93 Million Spent in Year by Appeal Agencies

Receives Jerusalem Certificate

MRS. SOLOMON ELIASH

Mrs. Solomon Eliash, local Hebrew school instructor, last week received a Jerusalem Certificate from the Hebrew University, according to an announcement by the Bureau of Jewish Education and the Hebrew Culture Council, which administer the examinations in the Providence area. Mrs. Eliash was awarded her certificate "with distinction".
The Jerusalem Examination is given once a year under the guidance of the Department of Education and Culture of the Jewish Agency and the National Council on Jewish Education.

Dr. Harry Elkin, executive director of the Bureau, has been invited to membership in the American Committee of Sponsors which will administer the examinations in the United States in April of next year.

Found Life Bleak For USSR's Jews

Soviet Russia is entirely devoid of cultural life for the Jews, it was reported last week by Chaim Shurer, Israeli labor newspaper editor who recently spent 40 days in the USSR, and who is now in this country as a delegate of Histadrut, Israeli labor federation.

According to the New York Post, Shurer stated that, in Moscow, there is no Jewish theater, no Jewish press, and only one synagogue for 500,000 Jews.

"I could not see a Jewish school or library," he said. "There are none, and even Jewish homes were out of bounds for me. I did not enjoy any Jewish hospitality in those 40 days."

No Signs Of Life

The editor reported that he sought eagerly for a sign of Jewish life, but that he found none. He felt uneasy wherever he went, he said.

American Jews should not be misled by the Soviet "peace" line introduced in Geneva, Shurer maintained. He said: "Moscow has already revealed its true aims by its arms deals with Cairo. Not satisfied with oppressing 2,000,000 Jews within its own borders, Russia has put in jeopardy the State of Israel, the last great hope of that spiritually shackled community."

Holds Little Hope

Shurer discussed the tense situation between the Arabs and Israel, and he held out little hope for a compromise.

"What is the compromise?" he queried. "Give Egypt a part of our territory? This will not satisfy them. They want to get rid of us—and Russia is giving them the chance."

In the struggle between Egypt and Israel, he described Egypt as having a "backward, barbaric civilization" and Israel as a "democratic country."

Miriam to Share R. I.'s $3-Million From Ford Grant

Miriam Hospital will receive $67,800 as part of Rhode Island's share of a $550,000,000 national grant from the Ford Foundation, it was disclosed this week. Total grants to local colleges and hospitals in the state was $3,396,200.

Each hospital grant was determined on the basis of patient days of service it provides and the number of babies born in the hospital. The money must be used in programs that look forward to improving or adding to facilities or service, adding to or training personnel, or conducting research. Unlike the college grants, it does not have to go into endowment.

The Foundation said each hospital will be allowed to spend its money as it pleases with one exception: the money may not be used for running costs of services already being performed.

Churchill Warns Of Arming Egypt

LONDON—Sir Winston Churchill spoke out Monday night against the arming of Egypt "at the expense of and to the detriment of Israel."

He spoke at a rally of young conservatives in his constituency of Woodford. Replying to a question on whether he agreed with the British policy of arming Egypt "in view of the threat to destroy Israel at the first opportunity," Sir Winston declared, "I don't think we are attempting to rearm Egypt except as part of a gradual policy of giving a certain proportion of weapons to different coun-

Most Money Went For Agriculture

NEW YORK—A total sum of $93,153,000 — the largest single portion of which was provided by American Jews—has been spent during the past fiscal year, ending Oct. 31, by United Israel Appeal agencies for their immigration, rehabilitation and resettlement programs, Dewey D. Stone, national chairman of the United Israel Appeal, reported this week.

Stressing that the "mounting pressure of events, particularly the growing influx of North African Jews, has increased expenditures," Stone said that the costs of UIA projects during the past year exceeded the budget by more than $4,000,000.

Stone warned that the Government of Israel, "hard-pressed by the tightening grip of hostility from surrounding countries and threatened by heavy Czech armor, cannot assume entirely by itself the responsibility for the influx of needy Jews from North Africa.

"UIA agencies, which are charged with the task of receiving, rehabilitating and resettling immigrants, can no longer count on subsidies from the Israel Government which necessarily means that our budget of needs will increase proportionately as it has during the past few months of this year. Economic dislocation caused by the inability to absorb the influx can weaken Israel and create a temptation for surrounding aggressor nations. American Jews can do no less than to help Israel receive to her shores Jews who are in need and in danger."

Emphasis on Agriculture

The largest expenditure during the course of the past year—a total of $59,880,000—went for the category of agricultural settlement which includes establishing new villages, development of ex-

Gives $250,000 To United Appeal

NEW YORK—The gift of $250,000 to the newly launched United Jewish Appeal special fund by Samuel Rubin, prominent American business figure and philanthropist, was announced here by Joseph Mazer, fund chairman.

The fund is an emergency effort to secure $25,000,000 "over and above" the amount UJA must collect in its regular 1956 nationwide campaign. Sums raised in the special fund will go to assure the ability of the people of Israel to receive and absorb 45,000 Jews from tension-ridden North Africa by next September.

GJC Drive Total at $435,000

Urge Coverage of Remaining Cards

The 1955 campaign of the General Jewish Committee—the 10th annual fund-raising drive for 52 Israel, overseas, national and local agencies—this week reached a total of $435,000, it was announced by Alvin A. Sopkin, campaign chairman.

Sopkin said that he is pleased with the progress of the campaign up to now but pointed out that there is still much to be done before reaching the 1955 goal.

"We are out to top last year's figure of $500,000 and we realize it will take a great deal of work between now and the time the campaign closes," Sopkin asserted. "Both the workers and officials of the GJC are determined to better last year's total and we feel confident that this can be accomplished. There are still many cards unreported and I urge every worker to cover all the cards in his or her possession and report them as soon as possible to the General Jewish Committee headquarters at 203 Strand Building in downtown Providence. It is of utmost importance to report the cards as soon as possible so that the campaign can be brought to a close before the first of the year."

Henry J. Hassenfeld, GJC president, said that the results of the campaign thus far have been satisfactory. He added, however, that while the campaign is running ahead of last year, there is no justification for a let up in the coverage of cards.

"There will be no decrease in requests for allocations in 1956," Hassenfeld declared. "In fact, because of the tense world situation and the growth in local activities there probably will be an increase in allocation requests. There is an urgent need for increased financial assistance both in Israel, overseas and at home this year and we must top last year's figure."

Meanwhile, GJC officials said that if there is anyone in the Greater Providence area who has not been contacted and wishes to make a pledge, he can do so by contacting the GJC headquarters either in person or by telephone. The telephone number is GASpee 1-4111.

BETH DAVID MOTHERS

Temple Beth David Mother's Association held a Chanukah card party on Wednesday at the Temple at 8:30 P. M. Mrs. Harold Gershman and Mrs. Sam Nelson were chairmen. Table and door prizes were awarded, and refreshments served. It was announced that a fund is available to members and friends to contribute to, for memorials and Simchas.

