Labor Leader Installed As Israel's New Chief

JERUSALEM — The Israeli Knesset (Parliament) last week elected Itzhak Ben-Zvi, 68-year-old leader of the Labor Party, to be this young nation's second president.

Ben-Zvi, like his predecessor, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, who died last month, spent a lifetime laying the framework of Israel as the national home of Jews.

The president-elect came here in 1907 after pogroms in his native Russia spurred his ambition to work with Weizmann in moulding the nation. For nearly 30 years, before independence was won, Ben-Zvi was the principal spokesman for Palestine Jewry on the spot while Weizmann appealed for support abroad.

Ben-Zvi's victory over three other candidates in the 120-member Knesset came on the third ballot when he received 62 votes, giving him the majority needed.

Surprise Switch-over

He received 43 votes of the Labor Party (Mapai), five votes of Arab members close to the Mapai, and 14 votes from the leftwing Mapam Party.

Israel Refuses Czech Demand To Recall Minister

JERUSALEM—The Israel Cabinet decided to reject completely the Czechoslovak note demanding the recall of Dr. Arieh Kubovi, Israel Minister to Prague, on charges that he interfered in Czechoslovak affairs and intervened in a "challenging and inadmissible" fashion in behalf of the emigration of Czechoslovak Jews to Israel. It also emphasized that in its eyes Dr. Kubovi, who is now in Israel, remains Israel's accredited representative to Prague.

The Israeli note to Czechoslovakia would be handed to the Prague authorities within the next few days, a government spokesman told newsmen. He said the note would refute the charges on which the Czechs based their demands for Dr. Kubovi's recall. He added the Czechoslovak charges that the Israel Legation interfered in Czech internal affairs during the four and one-half years since the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries are "absolutely without foundation."

The first and best proof of this fact, the Israeli spokesman continued, is the fact that the Czech Foreign Office never gave any indication that it felt that Israel had interfered in Czechoslovak affairs. Israel always acted in accordance with international diplomatic relations when it intervened in behalf of two Israeli citizens imprisoned in Prague, he stated.

In reference to immigration of Czechoslovak Jews, the Israeli note will stress that at the beginning of diplomatic relations between the two states, the Israel Legation had obtained Prague's permission for those Jews who desired to leave for Israel, and the Czechoslovak government never questioned the Legation's right to express Israel's wishes on immigration. On the contrary, the note will say, the Legation's efforts in this matter were successful and Dr. M. Eliashiv, Dr. Kubovi's predecessor, obtained a promise to permit the emigration of 3,500 Czech Jews on a list submitted previously.

Report New Red Trial Involving Jewish Officials

LONDON—Six Soviet Jewish officials will go on trial in Odessa on charges of "violating Soviet laws and pilfering state property," it was reported here this week. The first news of the coming trial was given in a special article published in Pravda, official organ of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, in which the names of all the six Jews were given.

Commenting on this article, the Manchester Guardian said that it can be taken for granted that "something of importance is afoot" in the Soviet Union. The forthcoming trial of the six Jewish officials in Odessa is considered here as part of the general Soviet trend to discredit Jews as an "untrustworthy element" in communist-dominated countries.

The London Times, in an editorial, charged that the communist satellite countries have embarked on a new campaign against the Jews "in obedience to directions from Moscow" and that recent developments in those countries must be interpreted as part of Moscow's general campaign against "cosmopolitanism."

The Times asserted that "three events in recent weeks have given evidence of Soviet hostility toward the Jews." These developments, it said, are:

"An unusual proportion of victims of the communist purge in the East German village of Klein Machnow were Jews; Russian diplomatic representatives were conspicuously absent from the ceremonial inauguration of Isaac Ben Zvi, the new President of Israel last Wednesday; and finally, and most dramatically, 11 of the 14 Czechoslovak communists condemned at the Prague treason trial were also Jewish."

Navy Jet Pilot Foretells Fate

SAN FRANCISCO — Ensign Marvin S. Cohn of Portland, Ore., had no illusions about his future as a Navy jet pilot, it was disclosed in Fairfield.

Cohn received a ticket for speeding in his car in Fairfield on Nov. 4. Before he could appear before a justice of the peace, his ship left for Korean waters and he wrote the court: "I would caution you to submit any financial claims rapidly because jet flying, especially in the Korean theatre, has turned out to be hazardous."

The court's request for payment of a fine was returned with the notation on the envelope "addressee deceased" and the information that Ensign Cohn had been killed Nov. 18 when his plane crashed aboard the U.S.S. Philippine Sea during training maneuvers.

Optometrist Designs Lens Giving Vision To Partially Blind

BANGOR, Me—Development of a clear image lens, powerful enough to give vision to about half the estimated 150,000 partially blind persons in the United States, was announced here at the annual meeting of the Main Optometric Association by Dr. William Feinbloom, Associate in Optometry at Columbia University, New York.

