CAPITOL ROUNDUP

All eyes are on Washington. There were gloomy days in the Nation's Capitol. The McCarran Bill especially presented a gloomy picture. It was not only the passage of the regrettable bill that caused consternation. Of even sadder significance was the contempt with which the majority treated the minority. At the time of the bill's passage there were less than a dozen Senators on the floor. It was an illegally adopted bill, but its opponents won't even protest; it's hopeless.

Senators Lehman, Humphrey, Douglas, Moody, Pastore, McMahon and their associates put up a good fight, but the manner in which they were ridiculed was heart-breaking. It took a lot of courage to act as they did.

Now it is hoped that President Truman will veto the measure and that it will be upheld. Prospects are not too good, however.

In the ranks of the Zionist Organization of America, there is an apparent revolt against the administration of Benjamin Brodsky. The retiring president suffered defeat after defeat on test votes that were taken at the meeting of the National ZOA Executive. The group backing Rabbi Irving Miller appeared destined for triumph.

A blow to the forces backing Ezra Shapiro of Cleveland was the decision of the Cleveland Zionist Society to back Rabbi Miller. Dr. F. M. Falkman, one of Dr. Abba Hillel Silver's right hand men, made the proposal for Miller.

Brodsky drew the limelight in another field—by joining the board of the Mapai-Histadrut-supported AMPAL, Israel investment corporation. Now ZOA stalwarts say that their retiring president is flirting with a party other than his own.

Dr. Robert M. MacIver, author of the highly controversial report now being considered by NCRAC, was in a fighting mood when, in an interview with Paul Tobenkin, published in the N. Y. Herald Tribune, he is quoted as having said that "the two groups most strongly opposing his recommendations were the American Jewish Committee and the Anti-Defamation League, which are responsible for 90 per cent of the duplication of effort to be found in the Jewish community relations field."

"I can not see how highly intelligent men in several of the organizations could make some of the arguments they do against the report," said Dr. MacIver. "It is probable that a strong sense of organizational pride prevents them from looking at the situation objectively."

Hotel is Cleared in Discrimination Charge

NEWARK, N. J.—The State Division Against Discrimination announced it could find no evidence that the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall Hotel in Atlantic City had refused Justice Meier Steinbrink of New York, chairman of the Anti-Defamation League, a reservation because of his Jewish name. The announcement said that the charge of religious discrimination brought by Justice Steinbrink against the hotel has been dismissed.

Cy-Levy Memorial Fund Gives $5,000 to Hospital

Norman Salhanick, second from right, chairman of the recent Cy Levy Memorial Fund drive, presents a check for $5,000 to Louis Fain, chairman of the Miriam Hospital Memorial Committee. Left to right, Lawrence A. Paley, co-chairman of the Memorial Fund; Mrs. Seymour Levy, Mr. Fain, Mr. Salhanick, and Joseph K. Levy, co-chairman of the Memorial Fund. The money will be used to dedicate a room in the hospital in Levy's memory.

Egypt Passes First Cargo to Israel

TEL AVIV—The first cargo of goods bound for Israel to pass unmolested through the Suez Canal arrived here.

The cargo consisted of a shipment of beans from Abyssinia valued at 79,000 pounds. The vessel which carried it was the Italian freighter Isola di Caprera. The shipment was clearly entered on the ship's manifest, which was inspected by the Egyptian authorities.

Delegates Chosen For ZOA Conclave

The Executive Committee of the Zionist District of Providence met Monday at the home of Nathan Temkin to elect delegates to the national convention of the Zionist Organization of America, to be held in New York City from June 12-15.

Elected as delegates are M. Louis Abedon, Dr. Ilie Berger, Mrs. Anna Berger, David Geffner, James Goldman, George Pullman, Archibald Silverman, Dr. Joseph Smith, Joseph Smith, Mrs. Sarah Smith, William D. Strong, Nathan Temkin, Mrs. Sarah Temkin and Victor Weinreich. The alternate is Jacob Rabinovitz.

Samuel Michaelson was elected to represent the R. I. ZOA Region at the national convention.