UNITED STATES
Greater New York witnessed an unusual sight this Hanukkah week: the Willamburgh Savings Bank of Brooklyn, honoring the Feast of Lights, illuminated a mammoth Menorah through window lighting from the fourth to tenth floors on the southside of its tall building. This was the first time in American history, as far as could be ascertained, that a non-Jewish institution should so honor Hanukkah during this December season. A zealous Jewish youth, Martin J. Warmbrand of Brooklyn, inspired the bank to put on the Menorah display.

The White House last week, in a reply to a query by this writer, reaffirmed President Eisenhower's American Jewish Tercentenary Dinner reference "not to creating local imbalances which could be used for intimidation or aggression against any neighboring nation." Assistant Press Secretary to the President, Murray Snyder, also indicated that Mr. Eisenhower would not tolerate the diminishment of Israel's present borders. In support of this view he cited the President's Denver speech of November 9 in which Mr. Eisenhower declared: "I would recommend that the United States join in formal treaty engagements to prevent or thwart any effort by either side to alter by force the boundaries between Israel and its Arab neighbors."

"George Gershwin, Master of Melody," is the title of an article appearing in a recent issue of the Soviet publication, NEWS. Written by one Aram Khaclaturyan and showing a fine portrait of Gershwin, the article opens thus: "One would like to believe that the relaxation of world tension will stimulate international intercourse in the field of music and closer creative contact between composers and musicians of all countries." The same publication contains an article called "Egypt's Contribution to Peace." It praises Nasser, Bandung and Arab solidarity. Not a word about Israel. Abdul Halli Hassouna, Secretary General of the Arab League, was honored by the American Friends of the Middle East Monday night at a fifteen-dollar-a-plate dinner at New York's Waldorf.

A new Jewish Agency survey reveals that the cultivated area of Israel has increased more than two-fold between 1948 and 1955. Within the same period, the country's population rose by 140 percent—from 650,000 at the beginning of 1948 to 1,550,000 by the end of July, 1955. William Zeckendorf, real estate wizard of the generation, announced

SAM MENCOFF

Funeral services for Sam Mencoff of 327 Elm Grove Avenue, a textile machinery broker and a resident of Providence for many years, who died Monday after a long illness, were held on Tuesday at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in New York City in 1892, he was the husband of Pauline (Greenstein) Mencoff. He was a member of Temple Emanuel.

Besides his widow, he leaves a son, Harvey Mencoff; a daughter, Mrs. Yvette Ross; a sister, Mrs. Louis Kaufman; a brother, Harry Mencoff, and one grandchild, all of Providence.

MRS. DAVID BARIS

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie (Bilgor) Baris, 75, of 97 Glenham Street, widow of David Baris, who died Dec. 8 after a long illness, were held last Friday at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in Austria, the daughter of Aaron and Rachel Bilgor, she had resided in Providence for 55 years. Mrs. Baris was a member of Congregation Shaare Zedek and its Sisterhood; Ladies Association Jewish Home for the Aged; Chesed Shel Emes, and the South Providence Hebrew Free Loan Association.

She is survived by two daughters, the Misses Annie H. and Bessie Baris, a granddaughter, and two great-grandchildren.

Click-Adlerman

The marriage of Miss Edythe Adlerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Adlerman of Roosevelt, N. J. Mr. Click is the son of Mr. at a 9:15 P. M. candlelight ceremony on Nov. 23 in the Oxford Room of the Essex Hotel, Newark, N. J. Mr. Click is the son of Mr. Michael Click of 307 Wood Haven Road, Pawtucket, and the late Mrs. Rebecca Click. Rabbi O. Soloff performed the double-ring ceremony. A reception followed at which guests were present from Canada, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of ivory Skinner satin, fashioned in princess lines with an imported lace yolk and back, long sleeves and a full skirt ending in a train. Her veil of ivory tulle cascaded from a bandeau of iridescent pearls and sequins. The bridal bouquet was of white gardenias centered with an orchid.

Miss Dorothy Click, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, wearing a gown of rose iridescent taffeta with a cape jacket and a matching headpiece. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses. Mrs. Martin Rubinstein of Levittown, Pa. was matron of honor for her sister. She was gowned in aqua iridescent taffeta with a jacket and matching headpiece. She carried a cascade of red roses.

Melvin Alderman, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were Martin Rubinstein, Paul Rosenthal of Trenton, N. J., Leo Boriss, Lawrence Karman, both of New York, and Donald Jacobs of Providence. Gary Rubinstein, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of periwinkle taffeta, trimmed with navy velvet. She wore a purple orchid.

The couple honeymooned in Miami Beach, Fla., and on Feb. 1 will reside at 10 Patrick Lane, Morrisville, Pa.

The Medical Secret of Hadassah

HADASSAH has a healing secret—TLC—meaning "tender, loving care" which is actually prescribed on medical charts, especially in its polio and children's wards in Israel. TLC, say the Hadassah staff, is an indispensable weapon in the fight for good health. To watch Hadassah's doctors and nurses fondle and soothe, guide and instruct the thousands of patients, young and old, who are treated in its hospitals, clinics and health centers, is to understand why the name of Hadassah has been blessed in the land since its beginning in 1912!

Jewish Welfare Funds Tally Analyzed in CJFWF's Survey

NEW YORK—Forty-six national and overseas Jewish agencies which are major beneficiaries of Jewish welfare funds in this country had an income of $180 million in 1954, including $64 million in special loans for the United Jewish Appeal raised by the Jewish communities.

Local Jewish institutions had an income of $118 million during the same year.

This was reported this week by the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds in an analysis of developments affecting Jewish philanthropy in the United States during 1954. The report established that Jewish federations and welfare funds raised about $105 million last year. It emphasized that the welfare funds also borrowed the $64 million for the UJA special loan project. The report highlighted the following facts:

1. After deducting costs of local Jewish services in their home communities for activities not financed by community chests, costs of administering their own activities as central community agencies, and normal allowances for adjustments in pledges, welfare funds were able to provide over $56 million to the UJA and 45 other overseas and national agencies. In addition, welfare funds distributed about $250,000 to some 150 agencies, three-quarters of them yeshivah in Israel and in the United States.

2. Contributions from membership sources, from independent campaigns and from earnings on invested funds, resulted in income of $33 million to the 46 agencies.

3. In addition, allocations equivalent in value to about $27 million from the proceeds of the Conference on Jewish Material Claims Against Germany were available for the most part to two major UJA beneficiaries, the JDC and the Jewish Agency.

4. UJA income and expenditures, fell by about $15 million in 1954, reflecting in part the reduction in 1954 campaign proceeds of welfare funds. There were also delays in transmission of ordinary funds arising from organization of the special loan project. UJA income of $48.6 million in 1954 was 54% of total income of the 46 agencies.

5. Other overseas agencies raised $18.4 million in 1954. Together with UJA income, overseas agencies received 75% of the total income of the 46 agencies.

6. About $5.5 million was raised by the agencies in each of the following three fields: community relations, health and welfare, and religious. Cultural agencies secured $4.4 million while national service agencies raised $1.3 million.

7. Agencies other than UJA spent $40 million in 1954 compared with $37.4 in 1953. All fields, except community relations and national service shared in the rise with major increases for overseas agencies, health, cultural and religious agencies.

