Ike Gets New Committee View On Religion in Public Schools

WASHINGTON — The problem of how religious institutions may cooperate with public school remains unresolved in a report presented to President Eisenhower by the President's Committee for the White House Conference on Education. Nor did the report determine the extent to which public schools may take cognizance of religious values.

The report urged continued study of the problems at the community, state, and national level in the light of the "strong differences of opinion" on the issues. It emphasized that the problems arising from the school's aim to foster moral, ethical, and spiritual values in the student involve "widely different convictions about the respective responsibilities of family, church, and school in religious education."

Recognition of the principle of separation of church and state is the approach to solving the problem, the committee suggested. It said that judicial decisions on church-state relations have clarified only small parts of the whole question. It also recommended that the home, the church, the community and the school must share responsibility in inculcating moral and spiritual values in the child.

Russians to Investigate Case Of 'Missing' Swedish Diplomat

STOCKHOLM — Sweden's insistence that the question of fate of the missing Swedish diplomat Raoul Wallenberg, who saved the lives of thousands of Jews during the Nazi occupation of Hungary, is the principal stumbling block to better relations with the Soviet Union has brought a promise of an official investigation from the Soviets.

Until the issuance of a joint communique by the Swedes and Russians in connection with Swedish Premier Tage Erlander's visit to Moscow, the Soviet Government had answered all questions with the statement that it had no information as to his whereabouts.

Seen Last in '45

Wallenberg was last seen in 1945 when he left Budapest to meet the advancing Red Army which was then clearing the Germans from that area. He had gone there in 1944 with a temporary post in the Swedish diplomatic corps and the mission of rescuing as many Jews as he possibly could—himself a non-Jew. Wallenberg carried out that task with great success, according to all reports, using his Swedish diplomatic status for everything it was worth, despite great personal danger. Then, just as the nightmare seemed about to end, Wallenberg disappeared.

Receive Tips

A campaign on his behalf, carried on by his mother and half-brother who refused to believe he was dead, in which they were joined by a number of organizations, has been carried on since that time. Swedish diplomats have received tips from time to time that he is still alive and in Russia, but they have thus far been unable to verify them. Wallenberg's mother said she had been told by Madame Alexandra Kollontai, wartime Soviet Ambassador to Sweden, that her son was still alive.

Bureau Gets Books From Mrs. Silverman

Max Winograd, president of the Bureau of Jewish Education, announced the presentation of important sets of books to the Bureau library by Mrs. Archibald Silverman. The presentation includes a set of the American Jewish Year Books from 1919 to 1950. These books are the annual publication of the American Jewish Committee and the Jewish Publication Society of America.

The second set of books is the famous "Dvir" Publications of Tel Aviv which includes the outstand-

Urges Purchase — Speaking to a small gathering of Jewish community leaders at the home of Irving Jay Fain, Bartley Crum, distinguished attorney and author, last night urged "large-scale purchase of Israel Bonds as the best means of helping the people of Israel maintain a high level of economic strength, while their enemies continue their terroristic pressure."

Crum, who has consistently championed the cause of Israel since he served on the Anglo-American Commission of Inquiry on Palestine in 1946, declared that "the job of Americans who love democracy is to give Israel the industrial strength it so desperately needs at this critical juncture in its history."

Economic Strides

Pointing out that Israel had made "great forward strides in establishing itself as the modern industrial center of the Middle East," Crum said that "these splendid advances in every phase of economic life must not be allowed to slack off." He added that: "It is a plain fact that the people of Israel are now putting their own resources into defense against the mounting threat of war. It is our historic task as Americans to help this beleaguered democracy by investing in its economy, and thereby enabling it to continue and even expand industrial and agricultural production."

Varon Here

Also, it was announced that Max Varon, Israel Consul in New York, would visit Providence to discuss the Middle East crisis with a small group at the home of Samuel Rosen next Tuesday evening.

ing works of such writers as Bialik, Peretz, Steinberg, Dubnow, Ibn Gebirol, and other important Hebrew classics. The "Dvir" Publications, presented by Mrs. Silverman, total thirty. A third set of books are the volumes of Menorat Ha-Maor by R. Israel Ibn Al-Nakawa, edited by H. G. Enelow.

Predict Summer Attack by Egypt

Israel unveiled its French Mystere jets this week in a show of defensive might, as one of its leading generals warned that Egypt was planning to launch a full-scale war this summer.