Strong, District president, gave the annual report and reviewed the season's activities. He announced that the District will meet again after the convention to elect officers and formulate a program for next season.

Anti-Semitic Group in Milwaukee School

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The existence of an anti-Semitic organization of high school students in Milwaukee who have been distributing anti-Semitic propaganda was disclosed here following the arrest of a 17-year-old high school senior believed to be the leader of the gang, which calls itself the "American Action Army."

The youth is being held for psychiatric examination. Although he has not admitted distributing the leaflets, hundreds were found in his possession or in a cache of which he informed the police. Distribution of material defaming an individual or racial or religious group or exposing them to hatred, contempt or ridicule is a violation of a Milwaukee ordinance.

KAPLAN RESIGNS

JERUSALEM — Eliezer Kaplan, Israel's finance minister, resigned his post because of ill health. Dov Joseph, Israeli trade minister, is mentioned as his probable successor.

Woman, 73, Leaves Soviet Union With Exit Permit No. 1

TEL AVIV—Special permission from Premier Stalin enabled Mrs. Sarah Hecht, 73, to leave the Soviet Union and come to Israel to be united with her family here.

The exit permit on Mrs. Hecht's Soviet passport was marked No. 1 for 1952. She applied for the exit visa two years ago at the same time that her two sons, whom she had not seen in 32 years, appealed to the Soviet legation here to intervene in Moscow to secure permission for her to leave the Soviet Union.

When Mrs. Hecht stepped out of the plane at Lydda Airport she was greeted by her two sons, seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

First Mercy Killing Arouses Israel

TEL AVIV—Because she believed that her mute and mentally retarded five-year-old son would be better off dead than having to go through life suffering of his deformities, a Jewish woman decided that the most merciful thing she could do for the child was to kill him. Now she is facing a homicide trial here with the populace divided on the moral issue involved.

On her arraignment here before a magistrate, it developed that the mother drowned the child after being advised by a physician of the hopelessness of her son's condition. The prosecutor told the court that the woman first denied the killing, claiming the child was drowned by accident, but that she later confessed. The court hearing attracted many spectators and newspapermen.

B'NAI B'RITH CITED

WASHINGTON — B'nai B'rith men and women were awarded national citations by President Truman at public ceremonies here, in tribute to the order's service program for the disabled veterans in hospitals since the end of World War II.

Country Fair and Auction A Huge Success

The Country Fair and Auction of Women's Association of the Jewish Community Center, held last Tuesday at the Center, proved to be a huge success. Officials said it was the greatest affair of its kind in Center history. In these photos are shown scenes of the white elephant, kitchen cupboard and gift booths (left and above), the children's luncheon (lower left) where 150 children were served, and a view of the overflow audience that attended the auction (lower right).

HYMAN SCHOENBERG
Funeral services were held Sunday at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home for Hyman Schoenberg, 65, operator of the ICT Bus Co., who died last week.

The eulogy was delivered by Rabbi Abraham Chill of Congregation Sons of Abraham, and burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery. Honorary bearers included Lt. Gov. John S. McKiernan, Peter W. McKiernan, John C. Going, Harold Dooley, Ashley Childs, Alfred Demaris, Louis Trostonoff, Samuel Chase, Jacob Weiss, Frank F. Swartz, Paul J. Robin, Max Botvin, Edward Haire, Peter Corr, Leo Andelman, Police Chief James R. Crosby of East Providence, Jacob Sydney, Dr. Nathan Mallonou, Michael Soforenko and Shirley Harrington, vice-president of the Industrial Trust Co.

Mr. Schoenberg was born in Austria and came to this country at the age of 16. He had been a resident of Providence for the past 45 years, and lived at 157 Modena Avenue. He was president of the Fairmount Realty Corp. He was a member of the Elks, Knights of Pythias and Eagles and had received a meritorious service certificate from the Eagles for work he had done for that order.

He was also a member of the Jewish Home for the Aged and the Hebrew Free Loan Association, and served on the board of directors of Congregation Sons of Zion.