Four Boys Admit Vandalism Acts

Four 13-year-old Barrington boys admitted to police this week they had smashed more than 150 windows in homes and garages in the Barrington Beach area, a summer colony comprised for the most part of Jewish families.

Two of the boys also admitted scrawling the words "Jew" and "Kike" on the porch screen of one of the homes and on the West Highland Avenue pavement during the Halloween period.

Deputy Police Chief Walter S. Walberg said last night he is convinced the window smashing was "just a boyish prank."

"None of the boys could tell us why they did it. They said they just did it on the spur of the moment," the police officer reported.

The deputy chief, Police Chief George W. Robbins and State Police Sgt. Bernard McDonald questioned the four boys over a six-hour period. The youngsters were then allowed to go home.

The deputy chief said he will ask that all four be referred to Juvenile Court.

Parents of three of the boys were present during part of the police questioning yesterday. The parents of the fourth boy will be interviewed by police today.

Police said a sample of handwriting taken from one of the boys matched that on the porch screen and led to solution of the vandalism. He implicated two others and they subsequently implicated the fourth.

The admissions by the four boys interrupted investigations of the incident being carried on by a representative of the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith and a field supervisor for the Rhode Island League Against Discrimination.

Rabbi Carries News Of Heroic Death

BROOKLYN, N. Y. — The sad tidings of a heroic Jewish Marine Corps jet pilot, who deliberately rode to his death to avoid crashing in a residential district when his F-J-2 Fury plane was disabled, was carried to the pilot's family by a rabbi serving as part-time chaplain at Floyd Bennett Field.

Capt. Arthur C. Rubinstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rubinstein of 501 New York Avenue, Brooklyn, had come to South Weymouth Naval Air Station, Mass. on a routine mission. Taking off on the return trip to his home base at Cherry Point, N. C., he ran into engine trouble when 100 feet in the air. He informed the control tower that his engine had quit and that he had decided to steer the fighter plane away from the residential district into a wooded area nearby. He crashed to his death in the woods about a mile from the Station.

Moved by his heroism, two jet pilot officers, who had witnessed the accident from the field, offered to go to New York to convey the news to the pilot's family, suggesting a Jewish chaplain go along with them. This, they felt, might make the acceptance of the news a bit easier than just an official Marine Corps telegram.

Rabbi Eugene Cohen set out with the party for the home of Capt. Rubinstein's folks and conveyed the condolences of the Marine Corps to the bereaved parents.

GOLDSMITH FAMILY

Movies of last year's affair and of the July beach party were shown at the second annual Chanukah party of the Goldsmith Family Group last Sunday at the Jewish War Veterans Hall. Presents were distributed to the children, and refreshments were served. The arrangements committee included Miss Rose Bloom, Miss Gladys Davis, Mrs. Joseph Woloff, and Mrs. Nathan Miller. Guests were present from Connecticut and Massachusetts.

SHELTERING LADIES

Mrs. Morris Berkowitz will present a talk on the holiday at the Chanukah meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Providence Hebrew Sheltering Society, to be held on Monday afternoon at the Sheltering Home. Refreshments and a door prize are featured.

JCC Teen Bowlers On Weekly Schedule

The Jewish Community Center's Teen Bowling League, under the auspices of Center Men's Association, now bowls weekly at the Casino Alleys on Sunday afternoons at 1:30 P. M. Chairman in charge for Men's Association is Dr. Hyman Goldstein. The following high scores were reported by Dr. Goldstein at the last bowling session:

Eddy Kudish 25, 104, 80 for 259; Lou Pollock 81, 67, 81 for 229; Bill Berman 111, 89, 81 for 281; Al Uffer 69, 93, 80 for 242; and Mel Bloom 86, 80, 80 for 246.

To Register Center Golf Classes

Registration for golf instruction classes at the Jewish Community Center for adults, young adults and teenagers will open at the Center during the coming week, it was announced by Leo Borenstein and Elwin Rosenbaum, co-chairmen of the JCC health and physical education committee.

Instruction this season will be under the direction of Frank Gilholm, a Class A member of the Professional Golfers Association (PGA).

As an added convenience, classes this season are planned for both the Main Center building at Sessions Street and at the Center's South Side Branch building at 45 Hamilton Street. Classes will consist of a series of 10 one-hour sessions, beginning the week of Jan. 9. Instruction will be given on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays, with four afternoon classes scheduled from 1 to 5 o'clock, and evening classes conducted from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Registration will be open to Center members and non-members with classes organized so that a maximum of six persons will be enrolled in afternoon classes and a maximum of 10 in the evening classes. Teen-agers interested in learning the game will be enrolled in special groups at reduced registration fees. As far as possible, men's and women's classes will be enrolled separately. Equipment will be furnished by Gilholm.

Registration information may be obtained by calling the Center office at the main building, UN 1-2674.

Chesed Shel Ames Re-elects Newman

Eastward Center to Solicit for UJA

Five members of the Eastward Jewish Center were named United Jewish Appeal soliciting chairmen for the areas embraced by the Eastward Center at a breakfast meeting on Dec. 4. Those appointed were Myles Alper, Seekonk, Jerry Feinstein, Barrington; Ted Levy, East Providence; Dr. Robert Schwartz, professional men, and Frank Sleprow, coordinator.

The Center conducted a children's Chanukah party the same day. Mrs. Sarah Feinstein was in charge of arrangements and was assisted by Mrs. Doris Jacober. The program included the lighting of the Menorah candles, Chanukah songs, and refreshments.

Biltmore Manager Gets Coast Post

George Thomas Cullen, general manager of the Sheraton-Biltmore hotel here, has been appointed general manager of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco. It was announced last night in Boston by E. E. Boswell, vice-president and supervising general manager of Sheraton hotels.

His appointment will take effect Jan. 10, and Cullen expects to remain in Providence through the holidays before leaving for the coast. No successor has been named to his position here.

Cullen came to Providence early in September.

12 Home Residents Feted
At Chanukah Party

Approximately 150 residents of the Jewish Home for the Aged were entertained last Sunday at a Chanukah party, sponsored by the Ladies Association. Mrs. Harry Forman was in charge of entertainment, which included the lighting of the candles, conducted by Theodore Berger; songs by Irene Polikoff, accompanied by Arthur Einstein, and a piano solo by Mrs. Helene Flaschner, a resident.

Gifts, contributed by Bernard Goodman in memory of Mrs. Ephraim Rosen and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Goodman, were distributed to each resident. Special gifts from the Association were presented to those residents celebrating birthdays. Mrs. Ezra Silverman donated a large birthday cake.

Mrs. Jacob Licht was chairman of the hostesses who included Mesdames Jacob Berkelhammer, Solomon Kipnis, Leo Kopit, Samuel Rigelhaupt, Jona Licht, Leo Grossman, Nathan Warren, Alfred Gilstein, Ben Gittleman, James Goldman, Jacob I. Felder, Herman Caine, Abraham D. Freedman, Joseph Schlossberg, Samuel Deutch, Max Temkin, Samuel Shanbrun, M. Sherman, David Kahanovsky and Benjamin Tichman.

Also present at the affair were Max Winograd, Home president; Jacob I. Felder, honorary president; Archibald Silverman, Herbert Pansy, Jacob Licht and other outside guests.