The show-of-strength parade marked Israel's eighth anniversary as an independent state.

The prediction of an Egyptian attack this summer was made by one of the heroes of Israel's war of independence, Gen. Yigal Alon.

Speaking at a United Jewish Appeal conference in Pittsburgh, Gen. Alon said:

"According to reliable information which Israel has received, the Egyptian military clique is determined to start a full-scale war against Israel as soon as they have assimilated their new supply of arms, which means this summer."

Like all Israeli leaders when speaking of this danger, Alon warned that "a war in the Middle East may easily light the spark for a new world conflict."

Asserting that a balance of power between Israel and the Arab states can prevent war, Alon called on the U. S. to supply the Jewish nation with arms and stressed that it is not asking for American troops.

"All that we ask," he said, "is for sufficient defensive arms to discourage the Arabs from attacking us."

Last Monday night Premier Ben-Gurion warned the Egyptians that if they start a war Israel "will give back to the aggressor two blows for one."

In a somber broadcast speech, Ben-Gurion charged that:

"A heavy responsibility toward the history of humanity has been assumed by powers that are supplying aggressive arms to the Egyptian dictator (Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser) and also by those powers that deny defensive arms to Israel."

His statement was an obvious slap at the Soviet bloc for selling arms to Egypt and at the U. S. for denying them to Israel.

Council Convention to Hear National Board Member

The principal speaker for the three-day conclave of the New England Region of the National Council of Jewish Women, which begins Sunday will be Mrs. Alfred Katz, a member of the national tee. Mrs. Katz is chairman of finance and the executive committee and serves as a member of the overseas and field service committees. Mrs. Katz will deliver a talk entitled "Operation Easy" at the banquet on Monday evening.

Officially the conference program begins at 11 A. M. on Sunday with a meeting of the regional nominating committee with a "Brunch" for board members afterwards. This will be followed by a workshop conference with national leaders, a business meeting and a buffet supper, at which the Providence Section will officially welcome the delegates from the 17 sections (chapters) represented at this conference. The group will then meet at 8:45 P. M. for a panel session and discussion on "The Publics" involved in the Council's public relations program.

Monday's sessions will start with a business meeting and a by-laws discussion beginning at 9:15 A. M. At 10 A. M. the "Council Picture" will be the subject of a panel session with speakers on public affairs, community services, overseas activities, and scholarships. A "Special Interests" luncheon will be held at 12:15 with discussions at various tables involving "council techniques", "state legislation", "evening branch memberships", and other topics. From 2 to 4:30 P. M. on that day, the "Role of the Member in Section Growth, Program and Developing of Leaders" will be analyzed and discussed. A reception and cocktail hour at 6:30 will precede the Monday evening banquet.

Election of officers will open the Tuesday session at 9:15 A. M., with a ways and means meeting of national chairmen to follow. At 12 noon an "Evaluation of the Conference" will take place, followed by a luncheon at which officers will be installed. The conference will come to a close following the board meeting at 3:45 P. M. on that day.

All meetings, luncheons and dinners will take place at the Sheraton-Biltmore, which will be conference headquarters.

Czechs Free Some "Convicted" Jews In Slansky Trial

LONDON—Several Jewish defendants in the infamous Slansky trial in Czechoslovakia have been released from prison in the wake of the recent unpurging of the purged in the Communist lands, it was reported here this week from Prague.

Slansky, who was hanged together with ten other defendants in 1952, was accused of having been in an imperialistic conspiracy with Zionists against Czechoslovakia.

Although some of the released "Zionists" have been reported seen in public places in Prague, there was no disclosure about the fate of Mordecai Oren, the Israeli Mapam leader who was arrested while on a visit to Peace Congress in Prague. Oren was given a fifteen year term for alleged complicity in the "Zionist plot."

British Attempt to Block Ben Hecht

NEW YORK — Ben Hecht's remark, during the hectic days immediately preceding the withdrawal of the British from Palestine, that the news of the death of a British soldier there caused a "holiday in my heart" has not been forgotten in England it was reported here in "Variety," show business trade newspaper. The newspaper, in a dispatch from London, said that Hecht, who has been in London on a film-writing assignment "has felt the full brunt of British displeasure."

The report attributed the failure of Hecht's daughter, Jenny, to get a license for a stage appearance to British displeasure with the young actress' father.