Two years ago, children of East Providence playgrounds gave him a plaque in appreciation of his allocation of free buses to take them on swimming parties.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Anna Schoenberg of New York City; his widow, Mrs. Dora C. (Tobin) Schoenberg; two sons, Milton and Leonard; three daughters, Mrs. Paul Goldstein and Mrs. James Hochman, all of Providence, and Mrs. Sidney Weinberg of Lawrence, Mass.; four brothers, Louis, Samuel, Joseph and Willie Schoenberg, and a sister, Mrs. Raymond Rockind, all of New York; and seven grandchildren.

Cash Wanted -- Not Loans

At the National Cash Mobilization Conference held in Chicago, UJA General Chairman, Edward M. M. Warburg, announced that communities throughout the 48 states had exceeded by $2,000,000 the Appeal's urgent call for the raising of a minimum of $10,000,000 during the month of May. This sum brings the UJA's cash total to $39,000,000 paid in a five month period.

Moshe Sharett, Israel Foreign Minister, who was the guest speaker at this conference, justly described the response as "a magnificent outpouring of generosity by American Jews who are showing that they cannot stand idly by while Israel struggles in economic hardship and while hundreds of thousands of men, women and children in Eastern Europe and in Moslem countries live in fear of their lives."

There is this flaw in the picture, however. Much, if not most of the cash paid to the UJA office, represents not cash actually collected by the local federations and welfare funds, but rather loans from banks on the strength of pledges made by individual contributors in the communities. Many of these are balances on pledges of the previous year and are overdue. This causes a loss in revenue in the interest which must be paid to the banks for the loan. The accumulation of overdue pledges presents a growing problem both from the point of view of the money involved and of the morale on current and future campaigns.

The total of the pledges made shows a great sense of responsibility on the part of our communities and individuals. Redeeming the pledges as soon as possible will indicate an even greater sense of responsibility.

How about sending a check for your pledge now?

"One Man's Opinion"

Jori Scholarships

BY BERYL SEGAL

Be heedful of the children of the poor, For out of them comes learning.

This warning by our ancient teachers kept going through my mind the other evening as I sat in on the deliberations of the Jori Scholarship Foundation. As I think back of all the evenings I spent in the past season at meetings, consultations, and public gatherings, this four hour session with Jori stands out as the most exciting of them all. I am very grateful to the committee for the invitation to be present at this highly confidential session.

The members of the committee very wisely and in good taste avoid publicity of the work performed by the Jori Foundation. I admit that until that evening I had only a vague idea of the functions of this committee. I certainly had no inkling of the scope of the work and the manner in which the scholarships were awarded.

While some aspects of the work of the committee must be kept confidential, I believe that the public must know more of this very fine Scholarship Foundation and of the great service rendered by it to the community.

The Jori Scholarship Foundation is administered by the board of directors of the former Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island. After the closing of the orphanage, the board retained the administration of the summer camp JORI (the initials of the official name of the orphanage).

In 1948 the same group formed the scholarship foundation for the purpose of helping young men and women towards their higher education. Eligible candidates apply for a scholarship and send in their records and references. The committee reviews the applications, interviews the applicants, and awards scholarships to the deserving candidates.

The requirements are few, and the procedure is simple. Applicants must be:

1. Residents of Rhode Island.
2. Of the Jewish faith.
3. High School Graduates.
4. Of good character and good students.
5. In need of financial assistance.

The competition between the candidates is actually on the basis of the last two points. The students who achieved the higher standards in school, and those who can prove the greater need, have first preference.

The Scholarship Foundation is apparently filling a real need in the community, as the rise in applications and the grants awarded during the past five years clearly indicate.

In the first year only ten scholarships were awarded.

In the second year 22 grants were given.

In the third year the number rose to 31.

In the fourth year it was 32. As for this fifth season of Jori Scholarships, the results are not as yet released. But the committee held two sessions on two consecutive evenings, each lasting four hours, in order to review 40 applications for Jori scholarships.

From my observations at the first session of the committee, I would say that the nine men and the two women comprising the scholarship sub-committee have some difficult decisions to make. Every one of the applicants is deserving of assistance.

Such an assembly of keen, ambitious, brilliant young boys and girls one can hardly duplicate in any group of 40 students. It was a most astonishing, thrilling experience to look at and listen to these applicants.

