four questions. A full course catered dinner will be served, with the symbolic Passover ceremonial dishes.

Other committee members are Maurice Bazar, co-chairman; Morris Baruch, chairman of the Temple Holiday committee; A. Archie Finkelstein, president of the Brotherhood; Spencer Koch, chairman of the activities committee, and Mrs. William I. Matzner, president of the Sisterhood.

ADL Representative To Address Women

Jason R. Silverman, director of community service of the New England regional office of the Anti-Defamation League, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Jewish Home for the Aged on Wednesday at 2 P. M. at the Home, 99 Hillside Avenue. His topic will be "the Troublemakers."

A tea honoring all life members has been scheduled for one hour preceding the meeting. Mrs. Edward Schwartz is hospitality chairman and Mrs. Daniel Jacobs is life membership chairman. Program chairman of the day is Mrs. Morris A. Cohen.

Colors used in the New Miriam Hospital have been scientifically selected. The walls of patients' rooms will be painted for eye-ease and quiet cheerfulness. There will also be ceilings of sound absorbent material.

The laundry of the New Miriam Hospital will be capable of processing 3,000 pounds of laundry during each work shift.

A Phony Issue

The warning sounded by Judge Meier Steinbrink concerning the case of the Rosenbergs is timely. The Rosenbergs were tried and convicted by an American court on a charge of espionage. Perhaps the sentence of death was too severe.

There can be no legitimate objection or criticism of any moves to appeal the case legally and to seek to arouse public opinion on behalf of the Rosenbergs—provided the issue is kept on the level where it belongs. That level may comprise two parts: the judicial questions involved in the case itself, and the humanitarian angle.

Those who honestly feel that the Rosenbergs have been too harshly dealt with and are entitled to clemency have a right to say so. There have been other treason trials, but this is the first time in the history of our country that a death sentence was passed.

But the attempt to convert this case into an American version of the Dreyfus case is nothing but a piece of bare-faced Communist strategy.

Red herrings are not the only kind resorted to by unscrupulous elements for furthering their own opportunistic ends. The Communists and their well-meaning but misguided fellow-travelling dupes have long ago brought forth a black herring. They are using it now for the Rosenberg case.

They are trying to make it appear that the Rosenbergs are innocent, law-abiding citizens who are the victims of a diabolical anti-Semitic frame-up. It did not appear that way to us during the progress of the trial. We fail to be impressed with the propaganda literature of the "Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs."

The "evidence" presented in the booklet being disseminated by this group is couched in a deceptive and misleading manner.

In the war against anti-Semitism we pull no punches. We believe in subjecting every manifestation of anti-Semitism, no matter from what source it originates or what the motives behind it may be, to the strong light of public exposure.

By the same token we are opposed to phony anti-Semitic issues. We object to crying wolf where there is none. We condemn those who, knowingly or otherwise, help to manufacture a case of anti-Semitism in order to promote the dark unscrupulous machinations of the Communists.

There is, unfortunately, plenty of real anti-Semitism around to keep every sincere enemy of racism and fascism busy around the clock. The attempt to paint the Rosenbergs as martyrs in a deliberate anti-Semitic conspiracy can only alienate those who might otherwise be sympathetic to their appeal for clemency.

Cominsky, Philip Gabrilowitz, Israel Leitner, Morris Lecht, Celia Miller, Ira Kulman, Meyer Kaplan, Jacob Pepper, Anna Rotenberg, Maurice Sweet, Israel Weiner, Benjamin Winicour, Joseph Winoker, Julius Schwartz, David Yanku, Ida Yuloff, William Zelnicker and Harry Yuloff, ex-officio.

"One Man's Opinion"

A Letter From Miami

BY BERYL SEGAL

All I know about Miami Beach is what I see on the picture postal cards sent to me by friends who go down there for the cold season.

These post cards usually arrive when we here are either shivering in the cold, slipping on icy streets, or trudging miserably in sleet and wishing for Florida weather. The post cards from Miami are aglow with color and sunshine. Gleaming white sand beaches. Modernistic hotels with colorful awnings and huge flower pots on the balconies: Swimming pools with stately palm trees standing by . . . Long stretches of sea shore with the bluest waters . . . Magnificent terraces by the sea, and sun-tanned, handsome men and beautiful women just smiling at each other . . . People swimming . . . People watching the races. People reclining under huge umbrellas . . . Sand shores . . . and palm trees.

This is the Miami Beach I know from the picture cards I get from friends every winter.

What about the Miami of real people? Where are the homes and the streets where people like you and I live, and work, and study, and visit friends, and talk politics, and pass the time of day?

Never a glimpse of Miami away from the beach on these colored picture cards. Miami is always either swimming or basking in the sun.

It was therefore with great interest that I read a letter from my friend Solomon Lightman who is now staying in Miami. In this letter we see the other side of Miami, the side never shown on the "Having Wonderful Time, Wish You Were Here" type of cards.

"I live on 10th Street"—writes Mr. Lightman—"and in my neighborhood, between 3rd and 17th Streets, I counted 5 synagogues and one temple. In all of them I found study rooms where the walls are lined with book shelves up to the ceiling. And I also found people sitting there deep in study.