Registrations in "Camp Jaycee", the Center's junior day camp, are open to boys and girls from five years through first grade. "Camp Centerland" is open to boys and girls from second grade through eleven years. "Camp Adventure", beginning its second season, is open to boys and girls 12 and 13 years old.

A Zionist's Stern Position

Dr. Nahum Goldmann took a strong stand last week in Jerusalem, where he announced his demand for radical changes in the Zionist Organization.

In making the announcement, Dr. Goldmann declared that he could no longer be expected to assume a position of responsibility as chairman of the Jewish Agency executive if evidence of such change would not be forthcoming prior to the 24th World Zionist Congress April 24.

His unequivocal stand certainly indicates Dr. Goldmann's dissatisfaction with what he has termed "the status quo in the Zionist movement" and will hardly be discredited by more ardent ZOA leaders here as a divisive political tactic designed to capture control of the organization.

Such charges have been directed against other ZOA leaders in the past—notably veteran Zionist Louis Lipsky, who recently revealed his intentions of coming to the World Zionist Congress in Jerusalem without sanction as an official delegate.

But Dr. Goldmann continues generally to be hailed for his ardent work in behalf of Zionism. For this reason, his announced intention to remove himself from a post in which he has done himself and World Zionism credit is an unfortunate thing at this time.

If there has been any doubt as to the validity of the criticism directed against the Zionist movement in the past, certainly Dr. Goldmann's current position dispels them. But it would be unfair for him to expect to shock into existence such radical changes as he deems necessary in a matter of a few weeks' time. As a respected leader in the movement, he would also be doing Zionism great harm by removing himself from his post now.

For Dr. Goldmann has heretofore been a symbol of unity in an organization where unity is sorely needed. To deny Zionism that symbol when it needs it most will hardly accomplish what Dr. Goldmann feels must be accomplished immediately if future Zionist activity is to be either meaningful or effective.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Newscaster, What of the Night?

By BERYL SEGAL

In the night we wait in anguish, and the days we pass in distress:

"What news from the lands by the blue Mediterranean?"

Early in the morning we ask: "Newscaster, what of the night?"

And in the evening we scan the pages of the newspapers:

"Wires from the four corners of the earth, what tidings do you bring today?"

How many raids this day? Where did the sword strike this hour? How nearer did the day bring us to the word we dread to utter? Or did a ray of hope break through somewhere, in some corner of the overcast skies?

Is there still time to turn away the wrath? Is it too late?

In the midst of our anxiety for the fate of Israel, and the fate of peace on earth, the newspapers from the Holy Land bring us a proclamation for the Day of Independence of Israel.

Air raids, commando attacks, bomb shelters and celebration of independence.

Proclaim Order

This week Israel observes the eighth year of its birth, and the Ministry of Education just proclaimed the order of celebrations and the nature of the observances in great detail. Nothing is left to chance, and no one is left out.

The week of observances opens in true Jewish tradition with a Day of Remembrance. On that day Yartzeit lights are kindled in the synagogues and in the homes in memory of these who gave their lives in the battles for independence.

A light for a life snuffed out on the hills Judea. A light for a soul cut off in the sands of the Negev. Yartzeit lights for the true and the brave.

The first day is a Day of Remembrance.

But the second day the Yartzeit lights are turned off and new lights go up. The lights in the seven-branched Menorahs, the symbol of the State of Israel. These are lights of life, of faith, and of hope. Seven days and seven nights will the lights in the seven-branched Menorahs burn brightly on the roofs of city halls, in the sanctuaries of synagogues, in homes and shelters from the northern shores of the Sea of Galilee to the southernmost outpost by the Gaza strip.

Lights of life, of hope and of faith.

And of strength.

In Haifa, the busy seaport city of Israel, the armed forces on land, on sea, and in the air will pass in review before a huge platform on which the heads of government will be seated. Beginning with the president of the land and ending with the humble selectman from the tiniest village, all will be seated in places of honor on this reviewing stand.

Unveiling

In Jerusalem, in front of the Kneset, the House of Parliament, the diplomats of all the friendly nations will gather to witness

Help Golden Aged in Israel By Forming 'Parents' Clubs'

JERUSALEM — They call them "Golden Age Clubs" in the United States. In Israel they are called "Parents' Clubs." And, though there are only two of them so far in all Israel, there is every indication that they are only the first of many.