He reported that his new device, a member of the microscopic lens family, offers hope to many of the partially blind having as little as two per cent vision. These partially-sighted persons, who include many children doomed to a life of Braille, have until now been classed with the blind. Dr. Feinbloom said that the new lens, the result of five years of intensive research and clinical tests, is the first device removing all the blur optically possible from the eyes of the partially blind.

Discrimination in St. Petersburg Civic Clubs Revealed by Paper

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Discrimination against Jewish residents of St. Petersburg by the civic clubs of the city was brought into the open during a discussion at the Human Relations Workshop, sponsored by the St. Petersburg Council of Human Relations.

The disclosures came when Herbert Crill, president of the Inter-Civic Conference, which represents the six service clubs—Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Exchange, Civitan and Optimists—told the workshops that there were Jewish members in these organizations.

His statement was immediately challenged by M. G. Rosenberg, who said that apart from the two Junior Chambers of Commerce and a suburban Kiwanis Club, no Jews were known to be members of any St. Petersburg civic club. It was pointed out to the session that a "gentlemen's agreement" existed among the civic clubs on the admission of Jews.

Crill later told a reporter for the Florida Jewish Journal that he had sincerely believed Jews were members of the clubs. "However, I checked later and found that there are none in Kiwanis or in the Exchange Club, of which I am a member." He said there was one Jew in Rotary but added, "I grant you, one member is a small percentage of the total membership." The one Jewish Rotarian, it was learned was a transfer member from another city.

David Wolper, president of the local B'nai B'rith lodge, said that "this policy of discrimination has been well-known for years, but apparently no one is anxious to permit membership to a Jew no matter how civic-minded or intelligent he may be. It was only four years ago," he recalled, "that the local Jaycees (Junior Chamber of Commerce) took in their first Jewish member. Today, a Jew is a member of the Jaycees board of directors and has won a Jaycee popularity contest. From all indications the 12 Jewish members of the Jaycees have been a credit to the organization."

Row Over Kashruth In Winnipeg Center

WINNIPEG,Man.—A sharp dispute has arisen in the local community over the observance of Kashruth in the YMHA Community Center. The public restaurant in the center serves kosher meat and the private dining room caters kosher meals only, but the center's administration has declined to enforce kashruth reportedly because of the heavy additional cost and because the majority of the Jews of the city are not kashruth-observing.

Their stand has come under fire from religious groups who claim a lack of sincerity on the part of the Center leadership and declare it to be the Center's duty to concern itself with kashruth and the Jewish tradition generally.

3 Indicted for Perjury In Miami

MIAMI—Charged with having lied about their connection with last winter's terrorism here against Jews, Catholics and Negroes, three men and a woman surrendered to Federal authorities here after they were named in indictments handed down by a Federal grand jury investigating the bombings of Carver Village, a Negro apartment development.

They were William G. Orwick, Harvey G. De Rosier and Arthur F. Udgreen, who were described by Justice Department attorneys as "alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan," and Mrs. Helen Russell, vice-president of the Edison Center Civic Association, who purportedly organized a motorcade to protest the proposed conversion to Negro occupancy of two buildings in an all-white project adjoining Carver Village.

Party Objection

Dear Editor:

I was greatly surprised and disturbed listening, on last Sunday's two Jewish Stations "WRIB" and "WICE," to the announcements of the "Gala New Year's Eve celebration with all the liquor you can drink" to be held at the Beth David Synagogue quarters. To me it was a sacrilege and a cause for disgust to hear a display of disregard of Jewish suffering and persecution produced as a result of the dates in all 1952 years.

What have we got to celebrate on that eve? And of all places, under the roof of a strictly Orthodox Jewish Congregation. What is the Simchah for us to celebrate New Year's in a synagogue?

There's no excuse for a celebration on "that day." We have a Chanukah, a Purim, a Lag Baimer, a Simchas Torah—that's a reason for a celebration for us Jews.

JEWISH HOUSEWIVES HAIL FARM-FRESH QUALITY OF KOSHER NU-MAID MARGARINE

With more and more Jewish housewives turning to "U" endorsed Nu-Maid "Table-Grade" Margarine as a luxury-quality spread for table use, the modern trend in kosher home-making has advanced an important step forward towards the ideal of finer nutrition at truly moderate cost.

Nu-Maid Margarine is unique in many respects that recommend it to the Jewish home. For one thing, it is the only product of its kind that is endorsed and produced under the supervision of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America — and this, of course, provides complete assurance that it is kosher.

For another thing — and this is of importance to the woman who prides herself on the quality of the food she serves her family — Nu-Maid Margarine is equalled in quality and freshness only by the choicest of luxury-priced spreads costing three times as much, yet offering no advantages in taste or food value. In fact, as a recent article in Reader's Digest points out, margarine is not a substitute, but in every respect the man-made equivalent of the costlier spread, and in some respects, its superior.