Here is a young lad of 17 who has applied to three first class colleges and been accepted by all three of them. Why not? With his record, any college would be glad to have him. Only two B's in his entire high school career... First prize in Science Fair exhibition... Editor of the school newspaper... Member of Honor Society of his school... A clean-cut youth... Excellent manners... A delight to talk to and a joy to look at... Hard working... Has been working afternoons and weekends all through high school... Is working summers... Will go on working even in college to achieve his goal.

Is there a scholarship big enough for a boy like this? Would it not be a disgrace to a community if this scholar were to be lost because of financial hardship in the family?

No, he will not be lost. He will be able to go to the college of his choice, thanks to a Jori scholarship. Judging by the tears welling up in the eyes of many of the members of the committee, I know that they will go the limit.

Here is a young lady who graduated at the head of her class in high school... Was the sensation in the school all through her four years... Talented as speaker and writer... Mature and keen of mind... A most clear grasp of world affairs, and a philosophy of life that is rare in a young lady of her age... The list of her activities in school would fill this page... Very gentle and modest in manners.

You sit and you wonder. How did she manage to do all this with sickness at home, and with work after school, and with activities in youth clubs outside of school?

She certainly is one of the "children of the poor" of whom our sages warned us to be "heedful, for out of her will come great learning". The colleges know that. She was accepted everywhere, including one of the most coveted offers from a great University in New York.

A Jori Scholarship will make sure that this talented young lady is given the chance she so well deserves to develop her many talents.

All the way through the list the story is the same. Brains. Brilliance. Ambition. Thirst for learning. Triumph over difficulties. Disregard of stumbling blocks. A's and B's. Honors. Medals. Achievements in spite of hardships. Readiness to face hard work ahead of them. All in pursuit of an ideal—the ideal of learning, science, art.

Such were the young people whom Jori assisted in the past four years to a higher education. Not one disappointment among them. Every one proved deserving. Of such is the mettle of the candidates of the 1952 list.

To 95 students Jori awarded in the past the sum of $22,000. Most of the money came from volunteer gifts by the members of the board and their friends. The Council of Jewish Women contributes $1000 annually. This the Council gives in addition to a scholarship award program carried on for a number of years on their own.

The Jori Scholarship conducts no campaigns, has no drives for funds. Gifts are given voluntarily. The greater the funds at the disposal of the committee the most young people who can be assisted.

What a wonderful fund to endow! What a delight it must be to be able to have a portion in this grand project!

As I think of the young boys and girls I met at the interview table, as I see them again answering questions, discussing their plans, eager, hopeful, I pray that none of them is turned away because of lack of funds.

For the first time in my life, perhaps, I wished that I were rich enough to sponsor one of these young students through college. I, too, have known hardships, and I have memories of young people who were overwhelmed by the hardships because they had nowhere to turn for aid.

Power and strength, therefore, to the hands of those on the Jori Scholarship Foundation, and those who endow them, because they keep the words of our ancient teachers, who said:

Be heedful of the children of the poor, For out of them comes learning.

Baseball Adopts JWV Blood Idea

At the suggestion of the Jewish War Veterans, the nation will observe National Baseball Blood month during the period from June 15-July 15, according to Paul J. Robin, JWV national executive committeeman from Rhode Island, who is chairman of the campaign in this state.

Under this program the American Red Cross and the Department of Defense, the major and minor league baseball clubs, and JWV, all will co-operate in a drive to recruit blood donors for the armed forces from among the patrons at various baseball parks.

In a letter urging President Truman to proclaim National Baseball Blood month, Ford C. Frick, Baseball Commissioner, said: "We plan to use every mass appeal medium at our disposal, both in the baseball parks and in the general community, to stress the blood needs of the Armed Forces and to enlist volunteer donors."

"This project is aimed at maintaining an adequate level of Red Cross blood receipts... during the summer months. It was suggested by the Jewish War Veterans of the United States after consultation with the Red Cross and the Department of Defense."

The manner in which the drive will be handled in Rhode Island, which has no professional baseball of its own, will be announced shortly, Robin said.