Malben (the Joint Distribution Committee program in Israel for the sick, aged and handicapped immigrants) is the pioneering force behind these two clubs, in cooperation with local authorities, with Malben giving financial aid to help solve the problems of the aged men and women who have nothing to do during the daytime hours.

Funds for Malben, as well as other aspects of JDC's overseas relief, resettlement and reconstruction programs, are provided by the United Jewish Appeal.

The first of these clubs was opened just a year ago in the ancient Arab town of Acre. Located in an old Arab house, the rooms are spacious and can accommodate many more than use the club daily. The second, which opened in Haifa last month, is in a new building which the Haifa municipality gave for the purpose. Many elderly people have waited impatiently for this event.

Some of the aged who come daily to the Acre club are on the waiting list for admission to Malben old-age homes. Others cherish their independence and either live with distant relatives or live alone on meager funds. Any comparison between the elderly who visit the clubs in Israel and those who attend the Golden Age Clubs in the United States is purely coincidental.

Vast Differences

In Israel they come from every country in the world, do not even speak the same language, are suspicious and wary of each other and have no feeling of companionship for one another. The very act of getting them to relax and to enjoy each other's company is a major achievement.

Also, many complain of their infirmities. These are very real. Yet the act of getting them to dance together at social afternoon teas is just another part of helping them forget those infirmities as well as pointing up to them their strength and zeal for life.

The house in Acre belonged to an aged Arab who himself was a member of the Parents' Club. He came there every day, was at first looked upon with suspicion and ended up being accepted by everyone. His constant companion was a 90-year-old Rumanian Jew who could not understand one word he said but who played dominoes with him every morning in silent friendliness. The 90-year-old is now at a great loss because his "buddy" died recently.

Much Good Accomplished

There is good work done at the Parents' Clubs. First of all, the "members" maintain the premises themselves. Secondly, they take on outside work, mostly sewing, and for three or four hours work daily earn an approximate 20 pounds a month. A day at the club is from 10 A. M. to 6 P. M. Lunch is served free of charge.

The Parents' Club in Haifa is hopefully only the first of many in that city. Eventually Haifa may provide a citizens' committee civic-minded enough to help in this problem of the aged. Other municipalities, such as the unveiling of an imposing monument. A huge seven-branched Menorah made of bronze, the gift of the Parliament of Great Britain to Israel.

Parades, sport games, concerts, plays, art exhibits, school children dancing in the streets. And solemn prayer and thanksgiving.

The Rabbinate of Israel prepared an order of prayer and holy convocation for the day. It is a holiday, a new holiday like unto Passover, Succos, and Shovuos.

The Rabbinate did not leave anything to chance either. The order of observances points out the prayers to read, the hymns to chant, the selections in Scripture to study. Also the clothes to wear, the food to prepare, the manner of greeting on that day.

In the home the table is set as for the Passover Seder, with candle-light, with wine, with flowers, and a special menu for the meals was not overlooked either.

And in the synagogues the prayers are chanted in a festive mood, and hymns of praise and thanksgiving are sung.

Need No Poet

No need to call upon a poet laureate to compose a hymn for the occasion. Just go to the source of all poetry, of all inspiring hymns, to The Book. It is all there, as if it were written but yesterday.

From the Book of Psalms the Rabbis of Israel have taken songs 150, 97 and 98. In them are such majestic verses as:

O, ye that love the Lord,
Hate evil.

He delivered the souls of His saints

And delivered them out of the hands of the wicked.

Let the sea roar, and the fullness thereof,

The world and they dwell therein.

Let the floods clap their hands,

Let the mountains sing for joy together,

Before the Lord.

For He is come to judge the earth,

He will judge the world with righteousness,

And the people with equity.

And from the prophets the Rabbis of Israel selected the chapters 10 and 11 in Isaiah. We read these chapters and we know why the choice. The prophet who walked the streets of Jerusalem 3000 years ago bring words of hope and strength to the Jews of Jerusalem of 1956, and the words are as refreshing to the soul now as they were then.

"Therefore, thus said the Lord, the God of hosts:

O, my people, that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Ashur, though he smite you with the rod, and lift up his staff against you, in the manner of Egypt.

And it will come to pass in Ashkelon are asking for help to found Parents' Clubs.