Plantations Lodge Plans Sport Nite

Plantation Lodge of B'nai B'rith announced this week that it will hold its first annual Sports Night program on Wednesday, Feb. 1 at Temple Beth Shalom. Leading sports figures who already have accepted invitations to appear are Al Kelley, Brown football coach; Hal Kopp, University of R. I. football coach; and Benny Friedman, who holds a similar post at Brandeis.

At its meeting last Wednesday, the Lodge also planned the reorganization of committees. Abraham Becken, local attorney, led a panel discussion.

AUXILIARY MEETING

Mrs. Hyman Lipet was hostess chairman for the meeting of the Reback-Winsten Auxiliary held Dec. 5 at the Ohave Shalom Synagogue. Mrs. Robert Hodosh gave the invocation. Mrs. Reuben Alexander was introduced as a new member. Assisting Mrs. Lipet at the meeting were Mesdames William Fellner, Harry Gordon, Marvin Greenberg and Robert Hodosh.

HONOR MRS. CLEINMAN

Mrs. Aaron Cleinman, president of the Jewish Mothers Alliance, was honored by the group at a meeting held last Monday afternoon. Mrs. Cleinman's name will be inscribed in the building of the Israel Orphan Home for Girls. The group contributes to this home twice a year. Mrs. Yetta Cutler was hostess.

Beth Israel Service To Welcome Students

The annual homecoming service honoring college students who attend out-of-town schools will take place at Temple Beth Israel next Friday evening, Dec. 23, at 8 o'clock. The service will be conducted by Rabbi Morris Shushheim; Cantor Seymour Schwartzman; and the Temple choir, with the participation of a number of college students. Following the service, a reception will be held.

HUG IVRI SPEAKER

Paul Hartman will be the discussion leader at the meeting of the Hug Ivri, Hebrew Speaking Circle, on Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock. "My Experiences in Israel Before the Establishment of the State" will be the subject of Hartman's presentation.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gross, 118 Eaton Street. For information about attending the Hug Ivri call the office of the Bureau of Jewish Education. Dr. Aaron Klein is chairman.

MEN'S CLUB BREAKFAST

Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen will be guest speaker at the annual breakfast meeting of the Men's Club of Temple Emanuel to be held on Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock at Topp's Gaylord Party Room. The Rabbi's topic is "A Rabbi Reminisces". Howard Schneider, meeting chairman, urges every member to bring a guest interested in joining the Club.

First Forum Lecture To Be Held Sunday

"A Social Philosophy for American Jews" is the subject to be discussed by Dr. Sidney Hook at the first Jewish Community Forum program to be conducted in the new Jewish Community Center, South Side Branch building on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The program, presented under the joint auspices of the Center's Women's Organization and its Men's Association, is the final event in the Center's Dedication Week.

Dr. Hook is a professor of philosophy and chairman of the department at Washington Square College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, New York University.

There will be no reserved seats, and those interested are advised to arrive early. A social hour will follow the program, which is open to all adults of the community.

By Ruth Russian

Mildred Zatiuff rolled high single. High three was Phyllis Labush, 306. Other good strings were Dot Leonard 94; Eleanor Bida 90, 96; Dorothy Blatvise 94, 92; Martha Sonion 93; Leah Katz 102; Yvette Rodman and Lil Osterman 99; Shirley Galer 91; Shirley Dorsch 96, 107, 91; Carol Zeidel 91, 93; Shirley Wilk 90, 96; Bernice Hornstein 91; Lillian Metz 94; Mildred Zatiuff 114, 94, 90; Phyllis Labush 105, 96, 105 and Rosalie Zenofsky 100, 96.

FINEMAN-TRINKEL AUXILIARY

By Goldie Cohen

Best triple, 329, was rolled by Barbara Bressler (115-114-100) and Sally Ludman (116-113-100); Dottie Forman (105-99-98) and Edith Nulman (126-90), both of Regents, rolled 302, and Arline Slack, who has been consistently in the 300 class for the past three weeks, had 301 (107-99-95).

Other good strings were: Marsha Golden 111, Gert Summers 110, Hope Himelfarb 108-91-90, Mimi Lozow 108-100, Flo Tilles 105-100-93, Lillian Waldman 105, Adrienne Aronson 105-96, Lois Cohen 103-97, Fannie Levin 102-99-96, Eunice Greenfield 100-95, Sylvia Jarcho 100-92, Helen Lehrer 99-92, Margie Winston 97, Ida Shaver, 96, Sheila Mittleman 96, Erica Hasterlik 96-92, Florence Sarenson 95, Phoebe Nulman 94, Arline Abrams 93, Laura Schwartz 93, Kraner Reisberg 92, and Claire Mickler 92.

Among the spares, Edith Zwetckhenbaum rolled 326 (118-105-103), Estelle Tetebaum 323 (115-111-97), Ruth Kazerman 96, and Kayla Flamer 93-91.

Camels are leading the pack, followed closely by Tarreytons and Chesterfields.

Camels still lead with 18 wins. Tarreytons hold steadfastly to second place with 16, and Pall Malls trail them with 14 points.

Flo Tilles matched Barbara Bressler's high single of 138 when she rolled 321 (138-99). Helen Lehrer had 305 (114-99-92) and Barbara Bressler 303 (116-94-93).

Also rolling good strings were: Adrienne Aronson 130, Claire Mickler 113-92, Hope Zawatsky 109-93, Hope Himelfarb 107-97, Phoebe Nulman 107, Arline Abrams 106-90, Mimi Lozow 103-93, Fannie Levin 101-90, June Winn 100-95, Gert Summer 99-96, Marcia Golden 99, Lois Cohen 98-96, Goldie Cohen 98, Dottie Forman 96-93-90, Eunice Greenfield 95, Sally Ludman 95, Sylvia Jarcho 95-94, Edith Nulman 94-90, Phyl Bernstein 93-93-91, Pauline Namerow 93, Bea Botvin 93, Helene Preblud 92, Sheila Halperin 92, Arline Slack 91-91, Laura Schwartz 91, and spares Estelle Tetebaum 113, Edith Zwetckhenbaum 98-97-97, and Selma Fishbein 95-91.

CRANSTON PLAIDS

A high three of 310 was scored by Fran Rodinsky with a single string of 117; however, Jeanette Silverstein rolled 315, also with a single of 117. Other high triples were Norma Baker 309, Sylvia

Foods to Remember

EGGPLANT RELISH

- 1 pound eggplant, washed and diced (unpared)
- 1 large onion, diced
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 cup diced green bell pepper
- 4 tablespoons olive oil (or vegetable oil)
- 1/2 cup sliced pimiento stuffed green olives
- 1 tablespoon salted capers (bought at food stores)
- 1 cup thick tomato sauce or puree—diluted (fresh made or canned)
- 1 cup cold water
- 1/4 cup wine vinegar
- 3 tablespoons dark brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon oregano (or basil, marjoram or mixed herb seasoning)

Combine diced vegetables and saute in hot oil in a 10-inch frying pan till lightly browned, stirring constantly to prevent scorching. Cover, turn down heat to lowest point and let cook 5 minutes or till the eggplant cubes are tender enough to pierce with a fork. The moisture under the cover of pan should be sufficient up to this point. Add remaining ingredients in the order listed, cover and let simmer 5 to 10 minutes longer, stirring once or twice during the process to prevent sticking. Turn into half pint containers—plastic ones are best. Cover when cold. Can be stored in the refrigerator with safety for a week or two. Serve as a relish with chicken, turkey or any meat or fish meal.