Nu-Maid Margarine, in particular, offers one special nutritional advantage not found in most other spreads at any price. In addition to containing 15,000 International units of Vitamin A — sufficient, in average daily servings, to provide children with 62% of their minimum daily requirement — Nu-Maid Margarine is generously enriched with Vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin that should be present in adequate quantities in the daily diet of growing youngsters and adults alike. Another advantage, and a vital one to the quality-conscious shopper, is the fact that the high quality of Nu-Maid Margarine is controlled to the point of complete uniformity. This is not possible with the more expensive spreads, where variations in grade frequently occur.

Housewives who have come to use Nu-Maid Margarine exclusively as their family's table spread, speak highly of its rich, smooth-spreading texture, its tempting, creamy-golden color and delightful, farm-fresh flavor. As a spread on crackers, bread, or chaleh, Nu-Maid Margarine provides all the fine, fresh taste to which the average family is accustomed; it is ideal, in addition, for frying, creaming and as a shortening in baking.

Attractively packaged in an easily opened, easily stored "zip-pak" wrapper, Kosher Nu-Maid Margarine comes four prints to the pound, in the convenient new, stylish California quarters that fit handily into butter dishes. It is available at grocers and dairy stores everywhere.

GJC Campaign Now At $520,000

Headquarters of the General Jewish Committee's 1952 UJA fund-raising campaign reported today that returns have reached the $520,000 mark.

Joseph Galkin, GJC executive director, pointed out that this total represents "an increase just under ten percent" from the same donors to last year's drive. A total of 6574 cash gifts or pledges have been received to date.

Galkin broke this figure down as follows: Men's Division, 2235 gifts out of a total of 3423 received last year; Women's Division, 3128 of a potential 3314; Young Adult Division, 1211 of a potential 1498.

A Worker's Report Luncheon at GJC headquarters in the Strand Building is being held today (Friday, Dec. 26). On next Wednesday, Dec. 31, the final Worker's Report Luncheon of the year is expected to bring in a substantial quantity of additional gifts and pledges.

Alvin A. Sopkin, GJC president, noted today that "the potential exists for a most successful conclusion in January when our special 'follow-up squads' have completed their work."

Sopkin said that the final total will depend in turn "upon the degree of speed and effectiveness we exert in the remaining few weeks."

Both he and Henry Hassenfeld, general campaign chairman, joined in urging all solicitors with cards still in their possession to "cover them, if humanly possible, by December 31st."

Hassenfeld pointed out that if solicitors cannot attend the remaining two Worker's Report Luncheons, they can phone in their returns to GJC headquarters where a day-by-day running total on the campaign's progress is being maintained.

BOWLING

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

by Ben Feld

Damon, with good rolling by Norman Miller and Rubin Zeidman—127 each—took four games from Friendship. Saul Miller, 122 and 106, and Bob Berlinsky 112 were high for the losers. Len Goldman 335 and Hy Ladow 115 helped Senator knock off Monitor for three games. "Doc" Markowitz was high for Monitor with 119. Pythias gained first place by shutting out Prelate. Ben Feld's 346 and Harold Dubin's 113 rolled for the winners. Abe Aron's 111 was the losers' best effort.

Other good strings were Paul Gershman 120 and 113, Len Goldman 117 and 114, Bert Pickar 110, Sid Matzner 106, Sam Diamond 105 and 102, Mike Shulkin 104, Irving Zaidman 104, Morris Miller and Sol Snyder 102 each, and Joe Sindle and Dr. Joe Belinsky, 101 each.

EMANUEL BOWLING

The Cardinals dropped four points to the Red Sox but still lead by four points. Red Socker Joe Chaiken's terrific 130, 123, 145-398, in addition to a 15 point handicap, proved too much for the Cards. Chaiken's 398 ties him with M. Goldberg for second for individual high three for the season, chasing Irv Solmer's 468.

The Dodgers and Indians tied for second place. The Indians got their four points from the Yankees who were dumped into third place. Mel Paynor led the Indians with 372.

The Dodgers took three from the Pirates behind Al Chase's 116-148-103. The Tigers took three points from the White Sox. Hy Goldstein and Al Alter rolled high for the Tigers while Dave Ettine and Joe Waldman sparked the White Sox. The Athletics took three from the Giants with a three man team—Joel Kaplan, Dick Platkin and Lefty Goralnik, —mowing the Giants down. The Cubs took three from the Browns with the Cub big guns being Jerry Tessler 337 and TV Miller 332. The Braves and Howie Cohen's 126, 99, 121-346 were too much for the Reds who eked out a point on handicap.

PRESS TIME FLASHES

WASHINGTON—No official decision has yet been reached on whether Jews should be considered an "ethnic" group for listing on visa applications according to the McCarran - Walter Immigration and Nationality Act.

State Department sources revealed that a series of inter-departmental meetings had not decided what the ethnic groups should be. The act, which takes effect Dec. 24, requires that each alien "Shall state his race and ethnic classification," and the meetings were held to define the requirements more specifically.

The Visa Division has decided that it will be up to each alien to decide what is his "race and ethnic classification," but a list of classifications will have to be compiled and sent to consuls for guidance purposes.