It will be just a matter of time before each municipality, large or small, will have to face the same problem of the aged man or woman who is alone, unable to do any amount of sustained work, in need of companionship.

that day, that:

His burden shall depart from off your shoulder, and his yoke from off your neck."

And these immortal lines, the hope of the world, and the yearning of all mankind:

The famous vision of Peace in the End of Day, in the eleventh chapter of Isaiah:

"And the wolf shall dwell with the lamb,

And the leopard shall lie down with the kid,

And the calf and the young lion and the fatling together.

And a little child shall lead them.

They shall not hurt nor destroy,

In all my holy mountain, For the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, As the waters cover the sea."

As Israel celebrates, and remembers, and prays, and sings hymns of praise and thanksgiving on the Day of Independence, we wait in anguish in the night, wait for the day and the news of the day:

"Newscaster, what of the night? What tidings do your wires from East and West bring us this day? Are the words of Isaiah heard in the land, or are they drowned by the roaring of Migs and jets and Stalin tanks?"

"Newscasters, what of the night?"

Gov. Roberts Praises Judge Licht Before 800 at Sunday Testimonial

Governor Roberts, who headed the speaking program at the testimonial dinner for Judge Frank Licht Sunday night at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel, lauded Judge Licht for his integrity, dedication, character, intelligence and loyalty. Other speakers, including G. Frederick Frost, presiding justice of the Superior Court, expressed similar remarks.

Judge Licht, recently appointed associate justice of Superior Court, was honored by more than 800 persons, members of the judiciary, legislature and the clergy, who attended the tribute dinner.

Archibald Silverman presented the new judge with a sterling silver tray. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Licht, parents of Judge Licht, and Mrs. Dorothy Licht, his wife, were singled out by speakers for their contributions toward his career. Judge Licht was a state senator before his recent appointment to the Superior Court bench.

John G. Coffey was toastmaster,

Neck In the Noose

Human nature being what it is, the fact that various men see the future in different ways is not surprising. So it goes with the business of forecasting baseball pennant races. We've been bombarded with predictions galore, every one of them standing an equally good chance of being proven next September.

Trying to eliminate the facts that have become obvious in most forecasts, it is respectfully suggested that you keep your eye on these wisdoms (give them another name AFTER they are disproved, Bub).

American League

With all top clubs boasting improvements sufficient to put them over the top, necessity arises to analyze these claims.

White Sox elated with Larry Doby and rookie shortstop. Doby adds power, but is erratic fielder, brilliant one day, mediocre the next. Hits in spurts because of low batting average (.275 is likely figure). Rookie shortstop is gamble, is rated about 50-50 chance of holding up in big league fashion. Kell's back, Doby's legs, general old age of team can't help. Watch Minoso — gossip has Minnie over the hill as star player. If so, Chisox are doomed. Pitching is capable, but not standout. Lacks solid depth of other contenders. Team can win only if all regulars have big years. In other words, front line is strong; but there is no allowance for emergencies. Too many ifs.

But Chicago's improvement is nil compared with that of Yanks, who won last year. Sox would seem to have gone as far as they can with present outfit, and disillusionment might set in when and if that becomes obvious. I look for Marion's Men to fade in August after strong race with leaders, and wind up in desperate struggle with Tigers for first division.

Cleveland Indians trained out West, away from eyes of most other clubs. Giants, who trained with them, think Tribe is so much improved it could win flag. Improvements noted include Rosen's slugging, Avila's solid hitting, Wertz' occasional but welcome long ball; Busby's (traded for Doby) real heavy hitting, reports of which raised eyebrows in far-off Florida, pick-up at shortstop provided by Carresquel, Woodling's fence-busting. Al Smith, of course, shines everywhere. Score seems terrific on mound. Also, Colavito seems ready to break into regular lineup. Couple of other rookies look good.

Hitting seems stronger by far, more so than Manager Lopez

Judge Licht is R. I. Jewish Man of the Year; Award to be Made at June 4 Congress Banquet

Associate Justice Frank Licht of the R. I. Superior Court is the Rhode Island Jewish Man of the Year for 1956.

Judge Licht will be honored at the annual banquet and awards night of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress, Monday, June 4, at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet.

The Seagram's Trophy, recognizing his selection, will be presented to Judge Licht by Gov. Dennis J. Roberts, who has accepted the invitation of Nat Alterman of Beth El, congress president, to attend the banquet.