VEGETABLE PATTIES

- 1 cup cooked and mashed peas, lima beans or chick peas (use canned or frozen kind if desired)
  - 1 cup diced onion
  - 3 tablespoons shortening (schmalts, oil or vegetable)
  - 1 clove garlic, minced fine, optional
  - 1/2 cup dry bread or cracker crumbs, rolled very fine
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 cup finely chopped spinach, green beans or asparagus (use canned or frozen kinds)
- Shortening for pan frying
Use the food chopper for mashing the cooked peas or beans first on this list of ingredients. Lightly brown the diced onion in shortening used and add minced garlic for special tang. Add the half cup fine crumbs to the fried onion and stir for one minute. Combine the two mixtures and add eggs, one at a time, mixing till combined. Add the green vegetables, mixing lightly with a fork. Now form this mixture into balls and roll in the half cup of crumbs till well coated. Place these at least an inch apart each way in a well greased frying pan that has been heated over moderate flame. Flatten with the bowl of a mixing spoon and fry browning on both sides.

Last week's hearings on the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act had both encouraging and disheartening aspects. The unanimity of voice with which American Jewish organizations made their presentation of the case for basic revision of the law was very good to witness. It has been only too long since such a unified and eloquent statement, representing the views of all our major Jewish groups concerned with community relations matters, has been placed on the record. That this solidarity gave added weight to the arguments can not be questioned. We therefore hope that these agencies, wherever possible, continue to speak with one voice in matters of such grave concern to us all.

We were joined in our call for improvements in immigration policy by spokesmen for the other major religious groups in the United States, as well as by leaders of organized labor and civic bodies who are agreed that the McCarran-Walter Law requires drastic changes. All emphasized that bi-partisan support is needed to effect necessary advances. It was also noted by some that the Administration, while it is on record as requesting immigration policy changes, has thus far failed to exert the kind of leadership that is required to convince Congress of the need for better legislation.

As it happens, some leaders in the Senate, on both sides of the aisle, were agreed last week that only token changes in the law are likely in the immediate future. They may, unfortunately, be right. This should not alter our determination, in concert with all other concerned citizens, to work towards the day when a more wholesome immigration policy will be the law of this land.

"One Man's Opinion"

Omar Reb Wolfson,
Said Dr. Wolfson

By BERYL SEGAL

Not more than a month ago I wrote about Dr. Harry A. Wolfson, professor of Jewish literature and philosophy at Harvard College. The interest shown in the Jewish scholar and his writings by the readers of my story was very encouraging. It proved that we are still capable of becoming excited about a man of letters no less than about a gridiron hero or a TV celebrity.

An elderly gentleman insisted that Dr. Wolfson was his landsman and that they were childhood friends. A young scientist told me of the pleasant hours he spent in Professor Wolfson's course in philosophy during undergraduate days in Harvard. Many people asked for lists of books by Wolfson, and I referred them to John Hay Library at Brown University and Temple Beth El Library, where all the published works of Wolfson can be found.

But a lady reminded me of my promise to go into the lighter writings of Dr. Wolfson, to his essays dealing with subjects of interest to everybody.

And so, in our ancient traditional manner of studying, we begin reading and explaining one of the Wolfson essays.

Omar Reb Wolfson, Professor Wolfson said:

"Some Jews try to escape Judaism because Judaism is a problem, and to some people escaping is the simplest way of getting out of a difficult situation."

How many of us can truthfully say that they have not felt the burden of their Jewishness at one time or another? How many of us are smarting under the difficulties in daily life caused by our Jewishness? How many of our young people are plagued by the problem of Judaism?

We must admit that the burden of Jewishness is felt by most of us. But most of us, fortunately, do not wish to escape difficulties. Rather do we grope for solutions more dignified than cowardly escape, solutions that would not make us ashamed of ourselves.

Do not look in Dr. Wolfson's essay for solutions to the problem of Judaism. He offers none. What is more he does not believe in solutions.

Says Wolfson:

"Furthermore, I believe that it is useless to look for solutions for all our difficulties. There are certain problems of life for which no solution is possible."

Judaism, as well as problems arising from all other religions, cannot be solved, and must not be solved. What is more, Wolfson does not believe that it is at all necessary to have all our problems solved. Our happiness does not depend on final and absolute solutions of all difficulties facing us in life. Much more important to our happiness is, in the words of Dr. Wolfson:

"An abiding sense of loyalty to one supreme interest, and a willingness to resign ourselves to that loyalty."

Instead of escaping our Jewishness, or looking for solutions short of escape, we accept this fact and give our whole loyalty to it, so that all the disadvantages, real or imaginary, arising from this loyalty become minor and insignificant, and we relinquish all other interests in favor of the one supreme interest.

If a Jew is plagued by discrimination or fall sorts, if the doors of certain country clubs are closed to him, if some fashionable resorts do not welcome him, if a desirable promotion in the firm is not given to him because of his faith, will that Jew try to escape in order to gain these advantages, or will he say with Wolfson:

"It is the greatest manifestation of human freedom, the relinquishment of all petty forms of freedom for the exercise of the greatest of its forms, the assertion of one's inner self as the master of all external conduct."

Our Jewishness is our inner self, our social inheritance, and it is futile to try and throw it off. To bring this idea of Jewishness as our inner self closer home, Dr. Wolfson tells us the parable of the wayfarer and his load.

"The uneasiness of mind and perplexity from which the sensitive religious nature suffers . . . is akin to the physical discomfort we experience when under the weight of a cumbersome burden which is unevenly distributed around our body and which pulls and drags on us jerkily in every direction. We could easily relieve ourselves of such an intolerable situation by throwing off the burden."

"But suppose it is something precious and dear to us for its own sake; throwing it off might relieve us momentarily from the physical strain, but the memory of it would haunt us and make us unhappy forever after.

"Suppose, again, we are soldiers in the ranks and the burden consists of our knapsack, our rifle, our rations, our ammunition, to throw away which would mean the sure forfeiture of our own life as well as the lives of our fellow beings. Would we then seek relief in throwing off our burden? Certainly not, unless human nature is devoid of that stuff—heroic, as we sometimes call it—of which we know it is made."

A remarkable parable. Read it again and ponder over it. To each one of us is given the choice: Carry the burden and be true to yourself, thereby achieving peace of mind and soul; or throw it off, if possible, and bear the shame and guilt of the deserter all the days of our lives.

Said Dr. Wolfson:

"We can no more strip ourselves of our social inheritance (and our Jewishness is our social inheritance), than we can of our physical inheritance."

And we turn the pages of the essay entitled "Escaping Judaism," and we come upon these startling lines:

"All men are not created equal. Some are born blind, some deaf, some lame, and some are born Jews. The blind, the deaf, and the lame all have to forego many a good thing in life. To be isolated, to be deprived of many social goods and advantages is our common lot as Jews. Are we willing to submit to fate, or shall we foolishly struggle against it?"