Leonard Bloom Auxiliary, JWV, at the Crown Hotel at 7 P. M. on June 16. A regular meeting will follow the dinner.

Women's Mizrachi Elects Officers

Providence Chapter of Women's Mizrachi elected its officers for the coming season at a meeting held May 27 at the Narragansett Hotel. The slate of officers includes Mrs. Morris Lecht, president; Mrs. Charles Gilden, first vice-president; Mrs. William Shopper, second vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Gold, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Youngstein, financial secretary; Mrs. Celia Spahn, recording secretary; Mrs. F. Sock, corresponding secretary; and Mesdames D. Weisman, L. Kaplan, Jack Backner and S. Horovitz, trustees.

Honorary officers named include Mrs. David Friedman, president; Mrs. Hyman B. Stone, first vice-president; Mrs. Nathan Cohen, second vice-president; Mrs. Morris Fishbein, third vice-president; Mrs. Phillip Plushner, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Samuel Bernat, treasurer; Mesdames D. Weisman, William Zelnicker and Y. Cutler, trustees, and Mesdames Harry Yuloff and Morris Eisenstadt, board members.

The new officers will be installed later this month.

Post 23, JWV, Has Bowling Banquet

Post 23, Jewish War Veterans, completed its second bowling season at a banquet held at the Crown Hotel on May 27. George Jaffee's orchestra entertained the bowlers and their guests.

M. Rodin's "Corporals," winners of the second half, defeated J. Nasberg's "Chiefs," winners of the first half, by three pins in a playoff match to settle the championship in the final session of the season.

Individual honors went to W. Nasberg, high single, 140; M. Rodin, high three, 347; H. Pellman, high average, 101.

The league plans to add two new teams for next season. Veterans interested may contact Charles Stern, ST 1-0075, or Nat Winer, ST 1-9836.

SYD COHEN:

Baseball Oddities

Umpires have heard all sorts of protests since baseball first was invented, but it is extremely doubtful if there ever was a protest to match one that was lodged right here in Providence on Memorial Day.

It happened during an Amateur League game. Everything, in fact, happened during that game. The poor umpire could do nothing right, and the arguments raged loud and long. The fans even reminded the ump in a warning manner of the time he had been choked during an out-of-town contest.

But that has nothing to do with the unique protest. One of the managers got into a heated argument with the arbiter, who couldn't see the situation his way. Finally the exasperated manager announced that he was protesting the game.

"On what grounds?" said the umpire.

The rejoinder was startling, if somewhat refreshing:

"On the grounds of stupidity of the umpire!"

From last week's "Ruhl Book" column (by Oscar Ruhl) in the Sporting News comes a classic tale about Louis Norman Newsom, the hardy perennial who calls himself and everyone else "Bobo" and who is now serving his umpteenth term in the bullpens of the American and National Leagues.

This one concerns the time that the late Commissioner Judge Landis, a sworn enemy of horse racing, found that Buck, or Bobo, was laying an occasional buck on the nags. Confronted with the evidence, Newsom readily admitted that he was wont to bet on a sure tip.

Quoting now from the Sporting News:

"Said the Judge: 'That's very wrong . . . Now, supposing you had bet on a horse, your team was one run behind going into the ninth inning, the bases filled and you came to bat. What would you be thinking of—the ball game or how your horse came out?'"

"'Judge,' said Bobo, 'if my team was one run behind going into the ninth, and the bases filled, I'd never come to bat.'"

Sharpening the Ax

Tommy Holmes, who had his managerial neck guillotined last Saturday, was the first victim of the 1952 season, but he may not have been the last. This is not a prediction—let's make that emphatically clear, but those rumblings you detect on the baseball breeze originate in a high (blood) pressure area in Cleveland, where fans and sports writers alike are muttering about the job that Al Lopez is doing with the highly rated Indians. The honeymoon is over. The squawks are making the papers as far East as New York.

It is bad enough that Cleveland, after a fast start, has bogged down to the point where it is barely (at this writing) in first place; it is worse that the Tribe is playing under .600 ball with the season past the quarter pole. But the outstanding humiliation is what is happening to the Indians' pennant insurance policy—the Big Four of the pitching staff.