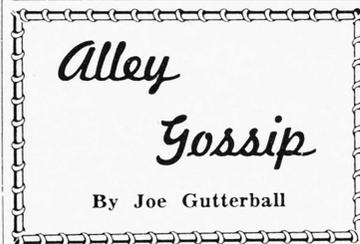

Judge Licht joins the growing list of previous winners of the award, Morris Kritzman, executive director of the Jewish Community Center, and George J. Katz of the Big Brothers of Rhode Island.

The award will be made to Judge Licht in recognition of his service to the community as a State Senator from the First District of Providence from January 1949 until his recent elevation to the Superior Court, and for his efforts to promote better relations among the various racial and religious groups in Rhode Island.

Judge Licht was born in Providence, March 3, 1916. He graduated from Classical High School in 1934 and from Brown University in 1938. He received his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1941 and became a member of the firm of Letts & Quinn.

Tickets for the congress banquet are available from league representatives at $3 each. No tickets will be sold at the door the night of the affair.

Beth David says its ORIGINAL challenge to Sackin-Shocket still stands. The Oakland Ave. boys say their top 10 keglers would meet any equal number from Sackin-Shocket. The latter amended the number to 15. "They refused our challenge, which still stands," says Joel Zarum of B-D. "Now," he adds, "who's chicken?" Sounds like a United Nations mediator is needed.

Phil Diamond was in Miriam Hospital last week, according to a report from Sam Osterman of Beth Israel. All congress bowlers join his teammates in wishing him a speedy recovery.

All league correspondents are reminded to send in their complete and official statistics as soon as their seasons end, so the leading teams and bowlers may be determined as quickly as possible. The information submitted by the correspondents will be used to prepare final congress records.

Final Sweepstakes Tourney Next Week

The seventh and final chance to share in the $50 in prizes offered to winners in the monthly sweepstakes of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress comes next week.

During the week, league bowlers will be competing for the $25 high three prize, $15 for second high total and $10 for high single.

All it takes is a 25-cent deposit with your league representative. Each bowler will be handicapped against a 120 average.

Leagues that completed their season in the past week were notified to conduct their sweepstakes on the final night of bowling.

Results will be submitted to congress delegates at their May 6 meeting and results will be published in the Jewish Herald of May 11.

It's not too early to begin thinking about summer vacations. Call the Herald Travel Bureau — DE 1-7388.

Record Gathering Is Expected For Congress Banquet, Awards Night

The banquet committee of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress met last week at Albert's on North Main Street with all indications that the Monday, June 4 affair at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet will surpass any comparable event held in this area.

Sam Feldman of Fineman-Trinkel, banquet chairman, reminded his committee that no tickets will be sold at the door the night of the annual banquet and sports awards night.

Table arrangements are being made for far more than the 450 who attended last year's smashing dinner and program.

Leagues are reminded to contact Feldman as soon as possible to make reservations for tables, so league members may sit together. Each table has 10 places. It will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Already, the committee has announced the selection of Associate Justice Frank Licht of the Superior Court as Jewish Man of the Year. That story can be found elsewhere in this section.

Next week, the committee will announce the names of other guests, and in succeeding weeks, the names of the Jewish Athlete of the Year and the featured speakers.

Tickets are $3 each and may be obtained from league representatives.

Leagues which have not sent in their histories and records to Morty Miller are reminded to do so as soon as possible so the information may be included in the souvenir program.

There still is space available for advertisements, and those who wish to be included should contact Miller or Murray Trinkle.

Sox.

The latter were dumped from the top after losing four to the Dodgers behind Joe Postar's 339 and 330 by Sid Marcus.

The Cards won three to tie the Red Sox for second. Now, only five points separate the first five teams.

Lou Millen rolled the second high total for the night with 348 and a high of 125. Len Decof rolled 343 with a 123. Feldman's three went 124, 115 and 115.

Postar had high single with 134, followed by Sam Feldman with 131 in his 328 and Jim Hochman 126. Other good singles: Mish Satloff 120, Al Gordon 121, Frank Resnick 118, Ed Wells 120, Gene White 116, Marv Greenberg 121, Al Silverman 124, Dick Erenkrantz 120, Sam Tapper 115 and Yours Truly 118.

Dick Chase and Weiss had the high single of 120, followed by Exter with 115, Freedman 113, Allan Chase 113, Sol Snyder 114 and Ayan Rosenbaum 109.