Make no mistake. Dr. Wolfson does not advocate meek submission to discrimination. Where civic rights are concerned we are to fight and demand our full measure of equality. These remarks about submission to fate refer only to the futility of trying to escape Judaism BY DENYING IT, or by telling ourselves that it really does not concern us.

(Mr. Segal's opinions are his own. His views are not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

Reunion Without Tears—

NEVER FORGOT POLISH WOMAN WHO HID HER FROM NAZIS

Felicia Grunfeder, a young Jewish child who was smuggled out of the Warsaw ghetto in a coffin and then hidden with a Christian family, is shown (at left) as she was reunited with her foster mother, Mrs. Joseph Arens, in the New York shelter of United Hias Service, the Jewish International migration agency, in 1949, and again (at right) this year, when the girl, now 16, returned from California to visit with Mrs. Arens and her husband. The reunion was a happy one. In 1941 the Nazis imprisoned the Jews in the Warsaw ghetto and Felicia's parents delivered her to Christian friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arens, in a coffin, pretending they were on their way to bury her. Mr. Arens took the child to a neighboring village, and returned to Warsaw with her, telling neighbors that the child was his from a former marriage. Later, the child's real father was killed, the mother was sent to a concentration camp, and the Arens family, who had aided the Jews in the Warsaw uprising, were also sent to a concentration camp, taking Felicia with them. After liberation, Felicia's mother found her child, reclaimed her, and the pair were aided to come to U. S. by United Hias. The Arens had immigrated to the U. S. the year before. Felicia and her mother proceeded to California. Recently Felicia, who lives with her mother in Los Angeles, and who is now a high school senior, came back to New York on a visit, and the reunion with Mrs. Arens resulted. Felicia, who is majoring in languages, speaks five languages now, and writes for her high school paper. The Arens live in Mahwah, N. J., and Felicia stayed with them during her visit back East.

SYD COHEN:

Iron Man

Whenever the talk gets around to the famous football teams at Brown University, whether it is in this column or in vocal conversation, someone is sure to ask, "What about Joe Schein?"

Even the relatively young fans know of Joe, and are aware that he was one of the greats. Often, they associate him with the legendary Iron Men; and when the series on the 1932 team appeared in this space last year, there were several complaints because the name of Schein wasn't included.

Memories of the great Brown teams must have come flooding back last week when Tuss McLaughry was in town. The daily papers did carry a story from Tuss' own lips on the real story of the Iron Men, who came into being shortly after McLaughry had taken over as head coach of football.

Since the former Brown and Dartmouth coach set the record straight on his famous Iron Men, it seems the ideal time to present the story of another iron man—Joe Schein.

First off, while Schein truly deserves to be called an iron man, he was not a member of the team that made the name famous, Broda, Cornsweet, Mishel & Co. operated in 1926, when the Bear ran up an undefeated season marred only by a tie with Colgate as Dave Mishel's dropkick for what would have been the winning score hit the crossbar and bounced back.

Joe Schein played freshman football the following season, in which the Bruin had a dismal record of three wins, six defeats, and the third straight tie with Colgate.

So the Iron Men had left College Hill by the time Schein joined the varsity, and that seems a shame, for there never was a player who was more deserving of that title.

Joe Schein was a tackle throughout his career. He became a regular right away, and a great one. The Brown team of 1928, the first on which he played, rebounded with a splendid record of eight wins and one defeat, that one suffered at the hands of Yale in the third game of the season. Even the pesty Colgate crew was beaten.

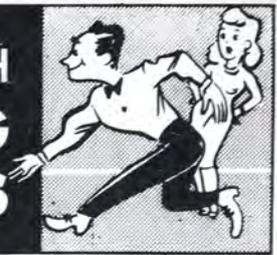

In 1929 the wins and losses were evened up at five each, but it is significant to note that in only one of those games did Brown lose by more than one touchdown. Each of those contests was a hum-dinger.

As a senior, Joe helped the team compile a 6-3-1 mark, so that the three year period adds up to 19 victories, 9 defeats and 1 tie—an excellent record.

There is more to the record of those three years than just the games won and lost, especially insofar as Joe Schein is concerned. In one respect, at least, he stands in (Continued on Page 20)

RHODE ISLAND JEWISH BOWLING CONGRESS

Editorial

The control of any group falls into the hands of a few when the majority allows it to happen.

In some instances, the minority forces its way into the driver's seat. Other times, a handful of men are compelled to run the machinery of a large organization, because most of its members give only token support to its policies and actions.

The officers of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress do not want it to happen in either way. Appeals have been made all season for assistance in handling the major projects of the congress—tournaments and the annual banquet.

Here are two excellent opportunities for bowlers to answer more completely the continuing question: What the bowling congress doing for me?

The big tournaments of the season are nearly with us. Officers of the congress have put in many Sundays and nights giving the organization a solid foundation. Now the need is for builders.

It takes only three or four men to handle the paper work at each tournament. It requires the efforts of men who will not be bowling in the particular event to handle the results and post them efficiently. It also provides the opportunity for bowlers in the congress to make themselves known, for they will become the future leaders of the congress.

The annual banquet comes at the end of the season. Plans already are being discussed. There are many opportunities here to help in making the affair a gigantic success.

Give your name to your league president, and tell him you want to help.

Begin Rollings for Monthly Sweepstakes

The December sweepstakes tournament under the sponsorship of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress is underway.

Two leagues, Emanuel-El and Cousins, rolled for sweepstakes honors last Monday. Two more leagues, AEPI and R. I. Jewish Fraternal, will go for the dollars next Monday. The Tuesday through Thursday leagues will bowl Dec. 27, 28 and 29.

Reason for the switch, of course, is there will be no league competition Dec. 25, thus giving the Monday leagues full opportunity to participate.

Final results for the current month's sweepstakes will be tabulated at the January meeting of congress delegates and will be announced in the first issue of the Jewish Herald following the meeting.

As usual, everyone will be handicapped against a 120 average, with three prizes offered; $25 for high three, $15 for second high total and $10 for high single.

Around the Leagues...

CRANSTON By Ben Bloch

In the most crucial match of the season, the Senators trounced the All-Stars 4-0 to hopscotch into first place with a three-point lead, the widest margin any team has had this year.

The Senators prove the right to first place by occupying first in high single as well as first and third in high triple. The team rolled 544 and 1568 for the night.

Sam Miller had the league-leading total for the night of 351. His best string was 130. Another member of the Miller family, brother Leo also had a noteworthy triple 349.

Irv Bierenbaum rolled the top single of the evening, 135, and Fred Kafritson posted 130. Moe Filler and Norm Bomzer each planned 343.

Other team singles included the Reds 539 and the Tigers 531. The White Sox totaled 1542 and the Phils came up with 1521.

HAROLD BLOOM By Harry Fellman

Men of the Coast Guard set a new team total of 1571 and had a string of 538 that gave them second place among team singles.

Bill Nasberg did the individual pacing with his 349 triple and single of 133. Ben Sachs rolled 340 and Gerald Cherniak pinned 320. Joe Rosen pinned 318 with a solo of 123, while Mo Cohen had 317 and a single of 125.