A look at Sunday's averages reveals that Garcia, Feller, Wynn and Lemon, who are supposed to pull the team to the pennant, have a combined mark of 20 wins, 14 defeats. A far cry from the pennant pace they were supposed to maintain.

The fans and writers are beginning to cast dirty remarks at Lopez because of the manner in which he is handling his aces. Al has them all working relief between regular starts. He lost the pennant a year ago because his pitching collapsed under the strain of starting and relieving; and he seems to be speeding to a quicker—and more permanent—doom this year.

The way things are going, Cleveland will need all its strength going down the stretch; and the Big Four already are finding it tough to stand up under the grind.

Should the Indians continue in this form, and lose the pennant, then you may lay odds that Lopez will "retire" for another job in the organization.

The truth about Cleveland's pitching seems to be that it is over-rated. Behind the Big Four are Steve Gromek with 3-1, and Sam Jones, 2-1. Six pitchers have done practically all the work. A seventh chucker has managed only to lose his one decision.

A six-man staff is far too shallow to permit victory, no matter how good the first four may be. And when that Big Four are overworked with relief assignments as well as regular starts, something has to give.

Lopez definitely is on the spot. By now he should be close to ten games ahead, not floundering. The Lord High Executioner is calmly sharpening his blade . . .

Speaking of axes, they do say that Chuck Dressen is shortly to suffer the fate that befell Holmes. The word is out that the Dodger brass is most unhappy, and that Pee Wee Reese will inherit the manager's toga.

Tommy Holmes may find himself in good company by World Series time.

Miller 101, D. Millman 102, S. Factor 101, E. Greenfield 107, I. Shaver 102, L. Waldman 106, E. Robinson 106, P. Sholovitz 111, M. Lozow 100, P. Datz 102, H. Lozow 108, M. Pivnick 94, A. Slack 96, B. Platt 91, J. Seigel 96, M. Shaeffer 97 and I. Silverman 92.

SUNNYSIDE DEBS

by Estelle Weiner

The league bowling season ended last week with Team A in first place with 35 points. Team B had 32. No bowl-offs will be held since Team A won both the first and second halves.

At the banquet on Thursday at the Narragansett Hotel, the following received trophies: Millie Tragar, high average, 96; Dottie Strashnick, high three, 362 and high single, 157; and Team A members—Muriel Rothstein, Sadie Woolf and Estelle Weiner.

FRATERNAL BOWLING

by Ben Medwin

The season ended with Nat Chaiken barely keeping high average with 107, and Jack Smith making the supreme effort by moving up from fourth two weeks ago to within 12 pins of catching Nat. High single went to Buzzie Labush and high three to Seltzer. Unity, with Capt. Herbie Wagner, G. Labush, Gladstone, White, Lisker and Levins, were the top team by seven games.

The bowlers, their wives and lady friends, attended a banquet Wednesday evening at Lindsey's Tavern, at which prizes were

"The Dybbuk" Is Film Attraction Sunday

"The Dybbuk," stirring Yiddish tale of a dispossessed soul which takes refuge in the body of a young bride, will be the feature presentation on the Jewish Community Center's Film Festival program Sunday evening at 8 P. M. at the Center.

One of the most moving and popular plays in the Yiddish

Theatre, "The Dybbuk" relates the story of the young man whose restless soul inhabits the body of his predestined bride after his death and is finally driven out by rabbinical exorcism after pleading his case through the mouth of the girl. The film is in Yiddish, with English translations and subtitles.

Selected shorts on the film program include "Viennese Waltz" with ballet, and "Tuesday in November," a story about elections.

Mrs. Julius C. Michaelson is chairman of the Center Film Council.

"Camille," co-starring Greta Garbo and Robert Taylor, will conclude the Film Festival series on June 22.

Friedenn-Horvitz

Miss Luba Belle Horvitz, daughter of Mrs. Amnon H. Horvitz of 34 Fourth Street, became the bride of Gerald Friedenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Friedenn of 30 Savoy Street Sunday at Temple Emanuel. Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen officiated.