The Giants were the sluggers for the night with 1524 and 515.

BETH DAVID

By Joel Zarum

A bombardment of 117, 126 and 146 by George Peddle added up to 389 and a new high three, topping Howie Backner's 381, which seemed almost certain to withstand all comers.

As for the league standings, the White Sox lead the Senators by only three points, and the teams will meet on the last night of regular play. The surprising Senators, who took four from the A's with Backner's 351 and 341 by Lloyd Turoff, have won 34 of their last 36 points and have gone from seventh to second in nine weeks.

The second half winner meets the Tigers in the playoffs.

Ken Resnick, with a 107 average, is being challenged for the top by Backner. The former pinned 117-318. Other good scores, Len Buckler 115, Izzy Yamuder 114, Bill Snell 122, 332, Jim Williams 125, Harv Pollock 307, Bun Green 321, Ern Chernick 123, Joel Pressman 113 and Stan Miller 320, 114.

In the previous week's session, Backner rolled 334 and 121, Green had 329 and 130, Gil Morse 320, Jim Egan 317 and Pollock 322. Other good scores: Bill Snell 331, Al Snell 116, Pressman 113, Stan Miller 319, Harvey Silverman 320, Turoff 307 and Resnick 311.

BETH EL

By Jack Appelbaum

Murray Trinkle, anchor man on Sam Pritzker's first place team, still is making news. He pinned the high three for the evening with a 375 and had the second high single of 140. Trinkle now is hard on the heels of Myer Jarcho and Burt Himelfarb for the season's high average honor.

Leo Kouffman rolled the high single of 146 and tied with Mal Mickler for the second high triple of 367. Mickler also rolled a 136.

Kouffman's effort, together with that of other members of Jerry Goldstein's team, including Bunny Adler, Mac Morgan and Jarcho, turned up the season's third high total of 1648 with two excellent strings of 575 and 568. Goldstein's team was able to move into second place behind Pritzker's powerhouse.

Other 125 Club members for the evening were Lenny Goldman 132 and 128, Himelfarb 130, George Bressler 128, Warren Foster 127, Doc Pritzker 130, Leo Martel and Milt Weissman 125.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

By Syd Matzner

Morris Miller rolled a new high three for the season of 390 along with the evening's high single of 146. His efforts paced Dokey, while Harry Wasserman rolled 137 and Sam Nelson 118.

Hy Ladow's 332 and 338 by Ben Feld gave Damon a 3-1 victory over Knight. Barry Cohen rolled 136 and 323. Charlie Samdperil's 142 and 345 gave Esquire a split with Pythias, while Joe Matzner rolled 335, Syd Matzner 318 and Joe Sindle 310.

EMANUEL

By Saul Berman

The weather and Passover kept our bowlers idle for three weeks, but the vacation didn't hurt the scores.

The Yankees are in first place with 66 points. Henry Markoff, who holds the high three of 399, enjoyed a pleasant night with 381. Second place Cubs had three men who bowled over 300; Alperin 304, Orchoff 319 and Nachbar 329.

J. Platkin of the Indians rolled 304. Good singles for fourth place Giants were N. Miller 113 and Zucker 116 twice. The Dodgers took four points with Haman hot with 112 and 106, Markovitz 117, Blackman two 110's and Fishbein 105 and 108.

Alter went 305 for the Cards, while Shaulson rolled 316 as his Athletics lost three. Doct Wortman followed his captain's orders to roll 300 and did it, right on the nose. I. Solmer rolled 318, Lefty Goralnik totaled 330 and Shore 324.

BETH ISRAEL

By Sam Osterman

After the long storm and Passover layoff, the bowlers lost their touch. A 94 average man, Harold Halzel took high single and high triple honors with 136 and 336.

Syracuse won four points with its 1852 and 666 and gained one point on Rhode Island, who took three. Yale, with Milt Phillips, Donald Bernstein with 114, Phil Abrams, George Hochman 118, 328, Frank (Mr. Hockey) Kassed and Sayre Summer 121, 325, are closing in on the league leaders.

Good results were turned in by the following:

Max Simmons 119 twice, Josh Ross 132, Max Levy 121, 326, Berney Gergel 333, Max Factor 117, 323, Sid Feldman 118, 326, Al Coken 121, Aron Bromson 325, Harry Frehof 118, Shelly Summer 317, Bill Billig 108, Morris Weissman 115 and Harold Fishman 118, 319.