Notable scores were Bernie Guy 311 and 118, Ernie Einhorn 314, Harry Fellman 318, Maurice NOTE: In the case of a bowler who competes in more than one league, his highest mark in each category will be considered.

Greenstein 116, Sy Port 118, Bob Soren 115, "Sonny" Jaffa 115 and Fred Fishman 113.

Nasberg starred in the sweepstakes tournament for his league, the added handicaps giving him 412 and 154. Sachs' handicap gave him 400.

R. I. JEWISH FRATERNAL By Perry Agronick

Aaron Siegel, with the help of his 127 string rolled last week, jumped into the average-lead by six pins with 101. Lou Green is next, also with a 101. Siegel's total was 313.

Len Vargas and Hy Kravitz paced their team to a 3-1 win over the Dodgers to take first place in the league. Kravitz rolled the session's top total of 319, including a string of 118.

Arden Klar's Yankees took three points from the last-place Indians, but remained one game out of the lead. The Yankees had scores of 1408 and 484, while the Indians recorded 499 and 1401.

EMANUEL By Saul Berman

The Athletics, manned by Simmons, Goldfarb, H. Silverman, S. Green and P. Shaulson, have split their record so far with 24 wins and 24 losses.

The Dodgers, Giants and Tigers are tied for second place. The Red Sox, Reds and Braves are tied for fifth. The Indians and aforementioned Athletics are tied for eighth.

The White Sox, Cubs and Cards are tied for 10th place. Six points separate the teams. Watch the fur (pins) fly!

KAVODIANS By Evelyn Ratner

Ruby Lipson, leader in the three individual categories, rolled high single again last week with 143. His total was 372.

Milton Stone, rolling a 113 average, came up with the session's top triple of 373. Sanford Pepper rolled a hearty single of 139. Kenneth Bilsky turned in a string of 134 and finished with a total of 359.

Lipson continues to lead the pack with a 125 average, with Sam Ratner two points behind and Philip Ostroff in third place with 116.

BETH DAVID By Joel Zarum

With four weeks before the season's half-way mark is reached, the Tigers lead with 28 and 16. Close behind are the White Sox, 26 and 18, the Orioles 25 and 19 and the Indians 23 and 21.

The top 10 averages scale from 109 to 104, with Izzy Yamuder pacing with 109, Ken Resnick 108, Al Snell, 107, George Peddle, Howie Backner and Stan Miller 106.

Alley Gossip

By Joe Gutterball

Nate Edelman of Fineman-Trinkel came up with one of the oddities that make bowling the sport that it is: three consecutive strings of 75.

No. 13 seems to be a difficult barrier to get by for some AEPI legions. Marv Geller had rolled 13 strings of 100-plus and then dropped to an 88 on his 14th game. Len Decof also went over the 100 mark 13 times before falling off on the next one.

Beth David bowlers may not be setting the congress records afire, Joel Zarum, the league's correspondent, says, but he quickly adds, "We challenge any league to a heckling duel." Beth David has such a hearty lot of hecklers, Zarum says, "We would win the match walking (talking) away." Any challenges?

Leave it to Jack Appelbaum, the Beth El penman, to come up with the descriptive phrase. He tells of a Cranston-Beth El challenge that took place at the Casino alleys last week. Jack says the Cranstonians were led by "Chief Crying Towel" Ed Lang, the great psychologist. Others with him were Harold Warren, Morris Cofman and Ben Mellion. They toed the line against Alie Shatkin, Beth El league president, Murray Trin-kel, Vinnie DeCesaris and Mal Mickler, who, according to Jackson Q., "sent the upstarts home licking their wounds." How much, Jack?

Presence may make the heart grow fonder, but it also makes the game more interesting. Sid Jacobson reports that the Sackin-Shocket League has a seven-point spread between the first and last place teams. As a result, there is so much interest, the league has had fewer than the usual number of absentees. That's also an indication the officers did a good job of lining up the teams.

The interest shown by so many bowlers in the RIJBC weekly reports is heartening. However, several leagues still are not represented every week, as they have a right to be. While there always is more than enough news to fill this section of the Jewish Herald, we would like the "on and off" leagues to get their fair share of the space. How about it?

Elsewhere in this section, the Week's Best shows pretty fancy bowling on the part of a number of men. Still, there's an oddity to the column. For the first time since the second week none of the results reported in the current list was strong enough to supplant previous records of this season. Inside reports tell us, however, that such will not be the case next week.

Mid-season banquet time is approaching. How are your league's plans progressing? Why not enter them in the RIJBC section.

Around The Leagues

Joel Orchoff had the top scores of the week, 341, including a single of 127. Harvey Pollock rolled 330 and Len Engle pinned 322. Three bowlers brought in singles of 117: Al Snell, Len Kaplan and Stan Miller.

New members welcomed at last week's session included Lloyd Turoff, who pinned 311, and Jerry Ruben and A. Rapaport.

The Indians finished the night with 518 and 1487. The Red Sox pinned 1490, and the Senators had 518.

With three weeks remaining until the half-season mark, the leading Tigers dropped into a tie with the White Sox, both boasting 30 wins to 18 losses.

Leon Nachbar led the White Sox with his 317 and single of 123, as they took four from the hapless cellar-dwelling Senators.

The fourth-place Indians threatened the Tigers with a first string of 518, with the hard-pressed Tigers coming back strong in the last two strings to split two and two. The Indians gained pinfall by one pin.

Three teams are tied for second place with records of 26 and 22.

Bill Snell paced the league with 333 and strings of 113, 127 and 93. Ken Resnick rolled 324 and hit a single of 123. Len Engle pinned 125. Good singles were pinned by Al Snell 116, Joel Zarum 114 and Gil Movsovitz 113.

SACKIN-SHOCKET

By Sid Jacobson

The Seabees moved into a tie for first place with Navy by up-setting the previous pacesetters, Air Force, 4-0. Seabees' Buz Labush pinned 359, with strings of 127 and 118 and Hotzie Strelow rolled 352, including singles of 129 and 115. They were aided by Larry Koffler's 107.

For Air Force, Mark Sugarman rolled 317, with 111 and 108 singles, Bill Lewis hit 106, and Norman Bader boosted his 89 average with 112.

Sam Jarcho led the Navy to a 3-1 victory over the Army by scoring 356, including strings of 120 and 123. Sid Jacobson had 323 for the sailors. The Army team included 79-bowler Babe Kirshenbaum, who came up with 102. Jordy Hoffman, rolling 343, with a 121 and 116, and Morty Fine, who pinned a 117.

The Coast Guard defeated the Marines 3-1, placing the team seven games below the leaders. Leo Penn had the best night of his bowling career, with scores of 100, 112 and 102 for a 314 total. Jerry Manekofsky had 332, with 121 and 108 singles, and Jerry Waksler rolled 118 and 112.

Hy Levin's 149 placed him in a threeway tie for third high single prize. His total was 345. Marine teammates Morty Dwares had 108 and 107 and Lew Weinstein 111.

Coast Guard had the night's best results, 543 and 1529.

BETH EL

By Jack Appelbaum

Joe Robinson tied the league's third high total of the season with 382 with the help of an evening's high single of 144. His efforts paced Hank Cohen's team, which also includes George Goldman, Len Goldman and Hal Robinson, to the session's high team effort of 1571.