A reception in the vestry followed the ceremony. Guests were present from Cincinnati, Rochester, Boston, New York City and Long Island.

The bride wore a blush-pink tulle ballerina gown with a Juliet cap and fingertip veil in matching hue. She carried a prayer book marked with orchids and stephanotis.

Euda Biller, the bride's only attendant, was dressed in beige and white organza, ballerina-length, and carried a cascade of talisman roses.

Seymour Rekanl was best man. The couple left on a motor trip through the South.

Weenie Roast, Dance Planned at Center

The entire adult membership of the Jewish Community Center and their friends are invited to attend two windup social affairs now being planned by the Membership Enrollment Committee, it was announced Monday.

David Meyers, chairman of the JCC 1952 Membership Enrollment Committee, revealed that a weenie roast will be held on Saturday, June 14 on the grounds of the Center. Informal dress will set the tempo of the affair, which will be highlighted by the preparation and serving of food by the men. The women will be "guests." Dancing will follow the roast. In case of inclement weather, the program will be held indoors.

One week later, on June 21, the women of the Center will be hostesses at a second windup of the adult membership social season which will feature square dancing. Dress again will be informal. All adult members of the community are invited to attend, Meyers said.

Billy DelVecchio took up where he left off last season by pacing Waldorf to a twin win over Natcor at Sessions Street on Sunday. Billy hit a tremendous home run that cleared the fence in left center and landed on the lawn of a house across the street. Observers said it was the longest ball ever hit in the history of the league.

DelVecchio slammed two triples and a single in the opening game as Lieberman twirled Waldorf to an easy 8-2 win. Tetreault and Aiello had two hits apiece for the winners. Abe Lobel spaced four hits in the nightcap for a 6-2 verdict, with Joyce, Jerry Lobel and Herb Weintraub doing some solid hitting. Rothchild's two doubles paced the losers. Buzzy Labush hurled both games for Natcor.

A bunting attack, followed by a pair of walks and homers by Mickler and Rappaport set up Cranston's 10-8 opening game win over Broadway Auto. Jerry Gordon outlasted perennial Jack Steiner on the hill. Herb Goldis led the Broadway hitters.

Broadway blew a 3-0 lead in the nightcap and Cranston went on to win 7-5. Nocky Rappaport's 2-run home run was the deciding blow. Paul Paris hit a 2-run circuit clout for the losers. Broadway's Bobby Goldis had six hits for the day.

M & F Insurance Comets rolled up a 9-0 lead against Technoprint in the first two innings and then staggered to an 11-7 victory in the first game. Nate Ludman tired after a fine start but pulled through for the win. Seltzer and Chaiken for the winners and Phil Levine for the losers hit well.

M & F also took the second game 7-3 when an outfield error with two out and the bases loaded resulted in three runs and broke a previously scoreless game wide open. Hank Levin's good relief pitching and 2-run homer saved the game for the Comets. Jim Baron, Phil Levine and George Karemblas hit well for the printers.

JCC Parents Assn. Has Annual Affair

The second annual installation dinner-dance of the Jewish Community Center's Parents Association was held Sunday in the Indian Room of the Narragansett Hotel. Milton C. Kay, vice-president of the Center, was master of ceremonies, and Morris Kritzman, executive director, was installing officer. The Ben Paris Orchestra played.

Mrs. William Goldstein, chairman, introduced the program, and Mrs. Benjamin Lewis, president, gave her annual report.

Installed with Mrs. Lewis were Mesdames Harold Braunstein, Harold Chase and Hyman Goldstein, vice-presidents; Albert Alter, corresponding secretary; Isadore Wolf, recording secretary; Nathan Schwartz, financial secretary; George Cossock, treasurer, and Irving Brodsky, newsletter Editor.

Mrs. Goldstein's committee included Mesdames Seymour Torgan, Saul Elkins, Nathan Schwartz, Isadore Wolf and Harold Chase. Hostesses were Mesdames Albert Alter, Hyman Goldstein, George Katz, David Miller and Stanley Myerson.

The Herald's deadline for news items is Tuesday noon.