SACKIN-SHOCKET

By Sid Jacobson

Seabees now lead the league by six points and are in a good position, with three weeks to go, to hold that position and roll off against Army, the first half champs. The latter now rest 14 games behind in the cellar.

Hotzie (111 average) Strelow had another good night, pinning 394, 10 shy of his leading mark of 404. He had strings of 118, 138 and 138 as his Seabees split with Coast Guard. Jerry Manekofsky had 109, Harold Kaufman 102 and Babe Kirshenbaum 100 for the Seabees, who rolled 1534. Coast Guard, with 1545, was led by Buz Labush, who is moving up fast in averages, with 366 and strings of 125 and 123. Hy Levin rolled 106 and Jerry Einhorn 103 and 102.

Air Force defeated Army, 3-1, moving into second place alone. Bill Lewis led the team with 310 and 113, this correspondent had 113 and 106, while Morty Dwares rolled 103. Army had Jordy Hoffman shooting a good 343 and 130.

dreamed possible last month, when he "admitted" his club would have no power.

Deficiencies — Indians on the whole are slow afoot, can't run with Red Sox or Yanks. Celebrated pitching staff could be better if Lopez were not so determined to sink or swim again with "Big Three". Garcia, Lemon, Wynn the stoppers of old. All are fairly easy to hit, and have trouble going route. Even in sensational penultimate year, 1954, Big Three's reputation stayed high only because of superb relief of Mossi and Narleski.

It seems inconceivable that relief twins mentioned can match exploits of past two years, and while they could go as starters, bullpen then would be weakened, despite Maglie's good form so far. Houtteman and Narleski should be regular rotators along with Score, with vet hurlers being spotted after long rests. Then this staff would be formidable. But if Lopez operates as in past—and he says he will—I don't see Injuns' pitching as good as most experts do.

We all know extent of Red Sox improvement. But there are two sides to this story, other side usually being ignored or minimized. Williams at 37 will be slower, leg muscle miseries. Nixon, one of big four, is still temperamental, unpredictable, his record mediocre.

Second base combo very weak. Goodman is defensive liability, worst second sacker among all contenders, yet the best available. Buddin, new regular shortstop, not top notch fielder, according to Manager Higgins himself, and Mike admits he doesn't like Klaus there, either. When was last time you recall team that was weak down the middle winning flag?

But the biggest deficiency of the Red Sox is the tremendous strength of the Yankees. Sox fans may curse, jeer, disagree, hurl insults, wail or gnash their teeth, but stark truth is that New York, not Boston, has most improved club.

Pitching? McDermott gives Stengel six solid starters, Larsen so much better he won opening assignment, Kucks is on regular starting status, Grim looks like his freshman year. Turley shut out Dodgers in own ball park last time out. And still George Weiss promises trade for another pitcher within month! "Can't miss" rookies ready if starters falter.

Infield? Best in both leagues. Amazing depth and adaptability, tight as a drum. Last year leaked like sieve, hurt pitchers. Martin is back for whole season—everyone knows what he means to the team. Shortstop rookie Lumpe one of best prospects, won regular job from Rizzuto, yet may lose job to McDougald. Men like Carey fighting desperately to keep job.

Number one attraction of majors no longer Ted Williams, but Mantle. Mickey was talk of entire Southland, drew awed raves from Musial, Hall of Fame prediction from Ted. Mickey suddenly has arrived. Period. Yet, Yank players proclaim Skowron will win batting title. No team has concentrated power like Mantle, Berra, Skowron, plus hitters like Bauer, McDougald, Howard, Carey, clutch hitter like Martin. No weak spot.

Best American League rookie in training was outfielder Siebern, voted most likely to succeed, yet now in Denver healing knees, and will have to beat Howard out.

Summary—Yanks may start slow, due to injuries in training. But club is standout of both leagues, should romp home fairly easily. If Mantle can stay in lineup regularly without injury, it may be over early.

Red Sox should make better start, and pitching (may be best in league) will help. But I submit they are overrated, and can't pick them higher than third, Cleveland second. Could wind up fourth again if Chicago clicks.

Will cheerfully admit bonehead bungling if Boston upsets this soothsayer and goes on to win. Will push peanut with nose up and down typewriter ribbon—and happily stand in bleacher line at Fenway for World Series ticket.

But don't bet on it.