Al Gordon showed some of his old power with a 141 and 362. In the "125 Club" for the evening were Mal Mickler 137, who also rolled 358, Joel Orchoff 136, George Goldman 128, George Bressler and Eliot Salter 127 and Jake Orchoff 125.

Ben Silverman's team, including George Dann, Al Gordon, Al Greenblatt and Joel Orchoff, had the high individual mark of the night, 540.

Burt Himelfarb paces the league with a 115 average, trailed by Myer Jarcho with 114, Vinnie DeCesaris 113 and Len Goldman 111.

FINEMAN-TRINKEL

By Bob Barrie

Len Decof led the list of triples with 357, while Ernest Krasner trailed him with 355. Krasner rolled singles of 124 and 122.

Marty Brown, with the night's top single of 139, finished with a score of 347. Len Levin rolled 350, including a string of 134.

Ben Cohen and Joe Postar, both had singles of 126, with Cohen's total 339 and Postar's score 333. Semon Blank pinned 328, hitting a string of 135.

Other good scores were Sam Feldman 325, Mish Satloff 327, Joe Fishbein 334, Marv Greenberg 116 and 110. Carl Cohen added to his 98 average by pinning 124, 113 and 101 for 338.

A 91 bowler, Morris Cherlin, hit a string of 118, while Lowell Del-erson, with a 96 average, rolled 311, with singles of 101 twice and 109. Maurice Siegle, owning a 94, pinned 317.

The Indians rolled 564 and the Red Sox 545. The Phillies, with the night's best total of 1537, had 531.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

By Syd Matzner

Despite strings of 110, 100 and 91 for a total of 301 by S. Weinstein, Prelate dropped four points to Monitor. Monitor now is the leading team.

A 90 average man, Tolchinsky, rolled strings of 111, 115 and 97 for 323 to lead his team to victory. H. Wasserman turned in his best results in two years with 100, 119 and 103 for 322.

M. Saltzman, rolling as a spare, recorded strings of 97, 116 and 114 for 327. With more such luck, he will be placed on a team soon.

Markowitz had the night's best scores of 332 and 131, with Feld rolling 126 and Gerstenblatt 125.

With Pythias rolling such strings as 469 twice and 481, this correspondent can see why they are in the cellar.

Everyone at the alleys wondered who pinned Dr. Belinsky's* hat atop the bulletin board.

COUSINS

By Murray Shiro

Bill Weiss was really hot at the last reported session with his string of 127 added to two other good singles to give him the night's leading total of 346.

Syd Exter was right on Weiss' heels with 343 and a single of 117, and Ayan Rosenbaum was not far off with 335. His best single was 126. Dick Chase rolled 125 and finished with 331.

Other good triples were Sol Snyder 327, Dave Ettine 320, Joel Kaplan 314 and Lou Chase 310.

Other nice strings were Ettine 115, Snyder 120, Burt Kelman 114 and Everett Glantz 116.

The Eagles were the leading team for the night with 1520 and 533. The Giants had a single of 518 and the Bears pinned 511.

AEPi

By Jerry Freiberg

The Barons now lead the league by two games, with the Indians trailing. Don Pokras' strike with six filler gave the Barons the first string, but their opponents, the Mohawks, took the roll-off of the second string by four pins.

For the Mohawks in the roll-off, Marv Broomfield got nine on a spare, Herm Toman rolled six on a spare and Bob Nachbar two on a spare. Buzz Rosen pinned nine on a spare for the Barons.

The Mohawks' total for the night was a disappointing 1462, their first under-1500 this season.

The Eagles, with Don Cohen bowling three consecutive spares for a total of 54 pins, had the leading single for the night, 544. Their total was 1536. The Flyers had 1537 and 527.

Murray Hahn, rolling 335 and 125, regained the average lead from Roy Kessler in the sea-saw battle by 14 pins. Burt Himmel-farb, with 329, is 17 pins back, in third place.

The top total of the session was Gerry Coken's 346, with a string of 122. Len Decof, with 335, had a single of 122. Don Pokras rolled 123.

Other good totals were Noah Temkin 333, Beans Feinstein and Dick Klein 328, Don Cohen, Harv Cooper and Merrill Temkin 325.

WARWICK

By Irving Zaidman

Sam Katz, the league's top bowler, turned in the best single of 129 last week. His total was 322. Merl Rodyn, whose average is a scant three pins lower than Katz's, rolled 325.

The team standings in the league are tight, with only six points between top and bottom teams. Some of the shifts in the standings were brought about by Jerry Moverman's 321, including a 119 single, Katz's scoring and Dan Tolman's 320 and 123.

Team Gimel, bowling without Harold Dubin, side-lined with a bad leg, had no help from Si Aron at this session. Aron, who couldn't seem to get started, rolled the first two-box this reporter ever saw him make.

After a layoff of 10 or 12 years, Max Bezan is bowling again, improving every week and displaying better scores.

Aleph had the night's best single of 525. Their total was 1464. Daled pinned 509 and 1474.

apart from most men who ever played the line for Brown, or any other team.

In those three years, Joe played 60 minutes of each major game on the schedule. Think of it! Not once, in any "big" game, did McLaughry bother to send in a replacement for his husky tackle!

You see now why Joe Schein belonged up there with the Iron Men, or why the Iron Men belonged up there with Joe Schein.

A Continual Habit

This 60-minute habit continued long after Schein had graduated from college. For example, Joe played one full season with the then-famous Steam Rollers without any relief whatsoever. That was a pretty active season, too. Just a matter of some 15 or 16 games!

If you are beginning to think that this 60-minute business must have been the vogue back in those days, kindly get the idea out of your head. It was a rare accomplishment then, as it would be now; and Joe collected double pay for this extraordinary achievement.

It thus becomes obvious that if Tuss McLaughry should start reminiscing about his Iron Men, individually speaking, the name of Joe Schein would have to be among the first he would mention.

You might guess that such a rugged specimen would not limit his activities to one sport, even if he did put in a rather full season. And you'd be right. For Schein also starred at lacrosse, which has a reputation as being one of the roughest of all sports. He was a regular on the club for two years. And oh yes, there is the matter of basketball, and Schein was a star guard on the court for all of his three varsity years.

After spending the 1931 football season with the Providence Steam Rollers, Joe moved up to the Chicago Cardinals in the National League. He played three games with the Cards, then returned to Providence when a teaching position for which he had been angling was offered to him.

The full time teaching career didn't keep this guy off the field, however. Joe played independent football with the Steam Rollers for several seasons thereafter and then played full seasons in 1936 and 1937 with the Orange, N. J. Tornados.

Wait a minute! How's that again? Teaching in Providence and playing pro football in New Jersey — in the middle of the week, yet? C'est impossible! But Joe Schein did it.

The Tornados played night games, and this was in a period when every dollar really amounted to something, and no worthwhile offer could be turned down. Joe would leave school right after the final class, grab a train for New Jersey, get to the ball park just in time for the game, put in a busy 60 minutes, then board a Pullman for the return trip.

Next morning he would be right back in the classroom as if he had done nothing more eventful than mow the lawn.

Quite a guy!