Prov. Fraternal Down Pythians

Providence Fraternal Bowling League defeated the bowlers from the Knights of Pythias on May 27. The match was decided by total pinfall, as each side took six games and were even in number of games. Providence Fraternal won by 71 pins.

P.F. "A" team took two, "B" took one, "C" one and "D" two.

High three went to Pickar of the Knights with 331, and the other high threes of the Knights were: Shulkin 330, Broadman 328, Muffs 322, Miller 318 and J. Matzner 310. For Providence Fraternal: Seltzer 329, Paul 327, B. Labush 326, Delerson 324, Katz 321, Sklaroff 317 and Smith 313.

Kitzes of Providence Fraternal had high single, 135. Others of that organization who placed high were Seltzer and Rose 119, Delerson and Sklaroff 117, and Chaiken 116. For the Knights, high singles were as follows: Shulkin 124, Pickar and Broadman 119, and Muffs 116.

One dollar was collected from each man and the money turned over to the Providence Hebrew Day School.

Cranston JCC Picnic Sunday

The annual outing and picnic of the Cranston Jewish Community Club will be held Sunday at Goddard Park from 10:30 A. M. to 4 P. M. Joseph Bloomfield, principal of the Sunday School, is in charge.

The committee includes Bernie Goodman, Murray Potemkin, Morris Filler, Max White, Bernie Wexler, Dr. Dan Kaufman, Hy Katz, Joe Saltzman, Jerry Herman, Sam David, Arnold Isenberg, Paul Brotman and Leonard Guy. Activities will include baseball games, races and stunts, with prizes for the children.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Ben Gurion Branch 41B of Farband LZO celebrated its first anniversary with a party on May 25. A Father's Day program is planned for the June 15 meeting. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided. Members and friends are invited to attend.

JCC Lists Program For Pre-schoolers

The Children's Activities Committee of the Jewish Community Center this week announced plans for a summer playschool program to take place at the Center. The program will be in operation five mornings weekly, from 9 to 12 o'clock, for children between five-and-a-half and six-and-a-half years old, who are now attending kindergarten and the first grade. It will be conducted from June 30 through August 22. A minimum of ten children will be necessary to launch the program.

Summer registration is also now underway for children between the ages of three and five years. This younger section of Playschool likewise will meet five mornings weekly from 9 until noon, during the same eight weeks mentioned above. A maximum of 30 children will be accepted.

A trained staff, headed by Mrs. Marion Roseman, director, will conduct the Playschool. Included are Mrs. Casper Sutton of the permanent staff; Miss Phyllis Block of last year's staff, a nursery school trainee who has completed her junior year at Leslie School in Boston; and Miss Doty Forbes, a graduate of the kindergarten-nursery school training program of R. I. College of Education and a teacher in the lower grades in the Attleboro public schools.

Center family membership is a prerequisite of both programs. Center officials said.

Registrations will be accepted for the full eight week period, or for either of the two four week periods, June 30-July 25, and July 28 - August 22. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Roseman at the Center. UN 1-2674.

Olympics Observe 25th Anniversary

The William Gates Cutler Olympic Club, organized in 1927 when its charter members were between seven and nine years old, celebrated its 25th anniversary at the club's annual dinner-dance May 29 at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel.

The club is believed to be the oldest of its kind in the country, among those whose members were so young at the outset. Several charter members are still actively affiliated, and many others have maintained membership for long periods ranging from 15 to 24 years.

The affair was attended by 65 members and their guests, including William G. Cutler, the club's first leader, for whom the organization is named; and J. I. Cohen, former executive director of the Jewish Community Center, the Olympic home during most of its existence, and Mrs. Cohen.

J. Joslyn Presser, president, officiated, Ethel Roth and her orchestra presented a floor show and provided music for dancing.

CENTERETTES DANCE

The Centerettes, Jewish Community Center youth group, will hold a dance tomorrow at 8 P. M. Howie Winograd and his orchestra will play. Teen-agers are invited. Marilyn Pedlikin is dance chairman.

PLANNING MEETING

A program-planning meeting of the Providence Chapter of Hadasah was held at the home of Mrs.

George Savin, president, on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Irwin Silverman and Mrs. Morris Pritsker are program chairmen.