"Four of the synagogues have good afternoon schools for children. There is also a Hebrew day school with 250 pupils. The Temple school on 17th Street has 350 pupils, and they come in the afternoon hours, not merely on Sundays. The teachers are of a high quality.

"The synagogues are packed to capacity every Saturday. On Friday evenings there is not enough room for all who come.

"On Saturday afternoons you will find people listening to readers in Midrash and Ain Yakov. Hundreds come to the Third Meal at the end of the Sabbath.

"The children's schools, of all types, are supervised and subsidized by the Jewish Federation (Like our own General Jewish Committee), and there are no conflicts between the schools of the various types. The Jewish Education Bureau, which we are only now talking about in Providence, has been at work in Miami for many years.

"There are two Yivo groups in the city affiliated with the Central Yivo (Jewish Scientific Organization) of America. They too receive a subsidy from the Federation. Every Saturday the Yivo groups offer lectures and discussions on cultural topics. You can come to a lecture, forum, or art exhibit at any time of the day.

"I attended an exhibit of Jewish historical objects and documents. An exhibit of Israel products and art is now open and attracts great crowds. Concerts in halls and in the open air are listed for every evening.

"On 11th Street, by the sea shore, lives a doctor who is a philosopher as well as a physician. In his spacious back yard he has an open air lecture hall. Under the clear skies and in the shade of trees, with the breezes of the sea for a background, people gather for the Spinoza Forums. There, philosophical talks are given free every Saturday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and Tuesday evenings at 8.

"This is only one little part of Miami, the part of the city I know. There are others elsewhere, in other neighborhoods."

Mr. Lightman goes on to tell about Zionist groups, Hadassah,

AZA Chapter Has Parents Night

Roger Williams AZA conducted its Parents Night Program on March 19 at the Jewish Community Center. Jack Levy of Boston and George Goldsmith were guest speakers. Levy also officiated at the installation of officers.

Jerry Weinstein extended greetings of AZA. Members of last year's softball team presented their coach with a gold medallion and an autographed softball.

Pioneer Women, youth groups, and their work. A good piece of public relations work, written with enthusiasm. The Chamber of Commerce of Miami Beach couldn't do a better job.

Why does Mr. Lightman tell me all these things?

In the first place, he knows that I will be interested in such matters. In the second place this letter is written in defense of Miami. In my remarks about Bagels and Yox I said that this vulgar revue was nurtured in the summer hotels of the Catskills and in the questionable cultural climate of Miami where it made its first appearance. The letter quoted here certainly shows a Miami far above the level of Bagels and Yox. I humbly apologize to these fine people.

"No temple, synagogue, or communal organization here"—writes Mr. Lightman—"would encourage their members to buy tickets for Bagels and Yox. The play attracted a certain element here whose tastes are not of the finest. But they certainly are not typical of the cultural climate of Miami."

I am certainly glad to hear that. And isn't it wonderful to think of Miami as the place of wide sandy beaches, stately palm trees, sun-tanned men and women and Spinoza Forums? Perfect harmony!

The New Miriam Hospital's three sun rooms will have a commanding view of the city of Providence's sky line.

Boxing Figures At Beth El Show

The Brotherhood of Temple Beth El presented a boxing show as the feature attraction of its annual Fathers and Sons sports program Sunday afternoon at the Temple. Five bouts by young Providence fighters, and appearances by a group of nationally prominent boxers who reside in this city, headlined the show.

In addition, a variety of gifts, including bats, balls, gloves, basketballs, hunting knives, sport shirts, etc. were presented to the youngsters who attended.

George Araujo, Providence lightweight who will make his television debut next Friday from New York, refereed one of the boxing bouts, and was interviewed for the audience by Charles W. Pine, Herald's boxing columnist. Pine also interviewed Young Montreal, legendary fighter several years ago, who also refereed one of the matches.

Also serving as referees were Robert Villemain, outstanding middleweight, and his brother-in-law, Raymond Dieu, light heavyweight. Syd Cohen, Herald sports columnist, interviewed the two French fighters, who make their homes in Providence.

Featured in the five bouts were Harold Gomes and John Silva, 126 pounds; Charlie and Joe Gomes, featherweights; Raymond and Johnny Baccarie; Harry Baccarie and Robert Fedelosa, and Willie Wilson and Billy Tisdale, heavyweights.

The bouts were arranged by Tony Petronella of the Rhode Island Boxing Commission, and third vice-president of the National Boxing Association.

Serving on the arrangements committee were Murray Trinkle, chairman; Harold Roberts, Nat Alterman and Jay Isenberg.

A feature of the New Miriam Hospital will be seven modern laboratories with the latest scientific equipment.

Touro Seeks Pledges For Bloodmobile Day

Touro Fraternal Association reported this week an excellent number of pledges have been made for Touro Bloodmobile Day, on April 3 at Touro Hall, 88 Mathewson Street. Officials of the organization emphasized, however, that more blood donors can be handled, and that time has been reserved for those pledges who were unable to fulfill their previous commitments.

Those persons who have not received an appointment notice from the Red Cross were requested to call Herman M. Feinstein, Jewish co-ordinator, at PA 2-5800 or PL 1-7788, or Miss Hood, at the Red Cross, DE 1-8990.

Feinstein reported that an honor list of donors soon will be published.

SYD COHEN:

The French Have A Word For It

Fighters past and present were among the headliners who attended the annual Father and Son sports program Sunday at Temple Beth El.

From the past came Young Montreal, still a trim figure, who told chairman Murray Trinkle that he would be willing to go three rounds in an exhibition any time. Warming up to the situation, Monty then asked when the next sport show would be held. He was disappointed to learn that it would not come until next year.

So there is a tip to organizations who might like to do something different. It would attract considerable attention to any program—an exhibition by Young Montreal, that is.

Anyway, George Araujo was at the Beth El Brotherhood affair, along with Robert Villemain and his brother-in-law, Raymond Dieu. Charley Pine, our boxing expert, interviewed Araujo and Monty for the audience, while I had a quickie session with Villemain and Dieu.

The interview with Dieu was simple. I asked him nothing, since he doesn't understand a word of English—not enough, at any rate, to answer any questions.

But Villemain—ah, there is a real linguist. A resident of the U. S. only since last October, the middleweight has a perfect command of the English language.

As, for instance—I asked Robert what he was doing next, and he replied he is going to Florida (Flo-reed-a, he said.) Thinking that the trip possibly might be for a match, I asked what he would do there. Villemain said he was going for a "vacancy," with the emphasis on the middle syllable.

I wasn't too quick to realize that the French boxer was referring to a vacation. Whereupon Villemain cracked:

"You don't talk English too good!"

Honors for Buller

Most people who are concerned with such things were pleased to note that major league hockey sported one good Jewish player this season. He is Hy Buller, who as a Cleveland Baron used to make life miserable for the Reds. Hymie, as his trainer on the Barons used to call him, left the post of captain with Bun Cook's charges to move up to the New York Rangers.

To say that Buller made a solid impression on the fans, players and writers in the National League would be to put it mildly. In his freshman season, he was voted to the second team on the NHL All-Star ratings, and was credited with helping the Rangers stay in the playoff race right down to the end.

Now Hymie gets another tribute. He has been voted the most valuable Ranger by the New York Hockey Writers' Association. Hy is the first rookie ever to receive this annual award, which is presented by the West Side Association of Commerce, and the second defenseman so named.

Actually, he stands alone here, since Ott Heller, who previously took the award, finished in a tie with a forward, Bryan Hextall. There was no question of a tie this year. The vote for Buller was unanimous, a rare tribute to a player. Sixteen writers voted.

As an American Leaguer, Buller was a solid defenseman and a highly prolific scorer, who smashed all records for defensemen before making his departure.

With the National League, he is no different. With two games to go before the end of the regular season, Hy had tallied 35 points, tying Heller's old mark for a defenseman. Despite a broken bone in his foot, he intended to play these two games, hoping to add the point that would give him clear title to the Rangers' all-time record.

All in all, quite a freshman year for the only Jewish skater in the majors. And the guy is just 26 years old!

On Women's Bowling

Having completed an organizational meeting with representatives of the men's bowling leagues for the 1952 Herald tournaments, we now turn to the ladies. Each of the women's bowling leagues that is interested, and that feels it is large enough and strong enough to enter inter-league competition, is invited to send a delegate to the Herald office, 121 Dyer Street, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of setting up the first annual Herald Women's Bowling Tournament.

We'll set the date, draw up the rules and make plans to appoint a permanent committee to handle the matter on an annual basis. Offhand, I recall that four leagues have expressed interest—Cranston Plaids, Fineman-Trinkle Auxiliary, Sunnyside Debs, and Beth Israel. There might have been another, but at this post-midnight hour, its name does not readily come to mind.

Anyway, all are welcome. Just one word of warning. The Herald's social appointments are not of the best, and this is probably the only meeting in local history at which refreshments will NOT be served.

Come to think of it, though, I usually manage to have a candy bar on my desk. I will gladly share it.

As far as the men are concerned, a detailed story of what transpired at the meeting last Saturday will appear next week. Suffice it to say that the three temples and Cranston J. C. C. will tangle in one tourney on April 28. Fineman-Trinkle, Providence Fraternal, A. E. Pi and Knights of Pythias will pair off on April 24. Woonsocket B'nai B'rith also has been invited to participate.

The New Miriam Hospital will have a department of physical medicine to cooperate in community rehabilitation programs.

Pride of Achievement

You, and everyone else who helped plan and build the new Miriam Hospital, has a right to be proud.

Building a modern hospital is a gigantic task — no one person could do it.

It requires the work, the thought, the generosity of many.

If you have, or will, establish a memorial in the new hospital, you have a special reason to be proud. Without your help — all plans, all ideas, all work would have no result.

Because you established an enduring memorial or made a direct gift to the building fund — you made a dream come true —

you have a right to be proud!

A memorial in the new Miriam Hospital gives in two ways.

It honors your loved ones and it gives necessary additional hospital facilities to the community.

Memorial opportunities are still available.

For details consult any member of the Memorial Committee.
